

Alliance for Vulnerable Mission Bulletin May 2010

AVM (the Alliance for Vulnerable Mission) is planning to hold conferences in 2012. If you have any comments and suggestions in this early planning stage, please contact Jim Harries: jim@vulnerablemission.com

See <http://www.vulnerablemission.com/arab-and-kurdish/> for a response by a missionary to Iraq to an article by Fred Lewis and Jim Harries (link to the article included in response). The article itself can be found at: <http://www.jim-mission.org.uk/articles/diversity.pdf>

Thomas Bearth suggests that the use of the vernacular language of a people is an important part of helping them to 'develop'. For example see <http://portal.unesco.org/ci/en/files/13770/10706172433Bearth.pdf/Bearth.pdf> and http://www.inst.at/trans/15Nr/06\_4/bearth15.htm

Yes, the incarnational approach to mission is worth it, says Craig Greenfield. See if you agree with him: <http://www.urbana.org/articles/the-incarnational-approach-is-it-really-worth-it>
