At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, held in Exeter Hall, Strand, on Tuesday, May 6, 1884, being the Eighty-fifth Anniversary—

The RIGHT HON. THE PRESIDENT in the Chair,

AFTER PRAYER AND THE READING OF A PORTION OF HOLY SCRIPTURE,

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE HAVING BEEN READ BY THE REV. F. E. WIGRAM, M.A., Honorary Clerical Secretary, and the Meeting addressed by the PRESIDENT;

On the Motion of the MOST REV. THE ARCHBISHOP OF YORK, V.P., seconded by the REV. W. R. BLACKETT, M.A., Missionary from Calcutta, it was—

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the Report, of which an Abstract has now been read, be adopted, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Lahore for his Sermon before the Society last evening, and that it be printed and circulated; that Captain the Hon. F. Maude, R.N., V.P., be the Treasurer of the Society; and that the Committee be appointed for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies.

On the Motion of the REV. EDWARD HOARE, M.A., Hon. Canon of Canterbury, V.P., seconded by the REV. T. P. HUGHES, B.D., Missionary from Peshawar, and supported by CAPTAIN J. W. EAST, R.N., it was—

RESOLVED UNANIMOUSLY,

That the manifest crisis in opportunity and demand for Missionary advance, especially in India and in Japan, and the many openings caused by the Divine blessing on existing agencies in all lands where the Society labours, call for more entire consecration on the part of the Lord's servants of themselves and their substance to the great work which He has entrusted to them.

On the Motion of the REV. CHALIL JAMAL, Native Pastor from Salt, seconded by the VEN. JOHN W. BARDSLEY, M.A., Archdeacon of Warrington, and Incumbent of St. Saviour's, Liverpool:—

That the review of the progress and development of the Society's work during the past year, while it calls for devout thanksgiving to Him without Whose preventing and enabling grace all the labour would be in vain, gives fresh evidence of the vitality and power of those distinctive Evangelical principles which were reasserted at the Reformation, which animated the founders of the Society, and to which, through the mercy of God, it has ever been enabled to adhere with unflinching fidelity.

At a Meeting, held in Exeter Hall, on the Evening of the same Day—

THE LORD BISHOP OF LIVERPOOL, V.P., in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Chairman; Eugene Stock, Esq., Editorial Secretary; Rev. G. Shirt, B.A., Missionary from Sindh; Rev. J. Hannington, M.A., Missionary from Nyanza; and the Rev. W. Allan, M.A., Vicar of St. James's, Bermondsey.

STATIONS, CLERICAL OR LAY MISSIONARIES, AND NATIVE CLERGYMEN

SUPPORTED EITHER DIRECTLY BY THE SOCIETY, OR BY NATIVE CHURCH FUNDS SUBSIDIZED OR AIDED BY THE SOCIETY.

JUNE 1, 1884.

 A STATION is the place at which a Clerical or Lay Missionary is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connection with the Society. The letter (m) means Married. —Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Women; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing the adult women.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connection with the Society's Missions.

The mark ‡ denotes that the Name to which it is prefixed is that of an Agent supported by Native Church Funds aided by the Society. The Native Ministers in New Zealand are supported partly by Subscriptions from Native Christians, and partly from the rents of lands belonging to the Society in the Colony.

The Names of Native Clergymen are printed in italics. The figures after their names show the date of ordination.

All the names under one station or department of work are printed in order of date, without reference to nationality, sex, orders, or other difference.

LAWS AND REGULATIONS

OF THE

CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY FOR AFRICA AND THE EAST.

(As revised at a Special Meeting of Members of the Society, held June 25, 1878.)

I. THIS Institution shall be designated "The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East;" and shall be conducted by a Patron or Patrons, a Vice-Patron, a President, Vice-Presidents, a COMMITTEE, and such Officers as may be deemed necessary, all being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland.

II. The office of PATRON of the Society shall be reserved for Members of the Royal Family; and that of VICE-PATRON for His Grace the Primate of all England, if, being a Member of the Society, he shall accept the office. The PRESIDENT shall be such Temporal Peer or Commoner as may be appointed to that office; and VICE-PRESIDENTS shall consist of all Archbishops and Bishops of the Churches of England and Ireland, who, being Members of the Society, shall accept the office; and of such other persons as, being also Members, shall be appointed thereto.

OF MEMBERS AND GOVERNORS.

III. Annual Subscribers of One Guinea and upward, and if Clergymen, Half-a-Guinea, with Collectors of Fifty-two Shillings and upward per annum, shall be Members of the Society during the continuance of such Subscriptions or Collections. Benefactors of Ten Guineas, or upward, and Clergymen making Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas, shall be Members for Life.

IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Auxiliaries and of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The COMMITTEE shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Honorary Members for Life, or Honorary Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and COMMITTEE chosen.

VIII. The COMMITTEE may summon a Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society [at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum] at any time, and they shall do so on receipt of a requisition in writing, addressed to the Secretaries, and signed by not less than Fifty Members of the Society, and specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Laws and Regulations of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones made, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special General Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the COMMITTEE. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The COMMITTEE shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland; and of all Clergymen who are Members of the Society and have been so for not less than one year. Of the Twenty-four Lay Members, Eighteen shall be re-appointed each year from the existing COMMITTEE, and Six shall be elected from the General Body of the Society.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, a Committee of Finance, and a Committee of Estimates, and shall have power to fill up vacancies. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same for confirmation to the COMMITTEE.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate to the COMMITTEE, proper persons as Patrons, President, Vice-Presidents, Honorary Life Governors, Honorary Life Members of the Society, and preachers of the Anniversary Sermons.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt means of obtaining Subscriptions, Benefactions, and Collections in Churches, Chapels, and at Meetings; to take a general oversight of the Associations; and to nominate, from time to time, to the COMMITTEE, suitable persons to act as Agents and Representatives of the Society for these objects.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to nominate them to the COMMITTEE, to superintend their instruction, to recommend their location, and to correspond with them when sent out, and generally to direct the foreign work of the Society.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Finance is, generally to superintend the accounts and financial affairs of the Society.

XVII. The office of the Committee of Estimates is, to prepare and submit to the COMMITTEE an Estimate of the probable expenditure of the Society, and from time to time to note and to report to the COMMITTEE how far the expenditure corresponds with the sanctioned Estimate.

XVIII. The Committee of Correspondence shall elect from among themselves, at their first Meeting in every year, a Clerical Sub-Committee, for the examination of Missionary Candidates.

XIX. The COMMITTEE shall receive and deal with the Reports of the other Committees, shall decide upon the countries where Missions shall be carried on, and shall superintend and control the affairs of the Society in general.

XX. The COMMITTEE shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject, in the case of the appointment of Secretaries, to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting. One, at least, of the Secretaries shall be a layman.

XXI. The COMMITTEE shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; but should the second Monday be a Bank Holiday the Meeting shall be held on the day following. The other Committees shall meet as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on. All Committee Meetings shall be opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy.

XXII. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees. Governors, being Members of the Established Church of England, or of the Church of Ireland, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the COMMITTEE.

XXIII. Five Members shall be necessary to form a Quorum of the COMMITTEE; and Three of each of the Committees provided for in Law XII.; in each case exclusive of the Secretaries. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XXIV. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three Members of the COMMITTEE, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary, or in his absence by one of the other Secretaries.

XXV. Five Auditors shall be appointed by the COMMITTEE, annually, for the purpose of auditing the Accounts of the Society, of whom not more than two shall be Members of the COMMITTEE. Three shall be a Quorum.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXVI. In the selection of Candidates for the Missionary office the following course shall be pursued. The cases of Candidates who are already in Holy Orders, or who are University Graduates, or whom it is proposed to send out without further training, shall be considered by the Committee of Correspondence, the Candidate having (as a rule) appeared in person before them, and a report having been given, after a personal interview, by one or more members of the Clerical Sub-Committee. If any Member of the Committee of Correspondence shall show reason for requiring further information, the consideration shall be deferred till a subsequent Meeting of that Committee. Other Candidates shall be examined by the Clerical Sub-Committee, which shall report to the Committee of Correspondence.

XXVII. A Candidate nominated by the Committee of Correspondence, and accepted by the COMMITTEE, shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time that the COMMITTEE shall decide, and be subject to such Regulations as may be established by the COMMITTEE for the direction of Missionaries: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society.

XXIX. Each Candidate, when duly prepared and finally approved for Missionary work, shall go out, either ordained or unordained, at the discretion of the COMMITTEE*.

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the COMMITTEE: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the COMMITTEE, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, such provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable as in the judgment of the COMMITTEE is suitable. The COMMITTEE shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support. The COMMITTEE shall be further empowered in special cases to make such arrangements with those employed by them as they may think fit.

GENERAL.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between a Bishop of the Church of England abroad and the COMMITTEE, shall, in the absence of any tribunal having legal cognizance of the same, be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York, whose decision thereupon shall be binding upon the Society and its agents and representatives.

The proposed reference shall be made by the COMMITTEE, through His Grace the Primate, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the COMMITTEE may deem advisable.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The Bishops of the Church of England, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] the Society's Missionaries; and in the event of their being appointed by the COMMITTEE to labour at stations within the jurisdiction of a Bishop of the Church of England abroad, it is the practice of the Society to apply to the Bishop for licenses, in which are specified the districts to which the Missionaries have been assigned. This is done on the understanding that licenses will neither be refused, nor when granted be withdrawn from the Missionaries during their connexion with the Society, except for some assigned legal cause.

PRAYER USED AT THE ANNUAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY AND AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy Truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory!

The harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth labourers into Thy Harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and faithfulness, they may glorify Thy name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by Thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving Name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters, who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation; perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen.

OUR Father which art in Heaven: Hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, the power and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

PRAYER USED AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

ALMIGHTY GOD, our Heavenly Father, who hast purchased to Thyself an Universal Church, by the precious blood of Thy dear Son, we give Thee hearty thanks that it hath pleased Thee to call us to the knowledge of Thy grace and faith in Thee, and to appoint our lot in an age and country, where the true light shineth. We bless Thee that Thou hast awakened us in some measure to feel our responsibilities. We praise Thee for what we have seen and heard of the power of Thy Word among the heathen; we adore Thee for Thy many servants who have gone out from amongst us to toil and suffer and die in making known Thy salvation; and we thank Thee that Thou dost allow us, unworthy sinners, to unite together in this work of faith and labour of love.

We humbly confess our past lukewarmness in this Thy service, notwithstanding these Thine inestimable benefits and mercies. For our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us our past negligences, and so endue us with Thy Holy Spirit, that we may more earnestly seek Thy glory in the salvation of souls.

Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy very present help at these our meetings. We ask, most gracious God and Father, for a constraining sense of the love of the Lord Jesus, and for wisdom to direct us in all our endeavours. Increase upon us the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. Give us faith and courage; give us zeal and patience; give us a single eye to Thy glory, and help us to bear and to forbear. The silver and the gold are thine, O King of kings! Supply us with what is needful for our great work, and make us faithful stewards of Thy bounty, for proclaiming to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

We pray also for all who are united with us in the direction of this sacred cause.

May Thine especial blessing rest upon our Committees, with their Secretaries, throughout the world. Bestow on them the help that we feel so needful for ourselves. Enable them to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and ever to find favour in the sight of all with whom they may have to do.

Especially we beseech Thee to look, O most merciful Father, upon our Missionary brethren. Draw out our hearts towards them more and more; and while they are bearing the burden abroad, give us grace to help and succour them by our sympathy and prayers at home. Bless every letter written to them from this house, and all our intercourse with them. We pray for them that they may be filled with Thy Spirit. Grant that the same mind may be in them which was also in Christ Jesus. Let them never lose their first love. Raise them above the cares of this world. Help them to deny themselves and to endure all things for the elect's sake. Give them the tongue of the learned. Clothe them with humility. Teach them to follow peace with each other, and with all men. Support them under spiritual distresses, temptations of the adversary, bodily sickness, domestic anxieties, and hope deferred. And so confirm Thy word from their lips by the power of the Holy Ghost, that through them multitudes may be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto Thee, our God.

We commend to Thee the Missionaries' children entrusted to our charge. Bring them all to a true knowledge of and faith in Thee. Defend them with Thy heavenly grace that they may continue Thine for ever, and daily increase in Thy Holy Spirit more and more, until they come into Thy everlasting kingdom. Give all needed grace to those who have the direction of the Home in the discharge of the arduous work with which Thou hast been pleased to entrust them.

We most heartily thank Thee, O Lord, for those whom Thou hast already sent forth through this Society; and we pray for a yet larger outpouring of a Missionary spirit on our younger Clergy, on the members of our Universities, on those who are elsewhere preparing for this holy work, on the young men of all ranks and orders throughout our land. And herein do we implore Thy special favour on our Islington Institution, that its numbers may be replenished continually; and that none may go forth thence but such as shall be able ministers of the New Testament, full of Faith, and of the Holy Ghost.

We praise Thee, O Thou God of all grace, for the Converts, the Native Catechists, and the Native Clergy, whom Thou hast granted to us in our several Missions. As Thou hast raised the Native Churches thus far, bring them, we pray Thee, to full ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ. Pour out upon them Thy Holy Spirit. Stablish, strengthen, settle them, and so enlarge their liberality, that they may both maintain Thy word among themselves, and may make it known to the regions beyond them, till all the Gentiles hear the glad tidings of Thy love.

And now, O Lord God, be Thou in the midst of us to-day. Give us a constant sense of Thy presence, and may all our undertakings be begun, continued, and ended in Thee, to the honour of Thy great name, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

SERMON,

PREACHED

AT ST. BRIDE'S CHURCH, FLEET STREET,

ON MONDAY EVENING, MAY 5, 1884,

BEFORE THE

Church Missionary Society,

BY THE RIGHT REV. THE LORD BISHOP OF LAHORE, V.P.

"BRETHREN, I HAVE WRITTEN THE MORE BOLDLY UNTO YOU IN SOME SORT, AS PUTTING YOU IN MIND, BECAUSE OF THE GRACE THAT IS GIVEN TO ME OF GOD, THAT I SHOULD BE THE MINISTER OF JESUS CHRIST TO THE GENTILES, MINISTERING THE GOSPEL OF GOD, THAT THE OFFERING UP OF THE GENTILES MIGHT BE ACCEPTABLE, BEING SANCTIFIED BY THE HOLY GHOST."—Romans XV. 15, 16.

I. WE wonder not that in face of the barriers which obstruct, the misgivings and forebodings which prophesy the discomfiture of, the kingdom of God, the Apostle St. Paul so often strengthens his missionary appeals by basing them on those vital ground-truths of the Gospel, which we dare not loose our hold of for an hour; else it is much to be feared that the ever-widening growths of the field of labour, and the seriousness of the responsibilities incurred, would simply appal us, damp our energies, and sorely interrupt our patient perseverance and steadfast "abounding in the work of the Lord."

It is in the conviction how needful these strong, vital points are, that I have been led to select one or two of them, honoured and beloved brothers and sisters in Christ, for our consideration to-day; pleading that the spirit they enkindle in us may not be a mere flame of transient and vanishing enthusiasm, but rather of undying love and abiding, growing, consecration to Him who has called us by the love of His Spirit into the fellowship of His Son, and the stewardship of the high commission, the unspeakable gift and grace to "preach among the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ."

May such be the effect produced on us by studying to-day what we must feel to be one of the most singularly rich missionary passages in the New Testament; so that in leaving this house of prayer we may be one and all more comforted and emboldened than ever to affirm with the same Apostle, "We having the same spirit of faith, according as it is written, I believed, and therefore have I spoken; we also believe, and therefore speak."

II. There are many points which contribute to make this passage so rich and full. One of these is the breadth of its outlook, the far-reaching horizon which it opens; and another is the truly grand and comprehensive summary it affords of the Divine and human fellow-workers unto the kingdom of God. And first of all, in this, as in so many of those passages in the Epistles which partake of a liturgical character, the distinct offices and effectual working of the Three Persons of the Ever Blessed Trinity are set before us, and commended to our devout contemplation. And further, the whole Gentile world is expressly introduced as the object towards whose restoration to God, and readmission into His family as the fellow-heirs of His covenant of grace, that sympathetic fellowship and oneness of working of the Trinity in Unity are directed.

III. The Apostle then explains the part assigned to himself, as called, chosen, and separated of Christ to "bear His name before the Gentiles and kings;" to be fastened to His cross (as we must all feel) with deeper, sharper nail-prints than others; to be let into the more hidden mystery of the Redeemer's sufferings, as well as of the power of His Resurrection, and the glory of His coming and kingdom.

IV. And further, he associates with himself the Roman Church; calls them to a privileged share not of fellow-feeling only, but of working and interceding. May it be given to you and me to-day, brethren beloved in the Lord, to realize that not by that Roman Church alone, but by us all, once more the summons and roll-call is heard to-day; to us all the charge is given indeed to be "fellow-helpers with the truth," "fellow-workers with God" in the Gospel of His Son; if needs be, "fellow-sufferers with the Gospel according to the power of God;" and in that breadth of love, and stout holdfast of faith, which "staggers not at the promise of God," to survey calmly the wide expanse of heathendom, barren and uncultivated as it is, and set our seal to the Lord's great promise, "He that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternal: that both he that soweth and he that reapeth may rejoice together."

V. Again, another feature which adds to the fulness and instructiveness of the passage is the beauty of the figures employed, so as to elucidate for us more clearly and impressively what (after all) the secret of the missionary work of the Church is—what should be the great purpose laid upon its heart, and ever present to it in all its action, almsgiving, and prayers.

In a single discourse, a theme of such dimensions can be but very lightly touched. Simply as the words of the text are strung together, it would seem as though the Apostle had been led to bring to a point, and concentrate in one weighty and most forceful utterance for the Church of all time, the apostolic charge and trust which has been reposed in the body of the faithful, the bride of Christ;—the embassage of truth and mercy—which every member of the same, in his or her vocation and ministry, is bound loyally and lovingly to fulfil in person, or help towards its fulfilment. I have endeavoured (with God's help) to indicate some lines of thought and action which you, brethren beloved, can follow up at your leisure, and work out into practical detail.

VI. Here, as elsewhere, St. Paul traces back the diversity of operations in the Church of Christ to the same God, "the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of glory." He derives all from "His eternal purpose which He purposed in Christ Jesus our Lord;" "One God the Father, of whom are all things, and we for Him;" "God is faithful, who hath called us into the fellowship of His Son." So St. Jude speaks of the Church-members to whom he writes, as "called, beloved in God the Father, and kept for Jesus Christ;" whence he exhorts them, "praying in the Holy Ghost, to keep themselves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ." Of all our ministries, missionary and other, it is one witness which the great Apostle bears: "That ye should be to the praise of the glory of His grace, wherein He hath made us accepted in the beloved"—the same prayer, in other words, which he had breathed for the Roman brethren, just before our text: "That ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father of our Lord Jesus Christ." And so his own designation to the apostolate he deduces from the Father's good gift and choice: "The grace given to me of God, that I should fulfil the word of God," or, as in our text, "that I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles."

VII. And then he comes next to the part borne by the Lord Jesus Christ Himself in this embassage of truth and mercy. He had taken pains in verses 8 and 9 to make this point clear and well established; to set forth the Headship and High-Priesthood of the Lord Jesus in its special bearing on the Mission work. Not only was the Headship His, as the Beginning, the First and the Last, the Firstborn, Firstbegotten, from the dead; but Himself had gathered into His own bosom the first ripened sheaves, "The first-fruits to God and the Lamb." "Christ received you, to the glory of God." "You were far off once. He sought and found you, and took you to Himself; folded you in the embrace of His arms of love. As he received you, so do you receive one another. Open your arms wide to others, as He opened His to you; bind them as sheaves in your bosom."

And he dwells further on the ministry or diaconate of the Lord Jesus, as if to the lower as well as higher offices of the ministry of souls He had girded Himself; according to His own words: "The Son of man came not to be ministered unto, but to minister." This ministry embraced, he tells us, the two great families of man—the Jew and the Gentile. To each it was a ministry in behalf of some great attribute of God—a ministry in behalf of God's truth to the Jew; in behalf of God's mercy, His uncovenanted mercy, to the Gentile. "Jesus Christ was the minister of the truth of God, to confirm the promise made unto the fathers: and that the Gentiles might glorify God for His mercy." The advocacy of these two attributes in their bearing on the Greek and Jew lay at the root of this ministry of Jesus Christ: "The key is laid on His shoulders." I can never forget the almost inspired prophetic force of utterance with which our brother Knott, a true apostle of Christ, expounded this thought of the special ministry of Christ to Jew and Gentile, and pressed it on a native audience of educated youths at Karachi, on his first arrival in India, to enter on that work to which he so soon fell a sacrifice in Peshawur. Dr. Livingstone encouraged himself in sorrow and loneliness by what was in substance the same thought: "I am a Missionary, heart and soul; God had an only Son, and He was a Missionary."

In this confidence the early martyrs and Missionaries bore the cross; as St. Ignatius, who speaks of "Christ, the perfectly unerring mouth, in which the Father spake to us truly;" and again, "To me the ancient things are Jesus Christ; the inviolably pure, ancient things are the cross of Jesus."

Thus the original of this priesthood, its true primacy, is vested in Jesus Christ. I should find it hard to be convinced that that is not the main teaching and substance of that memorable passage in the Colossians: "You that were sometime alienated and enemies;—yet now hath He reconciled in the body of His flesh through death, to present you holy and unblameable and unreproveable in His sight, if ye be not moved away." In this passage the sacerdotal part is represented as Christ's own, and His alone. Whether it be the Cybele worshippers of Colosse, or the Teutonic worshippers of Thor, Odin, Hertha, or the Hindoo devotees of Mahādev, Krishna, Kali Devi—as race after race from their "abolished" idols turn to the living God—these words make it clear to us it is not a bare, soul-less iconoclasm, as of the Grecian gods by the orders of Cyrus or Xerxes; it is the bringing nigh of those that were far off, from a state of alienation; His reconciling them to God through His blood; the conversion from death to life. Believing in the Son of God, new-created by the power of the Holy Ghost, not only do those thousands of poor Africans, chiefs and people, of whom we have read lately, cast their idols into the Niger or Congo, so that, as Archdeacon Johnson wrote two years since, "The heathen are looking on bewildered, and powerless to stem the torrent that is flowing like a river towards the religion of the Lord Jesus Christ"—"the death-knell of human sacrifices has been struck" (Intelligencer, September, 1882),—not merely are they cultivated and humanized, but they are rescued, emancipated, adopted to be children; transformed and renewed after the "image of Him that created them," and finally presented faultless in the presence of the Father. Thus is that crowning, priestly act of the Lord Jesus perpetuated and reproduced in its effects, of which we sing,—

"Once, only once, and once for all,
His precious life HE gave."

The word (παριστάναι) in that passage is, as Godet remarks, the technical term to denote the presentation of victims and offerings in the Levitical worship. These people, so far as living Churches are planted in them, become victims offered together with the one perfect and spotless Victim, and thereby are changed in heart and character; changed in standing, as presented and consecrated in Him before God, even the Father, to be wrought by His Spirit into that "will of God, which is our sanctification."

VIII. But if the primacy and pre-eminence are His, yet our text reminds us there are those also whom He has deputed and commissioned to exercise that office in His behalf, not by ambitious usurpation, but as His agents and instruments: "The messengers of the Churches, and the glory of Christ." Among these he admits himself to be of the first and chiefest: "The grace given to me of God that I should be the minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles." There might have seemed a tinge of self-glorifying, a love of pre-eminence in this; but that he deprecated this charge in his own and his brethren's behalf by the transference from himself to Christ of all ground of glorying at the close of the text: "I have therefore whereof I may glory through Jesus Christ in those things which pertain to God;" besides which he dared not ignore those successive and memorable calls of God by which he had been set apart for his holy function. He tells us how he had been separated to it of God from his mother's womb; who "called him by His grace to reveal His Son in him, that he might preach Him." Could he help but live from hour to hour under an impressive sense of the call and investiture received in the hour of his conversion? And a third time again, when in a trance-state, while engaged in the Temple-prayers, he was charged by the voice from above to depart quickly on his mission to the Gentiles, that it might be shown him of his Lord "what great things he must suffer for His Name's sake." And in answer to his remonstrances, and only too natural pleadings of his Jewish soul, the answer was returned, more abrupt and peremptory than before: "Depart: for I will send thee far hence unto the Gentiles."

Many of you will know that the word rendered in our text, "minister of Jesus Christ to the Gentiles," is not the same as that used before of the ministry of Jesus, but means one who fulfils a solemn Church work—literally, a liturgical work;—the word by which state offices and services are designated, as sacred trusts from God (Rom. xiii. 6); and by the same term Levitical ministries are expressed (cf. Hebrews x. 11); and angelic also, as where the Apostle writes: "Are they not all ministering spirits?" (λειτουργικὰ πνεύματα—Heb. i. 14); and yet again, that "more excellent" or surpassing ministry of Christ Himself, as the same Apostle speaks, "within the holy place into which He has entered, there to appear," to stand clearly manifested (original), in the presence of God, for us (Heb. viii. 2 and 6); where evermore He

> "Presents Himself for those He bought
> In that dark midnight hour."

In this sense the Apostle makes bold to say: "I am Christ's minister," even as Christ is God's.

IX. And then, having dignified the Missionary ministry by calling it a solemn Church work, he heightens and emphasizes its dignity still further by calling it "a priestly work," "doing the priestly work of the Gospel"—i.e. of publishing the glad tidings of God, of God's truth and love. Did we say, emphasizes its dignity? Ought we not rather to say, heightens the seriousness, solemnity, responsibility, of the work? "This is my priesthood" (as St. Chrysostom expands St. Paul's words here), "to preach and to proclaim the Word. My sacrificial knife is the Gospel, my ambassador's instructions; and the reason is not that I shall be glorified and appear shining and distinguished, but that the offering of the Gentiles should be accepted."

And further, in our text, and in two passages later on in the chapter, he bespeaks the sympathy, he enlists the co-operation of the Roman Church. He wishes to make it clear to them that he, Apostle though he was, with his associated band of workers, had no monopoly of duty and honour. His bishopric of souls could not be solitarily and irresponsibly exercised. "You must help me," he says; "must pray for me; must send me on my way, bidding me God-speed; encouraging me, strengthening my hands;" as he expresses it in verse 24: "I trust to see you in my journey, and to be brought thitherward by you, if first I be somewhat filled with your company;" and again, in verse 30: "I beseech you, brethren, for the Lord Jesus Christ's sake, and for the love of the Spirit, that ye strive together with me in your prayers to God for me; that I may be delivered from them that do not believe in Judea . . . that I may come unto you with joy by the will of God, and may with you be refreshed."

X. Is not this one chief purpose of these great anniversary services, the occasion they furnish to the Church's messengers (how unworthy soever) to open their mouths boldly; to give expression to their hearts' breathings, feeble re-echoings, as they must often be, of the Apostle's pleadings in this chapter; to tell out their longing desire when they visit the home churches, to find an ever-growing "fellowship in the Gospel," enlargement of heart, outspokenness of witness, devoted offers of service, increased support of the work abroad on the part of Christian flocks at home? St. Paul speaks as though he would enlist a kind of universal suffrage in this matter; would band together all the faithful in Christ, so that it might be in a compact, unbroken square that the host of Christ should assault the strongholds of Pagan error. He would do nothing, therefore, without the Church; their hearts must go along with him. He must be buoyed up by their prayers, as Carus Wilson said he felt he was, as he lay a-dying, by the prayers of the British soldier. In the full confidence of this, their brotherly adhesion, their loyal sympathetic help and oneness of soul with him, he had framed his plans. It was a force, he knew well, whose failing or diminishing would act disastrously or seriously on the issues; so he pours his heart out, as we pray you to permit us to do to-day. For if it be indeed, as here affirmed, a solemn Church work, a priestly work of publishing the glad tidings, then this most assuredly forbids depression and discouragement on the one hand (for if it be a priesthood, cowardice, half-heartedness, chilled and damped spirits would be sacrilege), and forbids elation on the other, for the priesthood is not of man, but of God. The more we realize this thought, the more anxious must we be to fulfil it worthily of God. It sets us upon more self-searching and humiliation of heart; it deepens our consciousness of errors, shortcomings, guiltinesses; that we have been so often as men talking in their dreams, instead of like men wide awake—as Robert Clark expresses it in his last letter: "I am labouring to get out of these ruts of stagnation, and what is far worse, our being satisfied with stagnation. Do try to find us some more men who have life in them"—i.e. more besides some others he had spoken of as possessing this life.

"How little success!" says another, Mr. Hughes from Peshawur, sorrowfully and self-depreciatingly, as we might expect such a man, of over twenty years' standing in the field, to speak; to which he adds: "May the Lord of the harvest raise up an apostle for Peshawur. You are quite right; we do need apostles."

And yet it was from Peshawur, under our brother Hughes' auspices, that Saiyud Shah, an Afghan student of our Lahore Divinity School, set forth—at imminent peril of life from fanatical Mohammedan tribes, breathing out threatenings, through whose lands his journey lay—with one Christian comrade to preach the Gospel in Kafiristan, as recorded graphically in the Intelligencer of last year. It is in the new Mission Church in Peshawur, dedicated some few months since, that sixty or seventy of the Afghans of the city, or strangers, are gathered from one Lord's Day to another to hear the word of the truth of the Gospel. It is there that a young khan, a landholder, baptized some years since, courageously witnessed for Christ. In a copy I made of a letter of his to Mr. Hughes not so long ago, I find these words: "My faith in our blessed Lord is as strong as three and a half years ago; and I beseech God to keep me faithful to my Saviour unto the hour of my death; but I am involved in great temptations. The land, the property, the honour, power, command, which we have here in Otmanzaey, is a great temptation for me, because my flesh is not willing to leave all these, and take up the shameful but saving cross of Christ. May God help me in overcoming this temptation. For the life of me I will not leave my Saviour Jesus Christ."

XI. From such records of Missionary life and labour we gather that, however our brethren and sisters in the field may find matter to humble and even to appal them at times;—however there may be moments of such serious anxiety to the responsible agents and directors of Societies like ours, as that their hearts can scarce help re-echoing those words of the Saviour at the eve of His passion: "Now is My soul troubled, and what shall I say? Father, save Me from this hour;" yet the work of the true priest is not to lose heart or to depress;

but to encourage, establish, and hearten. Sharply taking himself to task for all downheartedness, he will rouse himself to fresh effort; and, lifting up the banner and bearing the Ark forward in the name of our God, will do as the Lord's own example in such hours has taught us, when the "Father, save Me," was followed straightway by another word, "Father, glorify Thy name. Then came there a voice from heaven, saying, I have both glorified it, and will glorify it again."

Was not that hour of our Lord's life one of the truest expressions in act and word of His own priestly office and character?—instructing us that the sufferings of the Church, by their very conformity to His own, are not death-pangs, but life-pangs—the throes of travail. As one of our valued lady workers in Amritsar—who form, I may truly say, one of our most honoured agencies in this Missionary priesthood of Christ—writing lately, says: "Perhaps if we knew beforehand all the difficulties, temptations, disappointments, and trials of the work; if we could foresee the weariness of mind and body, and the depression and sadness often inseparable from work among sick people in such a country as India, few of us would be brave enough to say, 'Here am I; send me.' But, thank God, He mercifully draws the veil over much which, seen beforehand, would fill our weak spirits with alarm; while to encourage and cheer us He lifts it again, further on in the future of every truly consecrated life, giving one bright glimpse of coming joy, and causing us to hear from the Master's own lips the sweet secret of the blessedness of all service: 'Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these My brethren, ye have done it unto Me.'"

XII. And further, what a posture of calm, patient, reverent expectation from God should be induced in us, as this sense grows of the Church's call—and that in the person of each one of its members, of you and me—to a priesthood of such magnitude, such issues! Such words as the Psalmist's become us well: "My soul, wait thou hushed upon God; for my expectation is from Him." A too uninterrupted series of successes or of fresh openings endangers forwardness, restlessness, an enthusiasm and baptism, but not of God, but of men. Then come temporary checks and pauses, as of Israel before Jericho. Letters bring us tidings of much sickness; some serious losses by death (as of six sisters within the short space of six months, during the last year, from China and Africa), or retirements from the field; or, though rarely, apostasies of converts almost of singular historical interest, through the fight of afflictions fought, and bright hopes formed of them. Or a reformer, like Keshab Chandra, of whom great things were expected, takes a grievously retrograde course—engrafts the spiritualism and mysticism of the Vaishnavs on his "new dispensation," which he had claimed to have remodelled after the Christian creeds and rules of life, and to have transfigured by reflecting Christ. And all this followed by the adoption of a parody of the Christian Sacraments, and the insertion into his ritual and worship of hymns to the elements, drawn from the ancient Vedas. The too buoyant heart is nigh to droop and faint at such times. Yet have we not often been surprised, and constrained to thank and praise God for the equanimity, the unshaken fortitude and constancy which the leaders of this our Missionary body have had grace to exhibit under such upsettings of calculations and reversals of hope? The prayerfulness and trustfulness in which its works have been sustained, and its burthens cast upon God, has largely contributed to this. Advice, too, has been sought from the Primates of the English Church and their suffragans, and much store set on their fatherly counsels.

XIII. Through all this procedure there has been a steadily growing and persistent sense of being charged from the Church's great Head with a priesthood in His behalf; informal, indeed, and unofficial for some length of time, as regards the direct sanction of the rulers of the Church, yet increasingly affirmed, and proved in experience real and actual, by providential leadings and the concurrence of a remarkably eventful series of successes, and entrances given into fresh-opened doors, such as must ever win recognition from honest compilers of the Church history of this century, as only a due tribute and homage to truth of fact. We must not be surprised if in our own English Church (as, notably, in the Church of Rome in the case of its Missionary orders) its authorized heads did not, all at once, set their seal on the Society's work.

It is surely, in the main, a sound principle—at least a fault on the right side—that the Church which is ultimately made responsible for this Missionary priesthood by the "Shepherd and Bishop of our souls," should exercise a calm, cautious, discriminating oversight of a body of men—how holy, self-devoted, and sober-minded soever—who should propose to themselves to take in hand so sacred and weighty a work. It was in keeping with the chastened, not the less deepened, fervour of the best of the chief Pastors of our English Church (keeping sleepless sentry, as an old liturgy has it, "insomnes excubias agens," on the walls of Christ's Church militant), that they should desire that the Society's lines of action and procedure, its faithful adhesion to primitive, apostolic truth and order, its fairly reasonable prospects of being able to finish what it had begun to build, should be winnowed and sifted by results of time and experience. And the more this has been done, the more cause have we devoutly to praise God for the growing confidence and fuller cordial sympathy reposed by the Heads of our Church in the Society's managers and workers; in virtue of which our Church has been led more unhesitatingly and unreservedly to identify the work of this section of the Body of Christ with its own; the mutual attachments have grown stronger, and the advocacy less in the way of sufferance and patronage, than of liens and affinities, inward, strong, and binding. It has not been as the transference of its own priestly Missionary function, with some misgivings, to a body outside of itself, and not itself; but rather a direct fulfilment of a too long unheeded, or slumberously performed duty in and through this and the great sister Society.

XIV. This recovery to our Church of a long-lost birthright, its reinstatement in an office long in abeyance and set little store by, should be devoutly and thankfully recognized, and its many teachings of warning and encouragement secretly pondered. Forget we not that only the same grace which has restored to us that heritage—if not received in vain, which God forbid—can confirm us in its possession; educating and preparing us for its faithful discharge. The evidence thus given of the undying youth, the evergreen freshness, the oneness and perpetuity of the Church through long ages, whence comes it but of the "power of the endless life of its Divine Head"? I could not help finding a profitable and instructive illustration of this when I visited the tomb of St. Aidan, in the chapter-house of Durham, some months since, and from thence I crossed the road to visit the grave of an old friend and schoolfellow, and honoured colleague in the Indian field, Henry Watson Fox, whose remains lie under the chancel shade of an adjoining church, of which his venerable brother is vicar. In the spacious chapter-house and its tomb we are reminded not only, as Dr. Bright says, of "the force and impressiveness of the characters that walked the Northumbrian stage, whose history is the backbone," he adds, "of the history of the Church in England," but also of the faithful discharge by the ancient English Church of its Missionary commission; and in the humbler grave across the way, of as true a saint and Missionary, perhaps, as they—a "man of God," of the genuine antique stamp—we trace the rekindling in our own day of the all but quenched Missionary candlestick; what the same Church historian calls "its passion for winning souls, for spreading the new-found light among their heathen countrymen, or their Teutonic kinsmen abroad, which passed on through these first generations of English Christians the fiery torch of Missionary ardour."

And we are thus reminded at gatherings like these,—Achors in one sense, because doors of hope;—and Bochims they should be in another, while we weep for past defects and neglects;—Berachahs, or valleys of blessing, in a third, because "there they blessed the Lord, to go again to Jerusalem with joy; for the Lord had made them to rejoice over their enemies;" —at gatherings like these, brethren beloved, we are reminded what fresh occasion we have to adore the gracious condescension of our God, who has dealt with us, we may be hopefully assured, as with Joshua the high-priest of old, on the people's return from the seventy years' captivity; first speaking to him this comfortable word, "See, I have taken away the filthy garment from thee, and clothed thee with change of raiment," then reinstating him in his high office, long in dishonour if not in disuse, "I said, let them set a fair mitre upon his head. So they set a fair mitre upon his head. And the Angel of the Lord stood by." (Zech. iii. 5.)

XV. In far-distant days of old the prophet Isaiah instructed us from God that this aspect of Christian Mission work will be a favourite thought, a vividly realized conviction, of the Church's evangelists in the latter days, whether Jew or Gentile. "They shall declare my glory among the Gentiles. And they shall bring all your brethren for an offering unto the Lord out of all nations upon horses, and in chariots, and in litters, and upon mules, and upon swift beasts, to my holy mountain Jerusalem, saith the Lord, as the children of Israel bring an offering in a clean vessel to the house of the Lord. And I will also take of them for priests and for Levites, saith the Lord." In which latter words we seem to have the native clergy, readers, catechists, lay workers, not indistinctly pointed out as divinely designated and much-prized office-holders in the Church of Christ, such as our yearly multiplied training colleges for native clergy in Osaka, Ningpo, Ispahan, Manitoba, Emmanuel College in Saskatchewan, as well as in Lahore, Allahabad, and all the Indian dioceses, are sending forth; proving themselves fruitful seminaries and nurseries of ever-deepened and widened Gospel teaching.

"I can thank God," says Mr. Hooper, writing recently on occasion of a tour taken with a group of Missionary students along the Ganges banks (whom he daily divided into four bands, for the wider dissemination of the Word), "that we have such a set of earnest, diligent, Christ-loving young men." Their work, as he describes it, is simply a declaring of God's glory among the Gentiles, setting forth Christ as the Tenth, or Sinless Incarnation whom the Hindus expect; as in other aspects he is the expectation of the Babis and Soofees of Persia, and the followers of the Mahdi in the Soudan. "On hearing of the spotless Incarnation," says Mr. Hooper, "a man fell at the feet of the preacher as if to worship him, and needed to be treated as St. Peter did Cornelius. In another place, a man wept at hearing of it. In another, a woman bade him drink out of her brass vessel, adding, when remonstrated with for risking her caste privilege, 'If you were a Dōm (of the most polluted race) I would give you to drink of my vessel, after bringing me such good news as this.'"

I have by me a letter of one of my Lahore students to Mr. Hooper (now a Greek and Hebrew teacher in the Allahabad Pastors' Training College), illustrating the spirit in which some of these trained evangelists (such as Andreas was, and Ebenezer; and some still on the field, as Sadik, Saiyud Shah, Kurruck Singh, Imad-ood-deen, and others) set about their work: "Dear sir,—I love you much, and I cannot recompense your kindness and love and labour for me; but my loving Christ, whose work I am doing, can and will recompense it. I am certain, fully certain, that my Saviour Christ is alive; that He works on His people through His Holy Spirit. I declare and promise that if God keeps His Spirit's grace with me, and lengthens your lifetime, you will rejoice to see your unworthy disciple's work. I obtain much strength by reading Christ's Holy Gospel, and I am sure that that strength is God's." It is interesting to observe that the same testimony is borne by the Christian Japanese students in Kiyoto. Miss Bird tells us "they are intensely zealous, preach through the country in their vacations, and aim at nothing less than the Christianizing of Japan."

XVI. The Punjab, following, though with tardy yet, we trust, with sure steps, the bright model of the South Indian Missions in this matter, gives promise of supplying in larger numbers than heretofore these "priests and Levites." The religion of the Sikhs proper, as founded and framed by Nanuk its prophet, had its rise in a most sifting and somewhat withering criticism of the faiths and philosophies of India. As from its first leader it inherited mystic piety and a high morality, from a second gooroo it derived its martial, chivalrous ardour of devotion. This combination has stamped upon it a unique character; and it is not surprising that the two modern reforming Hindu schools (the Ārya and Brahma Samaj) have spent much effort, the former especially, to win trophies among its leading thinkers and devotees. "Our Samaj," says one of the Brahmos in one of their Calcutta journals, "in order to take root in this part of the country (the Punjab), must more or less directly take part in all the newly-awakened intellectual, social, and moral aspirations that have begun to change the character of the people. The ready appreciation and hearty sympathy which every spiritual man, whatever his creed may be, meets with in the Punjab, make the future of true religion full of promise, and the more so as the Brahma Samaj (he adds) preaches a Theism which the prophets of the Punjab themselves preached about three hundred years ago."

XVII. The removal by death, at the close of last year, of the leaders of both these reforming movements, renders the present a peculiarly critical and anxious moment. Unhappily the present attitude of the Brahma Samaj gives as little to hope from it as is well possible. Its new leaders (with a presumptuous and vainglorious boasting seldom or ever exceeded) affirm that the critical, verifying faculty of man (their own in particular) is the one true touchstone by which the jumbled chaos of truth and error found in all existing faiths, Christianity included, must be rigorously and remorselessly tried and sifted, and a New Dispensation of their own creation built up on its ruins, to suffice for the world of higher cultivation that is to be—the crowning fruit of the yearnings and upward strivings of the religious instinct which man everywhere carries about as his shadow.

XVIII. But I must not forget that it is not my own distant corner of the great Mission-field that I advocate to-day, but the Church of Christ as represented in one of its greatest Mission bodies, with the ever-growing width of its field and height of its responsibilities. These it has undertaken seriously by planting its evangelist bands in so many Mission dioceses, and beyond them, in lands beyond our pale, where it helps with generous and unremitting zeal to found fresh episcopates, chiefly in large centres of population, among races of varied tongues, in all stages of civil and social progress—whether the Bheels, Kois, or Kafirs on the one hand, or the Japanese priests or the Mujtahids of Persia on the other. It is no small matter that in the last decade, Ispahan (from whence I bring home Dr. Bruce's touching, almost tearful pleadings, that the earliest peoples named in Acts ii. among the first-fruits of the Pentecost may not be lost sight of now in these ages of refreshing by the Holy Spirit's outpouring), Baghdad, Nagasaki, and Cairo (for the second time) have been occupied. I would I could say Constantinople the second time had been occupied, and by just such a man as my first master in the Mission-field, who for Christ laid down his own neck there—the veteran Pfander, to whose lodgings many Mohammedans flocked to listen to his remarkable Christian apologies. But the rest at least are claiming, I trust securing, great attention from our contributors and intercessors at home; not least from those young men in our universities, old and new, whom the marked growth of religious life in those intellectual centres has stirred to increased consecration; as though the text which I remember being shown in St. John's College, Cambridge, some twenty-five years ago, graven with a diamond point by Henry Martyn on a window of his college rooms, were being now spoken to the ears and hearts of many in his old favourite haunts:—

ἐγέρθητι ὁ καθεύδων καὶ ἀνάστα.

For if the sacrifice to be offered is of the entire Gentile world, then, while there are yet nations unevangelized, kingdoms of darkness unenlightened, at what point can the Church's mission stop short? This settled conviction was signally conspicuous in our martyred evangelist Gordon, when it was my lot to stand by his side among Afghans in Quetta and Candahar, or among the Beloochees in Dera Ghazi. In the last letter from him which I possess, written to Dr. Bruce, he writes: "Next year (D.V.) I shall have been ten years out (in this part of the field), and hope to go home and try what I can do to lay hold of younger and better men for Beloochistan and Afghanistan." From his lonely grave in Candahar these last words may well reach us with an authority, persuasiveness, and strange solemnity all their own. His own purpose of coming home to lay hold of better and younger men, his martyrdom alone, and God's will, which was his greater sanctification, prevented him from accomplishing. As one of his oldest friends and comrades, I seem to stand in his place to-day, and plead with you in his behalf. Would I could have brought his mantle home, and laid it on the shoulder of one of those younger and better men he set his heart on finding; but when Elijah is translated, the Elisha that is to follow must rend his own clothes, and take up, in God's own strength, the mantle that fell from Elijah, and wear it until death. Our brother Clark has urged this forcibly as a reason why the Punjab Missions should be maintained in full strength, that they have reference as much to these great and strong peoples beyond our borders, as to those embraced within them. "We doubt," says he, "whether one in a hundred of the Society's best friends, either at home or in India, even yet understands clearly what our missionary position now is along the whole length of our great frontier border." On the other hand, "is there not a cause" for the stirring and nobly impressive appeals of our Japanese Missionaries—Warren, Evington, and others—ably sustained by facts and arguments hard to be gainsayed, insisting that no door in the world is so open as that of Japan, and that if we do not enter now, atheistic and materialistic systems will, and are prepared so to do, and the door may be closed for ever to many against the "True God and eternal life?" Again the promise of an open door and effectual in South Persia, by the rapid circulation of the Holy Scriptures during the last twelve months, has been a response to prayer, surprising and gladdening many hearts; facilitated and promoted as it has been by Dr. Bruce's freedom and attractiveness of utterance, strong, deep grasp of truth, together with his combined firmness, meekness of wisdom, aptness to conciliate and disarm, and a force of character which, by God's grace, "will do great things and yet prevail," and has exercised great influence on the Persian authorities. Still more undeniably opened of our God are the doors set before us on the Nyanza and the Niger; witnessed to in the one case by the renewed entrance of the Gospel into King Mtesa's household, as into a second Nero's palace; and in the other, the favourable reception given by chieftain after chieftain to the words spoken by the ambassador of Christ. Are our pleadings needed? Are you not fully persuaded of your own selves, brethren in Christ, that stinted and paltry offerings are wholly inadequate to the faithful discharge of such a stewardship of grace received? The "Priest on the Throne" builds: even He shall build the Temple of the Lord. Will you not build with Him? Shall we not all take hold of axe and hammer, of sword and trowel, like those of whom Zechariah wrote: "They shall rejoice, and see the plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with those seven"?

Can you doubt that to you as English Christians, enriched with the apostolic ministries, the pure scriptural liturgies and teachings of our Reformed Church,—as a nation and empire made chargeable with such doors of entrance for Christ's Gospel, ceaselessly opened afresh,—to you, put in possession of these hallowed privileges and prerogatives—gracious dowry of the Bride of Christ—the words of the prophet belong: "Ye shall be named the Priests of the Lord: men shall call you the Ministers of our God . . . in the glory of the Gentiles shall ye boast yourselves."

The figures of our text may well impose restraints indeed, but the constraints are far stronger. They might well restrain from mere restless impulsiveness, unchastened excitement, unhallowed ambition, self-seeking, and vainglory; all jealous envyings of others, all ill-considered and precipitate haste, all disorderly and undisciplined action, all sinking of our work down to the low level of mere secular machineries and worldly administration, all irreverent, undevout, unworthy handling of these holy things of the kingdom of God. They remind us with what humility, seriousness, consecration of soul, such a work should be enterprised. How simply the Church's earliest missions bore witness to this: "As they (the prophets and teachers of Antioch) ministered to the Lord, and fasted, the Holy Ghost said, Separate me Barnabas and Saul for the work whereunto I have called them." What words could better express than these the priestly character of the work? and how well the Church understood it? What words could teach us more impressively that as the dimensions of our work grow, the more deepened shall be our sense of filial, rather than servile, dependence; the consciousness that only with holy hands should the ark of God be steadied and borne forwards; the more entire our separation of heart and yieldedness of will to Him—our rooting and stablishing in Him?

You have known, doubtless, bishops and other clergy, such as Bishops Hamilton and Waldegrave,—clergy, ay, and lay members of our Church, who have struck you forcibly by the hallowed spirit in which they approached Missionary subjects. You have observed how the very tone of their converse on the weightier questions touching the kingdom of God, the devotional exercises and services they sought to associate with public gatherings and Mission festivals, breathed a holy calm on fretful and careworn men of business, softened down the irritation and bitterness of party spirit, and in place of levity and frivolity, restored the dignity and gravity which become the priests of God in offering one of the most sacred of sacrifices. Nothing is so radiant as such saintly beauty; nothing more contagious of influence and blessing, or more helpful to invigorate and stimulate afresh the laggard and loiterer.

It reminds us of what was said of our honoured father, Henry Venn, by a distinguished relative: "The texture of his faith was of an extraordinary solidity; and to those who knew him long and intimately, it derived an awful authority from the holiness and pure uprightness of his most faithful life." Compare with this the following striking sketch of the truly priestly character and work of one who, though dead, yet speaks to us and will speak, whose name I refrain from uttering—one of our exemplary Zenana workers in the Punjab: "In every Native Christian family, both in the city and outside, she was a friend and mother also. Her large heart could take in everybody; she visited everybody; advised and helped them, because she loved them all. A quiet calm came over every assembly where she went; she carried peace with her, and holiness and happiness everywhere. All noisy discord quieted at once by her presence; one look of her gentle eye was sufficient to dispel it."

This spirit has been growingly sought after and pleaded for by the best friends of your Society, from its infancy onwards. In conviction and purpose wholly, in practice largely, you have held fast to this. Let Jesus Christ be praised for it. It does not wholly exclude mistakes, but it tends directly or indirectly to reveal and correct them; to minimize them, if not render them innocuous. Such is the spirit and character of those freewillingly offered servants of the King and Priest of the Church, whom the 110th Psalm describes: "In the beauties of holiness (i.e. the white priestly robes, symbols of purity), out of the womb of the morning is the dew of Thy youth." On which, appositely to the course of thought in our text, Dr. Kay writes: "They are at once warriors and priests; meet for the service of Him who was King and Priest." As Neander remarks: "God's soldiers can only maintain their warfare by priestly consecration; God's priests can only preserve their purity by unintermitted conflict."

But I have been anticipating here the concluding clauses of the text, which are indispensable links in the chain of precious thought contained in it, "That the offering of the Gentiles may be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost." This the Apostle would have us regard as the great end, the product and outcome of those distinctive features of the Missionary ministry he has just described. If, indeed, God's grace was given to him, inspiring his heart and speech, and empowering his hands; if, indeed, the spirit of himself, of his comrades and disciples, were worthy of, or came up to in the least degree, the images he had employed, might he not look confidently that the "offering up of the Gentiles would be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost"? St. Chrysostom, as his unfailing wont is, points out here the repeated reference made in this chapter to the glory of the Eternal Spirit; the profound sense the Apostle has that all he does is His doing—that "a man can receive nothing, except it be given him from Heaven." "Seest thou," he says, "how he presses everything into the service, to prove that the whole is of God, nothing of himself. Whether I speak, or work, or show signs, the Holy Ghost is all. This," he says, "signifying the dignity and glory of the Holy Spirit. All that we have taught of the deep truths and wisdom of the kingdom, of the spirit and manner of life of the kingdom, all this He wrought; and all the effects likewise are His, the multitude of believers, not in Phœnicia, Syria, Cilicia alone, but afterwards among Saracens, Persians, Armenians. Seest thou how much more astonishing these are than those works of old—this altar-fire, this sacrifice, these signs?"

Words not unlike other words recorded of an eminent French bishop of this century—a second Fénelon—in his deep study of Holy Scripture: "Above all it must be Jesus Christ personified in the great apostles of the Church; Jesus Christ, whose bishop I am, whose work I do; I must have no other thought but Him; all for Him, all for Him." "A new career," says the same prelate, "is open to devotion; a highway is cast up for true apostleship. The gates of the East are open to the light of the Gospel. A great door and effectual is opened; but there are many adversaries. O God, fulfil the predictions of Thy Word! Thou hast said, 'The idols He shall utterly abolish.' Yet so many millions of idolaters are left. Alas! the work is not half done. I know it is not the work of a day; it is the work of the fulness of times; it is the great aim and goal of the Gospel apostolate. Inspire this work, then, O my God; inspire it into great souls capable of comprehending it. If souls fail, oh, make them; give them. Give men whose hearts may be on fire to do the work of evangelists in the new world which is expecting them."

"That the offering up of the Gentiles may be acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost." Memorable words, indeed! "For it needs not faith alone," says St. Chrysostom, "but a spiritual walk and life, that we may hold fast the Spirit once given. Therefore I do all things that this fire be not quenched." The true Missionaries of the Cross most of all desire this. It is not so much numbers by which they measure results, as by the growth of the spiritual life in their flocks. We are struck with this in the journals of the Moravian Church, in those of Bishop Patteson, of our brethren Bishops Moule and Burdon. It is not the mere accession of proselytes on which their heart is set, to which an ambitious, aggressive spirit may contribute, or the desire to exhibit one's own superior strength or wisdom, as in a recent poem, entitled "St. Christopher," it is thoughtfully said:

> "But HIM, indeed,
> He saw not yet; fill'd with the pride of life,
> A satisfied soul which bow'd not down to wrong,
> Touch'd with desire for good, since good was strong,
> But loving strength alone."
>
> "Rather I dream
> That what of good he loved was only strength,
> The pride of conscious power."

Not so is it with the true Missionary of the Cross. "To present every man perfect in Christ Jesus" is his desire. Briefly expressed, his aim, not perfectly attained, but patiently followed after, is simply this: "Whither the Spirit was to go, they went." Thither, towards the yielded, consecrated life of service, which is the same as being "filled with the fulness of God," the Blessed Spirit goes; as the margin of St. James iv. 5 renders it: "That Spirit which He made to dwell in us yearneth for us even unto jealous envy." Thither the true Missionary goes also, in heart, prayer, and effort. He in whose heart Christ speaks, desires to espouse his flock "as a chaste virgin unto Christ." He ponders well the words, "Every sacrifice shall be salted with salt." The consideration is a heart-searching one; it reminds us that there is some proportion, as a rule, between the spirit (in this matter) of the Church that sends, and of its messengers on the one hand, and the spirit of the people whom their message reaches and their character impresses.

May God help you and me, brothers and sisters in Christ, to carry away a distinct impression of the spirit in which this text would bid us labour. We reflect that spirit best, when our work is done as a grace given of God, not for our own credit or glory at all, but that HE may bear the glory, as was Brainerd's daily, hourly prayer; when it is done by us as Christ-bearers (χριστοφόροι); as Christ's remembrancers; His co-intercessors; Christ's stewards employed in a sacred and solemn Church work for Him; the work which Himself began, and was its perfect model; the work which was the great end of His coming into the world, which He carries on through us, and so it is His work: "Them also must I bring." "Yet you are my agents," He says, "and instruments; work in the spirit of faithful under-shepherds—sow bountifully, that you may reap bountifully;"—all of you, men and women, laity and clergy, old and young. Do this as a priesthood of the Gospel, "holding forth the faithful word," preaching Jesus Christ in the new-creating energy of His Spirit, the atoning efficacy of His Cross, the power of His Resurrection, the fellowship of His Body—in the blessed hope of His glorious appearing and kingdom. If such be your work, and its spirit also be such; if gathered up into it be the grace of the Father, the ministry of the Son, the priestly work of telling the glad tidings, then the sacrifice of the Gentiles will be "acceptable, being sanctified by the Holy Ghost." The fire shall come down and rest on the sacrifice; there will be a gladdening recompense, a success beyond all hope. "The Lord hath been mindful of us; He will bless us. The Lord shall increase you more and more, you and your children. The dead praise not the Lord, neither those that go down into silence; but we will bless the Lord from this time forth, and for evermore. Praise the Lord." &c., &c.

REPORT,

GENERAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

(Read at Exeter Hall.)

"His merciful kindness is ever more and more toward us, and the truth of the Lord endureth for ever."

In presenting the Eighty-fifth Annual Report of the Church Missionary Society, the Committee desire to begin by taking up, with thankful hearts, these grateful words of the inspired Psalmist. Penned nearly three thousand years ago, they are still the natural utterance of all who take a share, however humble, in the work of God in the world. Through its Eighty-fifth year, as in former years, the Society has experienced daily the "merciful kindness" of the Lord; and every event in its history deepens the conviction that "His truth" is indeed the one enduring thing in this world of change.

Commencing, as usual, with the Financial Statement, the Committee have to report the year's receipts as follows:—

Ordinary—Associations . . .	£144,465	11	11
Benefactions . . .	11,897	18	10
Legacies	32,780	11	9
Sundries . . .	11,228	5	9
	£200,372	8	3
Extension Fund	4,015	0	11
Special Funds: Contributions, Interest, &c.	26,783	2	2
Extraordinary Receipts: Sales of Property, &c.	1,278	0	10
Total	£232,448	12	2

[The Receipts on account of Special Funds include 10,000*l.* towards the cost of removing the Children's Home; 772*l.* for Children's Home Leaving Scholarships; 746*l.* additional for the Egypt Fund; 716*l.* for the stipend of the English Bishop for Japan; 1000*l.* from an African member of the Sierra Leone Church, to be invested for the benefit of that Church; the Interest on the Jones Funds, &c., &c. The Extension Fund receipts include 1500*l.* from three friends to provide an additional man for the Bheel Mission.]

The Ordinary Expenditure of the year has been 208,056*l.* 2*s.* 5*d.*, thus exceeding the receipts by 7683*l.* 14*s.* 2*d.* There has also been expended 3947*l.* 5*s.* 3*d.* on account of the Extension Fund, and 13,907*l.* 5*s.* 6*d.* on account of various Special Funds.

The excess of Ordinary Expenditure has been met from the Contingency Fund. This Fund now stands at 18,830*l.* There is a balance in the Extension Fund of 17,560*l.*; but this is all pledged for the support of work chargeable to that Fund. The nett result of the year is that the Society's resources for its general work are reduced by 5900*l.*, the difference between the excess just mentioned and certain exceptional receipts paid into the Contingency Fund.

This deficiency is not, the Committee rejoice to say, due to a falling off in the General Income. The total Ordinary Receipts are within 30*l.* the same as last year. It is true that the Legacies stand very high; but on the other hand the Benefactions stand very low; and these two sources of income together are little above the average of the preceding five years. The Associations stand higher than ever before; but after adjusting certain items for more exact comparison, they may be taken as having sent up almost precisely the same amount as last year, which, it will be recollected, was an advance of 5000*l.* on the preceding year. Remembering the warnings which have been given to the Committee as to the probable result of agricultural distress and the dulness of trade, they feel bound to express thankfulness for the testimony afforded by this side of the account to the earnest efforts of the Society's friends.

But the Expenditure advances. Including that of the Extension Fund, which must in process of time fall on the General Fund, the total now is more than 18,000*l.* higher than it was two years ago. The greater part of the increase is in the Persia, Punjab, China, Japan, North-West America, and North Pacific Missions. Africa, which is sometimes supposed to be drawing so heavily on the Society's resources, draws considerably less than it did five or six years ago. But is the increased expenditure a matter for regret? It is in part the measure of the blessing vouchsafed to the Society's older work, and in part the measure of the newer work which the Providence of God has called on the Society to undertake by means of the Extension Fund. But it is by no means the measure of that development of the existing Missions which the Committee have authorized and expected. Indeed, high as it appears, it is considerably less than had been estimated, owing to the supply of men not having been sufficient to fill up all vacancies. Everything, therefore, points to a further large increase, which can only be avoided by a policy of severe restriction, if not of retrenchment. In the face of the wonderfully improved financial position attained since 1880, the Committee feel that it would be unthankful and unbelieving to raise the note of alarm; but they do see that a steady average rise in the income of at least 5000*l.* every year is the very least which must be provided if the Missions are to be permitted even a modest natural growth.

To two Appeals for Special Funds the Committee must briefly advert.

(1) In the amount acknowledged above under Special Funds is a sum of 10,000*l.* presented to the Society by the Hon. Clerical Secretary and Mrs. Wigram to start a fund for opening a new Home for Missionaries' Children in the country, instead of that at Highbury. In making this gift, the donors wrote as follows:—"Our object is, first to emphasize as much as possible the importance we attach to the wise decision of the Committee to remove the Home; secondly, to give a practical token, in which we trust others will join us, of deep sympathy with the dear brothers and sisters who are engaged in the Lord's work abroad, and who have to entrust the bringing up of their children to the Committee." The Committee feel that no words of theirs are needed to express the gratitude of the whole Society for this noble contribution; and they will only say that the truest thanks that can be given to Mr. and Mrs. Wigram will be in the form of additional contributions to the object they have so much at heart.

(2) The ever-extending work of the Society has for some time rendered the enlargement of its business premises absolutely necessary. In 1862, the Society moved from its original rented house, No. 14, Salisbury Square, to a new one next door, Nos. 15 and 16, which became its own property. The Committee have now purchased No. 14 also, and are rebuilding it as a wing to the present House. The money is provided, as in part on the former occasion, by a portion of the Disabled Missionaries' Fund, and is well secured by a mortgage upon the freehold houses. To that Fund it is a good investment; and the interest is in fact rent paid out of the General Fund to the Special Fund. The Society's ever faithful friend, the Rev. E. H. Bickersteth, to whom so many fresh efforts in the last few years are due, considering that it is desirable to relieve the General Fund of this charge, has spontaneously offered to be one of a hundred donors of 250*l.* each, to raise the 25,000*l.* required to set the buildings entirely free.

The Society's friends are aware that no account is taken in these financial statements of contributions raised in the mission-field. But those contributions are very large, and without them the work could not be carried on. In India alone, many thousands of pounds are raised locally for the Missions, mostly from English officers and other residents. For example, the Viceroy of India himself, and the Marchioness of Ripon, who last summer spent some time in Kashmir, manifested much interest in the Medical Mission there; and by them and their suite was subscribed for the Mission no less a sum than Rs. 1100. Lady Ripon, it may be added, visited the hospital, church, school, &c., spoke kindly to the patients, and attended the mission service.

Again, large sums are sent abroad in aid of particular Missions, which do not come into C.M.S. accounts. Much is thus sent through the agency of the Missionary Leaves Association, a valuable auxiliary now officially connected with the Society, and well deserving of support. Among contributions remitted direct to the field, special acknowledgment must be gratefully made of more than 1000*l.* a year sent from Australia through the zealous efforts of the Rev. H. B. Macartney.

Once more, the contributions of the Native Churches themselves rise year by year. The Yoruba Christians gave in the past year 3038*l.*; those in Tinnevelly about 2700*l.*; those in Ceylon, 1350*l.* The total in all the Missions probably much exceeds 10,000*l.*

Money is of no use without men. In the past year twenty-four candidates for missionary service have been accepted by the Committee. Of these, nineteen were received on probation with a view to education at Islington and elsewhere, and five ready to go out. Of the latter, two were graduates of Cambridge, and one of Oxford.

But the need of well-qualified men for particular posts in the mission-field is very urgent. The Committee are still anxiously looking for a Principal and Vice-Principal of Fourah Bay College; for a Secretary for the Niger Mission; for University men willing in the true missionary spirit of Duff and Noble, to take up the intensely interesting and important work of influencing the higher class of Hindu and Mohammedan youths by Christian education; for medical missionaries in Palestine and East Africa; and for general reinforcements in almost every part of India, in Mid China, and in Japan. When will the Church of England imitate the Church at Antioch in dedicating its best men, its Paul and its Barnabas, to work in the foreign field?

Among the more prominent events of the year, in the mission-field, which call for thankfulness and suggest grounds of hope, are the following:—The appointment, by the Archbishop of Canterbury, to the new Missionary Bishopric for Japan, of the Society's former missionary in South India, the Rev. Arthur W. Poole, whose speech in Exeter Hall last year will long be remembered by all who heard it;—the nomination, also by the Archbishop of Canterbury, of the Society's missionary, the Rev. R. Young, as the first Bishop of the proposed new diocese for the Peace River district in North-West America, to be taken out of the immense Diocese of Athabasca;—the visitation by the Bishop of Lahore of the Society's Persia Mission, his journey over the very ground trodden by Henry Martyn, his friendly discussions in the same cities where that tender spirit braved so much contumely, and the ordination by him of the first Native clergyman of the Church of England in that ancient kingdom;—the opening of a handsome mission church, built in Native style, in the city of Peshawar, and the presence on the occasion of large numbers of both English officers and Afghan chiefs: an outward and visible sign of the vast change wrought by the Mission since the daring step was taken thirty years ago, by Sir Herbert Edwardes and Colonel Martin, of establishing it in the midst of that fierce and fanatical Moslem population;—the ordination by the Bishop of Madras of the first three clergymen of the despised non-caste Mâla people, who have given several thousand converts to the Telugu Mission;—the visitation by the Bishop of Mauritius of the Society's East Africa Mission, to the progress of which since his previous visit in 1878 he bore very gratifying testimony;—the successful commencement by the memorial steamer Henry Wright of what the Committee trust may be a long and useful career on the East African coast;—the firstfruits gathered in of the U-Sagara Mission in East Central Africa, and the remarkable series of baptisms in U-Ganda, culminating in that of King Mtesa's daughter;—and the opening of a new station at Msalala, near the south end of the Victoria Nyanza.

To the Church Missionary Society the name of Central Africa instantly suggests the name of General Gordon. When, in 1878, a reinforcement was sent to U-Ganda by the Nile route, the missionaries landed at Suakin, crossed the desert to Berber, ascended the river to Khartoum, and were there received with the greatest cordiality by Gordon Pasha, then Governor-General of the Soudan. He loaded them with kindness, and spared none of the resources at his disposal to forward their further journey to U-Ganda, the personal cost to himself amounting to hundreds of pounds. Last autumn he was for some months in Palestine, and there also proved a true friend to the Society's Missions, especially those at Jaffa and Gaza. The Committee recall these manifestations of General Gordon's sympathy with their work as additional reasons, peculiar to the Society, why its friends should think of him with gratitude. By them, as by the whole nation, prayer should now be made without ceasing unto God for him.

But it is often the case that the events of really greatest importance in history are little thought of at the time; and it may be that the year 1883 will one day be memorable for some incident now unnoticed, or for some movement begun without observation. However this may be, the quiet progress of many of the Society's Missions in the past year is as much a cause for thanksgiving as any striking event. The steadily increasing influence for good of both English and African missionaries at outlying stations in Africa, such as Port Lokkoh in the Timneh country, Ode Ondo in the Yoruba country, Gbebe on the Niger, Mamboia and Kisokwe in U-Sagara, Kisulutini in the land of the Wa-Nika; the patient and efficient labours of many of the Native schoolmasters in the villages of Palestine; the good though not startling work done in all departments of the Ceylon Mission, especially in the schools; the uninterrupted growth, from strength to strength, of the work of God in the Fuh-Kien Province of China; the gradual building up, not rapidly but solidly, of a Native Church in Japan; the regular and faithfully-conducted pastoral ministrations of the Maori clergy of

New Zealand; the continued fruitfulness of the Red Indian Missions of North America, especially the promising beginnings among the Eskimo of Hudson's Bay, the Blackfeet of Saskatchewan, the Kwa-gutl of Vancouver's Island, and the Hydahs of Queen Charlotte's Islands;—all these should receive the thankful recognition of the Society's friends. In India especially, the steady advance year by year is clearly visible to those who look below the surface. The C.M.S. Native Christians have increased in the last ten years from 70,000 to 104,000, just "half as many again," and the communicants at a still higher rate.

Some agencies of a special character must be noticed, which have been carried on with the manifest blessing of the Most High. Foremost among these should be placed Woman's Work. The Committee rejoice in the increasing influence of the societies formed expressly for sending ladies into the mission-field; but they desire that the work of the seventeen ladies in direct connection with the C.M.S., and of more than 150 missionaries' wives (who in American statistical tables would be counted in the list of missionaries), and of some 500 female Native teachers, should not be forgotten. Such influence as that of the late Mrs. Sargent, of Tinnevelly, cannot be over-estimated; and not less valuable, within its own smaller range, is that of a "mother in Israel" like Jane of Jabalpur, the Native Bible-woman there on the Frances Ridley Havergal Fund. Another special agency is that of Medical Missions, which in fields like East Africa, Persia, the Frontier of India, and China, have been most useful in drawing the people within the sound of the Gospel. Even partial medical knowledge is valuable to an ordinary missionary. One recent letter from Bengal says, "The slight knowledge of medicine I acquired while at Islington College has been of infinite service. In almost every village crowds of sick have surrounded my tent daily, and listened to the story of the Great Physician." Once more, Linguistic Work has been vigorously prosecuted during the year; and the Committee would especially mention with thankfulness the completion, by the Rev. T. R. Wade, of the whole New Testament in the hitherto little-known language of Kashmir.

The recorded adult baptisms of the year were about 2700 in number. The figures are not complete; but there were 796 in Tinnevelly, 453 in Travancore, 141 in Ceylon, 100 in East and Central Africa, about 400 in West Africa, 293 in the Fuh-Kien Province of China. The converts were the fruits of every kind of mission agency. Some had long resisted the divine call, like an aged man at Jaffna in Ceylon, who learned the truth sixty years ago as a child in a mission school, but has only now embraced it; and some are sudden works of grace, like a man in the kingdom of Cochin, who grasped the way of salvation so instinctively, and followed it so unhesitatingly, that the Rev. J. H. Bishop says it brought home to him with a new force the words of the 18th Psalm, "As soon as they hear of Me they shall obey Me."

One of the most important influences for the conversion of the heathen is the character of the Native Christians, and the Committee are glad to observe the special efforts made by some missionaries to foster true spiritual life among them. At Trichur, for instance, a three-days' "Mission" for the Christians was conducted by a Native clergyman and a Native lay evangelist under the direction of the missionary; and at the same place, a few months later, a converted Brahmin from a distance gave special addresses; both being occasions of real blessing. Under this head should be noticed with pleasure the branches of the Church of England Temperance Society lately established with very happy results in several Missions, notably East Africa, North India, Ceylon, and New Zealand. Another element of progress is the growth of the Native ministry. There have been twelve ordinations of Natives, making 330 from the beginning. The number now labouring in connection with the Society or the Native Churches is 246, against a staff of 233 European ordained missionaries.

Each year in the history of the Church Missionary Society brings its own trials, and the past year has been no exception. Yet in no case has the difficulty or the disappointment been unmixed with tokens of encouragement; and often have the Committee had to say that God was better to them than their fears. It is the more necessary to say this because sometimes partial and one-sided reports of some anxiety or difficulty pass from mouth to mouth among the Society's friends, while the brighter side of the case is unknown or ignored. The sad schism at Metlakahtla, with the bitterness and violence that have sprung from it, which brought Bishop Ridley all the way from Caledonia to Canada, and from Canada to England, in the depth of winter, and the remedy for which the Committee do not yet see clearly, must not blind us to the good work done there by the Bishop and Mrs. Ridley and others, as well as elsewhere on the North Pacific coast. The necessity of disconnecting a few of the Native agents on the Niger who were not worthy of the Society's confidence has been painful both to the Committee and to Bishop Crowther; and the Mission has undoubtedly suffered, first in its influence on the heathen through the presence of such men, and then in its reputation through the exposure of their conduct. But the Rev. J. Hamilton, who has been the representative of the Committee, and for whose self-denial, wisdom, firmness, and loving forbearance they unfeignedly thank Him who alone can give grace sufficient, has borne ungrudging testimony to the excellence of other agents, and to the visible results of the work in the decay of idolatry and in large congregations of attentive worshippers. The Committee much regret the misunderstanding which has arisen among the Society's friends and missionaries in Ceylon regarding a plan for assimilating the local government of that Mission (under the Home Committee) to that which long experience in India has shown to be the most convenient, as securing the influence of independent laymen and the co-operation of the bishop of the diocese. But difficulties like these will no more be permitted seriously to check the work of God carried on by the Society than the many others which in past years have caused grave concern, but which by divine mercy have always been overcome. With regard to Hakodate, and the separation from the Society of the Japanese converts attached to the Rev. W. Dening, the Committee are glad to report that much friendliness exists between the two little bands of Christians. They hold united prayer-meetings, and Mr. Dening's adherents, who are ministered to by a Native catechist, come to the C.M.S. church to receive the Holy Communion.

Of a very different character are the trials caused by the loss of beloved and faithful labourers. Two brethren have been taken to their rest who were alike in their single-hearted devotion to the missionary cause, James Abner Lamb and Alfred Menzies; alike, too, in their missionary careers, for both gave their lives to West Africa, and both in turn were in charge of Frere Town in East Africa. The only other European missionaries on the list removed during the year were Benjamin Ashwell of New Zealand, a veteran of fifty years' service, who laboured up to the last as much as his failing strength would allow, and Josiah Strickson, a schoolmaster in China. But, for the deaths of missionaries' wives, the year 1883 will bear a mournful pre-eminence. Including one recorded in the last Annual Report, no less than seven of these sore bereavements took place within that year. Mrs. Sargent, the beloved wife of Bishop Sargent, was called away after twenty-eight years of loving labours in Tinnevelly. The others, Mrs. R. A. Squires of Bombay, Mrs. Glanvill of Ceylon, Mrs. Last and Mrs. Cole of U-Sagara, Mrs. Sedgwick and Mrs. J. C. Hoare of Che-Kiang, were all taken in the fulness of youth and energy.* To East Africa and Mid-China especially the losses are heavy indeed. The Committee would bow with humble submission under the chastening hand of the Father whose name is Love; and they would remember the Master's words, "What I do thou knowest not now, but thou shalt know hereafter."

The Committee now turn again, in conclusion, to the work of the Society at home. Each year brings solemn reminders, by the removal, not of missionary brethren and sisters only, but of honoured friends and fellow-workers in this country, that the time is short. In the past year the Committee have had to mourn the loss of such men as Bishop Robert Bickersteth, of Ripon; Dean Boyd, of Exeter; Dr. Boultbee, of Highbury; Canons Clayton and Battersby; the Rev. Sydney Gedge, the Rev. George Lea, and the Rev. John Mee;—these, with the Duke of Marlborough, Professor Balfour, of Edinburgh, and the Rev. E. Fox, from the ranks of the Vice-Presidents and Hon. Life Governors. Also Professor Birks, Colonel Buckle of Bath, Robert Hanbury, Esq., and W. E. Hubbard, Esq., all of them hearty supporters of the Society.

On the other hand, the Bishops of Southwell, Killaloe, Colombo, Antigua, and Riverina, and Bishop Poole, of Japan, have accepted the office of Vice-President;† and the Committee have also appointed to that office Viscount Midleton, the Very Rev. Randall T. Davidson, Dean of Windsor; the Rev. Canon Westcott, Regius Professor of Divinity, Cambridge; and the Rev. Dr. Ince, Regius Professor of Divinity, Oxford.

To the eight vacancies in the list of One Hundred Honorary Governors for Life, the Committee have nominated the following:—The Rev. William Allan, Vicar of St. James's, Bermondsey; the Rev. Canon James Bardsley, formerly Rector of St. Ann's, Manchester; the Rev. Alexander B.

* Since this Report was presented, the Committee have had sorrowfully to add another name to this list. Mrs. Stokes, of U-Sagara, died on March 25th.

† Since this Report was presented, the Archbishops of Armagh and Dublin, and the Bishops of Chester, Derry, and Kilmore, have also accepted the office of Vice-President.

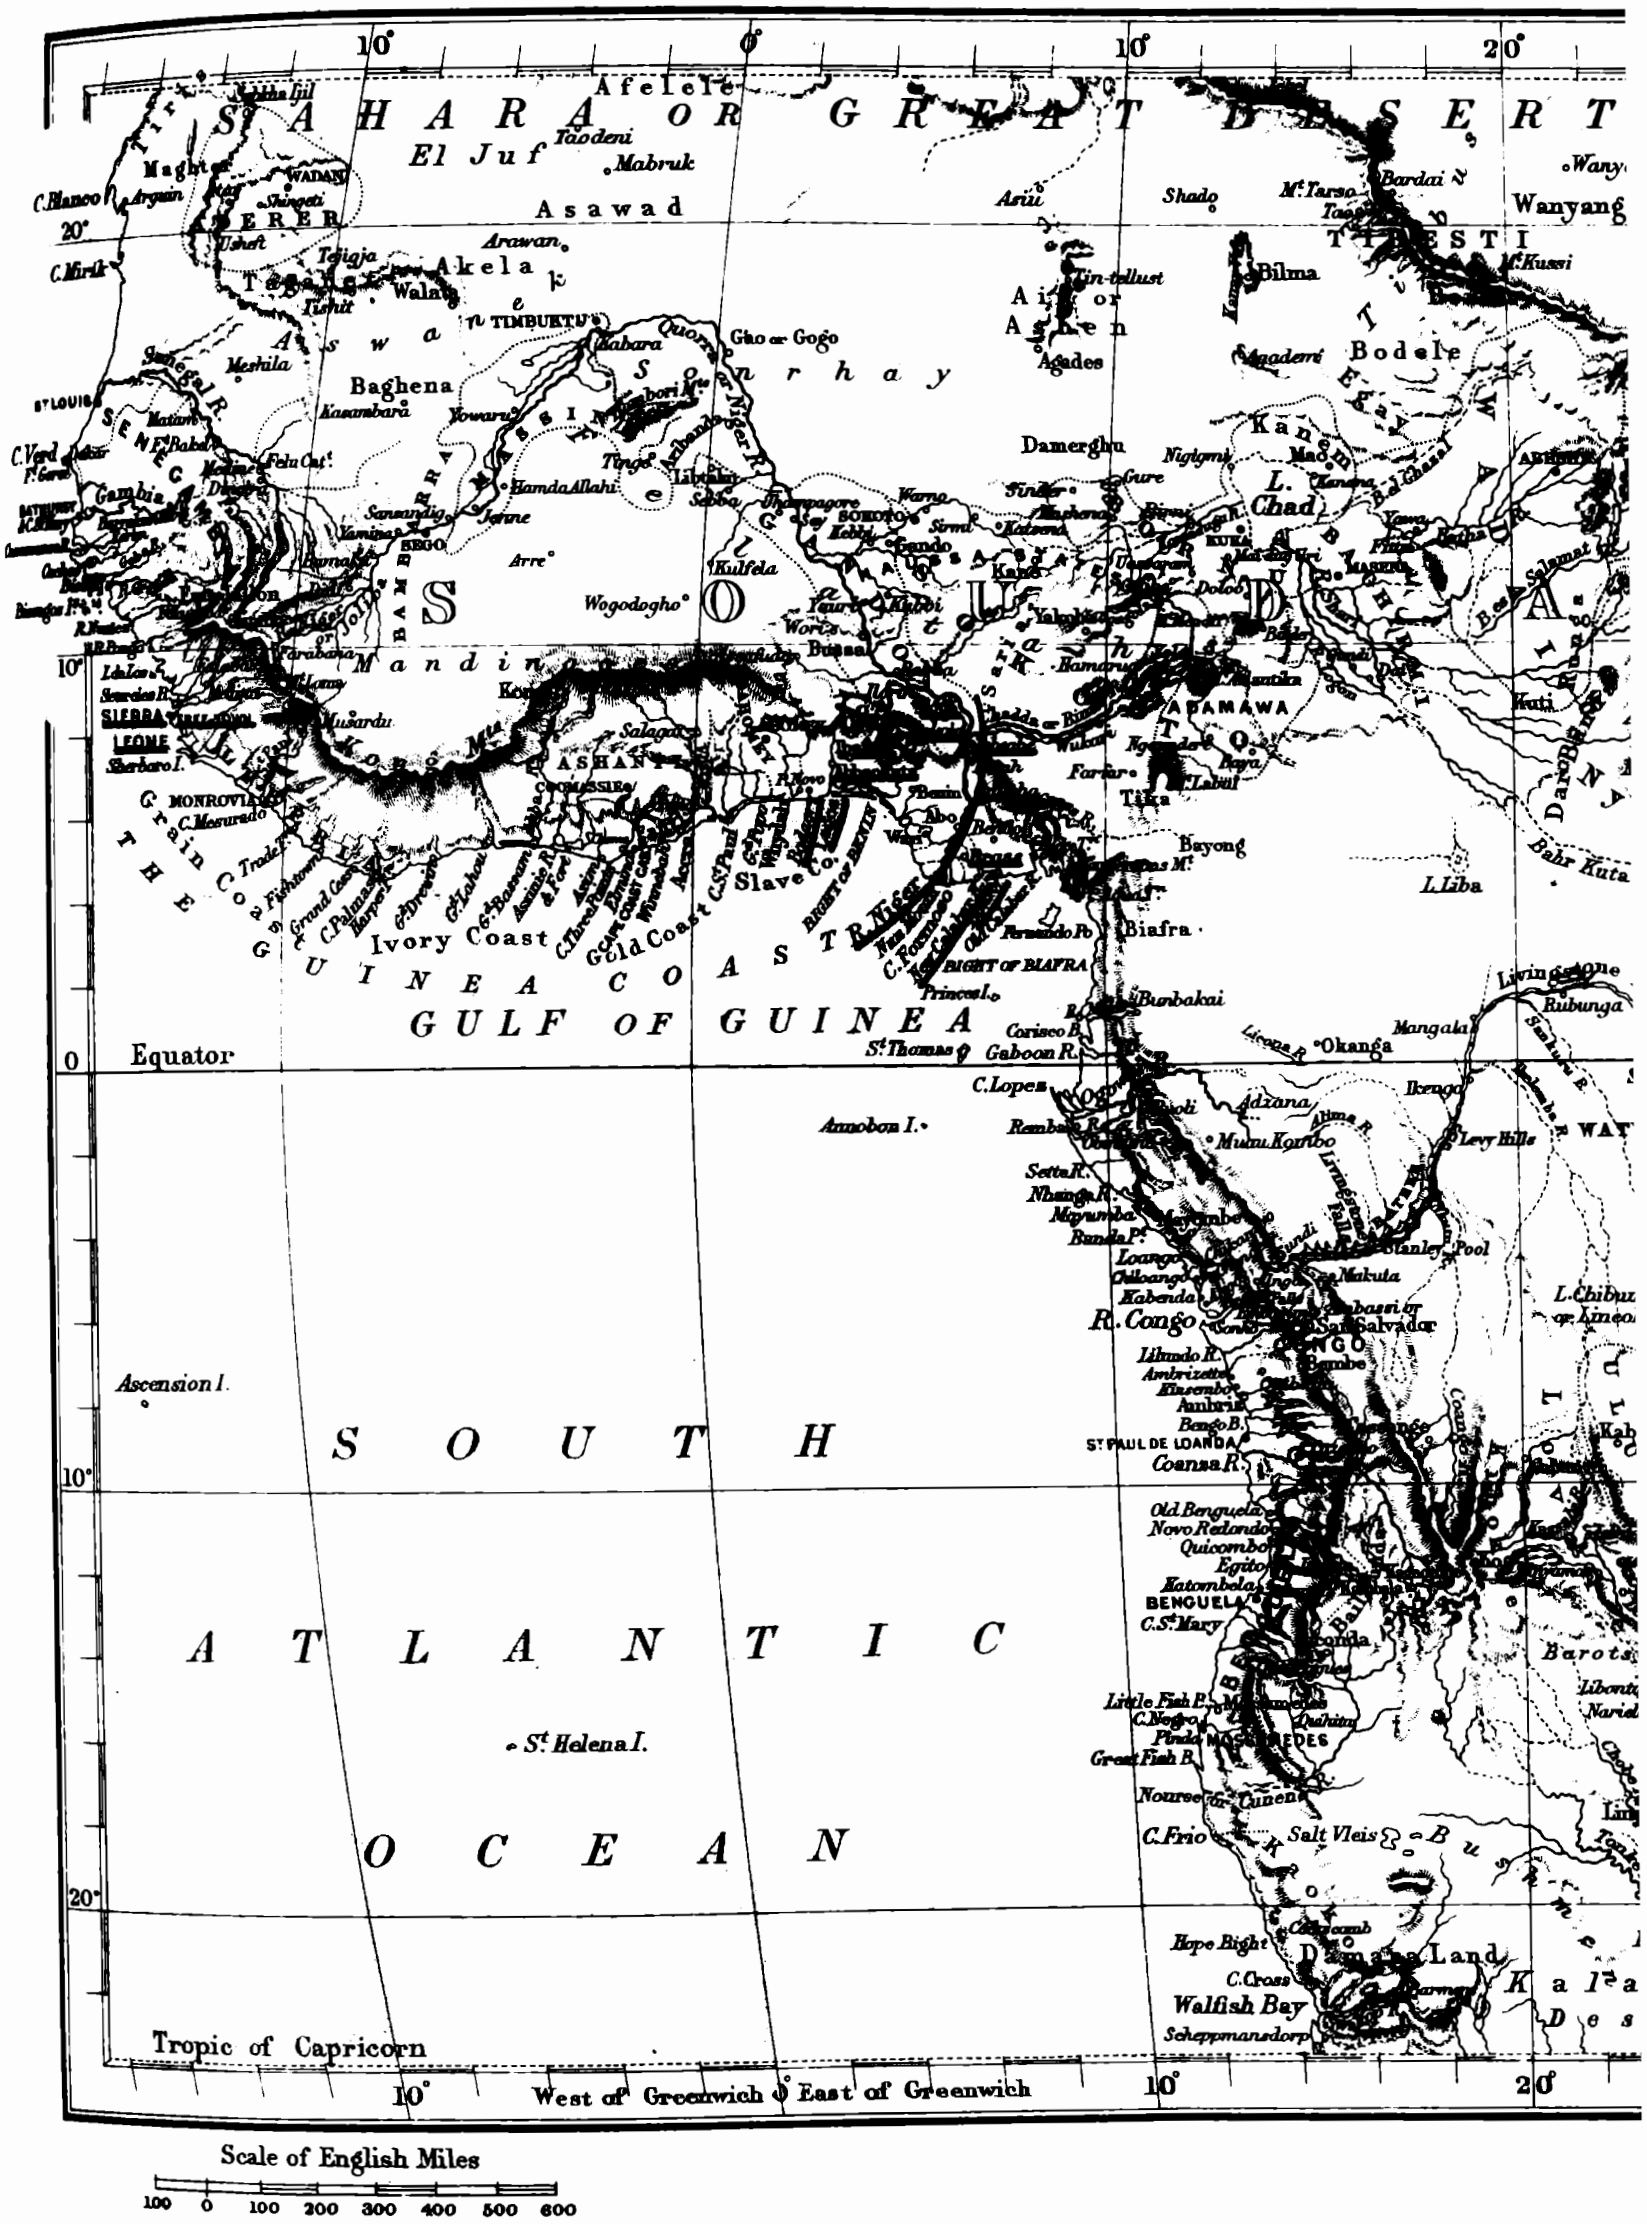

Burton, Rector of West Meon, Hants; the Rev. J. Campion, Vicar of St. James's, Doncaster; the Rev. George Everard, late of Wolverhampton, now Vicar of Christ Church, Dover; the Rev. Canon T. France-Hayhurst, Rector of Davenham, Cheshire; the Rev. Canon Roberts, Rector of Richmond, Yorkshire; and Charles B. P. Bosanquet, Esq., of Rock Hall, Northumberland.

The Committee desire to thank very warmly all their friends who have laboured for the cause at home during the year, the Association Secretaries and Hon. District Secretaries, the Local Secretaries and Treasurers, the preachers of sermons and speakers at meetings, the collectors and workers and subscribers of every grade and class. They view with much satisfaction the increase of C.M.S. Unions for conference and prayer, and would notice with special pleasure the formation in Norfolk of a new Ladies' Union. Juvenile Associations, also, in various forms, are becoming more general. If only this improved organization is animated by the Spirit of life and love and power, it will bring forth much fruit to the praise of God.

Yet with all this, there is surely cause for deep humiliation and searching of heart. The Committee cannot but express their deep conviction that, notwithstanding noble individual instances of personal consecration to the Lord's service and of the dedication of pecuniary means to the support of His work, the Church at home is as yet far indeed from realizing its solemn responsibilities to a sin-stricken and perishing world. That world the great God "so loved, that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." This fundamental and most blessed truth is the one divine remedy for the woes of humanity; and this truth in its fulness and simplicity, as taught by the Fathers of the English Reformation and the Fathers of the Evangelical Revival, it is the work of the Church Missionary Society to proclaim in every land whither the Providence of God may point the way. It is the one heartfelt desire of the Committee to bring sinners to the Saviour; and for no lower object do they plead for enlarged resources, both in men and means. The Committee rejoice to know that "the truth of the Lord" which "endureth for ever" is dear to increasing multitudes in this favoured land, and that there is a widespread desire to be more wholly consecrated to the Lord in heart and life. The recent Luther Commemoration was an evidence of the one. Of the other there are many happy tokens in the present day. But ought not the fruits of both to be seen in thronging numbers of God's children competing for the honour of being sent forth into the foreign field, and in willing offerings on a scale hitherto unknown? It is not so yet; and the dear brethren who are bearing the burden and heat of the day appeal in vain for fellow-workers, and for the means of developing their work. Will not each hearer and reader of this Report put for himself the question, Lord, what wilt Thou have me to do?

The Lord Jehovah has been graciously pleased in the past to employ the Church Missionary Society in His holy cause, and has often given it more than it has expected, and much more than it has deserved. But the Committee are persuaded that He will honour it far more than He has yet done, when those of His people who are its members are no longer content with a minimum of service and of gift, but lay themselves and their possessions, all they are and all they have, unreservedly upon His altar. Then, and not till then, will He "pour out such a blessing that there shall not be room enough to receive it."

C.M.S. Report Pl. 2

Missions.

AFRICA.

Public interest in Africa.

YEAR by year the great Continent of Africa absorbs a larger share of the attention of the civilized world; and year by year the Church of Christ presses forward to carry into remoter regions her divine message to fallen man. That events in Africa can affect the destinies of European nations, as events in Asia have long done, is witnessed to by such names as Zululand and the Transvaal, Tunis and the Congo, Abyssinia and the Soudan; and while commerce is pushing up the Niger and the Congo and the Zambesi, and geographical research rapidly filling up the blanks on the map that were so vast but a few years ago, Christian Missions, English and Scotch, American and German and French, are establishing station after station in lands of which even Livingstone never heard. The Committee of the Church Missionary Society regard with brotherly sympathy all the efforts made by sister societies to plant the standard of the Cross in the heart of the Dark Continent, and pray that a rich blessing from the Most High may be vouchsafed to them all.

Perils of civilization in Africa.

It is, however, impossible not to see that the vaunted march of civilization is but a doubtful blessing to Africa. Not for the Gospel only is a path opened up by the discovery of new regions and new tribes. The adventurous traveller must now go a long way if he desires to be beyond the reach of gunpowder. Its importation into Africa, mainly from England, is enormous. The spear and the arrow of the simple Pagan are fast being discarded for the deadlier weapons that Christian Europe can supply. Nor is gunpowder the worst gift of the white man to the black man. Ardent spirits are the largest and the most profitable article of trade in some parts of Africa. The people are not without their own intoxicants. Pombé-drinking is a common form of excess on the East Coast. But gin and rum, once tasted, and once obtainable, quickly drive such mild beverages as the Natives can make out of the field. To give but one illustration of the way in which the Negro is being familiarized with the source of most of the vice and crime of England: a few months ago, one steamer took up the Niger no less than 25,000 cases of gin and demi-johns of rum; and these were for two factories only. And among the minor difficulties of the Niger Mission in the past year was the refusal of the Native masons and carpenters at an important station to work unless their wages were paid them in the form of gin! It need scarcely be added that the Committee directed that even necessary work should be left undone, rather than that such a demand as this should be acceded to.

Before proceeding to review the C.M.S. Missions in Africa, the Committee desire briefly to refer to three or four matters of general interest.

Mr. Cust's book on African languages.

1. In the first place, they must record in this permanent form their grateful thanks to one member of their body, Mr. R. N. Cust, for his unsparing exertions, not only in disentangling the linguistic problems of Africa, but in publishing, in an attractive and readable form, the results of his investigations. His book on the Modern Languages of Africa,* which has lately issued from the press, is a work of the highest value to the missionary as well as to the scholar. Mr. Cust has added to the obligations under which he has placed the Society by this timely publication, by printing separately the various sections of the book, and sending them out to all the missionaries of every society in Africa to whom they may respectively be of use.

Oxford D.D. conferred on Mr. Schön.

2. In this work Mr. Cust has done full justice to the missionaries who have done so much for the elucidation of the languages of Africa; among whom, among C.M.S. men, Nylander, Schlenker, Schön, Koelle, Crowther, Rebmann, and Krapf are conspicuous. One of the members of this group who are yet spared to us, J. F. Schön, has lately received from the University of Oxford the honour of the D.D. degree. Dr. Schön went to West Africa in 1832 (some years before Krapf or Livingstone), and accompanied the first Niger Expedition in 1841. For many years he has been engaged in linguistic labour; and in Hausa, Ibo, and Mende in particular, he has done very important work, which he is still carrying on at the age of eighty.

Death of Moffat.

3. A still older African missionary, indeed the patriarch of the whole fraternity, Robert Moffat, has been taken to his rest in the past year; and although this Report is necessarily confined to C.M.S. work and C.M.S. men, it would be impossible to speak in it of Africa without a respectful mention of his name. Moffat went out to Africa in 1816, the very year in which the C.M.S. Sierra Leone Mission was begun; so that almost the whole of the Society's African missionary enterprises have been undertaken since he began his work. This one fact affords a most impressive illustration of the comparative shortness of the time in which Missions have been carried on, and of the wonderful results God has graciously given them.

* A Sketch of the Modern Languages of Africa. By R. N. Cust. London: Trübner and Co. (See C.M. Intelligencer, Feb. 1884.)

General Gordon.

4. The special reasons which the Church Missionary Society has for deep interest in and sympathy for General Gordon have been already noticed in the General Review of the year (page 6); but the Committee cannot enter upon a review of the Society's work in Africa without repeating their earnest prayer that his valuable life may be spared to be a blessing to the Dark Continent.

The Society's Missions in Africa are six in number, viz. (1) West Africa, i.e. Sierra Leone and its neighbourhood, (2) Yoruba, (3) Niger, (4) East Africa, (5) Nyanza, (6) Egypt. But Egypt, although a part of the African Continent, is in a missionary sense linked rather with the other Missions in the Mohammedan lands of the East, Palestine and Persia. In the other five Missions, there are (including the Sierra Leone and Lagos Native churches) 47 stations, worked by 28 European missionaries, 45 Native clergymen, and about 200 Native lay agents.

Sierra Leone, 1816; Port Lokkoh, 1876.

The Bishop of Sierra Leone.

The Committee would begin their review of the work in Western Africa by expressing their unfeigned thankfulness to God for His mercy in continuing to the Bishop of Sierra Leone health and strength throughout the first year of his residence in the Diocese. It has been to them a great source of satisfaction to feel that there was again upon the coast a faithful and zealous Chief Pastor, to whose judgment they could appeal with confidence regarding any of the questions that arise from time to time in all missionary work. They wish that the Church at home had enabled them to support him in the way he has most earnestly desired, by sending out a Principal and Vice-Principal for Fourah Bay College.* They were, however, able to nominate to the Secretary of State for the Colonies a clergyman for the Government Chaplaincy, which was also vacant. The Rev. E. P. Sparks, Curate of Boston, was found willing to undertake that office, and his presence in the Colony has been a help to the Bishop. Nor should the cordial co-operation of the Governor, Mr. (now Sir) A. E. Havelock, in the work of the Church, remain unmentioned. Mr. Havelock had an interview with the Committee during a recent visit to this country, and expressed very warmly his interest in the moral and religious welfare of the Colony, and especially in the state of education there, which he described as widespread, but not of a very high quality.

External prosperity of the Native Church.

The Native Church continues to exhibit many signs of external prosperity, although, as in our home parishes, a higher standard of spiritual life and a more fervent missionary spirit are the great wants. Mr. Sparks writes that he has preached in three of the churches, and found crowded congregations and large week-day classes. He also mentions the overflowing attendances at the public prayer-meetings in the Week of Prayer in January. There have been some accessions from heathenism in the outlying districts, adult baptisms being reported. One of the Native clergy, the Rev. D. G. Williams, Pastor of Holy Trinity, Kissey Road, acts for the Society as Secretary in the Colony. Another, the Rev. James Robbin, Pastor of Regent, who can now count twenty-five years of ministerial experience, was appointed Commissary to the Bishop during the latter's absence for a few weeks with Mrs. Ingham at Madeira, and afterwards at Lagos. Mr. Robbin was also Examining Chaplain on the occasion of the Bishop's first ordination. This took place on Sept. 23rd, when the Society's zealous lay missionary at Port Lokkoh, Mr. J. A. Alley, was admitted to deacon's orders, and also three Africans, viz. Mr. Samuel Taylor, B.A. and L.Th. of Durham, Mr. G. Gurney M. Nicol, B.A. of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge (son of the Rev. G. Nicol of the Gambia), and Mr. Samuel Spain; a fourth African, the Rev. H. P. Thompson, receiving priest's orders. The three latter are in the service of the Native Church. Mr. Taylor, who stood first in the examination, and read the Gospel, is a C.M.S. agent, and works with Mr. Alley at Port Lokkoh.

The Native Church has exhibited lately more than one example of liberality in the dedication of pecuniary means to God's service. In October, the Bishop and the Governor were present at the opening of a new church on Tasso Island, built for the Sierra Leone Church Missions at the sole cost of a Native gentleman, Mr. T. Forsythe, who, being of the Timneh tribe himself, desired to provide a place of Christian worship for the Timneh people inhabiting the island. The principal Native bookseller in Sierra Leone also, Mr. T. J. Sawyerr, who has been for many years a leading member of the Church, has invested 1000*l.* for the benefit of its pastoral, educational, and missionary work. It is by acts of this kind that the progress can be measured, in some degree, of a people whose fathers were within the present century rescued from slave-ships and landed at Sierra Leone in a condition, physical and moral, which it is now impossible to realize.

Gifts by leading Christians.

Fourah Bay College has been almost at a standstill for want of a Principal. The few students who have been in attendance during the year have been under the charge of the two Native tutors, the Revs. J. B. Bowen and N. S. Davis, B.A. Mr. Davis, in his report, well argues that the Society's plan for the development of the College was in no way a mistake, and has in fact been amply vindicated by the results already achieved even under some disadvantages :—

Fourah Bay College: Past results.

> Already it has not failed, at least in this, that it has not turned out men less prepared for their work than those who went before them.
>
> The Lagos Grammar School is efficiently conducted by one of those trained under the new scheme. In the Port Lokkoh, Rio Pongo, and Bullom Missions our men have worked with acceptance and commendation. Bishop Cheetham trusted them to such an extent as to make one of them, in spite of objections raised on the ground of his being of the junior clergy, a secretary of the important Sierra Leone Church Missions. Another he employed as itinerant missionary over several hundreds of Native towns, a position requiring a great degree of sincerity of character. The good work done on the Rio Pongo by one of them, since gone to see the King whom he faithfully served, is to-day in the mouths of all who knew him.
> Intellectually, too, our men have not proved a failure, compared with their predecessors under the old scheme. Since the opening of the College under the enlarged scheme, they have uninterruptedly taken the first place in every examination of candidates for holy orders. In the last, one of them was Gospeller, having headed the list in all the subjects but one, where he came second. This success is all the more remarkable from the fact that he had never been educated out of home, while two of his Native fellow-candidates had been two years in England, and one of them took the Cambridge degree in the theological school. Besides, he was up to within a few weeks of the examination uncertain of his being received as a candidate, and was zealously engaged in missionary work some sixty miles away up country. I do not wish to lay more stress on intellectual progress than necessary, but I feel that we should be equally thankful for success in our work when it comes so forcibly to notice.

To restrict the operations of the College (a) to the mere training of future missionaries, or, along with that, (b) to the preparing of a few for degrees, would be to set bounds to a stream that might otherwise fertilize an entire country. For, for a long time to come, there will be only a small number required in either of these classes. But let—in addition to those who require special training for missionary or pastoral work, and those who might require a degree—the more general want of the coast be met in the establishment of a secondary grade, including men who have passed the limits of a grammar school, but could not afford the time or expense of qualifying for a degree; men who would hereafter fill important Government and commercial posts, after receiving a sound collegiate education, in which English language and literature, as also religious knowledge, should have a prominent place.

I am confident that with God's blessing, our work will stand and progress; and, therefore, the enthusiasm with which I worked when things looked bright is not in any way abated, though now the cloud around seems thick. It has been the child of many prayers here and elsewhere, and we have the word of Him who cannot lie that "the effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much."

Educational Institutions: Grammar School;

The Grammar School continues to grow and prosper under its new Principal, the Rev. Obadiah Moore. Indeed the number of pupils, which is now 137, is considerably higher even than under the late Mr. Quaker. Mr. Moore writes that twelve of the boys were confirmed during the year, and now, with those previously confirmed, form a communicants' class, which meets regularly for prayer and study of the Scriptures. The Committee had the pleasure of receiving this esteemed African brother on the occasion of a brief visit paid by him to England last summer.

Female Institution;

The Annie Walsh Female Institution is now under the sole charge of Miss Ansell, Mr. and Mrs. Burton having retired. There are 30 boarders and 42 day scholars. Miss Ansell mentions that at a prayer meeting held every Saturday afternoon, some of the girls offer up "simple and seemingly heartfelt prayers." Several of them belong to the Children's Scripture Union.

Moslem School.

The Society's Mohammedan School is carried on by a Native Christian teacher as in former years. The need of some direct missionary work among the Moslem population is shown by the fact that, though not very numerous, they have lately erected a new mosque at a cost of 1300*l.*

This seems the right place to record, as the Committee do with deep regret, the death of the Rev. Alfred Menzies. Though latterly connected with the East Africa Mission, he was for nearly twenty years a West Africa missionary. His special field of labour was the Sherbro and Mende country south of Sierra Leone, which is now worked by the Native Church. He was a most true-hearted servant of the Lord Jesus Christ. In few missionaries have the interests of the work been more dominant, and those of self more entirely kept in the background. Death of Rev. A. Menzies.

PORT LOKKOH.

As already mentioned, both the English and the Native lay missionaries at this out-post, Mr. J. A. Alley and Mr. S. Taylor, have been admitted to holy orders. Prior to this, in June, Bishop Ingham had visited the station, and wrote concerning it as follows:— Bishop Ingham at Port Lokkoh.

Mrs. Ingham and I went up to Port Lokkoh in the mission boat, a journey of sixty miles. We were very much interested. The river journey was pleasant, and the hospitality of the traders, with whom, both going up and coming down, we had to spend a night, was very great. The river is almost all the way lined with mangroves, which, though pretty, soon grew monotonous, and which, as you know, have no good name for health. Port Lokkoh is nearly at the head of the Sierra Leone river—quite at the head of the navigable part. It stands out quite boldly on a hill as one rounds the last bend of the river, and the first object that met the eye was your substantial verandah-girt mission-house, and close by its side the little mission church, built by the traders, that I had been invited to open. Mr. Alley, Mr. Taylor, and others met us on landing, and warmly welcomed us. I must say that our Port Lokkoh visit proved the pleasantest of any we have yet made; for I was thoroughly pleased with Mr. Alley, a most humble-minded and retiring, but energetic and faithful man, whose Islington training is telling upon him well. His devotion to the Timneh boys who live with him is wonderful, and it was nice to see also how well-disciplined a school he has both for heathen and traders' children. It is not large, however. As we approached the mission-house on landing, the children all sang the Venite with great credit. I could not help going in just to tell them how pleasant it was to us to hear children's voices singing God's praises in the midst of a heathen town. It did seem to breathe hope for the future!

The little church which was opened next day is able to accommodate 120 or so. The Rev. D. G. Williams, Pastor of Trinity Church, Kissey Road, who accompanied me, took a part in the service, and Mr. Alley, at my request, read the lessons. During the service considerable commotion was caused by the arrival of the King and one or two of his queens, and children, and attendant chiefs. As this was only the second time in four years that he had come to hear the Gospel, I submitted willingly to the ordeal of preaching through an interpreter. After service the entire court party called at the mission-house to visit me. The King presented me with a very good-looking sheep. The following day I returned the visit.

An African Chief on the Bible.

On leaving the King we visited one of the leading chiefs, who was a most thoughtful and sensible man. He told me that he admired our laws, because they made no difference between the rich and the poor. He also said, "The paper of your Book is very light, but its words are heavy." I venture to hope that this was in reference to the preaching of the Word he had heard the day before. Leaving him, we visited the houses of several Sierra Leone traders, and found them most pleasant, and they each presented us with a few Native mats—one with a nice hammock; so you see even this little effort for the Master had its reward. I used my opportunity with these people as well as I could, and urged them to rally round Mr. Alley and Mr. Taylor, and support the church they had built.

On the afternoon of the opening day I held a confirmation, when Mr. Alley presented six candidates. On the morning of my departure we had an early Communion at six o'clock; twenty-eight received. I gave an address; and you may be sure I pressed upon these good people their bounden duty to win over the heathen amongst whom they live by their life and conversation.

YORUBA MISSION.

Badagry, 1845; Abeokuta, 1846; Ibadan, 1852; Lagos, 1852; Otta, 1852; Leke, 1875; Ode Ondo, 1876.

Death of the Rev. J. A. Lamb.

THE principal event of the year in the Yoruba Mission was a sad one. The Rev. James Abner Lamb, whose return to what was his original field of labour twenty-two years before was mentioned in last year's Report, was permitted to occupy it only three short months. He landed at Lagos on March 27th, and shortly afterwards paid a visit to Abeokuta, to assume charge of that Mission. On his return to Lagos he was laid on a sick bed, and on July 1st it pleased God to call him to Himself. The Committee received the news of his death with much sorrow. His devotion to the Society and its work had been often proved. He was its Secretary successively at Lagos, Sierra Leone, Mombasa in East Africa, and Sierra Leone again. He and Mrs. Lamb were always ready to go where they were needed, even (as in 1876) when it involved the resignation of an important English living. Mr. Lamb was buried in the churchyard of Christ Church, Faji, which church he himself built fifteen years ago. The scene at his funeral was an outward and visible sign of the wonderful blessing which, despite all the imperfections and infirmities of men, God has vouchsafed to the Mission. Twenty-five years ago Lagos was a notorious slave mart, governed by a heathen usurper. Round Mr. Lamb's grave gathered an immense concourse of Native Christians, the representatives of several congregations, with the British governor of their flourishing colony at their head. Mr. Lamb himself described the change in striking language in a sermon prepared by him for the Anniversary of the Native Pastorate Auxiliary Association, but which he was too ill to deliver when the day came:—*

Scene at Mr. Lamb's funeral.

Past and present at Lagos.

When I arrived here in January, 1862, the work was, as it were, in a nutshell. Faji was the mother church. Breadfruit was what we might call a chapel-of-ease in connection with it. Ebute Ero was in charge of its present pastor, then a deacon. There was only one day-school, which was at Faji, and the whole of the Church's staff consisted of one European missionary, two Native deacons, two Native Scripture-readers, and two Native schoolmasters. Badagry, supplied with a catechist and schoolmaster, was the only out-station. This was the "little one." Now, as we see, it has become "a thousand." There are seven churches on Lagos Island supplied with regular means of grace. There are seven Native clergy working on the island, three of them being in charge of churches under the Native Pastorate Establishment. There are at least six day-schools supplied with eleven masters, and over 1000 children are taught in the schools. Ebute Meta and Badagry are each supplied with a Native clergyman. A church has been erected on, and an agent supplied for, Iddo Island, and missionary work has been begun at Ondo with an ordained Native missionary in charge, and at Leke and other places.

Native contributions in 1862 and 1881.

The late Rev. Henry Venn having in 1861, just before I left England for Lagos, expressed to me his particular desire that the Church at Lagos should be impressed with the idea of self-support, and that the people should be encouraged to bring anything to further that object, even to a handful of rice, at a leaders' meeting held on the 2nd June, 1862, eleven persons being present, it was agreed that church members and school-children should pay one string of cowries per week to begin with. The amount was in due time raised to one penny. After some years of careful gathering I was permitted to take to England the first 50*l.* raised by these means, and deposit it with the Parent Committee for safe investment. When I was at the Church Missionary House in London one day in 1881, I took up a Lagos Times which had arrived from the coast, and found in it the Report of the Annual Meeting of the Lagos Native Pastorate Auxiliary Association, held on the 8th May, 1881, when one of those very leaders who was present at the meeting on the 6th June, 1862, occupied the chair. About 1000 people were reported as present. A Native pastor, Secretary of the Association, read the Report, which showed a balance in hand of 306*l.*, not including 800*l.* invested in England, and 519*l.* receipts for the year, and my thoughts immediately reverted to the small beginning, and I was rejoiced indeed that the little one had become a thousand.

And the Lagos Native Pastorate Church still goes forward, showing no signs of languishing, but rather increasing on every side, and ready, at the call of its parent, the Church Missionary Society, to relieve her of the charge of other churches, and to take them under its wing.

The Mission staff.

The Rev. J. B. Wood and the Rev. C. H. V. Gollmer have rejoined the Mission, and the Rev. T. Harding, of Islington College, has been added to the staff. On the other hand, the Rev. A. Mann has just come home, and the Rev. J. A. Maser must shortly also come; and in their seriously weakened state of health, after more than thirty years' untiring labours, they can scarcely hope to go back again to Africa. The Yoruba Mission, therefore, urgently needs further reinforcement.

Bp. Ingham at Lagos.

The Bishop of Sierra Leone paid his first visit to the Yoruba Mission in March of this year. He was prevented, to his great regret, from going up to Abeokuta, the season being late, and therefore unhealthy, and the brethren also urging him not to run the serious risk caused by a virulena outbreak of small-pox there. But he spent five weeks at Lagos, visited Ebute Meta, Badagry, and Leke, and confirmed altogether 288 candidates. On Sunday, March 30th, he admitted to priest's orders the Revs. T. Harding, Isaac Oluwole, and Samuel Doherty (the two latter Africans). In this service Bishop Crowther, who was at Lagos, also took part, and thirteen clergymen were present. The sermon was preached by the Rev. J. B. Wood; "and," writes Bishop Ingham, "a most able and impressive one it was: I never heard a better or more suitable ordination sermon." For Passion Week the Bishop arranged a series of special services at Christ Church, Faji, and invited the Revs. J. Hamilton, C. H. V. Gollmer, T. Harding, James Johnson, and Isaac Oluwole, to preach. The Bishop preached several times himself, and on Good Friday afternooon addressed a large congregation of children on the Seven Words from the Cross.

The statistics of the Yoruba Mission are compiled with a careful thoroughness which the Committee much appreciate. It appears from the returns sent this year that the total number of Christian adherents is 7010, of whom 3710 are in Lagos and the Coast District, and 3300 at the Interior stations. The communicants are 1330 and 1022 respectively. There were 395 baptisms last year, of which 147 were of adults. There are 1842 scholars in 33 schools. The contributions for various church purposes reached the remarkable sum of 3038*l.* 4*s.* 8½*d.*, under the following heads:—Native Pastorate, 1152*l.*; Church Building, 100*l.*; Church Repairs, 95*l.*; Education, 904*l.*; Miscellaneous, 787*l.* Native contributions at Lagos.

LAGOS, AND THE COAST DISTRICT.

Upon the veteran brethren, the Revs. J. A. Maser and A. Mann, have fallen the burden of the Mission during the year, so far as it is carried on by the Society's European missionaries: i.e., Christ Church, Faji; the Training Institution and Female Institution; the Bible Translation Committee, Book-shop, &c.; and the General Secretaryship of the Mission. The Native clergy in Lagos itself have continued at their respective posts, viz., the Rev. Isaac Oluwole, B.A., at the Grammar School; the Rev. T. B. Wright at St. Peter's, Faji; the Revs. James Johnson and E. S. Willoughby at St. Paul's, Breadfruit; the Rev. Nathaniel Johnson at Palm Church, Aroloya; and the Rev. W. Morgan at Ebute Ero. The three churches last named are supported by the Native Pastorate Funds, and now draw nothing from the Society. The ordained Natives at the out-lying stations are the Rev. J. White at Ebute Meta, the Rev. E. Buko at Otta, the Rev. D. Coker at Badagry, and the Rev. C. Phillips at Ode Ondo; and the Rev. S. Pearse will now be stationed at Leke.

Educational Institutions.

The Committee have received but partial and meagre reports of the work done in Lagos during the year. Mr. Mann states that both the Training Institution and the Female Institution have shown a downward tendency as regards numbers. The latter, which educates from 40 to 50 girls, has now important rivals in similar schools started by the Wesleyans and the Roman Catholics. Its value in the Colony, however, is shown by the fact that since Mr. and Mrs. Mann took charge of it twelve years ago, 265 girls have been on the roll, and some of the present pupils are daughters of the earlier ones. The Grammar School maintains its position of influence under Mr. Oluwole's management; but he intimates his concurrence in an opinion expressed last year by Captain Maloney, the Administrator of Lagos, that industrial training might well form part of West African education, more especially as the tendency of the young men in the colony is to avoid learning a trade, to despise agriculture, and to overstock the market for clerks. Lagos in this respect is like Sierra Leone. It is easier to see the evil, however, than to suggest an effective remedy.

Baptisms.

Adult baptisms are reported by the Native clergy. Six converts were baptized by Mr. Wright, of St. Peter's, three by Mr. Morgan, of Ebute Ero, and sixteen by Mr. White, of Ebute Meta. Mr. Wright also baptized as children a large number of elder boys and girls in his school, the children of heathen parents who offered no objection to their being admitted, as they desired, into the Christian Church. Mr. James Johnson baptized thirteen converts from heathenism and Mohammedanism, who had attended the baptismal class for some time, and twenty-two senior boys and girls who had been brought up among Christians and took their own vows upon themselves. Mr. Johnson's Report, as usual, is full and interesting. Breadfruit is an established, well-worked parish. In addition to the regular services, there are Bible-classes, Day and Sunday-schools, communicants' classes, confirmation classes, district visitors' meetings, and evangelistic preaching among the surrounding non-Christian population. In connection with this latter branch of work, it is mentioned that several Mohammedans have acknowledged themselves convinced of the truth of the Gospel, although they have not acted upon that conviction. Also that idolatry is as rife among the Romanists of Lagos, who are mostly negroes from Cuba and Brazil, as among the heathen; idols of pagan divinities being set up in their houses alongside crucifixes and images of the Virgin, Joseph, &c. To awaken or deepen spiritual life in his own people, Mr. Johnson has held Mission services, concerning which he writes:— Moslems convinced.

At the close of the year 1882, and particularly on the occasion of the watchnight service held on the last night of that year, urgent appeals were made to the unconverted to yield themselves at once to God through faith in Christ, and to believers to advance higher in the spiritual life, and those appeals were followed up with the like appeals time after time in the year. Revival prayer-meetings were held in Whitsun week, when, in a full room, God was frequently and fervently entreated to infuse new and vigorous life into the Church, and on that occasion, by the request of one person and another, mostly women, the conversion of several persons in nominal connection with the congregation—a larger number than that of the preceding year—was specially prayed for. Evangelistic efforts were kept up, and many heathens and Mohammedans had the Gospel spoken to them. Revival services at Lagos.

What, we ask, has been the result of all these different efforts upon the Church? This must be better and more fully known to the Judge of all, the Searcher of hearts; but there came under my notice during the year three cases of sin, conviction, and penitence, a few cases of application from suspended members or backsliders for re-admittance into the communion of accredited communicant members, and several from young non-communicants for admission into the class of confirmation candidates. But some voluntarily brought thank-offerings to God for special mercies given them and theirs. About 18*l.* was given in this way to the funds of our own Church, or through our Church to some other Association.

We are most thankful to God for these tokens of blessings; but, we may ask, in no grumbling spirit, however, what are they among so many people that stand in need of conversion or of advance in grace, and amidst the abundance of sin and folly and the thickness of the darkness that surround us? They seem so small to speak of, and one is almost ashamed to mention them by the side of the Pentecostal conversions which are attending the labours of the American revivalists, Messrs. Moody and Sankey, in England, accounts of which I have in copies of the Christian, which the kindness of the Rev. H. Townsend, a retired missionary, has forwarded me.

If our harvest is small, and we know and feel it to be small indeed, it should be remembered that we are working in the face of grave difficulties. This should help to stir up those abroad who sympathize with Christ's Church newly planted in Africa, to pray earnestly to God on its behalf. We are not insensible of our responsibility as a Christian Church intended to be a beacon and a light in heathen and Mohammedan Africa, and are anxious to discharge it, or see it discharged, to its fullest extent. But there are, I am persuaded, true believers in the Lord in our congregation, who, young, middle-aged, or old, are striving to adorn their profession with a holy life, who are earnest and diligent in the performance of many good works, and who rejoice in the adoption of sons.

Death of Bp. Crowther's mother.

On Oct. 13th, Hannah Afala, the venerable mother of Bishop Crowther, who was a member of Breadfruit Church, was taken to her rest at the age of 97, "full of joy," wrote Mr. Maser, "to go to her Saviour." Mr. Johnson, too, bears testimony to her Christian character. She could not read, but her memory was stored with the Word of God, which was ever her spiritual sustenance. It will be remembered that she was one of the first six converts baptized at Abeokuta in 1848.

The two Bonny converts at Lagos.

Mr. White, of Ebute Meta, also sends an interesting Annual Letter. In it he refers to two persecuted converts at Bonny, whose names will be remembered by many readers of this Report :—

> The two Bonny men, brickmakers, Isaiah Bara and Jonathan Apiafa, who, in consequence of the barbarous treatment of their masters for embracing the Christian religion, took refuge in the settlement of Lagos some years ago, have returned to their country at the invitation of their friends, the waves of persecution having subsided since the death of their masters. We shall miss them very much in our Ebute Meta Church. Their industry, harmless deportment, regular attendance on the means of grace, and their liberal contributions towards all religious objects, recommend them to the esteem of all who know them. May they continue to be burning and shining lights in the midst of their countrymen!

He also mentions a pleasant example of liberality in gifts to the Lord's treasury shown by some children :—

> A few weeks ago, eight of our school-children, varying from four to eight years of age, brought me 4000 cowries. One of them, who was their spokesman, thus addressed me in the name of the others: "Sir, we have heard you say again and again that little children in other places are helping to send the Word of God to the heathen, and so we have met together and resolved to subscribe twenty cowries a week each for that object, and this is the amount we have been able to collect. Will you please give it to the Lagos Church Missions to help in sending the Gospel to the heathen?" I wished them God's blessing, and expressed a hope that their example will be followed by many others. Previously, Mrs. Mary Abijo's Young Women's Association brought me ten shillings for the same object.

Leke, the coast station fifty miles east from Lagos, which was founded by the Rev. D. Hinderer in 1874, has been occupied by a catechist. The Rev. S. Pearse (who is now stationed there), at one of his visits there, in September, found a congregation of 175 persons in the morning and 115 in the afternoon; and there were 30 communicants. He baptized three adults.

From ODE ONDO, the Rev. C. Phillips sends an interesting report. The work is encompassed with obstacles. Three are specially mentioned, viz., (1) the low moral tone of the place, polygamy being prevalent in its most degrading form; (2) the difficulty of keeping Christian adherents from the only remunerative employment in the country, the traffic in slaves; (3) the constitution of the Ondo commonwealth, under which head the question of the observance of national customs, referred to in last year's Annual Report, presents itself in another form:— Obstacles at Odo Ondo.

> The Ondo polity is a network of titles. Every Ondo man must bear a title before he claims a recognized position in the community. A non-titled man has no right to municipal privileges and duties, except he be son of a deceased king or head chief. As idolatry is interwoven with the state, many of these titles have idolatrous duties attached to them. This is what makes it difficult for me to approve of our converts taking any of the titles. In the subordinate titles a man may not be obliged to take part in idolatrous duties; but the evil is that it is not natural for a man to be content to remain for ever in a subordinate position. He may even be compelled by the authorities to assume a higher title. Thus we are made to feel the difficulty of working against organized idolatry. At present I have not given a decision in the matter of our converts taking titles. Entire refusal on the part of our converts to take titles would be regarded as a refusal to serve their country, and expose them to the suspicion of treasonable intentions against the commonwealth. My own desire corresponds to that which our Lord expressed in John xvii. 15; but I feel the need of the counsel of a higher authority for the adjournment of the matter, so that Ondo Christians might "render to Cæsar the things that are Cæsar's, and to God the things that are God's."

The Committee hear with much satisfaction that the barbarous custom of human sacrifices, for which Ode Ondo has been noted, is at last yielding to Christian influence. At the recent funeral of a leading chief there were none at all. On Whit Sunday (1883), seven men and four women were publicly baptized, one man and three women being slaves from other tribes, and the remainder Ondos. There are still twenty-five candidates in the catechumens' class. Custom of human Sacrifices yielding to Christian influence.

INTERIOR MISSION: ABEOKUTA AND IBADAN.

The Rev. V. Faulkner, who was in charge at Abeokuta, has returned to England. His place was taken in the first instance by the Rev. J. A. Lamb, and, since the latter's death, by the Rev. J. B. Wood. The Native clergy are the Revs. W. Moore, D. Williams, and S. Doherty, in and near Abeokuta, and the Rev. D. Olubi at Ibadan. The Church at Abeokuta.

The ABEOKUTA Church is a numerous body of some 2300 members, grouped in several congregations in the different quarters of the huge town, Aké, Ikija, Igbore, Ijaye, Ilugun, Iporo, and in the out-lying villages of Oshielle, Shuren, &c. The services, classes, &c., are well attended, and the contributions to church objects are large. But the two monster evils, polygamy and slavery, are a cause of deep anxiety. During the period following the expulsion of Europeans in 1867, many of the professing Christians fell into the snares of the national customs; and now a large number of the male members of the congregations are polygamists and slave-holders. For this there is no remedy but moral suasion. The Society forbids any Native agent in its employment the smallest share in either practice; and Mr. Lamb, in a report sent home while he was yet alive, bore gratifying testimony to their zeal and faithfulness in denouncing both, and in using all influence to counteract them. But the Christians generally are independent men, some of them chiefs, some prosperous traders or extensive farmers; and they are under no obligation to the Society. Their obligations to the Divine law the Committee pray they may be led to see more clearly. That they are not without a sense of shortcoming in the matter is shown by the following excellent resolution which was duly moved, seconded, spoken to, and adopted, at the annual meeting of the Native Pastorate Auxiliary Association held on Aug. 13th last:—

Polygamy and slavery.

> That this meeting, convinced that the strength, glory, and pride of Abeokuta solely depend upon the hearing and putting to daily practice the Word of God, convinced of its moral weakness as a Church, and of its numerous shortcomings, and the pressing need of spiritual life, pledges itself to pray earnestly for the effusion of the Holy Spirit upon the clergy and other spiritual agencies, the infant Church and the heathen public; and also to endeavour, to the best of its ability, to grow in grace and in the knowledge of God and of His Son Jesus Christ.

Mr. Wood reached Abeokuta just before Christmas, and received a cordial welcome. General interest was excited by his arrival, it being remembered that he was one of the missionaries in the town at the time of the outbreak against Europeans in 1867. The Nlado, the head civil chief, expressed much pleasure at seeing him.

The new Christian Balogun.

The Abeokuta Christian community have chosen for their Balogun (head war-chief, and representative in the council of chiefs), in succession to the late John Okenla, an Oshielle convert named Josiah Olumide. Mr. Wood writes, "He is good and sensible, and the best man for the post; and I am thankful the choice has fallen on him."

From Ibadan the Rev. Daniel Olubi reports favourably of the steadfastness of the congregations, although there have been no accessions from heathenism; and the catechists at the important towns of Oyo (the royal city), Ogbomosho, and Iseyin, have worked steadily. The war—or rather blockade, for there is little or no fighting—still much hinders the development of the Mission.

The past history of the Niger Mission.

First Expedition, 1841.

From its very commencement, the attempt to plant the Gospel on the River Niger has been encompassed with peculiar difficulties. It was in the year that the Prince of Wales was born, 1841, that the first famous Niger Expedition, fitted out by the British Government with a view to dealing an effectual blow at the slave trade, ascended the great river, whose lower course had been discovered by Lander eleven years before. That Expedition was accompanied by two agents of the Church Missionary Society, viz., the Rev. J. F. Schön and a young African teacher and ex-slave, Samuel Crowther. The former laid the foundation of those linguistic studies which have placed him in the front rank of African scholars, winning for him the Volney Prize a few years ago, and now (as before mentioned) obtaining for him from the University of Oxford the honorary degree of D.D. The latter saw the countries that were destined to be the sphere of his future labours, and was the first to tell the chiefs and people on the river banks of their Creator and Redeemer. But the Expedition, owing to the deadly fevers that struck down almost all the white men, and caused a hasty retreat, was to all human appearance a complete failure; and for twelve years public opinion allowed no further exploration of the Niger. The second Expedition went out in 1854, the year of the Crimean War, and was a signal success. It also was accompanied by Samuel Crowther, now a clergyman of eleven years' standing; and Dr. Baikie, its commander, wrote to him, "It is nothing more than a simple fact, that no slight portion of the success we met with in our intercourse with the tribes is due to you." He found the kings and chiefs everywhere ready to receive Christian teachers; yet three years more elapsed before anything could be done, and then it was only in response to a deputation from the Church Missionary Society to Lord Palmerston that a small steamer was allowed to make a third ascent of the river in 1857. It was arranged that Mr. Crowther should go in her, with a staff of picked Native teachers to be placed at different points suitable for mission stations; but at this juncture, Bishop Weeks of Sierra Leone and two English missionaries there died, and the bereaved Mission could not spare the men intended for the Niger; and Crowther was accompanied by one Native clergyman and one interpreter, both of whom he stationed at Onitsha. The steamer was wrecked at a point more than 400 miles from the sea, and Crowther, unable to get away, was detained on the upper river for a year and a half, when at last he reached Lagos overland through the Yoruba country. In 1859 he again went up; but after that visit, for two whole years, there was no way of ascending the river. The first baptisms took place in 1862, at Gbebe; but soon afterwards that town was destroyed in a civil war, and the converts were scattered. In 1864, Samuel Crowther was consecrated Bishop, having then two Native clergymen and ten lay teachers.

Second Expedition, 1854.

Third Expedition, 1857: Commencement of the Mission.

This brief sketch of the earlier history of the Mission indicates some of the difficulties that have almost always beset it. Particularly two. First, the failure at a critical moment to obtain a staff of well-qualified agents from Sierra Leone has repeated itself again and again. The Christians of England will not blame the Sierra Leone Church for this, when they consider their own backwardness to send their best men into the foreign field. But the result has been that Bishop Crowther, when tribe after tribe and village after village has asked for teachers, has been fain to send what men he could get, just as an English clergyman has sometimes to commit Sunday-school classes to teachers whom he feels to be ill-qualified and perhaps half-hearted. Secondly, the impossibility of exercising constant supervision over these agents, owing to the infrequency of communication, continued till 1878, when the Henry Venn mission steamer was sent out; and other circumstances have helped to render such supervision imperfect, even after that useful vessel was in the service of the Mission.

(2) Imperfect supervision.

But a third great obstacle to the growth and prosperity of the Mission, which was not encountered at first, has arisen of late years. The Niger, for several hundred miles from its mouths, is no longer a scarcely known and rarely visited stream. It has become a highway of commerce. Every few miles there are trading-posts, with warehouses, and a foreign population of clerks, &c., some of them being white men, but the majority being semi-civilized and nominally Christian Africans from Sierra Leone and other places on the coast. Hereditary Christianity in England is no preventive against appalling developments of vice and crime; neither is it so in Africa. On the Niger especially, as on the frontiers of civilization everywhere, the moral tone is of the lowest; and even among the members of the visible Church there are those, both white and black, who, like some at Philippi in St. Paul's day, concerning whom he wrote "even weeping," may be described in his words, "Whose god is their belly, whose glory is in their shame, who mind earthly things."

(3) Low morale of the traders.

In the meanwhile, those remarkable movements towards Christianity on the part of the tribes of the Delta especially, which have been described in previous Annual Reports, have been going on. God has been manifestly working on the hearts of men, even though the instruments employed have been very imperfect. But the Committee, as they have repeatedly stated in the last three or four years, have been extremely anxious to strengthen the Mission in various ways, and particularly to provide godly and zealous teachers for the crowds of inquirers and catechumens. With these objects they concurred in the appointment of two experienced Native brethren as Archdeacons; they sanctioned arrangements for the opening of a Preparandi Class under the competent charge of Archdeacon Johnson; they resolved upon adding to the staff an English Clerical Secreand to purify it.

But more than this has proved to be needed. The Committee could not shut their eyes to the fact that some of the Native agents, so far from adorning the doctrine of God their Saviour, had given place to the devil, and quite failed to commend the Gospel they professed by their life and conversation; and that in two or three cases at least, they had fallen "into temptation and a snare, and into many foolish and hurtful lusts." It was difficult for the Bishop to act judicially, seeing that proofs to justify such action were not forthcoming; and the Committee, after anxious inquiry and prayerful consideration, resolved to treat certain of the agents not as men against whom various accusations were suggested—which might be more or less true, or more or less exaggerated—but rather as the paid employés of a Society whose principle it is to seek spiritual men for spiritual work. On this ground, therefore, without reference to any other question, notice of disconnection was given to three of the agents direct from England; and the Committee authorized the Secretary of the Mission to give a similar notice in their name, in conjunction with the Bishop and Archdeacon Johnson, to five others in the latter's Archdeaconry, if on further inquiry this should seem desirable. Three of these were accordingly disconnected (but one of them on account of ill-health only) in that way; one resigned of his own accord (as one or two others had done previously); the fifth was retained in the Society's service with much thankfulness, and recommended to the Bishop for ordination, careful investigation having amply shown that he was a zealous agent of promising Christian character. The general result, after adding to the losses one or two withdrawals from other causes, and the death of one of the clergy, and allowing for two or three recent additions to the staff, is that the Niger Mission, which last year had twenty-five agents, has now twenty.

The Committee deeply sympathize with their venerable friend Bishop Crowther in these trials, which have fallen with peculiar weight upon him, and which are harder to bear than closed doors or scornful hearers or persecution of converts. If it be admitted that in his zeal to occupy station after station he suffered himself in some cases to admit Native teachers too quickly to holy orders, it must be allowed on the other hand that for many years he bore the whole burden of an anxious and extensive work, and carried it on under all sorts of difficulties and discouragements, with very little opportunity of consulting with others of a less sanguine disposition. After all, no other Mission started so recently as 1857 can show equal visible results in large congregations of professing Christian worshippers at several stations. More than this is wanted for true missionary success; but it is not to be despised. If idol temples are deserted, and Christian churches are full, to whose power is it due? And if the Lord has been at work, as assuredly He has been on the Niger, we may, while humbling ourselves for the infirmities and sins of men, look with confidence for an increasing blessing upon a purified Mission staff.

The Committee have entered thus fully into the special trials of the year in the Niger Mission, in order to stir up their friends to earnest and increasing prayer in its behalf. They must now briefly review the work more in detail.

The English Clerical Secretary.

A foot-note in last year's Annual Report announced the return to England of the English Clerical Secretary, the Rev. T. Phillips, owing to a sudden break-down in health. The Committee truly sympathized with him in having thus quickly to leave a work which he had begun with so much Christian earnestness; and they deeply regret that he has not felt able to contemplate taking it up again. Even during his short period of labour he was able to render important service; and the Committee looked forward to much blessing in the Mission through his presence and counsel. In the emergency caused by his retirement, they invited one of the Society's Association Secretaries, the Rev. James Hamilton, who was formerly a C.M.S. missionary at Sierra Leone, to take his place for a time. Mr. Hamilton, to their great satisfaction, at once expressed his readiness to go out; and they thank God for having given the Mission at this juncture such a Secretary and adviser.

The two Archdeacons

The Committee had the pleasure during last summer of receiving Archdeacon and Mrs. D. C. Crowther, who came to England on a short visit, the first since Mr. Crowther's ordination thirteen years before; and they had been hoping ere long to give a hearty welcome to Archdeacon Henry Johnson, to whose energy the work on the Upper Niger, during his three years' residence there, owes much. Mr. Hamilton had proposed to stay on the Upper Niger for some months, to enable Archdeacon Johnson to leave; but unfortunately the Henry Venn steamer, on being surveyed with a view to repairs, was condemned as no longer safe, and beyond hope of repair; and Mr. Hamilton, being deprived of the means of moving about, resolved to come at once to England. He has arrived since this Report was in type, and the Committee have rejoiced to welcome him in excellent health.

From the statistical returns it appears that there are altogether about 2000 baptized Christians, of whom 1174 are at the two Brass stations, and 330 at Bonny; and 1600 candidates for baptism, of whom 560 are at Brass and 850 at Bonny. There were 210 adult baptisms in these two Missions in the year.

It will interest many of the Society's friends to hear that, at Mr. Hamilton's special request, copies of a book for Christian workers, by Mr. D. L. Moody, Power from on High, have been sent out for the use of the Mission agents.

STATIONS IN THE DELTA.

Akassa and New Calabar can scarcely be regarded as stations at present, the work at both places being suspended,—at Akassa owing to the single Native teacher having entered the service of one of the trading companies, and at New Calabar owing to war. Okrika, too, seems now to be closed against the Mission on account of disputes between its chiefs and those at Bonny. It is believed, however, that large congregations still resort to the shed used for Christian worship on Sunday; and one of the commissions Archdeacon Crowther came to England last year to execute was for an iron church for Okrika, the money for which had been mainly provided on the spot.

New iron churches in the Niger Delta.

The Brass Mission comprises two stations, Nembe, the capital, where the Rev. J. D. Garrick is stationed, and Tuwon, the trading port, under the charge of the Rev. T. Johnson (during the past year—he died on Good Friday). Here, also, the services continue to be attended by crowds of people. At Nembe, an iron church is being erected, which (like that at Okrika) was purchased in England by Archdeacon Crowther with money chiefly subscribed by the people. The Bishop and Archdeacon Crowther will probably make the Brass River their head-quarters, the leading chiefs of Bonny being unwilling to allow them to reside there.

Difficulties at Bonny.

Political quarrels seem to be the cause. The titular king, George Pepple, was deposed a year ago from his position of precedence (it could not be called power); and Bishop Crowther and the Archdeacon have been charged by the dominant party with interference in local politics. A charge like this is quite natural in a place governed by an oligarchy of chiefs, some of whom openly profess Christianity while others hold aloof, and where the connection between the missionaries and the chiefs who have accepted or favoured their teaching is easily susceptible of such an interpretation. How far the extensive movement in favour of Christianity in the last few years, and the decay of idolatry, may have been the cause, or a cause, of the disputes that have ensued, the Committee are not careful to inquire; but they do not forget that the Master Himself said that He had come, in one sense, not to bring peace on the earth, but a sword. The Rev. J. Boyle is the missionary at Bonny, having special charge of St. Stephen's Church, which was thronged Sunday by Sunday throughout the year. The edicts against church-going, however, have been revived within the past three or four months, and this has again reduced the congregations. It must be remembered that most of the converts are slaves, and the chiefs are apt to mistake any allusions to "the liberty of the Gospel" and "the service of Christ," which may occur in the sermons preached in church, as if intended, or calculated, to set these slaves against their masters. Much wisdom and tact are therefore needed in dealing with them. The Committee need not say that the spirit of 1 Pet. ii. is what they desire to see in the Christians of Bonny, and indeed everywhere else.

Revived edicts against church-going.

Mr. Hamilton thus describes his first impressions of Bonny in a letter written for the C.M. Gleaner:—

Mr. Hamilton's impressions of Bonny.

At Bonny I remained a week, and thus had an opportunity of seeing and hearing a good deal of the work. At the confirmation class I saw the juju priest who used to murder twins, but who between four and five years ago placed himself under Christian instruction, and has been baptized, and is now a candidate for confirmation. No one having taken his position as priest, twins are now, in some instances at least, permitted to live, as I heard of some born recently. I also saw the deserted juju house, and a wretched, miserable place it is, with its ghastly skulls, and forsaken and neglected jujus lying together in a heap on the mud floor. I regret that it was not swept away by a fire that took place while I was at Bonny, but, being covered with a zinc roof, it was preserved from the flames. I saw the juju priest the next day, and had a conversation with him. Mr. Boyle, our Native clergyman here, is visiting him and trying to give him instruction.

Deserted juju temple.

I conducted the service on Sunday morning at St. Clement's church, intended for the Europeans and the African strangers: in the afternoon I went to St. Stephen's, the church for the Native converts.

Mr. Boyle read a selection of prayers from the Prayer-book in the Native language, and I gave an address which was interpreted by one of the converts. I thanked God as I heard this congregation of about 600 souls gathered out from the heathen around, responding in their own tongue during the service, and saw the attention with which they listened to the address. I afterwards saw some of the leading members of the congregation (among them Isaiah, the convert who was banished to Lagos, but has been permitted to return home again), and gave them a word of exhortation.

As I returned from the service we passed through the market, where there were very few buyers and sellers compared with the numbers present on the week-days when I passed through it: this is one of the effects of the Mission work. I had also the privilege of an interview with eight of the principal chiefs on matters connected with the work here. It was manifest to me that the old superstitions are losing their hold of some amongst the people—the state of the juju house is one evidence of this—but many of them have not yet accepted the Gospel, or even come under instruction. There are peculiar circumstances connected with the work here which make it very difficult. We may therefore thank God for what has been done, and be encouraged to pray for a still greater blessing in the future.

MIDDLE AND UPPER STATIONS.

Archdeacon Johnson's district has especially suffered by the disconnections and withdrawals already referred to. At Osamare, Alenso, and Asaba there are at present no teachers. Onitsha is worked by two catechists, one of them, Isaac Mba, a Native of the district, of the Ibo tribe. Here the congregations are large, and on October 21st Mr. Hamilton administered the Lord's Supper to eighty-seven communicants. At the out-station of Obotsi, mentioned in last year's Report, eighty persons have put down their names as candidates for baptism; and Isaac Mba goes over to them regularly to give them systematic Christian instruction. At Gbebe an active agent, Mr. P. J. Williams, is labouring. He has been particularly diligent in translational work in the Igbira and Igara languages. At this station there have been some interesting individual converts. At Lokoja, Archdeacon Johnson himself resides, and also Mr. A. E. Metzger, B.A., of Fourah Bay College and Durham University, who conducts the Preparandi Class, consisting of five students from Onitsha. Kipo Hill, the furthest station, remains under the charge of the Rev. C. Paul, who has acquired the Hausa and Nupé languages, and also speaks Yoruba. On Sunday, October 7th, when Mr. Hamilton was at Kipo Hill, there was a congregation of fifty-five adults and eighteen children. Mr. Paul conducted the service in Nupé, and preached in Nupé and Yoruba; the people responding well, and the children singing nicely in Nupé.

Translational work of Archdeacon Johnson.

Being anxious to put into type the translations provisionally made of portions of Scripture, &c., into the various languages just named, as well as Ibo (the language of Onitsha), Archdeacon Johnson applied to the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge for a printing-press, to be set up at Lokoja and worked under his direction. That venerable Society has granted 50*l.* to provide a press and appliances. There is much important work to be done in this direction. Amongst the MSS. prepared by Mr. Johnson is one containing the Hundred Texts of the Irish Church Missions in the Igbira tongue: the object being, in his own words, "to teach the texts to the people, so that, although they may not yet be able to read the Word of God, they may have the advantage of knowing important passages in it, which they can repeat to themselves and to others."

Prospects of extension.

Consolidation rather than extension is the first work on the Niger under present circumstances. But this is not because there is no room for extension. Bishop Crowther and Archdeacon Johnson paid a visit to Maliki, the new king of Nupé, at Bida, his capital, in August. He confirmed the cordial invitation of his predecessor to open a station at that important Mohammedan town in the heart of the Western Soudan—which it is hoped will shortly be done. In the following month they went up the Binue in the Henry Venn to Yimaha, Amara, and Loko, three important towns on the south bank. Yimaha has been visited before, and it was for a time a prosperous trading-centre, but was abandoned by the merchants on account of outrages by the people. The king is now desirous that the Mission should come there, hoping that the traders will follow; and the same motives appeared to actuate the kings at the other two towns in the favourable reception they gave the Mission party. They were, however, carefully informed of the real objects of missionary work, and its entire distinctness from commercial operations. Such a disclaimer was felt to be the more urgently necessary because the chief article of import is gin, and at Amara the Bishop and Archdeacon had the honour of being provided with empty gin-cases as seats. The Igbira language is the vernacular of Yimaha and Amara. At Loko, the Agatu and the Afu are the aboriginal tongues. Hausa is also spoken at all three places, and Mr. Johnson found Dr. Schön's Hausa vocabulary and grammar in the hands of the traders.

Languages of the Binue.

"There is a grand field for missionary work here," writes Mr. Hamilton, "especially in the upper part of the river, if only we can get the right men to undertake it. We must seek those who desire to spend and be spent in their Master's service, seeking the spiritual welfare of their benighted countrymen, and the spread of Christ's kingdom in this land of darkness." The Committee earnestly look forward to the Niger being the great waterway for Christian enterprise into the far interior of Western Central Africa. Can it be doubted that a great harvest of souls awaits the faithful labourer there? "Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that He will send forth labourers into His harvest."

EAST AFRICA MISSION.

Kisulutini (Rabai), 1844; Frere Town, 1875; Kamlikeni (Giriama), 1862; Teita, 1883.

THE term "East Africa Mission" is applied by the Society to the stations of which Mombasa is the base. It only comprises a part of the work now carried on in Eastern Equatorial Africa. The four important stations established on the ordinary route to U-Ganda might with perfect accuracy be placed under the same heading; and so indeed might U-Ganda itself, as a glance at the map will show. But the Nyanza Mission, in connection with which all these places have been occupied, has from the first been a separate enterprise. All are on one line of march; the base of all has hitherto been at Zanzibar; and the same caravans take supplies to all. Mombasa, however, is increasing in importance:

a British Vice-Consul has lately been located there, and the mail-steamers now make it a port of call; and if, as was hoped when the Henry Wright steamer was sent out, Frere Town should thus become suitable for the head-quarters of all the Society's work in the interior, the two Missions may become one. Such unification would also be promoted by the appointment of a Missionary Bishop in direct connection with the Society. This plan was greatly desired by Mr. Wright, and arrangements were made in his life-time with the late Bishop Steere, of the Universities' Mission at Zanzibar, for a friendly territorial division between the two Church of England Missions. Although Dr. Steere's successor, Bishop Smythies, received, like him, the Primate's commission for "Central Africa," it was understood that this in no way precluded an extension of the Episcopate in those vast regions, as necessity might arise. The Committee trust that, if it be the will of God, Mr. Wright's scheme may ere long be carried into effect.*

New Vice-Consul at Mombasa.

A Missionary Bishop in East Africa.

What is at present called the C.M.S. "East Africa Mission" has had the advantage of an Episcopal visitation in the past year. At the request of the Committee, their old and honoured friend, Bishop Royston of Mauritius—himself a former missionary and secretary of the Society—kindly spent nearly two months and a half, including the voyages to and fro, in visiting the stations round Mombasa.† He arrived at Frere Town on Sept. 22nd, and left on Oct. 8th, having divided his time between that settlement and Kisulutini and Kamlikeni. He confirmed at the three stations 256 candidates. It had been hoped that he might have been able to admit to holy orders three African catechists of long standing and tried fidelity; but after due examination, and personal intercourse with them, he felt that they would be better fitted for the sacred ministry by a further period of preparation.

Bp. Royston in East Africa.

One of the most interesting incidents of the Bishop's visit was the arrival from England of the new mission steamer Henry Wright, and a service of dedication held on board her. He writes:—

The Henry Wright steamer.

We felt that, as she had been dedicated to her work before her departure, so there should now be a service of thanksgiving and re-

* The Committee are glad to say that this scheme is now being carried out. The present Archbishop has arranged for a new Bishopric for Eastern Equatorial Africa, and has appointed as the first Bishop the Rev. James Hannington, M.A., of St. Mary's Hall, Oxford, of the C.M.S. Nyanza Mission.

† See the Bishop's own account of his visit, C.M. Intelligencer, Jan. 1884.

dedication on her arrival. So her deck was filled with a very sympathizing group. Besides all the Mission party of Frere Town and the Native agents, we had chosen representatives, as far as space allowed, from congregation and from school, as well as the crew, Mr. Murworthy (the Society's finance manager from Zanzibar, who had come with her), the Rev. J. C. Key (acting head of the Universities' Mission), and myself. To be in full sympathy with the idea of the pretty steamer, dressed as she was with flags from stem to stern, and with the "C.M.S." and "Henry Wright" colours at her two masts' heads, we began with the hymn—

Come let us join our friends above,
Who have obtained the prize.

I then, as requested, said a few words, taking as my text the lessons presented by the honoured name on the one colour, and by the design on the other, viz., the dove, "C.M.S.," and the open Bible; and ending with the encouraging contrast presented that day with the solitary arrival of the great-hearted Krapf, some forty years before. The Rev. H. K. Binns offered thanksgiving and prayer as to the past and future of the little vessel; the Rev. J. C. Key read Psalm cvii.; Mr. Lane asked God's blessing on the East Africa Mission; and Catechist W. Jones (as coming from the far-distant and new station of Teita, and as being himself an illustration of what Christian Missions have done) on Mission work throughout the world. We then sang the beautiful hymn, "Hail to the Lord's Anointed" (some of the verses of which seemed very appropriate), commended the captain and future passengers and crews to God's blessing, and then returned to shore—all the Mission party and the captain finishing a very pleasant evening at the house of Mr. Binns.

Concerning the use of the steamer the Bishop made some suggestions, which the Committee have cordially agreed to:—

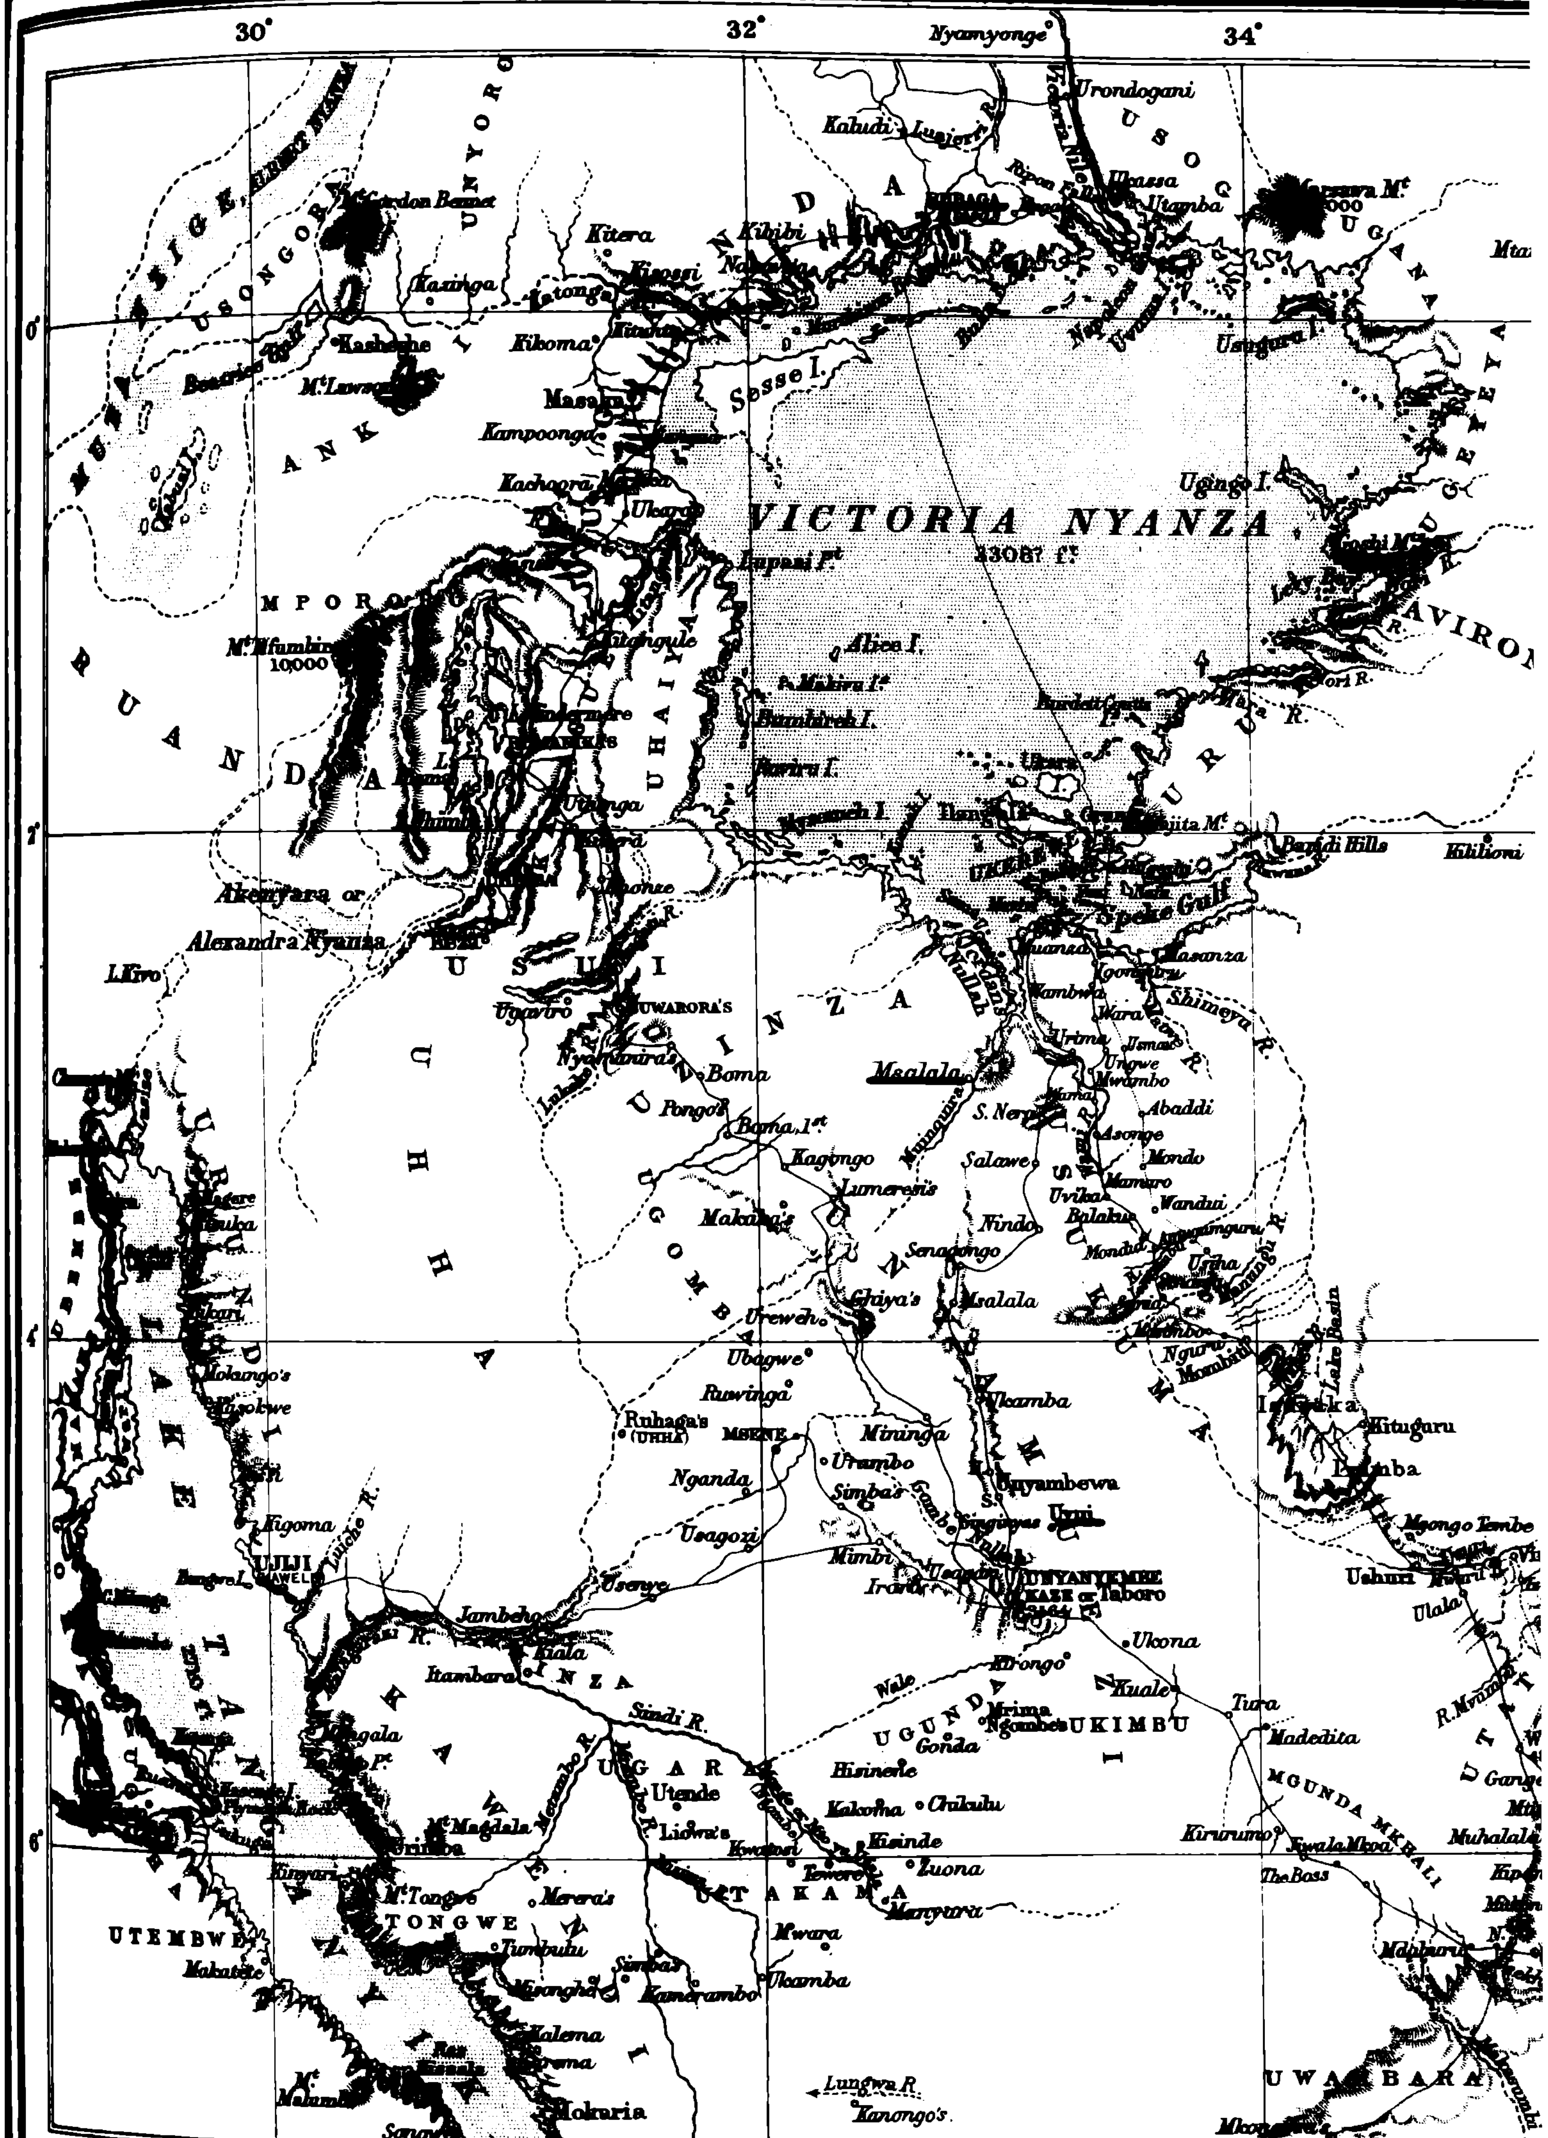

While alluding to this noble gift to the East Africa Mission, may I be allowed to say just a word or two as to its future best use? I do so after hearing the opinions of many and varied minds, and in contemplation of the great expense necessarily involved in her future up-keep. I believe that the mature opinion of those most able to form an opinion (and to be disinterested) is as follows. She will be exceedingly useful in the cause of Christian Missions, and of Christian civilization, if she be allowed to run a certain distance on the coast north and south of Zanzibar, conveying (at a moderate tariff) the many agents and goods of the various societies, &c., to which that port is necessarily a frequent point of departure and arrival. A great boon would be conferred on the brethren of other societies—especially the Universities' and London Societies—both as to themselves and their belongings; and an impetus given to Christian civilization at several important places which cannot be otherwise effected. Meanwhile C.M.S. is best reimbursed, and your kind end secured.

Bishop Royston at Rabai.

Some brief extracts from the Bishop's account of his visit to Rabai are subjoined:—

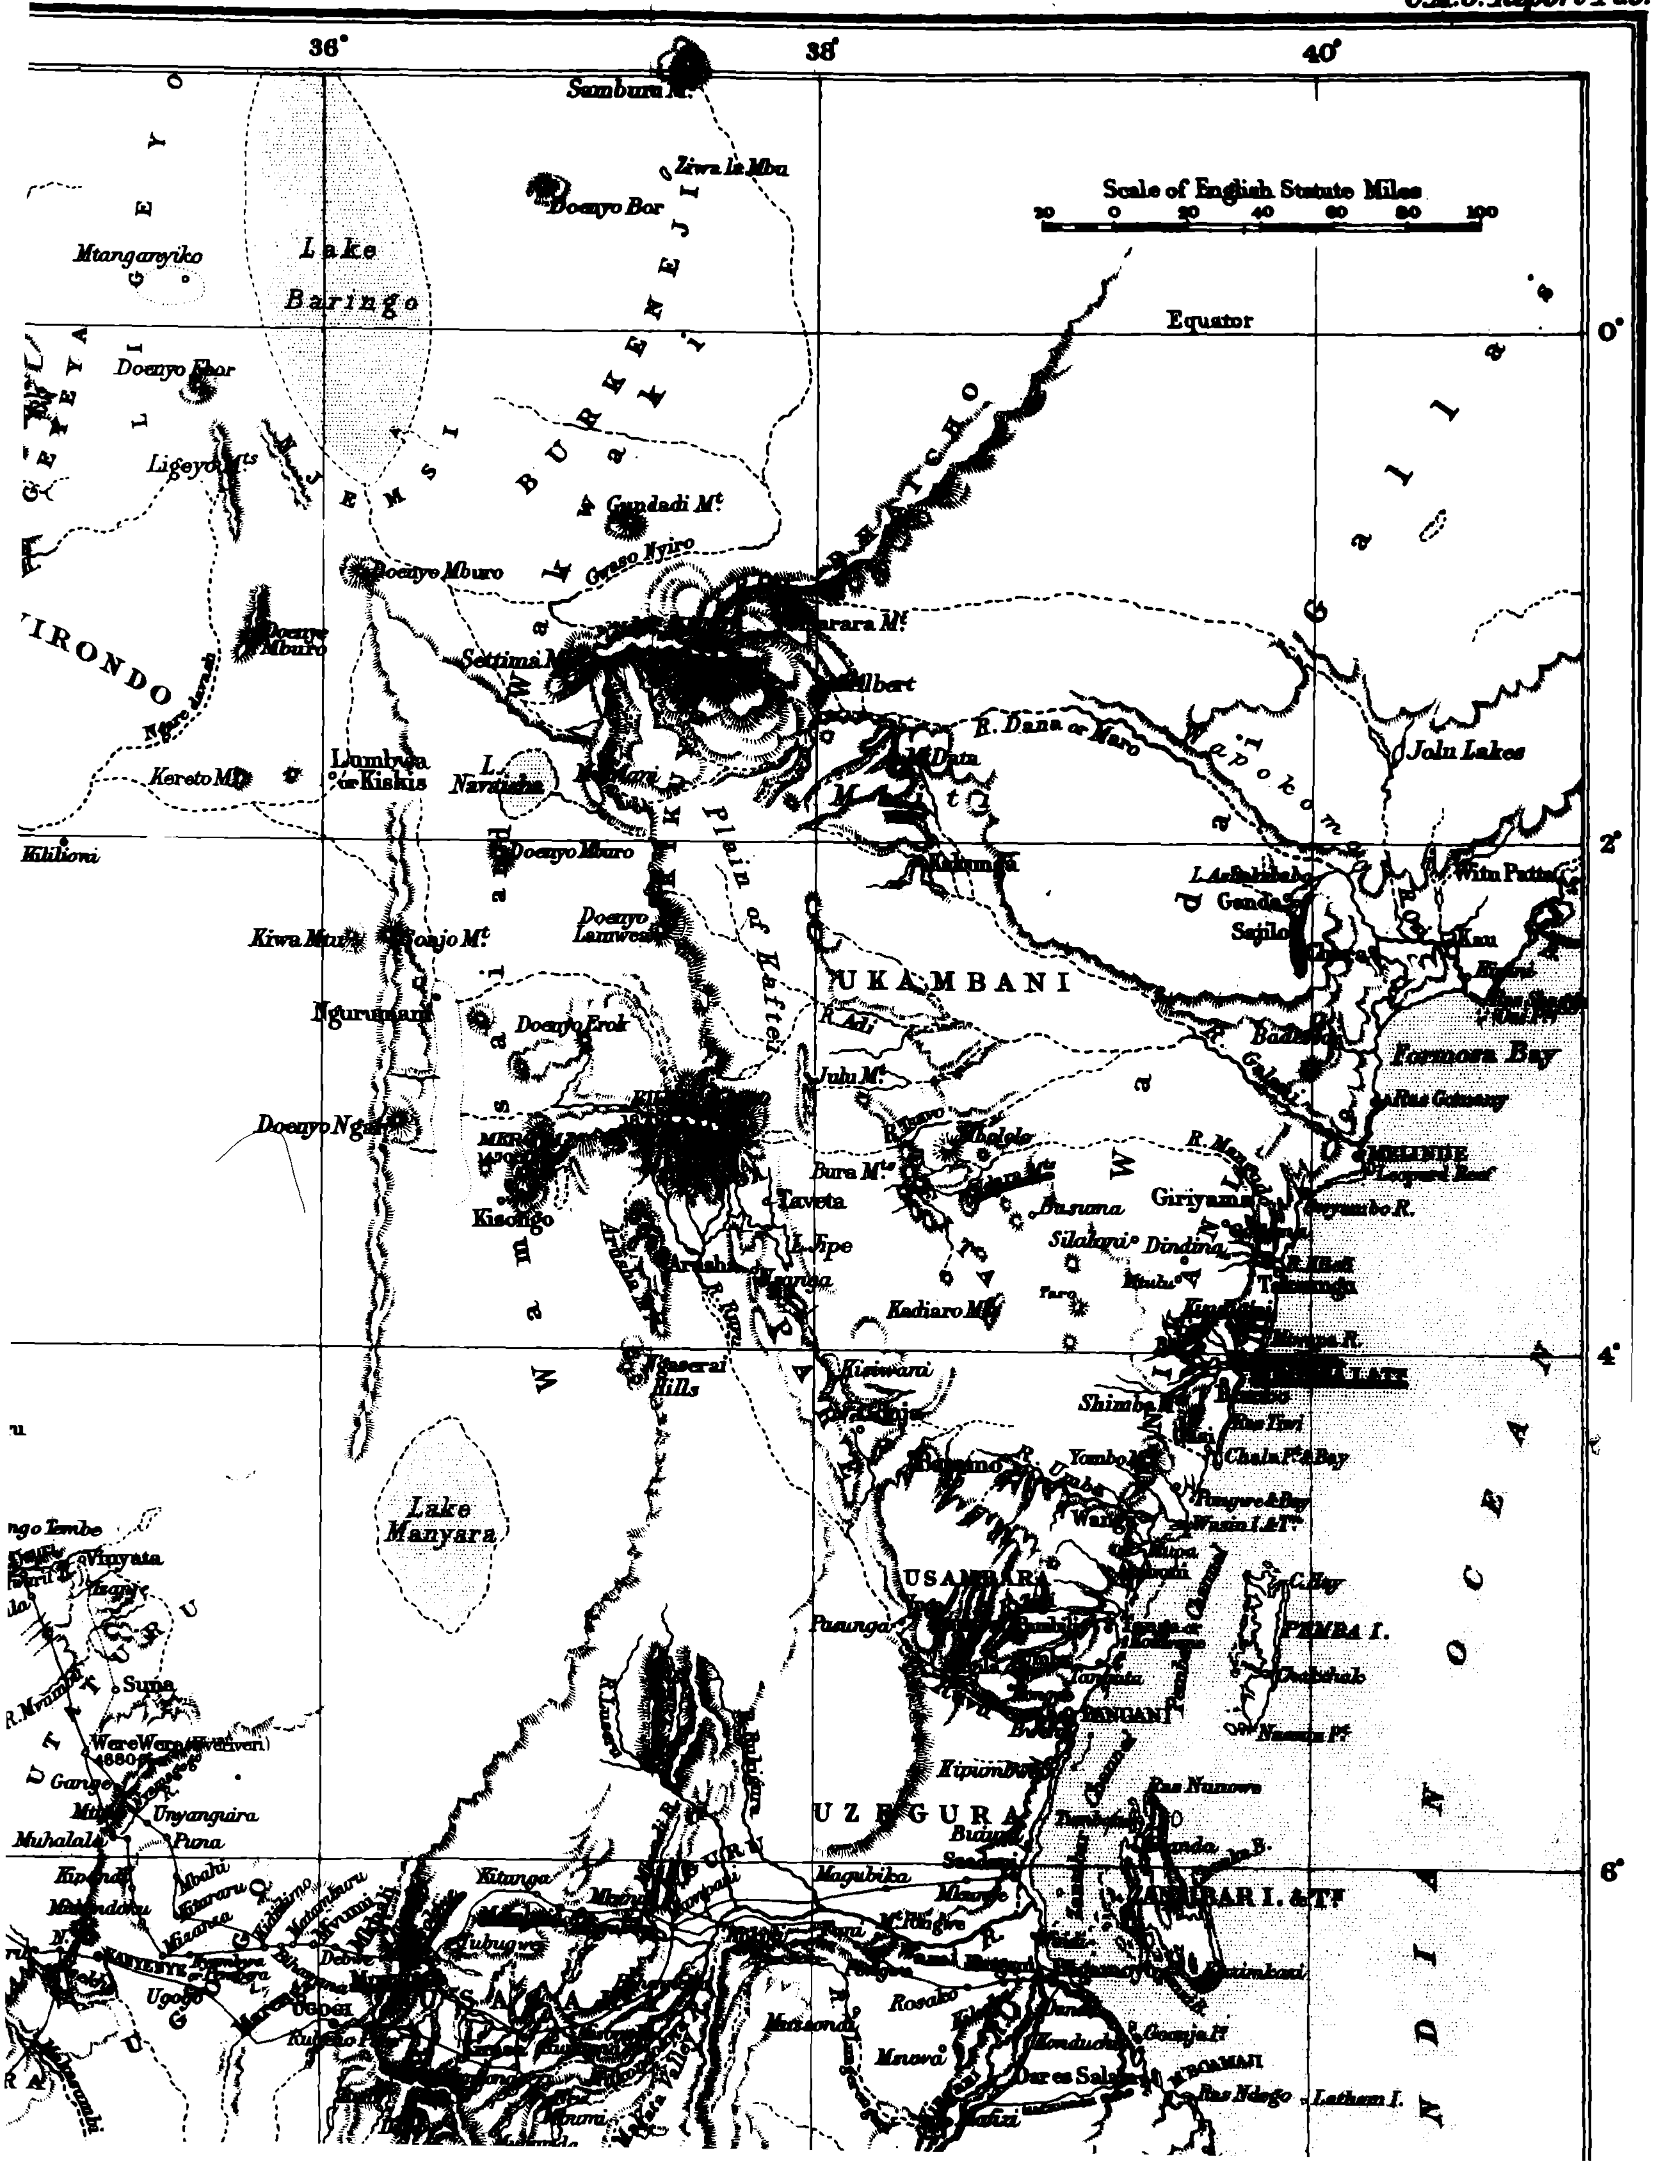

On the 27th, Mr. Key, Mr. Binns, and myself started in the large rowing-boat, the Alice, for Rabai, where there was to be a Conference of the whole Mission next day. It was a beautiful, but heavy, pull up the broad creek, and night had fallen ere we reached the landing-place, and set out for the five miles' walk to the station on the hills. It was quite dark when we reached Rabai (about nine), and received a most hospitable and kind welcome from the Rev. A. and Mrs. Shaw. Next morning (Friday), after early Suaheli service in the over-crowded little school-chapel, all the people—men, women, and children—crowded round the large village square in front of the Mission premises, to present, in their various groupings, their pleasant and very respectful salutations. I stood on a bench under one of the great trees to thank them for their kind greetings, and to express my gladness at the very manifest "increase" in that interesting and most promising station. The Conference occupied us the best part of the day. In the evening, Messrs. Shaw, Key, and myself set off for the neighbouring Mpia (stockaded village) of Kya. This was a place of special interest, being the scene of Dr. Krapf's earlier home and work. The old foundations of his little house are still visible on the brow of the steep hill which commands the beautiful plain towards the sea. But what is far more interesting is that now there is a school established in this important and crowded Wanika village, with some eighty children on the roll, and a worthy convert named Jeremiah as the teacher. But a few months ago, and these little ones all fled at the sight of Mr. and Mrs. Shaw. Now they not only joyfully welcome them when they appear in sight, but follow them wherever they go, and often (as next day) come over to Rabai to see them. While walking through the place I got Mr. Shaw to ask the oldest woman I could see in a group which was around us if she remembered Dr. Krapf when he lived among them; and she assured us, with evident pleasure, that she did so, well. And next morning some somewhat elderly men came over to Rabai to see me, having heard a rumour that I was Dr. Krapf! How delighted that great and good man would have been to have been so welcomed and so remembered in that scene of what appeared such ill-requited toil, had he been with us! Truly here, as so often elsewhere, "Other men laboured, and [we] enter into their labours."

Dr. Krapf remembered at his old home.

Sunday, the 30th September, was a day of much interest. At eight was the large Scripture-class taken by the catechist, numbering 170 men and women; and at eleven the Confirmation, the first ever held there. The school-chapel was crowded to excess, with nearly 300 attendants within and without; for many were obliged to stay at the door and to crowd about the windows. There were 71 men and 74 women confirmed, and among them "the firstfruits" of the Wanika people. Their order and behaviour were all that could be desired; and after the long and careful preparation given by Mr. Shaw for many months, they found it, I trust, a profitable and memorable occasion. To myself the contrast between that service and my previous one in 1878 was very striking and encouraging in the extreme. In the afternoon Mr. Shaw took the usual service, when nearly 250 were present; and this happy Sunday concluded with a nice gathering in the mission-house sitting-room of some twenty or more for English hymn-singing, led by Mrs. Shaw.

First confirmation at Rabai.

The Committee have had much satisfaction in reinforcing the Mission by sending out again, as the ordained missionary in charge of Frere Town, the Rev. J. W. Handford, who was the schoolmaster there from 1875 to 1881, and then returned to England to study for holy orders. Soon after his arrival, in December, the Rev. H. K. Binns left with Mrs. Binns for Tasmania, where the latter's family reside, for a period of well-earned rest. The Rev. W. E. Taylor also has come home. Mr. Lane continues the Lay Superintendent at Frere Town, and the Rev. A. D. Shaw is at Rabai; but the latter is shortly returning to England on sick leave. Mr. J. A. Wray has remained all the year at the new outpost in the Teita country.

Agriculture at Frere Town.

Frere Town has latterly not flourished as an agricultural settlement. Notwithstanding all the exertions made by preceding missionaries to foster the cultivation of the ground by the freed slave population, success in this respect has been but partial; and although many of the people have been drafted off to Rabai, which is much more prosperous, the Society has to find employment for those that remain if they are to earn a living. Educationally, however, Frere Town retains its importance. The school, indeed, has been carried on with difficulty, for want of a qualified master, but the fruits of Mr. Handford's patient labours during his five years' mastership are apparent in some excellent young men whom he trained, although others went astray during his absence. He is now conducting a theological class for the catechists. On Easter Day of this year, 43 adults were baptized at Frere Town, most of them not freed slaves, but natives of the country, of various tribes. Many will be interested in Mr. Handford's account of a local branch of the Church of England Temperance Society:—

A Temperance Society at Frere Town.

In the evening (Jan. 16, 1884) a meeting of the Church of England Temperance Society was held in Mr. Lane's house. He started it here some time since. The president is Ishmael Semler; the secretary, Robert Keating; and the treasurer, James Ainsworth [Native agents]. After a short prayer and the reading of a portion of Scripture, I was appointed chairman, and after a hymn I made a few introductory remarks, and then called upon the secretary to read the minutes of the last meeting. Four meetings had been held previously. After another hymn I called upon Mr. Taylor to address the meeting, and he gave some amusing anecdotes. This was followed by another hymn and a longer speech by myself; and at the close of the meeting Mr. Taylor and my wife took the blue ribbon; I having taken it when at Hornsey. Two youths signed the pledge, the number at present exceeding thirty. I hope to enrol a large number, and thus commence in earnest a crusade against tembo-drinking, which is the curse of the country wherever there are cocoa-nut trees.

This effort was followed up by special Temperance sermons on Sunday, Jan. 27th, by Mr. Handford and Ishmael Semler; and after the latter's address more than 150 of the people came forward and enrolled themselves members. Mr. Handford asks for special prayer that they may be kept steadfast, especially in view of the probable increase of facilities for drunkenness in the town of Mombasa, owing to the steamers that will now call there bringing spirits. The new Vice-Consul there, Captain Gissing, has undertaken to do all he can to minimize this evil; but he is to some extent powerless, owing to the Sultan having some years ago signed a treaty with the Germans for their importation.

Baptisms at Rabai.

Kisulutini (Rabai) has given Mr. Shaw much encouragement. On Trinity Sunday he baptized 53 adults, concerning whom he wrote, "They are, I trust, not only true believers in Jesus, but determined to follow Him entirely. I was much cheered by what I saw of them when I interviewed them individually. Their evident earnestness called forth gratitude to God from me for His goodness in thus working on their hearts." These no doubt were among the candidates confirmed by Bishop Royston in October, as already mentioned. In his general report for the year, Mr. Shaw writes:—

During the last few months we have taken an account of the numbers present at the Sunday services. The average for every Sunday is 587. The attendance at Sunday-school averages 86. These are, I think, a decided increase. It is also very encouraging that the attendance at daily morning prayers is good; we average daily about 180. This is especially nice, as it is an occasion for self-denial on the part of the people. The morning is the best time for working the fields, as they are then soft with dew. Other week-day gatherings are the classes for adults. We hold them on five days, i.e. Monday and Wednesday, for the most ignorant; Thursday, for candidates for baptism; Tuesday, for confirmation candidates; Friday, for communicants. Of all the work here, that in my classes gives me the most happiness and encouragement. I especially find this with my Tuesday class, that is, with those lately baptized. Often I have gone to the class depressed and weary, but I always come away rejoicing and full of praise to Him who thus works and saves. The Day-school is progressing very favourably, the attendance good, and teaching very fair.

External effect of the Mission.

What is the effect on the people of all this teaching? First, socially, one cannot help noticing the contrast between those who come under our influence and the heathen around. Their houses are much better built, are cleaner and better kept. Their dress is quite equal to the coast people. The children are better cared for at home, and are treated more as human beings. All these improvements are the result of the individual efforts of the people, for they do not get any help from the Mission, and not much from us. The improvement in dress alone is a cause for thankfulness, for it shows that tembo (the beer of the country) is not so much used. Every new dress or coat represents the savings of two or three months. It is much more satisfactory to see the people patronising the shopkeepers than the publicans of the country. Secondly, spiritually, I sincerely believe there is a great improvement. Greater regularity in making use of the means of grace, a quieter and humbler tone; these we can trace in many, and our hope is that they are the real fruits of the Spirit.

Among the less favourable features in the Native character I would mention their improvidence. Able to get five crops a year from their fields, yet they are often in want of food, just because they will not be careful. Another failing is the absence of concern for the soul's salvation. Brought up from childhood to care only for the things of the body, the soul's welfare seems to be a subject which our poor African brethren are almost incapable of grasping. One longs to hear the cry, "What must I do to be saved?"

Calamities in Giriama.

The Committee regret to say that the Giriama Christians at Fulladoyo have been scattered by the Mohammedan Wa-Swahili, and two Frere Town men at another village treacherously killed. Abe Sidi, the head of the community, is missing, and believed to be a captive; and George David was compelled to retire from Kamlikeni for a time, but has been able to return. The circumstances of this sad check upon what seemed at one time so promising a development of indigenous Christianity are not at present clearly explained; but all the country north of Mombasa is in a very disturbed state, some of the tribes being in open revolt against even such authority as the Sultan of Zanzibar possesses there.

The new Teita Mission.

The new Teita Mission seems hopeful. The Wa-Teita are a wild and lawless people, but they treat Mr. Wray with respect and consideration, and appear to appreciate his patience with them; at all events they recognize that he is not like their enemies the Wa-Swahili. His presence is to some extent a check on the slave traffic. A good many of the people attend the services he holds on Sundays, and there are almost always a few at daily prayers. He has made some progress with the language, and hopes ere long to be able to preach freely to them the unsearchable riches of Christ.

NYANZA MISSION.

Mpwapwa, 1876; Rubâga, 1877; Uyui, 1879; Mamboia, 1879; Msalala, 1883.

Continued ground for encouragement.

The Committee have again to render praise to Almighty God for a year of many mercies to the Nyanza Mission. Although, of the thirteen brethren attached to this Mission, four are in England, all of them are hoping to return to Africa ere long, and are full of hope and zeal regarding the prospects of the work; and not less so are the nine men now at the six stations, whose health during the year has been graciously preserved. Two recruits, young lay agents, are also going out immediately. Not only is the Henry Wright steamer now at the service of the Nyanza Mission on the coast as well as of the East Africa Mission, but the boat Eleanor, taken out by Mr. Hannington, has been launched upon the Victoria Lake. A suitable locality for the long-contemplated station at the south end of the Lake has at last been found, and two brethren have settled there. Best of all, the first baptisms in connection with the U-Sagara Mission have taken place; while in U-Ganda, fifty-eight more persons have been admitted into the visible Church, making sixty-four altogether of the Wa-Ganda people, and leaving still several candidates earnestly desiring to be received. The second stage in missionary history seems to be fully reached in the Society's Central African enterprise. What is now wanted is more men, to work it efficiently; and, to this end, more prayer, more faith, more self-sacrifice.

Movements of Mr. Hannington's party.

Before noticing the progress of the work in U-Sagara, U-Nyamwezi, and U-Ganda, a brief account must be given of the movements of the party sent out to reinforce the Mission in 1882 under the leadership of the Rev. J. Hannington. The reluctant return to England of Mr. Hannington, after a strenuous struggle against repeated and dangerous sickness, was mentioned in last year's Report. The health mercifully given back to him by the Great Healer has been employed without stint in C.M.S. service at home, as the Society's friends all over the country well know; and the Committee trust that the desire of their dear brother's heart may be granted to him, and that he may be enabled to go forth again into the field.* Of the other five members of his party, the Rev. W. J. Edmonds also returned home invalided from the station allotted to him, Uyui, and the Rev. J. Blackburn has since been there alone. The Revs. R. P. Ashe and E. C. Gordon, and Mr. C. Wise, were, in last year's Report, left at Kagei, in March, 1883. In that month Mr. Ashe visited the Island of Ukerewe (memorable as the scene of the death of Lieut. Smith and Mr. O'Neill), and was received by Lukongeh, like others who have been there in the last four or five years, with much cordiality. Ukerewe has long been thought of as suitable for a Mission; but it would seem that Mtesa, who claims a kind of suzerainty over it, objects to Lukongeh being honoured by a missionary's presence. On April 8th Mr. Ashe left for U-Ganda, in canoes sent across the Lake for him by Mr. Mackay. His arrival there will be mentioned further on. Meanwhile, Mr. Gordon and Mr. Wise removed from the village of Kagei, which was unhealthy, to higher ground three miles inland, and there waited for help and for supplies.

On July 19th, Mr. Mackay, who had left U-Ganda to come across the Lake to the assistance of those two brethren, arrived at Kagei. He was suffering much from fever, but after a few days' rest was able to start with Mr. Gordon for Msalala, a district to the south-west of the inlet known as Jordan's Nullah, where a large part of the goods taken up by Mr. Hannington's caravan, including the fragments of the boat, had been left. A sketch map by him of the Nullah and its neighbourhood has revealed for the first time the true geography of the district.† He was anxious now to put the boat together for use on the Lake, but this could not be done in Msalala, because the creek there is choked with reeds, and not navigable. Ultimately, with some difficulty, permission was obtained from the king of U-Rima, a district lying between the two arms of the inlet, to build the boat at a village in his territory. This was accomplished, after great labour, in November, and the Eleanor (so named after the eldest daughter of the Hon. Clerical Secretary), was launched on December 3rd, "completely rigged for sea." Mr. Mackay at once proceeded to cross the Lake, and arrived off U-Ganda on December 19th, the boat proving an entire success. He writes:—

The Eleanor on the Victoria Nyanza.

May we have your prayers that this little vessel may prove of much service in furthering the Gospel of Christ on the shores of the Nyanza I tell the Natives her name is Mirembi (Ruganda for Peace). Both names are beautiful.

U-SAGARA MISSION: MAMBOIA AND MPWAPWA.

Mr. J. T. Last has continued at Mamboia during the year, and the Rev. J. C. Price at Mpwapwa. Dr. Baxter, the senior missionary at the latter station, came on leave to England last summer, and has greatly interested the Society's friends by his narratives of personal experience in Africa, which furnish striking illustrations of God's unfailing goodness to those who simply trust Him. He is now on his way back to his post, no longer alone, but accompanied by Mrs. Baxter. To Mr. H. Cole, who had established the neighbouring branch station of Kisokwe, it has pleased God to appoint a different lot. He and his wife were labouring most happily, when, on July 22nd, she died after a few days' illness from the effects of a chill, to the deep regret of all who knew her, and of the Natives who had come under her influence. Mr. Cole at once returned to England with his motherless babe, but he too is looking to go out again shortly. Mr. and Mrs. Stokes, who sailed in October, took his place at Kisokwe. But again, in the mysterious providence of God, death was permitted to remove one who had seemed singularly fitted, both physically and spiritually, to be a blessing in Africa. Mrs. Stokes gave birth to a son on March 15th, and died on the 25th. Mr. Stokes is sending the child to England, but himself desires to go on to a more distant post in the Mission. He writes:—

Death of Mrs. Cole.

Death of Mrs. Stokes.

> Her end was truly peace—a more beautiful display of Christian resignation and faith in Jesus could not be seen anywhere—rejoicing at the notion of such an unworthy one being permitted to enter the presence of the King. Her one idea was to go and teach the Waganda women, but Our Father called her up higher. I have felt the Comforter's presence with me very much. Bishop Mackenzie's beautiful idea is realized by me: "God takes the loved one from earth that He may have all our thoughts above."
> I hope you will receive this news in faith, for God would seem to try us all. Nell has not died from effects of climate. I know that this will be a sore blow to you all, but Jesus would say to you, "Be not dismayed, for I am thy God."

It should be observed that neither the deaths of Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Stokes, nor that of Mrs. Last reported last year, are any evidence against the suitability of the climate of Africa for English women. The removal of all three was due to causes which might have operated anywhere. African life and travel must of course for a long time to come be a trial to ladies; but so far there is no reason to conclude that they cannot live and labour on the eastern as they do on the western side of the continent.

Concerning MAMBOIA, no complete report for the year has been received. Mr. Last has, however, most bravely borne up under his heavy affliction, and drawing his comfort from the Great Comforter has used it, like the Apostle, in comforting others with the comfort wherewith he himself is comforted of God. Services, school, visiting in the villages, have been regularly carried on, as well as the important linguistic and translational work described last year,—to assist which, at the request of the Committee, the Society for Promoting Christian Knowledge has sent Mr. Last a printing-press. One of his more important journeys took him far into the Masai country to the north, and his account of this expedition was read to the Royal Geographical Society by Sir John Kirk in June last.* During another journey, in company with the local Sultan, the son of the latter was accidentally shot; and it is significant of the influence of the Mission that the bereaved father and his chiefs and people united in a request to Mr. Last that the body might receive Christian burial. The reasons given for compliance with this request lead the Committee to hope that they may praise the Lord for gathering in the first ripe fruit of the U-Sagara Mission in the person of this young man:—

Mr. Last in the Masai country.

The first ripe fruit of U-Sagara.

> As it was the wish of the Sultan of Mamboia, and of the chiefs and people, we buried Malundo according to the rites of the Christian Church; and this I did without hesitation, for though Malundo was not baptized, yet I have no doubt that he died trusting in Jesus for pardon and salvation. Malundo had been an attendant at our services almost ever since I first came here, and I am sure that for the last twelve months his life and actions have been regulated by what he has been taught here. Also, judging from the conversations I have had with him when we were out (for we were generally together when travelling), I have no doubt that his faith in Jesus, though simple, was all-sufficient for his salvation.

The first baptism.

In curious connection with this incident comes the account of the first actual baptism of a convert. The death of Malundo, and of another chief, caused an outcry against a chief named Msamwenda, who had spared a child born to him which was an mgego, i.e., had cut its upper teeth first, and which, therefore, according to the custom of the country, ought to have been put to death as unlucky. The father begged the missionary to take the child, which had been a pet of Mrs. Last's, to Zanzibar for safety, and to have it brought up there as a Christian child. This Mr. Last did, and took also with him to the coast two Native women named Fayida and Sikuzani, and the child of the former. The women had been taught by Mrs. Last, and had given evidence of sincere faith in Christ; and on their arrival at Zanzibar they were examined and, with the two children, baptized by the missionaries of the Universities' Mission.

At MPWAPWA, and its branch station Kisokwe, the agencies are of the same character. The people are friendly, but very indifferent to the teaching and hard to lift above the commonest wants of every-day life. Some fifty children attend school at the former place, and thirty at the latter; and a few of the adults attend the daily and Sunday services. Oral instruction is found the most effective. "I give them as much of the Gospel as possible," says Mr. Price, "by means of Scripture lessons and hymns. They like singing, and many who cannot remember three letters of the alphabet will remember what they are told about God's love in giving His Son to die for them, and what they sing about Jesus their Saviour and Shepherd." Some brief extracts from a very interesting letter of the late Mrs. Cole's give a pleasant glimpse of the work done by her and husband at Kisokwe (and Mrs. Stokes, shortly before her death, wrote in much the same strain):—

Work of the late Mrs. Cole.

It is a pleasure to me to think that our little son, the first white child born in Central Africa, was the means, in a slight degree, of bringing the children together for instruction. The Wa-Gogo say he belongs to them, for he was born amongst them; that all other white men come from afar, but his home is U-Gogo. It was on the day of his baptism, when many of the Natives came to the service, that the chief of Kisokwi was asked, and promised to let the children come to school. The very next day about a dozen came, and since then our numbers have varied from ten to thirty. They have learned to sing about half-a-dozen hymns, such as "Jesus, who lives above the sky," "There is a happy land." Mr. Cole has taught them the Lord's Prayer and a few texts. They are very intelligent, and learn quickly; they seem to have good memories too.

To show you that the people appreciate our living amongst them, I will tell you what happened the other day. The old chief of far Kisokwi, of whom we know but little, sent a man to us in a very excited state, begging that we would put up our flag near his village The man said that large caravans of Wa-Nyamwezi, under an Arab master, were about to pass through Kisokwi, and would eat up everything they passed in the fields; but if the flag of the Mzungu (white man) were seen, they would leave the fields untouched. We lent the flag, and the caravans passed quietly through the place. Mr. Cole told the man to tell the chief that he did not want their country, he wanted the people for God.

Mr. Cole has a short service every morning for the people, when he teaches them the Bible History. Some of them say they are ready to follow God and keep His commandments, and I really think they do want to become Christians, but I think their minds are so dark that it will be some time before they can understand the way of salvation. Mr. Cole speaks Ki-Swahili fluently, and always preaches extempore. He is giving nearly all his time to the study of Ki-Gogo and Ki-Sagara. I am his scribe, and copy out what he roughly jots down.

Visit to U-Héhé.

Dr. Baxter (while he was in Africa) and Mr. Price have made several exploratory journeys in different directions. One visit to the country of U-Héhé, far to the south, took them through districts never before traversed by the white man.*

Linguistic work.

Both Mr. Price and Mr. Cole have been busy with the languages. Provisional vocabularies and grammars have been prepared in Ki-Gogo and Ki-Sagara, and a tentative translation of St. Luke's Gospel into the former language is being made by Mr. Price.

U-NYAMWEZI MISSION: UYUI.

This station was for part of the year without a missionary. The Rev. J. Blackburn was obliged to come down to Zanzibar with Mr. Hannington, and see him safe on board the home steamer; and shortly afterwards, his colleague, the Rev. W. J. Edmonds, was disabled by a sunstroke and had to leave also for the coast and England. Mr. Blackburn arrived back at Uyui by the end of August, and was cordially received by the people. The cordiality, however, did not for some time extend either to willing attention to his teaching, or to allowing the children to come to school. One boy, indeed, attended regularly, despite the prohibition, and can now read, and appears to understand and appreciate, Bishop Steere's Scripture History in Ki-Swahili. At length, however, on February 9th of this year, Mr. Blackburn was able to write that the chief had withdrawn the prohibition, and promised him some scholars. Moreover, several men and women have begun to attend Sunday services; so the Committee trust that the Lord's time is at hand for the conversion of some to Him. The people in the surrounding villages, too, are friendly to Mr. Blackburn; but, although they will hear the story of the Cross, "they never ask a question," "which proves how little they are interested in spiritual things, for on ordinary topics they ask all sorts of questions." Uyui, as he observes, "is certainly one of the darkest corners of the Lord's vineyard," and should be specially remembered in prayer by the friends of Africa, that even there the Divine word may go forth, "Let there be light." It is encouraging to hear that a chief in U-Sukuma, some days' journey to the north, has twice sent a deputation to Mr. Blackburn asking for a white man to live with him, and saying that all his people were ready to be taught.

MSALALA MISSION.

New station at Msalala.

A station at the south end of the Victoria Nyanza has long been contemplated, and was in fact begun by Mr. Litchfield and Mr. Pearson at the now well-known "port" of Kagei. This place, however, has repeatedly proved very unhealthy; and MSALALA, already mentioned in connection with the building of the boat, has now been fixed upon as the locality for the Mission. Msalala is strictly the name of the district, and the village bears the name of the chief. When Mr. Hannington was there it was Kwa Sonda ("For Sonda"—Sonda's village), but Sonda being now dead, it is called after his successor (who is a mere boy) Kwa Chasama. Here Mr. Gordon and Mr. Wise were settled in November. This district, west of Jordan's Nullah, has the great advantage of being approached, not through U-Sukuma, where the hongo is heavy, but through the territory of the powerful chieftain Mirambo, who is friendly to missionaries, and whose influence passes them from village to village without payment of toll.

U-GANDA MISSION: RUBAGA.

Last year's Report brought the history of the U-Ganda Mission to November, 1882. The Rev. P. O'Flaherty and Mr. A. M. Mackay continued to carry on the work, always looking anxiously for reinforcements, until May 2nd, 1883, when the Rev. R. P. Ashe arrived from the south. On June 27th Mr. Mackay left for Kagei, to assist the two brethren there, as already related. Letters have since been received from U-Ganda to January 15th, 1884.*

The Mission at Rubaga seems year by year to be more firmly established. While frequently displaying no little knowledge of the Christian faith, Mtesa still rejects it for himself; but his general tolerance of, if not favour to, the Mission remains unchanged. The Arabs are equally steadfast in their hostility; but any temporary influence they may now and then seem to gain at court is soon neutralized by Arab hostility in U-Ganda.

* The letters from U-Ganda are printed in the C.M. Intelligencer of Sept., 1883, and April and July, 1884.

that of Mr. O'Flaherty or Mr. Mackay. When, in January, 1883, news reached them by way of the Soudan of the English bombardment of the forts at Alexandria and subsequent victory at Tel-el-Kebir, they did their best to play upon the king's fears, but happily without success :—

Influence in U-Ganda of events in Egypt.

> Yesterday the Arabs waxed violent. They went in a body to the king, and said that the English had destroyed and burned up Alexandria and the whole land of Egypt, and were marching on Buganda to take it. They were terribly excited. The king sent for me. I went. He asked me if all that were true. I said, only in part. I then explained the rebellion of Arabi Pasha against his Khedive, &c., and that they insulted our consul, and massacred Europeans, and that although we destroyed their forts we saved the Khedive in our ships. It was the followers of Mohammed that robbed and burned their own city.

In view of the possibility of similar false news being reported to Mtesa about the defeat of Hicks Pasha and Baker Pasha and the expedition of General Gordon, which might considerably endanger the Mission, Earl Granville very kindly, at the Society's request, telegraphed to Sir John Kirk, at Zanzibar, to keep the missionaries informed of the truth regarding any events in Egypt.

In July last year a telegram from Zanzibar to a French paper at Marseilles reported the death of Mtesa. No further statement on the subject appeared, and the report, from whatever source derived, turned out to be without foundation.

Secular work of the Mission.

The secular work of the Mission has been carried on successfully. Its maintenance is to no small extent provided for by Mr. O'Flaherty's agricultural operations. Some acres of ground are cultivated, and off one part of it two crops of maize and sweet potatoes were obtained in six months. Mr. Mackay seems to have become, by the sheer teaching of experience, an expert surgeon and physician. All sorts of cases have been brought to him, and by the good hand of God upon him he has been enabled to treat many with signal success; and without the regular appliances of a medical Mission, the effects of a medical Mission have been produced, in the popular favour gained and the opportunities secured for making known the Gospel. Linguistic work has also been assiduously carried on; and this has greatly assisted the educational work, as the following very interesting extracts from Mr. O'Flaherty's letters will show :—

Medical and linguistic work.

> June 1st, 1883.—I have collected 15,000 words, besides fables and proverbs which illustrate the life of a people. I have translated the Gospels of St. Matthew, St. Mark, and St. Luke, New and Old Testament history, and the morning and evening and baptismal services; besides Ki-Swahili tales turned into Ruganda, grammar, and reading books. Mr. Mackay, with his toy-press and imperfect letters, has managed most marvellously to print beautifully 300 alphabet sheets, 300 spelling and reading sheets, 300 sheets on Lord's Prayer, Decalogue, Creed, and texts of Scripture to serve as reading-books.

Teaching the Wa-Ganda.

The crowds who have been taught here to read, who are taught the plan of salvation, these last six months, are very considerable. They are of all classes, and of both sexes. Mr. Mackay and I have taught classes in our houses from those of the alphabetic toils up to the delights of translation from Ki-Swahili to Ru-Ganda. Negroes are fond of learning languages, and Baganda especially. The quickness of the majority has often been a matter of surprise to me. Few English persons could learn so quickly. These, like seeds, have been driven away; some—a great number—to the army; some to the different parts of the country with their masters. If each one had a copy of the Word of God in his own tongue, think of the blessing. Each Muganda takes a pleasure in reading or telling what he has heard to a group of admiring friends, and they, thinking themselves as able to learn as he, come to the missionary to be taught themselves.

Aug. 31*st.*—Our school is nearly filled, sometimes crowded; our school-hours are from 9 to 11 a.m., and from 3 to 5 p.m.; oftentimes the whole day. We have three regular teachers, two Wa-Ganda converts and a young Swahili trained in the Mission at Zanzibar. We have a text-book of theology, the Lord's Prayer, Creed, Decalogue, texts of Scripture, so arranged that they teach the plan of salvation, and the duties of a subject to his sovereign, and sovereign to subject, and all to Christ.

Mr. Ashe's impressions of the Mission on his arrival in U-Ganda are thus expressed :—

Mr. Ashe's first impressions of U-Ganda.

To my great joy I at last reached here on May 2nd, and received a warm welcome. I was greatly struck with the beauty of the country. The Mission grounds are neatly enclosed by reed fences, and the buildings are very nice, especially the new house in which I am living. There is a large piece of land under cultivation, which bears ample testimony to Mr. O'Flaherty's labours, who undertakes the farming department in addition to his work of teaching; and this very teaching is the most encouraging thing I have seen in Africa. The people here, though terribly depraved, and great thieves, do not manifest that apathy which appears to exist where our other stations are situated. They are very quick and very eager to learn. Every day O'Flaherty and Mackay hold classes. I was astonished at hearing a young fellow go through the Lord's Prayer in Lu-Ganda, who had only a few lessons.

I have been in bed for nearly the whole of the last three weeks with intermittent fever, but Mackay has doctored me and nursed me with unremitting kindness, and I am much better.

Progress of spiritual work.

Turning to the direct spiritual work, the Committee unfeignedly thank God for the tokens vouchsafed of His favour and blessing. Several interesting cases of chiefs and others, who appeared to be under the influence of Divine grace, are recorded. One of these must be selected for insertion here. Mr. O'Flaherty wrote :—

Jan., 1883.—Some three months ago a sub-chief came to me, asking me to teach him about God and Jesus, and the way of salvation. This visit was brought about, he said, owing to a warm discussion I had with the king and the Arabs when he "was among the hundreds of spectators who were there to listen." I taught him in the evenings to read the Lord's Prayer, Creed, Scripture texts, and the New Testament. I often visited him at home, and taught. One visit I will never forget. I found him teaching his women—some the alphabet, some he was teaching to spell, and some he was teaching the Lord's Prayer. His mandwa (priest), who had his eyes fixed on me during my instruction, came forward, knelt at my feet, and said, "I will cast off these charms of Lubari, whom I will never again serve. He is a liar and a cheat. I will follow Jesus and learn His ways;" so saying, he cut off his valuables, and cast them into the fire.

A priest casting away his charms,

On the day before Christmas Day I had a long and interesting visit from the chief, in which he determined, he said, at whatever risk to follow Jesus. On that very night he had an order from the Katikiro, his chief, to go to Buddu, and remain there in command of his district till further orders. We were both sorry. But they take with them the words of the Lord Jesus. He can and will teach them by His Spirit.

June 1st.—You remember the interesting chief who was led to seek Jesus through my teaching in the court, and the mandwa, or priest, who burnt his lubari charms by which he prophesied. That chief was sent to Buddu, to his country-seat. Not long ago, he sent the priest with a handsome present of a fat cow and a bundle of fresh butter, and he requested that I should give him a Prayer-book, and several other spelling and reading-sheets, which I did. He continues learning and teaching his people, and he requested me to go to see him a few days, and teach him and his more perfectly the way of life, and to baptize them. My heart longs to go, but it is a six days' journey, and I cannot leave the work here.

and asking for a Prayer-book.

The day the priest came here there was a large crowd of people gathered, and many priests and people of lubari also. When the proper time came the mandwa got up and stated, with the force and eloquence of an Apollos, the reasons that forced him to burn his charms, and reject the service of lubari for the noble service of the Son of God. All were moved, and many went away pricked to the heart. I gave him a present for himself and master, and exhorted them to grow in grace, and in the knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Space must also be spared for Mr. Mackay's account of one of the personal appeals which have been faithfully made to Mtesa himself. There was a conversation in court on burial customs, and Mr. Mackay took occasion to urge the unimportance of the mouldering body in comparison with the undying soul:—

I said to the king, "Look at these two head chiefs of yours sitting by you. They are both very rich. Next to you they are the greatest in the kingdom. They have cloth, and cattle and lands, and women and slaves—very much of all. Here they have much honour, and when they die they will be buried with much honour, but yet their bodies will one day rot. Now let me have only an old bark cloth, and nothing more of this world's riches, and I would not exchange for all their wealth and all their greatness. I know that my soul is saved by Jesus Christ the Son of God, so that I have riches that never perish which they know nothing about."

Mtesa then began with his usual excuses. "There are these two religions," he said. "When Masudi reads his book, the Koran, you call it lies; when you read your book, Masudi calls it lies: which is true?"

I left my seat, and going forward to the mat, I knelt on it, and in the most solemn manner, I said, "Oh, Mtesa, my friend, do not always repeat that excuse! When you and I stand before God at the great day of judgment, will you reply to Almighty God that you did not know what to believe because Masudi told you one thing and Mackay told you another? No, you have the New Testament; read there for yourself. God will judge you by that. There never was any one yet who looked for the truth there and did not find it." A solemn appeal to Mtesa.

Of the five youths baptized in March, 1882, as reported last year, one seems to have fallen into sinful ways, and three others have not been altogether satisfactory. The fifth, Mr. Mackay's namesake, is described by him as leading a consistent Christian life. The little band, however, of professing servants of Christ, has been considerably enlarged. Within the five months ending Christmas last, no less than fifty-six persons were baptized, making, with the previous five, and the one baptized at Zanzibar, and one seemingly true convert baptized when dying of the plague, a total of sixty-three souls. Mr. O'Flaherty's account is subjoined of the last-named case, and of another man, believed to be a true convert, who succumbed to the plague without being admitted into the visible Church:— Baptisms in U-Ganda;

Two young officers of "Cæsar's household," whose baptisms I postponed for some time, came and said: "We wish to be baptized; we wish to show to Christ that we obey Him." Their baptism was fixed for the 8th of July, with that of twelve others. They were young men whom I taught when I went to court. Makasa gave me the use of his house—the king's store—to teach in, and took charge of my books; and his friend Muleke was indeed his pupil more than mine, for he taught his boys. He was gentle, sweet, and bright and tender-hearted; a most handsome youth and a general favourite, and yet brave. It was a silent bravery that was willing to meet any emergency, for to be a Christian in Cæsar's household requires no small degree of faith and moral courage. of dying officers;

On the 6th, two days before the time set apart for their admission into the Church visible here on earth, a messenger came running to me, and said: "Hasten to such a place in Rubaga, and bring with you some medicine for the plague, for your two friends are being conveyed thither smitten by the Kawompuli." I hastened and found them: the place was deserted. After a few words and a short prayer, I sent the messenger to the river for water, and poured it on the first, Makasa, in the name of the blessed Trinity. I shall never forget the look up to heaven, and the words, among many others, to the effect that, although he was leaving the palace on earth, he was going to the palace in heaven; and turning to his friend, he said, "Jesus our Saviour is our King."

Turning to my other friend, I found him already in the throes of death. I did not put the water on him, but I felt his name was entered in the baptismal register of heaven.

One of the baptized is a daughter of King Mtesa himself, of whom Mr. Ashe writes, "She has shown, as far as we can judge, a real faith;" and Mr. O'Flaherty, "Her seriousness of manner, the extent, variety, and range of her questions, made me feel not only that she understood my teaching, but that the Spirit of life had touched her heart." Of others Mr. Ashe says, "The earnestness of some of our young men is very comforting." One, named Muira, "has taught many, and seems deeply anxious that others may know of Jesus and the life in Him."

The Lord's Supper in U-Ganda.

Sunday, October 28th, was a memorable day in U-Ganda. On that day twenty-one converts received the Lord's Supper for the first time. The same number communicated again on a Sunday in November; and on Christmas Day, when several others had been baptized, no less than forty partook of the Holy Communion.

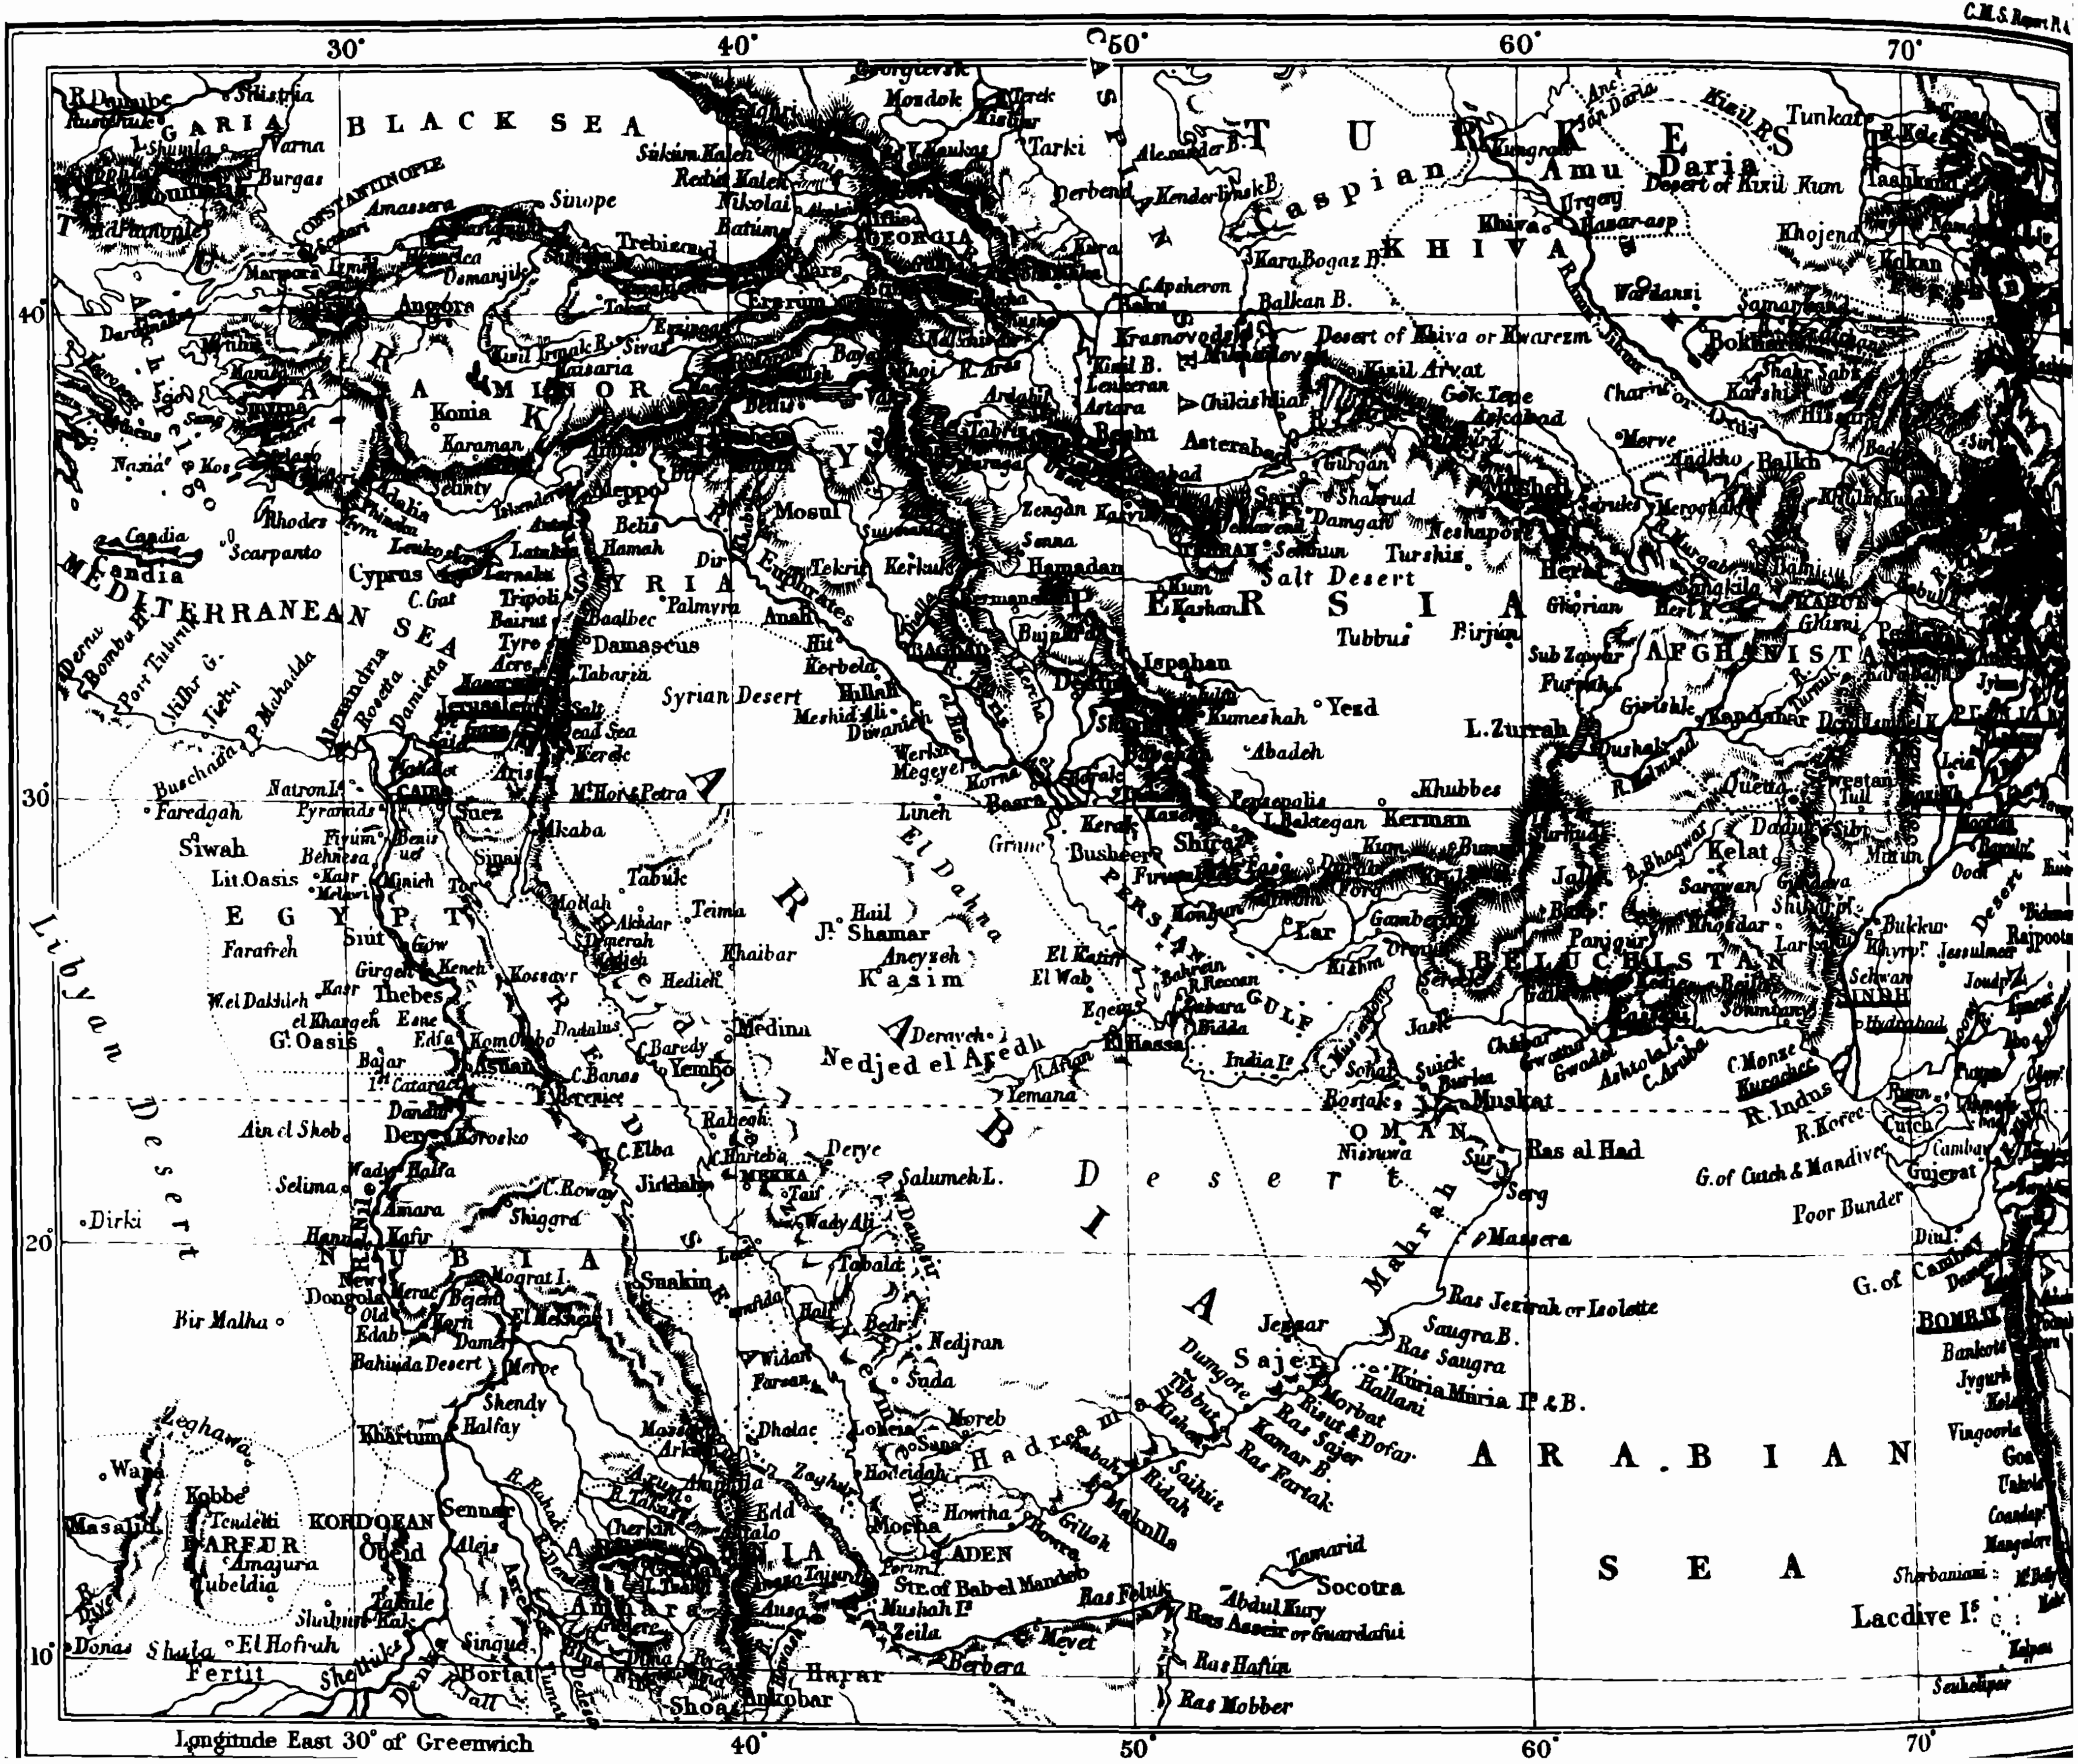

The Committee thank God for these encouraging tidings. They are well assured that their brethren in U-Ganda have carefully considered the case of each convert before baptizing him. Possibly some may prove to have been unworthy of admission into Christ's Church; even a Philip baptized a Simon Magus. Some who did run well may be hindered; some may leave their first love. If so, history will but be repeating itself. But that the Spirit of God has been at work in many hearts is manifest. Much may now depend, in the economy of grace, upon the prayers of God's people at home; and the Committee would commend all the baptized converts, and the candidates for baptism, and the still careless hearers, and the missionary brethren, and all their work, to the unceasing intercessions of the Society's friends, and to Him who opened the way to U-Ganda, sent His messengers there, and has now, after a period of labour shorter than in many other Missions, given them the firstfruits of their efforts and their prayers.

THE MOHAMMEDAN LANDS OF THE EAST.

C.M.S. Report R...

EGYPT MISSION.

Cairo, 1882.

Egypt continues to concentrate upon itself the attention of the world. The political problems there are among the most perplexing that have ever presented themselves to British statesmen. It is not the business of the Committee of the Church Missionary Society to discuss these problems; but they cannot refrain from expressing their earnest hope that those in authority may be guided to such measures as may not only promote the general peace and prosperity of the country, but ensure religious liberty and tend to the future progress of the Gospel.

The arrival at Cairo of the Society's experienced missionary, the Rev. F. A. Klein, to resume the old and long-suspended C.M.S. Egypt Mission, but with a special view to the Mohammedan population, was mentioned last year. Mr. Klein has now sent a very interesting first Annual Letter. "The character and history of the first year of the renewed Mission," he remarks, "may be summed up in the words of the Saviour, 'A sower went forth to sow his seed.'" Yet, like Dr. Bruce in Persia, he reminds us that in a field like Egypt there is work preliminary even to that of the sower, the work of "previous reconnoitring and surveying." His survey of the field is (somewhat condensed) as follows:—

Cairo as a Mission-field.

The field the C.M.S. have assigned to me for cultivation is the Native Arabic-speaking population of Egypt, and among this chiefly the far more numerous, and hitherto less cared for, Mohammedan classes. Cairo has been chosen as the headquarters, and, for the beginning at least, the only station to be occupied. This city is a very different place now from what it was when the C.M.S. established a Mission here for the benefit of the Coptic Christians more than half a century ago. It was then still a genuine Arab city in language, dress, manners and customs, and style of living. To-day it is a curious mixture of European, Levantine, and Arab life. In this Eastern "Paris" we have fine "squares" and "boulevards," and "rondpoints" and Italian villas; in fact, a whole quarter of European villas and palaces. Western civilization has also introduced theatres and operas, and concerts and balls and corsos, and provided "cafés" and "restaurants" and "cafés chantants" in true Parisian style. I very much doubt whether the introduction of these parts of European "civilization" have benefited the Native population. The heart of the city, however, still preserves in appearance, and the ways and customs of its population, its original Arab character, and I am sure Saladin would again, were he suddenly to return, find himself at home at once in those quarters. Cairo is said to have a population of nearly 400,000 souls, about 50,000 being Europeans (French, Italian, Greek, English, and German). Many of these unfortunately belong to the worst classes, and even of the higher classes many are said to have made their way in this country, chiefly in the days of "Ismail Pasha's Thousand and One Night Government," as unscrupulous adventurers. It must be clear that the mingling of such Western elements with the Eastern cannot have much benefited and improved them, nor prepared the way for the introduction of true religion and civilization.

Leaving aside the European, Levantine, and Turkish elements, largely represented, we have here a numerous and motley Native Arab population, composed of (1) Egyptians, natives of this city, and collected from all parts of Lower and Upper Egypt, Moslems and Christians, the latter chiefly Copts. (2) Syrians, natives of Syria and Palestine. They are in general far more intelligent and quick than the Egyptians, and, as many of them have received a good education in the superior schools in Syria, they have succeeded in obtaining well-paid Government appointments, especially since the English are in the country, while hundreds of incapable and superfluous Coptic and Moslem Egyptian Government employés have been discharged. (3) Nubians (chiefly Berberis), who are all zealous Moslems, and gain their bread honestly as servants, watchmen, lamplighters and porters. They speak their own language (Berberi), but also Arabic. (4) Negroes, originally imported here as slaves from all parts of Central Africa. Many of them, males and females, have in the course of the late few years been liberated, though only in an imperfect manner, as even with their certificates of freedom, delivered to them by the Egyptian Government, they are still, as recent cases have proved, considered in a certain sense the property of their former masters, so that they cannot contract a marriage without the consent of the same.

He then describes the special difficulties of such a field, the worldly-mindedness, the avarice, and the low morale of the population generally; in addition to which there is of course the natural fanaticism and superciliousness of the Mussulman. "Even the commonest fellah feels himself far superior to the most learned Christian from a religious and moral point of view, for he considers him a mushrik or idolater, worshipping three Gods, and pretending that God was born of a woman."

Mr. Klein feels that, as in Palestine, the most hopeful form of missionary effort among the Moslems of Egypt would be schools. Hitherto, however, the Committee have not seen their way to increase the Mission agency so as to render educational work possible. Meanwhile Mr. Klein has a weekly Arabic service in a temporary chapel; also a Bible and book depôt, and a reading-room, at which he has many opportunities of conversation with men who come in to read. The demand for Pfander's well-known Mizan-ul-Haqq is greater than the supply, and an Arabic version of the Autobiography of the Rev. Imad-ud-din is read with interest by the Moslems. There have been two inquirers, one from the upper and one from the lower classes, who seemed intellectually convinced of the truth of Christianity, but not spiritually sensible of their need of a Saviour. Of the reading-room Mr. Klein writes,— Moslem inquirers.

This I consider a very important branch of our work, and the best means of bringing us into contact with the Native population of various classes and nationalities. In order to make the place as attractive as possible, I here keep some good English and Arabic periodicals (Leisure Hour, Sunday at Home, missionary papers, Arabic weekly journals, and religious and scientific periodicals, and a number of good religious books), which are eagerly read by people of various creeds and nationalities who visit the place. Here I have many opportunities of forming acquaintances with Natives and engaging in conversation, and of speaking to them of the one thing needful. Miss Whately's dispensary and schools have also during the past year afforded me opportunities of speaking of Him who alone can heal all our diseases, and grant our hearts peace and everlasting happiness. I have circulated among Christians and Moslems a number of books showing the errors of Islam, and the truths of the Gospel, such as the Mizan-ul-haqq, Al Kindi, Food for Reflection, Al-burhan-ul-Jelil, &c. These are greatly valued, and there is still a demand for copies of the Mizan which I cannot satisfy. I greatly rejoice, and expect a blessing on the visits of these silent and yet most eloquent messengers, who enter homes to which I might never be allowed to penetrate. Several copies of these books have been bought by Moslems of the higher class, the remainder mostly by Copts, both in this city and a neighbouring large village. Imad-ud-din's Autobiography in Arabic I hope will be read with interest by many Moslems, and may some be led to inquire after the truth, and find and embrace it! The reading-room as a Mission agency.

I have in the course of last year also revised, and also partly rewritten, my tract, Burhan-ul-Jelil, inviting Moslems to search the Holy Scriptures, by showing them from passages of the Koran and others of their holy books that they were recognized by Mohammed himself as inspired books, and that he never spoke of the text of our Bible having been corrupted. I hope to get this printed soon at Jerusalem.

The Committee deeply regret to report the defection of the Mohammedan ulema, Ahmed Tewfik, whose baptism two or three years ago in London excited so much interest. From the time of his arrival in Cairo he was beset by the leading Moslems, and plied with all possible persuasions and inducements to apostatize. For some time both his words and acts were very strange, and so unlike those of a sane man, that there can be little doubt that his mind was altogether unhinged by his lengthened trials and anxieties, and by the separation from his family. At length he entirely disappeared, and Mr. Klein has heard nothing of him for several months. The Committee can only pray, and ask their friends to pray, that by the mercy of God this wandering sheep may yet be brought back safely to the fold of Christ. Defection of Ahmed Tewfik.

PALESTINE MISSION.

MISSIONS in Mohammedan lands have always presented exceptional difficulties; and harvest-time in Egypt, Palestine, and Persia is not yet. But the Church Missionary Society, resting upon the rich promises of God's Word to those lands of such sacred interest, has taken upon itself as one of its special duties to sow the seed there with patience. That the Society's object is the evangelization of the Moslems is well understood by the people themselves. "I dare not come to your church," said a Mohammedan at Jerusalem to a member of the C.M.S. congregation there; "I could go to the Church of the Holy Sepulchre, or to the Latin Patriarch's Church, or to the Jews' Synagogue, and no one would think anything of it. If I came to you, people would say I was going to become a Christian."

The object of the Palestine Mission understood by Moslems.

But in the villages of Palestine, the effects of persistent seed sowing are manifest. The Society's schools are most of them very efficient, and they are valued by all classes and creeds. And notwithstanding the tremendous obstacles in the way of inquiring Moslems, there can be no question that a considerable change is gradually coming over the minds of the people. The Rev. J. R. L. Hall writes:—

Moslem readiness to read the Bible.

During the past year we have found the Moslems more ready to listen to the Word read and expounded to them, and very ready, as a rule—oftentimes extremely eager—to receive and read copies of the Scriptures when given to them. Things are still very far indeed from being what we should like to see them; religious access to the Moslems is still most difficult; many repel most indignantly and fanatically any attempt to speak to them about their souls, and doubtless would not hesitate to use extreme violence if this effort were pressed; but nevertheless we do thank God and take courage as we review the work of the past year, and see that some Moslems who previously refused to listen to us are now ready to receive our visits and listen to our expositions of divine truth, and "read, mark, learn, and inwardly digest" that Word of God which is "able to make them wise unto salvation, through faith which is in Christ Jesus."

But it is noteworthy that this greater readiness to hear the word of God on the part of many is accompanied by an increasing vigilance and jealousy on the part of the authorities. The Rev. T. F. Wolters writes:—

The apparent revival of Mohammedan fanaticism which has recently manifested itself demands attention. I do not think, however, that it proceeds from the people, or is a religious movement. It comes from above, from the Government, and is rather political in its nature. Recent events in Egypt have given a fresh impetus to the hostility of the Government. The attention of Government has been directed to our schools. No new school may now be opened without special permission. Orders have been issued forbidding Mohammedan children from attending Christian schools; and, what is more, efforts have been made to establish Mohammedan schools for girls as well as for boys, not in towns only, but also in the villages. Hostility of Turkish authorities.

Thus also a vigilant eye is kept on any Mohammedan who may have embraced the Christian religion. About the middle of November a man was taken up by order of the Pasha and exiled (as I heard) to Arabia. This man had been in Bishop Gobat's School. He afterwards joined the Latins, by whom he was baptized. His wife and children were baptized in the same Church. I cannot tell how far he was a Christian at heart; but he lived in Jerusalem for a number of years as a Christian, and must have been well known to travellers as a waiter in one of the principal hotels in the town. He was suddenly seized one evening, and sent under military escort to Jaffa, and thence, as we heard, to Jeddah. As far as we know, not a finger was raised in his defence, not even by the French Consul, who is supposed to protect the interests of the Latin Church. His poor wife and children have remained behind in great distress.

Though this movement comes from the Government, rather than from the people, it is not without its influence on the latter. Soon after the seizure of the person just mentioned, a girl died in Dr. Sandreczky's hospital, where she had been serving as nurse. She came from the neighbouring village of Silwân (Siloam), was brought up at the German Deaconesses', and received baptism at the hands of the late German pastor. Both Mr. Kawar and I visited her before her death, and found her trusting in her Saviour. No sooner was she dead than her Mohammedan relatives came up from the village and carried off the body, washed it repeatedly to purify it from Christian contamination, and buried it in a place apart from where orthodox Mohammedans are buried. It was felt that nothing could be done to prevent this, though the girl had expressed a desire before her death to be buried among Christians. A dead body purified from Christian contamination.

For the time being the opposition thus referred to interferes with our work, and makes it more or less difficult to have intercourse with Mohammedans. On the other hand, I cannot help looking on all this as a proof that our Blessed Master's cause is making progress. It is because such is the case that the great Enemy of souls bestirs himself to raise up opposition. Let us then be of good cheer. Our labour shall not be in vain in the Lord.

One of the newer agencies which seem to promise well in Palestine, if God grant His blessing, is that of Bible-women and colporteurs; and the Committee have to acknowledge with cordial thanks a liberal offer made to them by the British and Foreign Bible Society of a grant for the support of twelve Bible-women in Eastern lands, at the rate of 12*l.* a year each, and for the promise of co-operation in maintaining some "evangelist colporteurs." If the Bible-women and colporteurs for Palestine.

right persons can be obtained, the Committee doubt not that their influence will have a very marked effect upon the people.

The staff of the Palestine Mission has been strengthened by the accession of the Rev. C. T. Wilson, late of the Nyanza Mission, whose renewed offer of service was mentioned last year, and who is now at Jerusalem. A lay agent also, Mr. W. F. Connor, has been locally engaged to superintend the work in the Hauran, residing at Damascus. On the other hand, the Rev. F. Bellamy is no longer in the service of the Society, though his Eastern experience will not be lost to the missionary cause in Syria, as he has been engaged by a private association in England for a station occupied by it among the Druses of the Lebanon.

In the autumn of last year, the Rev. J. R. L. Hall, as secretary of the Mission, visited all the stations and outstations, making a complete round of the whole for the first time. It is manifest that the real work that is going on can only be appreciated after a thorough inspection like this. Tourists who visit two or three principal towns see but little of what is really being done. Like Canon Tristram and the Rev. W. Allan, Mr. Hall, notwithstanding his eight years' residence in the country, was surprised at what he found. He says:—

Reality of the work in Palestine.

> I am most deeply grateful to God for what I have seen and heard. Although I am continually hearing accounts of the work going on in the different places I have visited, I never previously realized fully how extensive and real the work of our Palestine Mission is, nor how strong is the hold which our work has upon a large proportion of the population of this land. Our Native pastors, catechists, and teachers are, as a body, amongst the ablest and most truly pious set of men and women in the country; and whilst, with my brother missionaries, I long to see in them and in our congregations a still higher and more steady Christian life, I do feel most strongly that we have at the present time in our Native workers and our work the very loudest and strongest call to praise and to magnify His name who has done so very much for us.

JAFFA.

Mr. Hall's testimony already quoted to the increased readiness of Moslems to hear the Word of God applies especially to his own station, Jaffa. Of his Native Christian congregation also he is able to write favourably. The number attending the services has increased, and greater interest is shown in the Bible-classes and prayer-meetings. This Mr. Hall attributes to the earnestness and spiritual character of his catechist, Mualim Murad, and his Bible-woman. An additional catechist has been engaged for itinerating work. The day-school has had 63 boys in attendance, and the night-school 40 young men. The mothers' meetings have been largely attended, many Moslem women showing great anxiety to listen and learn. The schools at the out-stations, Ramleh, Lydd, Abûd, and Haifa, continue to be well spoken of. At Haifa, the Rev. Seraphim Boutaji ministers to a small congregation. The interest shown in all this work by General Gordon last year has been already referred to.

GAZA.

The Rev. A. W. Schapira reports the continued success of the schools for Greek boys and girls, and of that for Mohammedan girls; but the Mohammedan boys come very irregularly. More than 200 have attended during the year, but sometimes only 20 or 30 have been present at one time. Even in this fanatical Moslem city, however, it is not the young only that are reached. Mr. Schapira has not shrunk from proclaiming Christ in Moslem bazaars and shops; and in the villages of the Philistine plain he has found ready hearers. Mrs. Schapira's meetings for Moslem women continue most encouraging. The Dispensary has had no less than 11,500 patients, every one of whom has had the Scriptures read and explained to him. The Committee regret that another year has passed without their having been able to send out the promised medical missionary; but they thank God for the good work done. In this medical Mission General Gordon took the liveliest interest, as also does Mr. Pritchett, the gentleman to whom the original occupation of Gaza was due.

Medical work at Gaza.

The half-yearly conference of the Palestine missionaries was held at Gaza for the first time in November. The people were not a little surprised at such a gathering in their midst; and two or three years ago it would have been quite impossible. Its meeting there was therefore of itself a significant token of progress.

JERUSALEM.

The Revs. John Zeller, T. F. Wolters, and Michael Kawar (Native pastor), and Mr. G. Nyland at Ramallah, have carried on their respective departments of the Jerusalem Mission as in the preceding year; and they have been joined, as already mentioned, by the Rev. C. T. Wilson, who is engaged in the work of the Preparandi Institution. In this institution there are twelve students and its success in the past is proved, as Mr. Hall remarks, by "the many very efficient teachers and catechists who are labouring with acceptance in different parts of the Palestine Mission." The Gobat Boarding School, and the Printing Press, both under Mr. Zeller's superintendence, continue most useful agencies. Most of the schools in the out-stations are efficient, and Mr. Wolters, while still lamenting a lack of spiritual life in the congregation of St. Paul's Church, speaks of distinct improvement among them.

Ramallah and its out-stations are zealously worked by Mr. Nyland. Many Mohammedans are reached through the influence of the schools; but if any one doubts that the "Christians" of the Greek communion need quite as much to have the gospel taught them, he should visit these villages. Mr. Nyland says:—

Ignorance of Greek Christians.

The children are more advanced than their parents in the knowledge of the Bible, because the parents learned nothing of it in their youth. Many an old man has said to me that when they were children, and before the Gospel was explained to them by Europeans, they never knew that Jesus was the Son of God, and their Saviour. In their churches they heard that there was a God and a Christ for the Christians, and that was why they were called Christians and not Mohammedans; this was all they knew of Christianity.

When I was at Tayyibeh lately some one told me that he had asked his Greek priest about the passage in John xv. 26, what "the Comforter" meant. The priest, an old man, answered, "Well, my son, the Comforter must have been a saint, or perhaps a monk." This shows how ignorant the priests are; if these know so little, how can one wonder at the ignorance of the people?

Two Mohammedan women were baptized at Jerusalem in June. Mr. Wolters writes:—

Baptism of Moslem women.

On June 10th I had the great privilege of receiving into the Church of Christ by baptism a Mohammedan woman and her daughter. It was a day of gladness for St. Paul's, for, as far as I know, it was the first baptism of adult Mohammedans in our Mission church. May it have been the forerunner of many more yet to come! As it happened, though this had not struck me when fixing the day for the baptism, the Gospel for the day was very appropriate to the occasion. It was the Gospel of the lost sheep and the lost piece of money. I trust there was joy in heaven as well as among us. I preached to a full church from Rom. viii. 15.

The woman in question is originally from Hebron. For several years past she has served in Jerusalem. She first heard the Gospel in the Prussian Deaconesses' Hospital from Mr. J. Jamal (cousin of our Native pastor at Salt). It appears that she soon felt a drawing towards Christianity, and drank in the Word of life with great eagerness. Some months ago she applied to me for baptism on behalf of herself and her daughter, who is about fifteen years old. On examination, I found that she had very clear views of the way of salvation. For a time I had her twice a week for further instruction, and was soon satisfied that she was trusting on Christ alone for salvation. There was therefore nothing in the way of her baptism, except the possibility of persecution from her relatives. But she had no fear. Her husband was dead, and her brothers and sisters had become familiar with the idea of her leaving the Mohammedan religion. Her daughter, too, gave me equal satisfaction. She had been for some time in the Prussian Deaconesses' School (she is there now), and satisfied me as to her knowledge, and also, so far as it is possible for man to judge, as to her having grasped Christ as her Saviour. Mother and daughter were accordingly baptized, receiving the names of Hannah and Elizabeth.

NABLÛS.

The Rev. C. Fallscheer, who was one of Bishop Gobat's clergy, and came into connection with the Society when the Bishop's work was handed over to it, has now for some years been the solitary missionary in this ancient city. There are services and schools both in Nablûs and in some of the villages; and a book shop, in a main street of the city, attracts many visitors, who readily enter into conversation on religion. A much needed new mission-house is being built, the plans for which were prepared by General Gordon during his stay in Palestine.

Plans for a mission-house prepared by General Gordon.

NAZARETH.

The Rev. J. Huber is the missionary of this district, with the Rev. Nasr Odeh as Native assistant. The same agencies are employed as in the other districts, and several of them are efficiently worked; but two or three of the schools were considered unsatisfactory both by Mr. Allan and Mr. Hall, and the teachers have been removed. The out-stations are Akka (Acre), Shefamar, Kefr Kenna (Cana), Reneh, Zafa, and Mujeidil.

SALT.

This remote station across the Jordan is one of the most encouraging in the Mission. The excellent Native pastor, the Rev. Chalil Jamal, is now in England, and has been heartily welcomed by the Society's friends. Some extracts must be given from his very interesting Annual Letter:—

I. The Schools.—We have two schools here, the Boys' School and the Girls' School.

The Rev. Chalil Jamal's report.

The Boys' School.—That our school is progressing is so evident that even our religious enemies, even the Latins, cannot deny this. "We want a school like the Protestant school here," they (the Latins) said, in a petition which they presented to their Patriarch. The boys are very orderly, and many of them are very promising. Some have begun to feel their need of the Saviour.

A Moslem boy, the son of the former judge of Salt, was at first very disorderly and obstinate and proud. The master found it very difficult to have him any longer in the school, but I said we must be very patient with him, with the hope of winning his heart to Christ. After three or four months' patience he learnt to be a little orderly. But there was another difficulty with him: he did not like to read the Ingeel (New Testament), "because," he said, "I am a Moslem." It was difficult for us to trespass against the rule of our school, but we felt justified in passing over it patiently, on condition that he should sit quietly and listen to the boys while reading it. After a month or two, he said to the master, "Sir, I like to read the Ingeel with the other boys." He was allowed, and after a short time he begged, through his father, to have a copy of the Tuf-fah Min-Tha-heb (Apples of Gold). The book was given him as a present, and he read it with much interest. When his father was succeeded by another judge, and the family were about to return back to Damascus, he (the boy) begged to have a Bible instead of the Apples of Gold. "Why?" the master inquired. "Because what is in the Apples of Gold is found in the Bible, but all what is in the Bible is not to be found in the Apples of Gold, therefore I like to have the Bible—the perfect, the complete." The Bible was given him as a present, and his Apples of Gold was left to him. He took it with a heart full of joy, and promised me to read it. Some months before they left for Damascus he used to come to our Sunday morning service with the school-boys.

A Moslem youth begging for a Bible.

The mother of another Moslem boy once paid a visit to my wife, and told her that her son is almost spoiled or corrupted. "Why," exclaimed my wife, "I know your son is a very good and lovely boy!" "Yes," answered the mother; "but I mean to say that he does not like to be a Moslem" (she said it with a smile). "What has he said?" asked my wife. "Oh, the other morning his father got up early and went to the mosque to pray, and wanted to take him with him, and he refused, and said, 'You always trouble me with going to the mosque. I do not want to go. It is enough, I go to church with my schoolmates, and there I pray to Jesus, and that is enough.'" My wife asked her about his conduct at home, and her answer was: "He is very obedient and orderly." "Then your son is not spoiled," said my wife; "he is converted, and you must thank God for this."

A Moslem boy refusing to attend a mosque.

The Girls' School.—This school was opened on the 10th of last April. It is very promising. Some of the girls can now sew their own dresses, and can knit stockings. They are also making progress in reading and arithmetic, but mostly in the Bible.

We have also a Boys' School in El Husn. This school is also making a good and rapid progress. It was opened on the 7th of May, 1883. We have on the roll for December, 47. Many of them can now read very nicely, and know a good deal of Bible history.

A Moslem boy, about sixteen years of age, who was a notorious wretch, and known in the village by the name of Ser-aag el Jaaj (chicken stealer), is now, by the grace of God, changed since he was admitted into our school, and he himself goes every morning to fetch the boys from their homes to the school, and he has actually forced some Moslem boys to come to our school. He is now a great help and a comfort to the teacher there. I could tell many good things about him, but it suffices me to write what I myself actually heard from the Natives here (El Husn), both Christian and Moslems: "If your school has done nothing good, it is enough that it has been the means of making that wretched boy a good one."

A Moslem boy inducing others to attend school.

II. The Congregation.—Our congregation here is, thank God, increasing in number, and may it be in knowledge and in the fear of the Lord. I have on the register 300 souls, viz. males, 155; and females, 145.

We have a Sunday-school for boys and grown-up persons, which is liked and enjoyed by every one. The scholars are divided into four classes, viz. the Chosen People, the Daughters of Zion, the Soldiers of the Cross, and the Lambs of Christ. All the scholars are doing well, with the exception of the Daughters of Zion, who are either late or do not come at all; but I hope that when winter is over they will behave better, and try to be punctual. Some of the Moslem school-boys come to our Sunday-school. Names for S.S. classes.

In all our Sunday services and Sunday-school, and in all our daily morning services, and in all our Bible and prayer-meetings, the Word of God is preached and expounded, and the people are always entreated to love the Lord and trust upon Him, and to follow Him in the purity of heart. And may all the Churches in Palestine, and all over the world, be "edified and walk in the fear of the Lord, and in comfort of the Holy Ghost, and be multiplied"!

Of the Medical Mission, founded last year by the liberality of Mrs. Henry Wright, both Mr. Wolters and Mr. Hall send gratifying accounts. The former says:—

The Medical Mission at Salt has, so far, succeeded well, in spite of having to struggle against great difficulties arising from scarcity of funds. Dr. Ibrahim Zourab finds plenty to do, and makes faithful use of every opportunity of speaking to Mohammedans, no less than Christians, about their spiritual diseases, and the Great Physician, who alone can heal those diseases. I trust that this work, when consolidated, will be the means of opening doors for the Gospel among the Bedawin, no less than among the inhabitants of Salt itself. During the first six months 2558 patients were treated. Of these 2330 were seen in our dispensary after the reading of Scripture and prayer, and 228 in their own houses; 428 were Protestants, 602 Greeks, 180 Latins, and 1020 Mohammedans. Medical work at Salt.

The work among the Bedawin is carried on energetically by the native agent, Mr. Behnam.

HAURAN.

It has been already mentioned that an English lay agent, Mr. Connor, has been appointed to superintend this difficult but very important district, residing at Damascus. Mr. Hall travelled all through the country, and made arrangements for improving some of the Society's schools which he found inefficient, and for opening others. Everywhere he was well received by the Druses, and earnestly entreated to open schools among them, the rooms being promised rent-free. "There is a splendid field," he writes, "for work in the Hauran and the Jebel Druse. The people are a much finer and more intelligent race than any that are to be found west of the Jordan; and energetic work carried on among them cannot fail, with God's blessing, to be, like the work at Salt, most successful." An appeal from the Druses.

The countries east of the Jordan, indeed, generally, seem to be an eminently, and certainly an unexpectedly, promising field. It is true that, so far as human eyes can see, another difficulty with him: he did not like to read the Ingeel (New Testament), "because," he said, "I am a Moslem." It was difficult for us to trespass against the rule of our school, but we felt justified in passing over it patiently, on condition that he should sit quietly and listen to the boys while reading it. PERSIA MISSION.

Dr. Bruce and Dr. Hoernle have continued their labours at Julfa (Ispahan) during the year. For some months the latter brother was alone, while Dr. Bruce was absent in Southern Persia and at Baghdad; and this may account for the Committee having received no Annual Letter or Report on the congregation, Schools, Medical Mission, &c.

The Bishop of Lahore in Persia.

The event of the year in Persia was the visit of the Bishop of Lahore, on his way from India to England. At the request of the Committee, the Bishop of London gave him a commission to exercise episcopal functions in that country; and he confirmed sixty-seven Native Christians of the Julfa congregation, and on Trinity Sunday admitted an excellent Armenian catechist, Minasakan George, to deacon's orders. This is the first ordination in Persia in connexion with the Church of England, and may well rejoice the hearts of the many in all parts of England and Ireland who have listened to Dr. Bruce's fervent appeals for that "wilderness" and "desert," to which he was wont to apply the prophecy that even the desert should "rejoice and blossom as the rose."

Bishop French's journal of his visit is full of interest.* He set foot for the first time on Persian soil on the morning of Easter Day (March 23rd, 1883), at Bushire. Thence he travelled over the ground trodden by Henry Martyn seventy years before, and arrived at Ispahan on May 5th:—

* See C.M. Intelligencer, Nov. 1883, and Feb. 1884.

As we approached, towards evening, the ridge beyond which Julfa stands (much like the ridge facing Delhi, only very broad as well as long), we met various parties come out for the purpose of istikbāl, i.e. friendly greeting; groups of men, women, and boys; then the agent of the Embassy, Mr. Aganor; one of the priests of the Armenian Church, sent by the Bishop as his representative; a few cavalry and foot-runners, with an officer of rank, sent by the Zill-i-Sultan (the Prince Regent), whose title is Hazrat-i-wala. On both sides of the path were evolutions and caperings of cavalry, firing off of guns, &c. It was an ovation such as I had never before experienced (except once when I visited the Maharaja of Jaipoor, with a letter of introduction from the late Sir Henry Lawrence), and shows how much Dr. Bruce is respected. A cloud of dust announced to the city the approach of this attendant retinue, which had awaited me at a fountain on the hill, called "Chashma-Khuda-i-hafiz," i.e. the fountain of "God be with you." At this point the incoming guest receives greetings, and the parting guest farewell. All along the Julfa lanes numbers of men and women stood at their house-doors to look. It was a very gay scene. Reception at Julfa.

We were most kindly received by Mrs. Bruce, her daughter Beatrice, and Miss Read, of the Society for Promoting Female Education in the East, on arrival at the gate of the enclosure, within which the lovely house and garden, church and schools, libraries, and buildings for residence, form a most agreeable coup d'œil.

On the 8th the Bishop visited the Bishop of the Armenian Church at Julfa:—

I went with Dr. Bruce to call on the Armenian Bishop and his clergy, and sat an hour or more with them. I told him of the joy many of us (myself included) had at the increased union and drawing together in sympathy, friendship, and fellow-help of the Church of England and the Armenian and Nestorian Churches. I promised to convey his messages of brotherly love and regard to the new Primate of England, of whose goodness, wisdom, large-heartedness, and learning I spoke to him. I expressed my hope and prayer that both they and we would be growingly like the "woman clothed with the sun." My relation to the Bishop of London with reference to this visit to Persia he wished to understand, and I endeavoured to explain. He had been told that no English churches had any decorations; all were perfectly bare and plain. I assured him that we studied moderation in regard to such things, not entire absence of ornament; neither ifrāt nor tafrīt (excess nor defect). The Romish priest interpreted for me here in Persian—a curious combination of fellow-help between three Churches! Interview with the Armenian Bishop.

Another visit was to Hazrat Wala, the Zill-i-Sultan or heir-apparent to the Persian throne, who is Governor of Ispahan. Dr. Bruce took the opportunity to present to him a well-bound copy of the Gospels—the new version prepared by Dr. Bruce and the late Professor E. H. Palmer. "I took part," says the Bishop, "by rising from my seat during the presentation, and told him this was the greatest treasure of princes. Bruce told him how many languages I understood. I told him that one letter of the knowledge of God was worth all the books of the philosophers." Visit to the Governor of Ispahan.

The ordination was on Trinity Sunday, May 20th:—

First Ordination in Persia.

This morning has been the special climax of interest—the ordination of Minas. The church was crowded, the interest in our first ordination here being clearly great and sustained throughout, though the service lasted two hours and a half or more. There was a larger sprinkling of Persians (known by their keeping the turban on) than usual. We had the morning service to the Te Deum inclusive; then the Litany, Deacon's Orders service, sermon, Communion service; and then the Lord's Supper for eighty persons. It was a scene and a service I can never forget while memory lasts.

I preached in Persian for nearly an hour, and fair facility and fluency were given me, thank God. I took for text, "In all things approving ourselves as the ministers of Christ . . . by the Holy Ghost; by love unfeigned—by the word of truth—by the power of God,"—dwelling on these three as the three great tests or touchstones of the Holy Ghost's witness to and approval of the ministers of Christ.

Minas, the old catechist (he must be forty-nine or fifty years old), with grey hairs here and there upon him, behaved with simple, quiet dignity, which it was a pleasure to look on. He read the Gospel and gave the cup to the last row of communicants. The singing was delightful in the Armenian tongue. Among the hymns were, "The Church's one foundation," and "Just as I am." One's heart does yearn over these dear people. Surely the Lord is working, by Dr. Bruce and his fellow-workers, a sure and true and deep, though it may be a slow and cautious, work among this Armenian race, planted here nearly 300 years ago, and left here with nearly all the light they have hidden under a bushel.

Talks with Moslems.

Still more interesting are the Bishop's accounts of his intercourse with Mohammedans, mullahs and others. "Inquiry," he says, "appears to me more genuinely alive than in India. More mullahs seem near to yielding their hearts to the Saviour than I have seen in the same space, and much longer space of time, in India. The sale of Bibles I have seen, and fearless, open acceptance of them, by mullahs especially, has astonished me." On the day after the ordination, an old mullah who had been present called, and assured Bishop French of "his full conviction of the truth of Christ," adding that he "had got much help from the sermon yesterday." He spoke of "a considerable number of convinced souls who tremble to confess Christ;" but the Bishop reminded him that the ancient Persian Church was one of the most fruitful in martyrdoms. At Shiraz especially, where Henry Martyn suffered so much at the hands of the fanatical Mussulmans, the Bishop had the privilege of most interesting conversations with inquiring mullahs:—

In the steps of Henry Martyn.

It is, indeed, a privilege to do ever so little, and work ever so feebly, in the steps of beloved H. Martyn, who preached a year or more in Shiraz.

April 13th.—I have been a good deal occupied with professed inquirers the last few days. I know of none who are prepared to throw themselves upon Christ and His Gospel, but they listen attentively, and I pray that the seed thus cast on the waters may yet be found. I have been thinking with interest that the prophet Daniel must in all probability have been the Wazeer, or Prime Minister, of this very part of the country, as Darius's capital is only thirty or forty miles off.

Visit to the Moslem High Priest, who accepts a Bible.

April 14th.—An interesting day. I was invited by the mujtahid, or high priest of the Mohammedans, to visit him in the afternoon. Some twelve or fifteen mullahs and disciples of various ages were assembled. No time was lost in preliminaries, and some leading truths of the Gospel were proposed and pressed on their attention. The colporteurs had brought some books, which were greedily bought up, and an additional supply begged for. The great man seemed specially delighted with a well-bound copy of the entire Bible in Persian, which he kissed devoutly, and placed reverently on the top of his head to express his respect and homage. It was a day to be thankful for. I told the mujtahid, it would be indeed a glory to them far exceeding that of Darius's kingdom and royal state at Persepolis, if they should give wide currency to God's Word, and help to spread the kingdom of Christ. Many questions were asked and answered about the Gospels and the paraklete, the new birth, and the covenant of grace.

In the evening a most pleasing, Nicodemus-like man called, and sat a long time, and was quite unwilling to go even then.

April 16th.—A great portion of the morning has been spent with inquiring mullahs; last night, at the tomb of Hafiz, I met them and they begged to call to-day. The Nicodemus who came before has been seated with me for an hour and half besides. How far good is done God only knows, but I am deeply thankful for the privilege. What would dear Martyn give to be raised up again to witness!

Opposition to the Mission.

While Bishop French was at Julfa a sudden outburst of opposition to the Mission arose. Dr. Bruce is very careful what books and tracts he distributes. The Bible is generally respected, but any controversial work against Mohammedanism provokes dangerous hostility, and Dr. Bruce thinks that Pfander's Mizan-ul-Haqq, which has been so useful in India, should be altered to make it suitable for circulation in Persia. Just before the Bishop's arrival, a designing man, professing to be an inquirer, obtained from Dr. Bruce a copy of the Mizan-ul-Haqq, and immediately took it to the Sheikh. That dignitary was at once aroused to vigorous action. Dr. Bruce writes:—

> The violent opposition raised against us by the Sheikh in Ispahan, just before the Bishop's visit, arose entirely from the fact that a single copy of the Mizan ul Haqq fell into his hands. This was followed by an order from the Sheikh (who, as the head of the Mohammedan religion in these parts, has hitherto been of absolute authority in matters of religion) forbidding the circulation of the Scriptures. The Prince Governor in my presence gave a verbal order to the Governor of Ispahan to forbid the circulation of the Bible in Ispahan. I respectfully told H.R.H., who is an absolute monarch in these parts, that I declined to obey his order unless I got it in writing—in which case I should forward it to London; that there was no country in the world in which the distribution of the Bible was forbidden; that it was freely distributed and sold in Teheran and other parts of Persia, and in Turkey. The Prince did not withdraw his verbal order, but our excellent colporteur and evangelist, Benjamin, persisted in going daily to the bazaar of Ispahan, though he was arrested almost daily and taken before the Sheikh and governor of the town, abused, and forbidden to come again. On one of those days he came back from Ispahan and said, "Where do you think I have sold my books to-day? Why, in the Prince's house, and his officers and servants bought several copies." He persisted in this course, until the governor at last abused the Sheikh's people who arrested him, and gave him the liberty he sought, and treated him with great respect. From that day, in less than four months, he sold more than 800 copies to Persians.

A colporteur arrested.

It is encouraging to note that the Armenian Bishop sent for Benjamin after his first arrest, "sympathized with him, and gave him his blessing." Another interesting notice occurs in Dr. Bruce's letters of the same colporteur:—

I sent Benjamin lately with 400 copies of Persian Scriptures to visit Yezd and Kirman. On his reaching the former, he telegraphed to me that the governor had seized all his books. I telegraphed to the governor asking his reason for doing so, and stating that the sale of Scriptures was permitted by the Government. He at once sent for Benjamin, received him in presence of several mullahs, returned the Bibles, and said, "You may sell your books, but woe to the man who buys them." He then took Benjamin aside and said, "I only said that to please these rascally priests, but you had better leave Yezd, for the people here are very fanatical and may murder you." Benjamin replied, "You have kept my books, sir, for four days. I must, therefore, stay for four days to make up for lost time, and then I will go elsewhere." At the end of the four days he telegraphed to me, saying, "I have sold all my books in Yezd, so there is no use in my going on to Kirman unless you can send me more books." My instructions to him are, "When they persecute you in one city, flee to another."

Sale of Scriptures in Persian cities.

On his arrival at Shiraz, to meet Dr. Bruce there, after a long tour in the southern provinces, Benjamin "found notices posted on the gates and walls of the city, warning people not to buy his books; but he quietly sat under the notices, and sold more than before." This Bible colportage, which is carried on at the cost of the Bible Society, is manifestly the best of all methods of evangelizing Persia under present circumstances. Dr. Bruce thus concludes the long letter* from Shiraz in which the foregoing narratives are given:—

Last night I dined and slept in the house of a Native gentleman, an officer of the governor. I found lying on the table in his sitting-room two Persian New Testaments, which he and his friend who lived with him had had for a long time, a Persian Bible and Psalms, and a Persian Book of Common Prayer (my translation). There was not a single copy of the Koran in the house. He had six guests to meet me, and from four p.m. till near eleven p.m., and from seven o'clock this morning till half-past eight, we had most interesting conversations. My great difficulty with these people (most of them were Baabys), as with the Baabys, is not to get them to accept the divinity of Christ, but to get rid of the Pantheistic views which they have of our Lord's divinity, and to prove to them that there can be only one only-begotten Son, one Eternal Word of God become man.

The light of the Sun of righteousness is indeed beginning to pierce the clouds of error which envelope this land as with a shroud of death. I conclude with an earnest request that the Committee will offer special prayers (1) for a blessing on the seed scattered, (2) that God may raise up labourers, both English and Persian, for the fields, if not white to harvest, are ready for the seed.

BAGHDAD.

The Rev. B. Maimon continued diligently labouring at Baghdad during the year, in the ways described in the last Annual Report. Dr. Bruce paid a visit to the new Mission in the winter, and stayed nearly three months. The Rev. T. R. Hodgson arrived on January 1st. The Committee regret that there has been necessity for Mr. Maimon's return to Europe. The Mission is now being carried on by Mr. Hodgson.

Baghdad continues to present a wide field for patient and prayerful labour in making known the name of Christ to Mohammedans, Jews, and Oriental Christians—who know it little better than their non-Christian neighbours. Some difficulties have arisen, owing to the strict regulations of the Turkish Government regarding schools; and although the American missionaries in Asia Minor and Syria, and the C.M.S. missionaries in Palestine, have full liberty to open and carry on schools for both Mussulmans and Christians, permission has not been so far obtained to establish one at Baghdad. The Committee earnestly commend Mr. Hodgson and his trying work to the prayerful remembrance of the Society's friends.

INDIA.

A ten years' review of Indian Missions.

A REVIEW of the Society's Missions in our Indian Empire during the last ten years has lately been prepared, which shows in a very striking way the progress with which it has pleased God to bless the work.* It is not merely that there is a large numerical increase under almost every head, as is evidenced by the Decennial Statistics referred to in last Annual Report; but that the missionary policy and plans of the Society have become more systematized and more developed. In particular, there has been (1) a great advance in Native Church Organization. In every part of India Native Church Councils have now been successfully established. These useful bodies are twenty-one in number; some, like those of Bengal and the Punjab, comprising the congregations of a whole province; others, like the District Councils of Tinnevelly, covering a much smaller area, although representing a by no means smaller number of Christians. (2) The efforts for the evangelization of special classes of the population have been much developed. In almost every province occupied by the Society there are now important agencies for reaching the Mohammedans. The stations among the Aboriginal Hill Tribes, and the missionaries allotted to them, have doubled in number; and there is now active and fruitful work, not only among Santâls, Kois, and Arrians, but also among Pahâris, Gônds, and Bheels. (3) The Society's Educational plans have been placed on a settled basis, and its immense school machinery is now worked upon a definite system, distinguishing between High Schools and Vernacular Schools established mainly for evangelizing the heathen on the one hand, and Boarding and Day Schools chiefly attended by the children of Christians on the other. Several of the latter have been set on foot in the last two or three years. The Training of Native agents also, evangelists, pastors, and male and female teachers, has received much attention, and no C.M.S. Mission in India is now without its Divinity School or Class, and its Normal or Training Institutions. The Society has now 70 High Schools and Colleges, 1230 Vernacular Schools, 7 Divinity Schools, 10 Normal and Training Institutions, 13 Orphanages, and 50 Boarding Schools. (4) Something has been done towards giving more definiteness and concentratedness to the European missionary force. It has been reduced in number in the ten years; but it is doing a much more extensive work, having been to a large extent relieved of the pastoral charge of Native Christians by the increase of the Native clergy; and steps are being taken to concentrate it more and more at strong centres. (5) The large and important body of Native agents is better organized: the evangelists employed by the Society or on the Jones Funds being now distinguished from the pastoral catechists engaged in the instruction of catechumens, &c., most of whom are in the service of the Native Churches; while schoolmasters, again, are distinguished from both. No hard and fast line, of course, confines an individual agent to one class of work; but all work is found to be better done by being definitely allotted. Native Agents.

The Committee have had the advantage during the year of interviews with three of the Indian Bishops in whose dioceses the Society is at work, the Bishops of Calcutta, Bombay, and Lahore. The Bishop of Travancore and Cochin has also come home on a visit, and the Bishop of Madras is expected shortly; and with them also the Committee hope to consider carefully the position and requirements of the Missions under their episcopal supervision respectively. Such personal conference is at all times most useful, and the Committee are grateful for the opportunities afforded for it; as also for the co-operation accorded by one and all to the C.M.S. Missions, the Bishop in each diocese being Chairman of the local governing body. Interviews with Indian Bishops.

These local governing bodies are the Corresponding Committees, which have from the first been a most important and valuable element in the Society's machinery in India. They have always consisted of English laymen, civil and military officers and bankers and merchants, chosen for their Christian character and avowed sympathy with the principles and objects of the Society, and holding their seats by the appointment of the Parent Committee. Sometimes one or more English chaplains have also been appointed. If the Bishop of the diocese is a member of the Society, and therefore (by Law II.) a Vice-President, it is considered that the spirit of Law XXII. entitles him to a seat; and for the last half century every Indian Bishop has been a member. The missionaries as such have never been members. Their voices are heard through the Missionary Conferences, which consist of themselves alone, to which all matters of administration in the Missions are referred, and which pass resolutions for the consideration of the Corresponding Committees,—these resolutions, together with Corresponding Committees and their functions.

all the Proceedings of the Conferences, being forwarded to the Parent Committee. The Secretary to the Corresponding Committee is the Society's official representative in the Mission, through whom all correspondence is conducted and orders conveyed. Sometimes he is one who has previously been engaged in missionary work; sometimes a clergyman sent out from England for the purpose. Among former Secretaries at Calcutta and Madras have been some of the most honoured names on the C.M.S. roll: at Calcutta, E. C. Stuart (now Bishop of Waiapu, N.Z.) and Joseph Welland; at Madras, John Tucker, P. S. Royston (now Bishop of Mauritius), and David Fenn. By these, and others like them, have the Society's Missions in India been built up.

The Calcutta Corresponding Committee existed some years before the Society had any missionaries in India. It was formed by David Brown at the beginning of the present century. Henry Martyn was a member of it during his residence in Calcutta. The Madras and Bombay Committees were established some years later, when India was opened to Christian Missions. The Panjâb and Sindh Committee was appointed in 1877, when the Diocese of Lahore was founded. Prior to that date, the Panjâb was under Calcutta, and Sindh under Bombay; but both, being included in the new diocese, were transferred to the new Committee.

Report of the Vice-regal Education Commission.

One of the most important events of the year in connection with missionary effort in India has been the issue of the Report of the Vice-regal Education Commission. The Rev. W. R. Blackett, Principal of the C.M.S. Divinity School at Calcutta, who was a member of the Commission, has given, in a paper read before the Bengal Missionary Conference, the general result in a few words:—

> I think I may state it in two propositions—first, that the Government of India is recommended to give more attention than heretofore to Primary Education, though not to the neglect of the Higher; and secondly, that they are advised to do the work more by aiding others in establishing schools than by establishing them themselves. These I think are the very points that missionaries—at least such as are reasonable—hoped to gain from the Commission. On the other hand, there is a solitary resolution suggesting the establishment of a conscience clause, enabling parents to withdraw their children from religious instruction, but only in any school which is the only one of its kind in the place. This is or may be a serious matter in some localities. But there may be grave doubts whether the Government can accept such a principle in the face of its declared policy of religious neutrality. Such doubts are even pointed at in the Report itself. Female education, I may add, will, if the recommendations of the Report be adopted, receive considerably more liberal encouragement than heretofore. But, like most of us individually, and like most of our Societies, the Government is in a position to plead in bar of the fulfilment of these recommendations that commonplace but unanswerable excuse of impecuniosity.

Future of Mission Schools.

This confirms the anticipations of the Committee as expressed in last year's Annual Report. There can be no doubt that, owing to the much larger efforts of Government, the share of missionary societies in the education of India will in the future be relatively much smaller than in the past. But this relative diminution will be very far from being an absolute diminution, and will be chiefly evident as regards primary schools. In such schools, the instruction being avowedly only elementary, the exclusion of religion is a less conspicuous fact. It is obvious, moreover, that a population able to read is more accessible to many kinds of missionary effort than one that is wholly untaught. It is, however, as important as ever it was that what is done by missionary societies should be done well; and it must not be forgotten that much that they do now will still be done by them alone,—all, that is, which is distinctively Christian. Truly, there is a loud call to Christian men in our English Universities to go out to this most fruitful branch of missionary work. The Committee pray that many may be led to realize their responsibilities in this matter, and to offer their services to the Society for the important educational posts at its disposal. The subsequent pages of this Report will give very many illustrations of the value of Mission schools as an evangelizing agency.

Hopeful aspect of Indian Missions.

A general survey of the present state of India presents many grounds of thankfulness and hope, while it certainly calls for extended and self-denying effort. The testimony as to the general effect of Missions upon the people is as decisive as ever. Of this also many illustrations will be found in the following pages. To give but one here: a highly-connected Brahmin, a Government official, in a large heathen town, himself a seeker after Christ, told one of the missionaries that several Brahmins personally known to him had come to an understanding with their relatives that they "would worship only Jesus, for He is the only worshipful One," although they will not degrade themselves and their families by submitting to baptism. Mr. Wade, of Amritsar, writes:—

Brahmin opinion of Christ.

> No thoughtful person can study the rapid progress of civilization in this country without being convinced that there is a mighty moral but bloodless revolution taking place amongst the millions of its inhabitants. After more than twenty years of missionary labour, I can state truly that I have never met with a single person who has received a high English education in any Government or missionary institution who is what would be commonly called an orthodox Hindu or Mohammedan. Surely, then, it is our duty to make known, by preaching, teaching, and printing, the Gospel of truth far and wide: and there is no better way of ensuring a good harvest in the future than by sowing abundantly good seed, and "the seed is the Word of God."

NORTH-INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived 1816.)

The two sections of the North India Mission.

The principal Missions of the Society in the Diocese of Calcutta are divided into two great sections, those in Lower Bengal and those in the North-West Provinces. The three stations in the Central Provinces and Râjputâna lie beyond the limits of the two Lieutenant-Governorships, but are connected in certain respects with the latter. In the main, the division is linguistic, Bengali being the vernacular of the first group, and Urdu and Hindi of the second. Apart from both, though geographically within the Province of Bengal, is the Santâl Mission, the language again being different.

Bengal, therefore, and the North-West Provinces (including the outlying stations), have each its Missionary Conference, an annual gathering of all the missionaries within the area; each its Native Church Council, representing the congregations in the same area; each its Divinity School, viz. the one at Calcutta, of which the Rev. W. R. Blackett has been Principal, and the other at Allahabad, under the Rev. W. Hooper; each its Normal Training School for male teachers, the one at Krishnagar, the other at Agra, besides which there is a Female Normal School at Benares. The Santâl Mission has a Sub-Conference of its own, with a Native Council in embryo, and a Preparandi class.

The North India Native Church Councils.

The two Native Church Councils connected with the North India Mission differ much from their prototypes in Tinnevelly and other southern districts. The Christian communities they represent are comparatively small, and scattered over very wide areas. Naturally there is less sense of a common interest, less incentive to united practical work. Yet they are doing well; their meetings grow in influence, and in the interest they excite, year by year; and if they still need something of the spirit that renders church organization in the south so efficient, the Committee trust that it may now be supplied, through the instrumentality of two Native clergymen from Bengal and the North-West Provinces respectively, the Revs. Piari Mohun Rudra and W. Seetal, who lately—the first time that such an event has happened—paid a visit to Madras and Tinnevelly, and were much impressed by all they saw there. The Bengal Council meets in May, and the North-West Provinces Council in October. At the last meeting of the former (1883), the Rev. Raj Kristo Bose, Pastor of Visit of Native Clergy South India.

Trinity Church, Calcutta, preached a sermon "on true Christian liberty as distinguished from that which often passes under the name of independence, but is in reality a slavery to the carnal nature."

The Bishop of Calcutta, who is Patron of both these Church Councils, accepts their titles to holy orders for the Native pastors maintained from their funds, in lieu of the nomination (as formerly) of the Society. This recognition may prove to be of great importance to the future development of the Native Church. In the past year a candidate presented by the North-West Provinces Council was ordained by the Bishop at Allahabad, adding one to the number of the Native clergy of the diocese connected with the Society.

Reinforcements.

From home, the North India Mission has received a reinforcement of three labourers. In each case there are circumstances of special interest. (1) The Rev. Jani Alli, B.A., late of Bombay, who, though a Native of India, is, in virtue of his position as an English University graduate, equivalent to an addition to the European staff, has been sent to Calcutta with a view to evangelistic work among Mohammedans, for which he, as himself a convert from Islam, has peculiar qualifications. His appointment is a direct response to the appeal of the Decennial Missionary Conference mentioned in the last Annual Report, which called on the C.M.S. by name to take up work among the Mussulmans of Bengal. (2) The Rev. G. Litchfield, late of the Nyanza Mission, being precluded by considerations of health from returning to Africa, has been sent to Rajputana as an additional missionary for the new Bheel Mission. (3) The Rev. G. E. A. Pargiter, M.A., who has gone to Agra as Principal of St. John's College, is a son of the Society's veteran missionary in Ceylon and Association Secretary at home, the Rev. R. Pargiter. The Committee regret that unforeseen disappointments have prevented their reinforcing the Gônd Mission, as they last year hoped to do, and also Oudh, where at least one other man is urgently needed.

Bishop of Calcutta at C.M.S. Committee.

The Committee had the pleasure and advantage of two interviews with the Bishop of Calcutta during his visit to this country last summer. His Lordship offered important suggestions on some of the practical questions which are occupying chief attention at present amongst the friends of Indian Missions. He spoke of the great importance of the full and careful training of Natives for the Ministry, and alluded in terms of commendation to the Society's Divinity Schools, especially naming that at Allahabad. C.M.S. Report, Pl. 4.

referred to the advisability of gradually bringing forward Native Christians to positions of importance, in preparation of them for the highest posts in the Native Church of the future; and expressed his belief that such training and practical experience would bring out in many of the present agents the development of valuable gifts and administrative powers. The Bishop's suggestions accord in the main with the views already adopted by the Society, and plans are now under consideration by which the spirit at least of these suggestions will, it is hoped, be beneficially brought into action.

Connected with the North India Mission there are altogether 49 European missionaries (42 ordained, 3 lay, 4 ladies); one East Indian ordained missionary; 23 Native clergymen; 865 Native teachers; about 13,000 Native Christian adherents (of whom 3200 are communicants); 245 schools, with 12,000 scholars. The baptisms during the year were—adults, 95; children, 632.

CALCUTTA.

The Staff and its work.

THE Society has had eight European agents in Calcutta during the year. The Rev. H. P. Parker resides at the capital as Secretary to the Corresponding Committee; the Rev. C. S. Harington is minister of the Old Church; the Rev. W. R. Blackett (who has since come home) and the Rev. W. H. Ball have been engaged in the Divinity School; the Rev. Dr. C. Baumann superintends the varied evangelistic agencies; the Rev. G. H. Parsons is in charge of the Boys' Boarding Schoo,l but he also gives Dr. Baumann some assistance; Miss Neele and Miss Sampson conduct the Girls' Boarding School. The Rev. Jani Alli, who has lately gone out, will, as already mentioned, undertake special work among Mohammedans. There are three Native clergymen under the Bengal Native Church Council—the Rev. Raj Kristo Bose at Trinity Church, the Rev. Modhu Sudan Seal at Kidderpore, and the Rev. Molam Biswas at Thakurpuker. In addition to the various departments of missionary effort thus indicated, there is a small Native congregation at Christ Church, Cornwallis Square, and others at Agarpâra, Kristopore, and other suburban districts, and at Bonhugli, a more distant village, ministered to by catechists; two Anglo-Vernacular Schools at Mirzapore and Garden Reach; nineteen Vernacular Schools; twenty-five similar Schools belonging to the Christian Vernacular Education Society, but supervised by the C.M.S.; and a Girls' Orphanage at Agarpâra; besides direct evangelistic work among various classes of the population, mainly by Native evangelists under Dr. Baumann's superintendence. The whole number of Native Christian adherents is about 1350.

The Old Church.

The Old Church, the original "Mission Church," built by Kiernander in 1771, is one of the district churches of the English quarter of Calcutta, and the principal congregation is European and Eurasian. But there are Hindustani services for servants and others from the upper provinces, who are not provided for by the Bengali services held elsewhere; and while there are a Scripture-reader, a Bible-woman, a Day-school and a Sunday-school for the poor Eurasian population, and another Sunday-school for middle-class boys and girls, a third Sunday-school is held for children "of semi-Chinese extraction." Some members of the congregation hold weekly evangelistic meetings in a neighbouring bazaar; and not only is the whole expense of the church met from its own funds, but considerable contributions are raised in aid of missionary work in Calcutta.

Trinity Church.

Of Trinity Church the Rev. R. K. Bose sends a report of the same very encouraging character as that printed last year. The smaller congregation of Christ Church is the special charge of the Divinity School, the Principal preaching on Sundays and the students on Wednesday evenings. Of the other congregations no direct report is to hand. Concerning that at Bonhugli, Dr. Baumann last year gave a remarkable testimony. "Here," he wrote, "one is brought at once into the warm atmosphere of a living Church, and placed in association with those who walk in the fellowship of the Father and the Son. The utmost brotherliness of spirit prevails in this model Church, and every member is earnest in prosecuting Christian work." Kristopore, "the abode of Krishna," he thinks might now be spelt Christopore, "the abode of Christ," so great has been the spiritual growth of the humble congregation there, consisting chiefly of fishermen and their families, now under the care of a godly and zealous catechist, Babu Keshab Chander Mandal. Another Christian community has lately been "discovered," of whose existence nobody seemed to be aware. Visiting Chinsurah, a Zenana station, to hold a Bengali service for the first time, Dr. Baumann found gathered in the Government church (lent by the chaplain) a highly respectable Bengali congregation, evidently familiar with the Church service, though previously without the opportunity of attending one. They consisted of Native gentlemen and others, previously connected with Church of England Missions in Calcutta. Regular services were at once started, the people themselves paying all expenses. A Native congregation discovered.

The multifarious evangelistic work carried on under Dr. Baumann's superintendence is supported by the Calcutta Church Missionary Association, a local organization which raises over 300*l.* a year for the purpose. The congregation and Sunday-schools of the Old Church contribute largely; but the most interesting item in the accounts is Rs. 6 from a Native Bible colporteur, "saved by denying himself the use of shoes and umbrella." The agencies comprise chapel, street, and riverside preachings, visiting Hindu gentlemen at their houses, instruction of Native servants, ministrations in hospitals and the Leper Asylum, and special work among particular classes and races, as the poorer Mohammedans, the Chamars (workers in leather, a much-despised out-caste people), and the Uriyas, Kôls, Santâls, and other tribes represented in the capital. The Committee regret much that the Report of this most useful Association always comes in too late for its deeply interesting contents to be included in the Society's Annual Report; but they thank God for its work, and trust that this brief notice of it may call forth much prayer in its behalf. Calcutta C.M. Association.

Of the Schools, too, the reports are meagre. The most important of those designed as evangelistic agencies, the Garden Reach Anglo-Vernacular School, with its 300 scholars, has been described by its Christian head-master, Babu Mahini Mohun Dutt, M.A. and B.L. of Calcutta University, as exercising a real influence for good. The Bible-lesson "is not a distasteful pill received in consideration of the secular education that accompanies it, but is one of the most popular, if not the most popular lesson of the day." And not only are the elder scholars thoroughly acquainted with the doctrines and precepts of Christianity, but, though not converts, "their whole moral tone is raised; they acquire a regard for truth and honesty, and show themselves worthy of confidence." Although personal service in secular edu- A Native Christian head-master on the influence of Mission schools.

cational work is often a sore trial of patience to the ardent missionary, yet it must be remembered that almost all the leading men in the Native Christendom of India are the fruits of efforts of which such personal service formed an inevitable part.

The education of Native Christians, however, is not less important, and especially of Native Christian girls who will be the wives of the pastors and teachers and principal lay members of the Native Church; and the Committee thank God for the successful establishment of the Christian Girls' Boarding School by Miss Neele and Miss Sampson. Miss Neele's first report is very encouraging. There are thirty-four boarders and nine day scholars:—

Christian Girls' Boarding School.

> Our pupils vary in age from seven to eighteen, their studies varying accordingly, including Bengali and Sanscrit, besides all the usual branches of a higher English education. All learn singing, and six or seven take lessons on the piano; two of whom, being the daughters of ordained pastors, hope in time to be able to lead the choirs of their fathers' churches. We have at present only one drawing pupil. Needlework, of course, is not neglected, and cooking, though not entered in our list of studies, is not entirely overlooked. The Scripture lessons, which, of course, take a prominent place in our course of studies, are all given in Bengali, as best understood by the greater number of our pupils. The moral tone of our pupils is on the whole very good, due in great measure, I believe, to the influence of two or three elder girls trained from infancy in our school at Agarpara.

Bengal Divinity School.

The Divinity School, since its establishment four or five years ago by Mr. Blackett, has sent forth twenty Native agents into the field. During the past year its work has been again somewhat interrupted by the Principal's necessary attendance at the meetings of the Vice-Regal Commission on Education. On the other hand, Mr. Ball has been able to take some of the lectures; and he has now, on Mr. Blackett's departure for England, undertaken for the present the charge of the School. The loss of Mr. Blackett (even for a time only, as the Committee earnestly hope) will be keenly felt in Bengal. He has helped in several departments of the Mission, and his place cannot be easily filled. In particular, he has, since Mr. Vaughan's death, been Chairman of the Bengal Native Church Council, and in that capacity has visited the stations in Krishnagar and other parts of rural Bengal. He has prepared a series of Bible Lessons on Theology, for the use of Native pastors and senior catechists in instructing the agents and schoolmasters under them. He has been a member of the Bengali New Testament Revision Committee. And he has been editor and part writer of a series of tracts on the Teaching of the Church of England, which have been rendered necessary by the action of the clergymen sent out by the Oxford Mission in disseminating their peculiar views among Native Christians, and thus endeavouring to "build on another man's foundation," instead of confining their attention, as a new society without adherents of its own, to the unevangelized heathen. The Committee deeply regret that any occasion for such controversy should have arisen; but the responsibility does not rest with the Church Missionary Society.

Tracts on Church Teaching.

BURDWAN.

The pastor of the small congregation at this station, the Rev. Piari Mohun Rudra, is able to report advance in more than one direction. He has opened a good Anglo-Vernacular School at Bankurah, with funds entirely supplied by Native friends, Christians and Hindus; and a hundred boys have already been gathered, to whom regular Bible lessons are of course given. There has been only one adult baptism at Burdwan itself, that of a Mohammedan widow, the fruit of Mrs. Rudra's work in the hospital; but two others, at a place called Assensol, are especially interesting as the first direct result from the labours of the remarkable Christian fakir and voluntary evangelist mentioned last year, whose name is now given, Kali Charan. Partly through this man's influence a small congregation has already been gathered, which is kindly allowed by the English chaplain to worship in the station church. The first to be actually baptized are a man of the "Bourie class" and his wife:—

The remarkable work of a Christian Fakir.

> The man is earnest and simple in his faith, and has been behaving quite consistently with his profession. So great is his love for attending the Sunday services of the church that during the rains he would swim across a river in the rainy season, which flows between Assensol and his house. He tries also to influence others to come over to the Christian faith, and whenever he can he brings three or four people of his own class—I mean of the Bourie class. We expect that by God's blessing we shall in time gather in a large harvest of souls from among the Bouries, who abound in the district of Burdwan and Bankurah.

KRISHNAGAR.

The Krishnagar District has now four English missionaries. This is no retrogression from the Society's policy of training the Native Church gradually to walk alone. Only the missionary in general charge, the Rev. A. Clifford, as Chairman of the Native Church Council, superintends pastoral work, which is carried on by Native agents. One other, now the Rev. A. J. Santer, conducts the Training Institution which supplies the agents; and two, the Rev. H. Williams and the Rev. J. W. Hall, are wholly engaged in itinerating work among Mohammedans and Hindus.

The Annual Letters from Krishnagar are again decidedly encouraging this year, notwithstanding the low standard of spiritual life still visible in the large Native Christian community. Mr. Clifford is able, through the mercy of God, to report some signs of good: among them, the "preaching and singing expeditions" lately planned by some of the people, and organized and carried out entirely by themselves, and, "notably, the evening prayer-meetings which take place in the houses of the villagers at their own request":—

Village prayer-meetings.

> These gatherings are usually held in the little yards of the cottages, the men sitting on mats spread on the ground, the women in the verandahs of the house. The meeting is opened by the singing of a hymn, generally the composition of one of our Krishnagar poets, of whom we have several, and is followed by exhortation by the catechist, and prayers offered by some of the more intelligent laymen present, interspersed with more singing. In some villages, meetings of this description take place every evening, and are pretty well attended.

The Schools are numerous. There are ten designed chiefly for the children of Native Christians, and thirty-six whose purpose is evangelistic. The number of scholars is about 2500. Some important steps have been taken to make these agencies more efficient, both in an educational and a missionary sense. Some of the schools for heathen children have been handed over entirely to the teachers (Christians, of course), to be helped by a grant-in-aid dependent on the result of the Scripture examination—thus throwing more personal responsibility on the teachers. The Christian schools have also been placed on a self-government system, "disestablished but not disendowed," as Mr. Williams expresses it. The control of them has been put into the hands of the pastor or catechist of the village, assisted by a committee. "We have learned," he adds, "that our Native brethren are more fit to be entrusted with power than most Englishmen give them credit for." Mr. Hall writes:—

Self-governing schools.

Native capacity for self-government.

> At an interesting meeting of catechists and readers, held just after Christmas, I noted the following facts:—(i.) That Bengalis are by no means incapable of self-government, at least in such matters. (ii.) That having responsible charge, they work for success. (iii.) That in almost all cases a marked improvement had taken place in numbers, teaching, and receipts from children.

Mr. Williams has been assiduously engaged in his itinera-tions, and in the cold season Mrs. Williams accompanied him, with two Native Bible-women. "The women came in large numbers. The necessity of preaching in the villages," he adds, "is being impressed upon me more and more. The difficulty about their wives is now keeping three or four Mussulmans from baptism." The increasing interest taken by the Mohammedan population in the Gospel message continues, but it has only resulted in one convert in the past year; and that was a young man whose wife, since his baptism, has been separated from him. Itinerations. Moslem interest in the Gospel.

The usefulness of Native music and singing in evangelistic work is dwelt upon and illustrated by Mr. Clifford, Mr. Williams, and Mr. Hall. Mr. Williams writes:—

Singing hymns to Native tunes has become an important element in my work this year. It was formerly the practice in the Krishnagar district to discountenance Native music. Great efforts have been made to train the people to sing English tunes. The Western system of music is as little suited to the musical genius of the people, as English poetical metre to the genius of their language. Now that we encourage the people to sing in their own style, it is striking to see how heartily they take it up. It seems as if the missionary spirit in the Native Church, the absence of which we have so long mourned over, will be developed now that we encourage the people to express their religious feelings in their own way. Native music as an evangelistic agency.

The preachers and I almost invariably try to drive home by singing the truths we have preached. Considering that song has been the chief instrument for proselytizing used by the various Hindu sects, it is strange that we Church missionaries have neglected it so long. Missionaries of other Churches have not been so thoroughly possessed with the conservative spirit of forcing our English metres and tunes upon the Native Churches. Besides singing when out preaching during the day, it is my practice to take all my own servants and the men employed about the tents—who are all Christians, and form a little choir—into the villages after sunset. We sing and preach for two or three hours to large audiences. In fact we get hundreds by this means, where we should only get tens by preaching only.

Another plan is this: when we are near a Christian church we get a large company of Christians to come and spend the evening with us, singing and preaching to the heathen and Mussulmans. The good effect upon the Christians, in being associated with us in this way, I consider to be almost as important as the effect of their singing upon the heathen.

Mr. Hall also has now a large itinerating district, comprising 700 square miles, and containing a population of 375,000 souls in 542 villages. A large majority are Mohammedans, whom he finds quite ready to receive Gospel teaching, notwithstanding the opposition of the mullahs. The "slight knowledge of medicine" which he acquired while in the Islington College he finds "of infinite service." "In almost every village crowds of sick have surrounded Value of Medical knowledge.

my tent daily, and listened to the story of the great Physician." In the earlier part of the year he was still in charge of the Training School, which he has since handed over to Mr. Santer. This institution has given some trouble, but is now in a satisfactory condition. Mr. Clifford mentions that, in the last Christmas vacation, the Native head-master, Babu T. Biswas, with ten or twelve students, spent eight days in an evangelistic tour through the principal Mission stations, a pilgrimage of 45 miles.

Of the book-shop in the town of Krishnagar, Mr. Hall gives an interesting account:—

Christian book-shop.

In my last report I mentioned the opening of a shop in the bazaar for the sale of Christian literature. It is still in existence, and is, I trust, doing a good work. In March, 1883, I succeeded in hiring a building which had just been erected, and which was much more convenient and spacious than that previously occupied. It is splendidly situated on a spot where five streets meet, and consequently it forms a good preaching-station. A fair number of Christian books have been sold, and large numbers of tracts distributed at its doors. Many have heard the truth within its walls and from its verandah, and I trust it has been, to a certain extent, the means of accomplishing that for which it was intended, viz. the circulation of Christian truth.

At the back of the shop there is a fine, large room, which is decorated with Scripture-texts and furnished with benches, chairs, and school requisites. This also has been made good use of.

In the early part of the year a Sunday-school was opened, and about thirty-five to forty Hindus and Mohammedans attended regularly. A few months later a day-school was commenced, and now there are about fifty on the books. These are all taught the Bible daily.

Santal Mission.

The stations occupied by the Society in the Santâl country are five in number:—(1) TALJHÂRI, and (2) BAHÂWA, which have during the past year been under the charge of the Rev. J. Brown, with three Native pastors for the three congregations of Taljhâri, Chuchi, and Lakhipur, viz. the Revs. Bhim Hasda, William Sido, and Sham Besra. The Rev. F. T. Cole, who has lately gone back to India, is resuming his work at Taljhâri, and relieving Mr. Brown. (3) HIRANPUR, where the Rev. J. Blaich resides, and where, under his superintendence, the Preparandi Class for this Mission is carried on; (4) BHAGÂYA, which is the sphere of labour of the Rev. A. Stark; and (5) GODDA, which, with its pastor, the Rev. Ram Charan, has also been under his supervision, but where the Rev. A. J. Shields, at the end of his first year in the country, has now been stationed. The whole number of Native Christians exceeds 2200, of whom some 820 are communicants. There are seven Boarding Schools, with 350 children, and sixty day-schools, with about 1800 children in attendance.

Spiritual state of Santâl Congregations.

The spiritual condition of the Santâl congregations is of a very mixed character. Mr. Shields, who went out lately from the "spiritual noontide of England," as he expresses it, has felt the contrast presented by the "early dawn in India," with its comparative lack of warmth and brightness. Yet the dawn is the harbinger of the day; and tokens of good to encourage a young missionary in the ardour of his first entry into the battle have not been wanting. Mr. Shields has been cheered by "the friendship of a few dear Santâls at Taljhâri, whose faith and love are so simple, and so true, and so practical, that one's heart is gladdened, warmed, and strengthened by contact with them." Still, upon the whole Native Christian community an out-pouring of the Holy Spirit is needed: shall not the fervent prayers of the many friends of this Mission at home avail to bring it down?

Mr. Brown, who also passed from England to India only two years ago, but went to a country and people familiar to him from previous experience, likewise laments over some, while rejoicing over others; but he makes the latter the majority. Externally, the piety of the Christians has been witnessed to by regular attendance on the means of grace, devoutness of worship, liberality in giving (despite a bad rice-harvest). In connection with this last point it may be mentioned that of the Rs. 54 per month which is all that is needed for the pay of the three Native pastors in his district, Rs. 45 are paid from the local fund raised by the people themselves, and only Rs. 9 by the Society. That the faith of many of the Santâl Christians is one that will stand the supreme test of the hour of death has been shown in four interesting cases mentioned by Mr. Brown:—

Death-beds of Santâls.

"Of one of the youths of the Taljhari English school, who had latterly joined the Normal Class, I am told that when daily sinking under rapid consumption at his home in the interior, "the Bible was his constant companion and delight." His father is the venerable Rijha Haram, of Dhamni, well known to Messrs. Puxley and Storrs, the pioneers of the Santal Mission.

During last hot season a little girl, about ten years old, fell a victim, after long suffering, to chronic derangement of the spleen. She was a daughter of the pastor of Taljhari. On the day previous to her departure the dear child knew the time was near, and she said to her sorrowing father, "Dear father, do not weep for me; Jesus has called me, I am going to be with Jesus." We believe that little Rătnî Munî ("Jewel saint") was indeed a "saint of the Lord," and that she is one of those of whom the Lord has said, "They shall be Mine in the day when I make up My jewels."

At the close of the hot season passed away Lakhian, the wife of Paulus, a catechist of Taljhari. Lakhian was one of Mrs. Storrs' pupils. I remember her as quite a little girl in 1868. She suffered from fever and deranged spleen from 1880. She became a miserably emaciated object. During my visits to Taljhari, during the past year, I frequently attended her, and administered the Lord's Supper with the Word and prayer. I think I never saw in England a person on a death-bed with more confiding faith in God, with no sign of alarm at approaching death, with full consciousness and devoutly clasped hands and silently moving lips, speaking to her Lord in prayer. Her husband told me that her departure was, as her waiting, happiness and peace.

A young man of the Hindu blacksmith caste, but working as a village school-teacher, had gone to teach a school in the wilderness and ruins of Panduah, in the Maldah district, beyond the Ganges. Here he was seized with a rapid and fatal attack of consumption. He was carried to Taljhari. He was attended by the Rev. A. J. Shields, who bears witness that the young man died joyfully believing in Jesus.

Santâl Daily Prayer Union.

Mr. Brown again expresses his gratitude for the Daily Prayer Union founded by the Rev. Henry Law Harkness, of Worcester, which he says "has had a blessed effect on some of the Santâl Christian brethren and sisters." Another new agency is that of a Bible-woman, who has been set to work by Mrs. Brown, and supported by her friends at home. Evangelistic work of various kinds has been carried on, and among the fruits of it have been two chiefs—one of them the headman of a pargannah or district containing twenty-six villages—who were baptized during the year. Medical work is especially important among a primitive people like the Santâls, and both the dispensaries have been largely resorted to. That at Bahâwa has been worked by a young Christian Native doctor from Orissa, who has not only had 4016 attendances of patients, and who not only is "willing and active in going at all times considerable distances to visit urgent cases," but also "is most vigilant in lovingly setting forth the claims and worth of Jesus the Physician of souls." The dispensary at Taljhâri has been under the charge of Dr. W. P. Johnson, the English medical missionary sent out in the previous year; but he will probably be transferred to another station.

Native medical work in Santâlia.

The Pahâris.

The numbers already given of the Christians in this Mission include a good many converts from the Pahâri tribes of the hill-tops. The number of these is not separately stated; but the work among them is entirely distinct, requiring a different language, and loudly calling for one or more missionaries to take it up as their proper sphere.

According to the recent census, there are 94,000 of these people, inhabiting 250 square miles of hill and jungle. "If the Pahâris were well worked," writes the Rev. Ram Charan, "there would be much fruit; but where are the men?" Most of them are approached from Godda; and Mr. Stark, who has been residing there, has mastered their language sufficiently to preach in it. At Bhagâya, two out of the three boarding-schools are for Pahâri boys and girls, and have sixty-three inmates.

Linguistic difficulties of Santâlia.

The linguistic difficulties of the Mission, however, are not confined to the fact that these two races speak totally different tongues. The Hinduizing process is rapidly going on, and the language of the Hindus is required by the people for business purposes. But Santâlia is on the frontier line of the Bengali and Hindi languages, so both of them have to be taught in the schools. The Bible lessons, however, are always in the vernacular; and the preparation of Christian books is being assiduously carried on. St. Mark's Gospel in Santâli has been printed during the year.

BHAGALPUR.

The Rev. E. Droese, who is the patriarch of the Society's North India Mission (having first gone out in 1843, and joined the C.M.S. in 1849), and the Rev. A. W. Baumann, divide the work of this station in the way described in last year's Report. Bhagalpur, though in the Province of Bengal, has a Hindi-speaking population, and in that respect is linked to the North-West Provinces. It was also the original base of the Santâl Mission, and part of the work among the Pahâris is still carried on under Mr. Droese's superintendence. Of these hill people there is a congregation of forty-seven souls. It is Mr. Droese who has done almost all the translational work in the Pahâri language, Malto (which is neither Aryan, like Hindi and Bengali, nor Kolarian, like Santâli, but Dravidian, like the South Indian vernaculars). He has produced Pahâri versions of parts of the New Testament, and during the past year has translated for the S.P.C.K. portions of the Prayer-book and some hymns, besides compiling a grammar and vocabulary.

Pahâri translational work.

There are nearly 400 souls connected with Bhagalpur and its out-stations. The Satgurua Christians, of whom so much that is interesting has been mentioned in former Reports, continue to be well spoken of. The account of their leading man is curious:—

A stern Native Christian.

He is one of those characters who cannot easily make allowance for difficulties others have to contend with. He would always like to have excommunicated forthwith any one who does not quite come up to what he deems a Christian ought to be. He is, moreover, very touchy, and can ill brook any lack of respect shown to him. It would, however, seem that it has begun to dawn upon him that the Christian religion is meant not so much for saints as for sinners, and that the object of those who wish to promote the Lord's cause in a congregation must not be to cut off what is weak or ailing, but to remedy in the spirit of love any defects, and to lead back to the Good Shepherd any erring member of the flock. There seems also hope that the man by-and-by will understand, and be able to apply to himself, that whosoever shall humble himself as a little child, the same only can be great in the kingdom of heaven.

North-West Provinces.

Agra, commenced 1813; Mirât, 1815; Benares, 1817; Gorakhpur, 1823; Azimgarh and Jaunpur, 1831; Lucknow, 1858; Allahabad, 1859; Faizabad, 1862; Aligarh, 1863.

Such information as it is necessary to give concerning the Society's work in the North-West Provinces and Oudh generally, has been already given in the introduction to North India. The review of the stations may now at once be proceeded with.

BENARES.

The Rev. B. Davis continues in general charge of this old and important station. Most of the "institutions" which are so prominent a feature in the work are carried on by the Rev. J. and Mrs. Treusch. The Rev. F. E. Walton has superintended the Boys' Orphanage; but he is now removing to Faizabad. The Rev. J. J. Johnson is an evangelistic missionary to the superstitious and idol-loving people of the city. Mr. Davis reports on Jay Narain's High School, which keeps up its numbers fairly, notwithstanding the increasing rivalry of other schools. Of the Orphanages, Normal School, Industrial School, Sigra and city congregations, and out-stations, no report has been received. But Mr. Davis gives the statistics, which show 570 Native Christians (345 in last year's Annual Report was a misprint), of whom 151 are communicants; and 94 schools, giving instruction to 1006 boys, 435 girls, and 94 "seminarists," i.e. young women in the Female Normal School. There has been one interesting baptism. The convert, Lallah Singh, was in the employment, twenty years ago, of a Christian railway engineer, and by him was sent to St. Peter's College, the High School then carried on by the Church Missionary Society at Allahabad, where, with the secular instruction, he was taught the truths of the Gospel. He was afterwards engaged in business at various places, and became known to our missionaries as one convinced of the truth of Christianity, but kept back by earthly motives, particularly by the influence of two successive wives. Latterly he was a Hindu master in Jay Narain's School; and at length he publicly confessed Christ. He was baptized in the Ganges on April 22nd, 1883, his still heathen wife looking on, and a multitude of people. It was not given to him, however, to witness for his Saviour long upon earth. A few months afterwards God called him away. Mr. Davis has been engaged in translating Paley's Evidences into Urdu; and he was struck with the way in which its arguments seemed to lay hold of Lallah Singh. The work is to be issued by the North India Tract Society.

An interesting Baptism.

Paley's Evidences in Urdu.

One reference to Benares in a letter from the south of India must be quoted. Bishop Speechly, of Travancore and Cochin, having to go to Calcutta for the Conference of Bishops at the beginning of last year, visited some of the North India stations; and he writes, "Mr. and Mrs. Treusch's Normal School and Orphanage is one of the most beautiful things in mission work I have seen."

A Bishop's opinion on the Normal School and Orphanage.

GORAKHPUR.

The district of Gorakhpur, and that of its out-station Basti, contain three million souls. Among this population, considerably larger than that of Ceylon, the C.M.S. is the only society at work, and the C.M.S. has one missionary, the Rev. Henry Stern, who has laboured there for thirty-two years, and to whom almost all the results of the Mission, which are not small, have under God been due. There are altogether about 800 Native Christians. In the various schools there are 1057 boys and 310 girls. The High School is well worked by Native Christian masters, and has passed several pupils in the Government examinations. There are orphanages for boys and girls, with 118 and 130 inmates respectively. Three adult converts were baptized during the year; and another has been baptized elsewhere whose wife had kept him back for many years, "refusing to enter a religion which first made her a sinner, seeing that she was no sinner at all!" One of the converts, it is interesting to hear, was brought to Christ through the influence of some Christian fellow-servants :—

"No sinner at all."

Brought to Christ through fellow-servants.

He received his first impressions in a Mission school. He subsequently entered an indigo-planter's family as a servant. The lady of the house was kind to him, and taught him a little English. They afterwards took him to Scotland, where he remained in the same family for nearly a year. In this family there were pious domestics, who taught this young Hindu how to pray, and from the governess of the house he learned some Christian lessons when she taught the children on Sunday, and once he went into a church. He was so deeply impressed with the Christian ways in this family that he wished to be admitted into the Church, but he never told his master. Another English family, then about to return to India, engaged him as a servant, and he came with them to the Gorakhpur district. This family, also indigo-planters, live some fifty-four miles from the station, and last July, having been invited to visit this family for the purpose of baptizing a child, I made his acquaintance, when he told me that he wished to become a Christian! His employer—to whom he had already opened his heart—spoke very highly of this servant regarding his conduct, and was quite ready to allow him to come into the station for further instruction. He came in November last, and, after the most needful preparation and instruction, he was baptized at our weekly service. He was much impressed, and expressed his great joy and thankfulness at having had his desire at last fulfilled.

Many of the Gorakhpur Christians belong to the two Mission agricultural settlements of Basharatpur and Sternpur. At the former place there is a Native pastor, the Rev. Benjamin Tobit. Of the latter, and its new chapel, Mr. Stern gives a pleasant account :—

A new chapel at Sternpur.

The year 1883 closed with the opening for divine service of the new chapel at Sternpur, on St. John's Day. It will always be a memorable day in the history of this Mission. Two years ago all was dense jungle, and now a small Christian settlement occupies the place of the jungle-land. Eight more cottages were built during the year, so that there are now sixteen; and the church, with its two schoolrooms, one on either side, was completed, and was called St. John's. Over 600 Native Christians took part in the ceremony. The church, which was most tastefully decorated by some of the Christians, could not seat all who had come, as it has seats for only about 150; but as there were several services the people came in by turns. The magistrate of the district, Mr. J. Kennedy, himself the son of a missionary, was also present. There was a celebration of the Holy Communion, at which over 100 communicated. Towards the evening the whole community sat down to a well-prepared dinner, and fireworks completed the festival. The new village looked bright and gay with its many flags, and many heathens from the surrounding villages had come to see what was going on.

Mr. Stern again pleads that Basti may be again supported by the Society as a regular out-station. "As other stations have been resuscitated, so also let to Basti be re-extended the parental love." At this place Mr. Stern was lately invited by a young Hindu gentleman to dedicate his newly-built house by prayer to God. "No one else was present at this prayer-meeting besides us two, and I trust also the Lord Jesus Christ, according to His gracious promise." The young man, it is hoped, is a true inquirer, and is studying the Bible. A Hindu's house dedicated by prayer to God.

ALLAHABAD.

The Society's work in the capital of the North-West Provinces is now almost entirely connected with the Divinity School. The Revs. W. Hooper and H. M. M. Hackett have continued their labours in this institution. The course of study was described last year. This year, in dwelling on the importance of clear doctrinal teaching for those who are to be teachers, Mr. Hooper makes an interesting reference to a controversy which has been exciting attention in England, and which caused the Society some trouble not long ago in Japan :— North-West Provinces Divinity School:

The subjects, among those which I myself taught the upper class, which interested them most, were the Epistle to the Hebrews and Dogmatic Christology. As I took more than seven months teaching the former, three hours in the week, you can understand how minutely it was gone into; yet neither teachers nor learners could in the end regret that this inestimably precious and unspeakably important portion of God's Word was treated so carefully, and its every word almost weighed. Under the latter name I include all the doctrines of the Christian faith which concern the Person and work of our Lord. The importance in the case of many of them—especially the union of the natures in one Person, the relation of the Son to the Father, and the Atonement—of clear definite views, and of the Scriptural grounds of such views, cannot, I am sure, be possibly exaggerated in the present state of the Native Church, which, small as it is, seems already showing as great a power of, and tendency to, evolving all sorts of crude notions on these mysterious but yet momentous subjects, as the Greek Church did in the first ages. This leads me to say that I am so glad the Parent Committee took the decided stand they did against the "conditional immortality" taught in Japan. Though, in telling the students about this, I found that two of them had already imbibed that error (by their own reasoning, apparently, not from English people), yet I cannot believe that it will ever find a home in India. Certain I am, that if once our opponents in the bazaar had an inkling that what is called "Life in Christ" was held by some Christians, we should be unable to hold up our heads before them; for the natural immortality of the soul is such an axiomatic belief with all Hindus and Mussulmans, that the mere suspicion that Christianity taught otherwise would be sufficient for its condemnation, ipso facto, in their eyes. Studies;

The divinity students, as usual in India, are married men; and both Mr. and Mrs. Hooper find important work to do for the wives :—

Students' wives.

On Thursdays my wife has had all the women in her drawing-room for a mothers' meeting, they working while she reads or talks to them as best she can. She is also very frequently in and out of their houses, especially in times of sickness. On Saturdays I have one lecture less with the students, so in that hour I have the women to a Bible-class in my class-room. (At the time of both these women's meetings, the husbands stay at home and take care of the children, so that their mothers may be undistracted.) They have all joined the Children's Scripture Union, and read the appointed portions at home every day, marking what they do not understand; and at the meeting each is allowed to ask one question on anything in those chapters. This has the great advantage of making them all interested in all the questions, having all read the same. This class is attended also by a woman who assists Miss Seward, the American lady doctor here, in her dispensary and in zenana visiting. This gives an interest to the meeting which it would otherwise lack, for her questions generally arise from what is said to her in zenanas, which she cannot answer satisfactorily.

Evangelistic work.

Evangelistic work is regularly carried on by the students, under the direction of Mr. Hooper and Mr. Hackett. During the Christmas vacation last year, three weeks were occupied in continuous itineration in the surrounding country. There have been three interesting baptisms: (1) of the son of old Janaki Datt (whose history readers of the last two Annual Reports will instantly recall), but not as yet, what the old man has so earnestly longed for, of his wife; (2) of Abdullah, the Persian teacher mentioned last year; (3) of another Persian, a friend of Abdullah's.

Baptisms.

Of the Christian village of Muirabad, with its congregation of 580 souls, no direct report is to hand. The venerable pastor, the Rev. David Mohun—to whose "wisdom and devotion" Sir W. Muir bore public testimony at the Reading Church Congress—has now a curate, provided by the North-West Provinces Native Church Council. This clergyman, the Rev. Nathaniel Rahim Bahksh, is like some of the other Native brethren in North India, very earnest in the Temperance cause. Advantage was taken of the annual meeting of the Church Council being held at Allahabad in December last, to hold a public temperance meeting in the school-house at Muirabad, at which Mr. Hackett presided, and some of the Native clergymen and lay delegates spoke.

A Temperance Society formed.

A branch of the Church of England Temperance Society was formed, and twenty-four of the Christians, including two pastors (in addition to others previously admitted), became total abstainers on the spot. Religious Hindus abstain from all intoxicants; but the liberty which they gain when they become Christians has sometimes been abused, and for these the voluntary pledge is found a practical safeguard.

Mr. Hooper gives an interesting account of the Hindi literary work in which he has had a share :—

Hindi Bible and Prayer-book.

The Hindi New Testament and the Hindi Prayer-book have occupied a great deal of my time. One week in January, while the others were out itinerating, the members of the Hindi New Testament Retranslation Committee, being all but David Mohan members of other Protestant bodies of Christians, met every day for a week in this school, in order to lay a foundation for their future work by settling methods of procedure, and also agreeing on certain principles of translation, and the rendering of several important technical terms. The method of procedure decided on is one which will make the work extend over many years, but will make it much more valuable when finished, viz., for each book to be done throughout by all the translators, instead of different books being done preliminarily by different members.

The retranslation of the Hindi Prayer-book has occupied a larger portion of my time. For just six weeks, i.e. September and half October, the Committee appointed by the Bishop, of which four out of six were connected with the C.M.S. (viz. David Mohan, Madho Ram, Janaki Datt, and myself), sat for six hours a day at Ranchi, the headquarters of the Chota Nagpur Mission, the largest Hindi-speaking Church that there is, in the house of Mr. Whitley, the S.P.G. missionary there. We finished very satisfactorily, I think, all but the regular Epistles and Gospels, the Psalter, the Consecration of Bishops, and the Articles; and these we wish to do this year, so that the whole may be presented to the S.P.C.K. in a year's time from now. I have had to undertake the whole responsibility with regard to the fair copying out of the MSS., i.e. the copying has to be done under my direction and supervision. We are already using, in our services here, some few portions of this new version; and the improvement is a delightful one as a fitting medium for the expression of devotion.

LUCKNOW AND FAIZABAD.

Almost the whole burden of the Oudh Mission has, through another year, been borne by the Rev. G. B. Durrant. The Rev. W. Latham desired to throw himself into the work with all earnestness, but his health has from the first been such as to keep him very much laid aside. The Committee trust that he may yet be permitted to do good service. The Revs. Davi Solomon and William Seetal hold the important posts of pastor of the Native congregation of 300 souls and head-master of the High School. The educational work in Lucknow is very efficiently carried on. There are 516 boys and 56 girls in the schools. The evangelistic work is not what it should be, owing to the lack of catechists, Lucknow never having had restored to it the full grants it received before the reductions of 1880.

Faizabad once more has now a resident European missionary, the Rev. F. E. Walton having been lately transferred thither from Benares. One of the adults baptized at Lucknow in the past year was a Sikh from Ajodhya, the famous Hindu shrine near Faizabad. He is described as a promising man, and is now in the Divinity School at Allahabad.

Baptism of a Sikh.

AGRA, MATTRA, AND ALIGARH.

Under this head have to be noticed, not only the city of Agra itself, which is the oldest C.M.S. station in India, but also the village of Secundra, and the towns of Mattra and Aligarh, all three of which, though occupied by resident European missionaries, are regarded as attached to the Agra Mission. The staff has suffered a severe loss by the return to England in weakened health of the Rev. R. J. Bell. The arrival, therefore, of the Rev. G. E. A. Pargiter, M.A., who was sent out last autumn for the important work of St. John's College, was particularly timely; and he has now undertaken the Principalship, assisted, as Mr. Bell was, by the Rev. H. Lewis, and by Mr. A. H. Wright in the school department. The Rev. C. G. Daeuble and Mr. P. M. Zenker (the latter now residing at Mattra) divide the evangelistic itineration between them, each taking an extensive district. The Native Church, with its pastor, the Rev. Katwari Lall, "also claims," writes Mr. Daeuble, "a considerable part of my thoughts and prayers." Mrs. Daeuble superintends the Christian Girls' School, and Miss L. Ellwanger has continued her evangelistic girls' schools; but the latter has lately come home. Secundra and Aligarh have been the spheres of labour respectively of the Revs. J. Erhardt and J. W. Stuart; but the latter is now coming home on furlough.

St. John's College.

Mr. Lewis reports on St. John's College, and dwells with just enthusiasm on the real value, as a missionary agency, of superior education based on Christianity. He pleads for an extension of the usefulness of the College by means of scholarships to attract young men to the higher classes. The whole number of pupils continues large (last year it exceeded 500); but the seniors are comparatively few, being drawn to the Government College by the much greater chance of winning scholarships there. Small college classes involve a waste of strength, for the same staff must bestow the same labour on preparing and giving lectures as if the numbers were tenfold. Again, Mr. Lewis desires to see Mission Branch Schools established, which would be feeders to the College; and having the offer of a fine unused building, formerly a Presbyterian chapel, he determined to open one. Finding that, "for some inconceivable reason on other," the Society "rather discouraged further school work," he applied to friends for assistance. Sufficient funds were quickly supplied to educate 100 boys, and that number was soon obtained, and brought under the influence of Scriptural education. The Committee heartily rejoice at the success of this effort. It shows how easily the Society's grants may be supplemented by local help. Yet this help, and all the awakened interest and sympathy it indicates, would not have been elicited but for the Committee's refusal to make further grants,—a refusal, the "inconceivable" reason for which is the very simple one that the Society's resources are quite inadequate even to maintain its existing work. The Committee are glad also to observe that Mr. Lewis has begun the excellent plan of giving public lectures to educated Natives:—

Lectures to educated Natives.

The subject of the first lecture was "The Gospel of Jesus Christ not dependent upon circumstances for success." The Rev. H. P. Parker was fortunately in Agra at the time, and therefore occupied the chair. The venture proved a perfect success, about 200 Europeans and Natives being present. The next two lectures were on "Thirsting for God," when the abilities or qualifications of Hinduism, Mohammedanism, and Christianity to satisfy the spiritual needs of men were discussed. These also were appreciated and blessed. Other lectures are in course of preparation, which I hope to deliver from time to time as opportunities occur. The work of lecturing to English-speaking Natives is not recognized so much as its importance demands. In every good-sized Indian town there are always large numbers of these men, and lecturing seems to be the only means of bringing Christian truth home to them. They never stop to listen to preaching in the bazaar; such an act would compromise their dignity; they never read religious books, indeed their English education, obtained as it often is in godless Government institutions, strips them of all religion; but they will readily attend an English lecture, for thereby they come under the head of "educated Natives," a piece of vanity which, however injurious to the individual, is certainly advantageous to the missionary.

Results of School work:

Mr. Bell has also written an interesting report since his return to England. He dwells on the good influence of the Christian Boys' Boarding School under Mr. A. H. Wright, and on the work of the Haileybury Lecturer in the College (supported by Haileybury School), a Native named Samuel Thomas. He mentions some cases of encouragement among present and former scholars, particularly that of an ex-pupil who was found to have embraced the Gospel after he had left, and to have been baptized elsewhere, and that of a Brahmin now in the College, who came in a bigoted Hindu, not concealing his contempt for Christianity, but who is now devoutly reading the Bible, and has introduced one of the Zenana ladies to teach his wife to read also.

The indirect influence of Mission High Schools receives striking illustration from a passage in Mr. Daeuble's Annual Letter. While making, in the early part of the year, his first complete circuit of the rural districts round Agra, and "drawing an invisible line round the whole, not by preaching only, but by prayer to the Lord to take possession," he stopped a day or two at a town called Fathiabad. Here he was not well received, the local officials being hostile. Some months afterwards he visited it again, and found the officials had been transferred; and quite a new experience awaited him:—

> It was a most agreeable surprise when, on going to the bazaar, I was told that the chief official was very anxious to see me, as he believed he had known me long ago. He received me most heartily, and, as I did not at once recognize him, reminded me that he used to visit me frequently, twenty-three years ago, when he was a boy attending our Jay Narain's College at Benares, in a house which I had taken in the centre of the Benares city, and had read St. John's Gospel with him in Latin. Very gradually the remembrance of the lively, talkative boy dawned upon me, together with the high, five-storied house where I used to spend three whole days in the week, twenty-three years ago, and now the boy is a man, and has become a high official! How grateful he still is for the little kindness I then showed to him, and which I scarcely remember. On hearing that my wife had come with me, he at once asked her to see his wife. As soon as he heard that my dear wife was giving medicine to the sick who applied to her, he at once gave a liberal donation towards this object. He came the next morning to our tent to return the visit, and we postponed our march eastward for a few days. Every day we went to his house in the evenings. He had only lately arrived from Mîrat. "When you come here next time," he said, "you must come and stay in my house, where I shall give you an upper story to live in." How one's hopes are raised by meeting a man like this! On taking leave he promised to keep our renewed friendship warm by frequent correspondence, and also asked me to pray for him.

Bazaar-preaching and musical services in chapels are also carried on in Agra itself under Mr. Daeuble's superintendence. The work among the Chamars (workers in leather) and Sweepers, too, with which the late Mr. Shackell's name is so inseparably connected, has lately been revived. The first of the Sweeper converts, Radhu, who is now nearly blind of old age, "but knows a great deal of the Gospel [i.e. Gospels] by heart," has a weekly meeting at his house; and his daughter is employed as a Bible-woman. Five adults were baptized during the year, one of them a Mohammedan soldier, who had been in the Egyptian campaign of 1882, in one of the Sepoy regiments.

The Chamars and Sweepers.

Secundra has had a year of trial. Mr. Erhardt gives a touching account of an invasion of cholera into the orphanage, which, through the mercy of God and the prompt measures taken, only carried off one of the children who were attacked. A lady sent out for Zenana work in the villages by the Berlin Ladies' Society rejoiced all hearts by her earnestness, but after a month's residence fell ill and died. On the other hand, the 500 souls, adults and children, under Mr. and Mrs. Erhardt's pastoral care, have given them cause to thank God by their quiet Christian lives; the colporteurs on Colonel Roxburgh's Fund have worked hard and successfully, and sold large numbers of Scriptures and tracts; and a Native doctor has been brought to Christ and baptized.

Cholera in the Secundra Orphanage.

Baptism of a Native doctor.

Mr. Zenker's establishment of his residence at MATTRA is a forward move of some importance. It is a city of 64,000 inhabitants, the traditional birthplace of Krishna, and consequently a place of great sanctity. "Every inch of its ground is sacred to the Hindu who journeys from it as a centre to the shrines of Brindaban, Gobardhan, and Gokal. Uninfluenced by European civilization, it is behind even the most backward cities of North India. It is owned in toto by those whose interest it is to uphold Hinduism, and who throw every barrier in the way of innovation." The great temple is believed to receive in offerings Rs. 9000 a day, no small portion of which, remarks Mr. Zenker, "is made up of paisas (a copper coin, of which 64 go the rupee) and cowries (a shell, of which 64 make a paisa)!" The life led by the hundreds of priests is reported to be such as cannot be even indicated. "And yet," says Mr. Zenker, "I have heard on good authority that Christian books are secretly read in this temple." In the attack upon this stronghold of Satan, he is assisted by his sister, who works zealously in the superintendence of Bible-women, &c. The ladies of the Female Education Society stationed there also render valuable help. May not fervent prayer bring the animating word even concerning Mattra, "I have much people in this city"?

A sacred city.

The daily offerings to a Hindu temple.

The special evangelistic meetings at ALIGARH, begun by Mr. Stuart a year and a half ago, and noticed in the last Annual Report, have been continued, and have proved highly attractive. Mr. Stuart thus describes them:—

> The large night-meetings have, with hardly a break, been kept up through the year. We were most fortunate in having a friend, a member of the East India Railway establishment, who was associated with us in these meetings from the very first, and who was very enthusiastic on the subject, and so kept them up in our absence. It was he who provided the large commodious bullock-van which took our party through the town, singing to the accompaniment of a concertina played by himself, as we went to the meeting. At the head of this lecture-room we have a commodious platform for our English friends and all our Native helpers, with a projecting portion in the centre, which accommodates the harmonium; myself as the director of the proceedings on one side; and the speaker for the time being on the other. Then immediately opposite, at the extreme end of the hall, are raised seats tier upon tier, so that the most distant in the room can see as well as those who are near. "Major" Tucker, no mean judge of such things, pronounces the room capable of holding 500 people. By the way, he himself had a meeting in this hall one night, and although he was alone, yet the hall was packed from end to end. We have no attraction to offer but that of plain men giving plain addresses, and yet our meetings are generally very large.

A Parsee's gift.

A Parsee gentleman of Calcutta, passing through the station, was present at one of these meetings one night. After the service he came and introduced himself, and said he wished to help us in some way. The next day he sent us six arm-chairs from the Parsee shop in the station, as he thought our sitting accommodation scanty.

I regret to say that the friend referred to, of the East India Railway, has been transferred to another station, so that we are thrown more upon our own resources, but we marshal a number of little children whom we have taught to sing a Hindustani version of Sankey's well-known hymns; and this, with the harmonium played by my wife, the drum by myself, and the tambourine by some one else, seems to answer our purpose very well. There is also a self-constituted band of our friends the Chamars. They come sometimes an hour before the time, and sing their bhajans to the accompaniment of various strange instruments for the edification of those who are early like themselves.

A Native Hymn-book.

We are getting 300 hymn-books (a collection of over fifty hymns, carefully selected by ourselves in the three Native characters, Hindi, Urdu, and Persian) printed. These have often been asked for by our audience, and will, we hope, give an impetus to our work. A barrel-organ would be, to my mind, perfection in such work; therefore I am getting one from home, for which, I am glad to find, money has been raised.

The Native pastor of the small congregation at Aligarh is now the Rev. Nemi Solomon, who was ordained at Allahabad on January 6. He is an Aligarh man, has worked there as a catechist for many years, and taught Mr. Stuart the language on his first arrival.

MÎRAT.

The Rev. G. H. Weber, who has succeeded the Rev. L. T. H. Hoernle, reports on this station, or rather district, for one of its out-stations is 150 miles off. Mr. Weber gives a compendious account of the multifarious work going on, and of some of his own plans for increasing its efficiency; but even of this compendium only some brief fragments can be included in this Report:—

We found so many churches and congregations waiting for us that we should have liked to multiply ourselves in order to be able to attend to them all. There is the Church of St. Thomas in the Mission compound, St. Paul's in the cantonments, and the neat little churches in Maliana and Kankerkhera, the one near the cantonment railway station, the other near the city. There is the small Christian colony with its church at Ikla, and the large colony with its beautiful church at Annfield—150 miles off in the Doon—not to speak of the small stations, Ghaziabad, Pilkua, Sabli, and Massoorie. There is in Mîrat the High School, the Boarding-house for Christian boys, and that for Christian girls just begun by Mrs. Weber, the mixed school for Christian children on the Mission premises, and another, like it, at Annfield; with a number of smaller schools in the different out-stations, and the Anglo-vernacular Middle School in Ghaziabad. There is the poverty, the ignorance, and vice of the poor Christians, at Kankerkhera and Maliana especially; the inefficiency of Native agents in charge of them; the repairs of churches, schools, and other buildings at the different Mission stations; the keeping of many accounts. These things crowding together seem indeed a power at which the single-handed missionary stands aghast.

We have initiated the following measures for the improvement and stirring up of our Mission workers and the churches generally :— Measures for increase of zeal.

(1) The second Sunday in the month, when, according to custom, the readers come in from the out-stations to receive their pay, is followed on the Tuesday by a day of prayer, or, as some might call it, a retreat; Monday being occupied with accounts and payments.

(2) I have begun a Bible-meeting twice a week for the instruction of the catechists, at which those from the nearer out-stations also attend. We are at present going through the Epistle to the Romans.

(3) There are now in the near out-stations Bible-classes held twice a week by the Native pastor.

(4) Mrs. Weber has tried to instruct the Christian women by gathering them all together for a Bible-class once a week, and for a general tea once a month.

The evangelistic work has been carried on without much interruption. Our catechists have gone twice a day to the bazaars, and two of them have itinerated for one week in every month, even during the hot weather.

The different annual fairs in the district and neighbourhood were as usual visited; and we were able to do a little itinerating among the villages on our way to Ikla, viâ Ghaziabad, and homewards viâ Pilkua and Haupur.

The educational department has been quietly at work, the only new feature being the Girls' Boarding School, now in good working order, under a really efficient mistress from the Society's Normal School, Benares.

One other fact of interest must be mentioned, namely, that H.R.H. the Duchess of Connaught honoured the Mission with her presence on the occasion of the annual Christmas festivities, including a distribution of gifts to widows and orphans, and a Christmas tree for the children. "She expressed herself much pleased with all she saw." Duchess of Connaught at Mîrat.

JABALPUR.

THIS is the only C.M.S. station for general missionary work among Hindus and Mohammedans in the great territory known as the Central Provinces. The Rev. J. P. Ellwood is the missionary in charge, and the Rev. Madho Ram is the pastor of the Native congregation of 128 souls. Mr. Ellwood has sent a long and interesting report. Under the head of evangelistic work, he gives some glimpses into the condition of the Native mind, the mind, that is, of the more educated classes. There is in his opinion a gravitation towards "something like Christianity," but what form this "something like" may take is very uncertain. "We shall all be Christians in fifty years," said one man to him, "but it may not be your kind of Christianity." Yet the conversations with men of this class are always, he says, on the subjects of "sin, the sinner, and the Saviour;" and that the proclamation of Christ's salvation does tell is often evident in their faces. "Men may fight against their convictions, but there is always the dread suspicion that it may be true after all."

"All Christians in fifty years."

Not less interesting is the work among the simpler people of the villages. Mr. Ellwood speaks very favourably of his Native evangelists, who are familiar and pointed in their style of speaking, and quick to parry objections and meet difficulties. At one village, hidden away in the jungle, a remarkable incident occurred. They were received by an old man who could not at first believe that the visitors wished to speak to the people, but, having grasped the idea, sent the village watchman round to assemble them, and meanwhile told strange stories about the Thugs, whom he knew in his youth. At length, the people having gathered round, the catechist, Isaac Vincent, addressed them:—

Striking scene at a village.

> Well did our Native brother carry his congregation with him. His knowledge of their ways and doings, coupled with his practical knowledge of their religious teaching, almost carried them by storm. They were perfectly astonished to hear such a wonderful revelation as that conveyed in the Gospel message. "What must we do?" they asked. "Give up your idols, repent and believe the Gospel," was the reply. "How are we to begin?" they again asked. "By casting away your idols," said Vincent. The old man nodded his approval, and beckoned the speaker to go on. The catechist then appealed to them most touchingly, and besought them to show their native courage by acting up to their convictions.

We rose to leave; they followed us till we stood opposite to the "kher mai," or altar dedicated to the goddess of the village. It was a small platform, in which had been placed a young sapling, and on which was still to be seen the offerings of her devotees. "Here is the altar dedicated to your village goddess, which, indeed, you actually call God, although it is only the work of men's hands," said he. "What has it done for you? Now, brothers, show your appreciation of this message from God by tearing down this thing so hateful in the sight of your Heavenly Father."

The idol broken:

There was a pause. At last a devotee of the goddess said, "We believe what you say, but we are afraid the goddess might punish us." "If you are really afraid, and I believe you are, give me permission." "We give you leave," was the emphatic reply. The word was no sooner given than our Christian brother tore down the remnants of idolatry, and seated himself ultimately on the platform dedicated to the goddess of the village. "Now let your goddess avenge herself on me, and let all know that Jesus is God, the only Saviour of sinners!" They looked at our brother in utter amazement, expecting he would fall down dead.

This bold act of iconoclasm might not always be judicious, but the effect on these villagers was manifest. Next morning, when they found the catechist hale and hearty, they said, like the Samaritans of old, "Now we believe that Jesus Christ is the Saviour of the world." Of such villages there are thousands, and of such people millions: what a harvest might be reaped if there were men to send to them! At one place, Murwara, which is rapidly rising to importance on account of its mineral wealth and its having been selected for a railway centre, is stationed a catechist, of whom, and of his wife, Mr. Ellwood writes:—

"Now we believe."

Peter and Annie.

Raghunath Peter and his wife are now at work at Murwara, and it is wonderful how well they have been received. Annie is paid by the Church of England Zenana Mission, and is working under my dear wife. We have just visited the place in our itinerations, and Mrs. Ellwood tells me it is astonishing how well Annie has got on amongst the women. Both Peter and Annie are devoted to their work, and have a great influence, not only amongst their fellow-countrymen, but also amongst Europeans and Eurasians. They are in earnest, and earnestness is always admired, even by those who affect to despise it. One lime merchant assembles his coolies on Sundays in order to enable Peter to preach to them. We trust the others will soon follow his example. A small Sunday-school has been started by Annie, and the people ask for a church. This is only a small beginning, but the future is bright and hopeful.

The High School and other schools, the Book depôt, the Native Church dispensary, the evangelistic gatherings in the house of Pundit Jagganath, the mothers' meeting, the colporteurs employed by the North India Bible Society, the Bible-women on the F. R. Havergal Fund, and other agencies and agents, find mention in Mr. Ellwood's report, but space will not allow of their being further particularized here. The Committee thank God for the Jabalpur Mission, and pray that His richest blessing may be vouchsafed to it.

MANDLA (GÔND MISSION).

It has been a great disappointment to the Committee that their efforts to reinforce the Gônd Mission have hitherto been unsuccessful, from various causes. This is the more to be deplored because the work to be done is of two kinds, which it is not possible for one man to combine. The Rev. H. D. Williamson is most persevering in what must always be the chief method of evangelizing a wild jungle people, itineration. But an itinerant missionary cannot conduct a boarding-school; and this is what is now specially needed.

The Gônds:

The Gônds have been reached: the first step has been gained. More than that, although none have as yet been baptized, a large number have cast away their idols and "taken the name of Jesus Christ," as they express it. If some of their boys were now taken into a Christian home, the next step.

and patiently taught and trained, a nucleus would be formed for the band of Gônd Christian teachers who in the future must be the chief evangelizing agency. The Committee earnestly trust that the Lord Himself will presently point out the man after His own heart for a work of so much promise.*

Meanwhile Mr. Williamson works on alone—yet not alone, for the Spirit of God is manifestly moving on the people:—

Village preaching:

Our village preachings continue to be most successful, both in the interest shown and the number that assemble. In many villages every male inhabitant, without exception, comes to listen, and if the children begin to play or make a disturbance they are immediately silenced or sent off elsewhere. The coloured pictures and a small musical box, which I exhibit in the evenings, are a never-failing source of delight, and I am glad to say a magic-lantern with Scripture slides is on its way out from England, which will draw together hundreds of Gônds every day. At our Sunday morning services in camp also we always have, besides our heathen servants, a large congregation of villagers, who kneel with us in prayer, and stand when we stand to sing with every appearance of reverence.

The remarkable Gônd fakir mentioned in last year's

* One of the Islington men going out in the autumn is now appointed to this post.

Annual Report, seems now likely to be—perhaps ere this actually is—the firstfruits of his race for Christ:—

A Gônd Fakir asks for baptism.

The Bhoi Baba of Banguar, whose interesting case I spoke of in my last letter, has so far justified my hopes that he is not only as much in earnest as before, but is now strongly desirous of being baptized. I do not think it will be necessary or advisable to prolong his time of probation much longer, and I trust, by God's mercy, that he may soon be a baptized member of Christ's favoured Church, and the firstfruits of a glorious harvest in the future. He now always carries about with him a New Testament, which I gave him, tied up in a cloth over his shoulder; and this he reads most patiently, though he says there is much that he cannot understand. He says, "I am waiting for more light." May the Holy Spirit give it him! In August he came into Mandla and paid me a three days' visit—staying over the Sunday and attending all the services—together with three other Gônds, one of whom is also deeply in earnest and the owner of a village near Banguar. I had long conversations with them, and showed them all over my bungalow, which delighted and amazed them exceedingly: the harmonium they evidently appreciated very much, as they sat down on the carpet and seemed prepared to listen for any length of time. I wish more of them would come into Mandla to see me, but they are very timid.

KHAIRWARRA (BHEEL MISSION).

The Committee have not received detailed information regarding this Mission. The Rev. C. S. Thompson has been labouring very earnestly. The Rev. G. Litchfield, who has been appointed an additional missionary to the Bheels, has not yet reached Khairwarra, having stayed at Benares while arrangements for house accommodation for himself and Mrs. Litchfield were being made, but is meanwhile studying Hindi.

Bishop French in England.

THE Committee have had the great pleasure during the year of welcoming their beloved and honoured friend, and fellow-worker for the last thirty-four years, the Bishop of Lahore, on his first visit to this country since his consecration. They have had the advantage of conference with him upon the position, prospects, and management of the important C.M.S. Missions in his diocese; and they most earnestly desire that such an increase of men and means may, by God's mercy, be vouchsafed to the Society as will enable them to strengthen and extend the work to the extent urged upon them by the Bishop. They wish also that the necessity were not laid upon them of watching every detail of the expenditure, and requiring their direct sanction to be sought for every outlay, however small. This constant check upon zeal and enterprise is a real trial to the ardent missionary, and the Committee are only too conscious of having in this way caused distress to their brethren in the Panjâb as in other fields. Yet it is only by such vigilant care that the Society's Missions can be maintained at all. As regards the supply of men, the Committee will rejoice indeed if Bishop French's fervent appeals should result in the addition to Christ's army in the Panjâb of many who should be marked by the high spirituality and unreserved self-sacrifice which the Bishop so fearlessly sets forth as the standard of godliness for the missionaries of the cross.

The Committee are thankful for the measure of health and strength graciously continued to another beloved friend and missionary of thirty-three years' standing, the Rev. Robert Clark, who has laboured during the year with unabated devotion in his important office of Secretary to the Panjâb and Sindh Corresponding Committee. They feel how inadequately the Society responds to the unceasing entreaties and unanswerable reasonings by which Mr. Clark would draw increased help to the Mission which he himself founded in 1851, and for which he has done so much. He has this year laid that Mission, and the whole Society, under a fresh debt of gratitude for his admirable book entitled Thirty Years of C.M.S. Work in the Punjab and Sindh. Only a limited number were printed (in India) for private circulation; but it is to be hoped that another edition, for general use, may be issued in this country. It cannot but produce a deeper and wider interest in the work of God described in its pages, and thus serve its avowed purpose of winning missionaries for the Panjâb and funds for the support of their enterprise. Mr. Clark's Thirty Years of C.M.S. Work.

The European staff of the Mission has been weakened by the retirement of the Rev. J. S. Doxey, late of Kashmir, and the return home of the Rev. A. T. Fisher, who superintended much of the educational work in Amritsar. The Rev. T. P. Hughes has also come home on furlough after nearly twenty years' service at Peshâwar, a period unprecedented in that trying climate, and uninterrupted except by two short visits to England. On the other hand, the Rev. F. A. P. Shirreff has returned to his post at Lahore; and three new missionaries have been sent out, the Rev. A. G. Norman, M..A, to Amritsar, and the Revs. A. W. Cotton and T. Holden for Hydrabad and Peshâwar respectively.

One of these appointments, that to Peshâwar, is on the Extension Fund, in virtue of the special subscription of 600*l.* a year from a friend of the Rev. W. H. Barlow, first given in 1881, to maintain two additional missionaries on the Afghan Frontier. One of the two men sent out in that year on this fund the Committee have been obliged to transfer to Kashmir to fill a vacancy; and they have accordingly filled up his place. The other of the two has also been transferred to a settled station, Pind Dadan Khan; but in lieu of him, one of the other younger men, the Rev. C. Merk, has been appointed to a new station, Khanpur, a promising outpost whence to reach the mountain tribes. In his book already noticed, Mr. Robert Clark has a very striking chapter on the Society's Frontier Line of Missions, which make almost a semi-circle, beginning at Simla and Kôtgûr and Kangra in the Himalayas, to the north-east, on to Kashmir in the north, round to Peshâwar on the north-west, thence along the Afghan and Beluch Frontier by Bannu, Dera Ismail Khan, Dera Ghazi Khan, and the out-stations of the Mûltân Mission, down to Sindh, where Hydrabad and Karâchi complete the line to the south-west. He justly points out the vast importance of these Frontier stations, not only in themselves, but as the gates into many countries of Central Asia, Thibet, Yarkund and Kashgar, Turkestan, Kafiristan, Afghanistan, Beluchistan. These The Frontier Missions.

gates, now mostly closed, may open at any moment. "Our attitude," says Mr. Clark, "should be one of quiet, thoughtful expectation and preparation. The motto, Semper paratus, which was that of one of our greatest chiefs, and which is practically the motto of every Frontier Regiment, should be ours also."

Transfer of Batâla to C.M.S.

The return home of the Rev. F. H. Baring not only removes one of the most self-sacrificing labourers for Christ in the Panjâb, but has required the transfer of one of the Society's own missionaries, the Rev. H. U. Weitbrecht, to Batâla, to undertake his work. Mr. Baring has, however, made over the resources of the Batâla Mission to the Society, and has most kindly arranged to continue to defray the expenses of it. This brings Batâla back on to the Society's list of stations, and adds the Rev. Nobin Chunder, the pastor under Mr. Baring, to the list of Native clergy. The Committee cannot but hope that in the providence of God the way may yet open for Mr. Baring's resumption hereafter of his work in India. Meanwhile, Miss C. M. Tucker (A. L. O. E.) the well-known honorary missionary of the C.E.Z.M.S., who has laboured by his side at Batâla, has paid a just tribute to him in the Lahore Church Gazette. "If works begun in faith and prayer," she wrote, "result in what brings glory to God and benefit to man, the missionary who never courted but shrank from human praise will rejoice with those who are privileged to complete what he began."

Panjâb Native Church Council.

The Panjâb Native Church Council held its Annual Meeting (the eighth) for the first time at Peshâwar, on Dec. 28th and 29th. Reports were presented by the Native clergy and lay agents, and papers were read as follows:—on the Prospects of the Children of Native Christians, by Mr. G. Lewis, Mr. Sher Singh, and Dewan Sahib Dyal; on Lord's Day Observance, by the Rev. Imad-ud-din; on Mutual Help in spiritual matters, by Mr. Mya Dass; on the Training of Agents by Native Pastors, by the Rev. Mian Sadiq; on Christian Literature, by Mr. Abdullah Athim; and on Medical Missions, by Dr. H. M. Clark.

The Council on the Lord's Day.

The Rev. Imad-ud-din's paper on the observance of the Lord's Day is a very interesting and able one, and after a discussion on the subject, the following resolution was adopted by the Council:—

> That in our judgment the Christians in the Panjâb should keep holy the Lord's Day, by avoiding all unnecessary work and all unnecessary travelling on that day; by engaging in special services for worship and instruction; and by striving, according to our Lord's example, to do all the good to others that they can."

The statistical returns for the year show a total of 1531 Native Christian adherents, of whom 499 are communicants. There were 36 adult baptisms in the year. The contributions of Native Christians amounted to Rs. 2312. There are 76 schools of all grades, employing 51 Christian teachers, and educating more than 5000 scholars.

It is encouraging to observe how large a sum is raised locally in the Panjâb in aid of the Society's Missions. More than one-third of their entire cost is defrayed from local resources. This, however, includes school fees, Government school grants, and other miscellaneous receipts, together about Rs. 63,000. But more than Rs. 25,000 was freely given in subscriptions, donations, and church collections, chiefly by English officers and civilians on the spot.

Large contributions by English residents.

A very earnest appeal for more missionaries for the Panjâb is made in the report of the Rev. Mian Sadiq, who works at Jandiala under the Native Church Council. His touching words must be quoted :—

A Native clergyman's appeal for men.

I would like to prefer a request to the Home Church, and it is this, that the present state of the Panjâb demands a great deal of compassion and pity; for most of the worthy workers in the districts are necessitated either by sickness, or by some other causes, to leave this country. We think of great plans, and put our hands to the plough, but unhappily fail to succeed in the full accomplishment of our desires, for want of really good and efficient men. We certainly require many more such men; for without such help our work is likely to suffer very much. The Church in England perhaps thinks that the Indian Church ought to produce such men. The Churches in India are not yet so strong as to be able to stand on their own feet and do the whole work as it should be done. There are certainly some men, who at all events are trying to do their best; but as yet we are very weak, and require to be fully supported. I ask for this help from the Church of England in the name of the country of the Panjâb. The necessities of the country demand it; for to many thousands and tens of thousands of people there is at present hardly one preacher available. The people at home are well able to supply this paucity of men, and should not leave us yet to do the work by ourselves, but help us by sending more like Mr. Bateman and Mr. Baring, nay three times as many more men, so that the work of the Lord may not suffer. They should pray for the churches here as well, that the Spirit of God may be very largely poured upon them, as without this help it is very difficult to see the work of the Lord prosper in this country. Let England lend the helping hand, and in God's due time the Panjâb will be evangelized.

AMRITSAR.

Varied agencies at a great centre.

At this great central station, the various Mission agencies enumerated in former reports have been carried on during the year with no abatement of energy and with many tokens of the Lord's blessing. The High School, branch schools, book-shop, colportage, &c., superintended, until his recent return home, by the Rev. A. T. Fisher, and now by the Rev. A. G. Norman, who went out last winter; the Medical Mission of Dr. Henry Martyn Clark; the Alexandra Christian Girls' Boarding School, the Lady Lawrence Girls' Schools, and the Girls' Orphanage, worked for the C.M.S. by the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S.; the lectures and literary productions of the Christian maulavi, the Rev. Imad-ud-din; the multifarious labours, evangelistic, pastoral, educational, and literary, of the Rev. T. R. Wade as missionary in general charge of the station; and outside Amritsar itself, the itinerant evangelization carried on by the Rev. E. Guilford and the Rev. Mian Sadiq, and the Christian village of Clarkabad and Boys' Boarding School superintended by Mr. H. F. Beutel:—all these have gone steadily on, with the animating presence in the midst of Mr. Robert Clark himself, but with the deep consciousness in every heart that in God's work man is but the instrument in His hand, and that "except the Lord build the house, they labour in vain that build it."

The reports of these varied agencies are encouraging. Mr. Wade gives some interesting items of information. The Mission church has been enlarged, and on Christmas Day last, after its re-opening, it was crowded, 300 Christians being present, and a throng of Mohammedans, Hindus, and Sikhs in the part railed off for them. A number of these are now in regular attendance, and listen attentively to the preaching of the Gospel. Bible-classes for men and women, lectures, prayer-meetings for catechists, open-air preaching, &c., give Mr. and Mrs. Wade and their Native helpers abundant occupation. They have lately been joined by Mr. Abdullah Athim, a leading Native Christian, as an honorary worker. "He was an Extra Assistant-Commissioner under Government, and has now retired upon a pension. His extensive knowledge of the country and people has been of great service in the Mission, and he labours incessantly in the cause of Christ. He has published another work, called Nikal-i-Islam-Ahmadiya, 'The Strictures of Islamism,' in which he combats the most recent objections to Christianity." There have been twenty-one adult baptisms. Some of the new converts have been much persecuted, and two, a silk-weaver and his wife, had to be sent away by night to Ludhiana to save them from violence. Mr. Wade's important labours in translating the New Testament into Kashmiri will be noticed under the head of Kashmir.

An honorary Native worker.

Rev. Imad-ud-din's literary work;

The Rev. Imad-ud-din's literary work has included an Urdu translation of the Apology of Al Kindy, the important Arabic defence of Christianity discovered two or three years ago, and introduced to the English public by Sir W. Muir. Imad-ud-din says, "It is a very interesting work, and likely to be useful both to Mohammedans and Christians, particularly to those who are seeking after the truth, and thoughtfully studying the real substance of Islamism." Here the Committee must record, with great satisfaction, the bestowal on this excellent clergyman, by the Archbishop of Canterbury, of the degree of D.D., "in consideration," says the official notice, "of his eminent services in connection with literary work among the Mohammedans of India as a scholar, expositor, and writer on Christian evidence." Dr. Imad-ud-din, as is well known, was once a Mohammedan fakir, and was baptized in 1866. He is the first Native of India who has received a degree in divinity.

Degree of D.D. conferred on him.

Schools and scholars.

Miss Swainson, of the C.E.Z.M.S., reports that there are 65 girls in the Alexandra Christian Boarding School, and 46 in the Orphanage. To the staff of the former has been added Miss Marian Gray, daughter of one of the Society's Clerical Secretaries. Miss Wauton, also of the C.E.Z.M.S., reports on the eight Lady Lawrence Schools, in which there are 251 girls, viz. 86 Moslems, 83 Sikhs, 79 Hindus, and 3 Christians.

Dr. Clark's Medical Mission:

Dr. Henry Martyn Clark's Medical Mission is established both in the city of Amritsar and in the villages of Jhandiala and Clarkabad. In all three places it is resorted to by crowds, especially at Jhandiala, where, Mr. R. Clark reports, there were 20,000 out-patients in eleven months ending August 31. In Amritsar, besides some thousands of out-patients, there were 150 in-patients in the eight months ending at that date. Dr. Clark fully carries out the Society's principle that the medical missionary is first a missionary and secondly a doctor; and he has earnestly used the influence his skill gives him to make known the love and power of the Great Physician. Archdeacon Matthew of Lahore gives the following testimony to his work:—

Testimony of Archdeacon Matthew;

> I have to-day, in the course of my visitation of Umritsur, had the opportunity of seeing the work of the Medical Mission Hospital under the charge of Dr. Henry Martyn Clark. I can hardly exaggerate the satisfaction I have felt in witnessing the admirable system, order, and efficiency which pervade the Institution. Thoroughness characterizes it throughout, not only as a place of bodily healing, but as a Mission Hospital. There can be no doubt that the evangelistic aim is habitually kept in view. I had the pleasure of hearing Dr. Clark address the out-patients, nearly sixty in number, this morning in Panjabi. He spoke with perfect facility, and was listened to with evident interest.

Mr. Clark and the Panjâb Committee have been urging on the Society to give larger support to the Medical Missions and the Village Missions of the Panjâb. It is a cause of much thankfulness that these two important agencies can point in the past year to spiritual fruit gained by them jointly. Two of the converts baptized in the past year were a Sikh and his wife from Taran Taran, the head-quarters of Mr. Guilford's itinerancy among the villages. They knew the Gospel, but refused it, until the severe sickness of the husband led them to seek admission to Dr. Clark's hospital. There they were brought to the confession of Christ, and when they desired baptism, Mr. Guilford came and had the privilege of admitting them into the visible Church. In addition, the two agencies combined have gained an influence over a rich and influential Sikh Sirdar, or ruling chief, at the village of Wyrowal, on the river Beas. This man formerly served under Sir William Muir at Allahabad, and was drawn towards Christianity by witnessing his consistent Christian life. He has now given Rs. 5000 and a good house for a Mission Dispensary to be established in his village. Mr. Guilford thus tells the story:—

Two patients baptized.

Gift of a Sikh chief for a Dispensary.

Work in the villages.

During the present cold season we have taken with us in our preaching-tours a magic lantern, which Mrs. Guilford brought out from England. This we have found a most invaluable help in teaching the leading principles of the Old Testament, and the chief events of Christ's life upon earth. Our plan is to pitch our tents at a convenient place, and then go to the surrounding villages and preach the Word of God, and at the same time give out that we intend to give an entertainment after sunset to as many people as like to come. By this means we get together sometimes as many as 1000 people, who sit till ten o'clock and listen most attentively to our explanation of the several pictures.

At one place we were able, by means of the lantern, to get into the house of a very rich Sirdar. He had heard that we had given an entertainment at a neighbouring town, and asked if we would show the lantern in his town, and he would get the chief men of the town together to see it. After sunset I went to the place, and found a goodly number of men, with whom we spent a very happy evening. Afterwards the Sirdar pressed me very heartily to breakfast at his house on the morrow, and to send my servants to him for food. I accepted his invitation, and went the next morning and found a beautiful repast prepared. During a conversation I had with him I found that he was a man of no mean abilities, and that he had served our Government in a high capacity for a Native. But, best of all, I discovered that he was a seeker after the truth as it is in Jesus. He stated before several of his co-religionists that his one great desire was to know Christ, and to be baptized in His name. It appears that he had for some time served under Sir William Muir, and the consistent life of Sir William has evidently made an impression upon him, and shown him that there is a living power in the religion of Christ.

I told him it was the desire of Dr. H. M. Clark, of the Amritsar Medical Mission, to open a dispensary in his town if he could get pecuniary help from the people themselves. He at once said that he himself would give the interest of Rs. 5000, and a house for a dispensary. This I reported to Dr. Clark, and in a few days he and I went over and saw the man. He again entertained us at his own table, and at once gave us a house for the dispensary, and promised in a few days to come to Amritsar and settle the matter of the money. Since then he has been to Amritsar and fulfilled his promise.

Christian village of Clarkabad.

The Christian village of Clarkabad was described in last year's Annual Report. Mr. Beutel writes that both in earthly and in spiritual concerns the settlement continues to show great improvement. Thirty-eight of the villagers were confirmed by Bishop French in February, 1883. A dispensary has been carried on by a Native Christian doctor, Abdul Rahim Khan, who has ministered to more than 4000 patients. Mr. R. Clark thus describes a visit paid by him to Clarkabad in November:—

A Native Christian doctor.

Saw the Boys' Dormitory and Schoolroom, and the new Girls' Schoolroom, and the granaries, and the village wall, and the new streets in the village, and the large new tank outside, all of which have been completed since my last visit. At the prayers on Saturday night, all the people sat on the ground outside, and Sant Sháh was seated on a low chair in their midst, with a lantern near him, and thus taught them. On Sunday the church was crowded with men, women, and children. I preached to them on the Parable of the Sower. About forty remained to partake together of the Holy Communion. I was especially interested in the afternoon service, where, after a hymn and short prayer, the whole congregation of about 120 persons, both adults and children, divided themselves into classes, which were taught by four men and four female teachers, all answering questions and appearing much interested. This catechetical form of service is particularly suitable for an uneducated congregation.

God's blessing is evidently resting on the efforts of our dear friends, who are carrying on their work with faith and love and much prudence, and who are instruments in God's hands of transforming this wilderness, both physically and spiritually, into a garden.

LAHORE.

Divinity School: staff;

The Rev. F. A. P. Shirreff has resumed his duties as Principal of the Lahore Divinity School. The Rev. H. U. Weitbrecht, who had acted as Principal during his absence in England, having to move to Batâla to take up Mr. Baring's Mission, a temporary colleague for Mr. Shirreff has been found in the Rev. A. Lewis of the Beluch Mission.

The Rev. C. Merk, who had been helping, has gone forward to Khanpur, as one of the two Frontier missionaries on the Extension Fund, as already mentioned. The Rev. Dina Nath continues Native tutor in the College; and the Rev. Yakub Ali pastor of the Native congregation in the European quarter, Anarkali.

The Divinity College has not so many students as formerly, partly owing to Mr. Hooper's College at Allahabad now taking the North-West Provinces men, and partly because the available men in the Panjâb have mostly gone through the course, and the yearly increment is still small. There students; were fifteen students during the year, but several have gone forth into active work as lay agents in connection with different Missions, and at the close of 1883 there were only seven. Dr. Weitbrecht thus describes the course of instruction during his Principalship:—

their studies; By myself: 1st and 2nd Books of Samuel and Psalms; Romans, Hebrews, Ephesians; Church History from Gregory the Great to the present time, and the first two centuries: XXXIX. Articles; and three courses on Sin, the Atonement, and the Inspiration of the Scriptures. By Mr. Merk: the Catholic Epistles and the Life of Christ; with the first part of St. John's Gospel, and Jewish History. By Dina Nath: the Minor Prophets, New Testament Doctrine, part of St. Luke, and Greek and Hebrew Grammar and reading. In treating the Nature of Sin, I was able to put into the hands of the men Mr. Hooper's Urdu abridgment of Dr. Julius Muller's work: and it is hardly necessary to say that I felt strongly the convenience of having a hand-book of this sort to assist the students in getting up the subject. In treating of the Atonement I made most use of Dorner's Dogmatik, Dale on the Atonement, and St. Anselm's Cur Deus Homo? In lecturing on Inspiration, I derived much assistance from Dr. Lee's work, as well as from the recent one by Dr. Robson on The Bible, its Evidence and Inspiration, and a German pamphlet by Pfarrer Roos. It is a matter of congratulation that our students now have access to a chapter on the subject of Inspiration in the Rev. Tara Chand's Urdu Translation of Mr. Bickersteth's Spirit of Life.

a hostel for Christian men. Connected with the Divinity College there is a hostel for Christian men engaged in various avocations in Lahore. Dr. Weitbrecht writes:—

The hostellers have numbered nineteen, of whom eleven were remaining at the end of 1883. Of the whole number one was a law student, five were medical students, two colporteurs, one a railway mechanic, one a clerk in the University Office, and nine others were students at the Government or Oriental or other colleges and schools.

Of the medical students three are being trained for Medical Mission work. One is an Abyssinian lad, brought away after the capture of Magdala by the 23rd Sikh Pioneers, and eventually educated at the Batâla Boarding-school. Another is the son of a C.M.S. Reader at Narowal, who lately died from the bite of a mad dog. He was so generally respected that hundreds of Hindus and Mohammedans attended his funeral. This boy gained the Lake Memorial Prize for religious knowledge in his last year at Batâla School. The third Medical Mission student is a Pathan, and will shortly join the Peshâwar Mission.

Evangelistic work is carried on by the staff and students of the college; and there were three adult baptisms in the year, and some hopeful inquirers.

Dr. Weitbrecht has also been occupied in literary work, particularly in preparing for the press the revised Urdu version of the Prayer-book. Besides which, he is a member of the Senate of the Lahore University, an office of some importance in view of the increasing power given to that body by the Government over education in the Panjâb.

Urdu Prayer-book.

KANGRA, KÔTGÛR, AND SIMLA.

Mrs. Reuther has continued her able and loving labours in connection with the KANGRA Mission, which comprises a congregation of seventy-three Native Christians, ministered to by a catechist; five schools, at Kangra and Dharmsala, with 230 children; evangelistic preaching, zenana teaching, Bible-classes, &c. One agency must be described in Mrs. Reuther's own words:—

A class of blind and lepers.

> I must not omit to mention a class of some thirty poor people, aged women, blind men, and lepers, who gather around me every Sunday to hear the story of Christ's life and death. Their remarks show that their hearts are touched by the compassionate love of the Saviour, and that the words they hear comfort them in their poverty and distress. Some of them seem to be very near the kingdom of God.

The Rev. A. Bailey is at KÔTGÛR, from which place he has travelled hundreds of miles on foot in the wild Himalaya valleys, and has preached the Gospel in at least a hundred towns and villages. He finds his dispensary a great help in attracting the people.

Hindu and Moslem princes contributing to church funds.

SIMLA has been visited by Dr. Weitbrecht, who reports well of the ministrations of the Native pastor there, the Rev. T. Edwards. Mr. Edwards is singularly successful in winning the recognition of Hindu and Mohammedan princes and nobles, several of whom have given handsome contributions towards his church funds.

PIND DADAN KHAN.

The Committee are glad to report that this station, founded by the late Rev. G. M. Gordon as the head-quarters of the Jhelum Itinerancy, and afterwards worked by the Rev. C. P. C. Nugent, has once again a European missionary, the Rev. H. Rountree having been transferred thither from Native deacon-evangelist.

Mûltân. He is assisted by the Rev. T. Howell, the Native "deacon-evangelist," so called as having been ordained, not as a pastor under the Native Church Council, but for evangelistic work under the Society. Mr. Rountree's Annual Letter gives evidence touching the effects still to be seen of Mr. Gordon's influence:—

The late G. M. Gordon's influence.

> There are not a few in this district in whose hearts the Word of Life has found acceptance, and is bringing forth fruit in the life, and others, again, who are, humanly speaking, bona fide inquirers. These results are not due in any fresh measure to any special effort being put forth now, but to the work of Mr. Gordon, and perhaps more so to that life of devotion, zeal, and self-denial, coupled with purity and holiness, which the people seem to have known were the chief characteristics of his life, and which seem to have untold influence on the people of every place I visited, so that truly it might be said of him, "he being dead yet speaketh."

Mr. Clark recently visited the district, and conversed with some men of influence who knew Mr. Gordon and have been feeling after Mr. Gordon's God; and he records his strong opinion that Pind Dâdan Khan and the neighbouring towns present a promising field for an Itinerant Mission—a field which by God's blessing on faithful and prayerful effort shall bring forth much fruit to His praise.

MÛLTÂN.

The Rev. Trevor Bomford, who plies the labouring oar in this important city, with a surrounding district containing a population of three millions, earnestly asks attention to the present state of the Mission, which, with all the usual work to be done, evangelistic, pastoral, and educational, has now to be carried on by him alone. Mr. Briggs, who has long conducted the principal school, is compelled by ill-health to retire; and the Rev. H. Rountree, who had undertaken an important itinerating district, has (as above mentioned) been lately removed. The Committee trust that they may be enabled to reinforce this station. Meanwhile they are glad to note the arrival there of two ladies from the Female Education Society. One circumstance which renders the work more difficult is that there is a Mûltâni dialect, in which Mr. Bomford has been endeavouring, as far as his scanty leisure from other duties allows, to prepare editions of the Gospels and Acts. Into this dialect Dr. A. Jukes also, of Dera Ghazi, has translated St. Mark.

Mûltâni translations.

Killed by a cricket ball.

The delegate from Mûltân to the Native Church Council, Mr. K. C. Basu, who was head master of the Government school at Mûltân, died in March this year from the effects of a blow on the knee from a cricket ball. Mr. Clark says,

"He was a thoughtful Christian, a deep student, a fluent speaker."

A hopeful inquirer at Mazaffargarh, the out-station at which Mr. Rountree was working, died in a few hours from the effects of a snake-bite. He was a munshi of great ability and high character. "I always," Mr. Rountree says, "looked on that man as a true Christian. His trust, as he told me himself more than once, was in Christ's atonement. He was a constant student of the Bible, and his knowledge of it took me quite by surprise." Killed by a snake-bite.

DERA GHAZI KHAN (BELUCH MISSION).

Both the Rev. A. Lewis and Dr. A. Jukes write that the year 1883 was one of encouragement in this comparatively new field. A small bazaar church has been built, "to serve as a place of worship for the few Native Christians, for bazaar preaching, and for a witness to the heathen and Mohammedan population of the one living and true God." Owing to the insecurity of Dera Ghazi, exposed as it is to inundations from the Indus, this little church has been built very cheaply (under Rs. 1000), under the direction of the Assistant Engineer in the Public Works Department. For the same reason, the money collected for building the proposed Gordon Memorial Hospital has not been spent, but an old building has been hired for the purpose, and the hospital was opened for in-patients in October. The dispensary had been kept open throughout the year, and the out-patients exceeded 16,000 in number. A new church. A new hospital.

Some time in the summer was spent as usual by both missionaries at Fort Munro, on the mountain frontier, and the Gospel was daily preached there to the Beluchis and others, who, on the whole, lent a willing ear to its message. Here also more than a thousand persons received medical treatment. Preaching to Beluchis.

Although there were no baptisms at Dera Ghazi, two converts were gathered in elsewhere who were the fruit of this Mission, a girl in the Amritsar Orphanage, and the Mohammedan cavalry soldier mentioned below under the head of Dera Ismail, the latter of whom had been under Mr. Lewis's instruction in Mr. Gordon's lifetime. There is now a Native pastor, the Rev. Malik Ishaq, a Jat by race from the Beluch frontier, who was baptized by Mr. Sheldon at Karâchi in 1865, and was prepared for orders at the Lahore Divinity School. Mr. Lewis writes warmly of him. Baptisms.

Mr. Lewis has made a first translation of St. Matthew's

St. Matthew's Gospel in Beluchi.

Gospel into Beluchi, which is an unwritten language without a settled grammar. His linguistic work is now for a time interrupted by his removal to Lahore, but the Committee trust he may soon be relieved, and enabled to resume work at Dera Ghazi.

DERA ISMAIL KHAN, BANNU, AND TANK.

In the DERAJAT Mission the same three brethren continue, viz., the Rev. W. Thwaites at DERA ISMAIL KHAN, the Rev. T. J. L. Mayer at BANNU, and the Rev. John Williams, Native medical missionary, at TANK. Nowhere is the work harder than amid the fanatical Mohammedan population of these districts; and it is encouraging to observe this sentence in Mr. Thwaites's Annual Letter, "I ought to mention that the present garrison give us much help and sympathy." It is from the Native regiments at Bannu, too, that most of the inquirers come; and one soldier, a Mohammedan Sowar of the 1st Panjâb Cavalry, was baptized in October, changing his name from Chaman Khan to Chaman Masih. The Dera Ismail school continues to give encouragement:—

Sympathy of the garrison at Dera Ismail.

Baptism of a Moslem soldier.

> The school continues to prosper, and as an educational establishment it maintains its position; ten out of eleven candidates passed the Middle School Examination. The head-master is a Christian convert, who was educated in the school; one other teacher is also a Christian, and a former pupil, and both these have won for themselves respect and honour among their fellow-townsmen. The inquirers of whom I spoke last year still attend our services and come and see me. They know the truth, but they have not yet taken the final step. There are at present three Hindu teachers of the school of whom I have hope, but I have been so often disappointed that I feel diffident of even mentioning them as inquirers. They go no further than an acknowledgment that Christianity is true; they do not yet appreciate the love of the Sufferer on the Cross, and they do indeed need the convincing power of the Holy Spirit to convince them of their dangerous state.

On the other hand, the Bannu School has had to pass through severe trials. Mr. Mayer writes:—

Opposition to the Bannu School.

> We have been enabled in our main school to raise the staff of Christian teachers to four. The effect has been a perfect success so far as instruction in Scripture goes, but it will, I fear, nearly empty the school. Some boys came forward for baptism in September; but they were immediately put under restraint; the school was almost emptied, and an opposition school has been started by the municipality, to which nearly all of our best and most forward boys have been drawn away. Poor lads, they would much rather be here, and it is interesting to find them after school-hours come and join their old schoolmates at cricket. But, alas! the boys who confessed Christ most nobly have been completely kept out of our reach. One of them, the first boy in the school, and a most promising lad, is the son of the chief Native officer (Subadar Major) of the 2nd Panjâb Infantry, and his conversion made a great stir. Though beaten and shut up by his father in the fort, he so boldly confessed Christ that the Gospel has been made known to all the regiments here. I have seen his father several times, and rejoice to find that he has given up persecuting him; and I am not without hope that both father and son may ultimately be brought to Christ. But one has seen so many hopes crushed that it would be impertinence on my part to say more about it. One can only trust in the power of God's blessed Word and go steadily on.

Pilgrim's Progress in Pushtu.

Mr. Mayer continues his translational work. The Ameer of Cabul sent "a most gracious letter of thanks" for a copy of the Pilgrim's Progress in Pushtu which Mr. Mayer presented to him. "He wanted to know if I expected his mullahs to answer it, which gave me an opportunity of saying that the Gospel message was one of peace and goodwill, and not of controversy." A translation of the Psalms has since been sent to him.

Translations sent to the Ameer of Cabul.

Concerning TANK Mr. Thwaites writes:—

Tank Medical Mission.

Tank Medical Mission still continues its good work, under our dear brother, J. Williams, who works away in faith and patience through many difficulties and some opposition. During 1883 there were new patients to the number of 8057—a great many of these from beyond the Afghan frontier—and all have an opportunity of hearing something of the Good Physican and of the glad tidings of salvation. I am glad to say the new buildings have been commenced. I went the forty-five miles from here to Tank on a camel, a fortnight ago, to make arrangements about it, and also to hold a service and administer the sacrament to the small Christian community there. A woman's ward is to be added, and it appears to be a matter of wonder to friends at home that women come to the hospital for advice; but so much do they do this that a woman's ward has long been a necessity. They come in great numbers, and J. Williams attends them, and when the ward is built they will be able to have comforts and a better chance of getting well than they would have in their own homes.

Government help.

In 1883 a successful application was made to the Panjâb Government for help towards the new buildings, on the plea that the Mission hospital is the only one in the district, and the doctor does much Government work, especially in police and post-mortem cases. Rs. 1000 have been contributed towards the new buildings and repairs of the old ones, and Rs. 200 a year are to be given for medicine. This is a great help, and we are most thankful for it.

Inquirers.

There are some most interesting cases of inquirers at Tank: one a Mohammedan, Sarfaraz Khan. His stumbling-block is his wife; he wishes, and the wish is praiseworthy, to bring her with him. He asked me to pray that the way might be made easy for him; but I told him I would pray that he might have strength to overcome every difficulty, and courage to use the power that God would give him. The last time I saw him he told me he did not now pray to have his way made easy. I have many Waziri friends who pay me visits, and I am able to converse with them. I pray that their friendliness towards me will lead to deeper results.

tains the following reference by the Lieutenant-Governor to Mr. Williams, the Native medical missionary: "The police of the Dera Ismail Khan district are much indebted to the Rev. J. Williams, medical missionary at Tank, for the great attention paid by him to the sick police at Tank, Gumal, and Mukazi, and Sir Charles Aitchison takes this opportunity of publicly acknowledging the services thus freely rendered."

PESHÂWAR.

It is not often that the opening of a new church would be regarded as the great event of the year in a Mission; but this has certainly been the case in the past year at Peshâwar. Mr. Robert Clark, who was present on the occasion of the opening of the large and handsome church in the Native city which Mr. Hughes has long been building, writes* that it marks the entrance upon a new era in the history of the Afghan Mission. He naturally reverts to the foundation of that Mission by himself, under the auspices of Sir Herbert Edwardes and Colonel Martin, exactly thirty years before, on Dec. 19th, 1853, and contrasts the position then, in the midst of a fierce and fanatical people, with the scene in the new church on the opening day, Dec. 27th, 1883:—

Thirty years' retrospect.

> For nearly thirty years has the Gospel been preached in the bazaars and streets and the villages of Peshâwar city and district; and it has been met with scorn and derision and insult. For the last few years the policy of our Peshâwar missionaries has been changed. The efforts which are now made are those of conciliation and friendship within the church, in the school, in the hujrah (guest-house), and the anjuman (friendly society). On Thursday last were seen, perhaps for the first time in Peshâwar, many leading Native chiefs, who reverently sat behind the red cord which separated the unbaptized from believers in the faith of Christ, and who listened attentively to a Christian moulvie as he preached to them boldly and very plainly the Gospel of Christ. There was no opposition at all; a leading Khan of Eusufzai was there, with members of some royal families. A Rajah from the frontier afterwards took his place as a listener, if not a worshipper, in a Christian church. Expressions of approbation and congratulation were heard from Mohammedans and Hindus in Peshâwar. "We serve God in our way," said they; "and it is right that you should serve Him in yours." Services of song and preaching have since then been daily held, and for the first time in the history of the Peshâwar Mission has a Christian church been thronged by people who are not Christians, and who are not yet willing to listen quietly to Christian preaching when delivered outside.

The church is called All Saints' Memorial Church, in memory of the Peshâwar missionaries gone to their rest—Pfander, Tuting, Roger Clark, Löwenthal (American Presbyterian), Stevenson, Knott, Mrs. Wade. Tablets recording their names and work, and the names of two infant children of Mr. Hughes, appear on the wall of the ambulatory, behind the chancel. The church is described as "a successful adaptation of mosque architecture to the purposes of Christian worship." "The dome-covered cupola of the tower," writes Mr. Clark, "is seen from a great distance, and its fine-toned bell, the gift of the late Rev. George Lea and other friends at Birmingham, is heard all over the city and neighbourhood. The cupola is surmounted by a large gilt cross, showing the Christian character of the building, and distinguishing it from other public edifices." There is a parsonage for the Native pastor close by, also a vestry-room and library, and two guest-rooms. At the opening service the two transepts were filled with English officers, and the nave with the Native congregation and visitors. Fourteen clergymen were present, including five Natives; and the sermon was preached by the Rev. Imad-ud-din from our Lord's words, admirably chosen as a text, "If I with the finger of God cast out devils, no doubt the Kingdom of God is come upon you." The new church at Peshâwar. Opening service.

The Rev. Worthington Jukes, who, now that Mr. Hughes has come home on furlough, is in general charge of the Mission, writing on April 7 of this year, when the church had been open more than three months, gives important evidence of the influence it is exerting. "It is not right," he says, "that we should let the Natives think our religion consists in arguing with captious critics in a bazaar. What we must impress upon them is the devotional aspect of our religion. We must show them how we worship God, and let them hear the prayers, praises, and exhortations of our beautiful service; for too many think that Christians never pray at all, simply because we do not pray at the corners of the streets as do Mohammedans"; and then he adds that the seats allotted to non-Christians are generally filled—"and frequently do we see the more intelligent and seekers after truth, in whom the Spirit of God is already working, come and sit down reverently during the whole service." Influence of the church.

Mr. Jukes also well describes the principles and objects which he and Mr. Hughes had in its erection:— Principles and objects in its erection.

> The foundations were laid by an English engineer; but all the superstructure was completed by a very intelligent Muhammadan mason, who could carry out our ideas with reference to oriental architecture. He not only originated all the details, but carried out with a masterly hand any ideas given him by Mr. Hughes and myself. The result is, we have now a very pretty oriental church, built in cruciform shape, its cupola surmounted with a cross to show its Christian character, and embellished inside and out with suitable texts, according to Muhammadan style. It has been our principle to work throughout on Native lines, and we have at last solved the difficulty (for I believe it has never been tried on a similar scale before) of erecting a house of God, suitable to Native ideas of architecture, without yielding any of our own cherished ideas of what is necessary for the due performance of divine service. It is the admiration of all alike, whether Europeans, Muhammadans, or Hindus, and everybody is astonished that so comparatively little has been spent upon it.

In a country like India, where temples and mosques are frequently built regardless of expense, it is not advisable that we should lead Natives to suppose that the Christian religion requires only a barn-like building, without any beauty or architectural pretensions. We should endeavour to show them that we wish to give God the best of which we have.

The principle on which Mr. Hughes and I have always gone is, to work on Native lines, to accept Native thoughts, in wearing Afghan dress, and in adopting Eastern architecture, so long as we yield no principle, and we have always found this idea to work well.

Mr. Jukes also gives an interesting account of the Afghan students and Afghan visitors:—

Afghan students.

The work among the Afghan students in our Muhammadan Boarding-school is very encouraging, and is as successful as could possibly be expected. They come to us, as a rule, very bigoted; but a free and easy access to me at all times, combined with a strict and constant superintendence in and out of school, joining them in their sports, with a kindly interest in all their affairs, gives them confidence in me, and the result is they are all sorry to leave when the time comes for their doing so; and not infrequently do they show the work of grace which has been going on in their hearts by receiving baptism.

An Afghan inquirer.

One young lad who had been with me eight years, left us about eight months ago; he was particularly bigoted at first, but the constant Scriptural instruction in school and with me of an evening, resulted two years ago in making him a sincere inquirer after truth, and I have no doubt the instruction he received with other senior students from Mrs. Jukes, on a Sunday afternoon and at other times, had a good deal to do with making him decide for Christ, for he especially used to come in frequently, and take a warm interest in our babe. He has not yet received baptism, but I trust he will soon.

In this Sunday class Mrs. Jukes took the keenest interest, and the influence she obtained over the senior boys was very considerable. They were all very fond of her. It is needless for me to say that I found her a help in this and every other way, and I regret intensely that constant fever, frequently accompanied with delirium, necessitated her going home last month.

A day's work at Peshâwar.

From early morning till late at night it is nothing but hard work; hundreds of Afghans come in and partake of our hospitality, but hardly a tithe of them can be admitted to see me. The school takes up the first two or three hours of the day, and only shortly before noon can I return for breakfast. From that time till 1 p.m. I generally give to the business work of the Mission, and in the absence of that to correspondence and Afghan visitors. Till 3.30 p.m. I am engaged in Bible translations in Pashto, and after that more visitors take up my time till either I go down to the daily evening service or mix with the Afghan boys in the hostel, or have a general chat with the assembling guests, or take a little exercise. The evening is spent in preparing a Pashto Hymnal and further conversation with Afghans. Little or no time is left for writing Pashto tracts, for going about the villages around, or interviewing even the half of all who come. Whenever it is possible, I visit maulvies in their mosques.

A young missionary from Islington, the Rev. T. Holden, has been added to the staff, and is hard at work on the language. The ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S. are spoken of by Mr. Jukes with grateful appreciation. One of them, a daughter of General Sir Henry Norman, "is getting an immense influence wherever she goes, and the good she does it is impossible to gauge."* The Native pastor, the Rev. Imam Shah, and his excellent wife, have been bereaved of their eldest daughter, "a young lady of great promise who had been educated at the Alexandra School," who died "happy at the thought of so speedily joining the home above." Only one child is now left to them out of five; the climate of Peshâwar, Mr. Hughes remarks, being as fatal to Native life as to European.

Work of the C.E.Z. M.S.

Death of Imam Shah's daughter.

The many friends who are interested in Kafiristan will be glad to hear that, just before leaving Peshâwar, Mr. Hughes baptized, in the new church, a slave boy, who was given to Syud Shah, the Afghan evangelist, when he visited that country recently, and who is of course now free. This boy, whose name is Ati, is the first Kafir who has been received into the Christian Church.

Mr. Hughes is engaged while at home in passing through the press his Dictionary of Islam, a large and important work which has long occupied his close attention.

KASHMIR.

The Kashmir Medical Mission has always depended largely upon local support. The Society provides the missionaries, but, from the beginning, money for the other expenses has been raised in India. This is not because the Society does not value, as agencies of the highest importance, Medical Missions in countries like the Valley of Kashmir, where access to the people is not of easy attainment; but because many English residents in India who take no interest in purely evangelistic efforts are glad to contribute to what is also a work of benevolence towards the bodies of men. In the past year, the Kashmir Mission funds fell so short that for a short time the hospital was actually closed; but during the summer considerable sums were given by English visitors to Kashmir, and the Mission resumed its full work. Among these visitors were the Viceroy of India and the Marchioness of Ripon, and no less than Rs. 1100 were contributed by them and their suite. Both the missionaries, Dr. A. Neve and the Rev. J. H. Knowles, had the honour of dining with their Excellencies, who showed great interest in the work, and inquired fully regarding it. Lady Ripon visited the hospital, church, school, &c., attended the Mission service, spoke kindly to the patients, and manifested intelligent sympathy with all that was going on.

Kindness of Lord and Lady Ripon.

Mr. Knowles, who joined the Mission in the early part of the year, sends an interesting account of its work:—

Not only has the political status of the Mission been maintained and strengthened, but many fresh onward steps also have been taken during the past year, and in a course which, if rightly and steadily pursued, must eventually, if not quickly, bring us into a position of great influence and blessing.

Hospital services.

To the ordinary Sunday and Wednesday evening services in the Mission chapel, a half-hour daily service has been added. About forty convalescents and others regularly attend the service. The need of this has long been realized, as many of the patients remain in the hospital two or three days only, and it would be impossible to interview every one of them, except by the means of this general service. The service is a very interesting and varied one. Sometimes I read the abridged morning prayers, with two congregational hymns, lessons, &c.; at other times I have extempore prayer, or else the ante-communion service, with the confession and absolution prayers, and sing two hymns alone; and then such is the nature of our congregations that it is necessary to conduct the service in two languages, Hindustani and Kashmiri; one lesson is always read in Kashmiri, and the sermon is preached alternately in that language and Hindustani. God has helped me very much in the study of languages. Since our arrival here I have already preached about one hundred times extempore in Hindustani, and about fourteen times (sermons written with the help of my pundit) in Kashmiri.

The hospital in-patients are now being frequently pastorally visited. We are now and again cheered in this work. The hearty Mussulman "amen," or "sach" (true), at the end of a prayer, or short conversational address, the expressions of thankfulness at any slight notice of their sufferings,—these are the sunshine upon our work, making our hearts warm and glad.

Preaching to pilgrims by Christian fakirs.

Two of the Christian fakirs mentioned last year by Mr. Wade, Haji and Musa Shah, visited Kashmir during the year to preach Christ to the devotees going on pilgrimage to Amarnath and other sacred places. Their yellow dresses excited attention wherever they went. How they went to work is described by one of them, Musa, in a diary he keeps. His account is thus given, translated exactly:—

A fakir's diary.

"Went to Maharaj Gang in a boat: spoke to boatmen on the way. Visited the bazaar, and gave away some books, and preached. While I was preaching, Gofar Shah, the goldsmith, called me upstairs. When I was speaking to him, about forty or fifty people from the bazaar came upstairs also. They all, with the goldsmith, listened to the Word of God. After this I went to the vernacular schools, where about 250 persons were assembled, to some of whom I gave books and tracts, written in the Kashmiri language, and in Urdu. I was also allowed to tell them the way of salvation through Christ. Then, coming back to my boat, I was so glad, singing and praising God. Just before reaching it two men stopped me, and asked to hear the news, and I told them and many others, who gathered round, the tidings of Jesus Christ. Afterwards I came to my house."

Two baptisms.

Two interesting baptisms took place at Srinagar during the year, though not of Kashmiris. Prior to joining this Mission, Mr. Knowles was for a time in the Hazarah district, and while preaching there he was heard by a policeman, a Pathan named Sayad Allah, who had long felt the burden of sin, but could find no peace from the Koran. Subsequently this man heard Major Battye of the 5th Ghoorkas, who is an earnest Christian, preaching what he at once recognized as the same doctrine. He then sought instruction from both the major and the missionary; and after Mr. Knowles left for Kashmir, he followed him thither, a rough march of 160 miles, and asked for baptism. After further teaching he was joyfully admitted into the visible Church on May 13th. He then went back to his own land; and the sequel is told by Mr. Knowles as follows:—

A march of 160 miles for baptism.

He is rather a fine, manly fellow and well-read, and has given us much joy and satisfaction as to his spiritual state. No small persecution has this man endured since his baptism. With great difficulty he obtained and brought away his wife and adopted child; with much disappointment and grief he found himself (for his life's sake) obliged to abandon his native village, his home, and his rightful possessions. On his way here the second time, when he was returning with his little family, he fell sick on the road, and his father, who formerly doted on this son, now beat him most unmercifully as he lay suffering and helpless upon a bed of fever; and constantly now he is receiving sometimes the most conciliatory, heart-breaking letters, and sometimes the most insulting ones; but flattery and bribes and abuse, all alike, fail to move one whose feet are set upon a rock that is higher than all—and that rock is Christ.

Hujat i Nur, Sayad-ullah's wife, put herself under instruction immediately on her arrival here, and having satisfied us that she too looked with love and faith to the Lord Jesus, was baptized in the little Mission church in the middle of last September. A few European friends, and a large number of astonished Natives, were present at the baptism, and as we knelt in silence around the font after the service, much prayer ascended that God's blessing would abundantly rest upon our dear sister, and that her snowy-white garments might be a token of the pure and innocent course of life then so earnestly begun.

Aziz-ullah, a younger brother of Sayad-ullah's, whom we instructed for a little while, and whom we much expected to baptize also, was taken away from us by his Mussulman father, and has since died from a sharp attack of fever. The great day alone will declare what influence the Word had exercised upon him. There are yet two other members of this family, about whom something will probably be written later on. May we have grace more implicitly to trust the promise, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved, and thy house"!

New Testament in Kashmiri.

It is with great satisfaction that the Committee report the completion by Mr. Wade of the New Testament in Kashmiri, after six years of incessant labour. The demand for the separate Gospels in Kashmir, since their publication a year or two ago, has been very great; and many prejudices have been disarmed when the people have seen the Injil (Gospel) in their own vernacular. Truly it cannot now be said what Bishop Cotton said of Dr. Elmslie, that he was (as a doctor) knocking at the only door possible to the ears and hearts of the Kashmiris. They will now have the Word of life, that blessed Word whose entrance giveth light in the darkest place.

Sindh Mission.

Sindh: the C.M.S. only at work.

SINDH is one of the fields which the Church Missionary Society has to itself. During the whole thirty-four years since it came under British rule, this province, with an area and a population equal to Ceylon, has been left wholly to the C.M.S. And it must be acknowledged that the Society has worked it but feebly. While from ten to twenty missionaries have been maintained in Ceylon, where several other societies are established, the staff in Sindh has averaged from two to four. Excellent work, however, has been patiently done: although the results are but small numerically, there have been not a few converts who have adorned the doctrine of God their Saviour; and in several ways, the prospects now are brighter than they have ever been before. The same three brethren have conducted the Mission in the past as in the previous year, viz., the Revs. J. Bambridge and A. E. Ball at Karâchi, and the Rev. J. Redman at Hydrabad; but the latter has now been joined by a young recruit, the Rev. A. W. Cotton, and it is hoped that the senior missionary, the Rev. G. Shirt (who has during his furlough graduated at Cambridge), will return in the ensuing autumn. Moreover, a Native pastor has been provided for the Karâchi congregation, the Rev. Bhola Nath Ghose, from Amritsar; and Mr. Shirt's valuable labours in translating the Scriptures and preparing Christian books in the Sindhi language have put in the hands of the present missionaries an instrument which their predecessors were without.

Importance of Sindh as a Frontier Mission.

The importance of Sindh, not only on its own account, but as a base for acting on the regions beyond, will appear from a glance at the map. Karâchi is the point of India nearest to Europe, and it has become, since the completion of the Indus Valley Railway, the gate of the Panjâb. From the frontier of Sindh starts Sir R. Temple's famous railway to Sibi, on the direct route to Quetta and Kandahar through the Bolan Pass; by that railway Mr. Shirt travelled part of the way to Quetta three years ago; and as it is evident that British influence in that direction is now more likely to be extended than to be restrained, the Sindh Mission may have the high privilege of leading the way into the Beluch and even the Afghan territories. Karâchi, too, is the terminus of the Indo-European telegraph through Persia, and the base of the large trade with the Persian Gulf. Mr. Bambridge has been to Bushire, Bussora, and Baghdad, by the steamers that ply between Karâchi and the mouth of the Tigris, and thus has joined hands with the Persia Mission and with its Baghdad extension. In a very interesting report on the Sindh stations Mr. Robert Clark enlarges on these openings, and claims for this Mission a larger measure of sympathy and support.

KARÂCHI.

From Mr. Clark's report of his visit of inspection to this station, referred to above, some passages may be taken:—

Varied work at Karâchi.

The Mission is now carried on by Mr. Bambridge, who is in charge of it, and by Mr. and Mrs. Ball, who have the charge of the educational work connected with the boys' and girls' schools. Mrs. Ball also labours amongst the women of the congregation. The high character of the Karâchi Mission continues to be maintained. The workers are united together in Christian love, and their abundant efforts are being blessed of God.

The Karâchi Christian Congregation now numbers 69 members, of whom 25 are communicants. New members are continually coming in, but as yet only in units. The time has not yet arrived, in this part of India, for large accessions to the Christian Church.

The services, &c., are as follows:—(a) Native service is held in the church on Sunday mornings, and in the chapel on Sunday evenings, and an English service is held in the church on Sunday evenings; (b) daily morning and evening prayers, with exposition of Holy Scripture; (c) a prayer-meeting once a week, and a communicants' class once a month; (d) Mrs. Ball's Bible-class for women every Thursday, and a singing-class once a week.

The evangelistic work in the Karâchi Mission is as follows:—(a) Preaching in the bazaar is carried on with hymns and bhajan singing three times a week. (b) Mr. Bambridge gives a "Lecture to English-speaking Natives" once a fortnight, on Wednesday evenings, alternating the lectures with a Bible-class for Non-Christians. The following lectures have already been given: (1) "How to train the mind;" (2) "Christianity: its truths and claims" (in two lectures); (4) "Morality;" (5) "Words: their use and abuse;" (6) "the Bible;" (7) "Jesus Christ, superhuman and sinless;" (8) "Jesus Christ, the Incarnation of God." (c) Mr. Bambridge's tennis-court, to which Native friends can come every evening except Monday, and his "At Homes" for Native Christians, afford many opportunities for useful and pleasant intercourse. (d) Mr. Bambridge is about to open a Sunday-school for heathen children in the city, to be taught by Native Christians, under the superintendence of an English gentleman resident in the station.

Mr. Ball reports on the educational work, which is important, and illustrates the variety of races and languages at this port. For boys there is an English school, a Hindustani school, and a school with both Sindhi and Gujerâthi classes. For girls there is one Sindhi school, but others are provided by the C.E.Z.M.S., of which Society Mrs. Ball is a missionary. Mr. Ball also superintends the book depôt and colportage; and he has begun a useful addition to the Mission agencies by giving special lectures in Sindhi, the ordinary services and evangelistic preaching at Karâchi being in Hindustani.

Sympathy of English residents:

During Mr. Clark's visit in November a meeting, which promises to bear fruitful results, was held of some of the English residents, to discuss the question how far they could unite to strengthen the Native Church and help forward the work of evangelization, not so much by giving money as by personal service. Colonel Walcott presided, and several other gentlemen were present. The immediate result was the formation of the Karâchi Church Missionary Union, the members to meet once a month at each other's houses for the direct purpose of having their interest in the Mission quickened, and of arranging for work in its behalf. Two of the members at once agreed to conduct a Sunday-school for heathen children. And on New Year's Day the Union gave a fête in honour of the arrival of the Rev. Bhola Nath Ghose, the newly appointed Native pastor. A special service was held in the Mission church, followed by a tea for the Native Christians, and a social gathering in which the Europeans and Natives freely mingled together. The formation of this Union is an admirable step, and the Committee would rejoice to see it adopted elsewhere. They are sure that whatever practical service the English in India can render to Indian Missions will be recompensed sevenfold into their bosom.

HYDRABAD.

The Rev. J. Redman has been earnestly labouring at this difficult station, and Mr. R. Clark, in a report of his visit of inspection, writes very warmly of what is being done by him and Mrs. Redman. They have now been much cheered by the arrival of Mr. Cotton. It is still the day of small things at Hydrabad. The congregation consists of only thirty-seven souls, and the missionary's time is divided between the schools, which are large and flourishing, and itinerant preaching in the surrounding villages, and in the large towns, such as Sukkur. All the work here is in the Sindhi language. The Bible and book colportage is on an extensive scale. Over 9000 tracts and books were sold during the year. The Christian literature in Sindhi, mostly prepared by Mr. Shirt, consists of the whole New Testament, about two-thirds of the Old Testament, the more important parts of the Prayer-book, several tales and popular books and tracts by A. L. O. E. and others, the Pilgrim's Progress, eight of Dr. Murray Mitchell's Lectures to Educated Natives, several bhajans (native sacred songs), an elementary catechism, and a dictionary.

WESTERN-INDIA MISSION.

Bombay, 1820; Nasik, 1832; Junir, 1846; Malegâm, 1848; Aurangabad, 1860.

WESTERN INDIA is the name given to the Society's mission-field in the Diocese of Bombay. One station, however, Aurangabad, is in the Nizam's dominions, which are politically connected with the Presidency, not of Bombay, but of Madras, and are included in the jurisdiction of the Bishop of Madras. But the whole Mission is administered by the Bombay Corresponding Committee, of which the Rev. H. C. Squires has been Secretary during the year.

Western India has never yet been worked on so large a scale as other parts of the great dependency. To two new agencies the Committee are looking, under God, for the exercise gradually of such an influence on the whole Mission as shall result in its general development and extension in days to come. These are the Divinity School and the Native Church Council. It is when an adequate supply of well-trained Native agents is available, and when the self-government of the Native Church sets the European missionaries comparatively free for their proper work of evangelizing the heathen, that a Mission may be expected, by God's good blessing, to grow and prosper.

Divinity School:

The Divinity School, started by the Rev. R. A. Squires in the previous year at Kirkee, a suburb of Poona, was carried on there last year by him and the Rev. T. Carss, but it will now probably be moved elsewhere. From Mr. Squires's interesting report on the students and their studies, the following is extracted :—

students;

We began the term with ten students, viz. two catechists and two assistant-catechists from Malegâm, one catechist from Aurungabad, and five others who are not yet agents of the Society. Six of these ten, including one catechist and two assistant-catechists, were fresh men; the rest had been with us in the previous year. The whole ten were divided into two divisions, a senior and a junior. A strict regard to their respective abilities and attainments would have made it necessary for us to form a larger number of classes, but this was not feasible. In time we may be able to have carefully graduated standards; but for the present we must be content to make the best use we can of the material at our disposal, and must not grieve to find a considerable disparity between different members of the same class.

Studies.—The course of study must be determined to a considerable extent by the standards of our own Missionary Conference for assistant-catechists and catechists, and by the requirements of the Bishop for priests and deacons. We endeavour to keep both objects in view; but our great desire is to make the Bible itself intelligible to the students in all its parts, so that it may speak to them with a real, living voice. Next to this we place Systematic Theology, Church History, and Apologetics. We cannot pretend to cover a very wide field; nor are our students sufficiently advanced for it. All we are able to do is to teach with what thoroughness we can the comparatively few subjects which we take in hand: non multa sed multum.

Mr. Carss took for his subjects, the Acts of the Apostles, the Prayer-book, and Paley's Evidences, with the senior division; the Prayer-book, Collect, Epistle, and Gospel for each Sunday, and the Hindu and Mohammedan controversy, with the junior division; and the Harmony of the Gospels and Homiletics with the two divisions conjointly.

My subjects were, Introduction to the Old and New Testaments, Old Testament History, Church History, Butler's Analogy, with the senior division; Introduction to the Old and New Testaments (more elementary), Old Testament History, Life of Christ, Church History (elementary), and Dogmatics, with the junior division; and the Book of Psalms (exegetically and devotionally) with the two divisions conjointly.

Native Church Council.

The Native Church Council held its second meeting in February last: the Native clergy of the Mission, and the lay delegates from the various congregations, being present, with the Rev. H. C. Squires as Chairman. The proceedings consisted entirely of practical business, such matters as the distribution of the Church funds, the pay of pastors, pensions for disabled agents, marriage fees, &c., being discussed.

The total number of Native Christian adherents is 1210, of whom 575 are communicants. The adult baptisms in the year were 49. There are 58 Native Christian teachers, most of them employed in the schools, which educate 897 boys and 281 girls. The Annual Report of the Corresponding Committee contains an excellent summary of all local funds expended in the Mission, from which it appears that no less than Rs. 16,900 was contributed in various forms by the English residents in Western India, and Rs. 520 by the Native Christians. Rs. 4499 was received from Government as grants-in-aid for the schools.

The missionary staff in Western India is without change since last year.

BOMBAY.

The Society's work in the Presidency city comprises the Girgaum Church, with its English congregation and parochial agencies, of which the Rev. H. C. Squires, the Secretary of the Mission, is the minister; the Native congregation, worshipping in the same church, but at different hours, of which the Rev. Apaji Bapuji is pastor; evangelistic work among educated Hindus, which has been carried on by the Rev. T. Carss; the Robert Money School, of which the Rev. H. A. Bren is Principal and Mr. J. Jackson Vice-Principal; Vernacular Schools, that for girls being under the charge of Miss E. Morris; and the Mohammedan Mission, the special sphere of the Rev. J. G. Deimler.

Mr. Carss sends some interesting particulars of his efforts to reach the Hindu gentlemen:—

Efforts to reach educated Hindus.

There are two divisions of the educated class. The first consists of a few highly educated, able men, holding honourable and responsible appointments. These men, I regret to say, have, as a class, little sympathy either with Christianity or Christian missionaries. Their belief seems to be either that all religions are equally false, or that their ancestral faith, when divested of modern additions and corruptions, contains all that is really necessary to salvation. These men can never be brought to attend lectures in favour of Christianity. If the Governor were chairman, and a European celebrity the lecturer, they might, perhaps, come to listen to a Christian lecture. Christian literature and visiting are the only means of reaching this class. Many of these gentlemen, however, are not unfriendly. They receive visits, I will not say gladly, but at least courteously, and are quite willing to talk on religious subjects. In proportion as a man can divest himself of national prejudices, have a real sympathy with everything Native that is not sinful, and can go to them without any professional air and without conveying the impression that his visit is merely the performance of a duty,—in that proportion will his visits be welcome.

The second division of the educated class consists of the many thousands of young men who have learned more or less of English in one or other of the numerous schools in Bombay. Several hundreds of these young men were my pupils in former years in the Money School. A great and important work might be done among this class by any missionary who had a house to which they might freely go at all times with the certainty of a hearty welcome. Without the expense and responsibility of a college, numbers of undergraduates might be brought under Christian teaching and influence by any one willing to assist them in their secular studies. Lectures would also be numerously attended. I have spent some time almost every day in visiting among both the divisions of educated young men. My visits were received in no instance coldly, in several warmly, in all courteously; and I have to thank God for the numerous opportunities I found of speaking freely of the Gospel.

Robert Money School.

The Robert Money School has 289 pupils, viz. 98 Brahmins, 168 other Hindus, 5 Mohammedans, 12 Jews, 2 Romanists, and 9 Protestants. Mr. Bren writes:—

Lack of courage, not of knowledge.

The Mahrattas are afraid of each other. They are afraid to act up to their religious convictions, because they know every one of their caste is afraid of doing the same, and will be too weak to make a confession of Christ and brave the consequences. They will not perish for lack of knowledge, but for lack of courage. Many of them have very nice dispositions, kind, gentle, loving lads, but without fibre or backbone. "All pulp and no pluck" is a fair description of the majority. They may be convinced of the truth, but dare not confess it. I believe that many would be willing to be baptized if they were dying, but the great difficulty they cannot face is the living as Christians.

Whilst some have shown a spirit of indifference to, and even an inclination to scoff at, the truths of the Gospel, on the other hand, some have shown a deeper spirit of inquiry. On one occasion when we had finished our appointed English work twenty minutes before the time, a heathen boy proposed that we should spend the time in having a longer Bible lesson. During the first part of the year I taught parts of the Gospel of St. John to the seventh standard, at the special request of some of the boys in the class. Certainly I was well repaid for all the hours spent in preparation, for I found the lads far more interested in the Fourth Gospel than in the Synoptists.

A heathen boy proposing a longer Bible lesson.

We cannot make the heathen lads Christians, but we can and do make them close their books and behave reverently during the opening of school with prayer, and I am sure that it has an influence for good. I sometimes find that the heathen boys have not only appeared to be paying attention, but they have been really listening to what was being read, and have not forgotten it some hours afterwards.

The hostel for Native Christian boys attending this or other schools, started by the Rev. Jani Alli when he was in Bombay, is now carried on in connection with the Robert Money School. Mr. Bren thus describes it, and the need for it:—

Hostel for Christian boys.

No one who has not seen what a Native home is like can have any conception of the importance of this branch of our work. Our Native Christians have no idea of training up their children in the way they should go. The children rule more than they are ruled. And not only is the Hostel important as a means of training up these young lads in the paths of obedience and morality, but we try to make it as much as possible a Christian home. I take prayers with them every evening, when I give them a very short exposition; and on Sunday afternoons I have a Bible-class with them for an hour. I hope in this way we shall have in a few years' time several young men, earnest Christians, well educated, and holding good positions, if they do not actually become agents of the Society, as I trust many of them will. Our great aim is to show the boys that we are not merely schoolmasters, but that we take a real interest in them, and are anxious to make them happy in every way.

Owing to the kindness of A. Sutton, Esq., of Reading, I received a fine set of cricketing tackle, which the boys have greatly appreciated and well used. I am sure that such exercise developes their characters and makes them more manly, honest, and straightforward.

I am anxious to improve the library which Mr. Jani Alli commenced for the Hostel boys. We want some interesting and simple story-books for boys; such as could be read by them on Sundays more especially.

Mr. Deimler continues his diligent labours to make Christ known to the Mohammedans of Bombay. A Moslem schoolmaster of good family and his son were baptized during the year, and there are several inquirers attending Urdu services and a Bible-class. Mr. Deimler and his wife are also "house-father and house-mother" of the ladies of the Indian Female Normal School and Instruction Society. Of their work he writes, "The Zenana Mission is gradually gaining influence, and is conferring a real blessing on the female population of this city by schools and zenana visiting. By means of it, I endeavour to find access to educated Native gentlemen."

NASIK AND SHARANPUR.

The Rev. C. Mountfort is now actively engaged in evangelistic work in and around the great heathen town of NASIK, the Benares of Western India; and the Rev. F. G. Macartney is in charge of the Native Christian settlement at Sharanpur, assisted by the Rev. Lucas Maloba as Native pastor. Mr. Mountfort's itinerations among the surrounding villages have been very encouraging. "With scarcely an exception our message was listened to respectfully and thoughtfully"; and the sale of Marathi Gospels has been brisk in many places. The dispensing of medicines has been combined with the preaching, and has helped to draw the people together. Mr. Macartney reports in the main favourably of the village of Sharanpur and its varied agencies, the Orphanage, the Farm, the Poor Asylum, the Colportage, the Normal Class, the Vernacular Schools, &c. Of the 339 baptized Native Christians, he is "thankful, on the whole, to speak well." The Bishop of Bombay confirmed 13 of them in September.

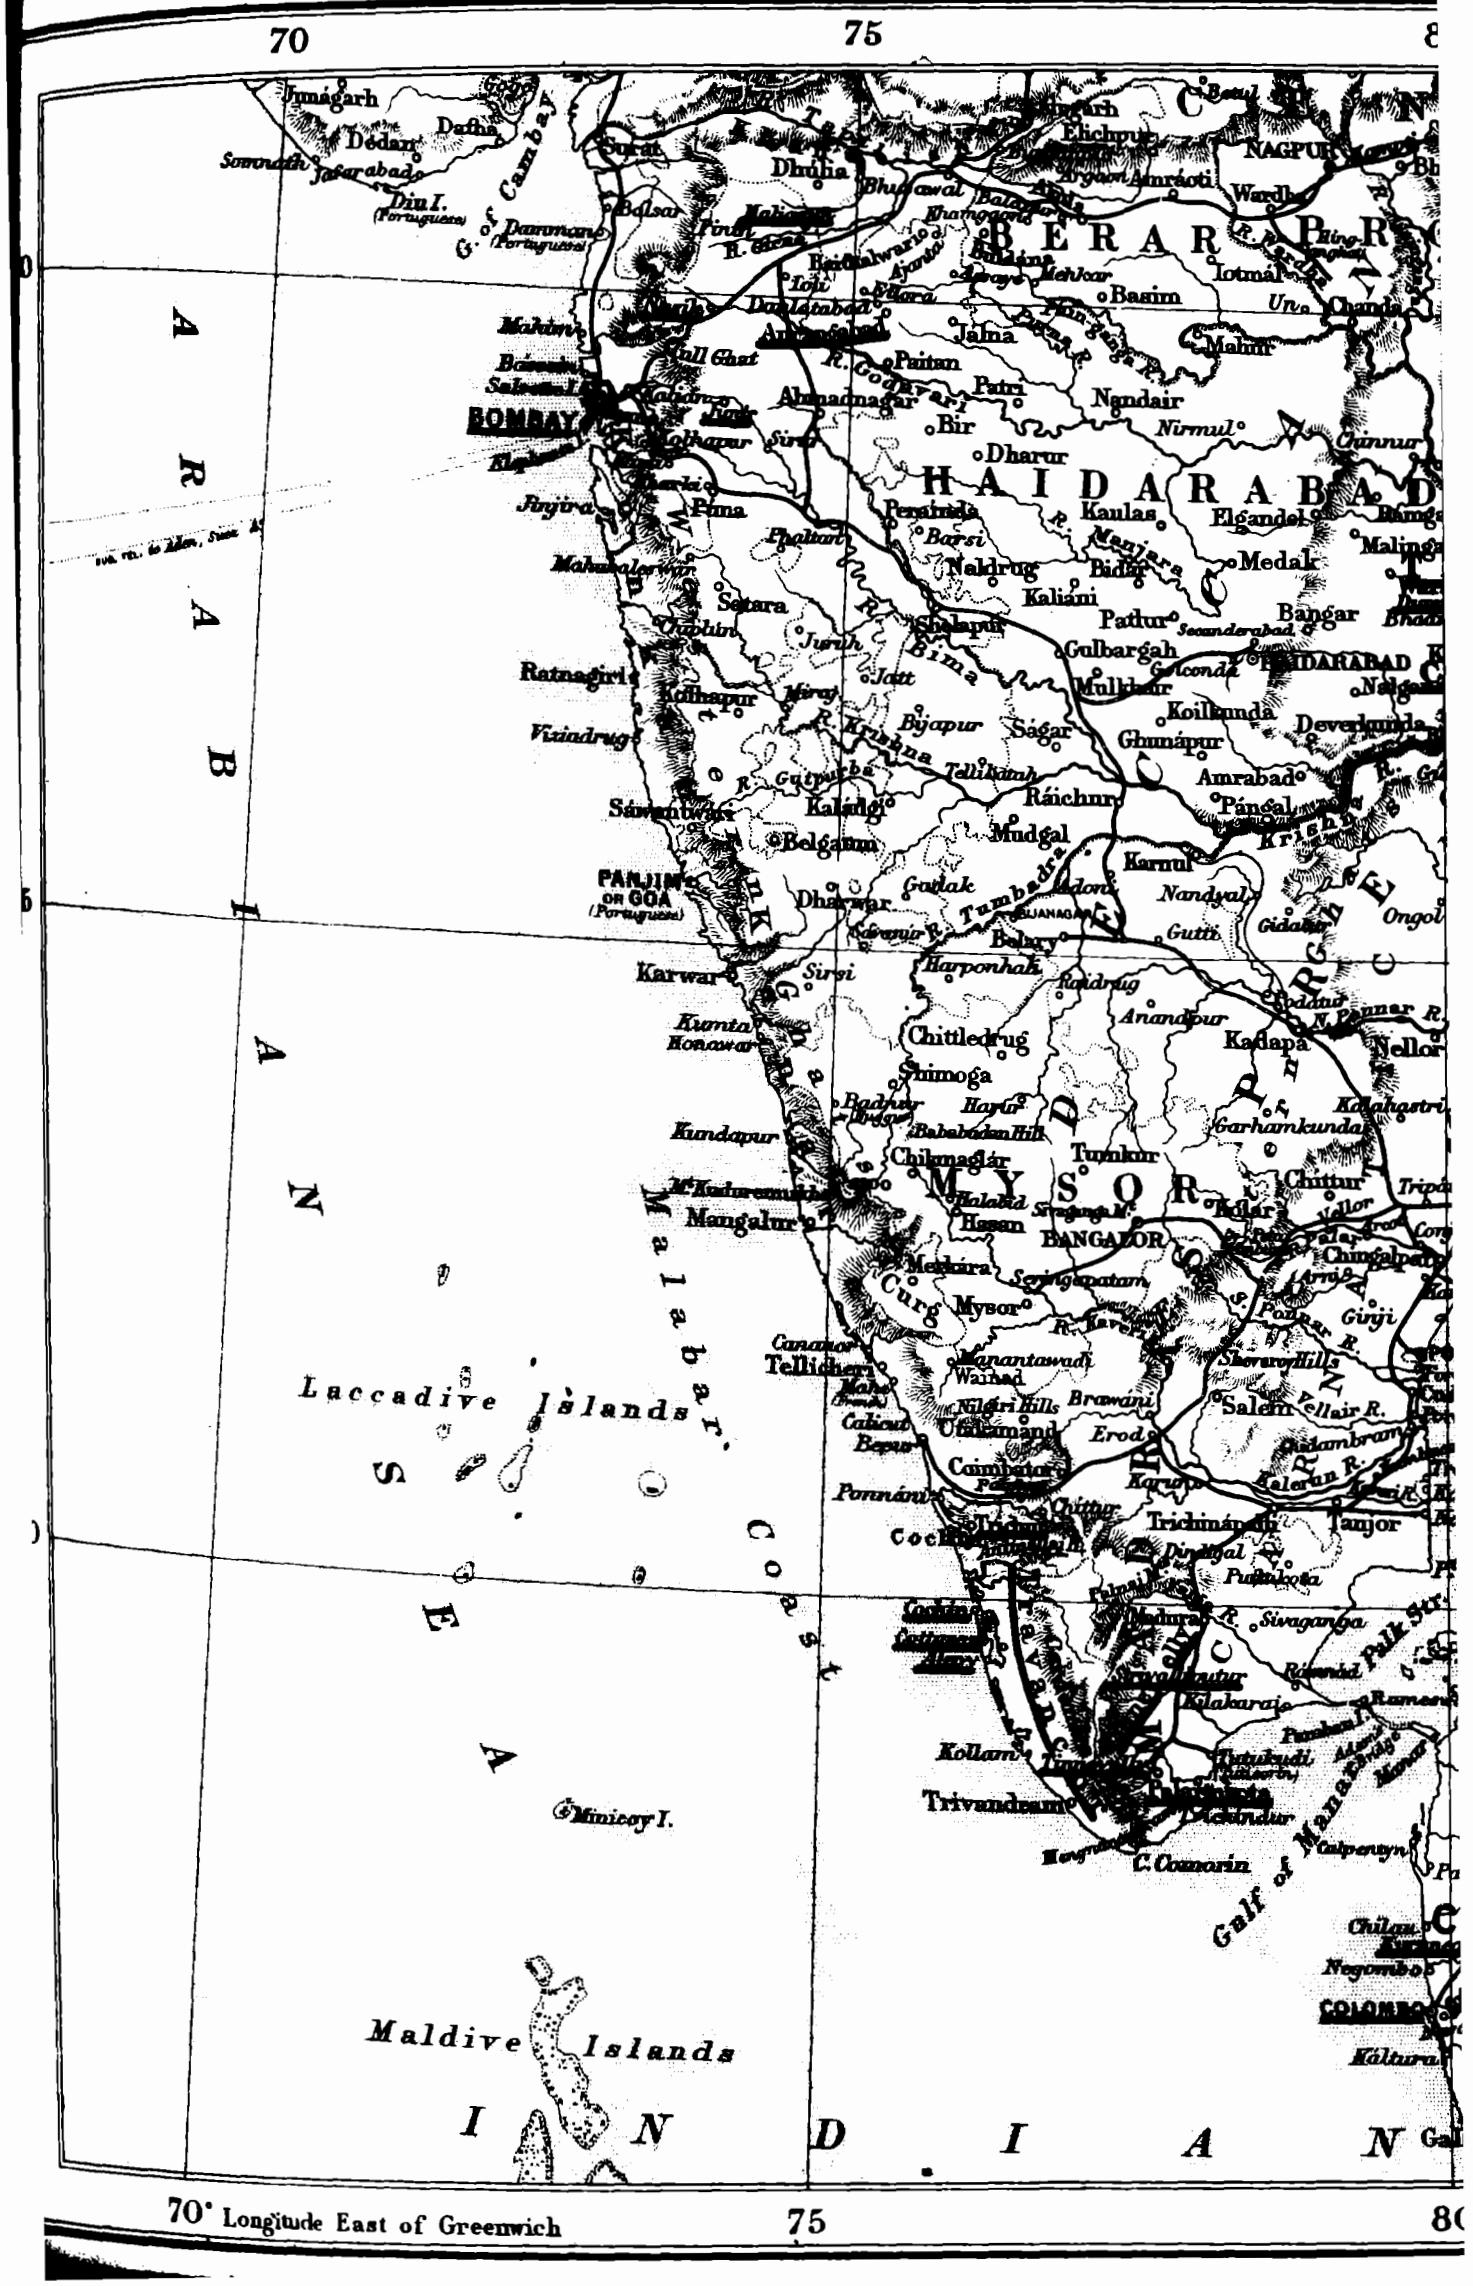

Use of medicines in itinerating.

JUNIR DISTRICT.

There is now no resident missionary at Junir itself, but the district has been under the superintendence of Mr. R. A. Squires from Kirkee. The chief actual worker is a respected and experienced catechist named Krishnaji Dharmaji, who has now been recommended by the Church Council for holy orders. One tour taken by Mr. Squires led him far beyond the Junir district, into the hill-country to the north-east where the Koli live, a little-known aboriginal tribe. He went with Mr. Elphinston, the Collector at Ahmed-nagar, who desired to open a Christian school on his own account at a village where dwelt the widow and children of three Koli who had been executed for murder.

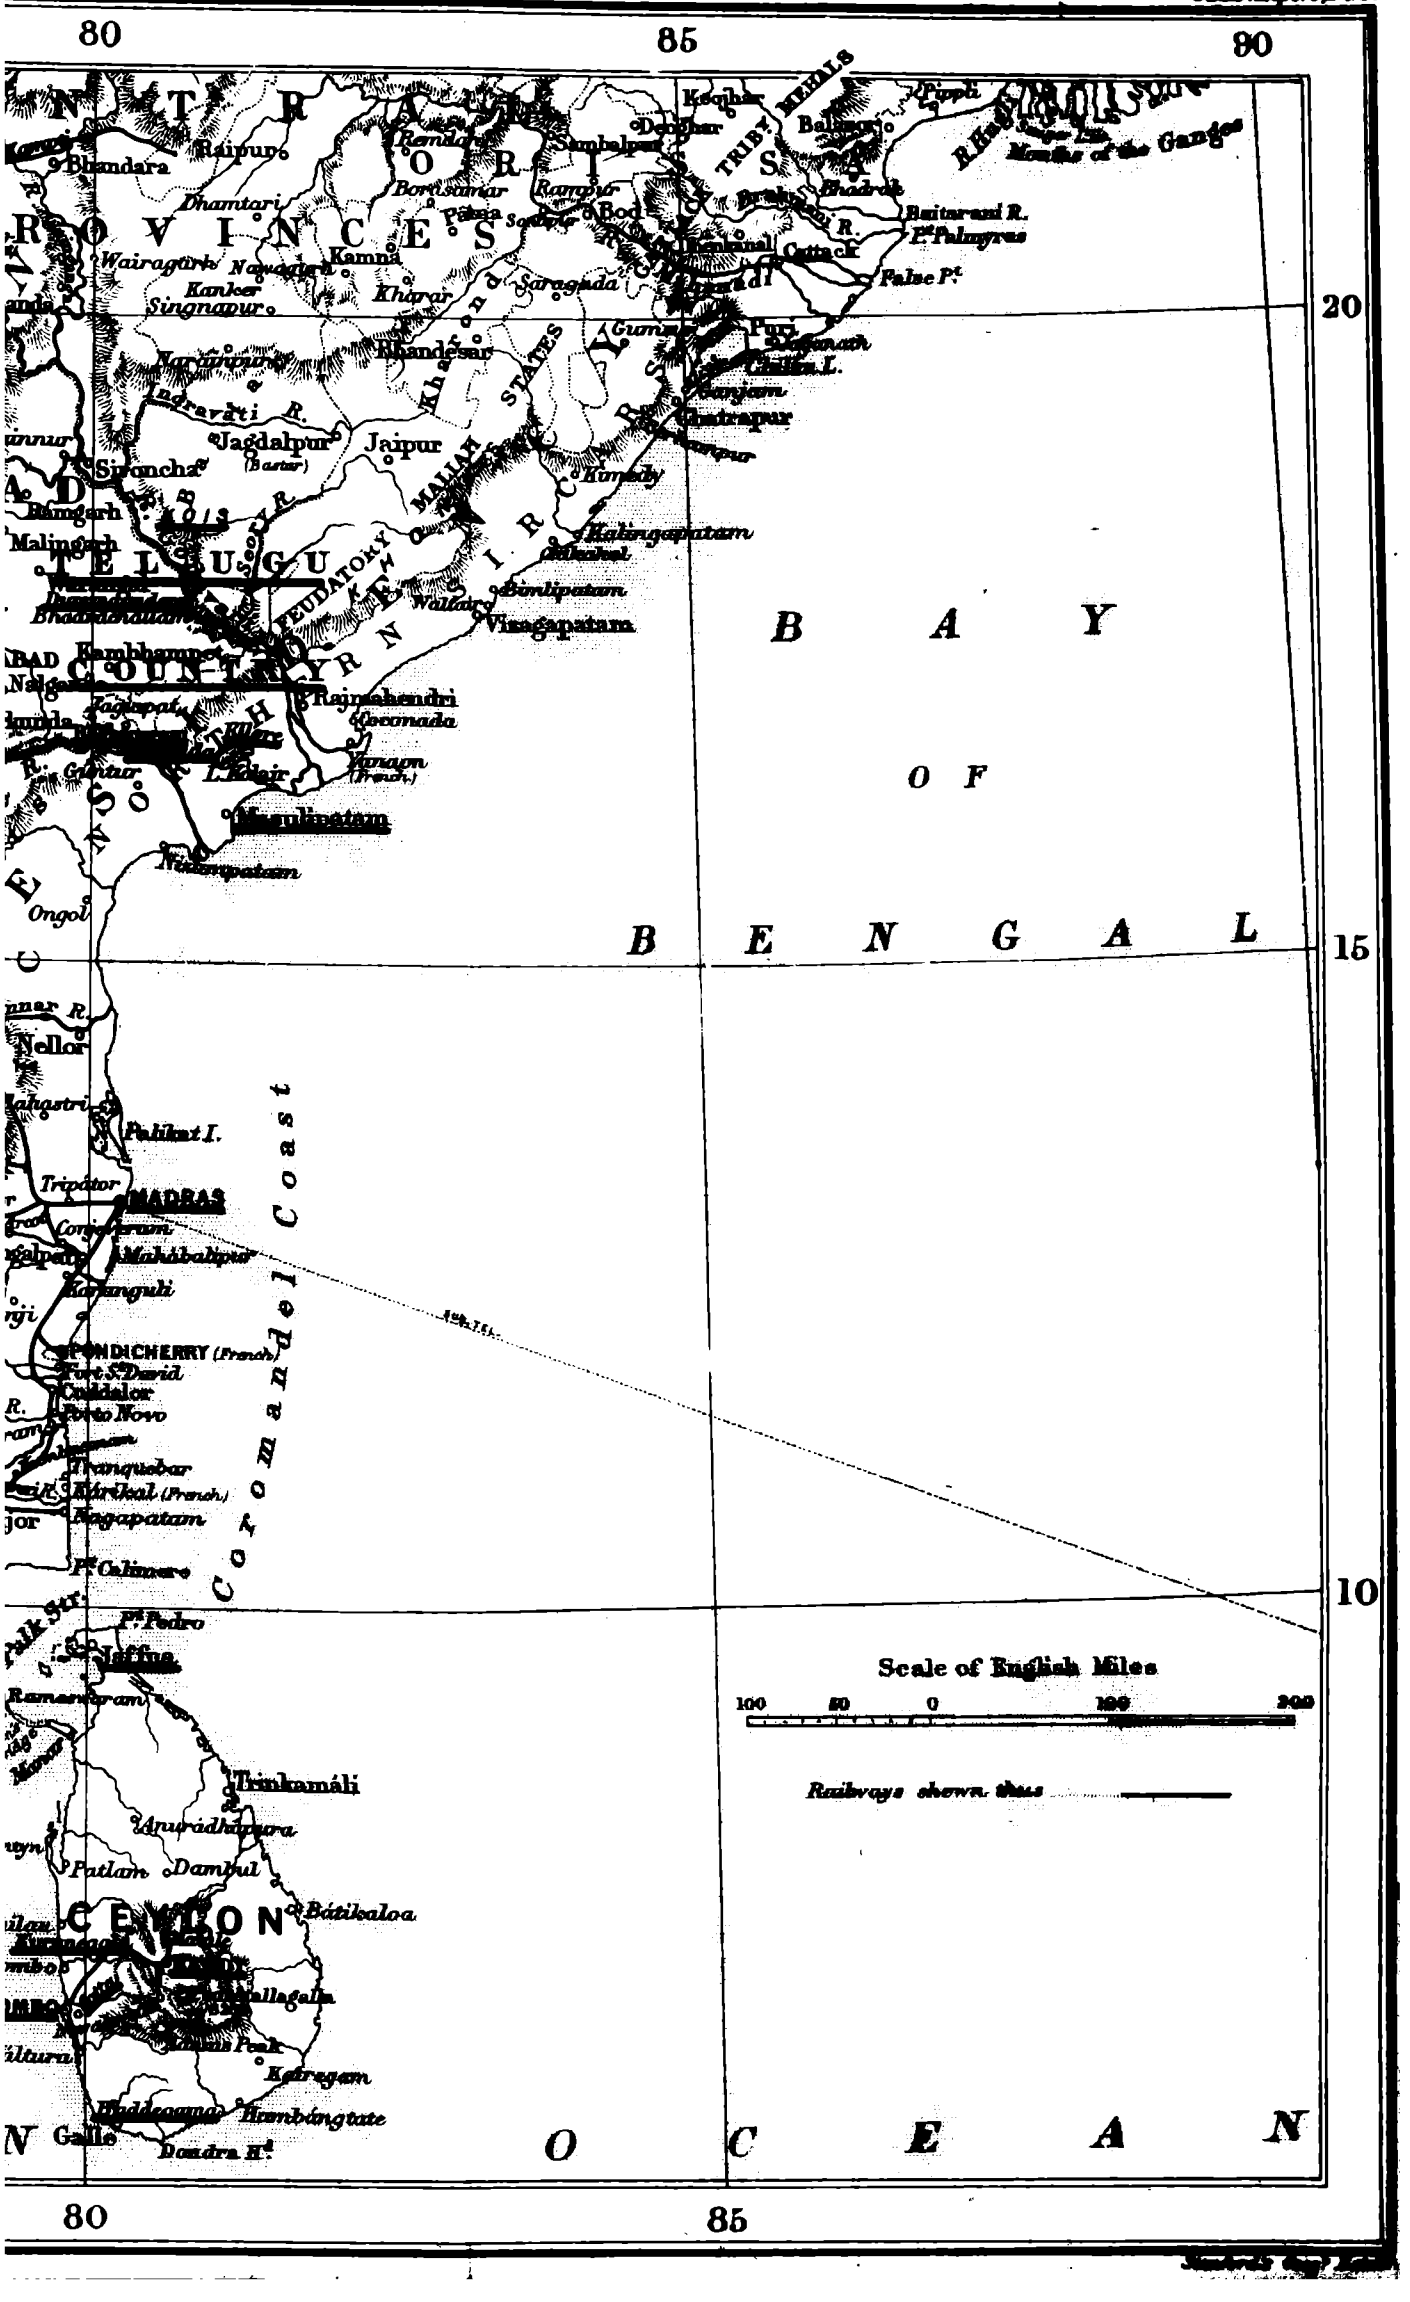

Christian school opened by the English Collector.

Under the head of Junir is also placed the work done by the Society's honorary Native missionary, the Rev. Sorabji Kharsedji, who resides at Poona, his wife being an agent there of the I.F.N.S. Society. He engages in itinerant preaching and other evangelistic efforts as his health will allow. He has also been assisting in the revision of the Gujerathi New

INDIA AND CEYLON.

C.M.S. Report, Pl. 6.

Testament for the Bible Society. The Committee have been much interested to find from his Annual Letter that the remarkable Brahmin lady, Rama Bai, whose conversion to Christianity has excited some attention, was originally under his and Mrs. Sorabji's influence, before she became associated with the Rev. Nehemiah Goreh and the Wantage Sisters.

The conversion of Rama Bai.

MALEGÂM.

On the removal of the Rev. F. G. Macartney from this station to Sharanpur, he was succeeded by the Rev. A. Manwaring, who had been at Junir. The congregation of 121 Christians is now without a Native pastor, the Rev. Shankar Balawant having retired on account of age and ill health. At Christmas last this veteran mission worker read a paper at a gathering of all the Christians, reviewing his forty years' labours. The old guru mentioned in the last three Annual Reports in connection with the out-station of Ranâla is not referred to by Mr. Manwaring this year.

Retirement of the Rev. Shankar Balawant.

AURANGABAD.

The number of Christians at this remote and isolated station has considerably increased. No less than 33 adults were baptized in the year, and the band of Christian adherents has risen from 533 to 593. The remarks of the Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji, the excellent Native clergyman who has worked the station from its commencement quite alone, concerning his practice with regard to the probation of candidates for baptism, are interesting:—

Remarks on probation for baptism.

> Thirty-three adults and forty-five children have been baptized during the past year. This is a great advance upon the results of past years, and for this, as well as for other tokens of divine blessing upon this Mission, I desire to praise God. But the number of baptisms would have been still larger had I not kept back several candidates with whose character I was not satisfied. I did not expect too much from those who had passed their lives in heathenism; I was ready to make charitable allowances for their faults and failings, but I expected sincerity and some change in their life in proportion to their profession, and when these were wanting I could not but decline to give them baptism. I believe my refusal has had its desired effect upon the disappointed candidates. They have learnt, what they never could have otherwise learnt, that the aim and object of the missionary is not to increase the number of his people, but to lead sinners to the Saviour, that He may save them from their sins.

The Bishop of Madras, within whose jurisdiction, as before explained, this part of India is, visited Aurangabad in the early part of last year, and confirmed 54 of Mr. Ruttonji Nowroji's people. "In the several services held the good Bishop adressed loving words of exhortation for an advanced life of faith and holiness."

This brief review of the Western-India Misssion may well be closed by quoting some interesting words from the Annual Letter of the Rev. Apaji Bapuji of Bombay, who can look back, as he says, over half a century of work for the Church of Christ:—

A fifty years' retrospect.

This year is the thirty-ninth year of my entrance into the Church, and the fifty-third of my connection with our Mission. During this long acquaintance of little more than half a century I witnessed many changes and much progress in Mission work throughout the Western Presidency of this great land, and every year convinces me that the good hand of Providence is guiding and supporting us, and preparing the nations of India by social, moral, and political changes for the salvation of Jesus Christ. It is now an acknowledged fact, even by the heathen, that Christian Missions are a great boon to the country, and are doing a mighty work.

SOUTH-INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived in 1814.)

Madras, commenced 1814; Travancore and Cochin, 1816; Tinnevelly, 1820; Telugu Mission, 1841.

Administration of the Mission.

Of the four divisions of the Society's Missions in South India, the three in the Diocese of Madras, viz. Madras, Tinnevelly, and the Telugu Mission, are administered by the Madras Corresponding Committee, the Bishop being Chairman, and the Rev. E. Sell, Secretary. Travancore, since the formation of the Missionary Diocese of Travancore and Cochin, has been separately worked by the Missionary Conference, with the Bishop as chairman, while its financial affairs are conducted, in correspondence with Bishop Speechly, by Mr. Sell and a small Finance Committee in Madras.

Languages used in the Mission.

Two of the four divisions are connected linguistically, Tamil being the vernacular of both Madras and Tinnevelly. In three, therefore, of the four great Dravidian languages of South India the Society works, Malayâlam being used in Travancore, and Telugu in the district known by that name. The Canarese-speaking people are cared for by other societies. Two other languages are also employed by the C.M.S., viz. Hindustani (in its southern form) for the Mohammedans of Madras, and Koi for the tribe of that name on the Godâvari.

Proposed Divinity School.

There has hitherto been no close connection between these different Missions except the common correspondence with Madras. But the Committee are now proposing to establish at that capital a Theological Class, i.e. a Divinity School on a small scale in the first instance, in which superior men from the several South Indian Missions would go through a thorough course of preparation for future work. While the theological training for the simple pastors needed for village congregations is and must be in the vernacular, it is felt to be of great moment to furnish more completely those candidates who have had a higher education; and both economy and unity will be secured by establishing one institution for this purpose at the capital of the Presidency.

Number of Native Christians.

As the readers of this Report are aware, the vast majority of the Native Christians of India belong to the South. Of the whole 417,000 (in India proper), reported by the Decennial Missionary Census of 1882, no less than 300,000 were in the Presidency of Madras and its Native Dependencies. It is the same with C.M.S. statistics taken alone. Out of 102,000 Native Christians connected with its Indian Missions, 86,000 are in the four divisions now under review; and 96 of the 134 Native clergy.

Help from Australia.

One entry in the Minutes of the Madras Corresponding Committee for December 11th ought not to pass without notice. It is a vote of thanks to the Rev. H. B. Macartney, of Melbourne, for his half-yearly remittance in aid of the South India Missions, 527*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.* The Committee record this noble contribution from Australia with unfeigned gratitude.

I. Madras.

No brief notice, such as can be given in these pages, can do justice to the admirably organized work now carried on by the Native Church in Madras, connected with the Society. The annual report of the Church Council, and those of the two Pastorates and the outlying Palaveram district under the Council, are full of interest and of encouragement for the future of Christianity in India. This Council consists of the Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan, Chairman, and Pastor of Zion Church, Chintadrepettah; the Rev. Samuel Paul (successor to the Rev. V. Simeon, moved to Tinnevelly), Pastor of Black Town; the Rev. Samuel John, Native Missionary to educated Hindus; and six lay delegates, three of whom are in the government service, two connected with educational institutions, and one a Mission agent. Its balance-sheet for the year is an elaborate document, giving full details of receipts and expenditure, and with a total on each side of the account (excluding balances) of about Rs. 13,000. In addition to this, each Pastorate, as well as Palaveram, has its own local account for minor expenses and for contributions to special objects; but the bulk of the amount raised in each case is handed to the Council, which pays the pastors, schoolmasters, catechists, and the general evangelistic and educational charges. The Society's grants-in-aid comprise Rs. 1674 towards the pastoral expenses, Rs. 1800 for the C.M.S. schools now managed by the Council, and Rs. 1625 for the Palaveram Mission handed over to it two years ago. There are also some grants from the William Charles Jones Fund and Henry Venn Native Church Fund; and there is Rs. 1200, government grants-in-aid to the schools. The rest is raised locally.

Grants-in-aid.

The total number of Native Christians connected with the Council is 1568, of whom 780 are communicants. The parochial and missionary agencies of all kinds have been detailed in former Annual Reports, and do not call for particular notice this year. Mr. Satthianadhan's Annual Letter to the Society discusses the character of Native Christianity. While thanking the English residents at the military stations in the Palaveram district for their pecuniary aid, he is anxious not to count upon this. "The Native Church," he says, "to be indigenous and self-sustaining, must depend for support, not upon foreigners, but upon her own children, who have experienced the transforming power of the Gospel, and who, under a constraining sense of Christ's matchless love, are prepared to make sacrifices for the promotion of His cause." "But," he adds, "what is liberality worth, if it is not the outcome of vitality in the soul? It has therefore been my effort to promote also missionary spirit and activity in the Church." He laments over the "regular church-goers who 'sit at ease in Zion' without manifesting the signs of 'the higher life';" and then asks whether perchance he is measuring the Church by too high a standard. "Not higher," he replies, "than the one expressed in that striking injunction, 'Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.'" Mr. Satthianadhan is so well known in this country, that his views will be read with interest on two recent religious developments in Madras, Ritualism and the Salvation Army:—

Mr. Satthianadhan on the Native Church;

on Ritualism;

Ritualism, differing but a little from Romanism, not only prevails, but is on the increase. Even Native Churches have been affected by it. In churches where, to my certain knowledge, divine worship used to be conducted in all simplicity, and where the Gospel was preached in its purity and power, prominence is now given to a high ritual, ornate services, and religion of an obsolete, rubrical, and sacramental character. It is a lamentable fact that there is very little of the kernel while there is much of the shell of religion. I know that this state of things exists to a large extent in England, but that it should exist in this heathen country, whose religion consists essentially in ceremonialism and sacerdotalism, is to my mind passing strange. One doctrine of Ritualism is reserve, by which the truths of Christianity are not to be preached to unbaptized heathens. I need hardly add that this theory tends to check the work of evangelization in the country.

on the Salvation Army;

This year has also witnessed the advent of the Salvation Army. How far this mode of proclaiming the Gospel is suited to this country is a question which I am not prepared to answer at present. Many of the Salvationists are earnest, self-denying, enthusiastic, and preach salvation by Christ after a fashion which will attract the attention and engage the sympathy of many of the poorer classes, chiefly among Christians. But it has too much of the theatrical element in it to attract intellectual men or affect serious minds. I was going to say it is another form of Ritualism paraded, not in churches, but in the streets and bazaars. It has not that sober, serious, calm, contemplative element in it which comports so beautifully with the dignity, solemnity, and sublimity of the Gospel, that "still small voice," which proceeds from the Cross, and which is alike heard by the sinner and the saint, because, though small, it is so sweet and powerful. But as Christ is preached and some good has resulted, it is not for me to blame or speak disparagingly of the movement.

on Theosophy.

He also refers to the Theosophism of Colonel Olcott, which has been noticed in previous Reports in connection with Ceylon and Tinnevelly. Its contemptuous attitude towards the Gospel has attracted many educated Hindus, to whom the cross of Christ is "foolishness." Between seventy and eighty, "administrative officers of Government and leaders of Native thought," have been initiated into the mysteries of this occult system. "Any religion but the true one," remarks Mr. Satthianadhan, "is apparently their motto."

The Rev. Samuel John, who, in his daily intercourse with Hindu gentlemen, comes in contact with all the varieties of man-made religion, also notices Theosophism in connection with three other opposing forces to Christianity:—

Four opposing forces in Madras.

There are four different forces, so to speak, at work in this city of Madras, which tend to disturb and unsettle the minds of intelligent men as regards their religious views and sentiments. First, orthodox Hinduism, which has still a powerful hold on the educated; secondly, Brahmic Theism, which has not succeeded in effecting any perceptible change in the national, social, at the same time superstitious and erroneous, habits and customs of its votaries; thirdly, Western Materialism, which, while ignoring everything that is beyond the pale of rational demonstration, teaches the Hindu to deify matter, thus giving to Pantheism, so congenial to him, only a different phase; and, fourthly, American Theosophism, which professes to revive the abstruse and contradictory Shastras of Hindus, as well as by means of its occult sciences to erect a universal brotherhood in the face of all conflicting religious views and sentiments. Christianity, therefore, has decidedly four great and formidable enemies to contend with.

The Mission to Moslems.

The MOHAMMEDAN MISSION in Madras was conducted for the greater part of the year by the Rev. H. D. Goldsmith alone, during the visit of his brother, the Rev. M. G. Goldsmith, to England. The Harris School was, at the date of his Annual Letter, December last, "never in a more prosperous condition as regards numbers," there being 170 names on the books; and the interest in the Bible lessons was fully maintained, especially in the higher classes. But a sudden check was afterwards experienced. A Christian convert from Mohammedanism, Sayyid Joseph Hamid, who was brought to Christ through reading Sir W. Muir's Urdu Church History, and was baptized at Bombay nine years ago, was engaged as an agent of the Mission. Conversions from Islam, though numerous in North India, have been almost unknown in Madras; and the maulavis were so enraged by the advent of this man, that they delivered a fatwa in the mosque, declaring that all who attended the Harris School should be treated as "kafirs." Almost every boy left at once; Joseph was assaulted, and the brothers Goldsmith insulted, in the public streets. After a few weeks some reaction set in, and the younger Mussulmans began to write to the newspapers, disclaiming sympathy with the bigotry of their leaders; and a considerable number of boys have since returned. Meanwhile, in the mysterious providence of God, Joseph Hamid fell ill, and died in the hospital, "in full hope of everlasting life." "He had borne," Mr. Sell writes, "a noble testimony of Christ."

Crisis at the Harris School.

A Moslem convert's work, and death.

Prior to these untoward events, the evangelistic work in the Mussulman quarter had continued encouraging. Maulavis and others entered into friendly discussion, and of more than one disputant Mr. H. D. Goldsmith wrote that he trusted a work of grace was going on in his heart. But Moslem bitterness, despite all friendly intercourse and interchange of courtesies, is unaltered; and special prayer is now called for in behalf of the Mission among them. "Is not My word a hammer, saith the Lord, that breaketh the rock in pieces?"

OOTACAMUND.

The Rev. S. Paul, who has for some years ministered to the Tamil congregation at this Sanatorium, has been transferred to Madras, and his place is taken by the Rev. Mutthu Nallathambi, a son of one of the pastors at Tinnevelly. He is therefore a hereditary Christian; but, like Mr. Satthianadhan and others who were non-Christians, he owes his spiritual conversion, under God, to that devoted and much-blessed missionary schoolmaster, the late Mr. Cruickshanks. He has been for some sixteen years an agent of the Society, and was one of the group ordained by Bishop Sargent in March, 1882. His congregation at Ootacamund consists of 522 baptized Christians, of whom 237 are communicants. The Committee trust that a rich blessing will follow his labours among them and the surrounding heathen.

II. Tinnevelly.

The Mission is divided into ten districts, each with a Church Council, viz. 1, Palamcotta; 2, Dohnavur; 3, Suvisêshapuram; 4, Mengnânapuram; 5, Paneivilei; 6, Pannikulam; 7, Nallur; 8, Surandei; 9, Vageikulam; 10, Strivilliputtur; the last two being in North Tinnevelly.

Death of Mrs. Sargent:

TINNEVELLY has suffered during the year one of the greatest losses that could befall it, in the death of one to whom the whole Native Christian community looked up as mother. Mary Sargent, the beloved wife of the Bishop, was called to her eternal rest on June 19th. Throughout the whole twenty-eight years of her life in Tinnevelly, she devoted herself with all her heart to missionary work. The Committee have deeply sympathized with their honoured friend Bishop Sargent in his heavy trial, and indeed with the entire Christian community thus bereaved. They are thankful for some touching notes regarding her life and character which the Bishop printed for private circulation, from which the following sentences are extracted :—

Notes on her life by the Bishop.

After breakfast (on Sunday) we always united in prayer for all our missionary friends and their children; immediately after that she had the servants in for a quarter of an hour to read some portion of Scripture, verse by verse, and to pray with them. At 11 o'clock, all her school girls met her in our large hall; they sang a hymn, and then she went through the morning sermon, catechizing them and going through the references in the Bible, and concluding with prayer. This occupied an hour. Then at 12 o'clock some thirty of the women of the congregation came into the same room, and she had a Bible-class with them for another hour. These Bible readings will be remembered by them as long as life lasts, for all was done noiselessly in the spirit of love and prayer.

On Wednesday morning, she had some thirty or forty poor widows to meet her in the verandah adjoining her own room. She read some portion of the Bible; then she catechized them, exhorted them, prayed with them, and sent them away, each with enough rice to form a meal for the day. Every year she also gave each widow a new cloth, and was very solicitous that they should always appear neat and clean. Then on Friday mornings she always had a meeting for mothers. She took great pains to prepare for these classes. The leaves of her Bible are interspersed with innumerable slips of paper, upon which she had carefully noted the reference passages and the illustrations which she intended to use.

Her love to the girls in her school was unbounded. It was her constant habit to make religion appear a happy service. If she saw any of her girls with an unhappy countenance, she would say, "Where is the smiling face that the Christian ought to wear?" The Tamil expression is, "The face blooming as a flower."

Feeling that Bishop Sargent, after more than fifty years' labour in the country, was overweighted by the heavy charge of "the care of all the churches" in the eight C.M.S. districts of South Tinnevelly, the Committee have in the past year sent out the Rev. A. R. Cavalier, formerly of the Tamil Cooly Mission, Ceylon, who is well acquainted with the language, to assist him in the multifarious work falling upon the head of such a Mission. They trust that this arrangement may afford him some real relief.

The Committee have to thank the Bishop for a very full and complete report on all the C.M.S. districts and pastorates under his charge—the most complete received for some years. This report, however, was for the preceding year, 1882, and large portions of it have been printed in the C.M. Intelligencer. It does not therefore call for detailed notice here. But the introductory remarks must be given :—

There are under my supervision eight districts, now containing from four to twenty pastorates each. Church Councils are held quarterly, sometimes half-yearly, in each of these districts, when the chief events of the circle and the arrangements for teachers and buildings are recorded, so that the condition of things in every part of the Mission is more or less brought several times in the year under the notice of the C.M.S. Committee by these proceedings of the Church Councils. Bp. Sargent's Report.

With the reports of the several pastorates before me for 1882, I am able to state that there has been no declension in any part of the mission-field during the past year. In a few places some new-comers have gone back to their old ways, but in others more have joined us; the increase, however, is altogether only between four and five hundred. But if we have not had large accessions from among the heathen, the general statement on all sides is that the older congregations, with only some few exceptions, are manifesting more personal, vital piety, more Christian zeal in commending the Gospel, and more cheerful liberality in support of their teachers, &c.

I believe that in reference to this spirit of giving, the people are so constantly and faithfully instructed that very few, if any, can fairly be suspected of giving under the hope that they are thus making the way to heaven easy to their souls. A man came to me last month, as he frequently does, and was untying the corner of his handkerchief, where the Natives ordinarily carry their ready money. I suspected what was coming, and said, "Ah! you never come but to give. I suppose you are making proof of our Saviour's words that it is 'more blessed to give than to receive.'" "Ah! sir," he replied, "I only give what I receive, and when I think of the great spiritual gifts which God has bestowed, I feel that I can never give enough," and so saying he put down several rupees on the table for the Church Fund, and went away. This is so much like what another man said some time ago, when I hesitated above receiving so much from so poor a man—"Sir, I am only giving back from what God Himself has given me"—that one might suppose they had talked the matter over between them; but that could not be the case; they come from different places. A Native Christian giver.

The total number of adherents in the C.M.S. districts of Tinnevelly is 56,457, an increase on last year of exactly 700; but the baptized, 43,644, show an increase in the year of 1516. The proportion of baptized to catechumens has been growing larger year by year since the great influx of the latter after the famine. The communicants are 10,990, an increase of 418, which is large proportionately. The numbers baptized during the year were 437 men, 359 women, and 1786 children, total 2582. Then there were 683 burials; but, after allowing for these, a comparison of the figures shows that between 300 and 400 persons are off the lists by removal or defection. The amount contributed to various church and mission objects by the Native Christians was Rs. 30,617, an increase of Rs. 3000 on the preceding year. As in Madras, a part of the local collections was spent by the various congregations on the expenses Statistics of the Mission.

and repairs of their own churches, and other local objects; but nearly two-thirds went to the District Councils, which pay the pastors, schoolmasters, &c. The schools maintained by the Native Church (i.e. Primary Day-schools, not including higher institutions, supported by the Society) number 467, employing 398 masters and 136 mistresses, and educating 13,588 children. Towards the support of these schools, the Indian Government paid to the Native Church in grants-in-aid no less than Rs. 18,650. There are 83 lay catechists for the pastoral charge and instruction of catechumens under the clergy, and 71 lay evangelists to the heathen. Almost all the latter are probably agents on the William Charles Jones Fund, which another table credits with 69 evangelists. This Fund is a blessing indeed in South India. Some account of the work of these men is given in the Appendix to this Report. The Native clergy numbered 63 when the figures were made up, but since then, on Dec. 23rd, Bishop Sargent ordained four more, viz., the Revs. Joshua Paul, V. Sarganam, A. Savarimuttu, and J. Nallathambi, which makes 67 now, the highest figure yet reached. To complete these most interesting statistics, it should be mentioned that there are 135 pukka churches, and 567 prayer-houses and schoolrooms; also that Christians are found in no less than 1048 villages. All these figures, it must be borne in mind, are for the C.M.S. districts only. If the S.P.G. figures were added—and it is a case, not of separate though contiguous provinces, but of districts interlacing each other—the result would be considerably more than "half as much again." There is indeed much cause to praise God for in connection with Tinnevelly; not for statistical progress only, but that with it Bishop Sargent testifies that there is advance in vital piety and Christian zeal. Mr. Kember mentions a serious outbreak of cholera in December, which carried off several members of Christian families; and he writes, "In the midst of all this sorrow and bereavement, we have again and again rejoiced to witness the calm, trustful, Christian resignation, and the sure and certain hope, manifested by many a lowly follower of Jesus in the immediate prospect of death."

Ordinations.

Churches, prayer-houses, school-rooms.

Christian spirit in sickness and death.

In the foregoing numbers are included those of North Tinnevelly, in which two of the ten Church Council Districts are situated. These districts are so far separated from the others that Bishop Sargent is spared the labour of personal supervision (other than the exercise of episcopal functions), and the two Councils are presided over by the Rev.

Viravâgu Vedhanayagam. The comprehensiveness of his Annual Letter may be judged from the headings—"Congregation," "Baptisms," "Mission Agents," "Schools," "Jones Fund Catechists," "Voluntary Catechists," "Colporteurs," "Zenana Work," "Orphanages," "Contributions." He gives one striking illustration of bread cast upon the waters being found after many days. Twenty-seven years ago, Mr. Ragland and himself encountered, in the village of Alagapuri, where there was not one Christian, "a most disputatious man," whose clever cavilling was successful in turning away the ears of the people from the Gospel. Not only is there now a flourishing congregation at Alagapuri, but that very opponent has been baptized in the past year at the age of sixty-nine, exclaiming, after his baptism, that it was through God's singular mercy that a sinner like himself should be permitted to share the heavenly treasure. Mr. Vedhanayagam gives also a touching account of another new convert, who was led to think of Christianity through the instructions of an English planter in the hills whose agent he was, and who, after embracing the Gospel with his heart, had to endure bitter domestic persecution.

Work of Mr. Vedhanayagam.

Conversion of an old opponent.

The three most important Educational Agencies in Tinnevelly, viz., the Training Institution, the Sarah Tucker Female Institution, and the Anglo-Vernacular School in the heathen town of Tinnevelly, have continued during the year under the charge respectively of the Rev. T. Kember, V. W. Harcourt, and H. J. Schaffter. Mr. Kember, as usual, sends a full and interesting report. He has had 77 students in the Normal Department, and six in the Theological Class. Twenty-seven of the former, having completed their training, have gone forth to work as teachers in some of the numerous schools already mentioned. Their interest in the Bible and Prayer Union is noticed. "We have found it," says Mr. Kember, "a most valuable bond of union." Mrs. Kember gives active assistance in the Institution, both by taking classes in the Practising School, and by a motherly care for the young men themselves. Of the Theological students, one was ordained in December; one, from Mauritius, has gone back there with a view to ordination and work in the island; and four have returned to North Tinnevelly as catechists, there being at present no pastorates there vacant for them.

children of Brahmins, is doing as valuable a work as ever. Of the Institution itself Mr. Harcourt writes:—

> The Sarah Tucker Institution has been full to overflowing this year, and I have had a larger staff of teachers. As last year, our classes were disorganized by frequent marriages amongst them. One hundred and thirty-five young women in all occupy the establishment. And what about sicknesses, and strifes, and scandals in the midst of this large concourse of young women? Thank God, we have been spared all! There has been no scandal, no quarrelling amongst the teachers, hardly any sickness, for our Father has shielded us from all evil. The characteristic of the year has been steady, hard work, and I trust a high aim—consecration of all to Him. My wife and Miss Askwith, of the C.E.Z.M.S., have borne their full share of the work. The Government has raised its grant to Rs. 217 per month, so that I have been able to increase the training part of the establishment.

Tinnevelly College.

The High School, or College, in Tinnevelly Town has occupied a new building in the past year—a "true type of the Society that built it," writes Mr. Schaffter, "large, strong, plain, useful, and good." It is not large enough now, however. The numbers have grown to 300, of whom thirty-one are in the college classes; due in part to the success of the School in the University examinations, which has been remarkable. The following extract from Mr. Schaffter's Annual Letter brings before us Colonel Olcott and his Theosophy again:—

Colonel Olcott in Tinnevelly.

> Colonel Olcott paid his second visit, and compared with the first it was a very mild affair. They beat drums in front of him, it is true, but the excitement was so mild that, though he delivered a lecture as soon as he arrived to the richest Natives, including the highest Government officials, zemindars, &c., abusing Christianity roundly, praising Hinduism ad nauseam, and telling them to emulate the Christian Society called the C.M.S., who, he was sorry to see, had collected 24 lacs of rupees to propagate their errors through the world, he managed to extract from upwards of 300, and most of them the elite of Tinnevelly heathendom, the sum of exactly Rs. 176, of which he gave five himself!
>
> At his second lecture he was informed that some Hindus present actually sent their sons to the Christian College. He gave a "start theatric," and gave them his idea of Christian missionaries. They were cobras whose bite is incurable, and if any of them got their children bitten it was their fault. Then the young believer of whom I wrote in my last letter, who said, "They cannot shut Christ out of our hearts," was publicly accused of being a believer in Christ. Olcott asked him, "Do you believe in Christ?" He replied, "Yes, sir, I do." Whereupon the colonel waxed very angry, and said, "Have you not heard of 145 objections to the Bible?" and ordered a Hindu College teacher to bring the young man to his senses, and teach him the true way of Hinduism. But this Hindu godfather, after paying him one visit, and receiving a few questions to reply to on Hinduism itself, seems to have given up all interest in his godchild. This young man passed his matriculation, and is now reading in my junior First

A Hindu believer's reply.

Arts Class. He is as firm as ever in his faith, and when independent will, I feel sure, confess Christ.

The only boy who was plucked in the First Arts last year was an earnest disciple of Olcott. He went up to Strivilliputtur, started an opposition school to our Mission school there, and, suffering from the chronic complaint of all Hindu schools, want of funds, invited his guru, the colonel, up there, and informed him that, say, Rs. 3000 would be all he required for an endowment, and say a trifle for furniture, &c. A lecture was advertised, and the best men of the place collected, and made a strange request for that bigoted place, viz., "Praise Hinduism as much as you please, sir, but do not abuse Christianity." This must have taken the wind out of his sails, but he went ahead, and when he worked round to the subscription question, the hearers nearest the door disappeared, and a steady ebb tide set in among the audience, so that he did not ask them even to subscribe an anna! I cannot help feeling the excitement about this man is just a flickering of the dying lamp of Hinduism.

The dying lamp of Hinduism.

III. Telugu Mission.

The Telugu Mission comprises Masulipatam, 1841; Ellore, 1854; Bêzwâda, 1858; the Koi Mission (Dummagûdem), 1860; Râghapuram, 1872; Amalâpuram, 1876.

The Committee are thankful to have been able to reinforce this Mission, the losses in which were so marked a feature of last year's Report. The Rev. E. W. Elliott, M.A., of St. Catherine's College, and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, has gone out as Rugby-Fox Master in the Noble College,—in the first instance for a year only though he hopes to rejoin the Mission afterwards. Two Islington men were also allotted to this part of India, the Rev. J. B. Panes and the Rev. M. N. S. Atkinson, the latter specially for the Koi Mission.

The work will also be strengthened by the recent ordination of three well-tried Native agents, Mâlas by race, and the first of that people to receive holy orders. The Brahmin and other high-caste clergymen in the Telugu Mission occupy important positions and have done most useful service; but as simple pastors for the village congregations, mostly Mâlas, on the low pay which must be fixed if those congregations are ever to support their Church, men of their own class will be the best. The names of the newly ordained deacons are the Rev. Kandavalli Peter, the Rev. Domatatti Stephen, and the Rev. Marumudi David. They were educated for the ministry by the Rev. F. N. Alexander at Ellore, and after his return to England last year, by the Rev. J. E. Padfield. Their candidature was discussed and approved by the Native Church Council, and by them the names were formally submitted to the Bishop of Madras, who admitted them to the ministry of the Church at Masulipatam on Feb. 24. The Committee trust that they are the precursors of many faithful pastors from the same people, who, despised as they are by the Hindus proper, have been chosen of God to furnish, so far, the bulk of the Telugu Church.

Statistics of the Mission.

The statistical returns are as follows:—Native Christian adherents, 6221 (an increase of 200), of whom 4211 are baptized, and 895 communicants. There were 89 adults and 205 children baptized in the year; but 80 members died. Native contributions to church objects, Rs. 2270. Schools 86, employing 97 teachers and educating 1180 children. Other Native agents, 55.

MASULIPATAM.

The Noble College:

After the return home of the Rev. E. N. Hodges, and until the arrival of Mr. Elliott, the Rev. W. G. Peel was alone at the Noble College and High School, a far too onerous work for one man. He has struggled manfully to keep everything going; but the College cannot expect to maintain its reputation if the staff is inadequate. The Native masters are able, and do much of the teaching as well as any European; but for the English language and literature they are naturally at a disadvantage. One of the text-books for the F.A. degree at the Madras University was the Life of Johnson. Such a book, as Mr. Peel observes, "embraces a great deal of literary ground, and to teach it properly the master must read widely, and become au fait with all sorts of books and references, essays, general English literature, and grammar." Physiology, history, and logic also fall chiefly on the Principal; and of course he never delegates the daily Bible teaching and religious address. Then there is "the general supervision of the whole concern; the correspondence with old boys (most important) and with Government; office work; interviews with boys, inquirers, parents, old boys, and strangers; and the thousand-and-one matters which occur in the life of one at the head of affairs of such importance." This is the work which one Islington man of three years' standing has had to do, and which the Madras Corresponding Committee testify has been done efficiently. There has been a money loss through not having a graduate, as the Government grant was reduced in consequence; but the Committee thank God for what He has enabled Mr. Peel to accomplish. Nor would they fail to express thankfulness also that he was mercifully spared the heaviest sorrow a man ever has to bear, when Mrs. Peel was raised up almost by a miracle from the very point of death in May last year.

What are the spiritual results of this work? No school in India, except Dr. Duff's, has been so blessed to the conversion of Brahmins and other high-caste men, as the Noble School. In the past year there has been no baptism of a boy, though many are intellectually convinced of the truth of Christianity. "Can I not be saved without being baptized?" "Can I not believe in Jesus secretly, without openly confessing my faith in Him?"—these, says Mr. Peel, are "constant questions." The morale of the school is high. "School-boy honour is much valued by boys of the upper classes, and the trust-and-be-trusted feeling is strong. Truthfulness, a quality very foreign to the Eastern character, has marked the boys, and fearless honesty is also a characteristic." These are not light results, even in themselves, especially considering the positions many of the boys will hereafter take as Government officials, &c. But still more decisive fruit unto God is earnestly prayed for. One boy did desire to confess Christ in baptism, and he withstood the most piteous entreaties of his family, until they brought his father in a bullock-cart under the pretence that he was too ill to walk, and begged the poor lad to go out and see him. This he could not refuse; and then he was half-persuaded, half-dragged into the cart, driven away, and sent to a heathen school 70 miles away. The hardness of the human heart is painfully illustrated by one passage in Mr. Peel's Annual Letter:— spiritual results; morale. A baptism prevented.

> During the last few months one of the living links of the chain connecting Noble with the College has been missing. Sundarasivadu Gâru, copy-master for over forty years, died in November. He had been with Noble from the first, and warmly cherished the memory of the great benefactor of this town. Of late years, though almost too old and infirm for his work, he was one of the most regular, careful, and punctual of masters. We were quite unprepared to hear of his death. He had ailed somewhat during the exceptionally trying autumn, but had been to see me in November to arrange about the University examination. I fear that he was a Hindu to the last. So near the truth, so long with the truth, so aware of the truth, and yet not a professor of it.

Death of an old Hindu master, still a heathen. Near the truth, but not of it.

There is now a hostel in connection with the Noble College, in which twelve Christian boys are lodged. Another agency superintended by Mr. Peel is the book depôt, associated with which he hopes to have a library and reading-room, lectures, and a debating society. These, he says, "would give a great impetus to our work among educated Hindus." The Caste Girls' Schools are carried on by Mrs. Peel, and educate 150 of the better class. The two converts from these schools, mentioned in the last two Annual Reports, Sheshamma and Paidamma, are being trained for work under the C.E.Z.M.S.

The book depôt.

Training Institution.

The Rev. J. E. Padfield reports on the Training Institution. Sixteen teachers have been sent forth from it during the year to labour in the Mission, making no less than 144 since it was founded in 1868. Besides the sixteen there were the three men who have been lately ordained, as already noticed. Twenty-three students are now under training.

Christian Girls' Boarding School.

Mrs. Padfield's Christian Girls' Boarding School (formerly Mrs. Sharkey's) has 55 boarders and a few day scholars, and is doing a most excellent work. The report of the Government Inspector to the Director of Public Instruction at Madras is very laudatory, and closes as follows:—

"The discipline of the school is excellent, and the prevailing tone of the highest kind; all due to the kindly influence exercised by Mrs. Padfield, who spends the greatest part of her time either in the instruction or management of the school."

Translations in Telugu.

Mr. Padfield has also done very useful work in the department of Christian literature. Nearly the whole edition of his Telugu version of Paley's Evidences, published by the S.P.C.K. only two years ago, has been sold. He has since translated the S.P.C.K. Commentary on the Four Gospels (Bishop Walsham How's), and is now doing the Acts. He mentions further that a Native member of the Mission is translating Dr. Maclear's well-known Old and New Testament Class-Books, and that a missionary of the S.P.G. has published in Telugu a shortened Pearson on the Creed.

The pastoral care of the Masulipatam District, comprising 2288 Christians scattered among 63 villages, is the work of the first convert from the Noble School in 1852, the Rev. Manchala Ratnam, assisted by 24 male and female teachers and catechists. The District Church Council, through him, makes grateful reference to the William Charles Jones Fund, the agents on which have covered 3453 miles in the aggregate in their evangelistic tours.

BEZWÂDA AND ELLORE.

The Rev. John Harrison has sent but a few lines of report from Bezwâda, and the Rev. H. W. Eales nothing from Ellore. The statistical returns show 657 adherents in the former district, and 1440 in the latter. At Ellore Mr. Martin Browne and the Rev. G. Krishnayya continue in charge of the High School, and the Rev. S. Vores (a Tamil clergyman) of a portion of the district.

Mr. Browne's report is very satisfactory. There are 235 boys in the school. The head boy in the fifth class, which consists largely of Brahmins, is a Christian boy of Pariah origin,—a striking illustration of the decadence of caste feeling. Here also is the unusual case of a Government school being abandoned in favour of the Mission school:—

Decadence of caste feeling.

A Government school closed in favour of a C.M.S. school.

It has been decided to abolish the Government Mohammedan School here at the end of this month. The following extract from the Government Inspector's Report last received will explain this action. Mr. Munro writes: "The poor results (in the Government Mohammedan School) hardly justify the large expenditure upon it, but the school would have a good raison-d'être were there no other provision for Mohammedan education in the town. I submit, however, that the educational wants of the Mohammedans of Ellore would be amply provided for without the Government school. As a matter of fact the Government school boys proceed to the Mission school as soon as they have completed the course in their own institution. There is ample room in the Mission school (our school has two large buildings, one of them having formerly been occupied by a Government Hindu school) for another forty or fifty boys, and I see no reason why they should not begin their studies in that institution. I do not think that Government are justified in supporting a rival to the Mission school, especially as that rival is not appreciated by the Mohammedans themselves. I am therefore inclined to think that the advisability of abolishing, or transferring elsewhere, the Government school, is worthy of consideration."

RAGHAVAPURAM.

The Rev. J. Stone's Annual Letter has come too late for more than a brief notice to be given of its contents. The total number of adherents has again risen, being 1382, against 1290 last year. "There are now 75 villages in this large scattered district where the daily sacrifice of prayer and praise ascends, where the Sunday is hallowed, and where at least some light of the Gospel of Christ is diffused around." One interesting event of the year was the laying of the first stone of the new church of St. Mark the Evangelist, which evoked great interest in the whole district, among both Christians and heathen. No less than Rs. 78 was given by the poor people on the occasion, besides Rs. 40 presented by the catechist, Domatatti Stephen, to make the site freehold. This catechist was one of the three Mâla agents ordained in March last.

AMALAPUR.

A station worked by a Native layman.

Mr. Atsanta Subbarâyadu and his excellent wife are labouring on faithfully at this isolated station in the delta of the Godâvari. Amalapur is a centre of Brahmin fanaticism; but the High School is attended by no less than 79 Brahmins, together with 26 Sudras (a high caste in this part of India), 3 Kshatryas, 6 of the goldsmith caste, and 14 Mohammedans, and "the whole school," wrote the Rev. J. E. Padfield, after a visit to it in the course of the year, "is impregnated with a sound Christian leaven." Some twenty of the boys voluntarily attend a Sunday Bible-class held by Mr. Subbarâyadu, and show great interest in Scripture studies. Besides the High School, there is a Branch School for Moslems, a Poor School, a Girls' School, and two schools at an out-station. The Girls' School is conducted by Mrs. Subbarâyadu for the C.E.Z.M.S. Mr. Padfield, after visiting it, wrote, "It is most interesting to hear these dear, bright, little girls eagerly tell the story of Jesus and Bethlehem."

DUMMAGUDEM (KOI MISSION).

The Rev. John Cain begins his Annual Letter by expressing his "mingled feelings of grief and thankfulness." The "grief" is on account of many deaths among the Christians of Dummagudem; the "thankfulness" because "the opportunities for preaching the Gospel during the past year have been very many, and the message has been listened to with much pleasure in villages where before the evangelists received but a cold reception." This increased accessibility of the people is partly due to Mrs. Cain's medical skill, which she has taken as the Lord's gift to her and used for His glory:—

Medical work of a lady missionary.

After we had settled down a few months people began to come for medicine for various complaints, and our Heavenly Father so blessed Mrs. Cain's treatment, that some months we have had as many as 250 patients, or more than 300 attendances, a very fair proportion being Koi men and women. Thus the door to many a heart has been opened, and our visits to the neighbouring Koi villages have been received with a joyful welcome. A medical missionary would indeed be hailed with delight, for in no case have we sought any patient, or recommended any one to come for medicine. Kind friends in Australia and Gen. Haig have supplied the medicines, or the means to purchase them. An evangelist is nearly always in attendance to talk to the people waiting for medicine, and thus the Gospel has been preached to men and women who have come from villages where no evangelist has been able to visit.

Another auxiliary in evangelistic work has been a magic lantern, a gift, like Mrs. Cain herself, from Australia:—

A magic lantern, an Australian gift, has been a great help in gathering together people in Dummagudem and in some of the neighbouring villages to hear the good tidings. Seven times in Dummagudem have we had more than 200 attentive listeners in our Boys' Schoolroom; and on the third night of exhibition, in the largest Koi village near here, we had at least 400 spectators. These have been grand opportunities for sowing the seed; for, as my wife has always been the chief speaker, the shy Koi women have not hesitated to flock to the front, quite assured that their lords will not snub them or put them in the background whilst they have a lady to protect them and take their part, especially as she knows a little Koi. Value of a magic lantern,

On one occasion, in Dummagudem, we hung up on the walls of our Boys' School the beautiful Scripture pictures kindly granted us by the S.P.C.K., others published by the Religious Tract Society, pictures of animals, &c., from the Graphic, Illustrated London News, The Australian Sketcher, and The Sydney Town and Country Journal, and then sent a special invitation to the leading men in the village to come and visit our Picture Gallery. It was open for about two hours, and we had more than 200 visitors, and we moved about explaining the pictures, and were gratified more than once by hearing some of the non-Christian boys in our school intelligently explaining the Scripture scenes to their friends. The exhibition was repeated on a smaller scale for the sake of a number of caste women, and there were about 100 women and children who came to see and hear. Handbills and tracts have been given away on these occasions, and we know they have been read. and picture gallery.

A still more novel device to bring the Gospel before the people was the printing and posting of an anonymous letter, prepared by Mr. Cain and one of the converts, urging the reader to come to Christ. It was printed and posted in Madras, and coming through the post from some unknown friend, it was read by the recipients with curiosity. A novel device.

A letter from Mrs. Cain gives a very interesting account of the work among the Kois:—

After the fierce heat of the day is over, my husband and I ride out to the nearer Koi villages, if possible, three or four a week, and always get good attendances. Last night we had about forty adults. If I begin first in Koi the women come out well. They are so pleased to hear their language. Then, when I am tired, my husband speaks. On Friday we had thirty-three "big people" (as they say here). I always try to count. At another village forty-five, on the Tuesday before. Sometimes, when my husband cannot escort me, I take our girls to a very near village. There are three or four we can go to easily, and one night lately I counted forty-three adults. Of course not very large, but enough to speak to at once! Then, when possible, we go to villages farther off, and have evening meetings, magic-lantern views of the life of Christ, and then we have 300 to 400 in one village. The catechist, who was with us, said there were fully 500. I was too busy preaching (shall I say?) to count them. I only know the dark, half-naked Kois crowded round till I could hardly breathe. Work in Koi villages.

Besides these near villages, there are the distant ones, seventy and eighty miles away. Are they to be left? When a Koi man came to me in Rakapalli and begged us to go to his village, and we were obliged to say "no," because of the distance, could we help feeling sad? I don't say these people are inquirers, far from it, but they are willing to listen as long as we talk.

You ask if I could not get a boarding-school for Koi girls. Why, we consider it a great triumph to get them to come to us at all. My husband says they would never come to the Government dispensary when it was in existence here before he went home, and now they will come and take medicine from us, and sit on the floor, poor, dirty, half-naked women, and listen while I talk to them. They believe we can cure everything; but, poor things, they don't understand anything about a soul or a God; nothing beyond food and drink, as clothes do not seem to trouble them much.

There has been one notable conversion of a leading Koi, formerly in Government employ, lately a drunkard :—

Conversion of a leading Koi.

Twenty years ago a leading Koi here, of great force of character, was in the employ of Government. He came under Christian instruction, but had no wish to be baptized. He became a comparatively rich man, and left this part of the country for a village in the Nizam's Dominions, where he lost all his money.

After General Haig's return to England, in 1882, the man came and settled down in a village three miles away, apparently a confirmed heathen and a drunkard. Rather more than two months ago he became very ill, and had a strange dream which frightened him, and he thought, what would become of him if he were to die a heathen? His knowledge of Christian truth gradually returned, and he went to Razu Garu and asked for baptism. After some days he came to me, and I was struck with the man's earnestness and grasp of the fundamental truths of the Gospel. Still I hesitated, and asked Venkayya Garu's opinion, which was very favourable, and coincided with Razu Garu's. Two or three days afterwards we were visiting some Christians, of Mala origin, not far from the man's village, and mentioned the man's great desire, and the Christian women exclaimed, "Oh, there is no need for us to teach him, he preaches to us!"

So on the next Sunday morning we went out to our Nallapalli School-church, and when all were assembled I asked the leading men of the congregation their opinion on the matter. All were favourable, and the head Koi of the congregation spoke up, "God has called him, and who are we to hinder?" So the man was baptized, and certainly appears to be a decided Christian.

Mr. Cain has had three visits from an inquirer from the Râkapalli district, 50 miles to the south. The third time, the man, whose name is Lingayya, brought the headman of his village with him, and it was manifest that the Spirit of God was at work in both their hearts :—

Begging for a teacher.

They came to beg for some one else to be sent to their village to tell them more of the truths of the Gospel and to teach their children, so, as a temporary measure, I sent the schoolmaster from Ramaram. Formerly he used to visit those villages as a Mala guru, now at their request he goes as a Christian teacher. The work in that far-off part is most promising, and is eminently one of the Spirit. Since Lingayya heard and preached the Gospel, the headman has given over idolatry, and in answer to a question from my wife as to whether he prayed, he replied quietly, "I visit Jesus Christ every morning." Lingayya also sang some verses of a hymn which he has composed to be sung there instead of the one they sing every morning when worshipping the post supposed to represent the Lord of the World. We were all charmed with the simple earnestness of the men. Lingayya had sent a Christian tract to a Mala priest living some distance off, and the man was so convinced of the truth therein stated that he gathered together all his old books, and, in spite of the remonstrances of friends, burnt them, remarking that he would not give them the books for them to be led astray as he had been. A daily visit to Christ.

The Tinnevelly Church has sent up more evangelists into this (to them) foreign country, but it is not said how many. Of S. Suviseshamutthu, the Tamil agent at Mokpal, the station in Bustar, 75 miles to the north, Mr. Cain writes in a recent private letter, "We are indeed pleased with him. He is most faithful, and is on the very best terms with the Kois here (at Mokpal). A Telugu catechist exclaimed on Sunday, 'God has given him a great gift for preaching. No education, no grasp of the language, would be sufficient for that. God has given that gift.'" May it please God to bestow a like gift on all the Native evangelists in all the Society's Missions! The Tamil agents in the Telugu Mission.

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN MISSION.

Allepie, 1816; Cottayam, 1817; Cochin, 1817; Mavelikâra, 1839; Trichur, 1842; Pallam, 1845; Tiruwella, 1849; Kunnankulam, 1854; Arrian Mission, 1855; Alwaye Itinerancy, 1881.

For the last four years and a half, since the establishment of the new missionary diocese of Travancore and Cochin, Bishop Speechly's work.

Bishop Speechly has been continuously at work, endeavouring at every point to strengthen and develop the Native Church, and extend missionary operations among the heathen. He has done less than he desired and hoped to do, the Committee having been unable to respond as they could have wished to his appeals for aid; but all the more should the friends of the Mission appreciate his untiring efforts for the advancement of the cause of Christ in Travancore. They have now the opportunity of welcoming him in this country, and the Committee trust that such plans may be agreed upon as shall enable him to go back to his diocese encouraged to persevere in all the good work that is going on.

Statistics of the Mission.

The statistical returns show figures considerably larger than any received in former years. Obviously, previous reports have been imperfect in this respect. The total number of Christian adherents is now given as 21,420, which is more than 3000 higher than last year. Of this total, 19,657 are baptized, and of these, 6152 are communicants, a much higher proportion than in Tinnevelly. There were 1354 baptisms in the year, 453 being of adults. The extreme poverty of that portion of the Church which has been gathered from among the Pulayan or ex-slave population is illustrated by the relatively small total of contributions, Rs. 5100. There are 146 vernacular schools, employing 161 teachers and educating 5035 children. There are 52 catechists and evangelists; and the Native clergy number 17. There are 39 pukka churches, 100 prayer-houses and school-rooms, and 293 villages in which there are Christians.

Meeting of Native Church Council.

The Provincial Native Church Council held its annual meeting on February 19th last at Mavelikâra. The Bishop presided. The report was presented by the Rev. Koshi Koshi, Secretary. The finances were stated to be in a satisfactory condition, and thanks were given to the Parent Society for consenting to reduce its grants annually by $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent. instead of 5 per cent. The sermon was preached by the Rev. Ambarta Thoma. The Bishop also addressed the clergy and lay delegates on the last morning of the meeting, and in the course of his remarks he thanked those of the clergy who had subscribed to the Tait Memorial Fund.

Cottayam College.

The two leading Educational Institutions of the Mission, viz., the Cottayam College and the Cambridge Nicholson Institution, both at Cottayam, have been conducted by the Revs. C. A. Neve and J. Caley respectively. The College has done extremely well in the Madras University Examinations. At the last Matriculation Examination, out of nine candidates eight passed, four in the 1st class. At the previous one, the whole ten who went up passed, four in the 1st class. In the Cambridge Nicholson Institution there are 21 students, some in the theological and some in the schoolmaster's course. There has been an interesting conversion from the Model School attached to this Institution. The lad was a monitor, 17 years of age, of the respectable Chetty caste, and he has been brought to Christ by the instrumentality of his cousin, John Paul, who was baptized four years ago, and who is now in the Divinity Class. His baptism was the signal for a great outburst of grief and indignation on the part of his family; but the boy resisted all their tears and entreaties and threats, and asked that he might receive the Christian name of Joseph, "that like as Joseph's going into Egypt was the salvation of his kindred, so he hoped his leaving his home and embracing Christianity might be the means of the conversion of his family."

Cambridge Nicholson Institution.

Conversion of a Hindu monitor.

Among other agencies at the central station of Cottayam, are the Hindu Girls' Schools superintended by Mrs. Neve and partly supported by the C.E.Z.M.S. They are reported as thriving, and spiritual results are prayerfully expected. There are also the Christian Girls' Boarding Schools under Mrs. Baker, sen., and Miss Baker. The latter lady reports as follows:—

Hindu Girls' Schools.

My work goes on year after year with little variation. There are a good many disappointments, but on the whole there is a great deal to be thankful for when I see my former scholars living as Christian women and bringing their children up in the fear of God.

Miss Baker's schools.

I have 100 girls in my boarding-school; twelve of them belong to the Usborne Class. Mr. Macartney sends money for thirty-four girls, the rest are supported by friends and by fees. With the exception of a few orphans all the children pay fees. I have about Rs. 100 from them annually. There are six village schools in connection with the boarding-school, in which 150 day scholars are taught. One is for high-caste Hindu children, Brahmins, and Nairs; and another which has just been opened is for slave girls. The others are mixed heathen and Christian children together. The slave school is the first that has been begun in Travancore, and though the children are very poor and have to go three times in the year harvesting, which does not leave them much time for learning, I hope they will gain some knowledge and grow up useful women. Most of them are Christians. A few slave girls have been taught in the Mission schools, but no school expressly for them has before this been established.

Mr. Neve observes that Cottayam is a place of rising importance. "The Dewan Peishga," he says, "though a Hindu, is a true friend to the missionaries, and supports everything that is good."

A Hindu patron of Missions.

The majority of the Native Pastorates are under Bishop Speechly's direct superintendence; but two missionaries have been labouring in the districts covered by them, the Rev. F. Bower at TIRUWELLA, and the Rev. W. Clark at ALLEPIE, and take a part in this branch of the work. Mr. Bower, however, is in the main an evangelistic missionary. By means of village preaching, personal intercourse with Brahmins and other high-caste Hindus, schools for caste girls conducted by Mrs. Bower, Bible-women, and other agencies, he seeks to proclaim the Gospel to all classes; and he has prepared and published two tracts in Malayalam, suitable for Brahmins and others, entitled "Knowledge of the True Guru," and "The True Instructor." Mr. Bower dwells on the extreme difficulty of a high-caste Hindu embracing Christianity under a heathen government, even so liberal a one as that of Travancore, every influence being against the convert or inquirer. Nevertheless, on a recent preaching tour he was surprised by the ready sales of his colporteur's books, and in particular had "the joy of seeing six Brahmins purchase a Gospel each," a thing never witnessed in that district before.

Tracts in Malayalam.

Brahmins buying the Gospels.

The ALWAYE ITINERANCY is reported on briefly by Mr. Caley. It is at present chiefly worked by the Rev. P. Poten Joseph, who is stationed at Kandanad. Both Chogans and Nairs hear the Gospel gladly, and some have seemed sincere inquirers, but are kept back by their friends.

ARRIAN MISSION: MUNDAKAYAM AND MELKAVU.

The Hill Arrians.

The two sections of the Mission to the Hill Arrians are worked, the one by the Rev. A. F. Painter and the other by the Rev. W. Kuruwila. There are 1088 Christian adherents in the district of Mundakayam, and 1178 in that of Melkavu.

The work in these parts is very laborious, the country being mountainous, with deep valleys and ravines, and no roads except tracks strewn with broken granite and overgrown with jungle, impassable even by a pony. In ten months, however, Mr. Painter was travelling 197 days, up and down, backwards and forwards, among the villages, "endeavouring to see the scattered Christians individually, and press upon them the necessity of heart-conversion and personal union with Christ. This," he adds, "Ragland speaks of in his journal, and I see the necessity of it more and more; our duty being, not to add numbers merely to the Church, but to lead souls to Christ."

Of the villages founded by Henry Baker, Mundakayam, Asepian, and Kootakel, Mr. Painter gives a discouraging account. The numbers dwelling there have diminished owing to the unhealthiness of the locality, and the spiritual condition of the people is not satisfactory. Of one, Etakunna, he speaks more favourably; while at the new stations, Mankompu, Atakkam, and Kurinyapillamalla, there is much that is hopeful. In these districts, a year and a half ago, there was not a single Christian. Of those who placed themselves under instruction last year, fourteen have relapsed into heathenism, but the great majority have stood firm amid much to try their faith, have been very diligent in attending services, classes, and prayer-meetings, and seem to be living consistent lives. Of some Mr. Painter feels sure that "the love of the Lord Jesus is a constraining power with them, and that they truly love Him because He died for them." He felt justified, therefore, in baptizing 101 persons at Mankompu in October, and 53 subsequently at Atakkam.* Nine have died in the year, and of two of these he writes:—

Discouragements.

Encouragements.

Baptisms.

Deaths.

One, a middle-aged woman, who had learnt well, and showed much earnestness, bore strong testimony before all for Christ during her last illness. She never showed any inclination to go back to her old superstitions, but strongly urged all to learn as much as possible. "Christ," she said, "is all to me." She passed away at night, while her nephew, a pious young man who had joined us, was praying at her side.

Another was a young man of great promise, about thirty-five, a constant attendant at the Saturday morning Bible-class, and very active in speaking for Christ to the heathen. I had hoped much of him, but it pleased God to call him hence. He had gone over to see the Bishop during his visit to Erumapara, and, on returning, had, we suppose, a sunstroke. He complained of great pain in the head and slight fever; but, thinking little of it, bathed. Soon after he became delirious, and died during the night. Though he never recovered consciousness he spoke much of Christ, and died with prayer to Him on his lips, showing his mind was much accustomed to dwell on Him.

Looking on all the temptations to coldness and deadness and apostasy around, an almost unmingled feeling of relief and thankfulness comes to one's mind on hearing of such being gathered safely home. May we not hope and trust that these are but firstfruits to God and the Lamb, which shall be followed by many others from these hills, where but thirteen months ago not a single worshipper of Christ lived?

The hope thus expressed was strikingly confirmed by the utterance of an old devil-priest at Atakkam, who nevertheless clings to his pagan superstitions:—

He said, "I know that Christ shall reign on these hills. I have watched from the beginning, when two or three joined at Melkavu, till now thousands worship Him, and at last even here He is worshipped. It is like the sun first tingeing the hill-tops, then gradually lighting up the sides, till at last the whole valley is flooded with light. And the day is fast coming when all on these hills will worship Christ." Alas! the old man resisted all entreaties to turn and be saved, with, "I am too old to leave the way of my fathers." Let us pray that his words may soon prove true, and that he himself may come to the light!

Romanist opposition.

One of the depressing surroundings of this Mission is the opposition and semi-heathenism of the rather numerous Native Romanists, the descendants of the Jesuit converts of the 16th century:—

A sermon on St. George and the Dragon.

At Ramapuram, where I put up in the church-room, as the only available place, the priests bitterly opposed my preaching to the heathen, while drunken orgies were going on unreproved in the church compound. At Erattapetta, a festival in honour of St. George is celebrated annually, and hundreds of heathen mingle with the Romanists. This year my readers happened to be present. A huge, gorgeously painted image of St. George killing the dragon was brought forth, and a sermon (?) preached to the assembled multitudes, not, alas! on the love of Christ, but on extravagant acts attributed to the saint. How many times he was martyred and came to life I am afraid to say; but finally, as he was being killed for the last time, he prayed that whoever should visit and make an offering at the annual festival at Erattapetta Church should be kept free from fever, famine, &c., during the year. "Come, then," cried the priest, "and make your offerings before the mighty St. George, all-powerful to succour or punish!" And then the crowd drew near, and hundreds of poor heathen made their offerings before, and worshipped, the image which Rome had set up.

COCHIN: TRICHUR AND KUNNANKULAM.

These two northern stations are in the kingdom of Cochin, a Native State under the rule of an independent Rajah. Trichur is an important centre of Brahminism, a smaller and southern Benares. The Society has some 650 Christians there, and about 300 at Kunnankulam, the two congregations having the Rev. Jacob Chandy and P. M. Varugisa (or Wirghese) as pastors. The Rev. J. H. Bishop is the superintending missionary. His communications are always interesting, and his well thought-out policy and plans for the development of the work would most fruitfully employ additional resources if the Committee were only able to spare them. Trichur is emphatically one of the Missions that awaits the "Half as much again."

* See C.M. Intelligencer, March, 1884.

In the meanwhile Mr. Bishop has devoted himself especially to the promotion of spiritual life in the Native Church. "This," he most justly says, "is the key of our position. Not only does the Native Church supply us with agents, paid or voluntary, but it is what we present before the heathen and the world as the outcome of our work. If it be a pure Church, a living, witnessing Church, it must and will attract souls to Christ. Otherwise it will repel and keep away those who may be yearning for a purer and a better faith." The Committee commend these weighty words to the notice of their missionary brethren, European and Native, throughout the world. Efforts to promote spiritual life.

In pursuance of this policy, Mr. Bishop has lately held two "three days' Missions" for the two congregations. His deeply interesting account of them is subjoined; and it will be noticed that he was careful to give the leading parts to Native clergymen and laymen, the pastor of Kunnankulam coming to Trichur, and the missionary of the Alwaye Itinerancy to Kunnankulam :— Evangelistic and revival services.

Last August a three days' Mission was held for the Trichur congregation. There were special services, morning, noon, and evening, which were well attended, the average being about 160. The Rev. P. M. Varugisa and John Peter, itinerating evangelist, took the chief part, the pastor and myself helping. The after-meeting was new to the people, but that on the last evening was a time of much blessing; several members of the congregation were under real conviction of sin. One man came to me in the middle of the night, he was so troubled about his soul. This was exactly the fruit one so longs to see. It seems easy to point a soul under deep conviction of sin to the "Lamb of God, that taketh away the sins of the world." He who has begun the gracious work of conviction will certainly continue it, till it results in real heart-conversion.

In December a similar Mission was conducted in Kunnankulam. In both cases much previous prayer had been offered, and the people were taught to look for and expect a blessing; the Rev. P. P. Joseph, of the Alwaye Itinerancy, and John Peter, itinerating evangelist, being the chief preachers. We had morning and evening services, and a Bible-reading (chiefly for the workers in the interval between the services). The services were well attended, but there was no manifestation of any special interest till the closing service on Saturday night, December 8th, when about sixty men and thirty women, besides children, were present. After a very stirring evangelistic address, a member of the Trichur congregation, who was present, and had been awakened at the Trichur Mission services (the same who came to me in the middle of the night), was asked to say a few words. Though not an educated man, he related, in a clear and affecting way, the whole account of his late conversion. He then prayed very earnestly. While he was praying the silence was broken, sobs and groans of souls under conviction were heard all over the church. We then sang a Gospel hymn on our knees. Those who felt the burden of sin were invited to come forward, that special prayer might be offered for them. About six or seven men, and as many women, responded to this appeal. A most affecting case was that of an old man, and his son (a lad of twenty) and daughter, who were all at the same time, though sitting in different parts of the church, bathed in tears. He, seeing his children kneeling by, cried out, "Sir, this is my daughter, I gave her in marriage to a Roman Catholic." His sin for the first time taking hold of him, he was much distressed; but I tried to get him to rest on Matt. xi. 28. He put on his spectacles, and read the words one by one after me.

A time of spiritual blessing.

All who were visibly affected were separately dealt with. There was no undue animal excitement, loud screams, or beating of breasts, but deep sobbing and overflowing of penitential tears. I believe all the people present were more or less affected. I have since come across cases, not amongst those specially prayed for, to whom this night was made a time of spiritual blessing. At the thanksgiving service, on the following Sunday morning, the number of communicants, 67—viz., 35 men and 32 women—is the largest that has been registered since I have been in charge of this Mission.

Further blessing was graciously vouchsafed at Trichur at the close of the year, through the agency of a Brahmin Christian who came there on a visit to the ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S. :—

During Christmas week, a Brahmin convert from Mysore, Mr. Lakshmana Rao, overflowing with love for Christ, and a desire to win souls, came to Trichur on a visit to the Misses Coleman, who had been a spiritual help to him, while they were assisting Miss Anstey at the Colar Orphanage, and subsequently by correspondence. He gave several addresses to both the Native and English congregations, relating, in an interesting manner, the account of his conversion.

On the last night of the old year, after I had given an evangelistic address on "the barren fig-tree," I asked him to say a few words to those who wished to remain a little longer. All stayed; but about fourteen were separately dealt with, and spoken to faithfully. Several were in tears, feeling the weight of their sins. We followed these up by a special prayer-meeting the next evening, when about forty or fifty assembled in the schoolroom. One poor man, who had lost father and mother by malignant smallpox, and had been very unsatisfactory in his conduct, though unable to read, being melted to tears, unsolicited, poured out his soul in a most fervent prayer for forgiveness through his Saviour, and strength to lead a better life.

Trichur Total Abstinence Society.

The following day we celebrated the first anniversary of the "Madhu Vargana Samaham," or Total Abstinence Association. There are now about eighty members. It is working well. There have been one or two relapses. A ring is the badge.

Opposition from the "Destroyer of Religion."

A good deal of opposition is met with in the evangelistic work among the heathen. The Brahmin mentioned last year, who calls himself Matthla Khandan, "Destroyer of Religion," has again been troublesome. The boys of Trichur indulge in a good deal of mockery and rudeness, which Mr. Bishop attributes partly to there being no good Mission School there. "Hindu lads invariably respect the gurus or teachers," he remarks. A High School is one of his projects which the Committee have been compelled reluctantly to disallow. The Brahmin Christian mentioned above, Mr. Lakshmana Rao, was very useful during his visit in meeting opponents:—

I called with my young friend, Mr. Lakshmana Rao, upon some of the Hindus, and had some interesting conversations. One, holding a very high official position, a Brahmin, after all his arguments and objections had been quietly disposed of by one who knew what Brahminism really was, how hollow and deceptive, and who could touch it with an Ithuriel spear and force it to assume its real shape, turned round to me and said, "Sir, I think these are the gentlemen who will win us over to Christianity, not foreigners like yourself." "But why does he retain his Brahmin title now that he has become a Christian?" "Sir," replied the young convert, "I am now a true Brahmin, I know and revere the true God."

The men to win Brahmins.

There are several village out-stations worked by Native catechists. In one of his rounds Mr. Bishop found for the first time, he says, a fulfilment of Ps. xviii. 44—"As soon as they hear of Me they shall obey Me":—

"As soon as they hear they shall obey."

The case was that of a Chogan about seventy years of age. He was first spoken to by the Bible colporteur. Then I saw him and prayed with him. He could read a little, and seemed to grasp the way of salvation at once, as if it had been something he was longing and waiting for. On one occasion he addressed some Nairs, and boldly declared how foolish it was to trust in their gods, who were sinners like themselves. He wanted to sell his compound and come to Trichur, but we told him it would be better for him to remain where he was, and be a light in that dark place.

Mr. Bishop also reports favourably of the Girls' Boarding School and Day Schools, and the Bible-women, and dwells on the importance of all the work among the women and girls, which is carried on by Mrs. Bishop and by the C.E.Z.M.S. ladies at Trichur.

CEYLON MISSION.

I. Singhalese Mission:—Kandy, 1818; Baddêgama, 1819; Cotta, 1822; Kurunêgala, 1880.
II. Tamil Mission:—Jaffna, 1818; Colombo, 1852; Tamil Cooly Mission, 1855.

"The work of the Church Missionary Society in Ceylon is carried on in every province of the Island, except the Eastern, and embraces in its operation the various stages of missionary work, from the first preaching of the Gospel to the heathen to the gradual formation of Native Churches, upon a basis which, it is hoped, will eventually enable them to stand alone, as self-sustaining, self-governing, and self-extending communities, organized upon the lines of the mother Church of England."

So commences the Local Annual Report of the Mission, and then proceeds to give the following very clear and succinct summary of the whole work:—

Brief summary of the Ceylon Mission.

In the Western Province the Society has principal and minor stations, for work amongst both the Singhalese and Tamils, in Colombo and its suburbs, at Cotta, and at Negombo, the latter being regarded as an outstation of Colombo, for Tamil work. The Cotta District, in which the older, and far larger, portion of our Singhalese work is carried on, extends from the outlying suburbs of Colombo to the south-east as far as Labugama, the site of the new works for supplying Colombo with water.

In the Southern Province the Society's Baddêgama District extends along the line of the Galle Road, from Bentota to Gintota, and stretches inland towards the east, as far as the foot of the Haycock Mountain. The headquarters of the district, with the principal church and the missionary's residence, are situated in the village of Baddêgama about six miles inland from the coast.

In the Central Province the Society has been, since 1820, at work in the town of Kandy and its suburbs; and since 1853 its operations have been gradually extended in the Kandian country. It now includes Gampola, Nawalapitiya and Kegala to the west; Hangurangketiya and Maturata to the south; and Pangwila to the east, as outstations for Singhalese work, while its Tamil Cooly Mission is at work amongst the Tamil people, through the whole of the central province.

In the North-Western Province the Society has its principal station for Singhalese work at Kurunêgala, with outstations in various villages in the province, while in that province, as in the central, an extensive work is carried on amongst the Tamil people by its Tamil Cooly Mission.

In the North-central Province the Society occupies the principal town, Anuradhapura, and has schools and outstations at other places in the country districts.

In the Northern Province the Society since 1818 has been at work in the Jaffna Peninsula. It has three principal stations there, viz.: Chundicully, Nellore and Copay, with outstation work in some of the islands, and also on the mainland southwards into the Wanni for about fifty or sixty miles.

The operations of the Society comprise three branches of missionary work, viz.: (1) Evangelistic work amongst the heathen, (2) Pastoral work amongst Native Christians, and (3) Schools.

1. Evangelistic Work.—This work, of course, stands first in the operations of a Missionary Society, the main object of which is to make known the Gospel to the heathen. It is carried on in connection with all our stations, but forms the more especial part of the work, in the Kandian Itinerancy, in the Singhalese and Tamil work in Colombo, and in the Tamil Cooly Mission.

2. Pastoral Work.—This is carried on chiefly by Native pastors, some of them ordained clergymen, others, unordained pastoral catechists. The aim of the Society is to have, as soon as possible, all the regularly organized Native congregations in connection with it, placed under the pastoral charge of ordained Native pastors. The Native congregations are, as far as possible, placed in an independent position, and are encouraged to strive after self-support. Several of the older congregations are, to a great extent, and one or two almost entirely, self-supporting bodies.

3. Schools.—The educational work of the Society is very extensive. Its principal educational establishments are, Trinity College, Kandy; Chundicully Seminary, Jaffna; and the Cotta High School. The Society has also two Anglo-Vernacular Training Institutions for Native teachers, one at Cotta, and the other at Copay, Jaffna, and also a Divinity Class attached to Trinity College, Kandy.

For the higher education of females the Society has three Girls' Boarding-schools, one at Cotta, one at Borella Road, Colombo, and one at Nellore, Jaffna. These schools are intended for the better class of Native girls, Singhalese and Tamil.

Village Vernacular, and a few Anglo-Vernacular, schools are in operation at all the stations. The total number of such schools is 194, and the total number of children under instruction in them is 9200.

The brief report for the year of the Sub-Committee of the Local Conference (consisting this time of the Revs. E. T. Higgens, D. Wood, and H. Horsley), follows. It records 141 adult and 238 infant baptisms; and thus refers to the confirmations held by the Bishop of Colombo:—

Confirmations by Bishop of Colombo.

During the year the Bishop of Colombo visited the various stations in connection with the Mission, and confirmed 290 persons. All candidates for confirmation were carefully prepared before being presented to the Bishop. We trust, therefore, that the solemn rite was, to all concerned, a blessed and happy reality, deepening their spiritual growth, and strengthening them to fight manfully against the world, the flesh and the devil. That in several instances it proved to be so, we are thankful to learn from the various letters read by the missionaries.

With reference to Education the Sub-Committee say:—

In educational work the revised rules, issued by the Educational

Schools in Ceylon.

Department of Ceylon, for the regulating of Grants-in-aid to schools, has been found to impede, to some extent, the objects which Mission schools have in view, namely, that of bringing the pupils to a knowledge of Christ. The standards of attainment required, before a grant can be claimed, are so high, that there is a danger of our schools becoming merely a channel for secular knowledge, and not an agency for imparting religious instruction. We are thankful, however, to report that some have, through the agency of our schools, been brought to confess Christ.

The Committee regret that the health of the Rev. F. Glanvill, of the Tamil Cooly Mission, so failed last year that he was ordered home. The Rev. J. D. Simmons has lately returned to Ceylon, and Jaffna being well provided for, he will join the Tamil Cooly Mission. The Rev. D. Wood also has returned to his post. An additional labourer has been added to the Tamil-speaking staff by the transfer of the Rev. J. Ilsley from Madras.

Proposed Corresponding Committee for Ceylon.

It is hoped that a Corresponding Committee for Ceylon, on the plan which has long worked well in India, may shortly be formed. It would consist chiefly of influential laymen appointed by the Home Committee, and the Bishop, having now joined the Society as a Vice-President, would be a member. The proposal has been much misunderstood, and this may cause delay in carrying it out; but the Committe have good reason to expect that, when once at work, the plan will meet with general approval, and tend to promote, by God's blessing, the highest interests of the Mission.

The Rev. W. Oakley, now in his 49th year of missionary service, still renders valuable service as Secretary of the Mission. The English congregation at Galle Face, Colombo, has been ministered to by the Rev. E. T. Higgens.

Trinity College.

Trinity College at Kandy continues under the able charge of the Rev. J. G. Garrett, who has been assisted by the Rev. J. Field. Mr. Garrett sends a deeply interesting report, showing not only that educational success is vouchsafed to the college, but that spiritual results are given in response to his earnest prayers and faithful teaching. Some passages are subjoined:—

Buddhism "the very least amount of religion."

"Our numbers on the roll during the year were about the same as last year, something over 200, and covered nearly all the nationalities and religions of the East, the larger number being Christians by profession, and of the heathen far the larger proportion Buddhists. This means the very least amount of religion of any kind of which human nature is capable. The utter carelessness and indifference with which our whole atmosphere is thus permeated, is our great trial, yet even here we may bless God, for careless indifference opens many doors which bigotry would close.

Several of our Buddhist boarders have expressed themselves entirely convinced that Christianity is the true religion, but hang back from making a profession for fear of losing worldly prospects. My heart yearns over these young men, knowing the truth, but not realizing its power. "I do believe that Jesus is the Saviour, and the Bible is true, but I can't be a Christian for fear of breaking my mother's heart, or making my father angry, or lest my uncle should disinherit me,"—such confessions, in their own broken language, I have heard again and again.

Baptisms.

On Easter Day four of those who were given to us last year were willingly dedicated to the Lord. I cannot describe the joy of that Easter service; but since then the experience that it is after the child is born he needs care and guidance—the meaning of St. Paul's words, "My little children, of whom I travail in birth again until Christ be formed in you"—has made the responsibility of these young converts seem almost too heavy to bear. It is only in realizing the Father's care, the Saviour's tender, long-suffering power, able to keep them whose one help fails, that makes us able to rejoice in the gifts that He has given.

Spiritual movement among students.

One very bright providence during the year has left us the greatest cause for thanksgiving and praise. The work was going on as usual during Brother Liesching's stay here, when I was called away for a day to help a brother clergyman in the hills. During my absence God's Spirit began a work among our boys of which I never saw or knew a parallel! As the wind bloweth where it listeth, so a special power of the Spirit seemed, for a time, to rest upon us, which made me wonder and adore. It has left on all our minds a perfect certainty that God has been with us of a truth, and leaving in many, many instances a real mark of heavenly love breaking down the cold reserve, and causing an openness of heart towards Jesus and a longing to please Him which has stood the test of many months of school work and temptation. Instances I could give of a new principle instilled in one and another, which is capable of working a change which has delighted me; and yet there has been since much to mourn over and deeply to humble one whose duty and privilege it has been to tend the tender shoots.

Systematic prayer for students.

Every evening the resident masters and divinity students meet to pray over those who are, in our boarding establishment, more especially entrusted to our care. We take the roll, and go from beginning to end by fives, each night bringing five names before God in prayer; and thus in ten days we feel that each name has been individually carried by faith to Jesus, and He never refused to hear and grant the requests of those who brought their children to Him while on earth.

Divinity Class.

The Divinity Class is perhaps the most delightful part of our work. I feel that I cannot over-estimate the privilege and responsibility laid upon us, in being entrusted with the training of these young men. The Conference has just now finally accepted three as approved divinity scholars. Teaching them the grand sentences of Article Thirty-one, and seeing them grasp so thankfully the clear statement, and search so earnestly for Scripture proofs, is a very real pleasure. Their scanty knowledge of their own language, strange to say, is the great difficulty. I have to press in the help of our Native pastors, Gunasekara and Gnanamuttu, for this part of the work; and this assistance, I must say, has been most cheerfully rendered. The divinity students are able to help in the evangelistic work around

Kandy, and help to carry on the boys' own prayer-meeting, the continuing result of the movement in the beginning of the year, held on Sunday mornings after Sunday-school.

Our morning meeting for all the masters to unite in prayer for a blessing on our day's work has been held regularly. We compare my study on these occasions to the engine-room of a factory, from which all our power is to be expected, and God has given us reason to know that prayer moves the Hand that moves the world.

A very real sorrow has been the withdrawal of Arnolis from among us. At first he became a catechist under Mr. Jones, and my heart was cheered by accounts of a wonderful blessing which seemed to rest on his preaching everywhere he went; but he felt dissatisfied with our ways of working here, and has gone off, against all our advice and entreaty, and joined the Salvation Army in Bombay, where he seems to be still labouring and valued, though of course preaching in what must be to him a foreign tongue.

A later letter from Mr. Garrett gives further deeply interesting examples of the power of God's grace, and altogether twelve of his students have now become earnest Christians.

Provincial Native Church Council.

The Provincial Native Church Council held its annual meeting in July. Several excellent papers were read by members of the Council on the following subjects:—"The best means of evoking liberality in the Native Church," "An efficient working ministry," "How to secure Native Christians from Ritualistic doctrines and practices," and "On the reasons why our Native congregations stand still as regards numbers."

The Committee now proceed to give further details regarding the various stations, arranging the work, as last year, linguistically, as it is Singhalese or Tamil.

I. Singhalese Mission.

COLOMBO AND COTTA.

The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin returned to his old post at Cotta in the middle of the year, and relieved Mr. Higgens of its charge. His interesting Annual Letter is divided as usual into the three great heads of pastoral, evangelistic, and educational work. There are four pastorates, numbering together 1110 Christian adherents, to whom three Native clergymen and two "pastoral catechists" minister. There are also 64 adherents in the districts not yet included in the church organization, but which will probably soon have to be taken in, as mission-churches were opened in the year at both the principal centres, Liyanwela and Angampitiya.

The opposition of the Buddhists is as bitter as ever, and attempts were made, happily in vain, to burn down both the churches. Many friends will be glad to hear that since his return Mr. Dowbiggin has been privileged to baptize the last of the three young women mentioned in a former Report as hiding in order to avoid going to work in the rice-fields on Sunday. Her relatives are rigid Buddhists, and have greatly tried her faith and patience; but she continues steadfast, and is living a consistent Christian life. Buddhist hostility.

The excellent schools have always been a feature of the Cotta Mission, and the Committee are thankful that Mr. Dowbiggin is again able to report well of them. The number of scholars (2800) has somewhat diminished, especially in the Sunday schools, owing to the Buddhist hostility stirred up by Colonel Olcott. At one village—

> We opened a school, and about three months afterwards the Buddhist priests began an opposition school at Udumulla, an adjoining village; and they have made it known, and are trying to enforce it, that all who send their children to our school will be excommunicated, and their children fined Rs. 1·25 each; the Native doctors will not attend any of them in sickness; the dhobie shall not wash their clothes; the devil-dancer will not perform demon ceremonies for them; and the astrologer shall not consult the planets for them on the birth of their children, or for marriages, or other important occasions.

"Boycotting" in Ceylon.

Of the more important central schools, the Girls' Boarding-School, the English School for Boys, and the Training School for Teachers, Mr. Dowbiggin writes with thankfulness. As usual, most of the converts of the year are the fruits of school work.

BADDÊGAMA.

The Rev. J. W. Balding is in charge of this extensive southern district. The Rev. A. S. Amarasêkara has been removed from Dodanduwa to Kandy, and is succeeded by the Rev. H. Kannangar of Cotta. The Rev. G. A. Bastian Perera continues at Balapitimôdara. The total number of Christian adherents is 542; and there are 1568 scholars under instruction. Some peaceful deaths are reported by Mr. Balding, one of them being that of an old man who was confirmed by Bishop Heber in 1825, and who, during the whole fifty-eight years had been a hearty helper in Mission work. Another death is thus recorded:—

Death of a Christian confirmed by Bishop Heber.

> He was baptized at the age of twenty-one, in February, 1879, and for about a year and a half conducted a school in one of the coast villages. There he lived blamelessly, among a large population, low in caste, neglected, ignorant, and given to immorality. He was attacked with a very serious illness, and naturally desired to return to his home to be nursed by his mother. His father is a devil-priest. The father said that no Christian minister or teacher should pray or read the Word of God in his house. However, the Native pastor and schoolmaster visited him several times. The last time I saw him I was anxious to remove him to the hospital, as his home was so wretched, but he preferred to stay with his parents. When we knelt down to pray with him his mother left the room, shouting most cruel and cutting things. Shortly after that visit he was called away to the better home. His parents would not permit a Christian burial; he was buried as a Buddhist.

A Temperance Society.

A branch of the Church of England Temperance Society has been started at Baddêgama, which numbers 45 abstaining members, and has for its badge a ring, with the letters B.T.S. (Baddêgama Temperance Society).

KANDY AND KURUNÊGALA DISTRICTS.

The Rev. J. Ireland Jones has suffered much from illness, and his Annual Letter is dated from Calcutta, whither he had been ordered by the doctor that he might shake off a jungle fever. Nevertheless, the preaching of the Gospel has been carried on without ceasing in various parts of his wide district, being only limited by the inadequate supply of earnest and efficient catechists. Four evangelists have been constantly engaged in preaching at the village courts. "They go two and two, remaining at the village where the president of the court is during his session there, and then moving on to the place where the court next sits. In this way from 50 to 150 people may be addressed every morning, and through this agency many thousands have heard the Word of life." Mr. and Mrs. Jones themselves have made two journeys to Anuradhapura and through the North-Central Province, and the second, which extended over six weeks, he describes as the most interesting missionary journey he had ever undertaken. Christ was preached to thousands who had probably never heard the Gospel; and Mrs. Jones was able to reach large numbers of women.

Preaching at courts of justice.

Among other matters mentioned by Mr. Jones are an interesting confirmation at Talampitiya, after which 70 communicants drew near to the Lord's Table; his efforts to promote the Temperance Society, which has over 100 members; and the following regarding a Christian who was once a Buddhist priest:—

A Christian ex-Buddhist priest.

Hunapola, the ex-Buddhist priest, has of late years kept very much away from the town, and has been living in a pansala, teaching some priests Pali, and making a livelihood in that way. I have been very anxious on his account, fearing that in such company he might be drawn away, and I have frequently made him a subject of prayer.

He has recently come in, declaring his firm adherence to Christianity, and bringing in two persons whom he has been instructing, and who are now satisfactory inquirers; one, indeed, is a candidate for baptism. There are, I believe, several young priests who have been under his influence, whose faith in Buddhism has been greatly shaken. One of our catechists, himself a very earnest man, has seen a good deal of Hunapola lately, and has no doubt of his real faith in the Lord Jesus.

Trinity Church, Kandy.

The Rev. Henry Gunasêkara continues pastor of Trinity Church, Kandy, the congregation of which numbers 245 souls, but some of these live at a distance, and others are very careless in attendance at church. The contributions to religious objects amounted to Rs. 1422, of which about a third was raised by means of a bazaar. The Young Men's Christian Association referred to last year was carried on with great fervour by the very devoted man mentioned by Mr. Garrett (see ante) as having since joined the Salvation Army, but is now re-organized in direct connection with Trinity Church.

The Rev. B. P. Wirasinha, who was the pastor of the smaller congregations at Katukele and Gatambe, numbering together 195 souls, was removed to the Kurunêgala district a few months ago, and the Rev. A. S. Amarasêkara was appointed to succeed him.

II. Tamil Mission.

COLOMBO.

The Rev. J. I. Pickford has been alone during the year, but has now been rejoined by the Rev. D. Wood. The congregations, which number 734 souls, have lost their Native pastor, the Rev. John Gabb. Finding he would not be able to obtain priest's orders, the standard in Ceylon being higher than is considered necessary for the simple population of Tinnevelly and Mauritius, he has left the island. Some extracts from Mr. Pickford's report are subjoined:—

The work as a whole has gone steadily on; we have not seen such progress as we desired, but amid many discouragements we have had much to cheer us.

Baptisms at Colombo.

There have been twenty-three baptisms during the year; of these ten were children and thirteen adults. One of those baptized as an adult was a girl who had been about three years in the boarding-school. The effects of education and school discipline were very manifest in her conduct. But above all, we believe that a work of grace has been going on in her heart. Of the others, two were boys, sixteen or seventeen years of age, engaged on a cocoa-nut estate. They had frequently been spoken to by the catechist, and eventually gave themselves to Christ. One other young man who was baptized with them was the fruit, through God's grace, of a tract given to him by the catechist on the roadside.

Confirmation. The Bishop of Colombo held a Confirmation for the Tamil congregations at Galle Face Church on Saturday evening, October 27th. There were thirty-five candidates presented, of whom eleven were from the Boys' Boarding-school, and four from the Girls' Boarding-school. There was a large congregation at the church, and everything was reverently and orderly done. The Bishop expressed himself much gratified with the service.

There are about 200 less Christians in this district than last year. This difference I account for by remembering that large numbers have returned to their own country, and comparatively few new ones have filled their places. It is the more satisfactory, however, to find that their contributions are a little in excess of last year, viz., last year, Rs. 813·42; this year, Rs. 868·57.

Juvenile Missionary Association. During the year we have had meetings of a Juvenile Missionary Association, which has already raised, after paying incidental expenses, Rs. 150, and we sincerely trust that this Association may grow and bring forth more fruit.

The evangelistic work of the district has been carried on much as before. We have, as a rule, had good and attentive audiences at our open-air preaching. The catechists regularly visit the gaol and hospital. I have also, as often as I could, preached in the gaol, and have had frequent services for those who understand English.

The Girls' Boarding-school has been under the superintendence of Miss Hall, and the number of boarders has gradually risen, until the school has been more than full. One of the girls has been taken from us, but we feel sure she has been received into a loving Saviour's arms. The Boys' Boarding-school has also had a full number.

In connection with the other schools there is little that calls for comment. We long to see signs of life, especially among the Mohammedan boys. Their general knowledge of Scripture is good, in fact, in some instances, remarkably so. I have just been having an examination in one school, in which the boys are principally Mohammedans, and as I heard the answers given to the different Scripture questions, I could not help feeling that some must surely believe what they were saying.

KANDY: TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

The Rev. W. E. Rowlands and the Rev. H. Horsley, with the two Native assistant missionaries, the Revs. P. Peter and A. Gnânamuttu, have been actively at work throughout the year. Mr. Glanvill's return home has already been mentioned; and also the appointment to this Mission of Mr. Simmons. Mr. Rowlands' report will be read, as always, with interest and thankfulness:—

Planters' support of Tamil Cooly Mission. We have had a hard struggle again this year (notwithstanding the Parent Society's temporary grant-in-aid of Rs. 3000) to obtain sufficient funds for maintaining even the reduced staff of the Mission—thirty-two catechists and one ordained pastor. At times it has seemed as though the effort were in vain, so many planters having been in circumstances of the greatest difficulty, while so many more had suffered a considerable reduction in their income, that we very well knew they could not afford to help us at all. It is gratifying to find now that our income has not, after all, fallen below that of last year; but, on the contrary, that it is somewhat larger, being up to date Rs. 9334 as against Rs. 9027 in 1882, and we may still expect to receive a few more contributions.

The statistics show that the Mission has been enabled to maintain the position it held last year, and that, through God's blessing, there has been a slight improvement upon it. Our present number of baptized Christians is 1340, and of communicants, 426. Native contributions have been Rs. 2926·72. The number of baptisms has been—adults, 59; children, 102, as compared with 46 and 78 last year. For this result, especially the increase of 13 in the number of adult baptisms, we cannot but devoutly thank Him who, by the power of His Spirit, has made so many men and women accept the offer of salvation, and declare themselves upon the side of the Lord Jesus. There are also at the present time 64 adult catechumens who, with their children (34 in number), make a total of 98, and 126 inquirers, who manifest more or less earnestness and sincerity, but who are for the time being regarded as probationers.

It is most interesting to observe how a considerable number of those now desirous to receive Christian instruction, or who have already been baptized, have been led to the knowledge of Christ. In the majority of cases it has been through the influence and direct teaching of other Christians, some of them new converts, while others, longer ago brought into the Good Shepherd's fold, have been of late quickened by the Spirit of God, and made much more diligent in His service than they were before.

Confirmations.

In April last the Bishop held confirmations for the Tamil Cooly Mission at Kandy, Matale, Gampola, Navalapitiya, Dickoya, Dimbula, Lindula, Nuwara Eliya, and Badulla, when 129 candidates were presented, making a total of 303 confirmed within two years. The previous season of preparation, as well as the occasion itself, proved, I think, a great means of blessing to some members of our congregations who had grown careless and fallen into bad habits. From that time forward they became workers for Christ, and many of the inquirers and catechumens now upon our list are due to their exertions and influence.

Persecution of Tamil Coolies.

A cangany, with his wife and children, has had to pass through the fire of persecution lately, and has, through God's grace, borne the trial manfully. In August last the catechist and I went to see them on the remote little coffee estate which has for some years been their home, and found there a brother of the cangany's, a determined heathen, who had lately come over from India. The catechist told me how bitterly this brother was now opposed to them in consequence of their having become Christians, and I soon learnt the same from his own lips. I had a long conversation with him, but he blindly argued against everything I said, and when the cangany presently joined in, urging him to take Christ as his Saviour, he turned upon him with the bitterest scorn, saying, "You may think that you have found something good, but I tell you that when you come back to our own village, we will make you stand outside the house, in the lowest place, even to receive a drop of water at our hands." To this the cangany only replied meekly, "You may do to me the worst you can, but I know in whom I have put my trust, and I am sure that He will protect and save me even to the end."

Gift from Bishop of Calcutta to Tamil Cooly Mission.

The church at Pelmadulla was opened for divine worship, with very interesting dedicatory services, on the 16th June. It is an exceedingly well-built and pretty edifice. The font, which is of granite cut in the village, was a gift from the Bishop on behalf of the Metropolitan, while the communion-table and a pair of handsome chairs were given by an overseer in the Public Works Department, a member of the congregation.

JAFFNA.

Full reports of the varied work carried on at the three stations in the Jaffna Peninsula, Chundicully, Nellore, and Copay, and in the adjoining district of the Wanny, have been received from the Revs. E. M. Griffith and G. T. Fleming, and the three Native pastors, the Revs. G. Champion, J. Hensman, and T. P. Handy. There are 953 Native Christians, of whom 394 are communicants; and in the schools there are 3091 scholars. The Native Christians contributed Rs. 2607 for religious objects during the year.

Baptism at the end of a long life.

Twenty-seven adult converts were baptized. Among them was an aged man who first heard the truth in a village school of the American Mission when he was a boy, and who all through his long life never prayed to the idols, but always to the Eternal Father who seeth in secret, yet never dared to come out and confess Christ until this year. Of the educational agencies, which are large and important, Mr. Griffith writes:—

Results of school work at Jaffna.

The Peninsula of Jaffna, perhaps more than any other part of this island, is a good illustration of the beneficial results of missionary education helping forward the evangelization of the people, and the establishment of the Native Church. As far back as 1878 Mr. Simmons declared that "a proof of the good produced by schools in Jaffna is the fact that more than half the Christians attribute their conversion from heathenism immediately to the teaching received in them, and many others say the work of conversion began in the school." The testimony of the American and Wesleyan Missions here is to the same effect. In this Mission at the present time there are sixty-eight adult Native Christians, members of our congregations, who have been brought from heathenism into the Christian Church by means of instruction received in our Village Day-schools, and who have continued steadfast in their profession. Ten of these are converts from the outlying district of Pallai, who have come over during the last eight years. We have now in our fifty vernacular schools eleven candidates for baptism and sixty-four inquirers.

I therefore feel that, as street-preaching cannot be carried on here, our school bungalows, in which we generally hold our night meetings, are everywhere centres of Gospel light. With a Christian teacher in the Day-school (and we employ none but such), Bible truths are instilled daily, for one hour, into the minds of the children; they carry it home, influencing frequently the mother and females of the family, whom it is difficult to reach in any other way; and the seed is buried in the heart, to spring up again, please God, after many days.

Mr. Fleming gives an interesting account of the English School at Chundicully, in which there are 320 boys. Infidel books from Madras are read by the seniors, but solely for their attacks on Christianity, for infidelity itself is unpopular. The moral tone is good. There are secret believers in Christ who are not ready to give up all for Him. One of them has confessed that he would like to follow his sisters, who have come out, but his parents look to him to perform the funeral rites for them when they die, and he shrinks from causing them grief. This case illustrates the answer of the man whom Christ called, "Suffer me first to go and bury my father."

"Suffer me first to go and bury myfather."

In Jaffna also a branch of the Church of England Temperance Society has been founded, and among a large number of members enrolled are no less than 116 of Mr. Fleming's elder boys. Another new agency is a Native Missionary Association; in connexion with which Mr. Fleming has provided each class with a box, and many boys subscribe their weekly half-farthing, some of them still heathen. In Mr. Handy's Annual Letter a very interesting account of the formation of this Association is given:—

A Temperance Society.

A Native Missionary Association.

Nellore Church was seldom crowded with Christians of all grades in the peninsula as on the evening of the 2nd August, when the C.M.S. Native Association was organized. The meeting, which continued for four and a half hours during the night, was presided by W. C. Twynam, Esq., Government agent of the province. Seventeen speakers, who represented the various sections of the Christian community, very ably roused up the sympathy of those present towards the perishing masses of fever-stricken and benighted Pallai and Wanney. The persuasions of the Chairman and the Rev. E. M. Griffith, to whose arduous efforts the organization of this noble association is due, were very effectual. More than 100 missionary boxes had been distributed the same night, and the following morning many more were given subsequently. Our Christians, especially women and children, take a real delight in filling up the boxes in order to convey the good tidings to the heathen of the above-mentioned places.

MAURITIUS MISSION.

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies (Madras Branch), 1857; 2. Bengali and Hindi-speaking Coolies (Calcutta Branch), 1857; 3. The Seychelles Islands, 1875.

Although the Society's work among the Hindu coolies on the sugar plantations of this small but populous island is carried on in three languages, Bengali, Hindi, and Tamil, and although Creole and Chinese also have to be used, the Native Church Council, which now supervises almost all departments of the Mission, is one body, and publishes its report and accounts in English. Of this Council the Bishop of Mauritius is Patron, the Rev. H. D. Buswell, Chairman, the Rev. C. Kushalli (Bengali pastor), Vice-Chairman, and the Rev. John Ernest (Tamil pastor), Secretary. Colonel Robinson, R.A., was Treasurer, but he has now left the colony, to the great loss of the Church there. The other members include the Rev. Samuel Sunker Singh, Bengali pastor of Port Louis, the capital, and delegates from the other three pastorates, the Northern, Central, and Southern, each of which comprises Christian coolies of both North and South India races. In the year 1883, the Council disbursed a total sum of Rs. 7086, of which about half was Government grants.

Mauritius Native Church Council.

The number of Native Christian adherents has again increased. The baptized are 1665, and the catechumens 106, total 1771, against 1672 last year. There were 110 adult baptisms in the year. The schools are 22 in number, educating 1231 scholars. The contributions of Native Christians to religious objects amounted to Rs. 1465.

The European missionaries in the island are the Revs. H. D. Buswell and N. Honiss, who are Tamil-speaking, and the Rev. C. A. Blackburn, who has succeeded the Rev. F. Schurr in the North-India work.

The following are the more important passages in the Annual Report of the Church Council:—

Report of the Council.

The reports from the several pastorates again tell of growth, not rapid but real. A goodly number have, during the year, "joined themselves to the Lord to serve Him," avowing their determination, at least, "to love the name of the Lord, and to be His servants." Thus, the pastors are encouraged by the assurance of the Lord's willingness to "gather others to Him, besides those that are gathered unto Him." Ingathering from without is, to a considerable extent, the happy result of increasing pastoral diligence within.

It is but justice to the brethren who preside over the several pastorates, and to the band of workers associated with them, to say that a growing efficiency in the supervision of the Native Church has shown that pastoral responsibility has been thrown upon those who are best able to bear it. The reports will testify that the pasters have striven to make full proof of their ministry. In some of the districts they have been assisted and encouraged in their work by independent members of their congregations. The pastor of the Central District must be congratulated upon being able to record the pleasing fact that one brother has prepared, and well prepared, and presented twelve candidates for baptism, and that, not content therewith, he gathers them and such others as are willing to join them, for a weekly evening service in his own house. The leaders may well praise the Lord when the people willingly offer themselves.

Mr. Kushalli has asked and obtained leave to proceed to India for twelve months. Pending the carrying out of his intention, he has been transferred to Rose Hill, having been charged to do the work of an evangelist, for which he possesses special qualifications.

The Rev. S. Sunkur Singh has been appointed pastor of St. Paul's congregation, and Chairman of the Port Louis District. Catechist Mirza Hope has been transferred to Port Louis, the Council having judged that the large and increasing number of Mohammedans in that district called for more special effort amongst them than had hitherto been made. Moslems of Mauritius.

The Rev. T. Ephraim who, as an assistant missionary, has rendered valued help in the Northern District, has left for Madras. Mr. Charles Young, a mission agent of considerable experience, recently arrived from South India, has been appointed to take charge of the work carried on by Mr. Ephraim.

Daniel Shou Shing, the Chinese catechist, whose employment was mentioned in the last Annual Report, has been obliged for family reasons to proceed to China. The good work commenced by him has been continued by Jules Assah, who although not having enjoyed the same advantages, if not his equal in energy and Scripture attainments, has nevertheless had the Master's blessing; and a little band of neophytes, which it is prayerfully hoped may prove the nucleus of a large congregation, meets weekly at Trinity Church, Rose Hill.

Frank Chorley has returned from India, having enjoyed the advantage of twelve months' instruction under the Rev. T. Kember, whose kindness to the two brethren that have been sent to Palamcottah from Mauritius merits grateful mention.

Samuel Susunkur, upon the advice of the Rev. W. Hooper, the Principal of the Allahabad Divinity School, remains for a while longer at that institution, Mr. Hooper having kindly provided for his maintenance.

More labourers are needed to supply vacancies and to open up new ground. Men and means are alike required. The Native Church must face these wants prayerfully.

The Committee of the C.M.S. have helped to the extent of their ability; and justly expect that those who have received the benefit should take measures to extend the same. Self-denying effort is a condition of success; and the members of the Native Church need again reminding that self-denial in the work of extending Christ's Kingdom is a privilege to be coveted.

The Rev. H. D. Buswell writes:—

The pastors and catechists, as a rule, have laboured with commendable diligence during the year, and have not lacked evidences of the divine blessing upon their work.

Volunteer evangelists.

The district which has had the most success, or rather more outward signs of success than the others, is the central, of which the Rev. J. Ernest is the pastor. It is in this district that independent members of the Church have done so much to point heathen to the "Lamb of God, that taketh away the sins of the world," and have instructed them for baptism.

My heart is now and then gladdened by the receipt of letters telling me that one and another have instructed some of their heathen friends in the truths of the Gospel, and calling upon me to test their work by examining their catechumens. Some of our most intelligent and best taught candidates have been prepared thus by unsalaried helpers. Would that such helpers were multiplied twentyfold!

The estates and villages where Indians congregate are regularly visited, special regard being paid to the hospitals, and such other places where are to be found men with leisure to converse.

My duties during the past year have brought me more into contact with the creoles of African and Malagash origin—the ex-slave population—than with Indians. I regret that the Church did so little for this class, when well-directed efforts would have been amply repaid.

Bible-women.

We have had three Bible-women at work during the year. They have done good service in instructing both Christian and heathen women. One of them, just now, is giving regular religious instruction to a young woman of good family, whose means will be very considerable should she not be disinherited by her father (which is very probable) for resolving to be a disciple of Jesus of Nazareth. The young woman has not yet been baptized, but I think she is prepared to brave the consequences of a confession of her faith. The prayer-meetings and mothers' meetings keep the women together, and help forward their growth in grace, and in the knowledge of the Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ.

The Rev. Nigel Honiss conducts the important Plaisance Orphanage, and also superintends the school work generally. But his former experience of evangelistic preaching in Tinnevelly makes him a good authority on "the best way to reach and influence the Indian population," upon which subject he read an interesting paper before the Church Council. One of the methods noticed in that paper is the magic-lantern:—

Magic-lantern lectures in Mauritius.

I have found a magic lantern of very great service. A larger number of people can with this be collected, than can ordinarily be met with. The lantern too, I regard as a real help in imparting the truths of Christianity, with slides displaying the life of Christ and scenes of Palestine.

At first, I confess I was somewhat doubtful whether there might not be some danger in presenting pictures of sacred things to people so prone to idolatry as Indians. From experience I believe the dangers to be nil, while the advantages are obvious. Books and tracts among the heathen in Mauritius are next to useless, as there is not one man in a hundred who can read. But in books we labour to picture to the heathen the scenes and circumstances of our Lord's life. Where then is the harm of giving a representation of any given event in the life and death of the world's Saviour? On these occasions, of course, it is desirable to have the presence of catechists familiar with the languages spoken by the audience, and each take their turn, giving short explanations as the scenes pass by. There, for instance, is Christ preaching on the mount. We give them the identical words Christ uttered on the occasion, and they thus come with peculiar freshness and force. There again is Christ healing the diseased or giving sight to the blind; and we give them a verbatim account of the events; and show how these miracles were but symbolical of greater miracles in healing our spiritual diseases and giving light to those who sit in spiritual darkness. Cautions against idolatry may be brought in. But while looking at the pictures, they vanish away, and impressions of what they represent alone are left. The eye thus helps the ear, and why may not both senses be used by the Holy Spirit to effect an entrance into the heart?

Bp. Royston's influence.

The Committee must again acknowledge with gratitude the cordial co-operation of their old friend, Bishop Royston, and the happy influence which he exerts over all missionary work in his diocese. And they thank Him "in whose hand are all the corners of the earth," that in so small and remote a corner as the Island of Mauritius so much true spiritual blessing, in the conversion of the souls and the edification of the Church, is vouchsafed to their labours.

SEYCHELLES.

Progress of the Industrial Home in the Seychelles.

Mr. H. M. Warry, the Society's lay missionary in charge of the Industrial Home for African children at Capucin in the Island of Mahé, reports that he has 63 boys and girls under his care, an increase of 16. "We have taken the newcomers in," he says, "in faith, trusting that the Good Shepherd who loves and cares for them will raise up friends to support them." He writes:—

We have now a total of sixty-three, but three or four will be leaving this year in accordance with the Society's regulations. We like, however, to keep the girls until they are married, as the morality of the Seychelles is at a very low ebb. It is a great comfort to think that some of the girls who have been married from here are setting good examples in their married life. There is very much to sadden one in a work of this kind, and it sometimes seems as if our labour were in vain; but we know that the seed of God's word cannot be sown in vain, and results belong to Him.

The Sunday Services have been carried on as usual, viz., full morning service at 11 a.m., at which I give an address in Creole so that the strangers present may be able to understand the Message of Life. In fine weather there are generally a few of the children's parents and some of the Africans living in the vicinity of the Mission present at the service. There is also Sunday-school twice, and evening prayer at 4.15 p.m.

The secular lessons are, I think, pretty fair, and children are on the whole giving me much satisfaction.

The plantations are looking fairly well, and we may hope by God's blessing to have a nice crop of coffee, &c., this year.

We have lately sustained a great loss in the removal of our fellow-labourers and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Pickwood. They have laboured long and faithfully here, and have now gone to a greater sphere of usefulness in the Lord's Vineyard.

The elevated situation of the Mission has proved very beneficial, as there has been much sickness at Mahé lately.

There is a great work to be done for the Lord in the Seychelles, and our earnest prayer is that the young people trained in the Mission school may become bright and shining lights amongst their own people in the Islands.

SOUTH CHINA MISSION.

QUAN-TUNG PROVINCE: Hong-Kong, 1862; Canton, 1882.
FUH-KIEN PROVINCE: Fuh-Chow, 1850; Hok-Ning, 1882.

UNDER this head are included the Society's Missions in two of the southern provinces of China, Quan-tung and Fuh-Kien. Both these provinces lie within the vast territory conventionally attached to the Bishopric of Victoria, Hong-Kong, and, as mentioned last year, the Missions in them have been placed under a Missionary Conference and Finance Committee, with Bishop Burdon as chairman. In practice, however, during the past year, it has been found more convenient for the two divisions of the Conference—which are called Sub-Conferences—to meet separately, at Hong-Kong and Fuh-Chow respectively, the Bishop presiding on each occasion at both places.

Fuh-Kien and Quan-tung Missions contrasted

The Society's operations in the two provinces differ very much in character. The Fuh-Kien Mission is now fairly well manned, and not only is it on a very large scale in respect of the number of places occupied, and of agents and agencies employed, but the Church gathered from among the heathen through the Divine blessing is growing rapidly in organization, and in the power of self-government and self-extension. In Quan-tung, on the other hand, the work is still in its infancy. Hong-Kong has been occupied more than twenty years, but scarcely ever by more than one missionary. The out-stations on the mainland, now worked from Canton, are scattered at considerable distances over a wide area, and most of them were opened, not by the direct action of the Society, but by the liberality of the Rev. E. Davys. The extension to Hoi-how and Pakhoi, in Quan-tung, planned by Bishop Burdon when he was in England, is still in the preparatory stage. For all this work in Quan-tung there are three missionaries, while Fuh-Kien has seven. It is not, therefore, to be wondered at that Bishop Burdon continues to press very earnestly on the Committee the claims of these southernmost fields; and the Committee, not less earnestly, would appeal to the Society at large to give them the men and means necessary to occupy it in greater strength. Notwithstanding all that has been done by all the excellent societies working in China, there are still vast populations that have never heard of the Saviour who laid down His life for them; and a terrible responsibility lies upon the Church at home for its neglect of these perishing millions.

Claims of South China.

A medical missionary, Dr. E. G. Horder, has been sent out, according to promise, for the projected Mission at Hoi-how in the Island of Hainan; but the Committee have not as yet been able to supply the ordained colleague who was to go with him. One was appointed, but he was not permitted by the Medical Board to go to China, and has been sent to India instead. The station, however, has not yet been occupied, Dr. Horder being temporarily at Swatow, learning the language.

Medical Missionary for Hainan.

HONG-KONG.

The Rev. John B. Ost is still alone at this important centre, except for the valuable counsel and aid of Bishop Burdon himself. He has now, however, an able and earnest Native colleague, the Rev. Fong Yet Sau, who has succeeded the Rev. Lo Sam Yuen as pastor of the congregation at St. Stephen's. Fong, whose baptismal name is Matthew, was formerly a catechist employed among the Chinese immigrants in Australia. He received deacon's orders on July 8th, 1883, and priest's orders on March 9th, 1884. Of the latter ceremony Mr. Ost gives a singularly interesting account:—

New Native Pastor at Hong-Kong.

Interesting scene at a Chinese ordination

It was a most impressive occasion, and the members of our little congregation themselves evidently felt it to be such, for they were more than usually devout and orderly. When the service began few of the seats in the church were vacant. I should think about 175 people, including two or three Europeans who take a warm interest in the spiritual welfare of their Chinese brethren, and who much desired to see admitted to the priesthood this the first Chinese pastor who has in the Kwang-tung Mission been admitted to full orders.

Hymn-singing by Chinese Christians.

The service commenced with a hymn, which was heartily sung by the whole congregation to one of our well-known old tunes. A member of the community who was present, when describing the service to a friend, said, "And the singing—I never in all my life heard anything like it!" and he added that, though he knew nothing of Chinese, he felt constrained to sing, and so opened his English hymn-book and sang with the congregation the first hymn he found that suited the tune.

After the opening hymn followed a short but impressive sermon by the Bishop upon the words about to be addressed to the candidate, "Whosesoever sins ye remit they are remitted," in which the evangelical interpretation of the passage was forcibly drawn out and dwelt upon, showing that these words do not at all mean that the priest can himself forgive sin. This address was listened to with marked attention. Then, after another hymn, I presented the candidate to the Bishop, and then followed the Ordination Service as fully as we have it in English, and in the same order. The Rev. J. Grundy read the Litany, the Bishop the Ante-Communion Service, I the Epistle, Creed, and Sentences.

This, although so complicated a service for those who are many of them but beginners in the use of the Prayer-book, was apparently intelligently followed by the congregation, who heartily joined in the parts allotted to them. And when the time for silent prayer came, the eager, half-uttered pleading of many were heard, who were earnestly pleading with God for a blessing upon the head of their loved pastor; and then when, without any warning, the Veni Creator was started, the whole congregation, kneeling, sang in their own tongue with touching feeling those beautiful lines, "Come, Holy Ghost, our souls inspire." They seemed thoroughly to understand that it was a prayer; the hushed sound issuing from almost every mouth, heartfelt, though perhaps not always musical, told of many an earnest prayer uplifted in faith to the common Father of us all.

Chinese congregation praying for their pastor.

The service concluded with an administration of the Holy Communion, of which fifty-two partook, nineteen men and nineteen women of whom were Native Christians.

Both the Bishop and Mr. Ost testify to the zeal and devotion of the new pastor; and nineteen converts, who were baptized by the Bishop himself on Sept. 30, were in part the fruit of his labours. Since his ordination, the church has been kept open all day, and three times every weekday (except Saturday) there is preaching to the heathen in it; while in the intervals either the pastor or catechist is present to talk to the casual looker-in. One small corner has been screened off to be a simple dispensary; and there patients are received by a Chinaman who has studied medicine in an English hospital at Canton, while those who are waiting their turn listen to the preaching of the Gospel.

The Preparandi Class is now domiciled in St. Paul's College. There are five students. The Schools continue very efficient. In three of them, the passes in the last Government examination were 100 per cent.: there was not a single failure. "We have splendid opportunities," says Mr. Ost, "of doing missionary work in our schools." A class for the training of Chinese Christian women as schoolmistresses or Bible-women is projected, of which Mrs. Ost will take charge. For the use of humble learners of this kind, the "romanized" system of printing is about to be introduced, and a primer, a Gospel, and part of the Prayer-book are ready or in preparation. For the expenses of this class an annual grant has been made from the W. C. Jones China and Japan Fund. Great success of schools.

There are two out-stations, Stanley on the island of Hong-Kong, and Kow-loong on the mainland, both worked by catechists and visited by Mr. Ost and Mr. Fong.

CANTON.

Serious riots took place in this city in September last; supposed by some to be connected with the threatened war with France, but stated by Bishop Burdon to be neither political nor religious, but simply an outburst of revenge for murders committed by foreigners. In these riots, the Committee regret to say, the Rev. J. Grundy's house was wrecked, and he lost all his furniture, books, clothes, &c. This has caused some interruption to Mr. Grundy's labours in the scattered towns and villages around. There are about eighty Native Christians at different places far apart; and being thus isolated, they have a good deal of opposition to encounter. In one town, Tung-On, Mr. Grundy noticed the words, "He endured as seeing Him who is invisible," written up in the catechist's private room; which, he observes, "speaks silently of troubles and persecutions from without, and of trust in God's presence and power." Riots at Canton: destruction of Mission property.

Province of Fuh-Kien.

The Committee have again to report, which they do with unfeigned thankfulness to God, a year of great progress in the Fuh-Kien Mission. Advance has been exhibited in every department of the work; and the Christian adherents Advance in Fuh-Kien.

have increased to 5414, or no less than 22 per cent. on the year. The Mission is indeed not without its causes of anxiety. Some of these are such as almost naturally attend rapid progress—arising from the comparative lack of training among the agents, and from the ignorance of the humbler converts. But, as Mr. Wolfe writes, "the Lord hath done great things for us, and it would be the height of ingratitude not to tell it out, to the praise and glory of God alone."

Among the secondary causes of successful work in the year—for it pleases God to work by means—may probably be reckoned the absence of changes in the European staff. The seven English missionaries mentioned last year have continued in the same posts; but the Rev. R. W. Stewart is about to come home to recruit after eight years' service, sometimes under exceptionally trying circumstances. The Committee are thankful also for the presence of an additional lady missionary at Fuh-Chow. The good work done for many years by the Society for Promoting Female Education in the East is now supplemented by the Church of England Zenana Missionary Society, which has sent out the daughter of the Society's veteran missionary, the Rev. F. F. Gough, late of Ningpo, to carry the Gospel into the homes of the Chinese ladies.

The number of districts in the following table is eleven, instead of fourteen as last year. Ping-Nang is now included in Ku-Cheng, and Taik-Wha in Ing-Chung. Sieng-Tu has also disappeared, and is probably in Hok-Chiang.

Native Church organization, only started last year, is now firmly established in the more advanced of these districts, Lo-Nguang, Hok-Chiang, and Ku-Cheng. In the two former, the Councils have established their own local missionary associations, and each has appointed its own first missionary to work in unoccupied villages. Mr. Wolfe's account of them is most encouraging:— New District Church Councils in Fuh-Kien.

The District Church Councils in Lo-Nguong and Hok-Chiang have been in active operation during the year, and considering that the entire system was new to the Christians it has worked admirably, and has produced most satisfactory results so far. The entire body of Christians in these districts have taken a most lively interest in the meetings and general work of the councils, which have already become a power for good, and a most important factor in the building up of the Church in these parts. The delegates from the various congregations have regularly attended, and many of them have shown much enthusiasm in assisting to carry out the business of the councils.

It would doubtless amuse our friends at home, and probably raise a sneer on the lips of our enemies, to witness these delegates; some of them with tattered garments, others of them without shoe or stocking, stepping up to the ballot-box, as with closed eyes turned upwards, and words of secret prayer on their lips, they give their vote on the subject which has been just discussed. These men, however, are in earnest, and many of them have suffered loss for the sake of the Lord Jesus, and the cause of Christ is dear to them, and they take a real interest in the business which calls them all together once a quarter, to deliberate on and discuss. Ragged but praying voters.

At the beginning of the year the Church Council, both in Lo-Nguong and Hok-Chiang, decided on establishing a Native Church Missionary Society in each of these districts, to be supported by the voluntary contributions of every member. Each of these councils has taken the bold step of appointing their first missionary, and has sent him forth to open up new ground in unoccupied villages, of which, alas! there are hundreds round about on every side. Each council has guaranteed the salary of their missionary for the first quarter, in the hope of being able to increase it gradually year by year. Native Missionary Associations.

The delegates at the last meeting of the Hok-Chiang Council proposed a scheme by which contributions could be at once raised for the entire support of their missionary. This proposition is, that every man connected with the Church in the district should contribute twenty cash, or two cents, per month; every woman ten cash, or one cent, a month; and every child half a cent, or one farthing. In this way, with the present number of Christians at Hok-Chiang, a sum of about 21*l.* a year could be raised, and the expenses of the missionary provided for. It may seem to many of you at home in England a very small sum which these Chinese Christians subscribe; but it is not relatively a small sum when we take into account the fact that one dollar to a poor Chinaman is as much as two pounds to an Englishman. I have known a very poor Chinaman, one of our Native Christians, to put $5 in the offertory plate, but wrapped in paper, lest it should be known that he had given it. This $5 was the savings of a whole year, or probably longer, and he gave it with a willing heart, out of pure love for Christ who saved him.

Provincial Council.

The Annual Meeting of the Provincial Council, which occupied nine days in December, was attended by nearly 300 agents, delegates, and visitors, scarcely one of whom was a Christian twenty years ago. The proceedings were of the same character as those described in detail in last year's Annual Report. Among the subjects debated was the question whether the Prayer-book to be used in public worship was to be the version in classical Chinese, or that in the colloquial of the Province. This was decided, without a division, in favour of the latter. Another subject was that of self-support, which was introduced by the Rev. Sia Seu-Ong in a speech thus described:—

Rev. Sia Seu-Ong on self-support.

He treated it under the following heads:—

(i.) Money given to the cause of God was lending it to the Lord.

(ii.) The reward which the Lord gives to zealous work in this direction.

(iii.) The zeal of the heathen, and even ourselves when we were heathen, in supporting the devil and his idolatry with money, should put us to shame in our great backwardness in supporting the cause and worship of the true God who loved us so much.

(iv.) The duty and the necessity of supporting ourselves in order to avoid the scorn and shame that now are levelled at us Native Christians because of our living on the money of the foreigner.

(v.) The testimony to the truth and reality of our faith and profession of Christianity which self-support would give to the heathen, who now think us mere pretenders working for foreign money.

The evening meetings were devotional in character:—

Devotional addresses by Chinese Christians.

Monday evening, led by Ling Seng Mi. Subject: "How are Christians said to die with Christ?"—Col. ii. 20; Rom. vi. 6.

Tuesday evening, led by Yiek Siu Mi. Subject: "How is Christ the believer's life?"—Col. iii. 4.

Wednesday evening, led by Ting Seng Ang. Subject: "The doctrines best adapted to influence and draw the hearts of men to Christ."—Rom. i. 16.

Thursday evening, led by the Rev. Sia. Subject: "What should be the attitude of Christians with reference to the Second Coming of our Lord?"—Matt. xxiv. 36—44.

Friday evening, led by Ho Su Hok. Subject: "How should Christians act with a view to the recompense of the reward?"—Phil. iii. 14.

Saturday evening, a missionary and prayer-meeting.

Bp. Burdon at Fuh-Chow

The Missionary Conference, which administers the Society's work, as the Native Councils do that of the Native Church, met in April and October, Bishop Burdon coming on each occasion from Hong Kong to preside. On the latter occasion he delivered a valuable charge to the brethren, in which he applied his lengthened and varied experience in North, Mid, and South China to the circumstances of the Fuh-Kien Mission.

The new College at Fuh-Chow

During the same visit, on Nov. 10th, Bishop Burdon opened, with a special dedication service, the new Fuh-Chow College. Thus at length, after five years of delays and obstacles, the college erected in the city by the liberality of the Rev. R. W. Stewart's friends in Ireland, but destroyed in 1878 by a hostile mob, has been replaced. The new buildings comprise the College, the Boys' Boarding-school, and the Principal's house, and have been erected at the cost of the William Charles Jones Fund, supplemented by the compensation money paid by the Chinese authorities for the damage done in the riot, which also paid for the site. Mr. Stewart writes :—

Since the destruction of our City College in 1878, we have been unceasingly striving to secure a suitable site for the purpose, but something always turned up to thwart us just as it seemed we had gained our object; however, at last, in the Providence of God, the Chinese authorities were led to offer us a site in exchange for one we had purchased, but which they did not wish us to keep, and we accepted it and find it most suitable in every respect. As the Bishop remarked at the opening of our new building last autumn, we had been chased from "Esek" and again from "Sitnah," but now we were settled at "Rehoboth," and "the Lord hath made room for us, and we shall be fruitful in the land."

The site is an excellent one, in the open country, at some distance from the Native villages, and yet sufficiently near to enable us to visit them for preaching in bands of two or three twice each week. The College itself, in the opinion of the Bishop, is an "excellent building, well adapted to do the work required;" it will accommodate fifty students, each having a small room to himself, and the large hall, set apart for divine service and fitted up as a chapel, can when needed seat some 250. Our first Sunday service in it was, most appropriately, the ordination to the priesthood of Mr. Ngoi, who was to be, and now is, our chief Native assistant in the Foo-Chow educational work.

I must express our sincere gratitude to Mr. W. C. Jones for his munificent gift. Our troubles and disappointments during the past five or six years are now quite forgotten in thankfulness to Him who in His great might and unerring wisdom has guided us right through to this most happy end.

New Industrial School.

The College began the present year with 33 students, and the Boarding-school with 30 boys. Of the latter, the Rev. Ngoi Kaik-Ki is Principal. Connected with it there is now also an Industrial School, established by means of contributions from the English community at Fuh-Chow. This is a new feature in the work, and Mr. Stewart's account of it must be given :—

Through the generosity of a few friends in Foo-Chow we were enabled to start an "Industrial School" last year, the boys giving up their afternoons to it, and in this way those scholars who are not fitted to be catechists or schoolmasters will be able, on leaving us, to set up as Christian tradesmen through the country, and in this capacity they may do as much to advance the truth among their countrymen as their brethren who are more directly engaged in the work.

This Industrial School we expect will go far to solve that most puzzling problem, what to do with boys at seventeen or eighteen to whom we cannot give Mission employment. Such have sometimes complained that the head-knowledge we have imparted to them could not enable them to earn their living, and knowing nothing else, not even how to dig, and being too old to learn, they had lost rather than gained by joining us.

This work has met with the unanimous approval of the Native Church, and accounts in a large measure for the unprecedented desire now manifested to enter our boarding-school. Nor do I think this has injuriously interfered with their book-work; chapel and schoolroom occupy six hours of their time each day, and that is about enough for small boys; and at their late examinations they did very creditably, the examiners expressing themselves fully satisfied. The elder boys who are selected for special training as teachers give up the industrial work and spend the time in studying.

Bible-women.

Another gift from private friends, chiefly in Fuh-Chow, is a house for the Bible-women students, 24 of whom have been under the instruction of Mrs. Stewart, and of Chitnio, widow of the Rev. Ling Sieng-Sing, who was formerly in the Female Education Society's school at Singapore.

Of the pastoral and evangelistic work in the eleven districts, with their 125 stations and out-stations, it is impossible in these pages to give a systematic report, however brief. The charge of these districts has been divided between the Revs. J. R. Wolfe, Ll. Lloyd, and W. Banister: Mr. Wolfe taking the home district of Fuh-Chow, and the three nearest to it, Lieng-Kong and Lo-Nguong on the north side of the River Min, and Hok-Chiang on the south; Mr. Lloyd the north-eastern districts of Ning-Taik and Hok-Ning; and Mr. Banister the Ku-Cheng, Kiong-Ning, and Iong-Ping districts to the north-west, and Hing-Hwa and Ing-Chung to the south-west.

Mr. Wolfe gives an encouraging account of the LIENG-KONG and LO-NGUONG districts. It is barely twenty years since the first feeble attempts to push out from Fuh-Chow were made in this direction, and now there are just 1600 adherents connected with 29 stations and out-stations.

Old converts in the Lo-Nguong district.

Those who have followed the history of the Mission will remember three individuals in this part of the country, old Siek of Lo-Nguong, Chung-Te of O-Iong, and Seng Ek, the rich graduate of A-Chia. Of these Mr. Wolfe writes:—

The old father Siek is still alive and holding on his way steadily as he rapidly approaches the end of his earthly course. The dear old disciple is now very feeble, and walks with bended form and tottering footsteps to the house of God. I am sorry to say that his son Song-To is still not satisfactory, though he attends church frequently; and this year I was glad to see him at Foo-Chow, at the Provincial Council meetings. The memory of happier days, I am sure, lingers about him. He looks and feels unhappy; my heart almost bleeds for him, and I yearn for his restoration. May I beg your prayers for this poor prodigal? Old Siek.

Old Chung-Te, of O-Iong, is still as earnest and active as ever, and is known all over the pastorate as the "Christian with a warm heart." On the occasion of a recent fire in his village, he showed his faith in God and his boldness in confessing Him in a very striking manner. As the fire drew nearer and nearer, the neighbours brought forth all their idols and placed them in rows before the flames to stop their advance. Some of these idols were placed in front of Chung-Te's house. This aroused the old Christian's zeal, and in the presence of the astonished multitude he took the heavy mattock with which he wrought in the fields, and with it belaboured the bodies of the idols, and in a short time demolished them into broken pieces, and, raising his hands to heaven, he called upon "the great Creator, the true God, his Heavenly Father," to save him and his neighbours from the approaching flames. Suddenly the wind changed, and though many of the front houses in the lane were badly scorched, the conflagration took a different direction, and the prayer of Chung-Te was answered: the houses of his neighbours and his own were saved. Chung-Te, of O-Iong.

In the village of A-Chia there have been six baptisms; one of them a literary graduate, who has recently taken his B.A. degree. He has for a long time been coming to the services, and showed a very considerable knowledge of Christianity; he is a cousin of the Rev. Sia, and nephew of Seng Ek, the rich graduate who was baptized years ago, and is the most important man in this place. Of Seng Ek I am rejoiced to be able to write that I think I can observe some improvement in his spiritual life; of late years a spiritual deadness seemed to have crept over him; and though he attended church at A-Chia regularly, and did not seem ashamed of his profession of Christianity, still there was the absence of that earnestness and yearning desire for the salvation of others, especially his own family, which one wishes to see in all the Christians. Seng Ek is very rich in this world's possessions, but I fear he has allowed his earthly riches to occupy the largest share of his affections. He was present at the baptism of his nephew, and seemed much interested, and held his nephew's little children in his arms as they were being consecrated to the Lord in baptism. He contributed $50 towards the Lo-Nguong house, but he could as easily have contributed $1000. I beg for your special prayers on behalf of Seng Ek. What a blessing he might be to this place, if only his heart could be more given to Christ! Seng Ek, of A-Chia.

Mr. Wolfe dwells upon the abatement of opposition, and the increased respect in which the Christians are held; and of this he relates a striking instance in connection with the HOK-CHIANG district:—

In the large town of Keng-Tau we have between 200 and 300 Christians. In consequence of some trouble arising from the lawless conduct of members of this town, the chief mandarin of the district, accompanied by a large body of military and police, paid a visit to Keng Tau, and demanded the surrender of the offenders. The elders, either from inability or unwillingness to comply with this demand, excused themselves, whereupon the mandarin ordered the demolition of the ancestral hall of the clan, and the destruction of the crops in the fields and gardens surrounding the town. The military at once proceeded to execute these ruthless orders of their chief, and were destroying the property of heathen and Christian alike. The catechist at once made a representation of the case to the mandarin on behalf of his flock. The mandarin received him most courteously, and expressed himself in complimentary terms respecting Christians, and at once issued strict orders not to touch the property of the Christians; and, furthermore, offered to make compensation to them for the amount of their property that had been already injured. A few years ago such a friendly disposition towards Christians did not exist, but the very fact of men being Christians was a sufficient motive to incite both officers and soldiers to destroy their property, and harass their persons, and thrust them into prison.

After the military had left the town the gentry and elders requested the loan of the Mission-hall to hold a meeting, as their ancestral hall had been partially destroyed, and invited the Christians to take part in their deliberations.

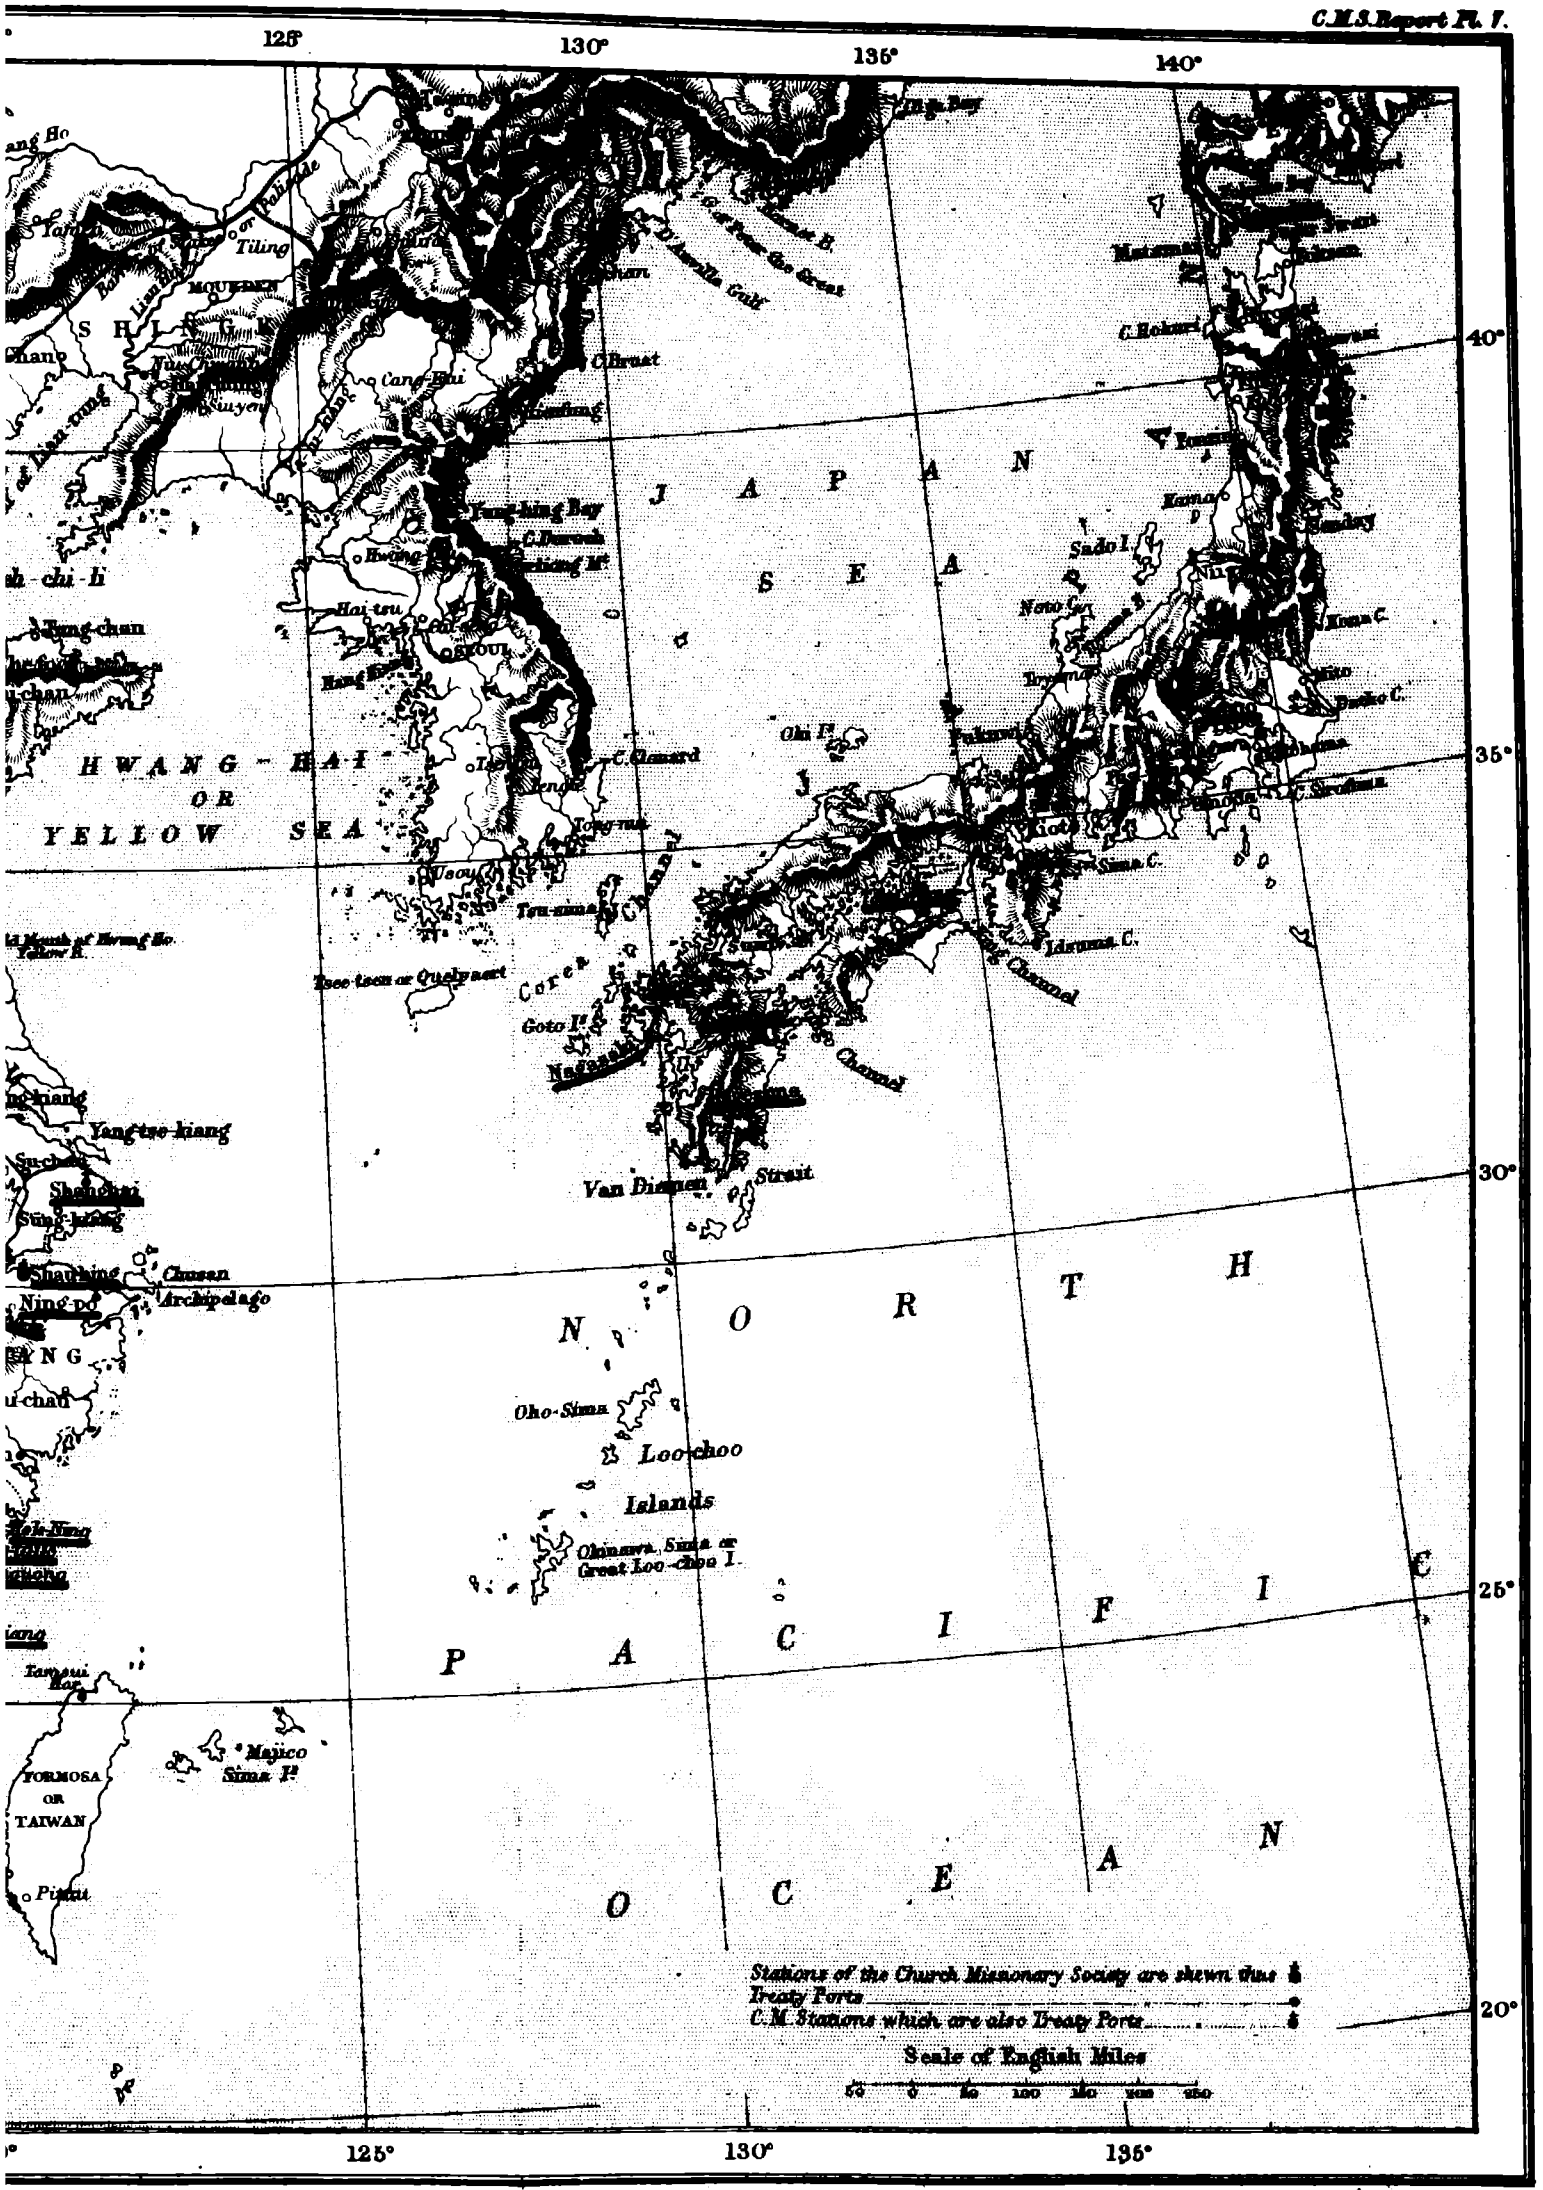

Mr. Banister's report of the KU-CHENG district, with its 31 stations and out-stations, is also full of interest and encouragement, but space will not allow of extracts. He also writes hopefully of the remoter districts of KIONG-NING, IONG-PING, HING-HWA, and ING-CHUNG. At the fu city of IONG-PING the chapel has at length been restored and re-occupied, after the Mission had been excluded for five or six years.

Baptisms of Buddhist vegetarian leaders.

In connection with the NING-TAIK district, where the Rev. Ting Sing-ki continues to labour very earnestly, Mr. Lloyd notices the baptisms of some leading men of the vegetarian sect of Buddhists, and the consternation thereby caused:—

> The old man, Ing Sëüng, who, after forty years of vegetarianism, joined us at the beginning of the year, has proved himself very earnest in seeking the truth, and Mr. Ting, when he visited his house in the summer, was surprised to find that his wife was also exceedingly well instructed in the truth. Much consternation took place amongst the other vegetarians, when the news of Ing Sëüng's conversion became known, and two of their chief men came all the way from Ku-Cheng to endeavour to bring him back again into what they believe to be the way of salvation. They invited him to accompany them to the temple of their idol, and there, before a number of other heathens, declared their readiness to die for the sake of Sakya Muni, if need be. All their efforts, however, proved unavailing, and they returned to Ku-Cheng.
> Since that time Ing Sëüng has, we believe, been really growing in the grace and knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ, and it was my great joy and privilege to baptize him, his wife, and a grown-up son, at Ning-Taik, on the 21st of October.

At the same time I also baptized a man who had been a vegetarian for many years, and is very well-to-do. I called at the house of this convert on my last visit to Ning-Taik, and he led me upstairs, where I was pleased to find a little room nicely fitted up, and in the place of the usual idol, the Lord's Prayer, Creed, &c. We knelt down together, and I asked God to bless him, and to grant that his whole family might ere long be led to believe in Jesus.

But the most wonderful proof of the power of the Gospel at Ning-Taik has been the conversion of a man some sixty-five years of age, who occupies a position somewhat similar to that of a priest amongst the vegetarians. He is a fine-looking old man, and seems very vigorous and strong. I first saw him in March at the idol-temple of the vegetarians, outside the North Gate at Ning-Taik, and at that time Mr. Ting and I had some conversation with him and others respecting the doctrine of Jesus; and as we left, we asked him, as we usually do, to come to the chapel when he had leisure. He then seemed to treat the whole matter as a joke, and I was very much surprised when I next visited Ning-Taik, some months later, to hear that he had been present at the services the Sunday before, although he had refused to kneel in prayer with the rest. The following Sunday, when I was present, I was most pleased to see him sitting with the rest and kneeling with us in prayer. The influence of this man has been very great in the neighbourhood of Ning-Taik, and he has been the means of persuading over 100 persons to embrace vegetarianism. These, his children, as they are called, are in great consternation, and know not what to do. We have good reason to hope that many of them will follow the example of their leader and teacher and become followers of Christ.

Medical Mission at Hok-Ning.

At Hok-Ning-fu, the Rev. J. Martin and Dr. B. Van Someren Taylor have resided without molestation during the year, and the latter's Medical Mission is exercising an important influence. The dispensary was opened on Easter Monday, March 26th, 1883, and in six months 2350 visits of patients were recorded. To all these sufferers the Gospel was preached. The hospital, in the same period, had 86 in-patients, of whom 50 were sufferers from the effects of opium. Dr. Taylor has also three Chinese medical students, concerning whom he writes,— Training Chinese medical students.

To me this is the most important part of my work. By training I do not mean merely imparting so much medical knowledge to them. This is by no means all that is implied in training; it implies a careful, daily study of the character of each, a daily influencing of them, and a daily setting before them of a Christ-like life. What we want is that our catechists shall be living witnesses, witnessing by their lives as well as by their words for Christ.

Medical books in Chinese.

It has been no easy matter to decide what to teach these students, for there is no good medical literature in China. So far, I have translated for my students English works, but of course they have had access to read other works. These last six months I have translated and slightly condensed about one-half of Dr. J. N. Wolfe's (of Glasgow) book upon eye-disease, and nearly all of Heath's Surgical Diagnosis. (Last year I translated nearly one-half of Fenwick's Medical Diagnosis and Treatment, as well as Charteris' Practice of Medicine; and these of course my students have.) I have also striven as any new case presented itself to make a special clinical study of it. I have also gone over a portion of St. John's Gospel with them, and at present am going over St. Matthew's Gospel, not merely reading, but studying, looking up the references, explaining and striving to bring home the meaning; using to help me Bishop Ellicott's New Testament Commentary for English Readers.

Grants from W. C. Jones Fund.

A grant of $2000 has been made from the William Charles Jones Fund, to build for this Mission a Hospital and Medical Training College, and an annual grant for the cost of training medical students. Besides these, and the one before mentioned for the Fuh-Chow College, that Fund has also been drawn upon for various objects in which the Fuh-Kien Native Church is interested, such as the building and repair of churches, the expenses of evangelistic work, &c. Particulars are given in the separate Report of the Fund printed on a later page.

Schools in Fuh-Kien.

It only remains to notice the country schools in the districts. The Fuh-Kien Mission is one of the very few which has owed scarcely anything to educational work, i.e. among the heathen. But it is most important that the growing Native Church should consist of instructed Christians who can at least read the Chinese Bible; and schools have been extensively established within the last few years, primarily for the elementary education of the children of the church-members. There are now 38 of them, with 479 scholars, but nearly half the children attending are heathen, so that the schools are in part an evangelistic agency. The management of them is in the hands of the District Councils, or of the English missionary where there is no Council; but the College staff, i.e. Mr. Stewart, and his helper, the Rev. C. Shaw, have been acting as inspectors and examiners; and both write in favourable terms of the efficiency of the schools they have visited.

The Committee doubt not that there are many weak points in the Fuh-Kien Mission. Ignorance, inconsistency, and backsliding among the adherents, and lack of zeal and love on the part of the catechists and teachers, might, it may be taken for granted, be observed. No Christian community of 5000 souls in the world is without these imperfections, or ever has been in the history of the Church. But all drawbacks and deficiencies notwithstanding, there is cause for loud praise to God for the abundant blessing He has vouchsafed. And there is every prospect of continued advance. "Among the vast heathen population of these districts," Mr. Wolfe writes, "the knowledge of Christianity is extending. In busy towns, in populous villages, in lonely hamlets among the hills, the blessed news of God's love to man through the Cross of Jesus has been made known by simple, loving words from Native lips, and has won its way to the weary hearts of men and women heavy-laden with sin and bowed down with poverty and woe."

MID-CHINA MISSION.

Chekh-Kiang Province: Ningpo, 1848; Hang-Chow, 1861; Shaou-hying, 1870.

"The year 1883," in Mid-China, wrote Bishop Moule at the close of it, "has been one of mercy and judgment; but one in which strokes of judgment, or of sore chastening, have fallen with more than usual severity." He refers in the first instance to the retirement of two missionaries through failure of health, noticed in last year's Annual Report; and then continues,—"The heavy blows inflicted —not only on the chief mourners, but ἀπὸ μέρους on us all— by the death in October of Mrs. Sedgwick, and in November, not nine months after her arrival, of Mrs. Hoare, have in a manner caused to be forgotten the losses and the gains alike of the earlier period." The Committee have indeed mourned the loss of these two devoted ladies, who had begun their missionary life with so much promise, not only on account of their bereaved husbands, but for the work's sake. Bishop Moule writes further,— Deaths of Mrs. Sedgwick and Mrs. Hoare.

"What Mr. Hoare and his charge too have lost by the death of his charming wife is incalculable. Her evident and real sympathy with all around her, Natives and Europeans alike, had won every one's heart, and we looked forward to a new period of harmony and loving influence in the Ningpo field. God can "supply all our need." But it is a very great and urgent one.

Our loss here (at Hang-chow) is only a little less calamitous. Mrs. Sedgwick, though not strong, was as true and as efficient a missionary as any in the field. We counted on her, little less than on her husband, as likely to raise the local force of this Mission to something a little less inadequate to the charge of our arrondisement, seventy miles in diameter. We are now weaker than ever. I trust Sedgwick will be strengthened to return to us as speedily as reason permits.

Men for Mid-China

On the other hand, as the Bishop observes, the mercy of God also has been manifested in Mid-China. The following pages will exhibit the grounds of encouragement. Here the Committee would express their thankfulness at having been enabled to reinforce the Mission with two additional missionaries, the Rev. W. L. Groves, M.A., of Pembroke College, Cambridge, and the Rev. J. H. Horsburgh, M.A., of Trinity College, Cambridge, both of whom have taken their wives with them. The former, in the place of Mr. Shann, is assisting Mr. Hoare in the Ningpo College, and the latter is stationed at Hang-chow. Another recruit will, it is hoped, join the Mission in the coming autumn. This is indeed a most inadequate reinforcement. Mid-China might well claim every man the Society has at its disposal this year, and then be but a weak Mission. Yet it is nothing to the Lord to work with many or with few; and the Committee are sure that prayer can bring down much blessing on the labours of the little band that is so faithfully toiling on in Cheh-Kiang and at Shanghai.

The Daily Telegraph on Bishop and Archdeacon Moule.

Before proceeding to review the work at the stations, the Committee quote with gratification a passage from a letter in the Daily Telegraph of Oct. 2nd, from one of its correspondents in China:—

Having spent a day or two in Hang-chow, I passed up the Tien-tang River in the direction of the Hwuychow Mountains. Here I found a warlike population, notoriously troublesome in past years to the authorities, and even now often putting the Mandarin who governs them to his wits' end to know how to keep them in order. There were, however, plenty of troops about, and the roads and tracks over the hills appeared to be tolerably safe. Europeans do not often traverse the country, though, to the praise of Bishop Moule, and his brother, Archdeacon Moule, as well as of the American missionaries of Hang-chow, it should be said that the Chinaman of the district are personally visited, and that from what they have seen of the devoted men I have mentioned, they have formed a very friendly opinion of foreigners. I did not have a single unpleasant word said to me once I had passed Hang-chow, although I might have been insulted with perfect impunity.

NINGPO.

The regular work for English missionaries in the extensive district of which this great city is the centre, has during the year been divided between the Rev. J. Bates and the Rev. J. C. Hoare; the former acting as Chairman of the Native Church Council, which office is very far from being merely one of presidency at the council meetings, and rather corresponds to that "care of all the Churches" of which St. Paul speaks; and the latter conducting the College and its affiliated schools in the country districts. The two lady missionaries, Mrs. Russell and Miss Laurence, continue to carry on their interesting work among the Chinese women. The four Native pastors have now the charge of four pastoral districts, comprising three small congregations in each: the Rev. Dzing Ts-sing being at Jing-yi-dông, or Grace Church, Ningpo; the Rev. Wông Yiu-kwông at Hao-weng-fông, or Christ Church, in the same city; the Rev. 'O Kwông-yiao, at Z-ky'i; and the Rev. Sing-Eng-teng at Kwun-hæ-we and the Sanpoh district.

Progress, though slow, of Native Church at Ningpo.

The Native Church Council system has not yet been developed as it has been in India. The Chinese Christians in and around Ningpo are few in number—fewer, apparently, than was stated last year, there having been some confusion in the registers—and poor in this world's goods; and their contributions to the fund which the Council administers are as yet small. But Mr. Bates, who has had the chief part in fostering it, and knows all the difficulties by hard experience, testifies that the spirit of self-management and self-support is growing. Self-extension seems to be still more backward: the Church does not increase, as it should, by accessions from without. Yet the progress, though undeniably slow, can be marked when the present condition of things is compared with that of only a few years ago. Archdeacon A. E. Moule, in October last, went through the district, which was formerly the scene of his own labours; and he wrote,—

Progress as seen by an old missionary

> What was the first official, or rather, ministerial, act which I had to perform when I reached Ningpo, on October 13th? After assisting in the examination of the Rev. A. R. Fuller for priest's orders, I preached the ordination sermon, and then, presenting him to my brother to be ordained priest, I joined with five other brethren in the imposition of hands; and two of these were Chinese clergymen—the Revs. Wông and Dzing—who, when I came to China, were young lads under my brother's instruction, and are now pastors of the two great districts in Ningpo, with large country stations attached to each pastorate, and are growing, we trust, perceptibly in experience, and tact, and zeal.

The day after the ordination I spent in a flying visit to the Lakes, one of my old itinerating fields. At 'En-ling, on the further shores of the Lake, I found one of my former pupils at Hang-chow, in 1876-9, at work. He was one of the small band of preachers whose zealous work in the summer of 1876 led to Matthew Tai's request that I would open a preaching-room in one of the suburbs of Hang-chow; and this room, with the name Jesus over the door, led to the Great Valley work.

Christians at Kwun-hœ-we.

I accompanied Mr. Sing to the small city of Kwun-hœ-we, and visited some of the Christians. I was much interested at learning from Mr. Sing that whereas, in 1876, when I went to Hang-chow, there were only six or eight Christians within the walls, there are now about thirty, and scattered all over the city. "There lives one," he said, as we passed a lane. "There are two," up that street. "Here is a family, all Christians," as we passed a cooper's shop in the main street, and were welcomed cordially.

At Z-Kyli we spent the afternoon of Oct. 19th, going with Mr. 'O, the pastor, to see the school (one of Mr. Hoare's branch schools), and then opening the church (which I built in 1874) for preaching to the heathen for an hour or so. I then examined his baptismal register, and both here and at Kwun-hœ-we I found nearly double the number of names on the list, as compared with 1875-6, when I gave up charge of these districts.

Going towards Gao-scen, we met Mr. Wông, the senior Ningpo pastor, in whose pastorate these hills are included. We went with him and with the evangelist Luke Wông (whose father died in these hills some ten years ago with the word Jesus before his eyes, let down, as he saw in a dream, on a scroll from heaven) to visit an inquirer in a village hard by. Here we preached for awhile, and then descended over the grand pass called Tsô-ling to Gao-scen. Here many old friends greeted me; and some who were estranged in 1879, when I returned to England, have, thank God, come back. I found the chapel which I had fitted up (and which was in great measure the gift of our good brother Ling Ah-Kao, the lame Sabbath-keeper, in 1861 the solitary Christian in these hills, where now there are some forty or fifty believers) too strait for them, and a new chapel alongside nicely fitted and arranged.

Confirmations in Cheh-Kiang.

In March last, Bishop Moule went through the district, and confirmed, at six centres, 54 candidates, "four of them daughters of Native pastors, who," he writes, "pleased me much by their modest Christian bearing."

Ningpo College.

Mr. Hoare sends an interesting report on the College, which comprises a Theological Class and a Boarding-school. Of the theological students he says,—

> The Theological Class consists at present of four young men who passed out of the College five years ago, and who, after a period of probation as schoolmasters, have been brought back for a course of two years' higher theological training, preparatory to pastoral work, either as catechists or as clergymen. We certainly hope that some of them will ere long be ordained.

Studies of Chinese Divinity Students.

> The young men have worked well, with keen interest in their studies, and with ready zeal for preaching. We have been studying systematic theology, Isaiah and the Gospel of St. John, and, to a certain extent, the Native classics from a Christian point of view. Sermon writing and criticism we have weekly; and one morning in the week we give up to the study of any special book or subject that seems to present especial difficulties. I am afraid that to the modern theological professor our text-books and methods would seem rather out of date; for though I have most of the best modern commentators on my book-shelves, our mainstays have been Scott's Commentary and Guise's Expositor for the interpretation of Scripture. My reason for adopting this line has been that I want to aim rather at the souls than at the heads of the students; and whilst I fully value the rich information which the later commentaries give us about the Bible, for plain spiritual teaching there are few books like these which I have mentioned.

I am thankful to say that I believe that this line of study has been blessed. I was at first rather pained to find how shadowy and erroneous the ideas of these young men were concerning many of the first principles of the practical life of faith. I believe that they have now a deeper and fuller appreciation of the Gospel of the grace of God than they had before; that they are now resting more upon the finished atonement, putting aside their own imperfect efforts after holiness. At the same time I believe that they are aiming at a higher standard than they did before, striving to live more in the presence of a personal, living Saviour, instead of giving a mere mental assent to the doctrines of Christianity.

Mrs. Russell's work among Chinese women.

Of Mrs. Russell's work among the women, Mr. Hoare says that its "wonderful development" is the most encouraging feature of the year. She herself writes,—

Although I have been more or less on the sick-list during the greater part of this year, my Bible-women have not been inactive; the result of their labour has been the baptism of five women and several inquirers.

Baptism of a widow.

One of the women baptized on May 13th is a widow, thirty-four years of age, very intelligent, and diligent in her search after knowledge, and she manifests an especial love for the Word of God, which she reads constantly to herself with others, and very carefully with me every morning after family prayers. She never allows anything she does not understand to pass, and is always glad to have difficult passages explained to her. At her baptism she took the name of Phœbe, as she said she would like to be like her, "a servant of the Church." The training I am giving her is to fit her for work next year as assistant Bible-woman. She is by birth a Soochow woman of good family; the rebellion in 1861 drove her parents to leave their native place, and seek refuge in Ningpo, where she was married; and on her becoming a widow in straitened circumstances, her thoughts turned toward the religion of the land. She gave herself up to work out merit for herself and the rich who had not the inclination to become worshippers of Buddha, &c., and so she spent most of her time at the temples. Her means were so slender that when one of her little boys died, the boards he was wont to sleep on were converted into a coffin for him. While at the temple one day she for the first time heard the Gospel of Christ explained by Eunice and Hannah (two of my Bible-women); she became interested, and after some time she was induced to come to church, and went less frequently to the temple, and in January or February she brought her rosary, book of prayers, paper, silver dollars, &c., and asked for baptism; and has been a consistent Christian ever since.

SHAOU-HING.

The Rev. J. H. Sedgwick was in charge until his return to England on the death of his wife. His young colleague, the Rev. A. R. Fuller, was thus left alone for a while; but the Rev. J. D. Valentine has now returned to his old post. Mr. Fuller is not able to report any adult baptisms during the year; but he has met with some encouragement in his visits to neighbouring villages. Thirty of the Shaou-hing Christians have become members of the Rev. H. L. Harkness's Prayer Union for the Holy Spirit.

Prayer Union at Shaou-hing.

HANG-CHOW.

Bishop Moule, the Rev. A. Elwin, and Dr. Duncan Main, composed the Mission band at the capital of the Cheh-Kiang Province during the greater part of the year; and towards the close of it they were joined by the Rev. J. H. Horsburgh. The Bishop, though his home is at Hang-chow, is of course frequently absent, visiting the other stations; and the report of the work is Mr. Elwin's. The baptized Christians are 225 in number, 119 of them being communicants (a quite unusually high proportion); and there are 15 catechumens. Eleven adults were baptized in the year. Mr. Elwin mentions two or three of the converts in the Chu-ki district who have been noticed in previous reports. Of the girl "Golden Chain," whose forced marriage with a heathen husband after her baptism was recorded last year, he writes that she has been kept steadfast in the faith despite much persecution and even bodily ill-treatment; and so has "Mr. Leaf" (Tsang), who, in another village, is the only Christian, even his wife being against him. Mr. Elwin asks for continued prayer in behalf of these scattered Christians in the mountain villages.

Steadfast endurance of Chu-ki converts.

Dr. Duncan Main has issued an interesting printed Report of the Medical Mission Hospital, with full details of his medical and surgical practice. The following is extracted from it:—

Medical Mission at Hang-Chow.

> We have all sorts and conditions of men seeking relief—the lame, the halt, the blind, the withered, those that have suffered many things of many physicians, spent all that they have and are nothing bettered but rather worse, the young and old, learned and illiterate, high and low, rich and poor, meet together in one common waiting-room. As they assemble they are confronted by some one who is ready to make known unto them the way of salvation through Jesus Christ. This work is generally done by one of our catechists, sometimes by my assistants or myself. In the consulting-room, while prescribing for their bodies, we forget not to tell them of the Great Physician of souls. Hence they move on to the dispensary, where they get their medicine and then pass out.

In dispensary work it is difficult to gauge spiritual results and say how much good is really being done. It is to the treatment of in-patients that we look for most blessing. With them we have a short service morning and evening, which consists in the reading of God's Word, with explanation and prayer. Some from the nature of their diseases are unable to come to the preaching-room; they are talked to and prayed with at their bedsides.

Besides the work at the dispensary and hospital during the year, I have visited and relieved a large number of patients at two stations of the C.M.S. ten and thirty miles respectively up the Ts'ien-t'ang river; and have also made weekly excursions during the cool months to the suburbs and surrounding villages of this great city for the same purpose. I have also visited a considerable number of patients of all ranks at their homes. Good, I trust, is done by this means in many cases, but from the extreme difficulty of securing regular and careful attention to medical directions, it is far less satisfactory than the treatment in hospital.

During the year there were 3019 out-patients (not visits, but distinct persons) and 259 in-patients. The average daily attendance was 48; and 519 visits were paid to patients at their own homes. Dr. Main gives some instances of spiritual blessing in connection with his work; and the following is a remarkable case of cure both of body and soul:—

Mrs. Li is the wife of an elderly tailor, living at Fu-yang, thirty miles above Hang-chow, on the Ts'ien-t'ang river. She was brought to the hospital in the beginning of 1883, suffering from an ulcerated leg of the worst description. In the Cowgate of Edinburgh I have come across some very bad legs, but this one was second to none; all those who were sensible of having an olfactory nerve gave the poor lady a wide berth, except my wife, who faithfully dressed her leg every day, in spite of its extremely distressing nature, even with the copious use of carbolic acid and Condy's Fluid.

As soon as I saw the advanced state of the disease I told the husband that there was nothing for the leg but amputation. At this he fixed his eyes, lengthened his face and said, "Ky'ih-peh-loh," which meant that he could not swallow it (the amputation, of course, not the leg). He pleaded with me to allow her to remain in the hospital and attempt a cure on other terms. She remained six weeks, and at the end of that period no signs of healing were apparent, and as the husband could not consent to the operation, he reluctantly took his poor wife home, carrying her on his back from the hospital, both of them in tears.

A few months later I visited Fu-yang, where the patient was carried to the mission-room in a large basket. She was by this time worse in every way, so that when they entreated me to readmit her and perform the amputation, I declined the risk, until overpowered by their pitiful condition. A week later she was again in the female ward, and after some time devoted to raising her system by diet and tonics, I decided at the husband's renewed request to attempt the operation. Whilst attending her daily in this interval Mrs. Main had spoken frequently to her about salvation through Christ, and she gave good evidence of being a new creature in Christ Jesus, which seemed to justify our acceding, with the Bishop's approval and assistance, to her request for baptism before she underwent the hazardous trial. This was done, and special prayer was offered in the ward next day before the operation commenced.

Her cheerfulness at the time was remarkable, and contributed to secure the extremely favourable result. The stump healed rapidly, and a fairly satisfactory wooden leg being made by a Native joiner, under my directions, she was actually able to walk to the church, more than a quarter of a mile, in order to return thanks and confess her faith in Christ, so we had the joy of seeing her "walking and praising God."

Her husband, who wished to be baptized on that occasion, but was deferred for further instruction, has since been admitted to the Church at Fu-yang, whither they returned shortly after the completion of the cure. Her age, forty-six, as well as the extremity to which suffering and poverty had reduced her system, made the successful amputation a subject of special thankfulness to myself, and all connected with the hospital.

Grants from W.C. Jones Fund.

As at Hok-Ning, in the Fuh-Kien Province, so here a Mission Hospital and Medical College is to be built, and provision to be made for the training of medical students, out of the William Charles Jones Fund. That Fund is already proving of inestimable service to the work of the Society in China.

SHANGHAI.

This great commercial city, in which the Church Missionary Society began its work in China forty years ago, but in which it has never attempted more than just to keep foothold, is now regarded by Bishop Moule as "one of the comparatively bright spots in his anxiously large field of responsibility." He allows that his estimate of the influence already gained there by Archdeacon A. E. Moule must be "discounted" by the consideration that his judgment may be partial. But he gives evidence to prove its truth:—

Archdeacon Moule's work at Shanghai.

> The opening of a preaching-room in an important suburb, and its working by the missionary in person, the revivification of the Sunday services, the visitation of the Anglo-Chinese school, the commencement (by my dear sister) of a girls' school and women's class—these are some of the obvious improvements and signs of life. That dear sister, with four children round her, yet finds heart and time to commence the study of the Shanghae dialect—having already worked in two, the Ningpo and Hang-chow. These are all purely missionary or missionary-pastoral works. But the influence of my brother as a friend of the chaplain, a monthly preacher in the Cathedral, a welcome member of the Temperance and "Young Men's" Societies; and that of both himself and his wife socially as Christian members of the European community of Shanghae—are in reality almost as important for missionary objects as for those in connection with which their influence is actually exerted. If he could but be doubled! Your missionary at Shanghae will never be an "apostolic man," in St. Peter's sense (Acts vi.), so long as he has such a pressure of financial duty as still falls to my brother's share, notwithstanding Mr. Krauss' help. Financial correspondence, executing the commissions of missionaries up-country, and hospitality (of which a large share has been most cheerfully afforded to his brethren and sisters throughout the twelvemonth) take up so much of his time that he finds Chinese study out of the question, and I begin to despair of his ever justifying the step I took in appointing him Archdeacon with a view to the inspection of the Native pastorates, &c.

The Anglo-Chinese School conducted by Mr. G. Lanning continues popular and successful. It has sustained a severe loss by the death of the assistant-master, Mr. J. W. Strickson, whose influence was excellent, and at whose funeral many of the scholars wept bitterly.

JAPAN MISSION.

Nagasâki, 1869; Osâka, 1874; Tokio, 1874; Hakodâte, 1874.

The proposal to send an English bishop to Japan, which the late Rev. Henry Wright had so much at heart more than five years ago, has in the past year been brought to a happy issue. The appointment by the Archbishop of Canterbury of the Rev. A. W. Poole, late C.M.S. missionary in South India, was announced while last year's Annual Report was passing through the press. Bishop Poole was consecrated last October (on St. Luke's Day), and shortly afterwards sailed with Mrs. Poole for Japan; and the Committee rejoice to say that since their arrival there they have enjoyed a measure of health which promises well for the future. The Bishop was cordially received by the British residents, the C.M.S. and S.P.G. missionaries, the American Episcopal Church missionaries, and the Native Christians. In February he held his first confirmations at the two principal stations, Nagasaki and Osâka. There were 28 candidates at the former place, and 19 at the latter. In the first week of March he presided at the Annual C.M.S. Conference at Osâka, and preached the opening sermon from 2 Cor. v. 11. He also laid the corner stone of the new Central Theological College.

Prospect of Christianity in Japan.

The Bishop writes in a bright and hopeful tone of the prospects of missionary work. Every one tells him that Buddhism is rapidly losing its hold on the people, and many are of opinion that the Japanese Government itself is concerned at their lapse into utter irreligion, and would be glad, even for state reasons, to see Protestant Christianity spreading among them. The character of the Christian converts is another element of hope. The Japanese generally, writes the Bishop, are "a bright, quick, and interesting people." These national characteristics, together, perhaps, with others of a less favourable character, are seen in the converts. The Bishop, however, adds, "Many of those who have embraced the Gospel have shown singular devotedness of life."

Not less encouraging is the evidence supplied by the Rev. C. F. Warren, the Secretary of the Mission, in his Annual Letter. Its date is just ten years after his first arrival in Japan, and he takes the opportunity to review the missionary progress of the decade:—

Ten years' progress at Osâka.

1. The hindrances to the public and widespread preaching of the Gospel have been removed. When I arrived in this city at the close of 1873 the freedom we now enjoy was unknown. The American Episcopal Mission had a chapel, and the American Board Mission a small room where Christian services were held, but they were under the shadow of the missionary's house and practically under foreign protection. Preaching-rooms in the city were unknown; the Natives were afraid to allow public preaching in their houses; and if Bible-readings were sometimes held in them, it was with closed doors, and not without fear that the authorities might at any moment come in and interrupt the proceedings. The change in this matter is as complete as anything can well be. The motives which have influenced the Government in granting practical religious toleration need not be inquired into; the fact is patent to all who know the country, and especially to the missionaries and the Native Christians, who have no let or hindrance in the prosecution of their work from the powers that be. In this respect Japan is ahead not only of Mohammedan Turkey, but even of some professedly Christian countries where Rome is still in the ascendant. Let this fact be noted by all who love the kingdom of God, and let praise be given to God for it.

Advance in toleration.

2. The European missionary is practically at liberty to preach in every part of the country. This is another ground of thanksgiving to God.

3. The opportunities of preaching the Gospel are daily multiplying. If in any country in the world a great door is open, it is in Japan. It is not the vast territory or teeming millions to which I refer, but to the ready hearing granted to the Gospel by smaller or larger companies in every part of the country. For this let God be praised.

4. Christian truth is finding its way to every province of the empire. The dissemination of the Holy Scriptures and Christian tracts and books by our Bible and Tract Societies has gone on rapidly. Ten years ago we had only the Gospels of St. Matthew, St. Mark, and St. John, but now we are in possession of an improved translation, not only of these Gospels, but of the entire New Testament. Portions of the Old Testament are also being published from time to time. Other branches of Christian literature have been largely promoted. Go where you may, Christian truth has preceded you, and men may be found who are not only possessed of the Holy Scriptures, but who are studying them. A work of preparation is thus going on for great and mighty results in God's own time. Who that remembers the inspired truth, "The entrance of Thy Word giveth light," will not heartily thank God for this? Christian literature.

5. The Native Church has grown rapidly. When I arrived ten years ago, there were not twenty Native Christians in this city. The American Board, the largest and most influential Mission in this neighbourhood, had not then organized a single Native Church in Osâka. Now there are eleven or twelve congregations in this city alone, and the work outside the city has gone on still more rapidly. These Churches are not a mere aggregation of nominal Christians. There is life. The series of united prayer-meetings which are being held during this week of prayer are one manifestation of it. In spite of the cold—and last night it was bitterly cold, with a biting, frosty wind—about 200 Native Christians are meeting together each evening, many of them walking two or three miles to attend. Who that remembers the day of much smaller things, and looks upon those 200 faces, and listens to the sober and earnest exhortations given, and the humble and fervent prayers offered up, would not exclaim, "What hath God wrought"? Let praise be given to God for what He has done. Growth of the Native Church.

So much for the decade. Mr. Warren adds that of all the ten years, the past one has been the most remarkable. It is believed that the increase in the whole body of Protestant Native Christians was sixty per cent. Growth in the past year.

During the year there was a remarkable spiritual movement among the Native Christian congregations connected with both the American and the English Missions, at the more central stations, Tokio and Osâka; and notwithstanding the activity which the Evil One always shows at times of revival, real blessing has undoubtedly been the general result. Mr. Warren wrote that during twenty years of ministerial and missionary life he had never seen such tokens of the presence and power of the Holy Ghost. A General Religious revival.

Conference of Protestant Missionaries at Osâka, also, was marked by great fervour and by a spirit of prayer which made the occasion one of much profit. But perhaps the most notable event of the year was the meeting at Osâka in connection with the Luther Commemoration, entirely arranged by the Native Churches, and attended by 600 Native Christians:—

Luther Commemoration meeting at Osâka.

The Native Churches in this city, as in other places in the country, held a meeting to commemorate the birth of "the solitary monk that shook the world." Ten years ago who would have thought that such a meeting would be held? Yet so it came to pass. It was entirely a movement of the Native Churches. They proposed it and made the arrangements, and subscribed most of the money needed for it. It was no ordinary event to see fully 600 people, embracing Christians of all denominations in Osâka, Government officials, lawyers, doctors, and other gentlemen, gathered to hear about the Great Reformer and his work.

The place of meeting demands a note. It stands on the boundary of the Foreign Concession, and its front gate opens on one of the Concession streets. Several years ago it was the residence of the former Governor of Osâka, and quite recently the Shin sect of Buddhists rented it for a preaching-hall, to counteract, it was said, the work of missionaries. But financial difficulties and internal dissensions of the sect compelled them to throw it up after a very short time, and the Committee of the Luther Celebration obtained the loan of it for their meeting.

Prayer was offered, and three addresses followed—the first by a Native, on Luther's life; the second by myself, on the great principles Luther asserted, as the supremacy of Holy Scripture, the right of every man to study the Scriptures for himself, direct access to God through Christ for the sinner, and justification by faith through grace alone; the third by another Native, on the general effect of Luther's work on the Natives who adopted Reformation principles. Most of the missionaries were present, and assisted by singing some of the tunes associated with the Great Reformer.

In the face of such results, and such openings, the demand for reinforcements is loud and undeniable. It has been urged most earnestly by the missionaries during the past year. One passage in one letter may be quoted. The Rev. G. H. Pole writes:—

Peculiar claims of Japan.

It is incontrovertible (1) that this country is ripe for the Gospel in a sense that no other in the world is at this moment; (2) that it is manageable in size—its insulated position and its comparatively small population (as compared for instance with China) render its evangelization possible within reasonable limits;—(3) that the Japanese (and especially Christian Japanese under the influence of the Spirit of God) are an active and energetic race, who are eminently qualified for missionary work in the neighbouring lands; and (4) that the speedy winning of this land for Christ would have an electric-shock-like effect upon both Christendom and heathendom, and would give an incalculable impulse to missionary effort all over the world.

Bearing these facts in mind, does it not seem our duty, as those who have the extension of our blessed Master's glory and kingdom at heart, to send every available agent here at once, even at the expense of other less promising fields?

If we do not rise to our responsibility with regard to Japan, now at once, and win the land to the Cross of Christ and Faith in Him, it will be won to Satan, Rationalism, Agnosticism, Atheism, and such-like. The heathen religions will never raise their heads again here. But unless the Church of Christ does her duty earnestly and vigorously, these false secularizing tendencies will have full swing, and will bring in their wake political and national disaster. There is a loud call for you to double, at least, your missionary body here as speedily as you possibly can, and I tell you so, in the name and for the sake of Christ my master, with a fearless conviction of its truth.

What has the Society done in response to this appeal? One young missionary, the Rev. J. B. Brandram, M.A., has been sent to Nagasaki; and virtually he only fills the place vacated by Mr. Dening. Meanwhile the Mission is temporarily weakened by the return home on furlough of the Revs. P. K. Fyson, H. Maundrell, and J. Williams. But men and means are simply not forthcoming. The Lord Himself send forth labourers into that fast ripening and plenteous harvest!

NAGASAKI.

The reports from this station, from the Rev. H. Maundrell (who has since come home), and the Rev. A. B. Hutchinson, are not so full as in some previous years, but they give a quite satisfactory view of the condition and prospects of the work. Nineteen adults were baptized in the year, and the Christian adherents at Nagasaki and the three out-stations, Kagoshima, Kumamoto, and Saga, number 215. God has indeed permitted trials. One has been the withdrawal of two leading adherents at Kagoshima, and of one at Nagasaki. Another has been the bitter and slanderous opposition of the Ki-Kiu-Kuwai, or Anti-Christian Society, which draws its members from among those, "whether Buddhists, Shintoists, Confucianists, Agnostics, Materialists, or Atheists, who reject Christianity on either religious, national, pseudo-philosophic, selfish, material, or fleshly grounds." Nevertheless, Mr. Maundrell continues, "The infant Churches of Kiu-shiu are now in a more healthy state than they have been in at all. Considerable advances have been made in Christian knowledge. The foundation principles of self-support, self-government, and self-extension are being laid, which must, as time goes on, bear much fruit."

An Anti-Christian Society in Japan.

One of the agencies specially mentioned is the Girls' Boarding School, carried on by Mrs. Goodall, a lady who, though not on the C.M.S. roll, is to all intents and purposes an honorary C.M.S. missionary, and has for several years exercised the happiest influence in the Mission. "Her valuable work," writes Mr. Hutchinson, "continues of the greatest assistance to the infant Church." She thus writes regarding one of her girls :—

The eldest and most useful of my girls, who was becoming a great help as a teacher, is being kept away from me by her parents for a reason which will I fear for some time to come be a great hindrance to real Christian work amongst girls; a year ago she declined, with our entire approval, to marry a man to whom she was betrothed, his mode of life being such as to prevent her as a Christian from consenting to be his wife, which gave great offence to her family, who threatened to forsake her entirely; but in the summer her mother was so anxious to see her that she was allowed to go to her at Saga in the holidays, and I am sorry to say has not been permitted to return, which we much regret, especially as a member of our Church much wishes to make her his wife, and she would gladly consent. She wishes very much to come back to me, but it seems right to advise her to do as far as possible what her parents wish, and stay patiently with her mother, unless any attempt is made to force her to marry an unbeliever. In her last letter to me she says, "It helps me very much to think that you pray for me daily. Do not be too troubled about me; I believe our Heavenly Father will guide me and keep me safe."

College. In St. Andrew's College, for training Native evangelists, there are eight students, two of them belonging to the S.P.G. Mission at Tokio, who have been placed in the College during the absence of the missionary under whose charge they were. Mr. Maundrell says the students "have worked diligently, and, which is the most important point, show signs of growth in the Christian life."

Native Catechists. The catechists at the out-stations are reported to be "working patiently and prayerfully." The British Consul at Nagasaki lately spoke in high terms of two of them whom he met at Kagoshima and Kumamoto. "I feel," he said, "that Mr. Maundrell has gone the right way to work, and has the right sort of men. They are doing a good work in the country."

On the occasion of Bishop Poole's first visit to Nagasaki, in February last, the catechists presented him with an address, "entirely their own idea and composition." The following is a translation of it :—

To the Right Reverend Bishop Poole.

Address of Japanese catechists to Bishop Poole. OUR MOST HONOURABLE BISHOP,—We, the members of the Church in Kiushiu, most sincerely desire your good health, and thank you for giving us your presence here to-day. In the Gospel of St. John we have such glorious words as these, "God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." How wonderful is the love of God! Now the same God sent you to make this grand truth shine brightly among us, who sit in darkness and the shadow of death; and so you, forsaking all your earthly comforts in your sweet home, for the sake of our blessed Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, came across many thousand miles of land and sea, and have settled in this, as yet, unchristianized country of ours. We are very thankful to you for your coming, and your presence does greatly encourage us all. Now we most earnestly desire you to feed, strengthen, lead, and govern us, that through God's grace, we may serve Him in righteousness and holiness, to the glory of His name. Now the winter is over, flowers of the country side are coming out, and birds of the field begin to sing over them, so the natural world beautifully harmonizes with the spiritual joy and happiness of this present time. We do very earnestly hope and pray that God will bless you and your work, that the true, holy, and spiritual work may be built up and fully developed in that country.

Your most humble and obedient servants,

JOHN, Ko, &c.

[Then the names of the Japanese Students on behalf of the Nagasaki, Kagoshima, Kumamoto, and Saga Churches.]

OSÂKA.

Progress at Osâka.

The reports of the Revs. C. F. Warren, H. Evington, and G. H. Pole, are all of an encouraging character. Some portions of Mr. Warren's have already been given. Respecting the Osâka Christians, he says, "The Native Church has grown somewhat in numbers, but far more in life, love, and power to witness for Christ." The adherents now number 110, of whom 93 are baptized. There were fourteen adults baptized in the year, including six at the out-stations. One of them, a well-to-do bookseller, had come in contact with Mr. Ensor at Nagasaki twelve or fourteen years ago, and had bought Christian books from him. Another received his first impressions of truth from reading a translation of Christie's Old Organ. The Osâka C.M.S. Christian community has now become two bands. In addition to Holy Trinity Church, the enlargement of which was mentioned last year, a new "Church of the Saviour" was opened in October. The money to build it was borrowed from the Society by the Native Christians, who undertake to repay the whole in ten annual instalments. The new congregation is only a small nucleus at present, consisting of those members of the old one who live near the new church. But many of the heathen attend the services; and Mr. Pole's notice of this has an interesting bearing on the eschatological controversy that arose in connection with the Japan Mission last year:—

You would be filled with the same thankfulness as I feel were you to watch the interest and marked attention with which they listen to the truth. I have found that any allusion to the future life immediately commands attention; and the eager interest manifested on faces of old and young, when speaking of the sure and certain hope of a glorious resurrection to eternal life, proves conclusively man's instinctive conviction of a continued existence beyond the grave. On the other hand, I have observed how, directly we allude to the certainty of future judgment for sin, or to the nature of sin, and the moral depravity of all men in God's sight, directly, that is, that we prick the conscience, most of the hearers turn away with a blush and a shrug of assumed contempt or indifference, which is the best proof that they have felt the sting of truth, though they seek to disguise it. The word has been "quick and powerful."

At the older Trinity Church, services, prayer-meetings, Sunday-schools, classes, &c., have been carried on as usual.

Native prayer-meetings.

Of the weekly prayer-meeting on Thursday evenings, Mr. Warren writes:—

Once a month I preside myself, but on other occasions one of the Native brethren leads. Many times during the year I have returned from these meetings with a heart full of joy and thankfulness for the earnest words spoken and prayers offered.

Mr. Warren reports as follows on the Sunday-school:—

Sunday-school.

On Sunday afternoons, after the Litany, the adult members of the congregation form a Bible-class which is usually taken by Mr. Teresawa, one of the Theological students. The average attendance is about twenty-five. Whilst this class is being held, the children are taught as a Sunday-school in the room at the back of the church. Miss Oxlad has charge of this department, and prepares the lessons for the teacher or teachers. During 1883 Stock's Lessons on the Acts of the Apostles have formed the basis of instruction. The average attendance has been about twenty-five, including the boarders at Miss Oxlad's school. Most of the rest are day scholars in the same school.

There have been five students in the Theological Class, one of them an S.P.G. man.

Girls' School.

Another important agency is the Girls' School, carried on by Miss Oxlad, of the Society for Promoting Female Education in the East, and, says Mr. Warren, "practically worked as a part of our Mission." The elder girls "are believed to be Christians in reality as well as in name." Lectures also have been used as a means of imparting useful knowledge. Mr. Pole writes:—

Lectures on Church History.

During the winter months I delivered a course of lectures on Church History to members of our Recreation Club here, which several Japanese, who understand English, and are Christians also, attended. The subjects I took up were—"The Apostolical Fathers," "The Martyrs," "The Apologists, "Heresy" (two lectures), "Controversy," "Monasticism," and "The Papacy." I found this a useful means of consolidating my studies at Cambridge in this branch of theology.

On the out-stations Mr. Evington reports. They are Tokushima, in the Island of Shikoku, and Iwami, in the extreme west of the central Island of Hondo, and on its northern shore. At both places, the inconsistencies of some of the Christians have given Mr. Evington trouble and anxiety. There was, however, marked improvement when he wrote. At Tokushima, one of the catechumens is the editor of a newspaper, who was a professed infidel, but now has been most diligent in the study of the Scriptures, and has led his father to cast away his idols and seek for baptism also."

TOKIO.

The Society, after all, has not entirely severed its connection with the capital of Japan. Bishop Poole has been very desirous that the position there, and the interesting C.M.S. congregation, should not be left. There are, however, two difficulties in the way of remaining. In the first place, the arrangements between the Archbishop of Canterbury and the American Episcopal Church recognize Tokio as the head-quarters of the American Mission, and Bishop Poole will have no jurisdiction there, except so far as licencing the British chaplain at Yokohama implies it. There are legal (and perhaps other) obstacles to a C.M.S. missionary being licenced by an American bishop; and a C.M.S. missionary at Tokio should be a member of the C.M.S. Missionary Conference, of which Bishop Poole is chairman. In the second place, if these obstacles could be overcome, the paucity of men supplies another consideration. The present staff is not larger than is required for the three stations of Nagasâki, Osâka, and Hakodâte. However, a temporary arrangement for the C.M.S. church and house to be retained, and for a C.M.S. catechist to minister to the congregation, has been made; and the Committee are content to take one step at a time, and to wait for clearer indications of the Lord's will.

Episcopal jurisdiction at Tokio.

The Rev. J. Williams was at Tokio the greater part of the year. On his departure for England the Rev. P. K. Fyson, late of Niigata, who had latterly been doing translation work (Genesis, Judges, Ruth) for the Bible Society, took charge. He writes thankfully regarding the Tokio Christians, particularly mentioning Mr. Hada, the Japanese physician whose conversion was noticed last year, as "one who has shown remarkable zeal and earnestness." Mr. Fyson also has now come to this country, and the catechist is carrying on the work.

HAKODÂTE.

The Committee have received the following report from the Rev. W. Andrews, with thankful satisfaction. God has indeed been better to them than their fears:—

Encouragements at Hakodâte.

The Lord has been so good to us this year. As you know, at its commencement there was much to fear, and the clouds were very dark; but all praise be to the great Head of our Church, who has ruled everything for the glory of His name, notwithstanding the imperfection of us, His agents. Our number of Christians stands as it did when Mr. Dening's followers left us. We have also two Christians from Nagasâki in our employ. It does seem a small band, but thank God there is real life amongst the members; the adults are earnest readers of their Bibles, and are trying to live consistently before their heathen neighbours. The number all told is ten.

Harmony of Japanese Christians.

We live on excellent terms with those who have separated themselves from us. Besides our monthly united prayer-meeting we meet together on the second Sunday of each month to partake of the Lord's Supper. On Christmas Day it was most cheering, and made one inwardly rejoice to see them all thus worshipping together.

Preaching has been held for the heathen every night in the week except Saturday, and the interest in the services does not abate. The Sunday evening preaching for the heathen is always preceded by a short service of prayer in an upper room, especially pleading for a blessing on the preaching.

My time in the week is fully taken up in the preparation of sermons and in giving lessons on the Old Testament, Prayer-book, and Thirty-nine Articles. Terata, the catechist, and Aoyama, my Native teacher, are my only pupils; but they are most interesting ones, so anxious to find out more and more of the truth as it is in Christ Jesus; and thus three hours a day pass very rapidly and pleasantly in this work.

I cannot speak too highly of Terata San. He works most actively, and I feel sure is only actuated by love to the Master. Every day he has people in his house talking about Christianity, and he is of the greatest assistance to me in the work here.

Aino Mission.

Mr. J. Batchelor, whose return to Japan as still a lay agent was mentioned in last year's Annual Report, arrived at Hakodâte on April 1st. On May 14th he went on to Piratori, the head-quarters of the Aino or Ainu, the aborigines among whom he had previously laboured. He has since then occupied "a corner of a hut," the hut of the chief Penri, the same who received Mr. Dening several years ago, and Miss Isabella Bird more recently. Mr. Batchelor writes hopefully of this chief, but the great difficulty of his Mission is the inverate drunkeness of the race, fostered as it is by the Japanese traders:—

My residence at Piratori is with Chief Penri. He has given me a corner of his hut, and himself acts as my teacher of the Ainu language.

Chief Penri himself takes a very great interest in the religion of Jesus, and does all he can to assist me. But drunkenness is his great stumbling-block. He has tried twice to give up his drink, but each time he has failed. On the first occasion he was sober for a whole month, and on the second for nearly three. He is now having another try to conquer his old enemy, but this time, however, calling upon the name of Jehovah to help him. I have, therefore, now greater hope of his success than I ever had before, and I earnestly hope and pray strength will be given him from on high, and he will become a conqueror of self and a true follower of Jesus.

In the way of preaching the Gospel I hold services at Piratori, in Chief Penri's hut, and do a good bit of visiting and itinerating. This work is always very encouraging indeed, for it may be literally said that whole villages come together to listen, and sometimes very good questions are asked by the congregations. Penri always accompanies me in my preaching-tours, and the services are always held in the hut of the chief who resides at the village where preaching is held. I have visited some ten or twelve villages this summer, where I have always been received with the greatest good-will.

Ainu habits of drunkenness.

The chief thing one has to contend against is the supremely inveterate drunkenness of the Ainu race. The use of strong drink (Japanese sake, i.e. rice wine) forms part of all their religious worship; and in all ceremonies, religious or profane, it is considered indispensable, and the state of drunkenness is regarded by the Ainu as a state of supreme earthly joy. Offerings of wine are from time to time placed upon the graves of the departed, as offerings to the spirits of the dead. How God can be acceptably worshipped without wine is a puzzle to the poor Ainu, so intimately connected in his deluded mind are wine and worship. The Christian injunction against intemperance offends him, and I see, even now, the beginnings of a hard struggle between strong drink and religion.

My next difficulty is with the Japanese merchants who trade with the Ainu. These merchants are all wine-venders. They come here to buy the skins of animals from the Ainu, and they love to pay for them in wine rather than money. It is to the advantage of these wine-venders to keep the poor Ainu in a state of ignorance, and that their taste for wine should be encouraged as much as possible. But they begin to see what effects Christian teaching would have upon the Ainu, therefore they are bringing all their forces to bear upon Christianity and myself. Christianity is said to be rotten, therefore useless, and not to be believed in. And as for that "rascal of a hairy Chinaman!" (meaning myself), he has come here to gain the confidence of the Ainu, learn their language, deceive them with a false religion, and, in the end, to seize the country and people.

NEW ZEALAND MISSION.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Diocese of Auckland. II. Diocese of Waiapu. III. Diocese of Wellington.

Success of the Mission Board

THE new Mission Board, for the administration of the C.M.S. Missions in New Zealand, the formation of which was reported last year, has proved, through God's blessing, a great success. The Committee are most thankful to have been able to provide so completely for the control on the spot of the Society's work, and of the funds it can still for a time apportion to New Zealand, with full security that its Maori children will be well cared for and that its own distinctive principles will be maintained.

The Board held its Second Annual Meeting in January last. Its principal business was the allotment of the Society's funds at its disposal for the current year. These consisted of 1450*l.*, block grant for general purposes from the Parent Committee; 1300*l.*, estimated produce of the lands held by the C.M.S. in the island; 75*l.* in local subscriptions (these no doubt will be larger in future years); and an unexpended balance of 529*l.* from the preceding year; in all 3354*l.* From this sum the personal allowances of the C.M.S. missionaries had not to be provided, the Society of course still supplying these. But all other expenses had to be met; and the following grants were made:—for additional stipends and allowances to missionaries locally engaged, and for house rents, 1030*l.*; for expenses of itinerating, 240*l.*; for Native pastors, to meet the funds raised for them by the Native Church, 570*l.*; for the training of theological students, 500*l.*; and for other charges, 810*l.*

Among other items of business was the thankful acceptance of a generous gift from the Society's honorary missionary, the Rev. Samuel Williams, of a site for the new Theological College, consisting of an acre and a half of land at Gisborne; a request to the Bible Society to print an edition of the Maori Bible with references, to be edited by Archdeacon W. L. Williams and the Rev. A. O. Williams; and a resolution to "call the attention of members of the Church again to the necessity of making some special efforts to raise means for extending the work of the Mission, so that the Board may be in a position to take advantage of the openings which are already presenting themselves in various parts of the country."

The New Zealand Bishops and the disaffected Maories.

The Committee are glad also to observe that the condition of the Maories who are still disaffected, and separated from the Church, was a prominent subject of consideration at the General Synod of the Church of New Zealand, held at Napier in April, 1883. The Bishop of Christchurch, as Primate, was requested to draw up the following address to them; and it was translated into Maori by the Rev. S. Williams:—

To our Brethren of the Native race in this Island,—It has pleased Almighty God that we, the representatives of the Church of the Province of New Zealand, should meet in council in the Diocese of Waiapu; and we are reminded by our presence here of those who were once our fellow-members in this Church, but are not so now. We are about to conclude the business for which we have met, and to return to our homes, but cannot do so without expressing our heart's desire that they who are separated from us may be again united with us in one body, under the one Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. We would ask, therefore, our Maori brethren to consider among themselves whether their re-union may not be effected, and earnestly trust that our appeal to them in this behalf may not be in vain.

Signed on behalf of the General Synod of the Church of the Province of New Zealand, by H. J. C. Christchurch, President.

The Maori King.

The Committee regret that such incorrect ideas regarding the Maories should have found acceptance in this country in connection with the visit of the so-called Maori king. This chief has for many years been at the head of one small section of disaffected Natives; but there are other sections which follow other leaders, such as Te Whiti and Te Kooti; and all these together are but a comparatively small minority of the race. The majority of the Maories are entirely loyal, both to the Queen and to the Church, and live quietly in their own villages, with their own churches and schools and pastors and lay readers and schoolmasters. Of the Church's adherents there are more than 30,000; while the whole remnant of the race, including members of other Christian denominations as well as the Hauhaus, Te Kooti-ites, &c., is believed to be under 45,000.

Efforts to win back the Hauhaus.

Special efforts have been put forth during the year, under the direction of the Board, to influence the separated Natives. Archdeacon Clarke has twice made journeys into the Waikato and Thames districts, and to the borders of what is called the "King country" on the Upper Waikato River. In all these wide districts there are probably 5000 Maories, scattered among the hills. About a thousand of these profess Christianity, while the remainder have either renounced it, or, having been born since the time of the war, have never been under regular Christian instruction at all. "The kindly feeling shown me by all the Natives during the whole trip," writes the Archdeacon of his second journey, "was more than I dared to hope for. The almost eager manner in which some listened to me was very encouraging. There is an unmistakable movement amongst the dry bones of the lapsed Waikato Church." He found many evidences that Hauhauism is dying out, and that the "King party" are themselves looking to an early abandonment of it. On the first journey he had two interviews with Tawhiao, the "Maori King," himself, who was very cordial, and when told the object of Mr. Clarke's visit replied, "E pai ana," "It is good." On the second journey he again went to the king's headquarters:—

Visit to the Maori king.

December 11.—Spent day at Taumata and Whatiwhatihoe, where lives Tawhiao, the so-called Maori King. He was not at home, but I had a long talk with his secretary, Te Rawhiti, a bright, intelligent young fellow, the son of a former Wesleyan teacher. I was gratified with the friendliness they showed me, and to find much less shyness than on the occasion of my former visit; and they seemed to like my going in and out of their houses. Old Tamati Ngapora, in particular, was very hearty, and gave me to understand that he never gave up his Christianity. My visit was quite unexpected, and I saw his Bible and Prayer-book by his side. He told me that Hauhauism would soon be a thing of the past, and begged me to come again soon. I also saw Maka, the Hauhau high-priest, or bishop, as they call him. He was formerly a Wesleyan teacher, and has a wonderful knowledge of Scripture. He is the father of Rawhiti, the king's secretary. I asked Rawhiti how long it would be before the Hauhau superstition was given up. He said in five or ten years. When I told him that in another year I would ask Tawhiao for land upon which to build a church, he laughed, but not incredulously.

At another part of the village I found some people making a coffin. An old one-eyed chief made room for me to sit beside him. It was easy to lead the conversation to the Maori practice of hahu, the ceremony of exhuming bodies. I told them that I was a "tohunga hahu tupapaku" (an exhuming priest), and that I had come to see if my "tupapaku" (Christian worship) was ready to be taken out of its grave. They did not dissent when I gave my opinion that it would not be long. After partaking of food, we went home, Heta on the way expressing his surprise at the cordiality of my reception.

In these districts there are three Native clergymen, viz. the Rev. Wiremu (William) Turipona on the Thames, the Rev. Hohua (Joshua) Moanaroa on the Lower Waikato, and the Rev. Heta (Seth) Tarawhiti on the Upper Waikato. The latter faithful Maori brother is much respected even by the "Kingites" who hold aloof from his ministrations; of which, and of the improved feelings prevailing, Archdeacon Clarke gives an illustration. The people of Taupiri sent a petition that Heta might be stationed there; but when Wahanui, one of the most influential of the "King party," heard of it, he said, "Heta must not go away." His informant replied, "But what is the use of his staying here, where the people are Hauhaus?" Wahanui's answer was, "Heta must stay: there will be plenty of work for him soon."

From the other districts inhabited by Hauhaus, &c., similar reports come. The Rev. F. T. Baker of Waitara, on the west coast, has found the Maories there, who are mostly Te Whiti-ites, more politically than religiously disaffected; but they will not at present receive his ministrations, and their opposition is the more emphatic on account of the presence in the district of a hundred armed constables. "We will not listen to your message," said Te Whiti himself to Mr. Baker, "until these soldiers are sent away;" and he significantly added, "These men are Christians: do you wish my people to be like them?" The Rev. T. S. Grace, on the Wanganui, says that Te Whiti's supporters are fast becoming more lax in their allegiance towards him. One large and influential tribe, numbering 700 or 800 souls, has openly discarded him. The followers of Te Kooti are mostly in the north-east, in the Waiapu Diocese. The Rev. W. Goodyear, at Maketu, and Mr. J. W. Duffus, at Tauranga, find them quiet and inoffensive, calling and counting themselves Christians, and using the Bible and Prayer-book (but with some curious alterations) in their religious services. Their numbers, however, are quite small: in the whole Tauranga district perhaps 250; figures for Maketu are not given. The Natives who cling to the Church in these districts are probably three times as numerous.

But the larger sections of the Maori population are in the northern peninsula, and on the east coast; and these are almost entirely free from disaffection, political or religious; as also is the smaller section in the south, towards Wellington. While, therefore, there is great need for earnest effort in the Christ-like work of winning back the lost and wandering sheep, it would be ungrateful to God to forget that, after all, there were, so to speak, ninety and nine which went not astray.

The flourishing Maori Church.

Turning now to these "ninety and nine," to what may be thankfully regarded as the flourishing Maori Church, or rather Maori section of the Church of New Zealand, the Committee would first note the excellent system which has provided, in addition to the twenty-seven Native clergymen, quite an army of voluntary and unpaid but licensed Native lay readers. The number of these readers has not been mentioned lately; but the Report of the Synod of Waiapu shows that no less than ninety-two are at work in that diocese alone, and the Bishop of Auckland, in an address to his Synod, mentioned the still larger number of 156 as serving in his diocese.

Lay readers.

Native clergy.

The number of Native clergy is the same as last year. Two have died, the Rev. Wiremu Paraire and the Rev. Manahi Te Aro, both of the Diocese of Waiapu; while one, the Rev. Hemi Taitimu, has been ordained by the Bishop of Auckland; and another, the Rev. Eruera Hurutara Te Ngara, who was off the list for some years while labouring in the Middle Island, has returned to the North Island, and is now engaged in the Diocese of Wellington. Hemi (James) Taitimu's case is interesting. He is chief of the Aopouri division of the Rarawa tribe, and has faithfully ministered to his own people for some years as a lay reader; and now, after being duly instructed by Archdeacon Clarke, he has been ordained to be their pastor at Parenga-renga, the extreme northern point of New Zealand.

New Maori Divinity School.

The Committee are thankful that the Theological College at Gisborne is now fairly established, and pray God that it may send forth many able Maori ministers of the New Testament. It is carried on by Archdeacon W. L. Williams and his cousin, the Rev. Alfred O. Williams. The former writes:—

> The Theological Institution has now grown out of my winter class of the last few years. Having the assistance of the Rev. A. O. Williams, I was enabled to begin work in February, and to keep it on till the end of November. There were nine pupils, six of them being married, and, of course, having their wives with them. Two of them were in deacon's orders, and had been working in this neighbourhood. Three of the others had been previously acting as lay readers. Of the single men, one had been an inmate for some years of St. Stephen's School, Parnell, and another of the school at Te Aute. The northern part of the island was well represented, as one came from Mangonui, and another from Hokianga, in the extreme north. One was from Waiheke, near Auckland; another from the neighbourhood of Napier; and the rest from this district. The principal subjects of instruction were, the Gospel of St. Mark, the Epistle to the Galatians, and the Book of Psalms; Scripture History, Sketches of Church History, and the Thirty-nine Articles. A good beginning has thus, I trust, been made of a much-needed work, which, under God's blessing, will contribute much to the stability and efficiency of the Maori Church.

Some interruption was caused to the work by the serious illness of the Rev. A. O. Williams from typhoid fever. He has, I am thankful to say, quite recovered his health now, and we have already made a fresh start for the new year. We are looking forward to an increase in our number as soon as additional accommodation can be provided.

Native Church Boards.

The Native Church Boards in the more settled districts continue to work well. In Waiapu Diocese there are two, one for the Heretaunga or Hawke's Bay district, and the other for the Turanga or north-east district. The meeting of the latter, in December, was especially noticeable for a discussion on the best way of extending a helping hand to some of the Christian Maories in the Bay of Plenty district, which is without a similar organization and without pastors. The triennial meeting of the General Maori Church Board for the whole Diocese of Auckland was held in March of this year, at Paihia, Bishop Cowie presiding, and delivering a very interesting address. The Revs. Matiu Kapa and Wiki Te Paa acted as Secretaries. The Board sat for two whole days, finishing each day by lamplight at 8 p.m.

It is not necessary to enter in detail into the pastoral work of the various districts. The parishes in the north, under Archdeacon Clarke, and in the east, under Archdeacon Williams and the Rev. S. Williams, are well worked as regards organization and the externals of Christian worship; and those in the Diocese of Wellington also, though not so well supplied with pastors, are not unsatisfactory. Of several of these latter, the Rev. J. McWilliam has sent an encouraging report. The European and Colonial staff of the Mission is unchanged since last year, except through the lamented death of one of the four missionaries lately placed on the retired list, the Rev. Benjamin Y. Ashwell. His name was one of the oldest on the Society's roll. He first went to West Africa in 1833, but, his health failing there, he was transferred two years later to New Zealand, where he laboured with great fervour as a lay evangelist until 1854, and thenceforward as an ordained missionary. To the very last, despite age and infirmities, he ceased not to teach and preach Jesus Christ to the Maories as opportunity offered. The three other aged missionaries who have retired from direct responsibility for their districts, Archdeacon Brown, the Rev. S. M. Spencer, and the Rev. J. Matthews, continue to do what their waning strength permits for the people they have loved so well. And over all, the three Bishops, Dr. Cowie of Auckland, Dr. E. C. Stuart of Waiapu, and Dr. Hadfield of Wellington, exercise their fatherly influence and authority to the great advantage of all the missionary operations.

Temperance Associations.

One great evil in New Zealand—a greater (as all testify) than even Hauhauism—has, the Committee rejoice to say, been successfully grappled with in the past year. That evil is intemperance. In several of the districts branches of the Church of England Temperance Society have been founded, and have enrolled many Maori members; and the Rev. T. S. Grace sends a remarkable account of the "marvellous revolution" wrought in the Wanganui district by the Blue Ribbon Army:—

The Blue Ribbon Army in New Zealand.

The great feature of the year throughout this district is the strong advance made by temperance principles, under the auspices of the Blue Ribbon Gospel Temperance movement, introduced by myself shortly after my arrival from England eleven months ago. So far, with God's help and blessing, I am constrained to testify it has wrought a marvellous revolution in the drinking habits of the Maoris here. By way of illustration I may mention that in January last, during the visit of the Maori king, with a retinue of two or three hundred, Patiki Pa for many days was the most disgusting scene of bestial drunkenness and debauch. Four and eight months later, however, on the event of a visit from the Ngapuhi tribes, and again during the funeral taugi (wailing) for the deceased chief, Mete Kingi Paetahi, an unbroken sobriety was maintained throughout both occasions by the hundreds of men and women present: the contrast was most marked. Hitherto, for many years past, we have known but too well that Maori gatherings and funerals have been made almost invariably the opportunity for unrestrained grog-drinking and demoralization, such as could scarcely be rivalled even by an "Irish wake," with its evil concomitants. In this crusade against strong drink I did but raise the standard here, and the Maoris themselves are now doing the work. One is glad to hear that a similar work is going on amongst the Maoris in other parts of the island.

NORTH-WEST AMERICA MISSION.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Diocese of Rupert's Land. II. Diocese of Moosonee.
III. Diocese of Saskatchewan. IV. Diocese of Athabasca.

Happy results of work among the Red Indians.

YEAR by year the reports from the vast territories of NORTH-WEST AMERICA are, through God's mercy, of the same character; without stirring events, but telling of the conscientiousness and simple faith of the thousands of Red Indian Christians whom God has given to the Society's labours; and the past year is no exception. The newer Missions among the Eskimos of Hudson's Bay and the Blackfeet of the Saskatchewan give ample reason to expect from them similar fruits to those gathered long since from the Cree and Chipewyan and Tukudh tribes. The Committee must once again refer to the wonderful "journeying oft," over immense distances, of Bishop Bompas of Athabasca. Probably no bishop in all Church history has ever travelled anything like the number of miles which he covers, on snow-shoes or in canoes. Amid such vast solitudes, "the place where his hopes are resting" may well be "a city of living men." Nor should the travels of the Bishops of Moosonee and Saskatchewan be forgotten, over distances only inferior because those of Athabasca are so vast.

New bishopric for Peace River.

The Committee have readily concurred in a scheme formed by the Provincial Synod of the Province of Rupert's Land for the separation of a new diocese from that of Athabasca, to comprise the Peace River District, a territory which, unlike the great waste to the north and east, may probably become the home of thousands of settlers; and it has been to them a satisfaction that the Archbishop of Canterbury has, at the request of the Bishop of Rupert's Land, nominated as the first bishop the Society's faithful missionary, the Rev. R. Young. They do not doubt that this, like previous plans of a similar kind devised by the wisdom and foresight of Bishop Machray, will result in a still wider and more effectual promulgation of the Gospel among the Indian tribes. As the new diocese is formed specially with a view to the spiritual care of the white settlers, the Committee could not undertake the entire support of the bishop, as in the cases of Moosonee and Athabasca; but they readily voted 350*l.* a year (under certain conditions) towards the episcopal stipend, with 50*l.* a year towards his travelling expenses.

In the meanwhile, since this Report was in preparation, the arrangements for yet another new diocese have been consummated. The new civil province of Assiniboia has been separated also ecclesiastically. It consists of portion of the Dioceses of Rupert's Land and Saskatchewan. The Hon. and Rev. A. J. R. Anson is the first bishop of this new see. It will be in the main colonial in character, but the Society's station at Touchwood Hills is within its borders. The consequent re-arrangement of boundaries has given the Diocese of Saskatchewan some new territory in lieu of that which it has lost. It now corresponds to the civil provinces of Saskatchewan and Alberta, and includes the lower waters of the great river as far as their embouchure into Lake Winnipeg; and this has transferred to it from Rupert's Land the old and well-known C.M.S. stations of Devon and Cumberland.

Increased expenditure in N.W. America.

It is just ten years since the Committee, in the Annual Report for 1873-4, announced that North-West America presented a field, not for retrenchment, as had been supposed, but for extension. The decade has abundantly proved the correctness of their expectation. The Society's outlay in these vast territories has increased from 6200*l.* to 12,500*l.*, and if the North Pacific Mission across the Rocky Mountains is included, from 6800*l.* to 16,600*l.* The number of missionaries, ordained and lay, including the Native clergy, has risen from 21 to 35. The statistical returns from these remote stations have always been incomplete, and the Committee much regret that they are still unable to give anything like an accurate statement of the results of the work, even in so far as figures will show them; but there is no reason to doubt that the number of Red Indians professing Christianity under the Society's care exceeds, and probably much exceeds, 10,000. But the Lord knoweth them that are His. No Mission has called forth more sympathy from the Society's friends, or called it forth more justly; and for no Mission would the Committee more fervently praise Him whose work it is.

I. Diocese of Rupert's Land.

1. Province of Manitoba, 1823; 2. Fort Alexander district, 1864; 3. Swan River district, 1842; 4. Rainy Lake district, 1874.

Archdeacon Cowley, who is in the forty-third year of his missionary labours, will now be sole Secretary of the Mission on the elevation of his colleague Mr. Young to the Episcopate. His Annual Letter and other letters give accounts of the long journeys he still takes to visit the out-lying stations, and of his correspondence with the brethren in charge of them. The only European missionary among them is the Rev. R. Phair, at Fort Francis in RAINY LAKE district, in the extreme south-east of the diocese, near the borders of Canada proper. This district is rapidly becoming more colonial in character, and the Indians are diminishing. The country-born, half-breed, and Native clergymen are six in number, viz., the Rev. B. McKenzie at the Indian Settlement on RED RIVER; the Revs. P. Bruce, Baptiste Spence, and J. Irvine at Lansdowne, Islington, and Lac Seul respectively, in the FORT ALEXANDER district; the Rev. G. Bruce, at Fairford, in the SWAN RIVER district; and the Rev. Gilbert Cook, at Touchwood Hills, hitherto reckoned in the same district, but now included in the Diocese of Assiniboia. Several of these brethren have Indian blood in their veins, but only Mr. Spence and Mr. Badger are counted as strictly Natives.

"A giant in the Native Church."

Archdeacon Cowley writes in terms of thankfulness of the stations he has visited, especially Islington, where, he says, "Mr. Spence is a giant in the Native Church; under his able teaching all things seem to do well." The chief obstacle to the progress of the Gospel everywhere is the opposition of the Romish priests. "They take advantage of the ignorance of the poor Indians, and practise upon their superstition." Mr. Bruce of Fairford sends a very encouraging report. His Indian congregation is a constant cause of surprise and admiration on the part of passing emigrants and travellers. "Sabbath observance has become almost universal, in spite of influential white men doing their utmost to prevent it." The school at Fairford has gained the first of the prizes offered by Government to the best-conducted schools for Indians. Mr. Cook also writes happily from Touchwood Hills. He has 108 Christian Indians, the fruits of patient work since this station was established nine years ago; but many Indians on the surrounding reserves still hold aloof, either under the influence of the medicine-men or to retain their polygamous habits.

Hostile influence of Romish priests.

II. Diocese of Moosonee.

Moose Factory, 1851; York, 1854; Albany, 1855; Matawakumma, 1876; Little Whale River, 1877.

Immense journeys in Moosonee.

BISHOP HORDEN and his six clergymen continue to make their immense journeys to compass the work in their various districts. Last summer, Archdeacon Vincent of ALBANY travelled 2000 miles, the Rev. H. Nevitt of Moose, 1500 miles, the Rev. J. Sanders (an Ojibbeway Indian) of Matawakumma, 1800 miles, the Rev. G. S. Winter of York, 1200 miles, the Rev. J. Lofthouse, the new missionary for the Eskimo, 2000 miles; while the Rev. E. J. Peck, the Eskimo missionary at Whale River, had arranged for a journey which he was unable to take, but which would have made his figure 1600 miles. The Bishop himself had less travelling than usual, being engaged at Moose nearly all the time; but it is needless to say that his work has not been less arduous on that account.

Trials at the Hudson's Bay stations.

The Hudson's Bay stations suffered much anxiety during the year from two causes. In the first place the annual ships from England to Moose and York were more than a month late in arriving, owing to the ice, and were given up for lost. Had they not come, great suffering would have been experienced, as these stations depend upon them to a considerable extent for provisions. But it pleased God to try the faith of His people only for a while; and "deep and earnest," writes Mr. Nevitt from Moose, "was the gratitude which went up from the many hearts to our Heavenly Father for His mercy," on Sept. 21st, when the joyful cry was raised, "The ships come!" The two vessels, however, had yet to get out again. The Moose ship was successful, notwithstanding the lateness of the season, and the captain has received high praise for his skill and courage. The York ship, having to put in to Churchill on the way, was frozen up there; and as the available food at that remote post was quite inadequate to supply such an increase in the population, the crew had to march the 250 miles over the snow to York, in order to winter there.

A distressing epidemic.

The other cause of anxiety was the whooping-cough, which, says the Bishop, is a disease far more to be dreaded on the shores of Hudson's Bay than cholera in England. At Moose the schools had to be closed, and the congregations grew smaller and smaller. Almost every family was attacked, and twenty-six persons died. At Albany the disease was still more destructive. Archdeacon Vincent gives a most touching account of the sickness and death of his people; an account, however, which calls for loud thanksgiving to God for His grace manifested in the simple faith of His dying Indian children:—

> Whooping-cough broke out here in July. Just then I left home to visit Osnaburgh, the most distant post in our district; but I was quite ignorant of the nature of the complaint, and thought it was only a severe cold. When I had been travelling for two weeks my own men began whooping, and then I feared for those whom we had left behind; but it was too late to return, and we could only commend them to our loving Father's care.

After an absence of forty-four days we returned home in safety, my men still suffering from the cough. Imagine our surprise to find that our worst fears were more than realized. My people had suffered indeed. Many had already passed away whom we left quite well, and there were others on the brink of the grave. It was very distressing to witness their real sufferings, and to be utterly unable to render them any aid. After my return I was constantly among them, ministering to their wants, reading with them and praying, and directing them to that Saviour who alone could help them.

Faith of sick and dying Indians.

I most thankfully record that, from all I heard and saw, the Saviour was very dear to them, and that faith in His finished work had been their comfort and stay. I was told of one young lad who calmly and quietly prepared for death; he prayed long and earnestly for pardon and peace, and then, as the end approached, he told his friends his work was done and he was prepared to go. Of another I was told that, though his sufferings were great, he did not cease to trust in Jesus, whom he had loved so well. Another poor fellow, whom we all respected, breathed out his soul, repeating the Lord's Prayer. Even the Roman Catholic Indians would have our people pray with them. How faith has triumphed! "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?"

The work of death has gone on until forty-four of our number have been laid low, making a total of forty-eight for the year. Generally our death-rate would be about three, but this year the number is great. This is a dark picture, but it has its bright side; and I rejoice to say that, if from our Church militant some have been taken, they have gone to swell the train of the Church triumphant in heaven.

Reverting to the work of the Mission, the accounts are all encouraging. At the numerous inland posts visited by Archdeacon Vincent, Mr. Nevitt, Mr. Sanders, and Mr. Winter, the Indians without exception showed eagerness in attending the services and classes. Mr. Vincent alone baptized 112 persons, about half of whom seem to have been adults. Of Albany itself he writes, "To my certain knowledge almost all our people have daily the reading of God's Word and prayer in their families." "This," he adds, "does not apply only to those resident with us, but to the Indian whose home is in the wilderness, whose tent is in the forest."

The Rev. E. J. Peck writes that he had not baptized any more of his Eskimo people. He was anxious to test his catechumens further before their formal admission into the Church. But of the general blessing vouchsafed to his work there are many evidences. Only two professional conjurors are left out of ten or twelve; and these are rarely applied to. Still, "one would like," he says, "to see more signs of the Holy Spirit's power amongst the people, and be able to look upon them not as mere nominal Christians, but as those who are sealed and sanctified." Another iron church, provided (like the one at Little Whale River) by the efforts of Miss Agnes Wright, has been received by him, and put up at Fort George for the use of the Indians there. Mr. Peck was proposing to travel this summer right across the great Peninsula of Labrador to Ungava Bay, to visit the Eskimo there, and then back to Moose to take the ship for England.

Meanwhile, the missionary sent out on the Extension Fund for the Eskimo on the opposite (western) side of Hudson's Bay has been preparing for his future work. Mr. Lofthouse spent the winter of 1882-3 with Mr. Peck, to study the language and the habits of the people. In the summer he returned to Moose, and was ordained both deacon and priest by Bishop Horden in July. To reach York from Moose looks easy on the map; but there is no direct communication, and Mr. Lofthouse had to go due south to Lake Superior, thence by steam and rail to Winnipeg, and thence by Lake Winnipeg and Nelson River to York, a journey of nearly three months. He was to pass the winter at York, and then hoped to go on to Churchill, the post fixed upon as his head-quarters. The York station itself has been vigorously and happily worked by the Rev. G. S. Winter.

Real workers in the Moosonee hive.

"Such," writes Bishop Horden, "are the workers in the Moosonee hive. All are real workers: there is not a drone among them, not one that requires the spurs; all seem to understand the text from which I preached one of my ordination sermons, 'I must work the works of Him that sent Me while it is day; the night cometh, when no man can work.'"

III. Diocese of Saskatchewan.

Cumberland, 1840; Stanley, 1850; Asisippi, 1875; Battleford, 1876; Prince Albert, 1879; Fort McLeod, 1880; Blackfoot Crossing, 1883.

Owing to the change of diocesan boundaries already noticed, the Society's stations in this diocese stretch from the Grand Rapids of the Saskatchewan, near the mouth of that river, to the foot of the Rocky Mountains. In reviewing these important Missions, the Committee cannot do better than to reprint, in a condensed form, an account kindly contributed to the C.M. Intelligencer by the Bishop of Saskatchewan himself:—

At the east end of the diocese is a group of stations, Devon, Cumberland, Moose Lake, and Grand Rapids. This group belonged to the Diocese of Rupert's Land till August last, when it was transferred to the Diocese of Saskatchewan. The Society's missionaries have been many years at work in the district, and God has signally prospered their labours among the Indians, who are nearly all Christian. At present the Mission is held temporarily by a venerable Native clergyman, the Rev. James Settee, who has been a faithful missionary of the Society for upwards of fifty years. The post at Cumberland is held by the Rev. R. R. McLennan, a young clergyman educated at St. John's College, Manitoba, who gives promise of being an earnest missionary. Moose Lake and Grand Rapids are in the meantime under the charge of efficient Native catechists. [This eastern district of Devon and Cumberland is about to be placed under the general charge of Archdeacon Mackay, who has been invited by the Committee to move from Prince Albert for that purpose.]

Bishop of Saskatchewan's account of C.M.S. work in his diocese.

About two hundred and fifty miles north of Devon lies Stanley Mission on the English River. There are three stations in this Mission, Lac la Ronge, Stanley, and Pelican Narrows. The Christian Indians number about 500. The ordained missionary in charge is the Rev. John Sinclair, a Cree Indian, trained first at St. John's College, Manitoba, and latterly at Emmanuel College, Saskatchewan. He resides at Stanley, and is assisted by two Native catechists, trained at Emmanuel College. This Native Indian clergyman has discharged his duties most efficiently during the four years Stanley has been under his care; his preaching of the Gospel in the Indian language of the people is most acceptable to them; he presented 94 persons to me for confirmation at my last visitation; and on that occasion 118 communicants came up to the Lord's Table.

An efficient Cree Indian pastor.

The next group of the Society's Missions has Prince Albert for its centre. The Ven. Archdeacon Mackay, the Society's Secretary, resides there, at Emmanuel College, where he acts most efficiently as tutor in Cree. The Society's Native students for the Saskatchewan district are trained at the College, not only in theology and English, but also in the grammar and composition of their own Indian tongue. In this work of training students Archdeacon Mackay has been doing most valuable service to the Society's Missions. He has also translated some devotional works from English into the Cree language, which are very useful among the Indians. In addition to the discharge of these duties he acts as missionary to the Indians on the south branch of the Saskatchewan River.

Training students at Emmanuel College.

The Missions in this district are very interesting from the fact that they embrace many Indians who were born of Christian parents or who have been Christian converts for many years trained at the Society's old and well-known Missions of St. Andrew's and St. Peter's, Red River, under the pastoral charge of Archdeacon Cookran, Archdeacon Cowley, Archdeacon Hunter, Rev. Dr. Gardiner, Dean Grisdale, and Rev. R. Young.

Farther up the Saskatchewan River, and about fifty miles north of it, is the Society's Mission of Asisippi. It was begun about nine years ago by the Rev. John Hines, when the surrounding country was a complete wilderness. Mr. Hines' labours have been signally blessed; many conversions have marked the progress of his ministry. At my last visit he presented about sixty persons for confirmation, and I was satisfied from the replies they gave to my questions that they were well-grounded in the main truths of Christianity. Mr. Hines has been assisted by a Native brother—the Rev. David Stranger—a Cree Indian of sterling piety and good common-sense, who, after doing good service in the Mission as interpreter and servant, was sent by the Society to Emmanuel College, where he was trained for Holy Orders. [Mr. Stranger has lately died.]

Still farther up the north branch of the Saskatchewan River lies the Society's Battleford group of Missions. The Rev. Thomas Clarke has had an arduous work, but he has done it faithfully. I was exceedingly pleased at the care bestowed in the training of the Indian children. It is probably this feature in his Mission work that obtained for him from the Canadian Government the important post of Principal of their Indian Training School at Battleford. Though by accepting this office he is no longer able to act as the Society's missionary at the Reserves, he is still available to help by his counsel in the management of the Mission.

A missionary receiving a government appointment.

We now pass on to the Missions of the Society in the district of Alberta, the western part of the Diocese of Saskatchewan. Here the field is a very large one, but the labourers are few. All the Blackfeet, Piegans, Bloods, and Surcees, and part of the Assiniboines are in this district, but the Society has only two Missions there—one to the Bloods, and one to the Blackfeet.

The Rev. S. Trivett is the missionary to the Blood Indians. They number 3000 on the reservation where he is stationed, about fifteen miles from Fort Macleod. He is vigorous, earnest, and faithful, but he has to deal with Indians who till within the last few years were wild, lawless savages, and who are even now, with few exceptions, heathens. They are making progress in learning to cultivate the ground, that they may be able to earn their bread by honest industry. They listen readily to the Gospel, and Mr. Trivett has been cheered by signs of a spirit of inquiry. Mr. Trivett is assisted by the Rev. H. T. Bourne, who acts both as schoolmaster and missionary. His salary is partly paid by the congregation of St. James's Cathedral, Toronto, who take this way of showing their sympathy with the work of the Church Missionary Society. Mr. Bourne was trained at Emmanuel College, and gives promise of becoming a zealous missionary.

New work among Blackfeet and Blood Indians.

About eighty miles from Fort Macleod the Society has recently opened a Mission to the Blackfeet Indians. It is at the Blackfeet Crossing, where there is a large reservation of 2000 Indians. The missionary is the Rev. J. W. Tims, from Islington College. I visited the Mission shortly after his arrival, and we arranged that he should erect his buildings about twelve miles from the Crossing, where he would be surrounded by 900 of the Indians, all heathens. Mr. Tims has entered upon his Mission in a hopeful, earnest spirit. May God the Holy Ghost be with him and all the other agents of the Society, that so these poor heathen Indians may soon be led to the blessed light of the Gospel of Jesus Christ!

Most of the missionaries mentioned by the Bishop in the foregoing interesting statement have sent their own Annual Letters, all of which breathe a true missionary spirit of thankfulness and hope. It need only be added that the Rev. Isaac J. Taylor has been appointed to Battleford, to succeed Mr. Clarke. Mr. Taylor was trained at Islington, and served as a layman for a short time in Ceylon. After his ordination he was for four years agent of the Bible Society in Japan.

IV. Diocese of Athabasca.

Fort Simpson, 1858; Fort Chipewyan, 1867; Fort McPherson (Tukudh Mission), 1874; Fort Vermillion, 1876; Forts Resolution and Rae, 1881; Dunvegan, 1882.

The Missions in this diocese also can be best described in the words of the Bishop, the energetic and untiring Dr. Bompas. His report is dated July 16th, 1883, and was received on Nov. 17th :—

Bishop Bompas's summary of work.

The Mission stations already occupied are ten in number, and it is hoped to arrange shortly for opening two more, and the number might well be further extended should means allow.

1. Beginning from the south the first station is Dunvegan [on Peace River]. From hence the Rev. J. G. Brick sends a cheering report. He is hard at work completing the mission-house, and hopes to commence church-building very soon. I feel very thankful to have this post occupied by a zealous Christian minister. It is a district likely soon to be taken up by emigrants, as it offers advantages comparable with most of the North-West, and I trust that those who arrive may feel that they are now coming to a Christian rather than to a heathen country.

2. Our next Mission station is Vermillion [on Peace River], where we have three agents, the Rev. A. C. Garrioch, Mr. E. J. Lawrence, schoolmaster, and Mr. Melrose, farmer. Mr. Garrioch is erecting his church, and Mr. Lawrence consolidating his school. The Mission farms are here so successful that the farm-yard has something of the cheering aspect of a civilized country. The Beaver Indians seem to value Mr. Garrioch's instruction and efforts for their benefit.

3. The Fort Chipewyan station, on Athabasca Lake, is held by Rev. W. Reeve. We have here a flourishing school, and the church is also well attended. The construction of a large steamboat has been a subject of interest at this post during the past season.

4. Fort Resolution, Great Slave Lake.—Mr. William Norn, catechist, has been residing here during the past winter, and also Mrs. Bompas [who has since come to England]. Services and school have been kept up. The Indians have visited the station very freely, and a large number of sick have been attended to.

5. Fort Rae.—This post, on the further side of Great Slave Lake, has been occupied during the past winter by Mr. Garton. An officer of the Royal Artillery, with two sergeants and a gunner, engaged in the Circum-Polar Expedition, have wintered at the post, and the soldiers have gladly attended Mr. Garton's services. The Indians have also encouraged him, and asked him to remain with them, promising to place themselves under his teaching.

6. Fort Simpson, Mackenzie River.—Here Rev. W. Spendlove is in charge. He has kept regular services and school, and reports a good attendance of the Indians. Their gambling seems to be given up at the Fort, which is a good sign. Scarcity of provision has prevented Mr. Spendlove from visiting the Indians at their camps so much as usual, but his statement of Mission work around the post is encouraging, and he reports some hopeful deaths.

7. Fort Norman, Mackenzie River.—This station is occupied by Mr. A. Hardisty, catechist, who has been busy completing his church and school. He reports that the Indians are regular and hearty in their attendance at church, and I think he takes pains in their instruction. I only wish I could be more with him myself.

8. Peel River.—This station, occupied by Rev. T. H. Canham since Archdeacon M'Donald's absence, is an interesting one. The Esquimaux seem to have given Mr. Canham a cordial reception on his arrival, and he has endeavoured to master their language with the interpreter. Mr. Canham has also learned to conduct prayers in the Loucheux language. It is very cheering to receive his report that his first winter at his station has been a very happy one. I trust his labours may be blest to the conversion of many souls.

9. La Pierre's House.—This station is visited by Rev. V. C. Sim, and sustained by Native catechists. The converts are very zealous and active in learning to read, and affectionate to their minister. Mission buildings are much wanted.

10. Rampart House.—This is the distant home of the Rev. V. C. Sim, on the borders of Alaska. He writes from his station in good spirits, though in much isolation, and a severe climate; but he esteems it a privilege to labour for Christ among such affectionate and earnest converts.

Bishop Bompas's journeys.

The Bishop then gives a summary of his own immense and continuous journeys, which had covered all the southern districts of his vast diocese. A later letter from him, dated Fort Simpson, Mackenzie River, Sept. 3rd, was received on the 3rd of March. On the previous day he had admitted Mr. J. W. Garton to deacon's orders, and the Rev. W. Spendlove to priest's orders. On the following day he proposed starting for the far north, that is for stations Nos. 7, 8, 9, and 10, in the foregoing statement. This journey would take him to the frontier of Alaska.

Of the always interesting TUKUDH MISSION, which will claim Bishop Bompas's chief attention on this journey, the Committee have had the advantage of hearing personally from Archdeacon McDonald, who arrived in England in weak health in October last. He has since furnished an account of this Mission, from which the following is extracted:—

The Tukudh Mission extends over a vast tract of country partly on the confines of the Arctic circle, from W. long. 132° to 154°, and from lat. 60° to 69°. Fort Macpherson, on the banks of Peel River, is the head-quarters since 1871, and is situate in lat. 67° 10′ and long. 135°. The proper western limit should have been long. 141°, the boundary between the dominion of Canada and the American territory of Alaska. But before this was ascertained, Fort Youcon, situate in long. 144° 10′, had been selected as the head-quarters of missionary operations among the Tukudh Indians on account of its central position, and it was so occupied for about eight years. The number of natives that frequented it was about 500. Besides visiting these at their hunting grounds and those of the trading posts of the Hudson Bay Company as far as Peel River eastward, a distance of about 400 miles, missionary journeys were made westward, a distance of about 450 miles, to Nuklukayit, a general rendezvous of several tribes inhabiting the country of the Youcon and some of its tributaries.

The work of evangelization has been eminently prosperous. The word of truth has been accompanied with divine power, and it has been cordially, gratefully, and thoroughly received. All the Indians of Peel River, Lapierre's House, Rampart House, and Fort Youcon have been christianized; and of those that frequent Nuklukayit more than 400 have been enrolled among the followers of Christ by baptism. The present number of Christians is about 1600; and among them there are many who are earnest and zealous in their endeavours to lead a truly Christian life. Till about nine years ago almost all teaching was imparted orally. Only a few residing at the trading posts were taught to read. Since that period a considerable number have learnt to read in their own tongue the Gospels and other books which have been translated for them, and they have shown great diligence in teaching one another. Success of Tukudh Mission.

Among all the different tribes that have been brought under Christian instruction native leaders [unpaid] have been appointed; and these have done and are doing good service in conducting divine worship and as exhorters. The more advanced leaders have proved useful in preparing other tribes for receiving the Gospel, also in instructing Christian tribes less privileged than their own.

NORTH PACIFIC MISSION.

Over this Mission there still hangs a heavy cloud, caused by the unhappy divisions at Metlakahtla. The action of the party that has seceded from the Society has been such—extending even to preventing by force the C.M.S. Indians from repairing their own houses or fencing their own gardens—that the Provincial Government of British Columbia was obliged to interfere. The Indian Commissioner, Trials at Metlakahtla.

Colonel Powell, went up to Metlakahtla; but he found himself powerless to see justice done without the use of force, and from this he naturally and laudably shrank. The Bishop of Caledonia then determined to take the long journey across the American Continent to Ottawa, and lay the case before the Government of the Dominion of Canada. That Government, of course, takes no notice of religious differences and Church questions; nor would either Bishop Ridley or the Society think of appealing on such matters to "the secular arm;" but the present case is one of personal liberty and of obedience to law, and the Committee consider that the Society's adherents have a right to expect protection. They have heard therefore with satisfaction that the Dominion Government see the necessity of affording this protection; and they earnestly trust that the local Commissioner about to be appointed may be successful in promoting peace and respect for the law.

Having come so far as Ottawa, Bishop Ridley determined to face the double voyage across the Atlantic in mid-winter, in order to inform the Committee of all that had taken place, and to consult with them as to the future. A summary of the information communicated by him was published in the C.M. Intelligencer of March last. The Committee do not at present see the remedy for the difficulties at Metlakahtla. The plan indicated as a possible one in last year's Report, that of assisting the Indians who cleave to the Society and to the Church of England to settle elsewhere, does not seem to be practicable under the regulations of Government regarding Indian reserves. All that can be done is to persevere in what the Bishop is doing, encouraging the Society's adherents, giving them systematic instruction, and providing them (which has not been done before) with the Word of God in their own tongue, and teaching them to read it. He has translated into Tsimshean, and printed, portions of the New Testament and of the Prayer-book; while Mrs. Ridley has most patiently given the people reading lessons.

Work of Bishop Ridley.

During the year the Revs. W. H. Collison and T. Dunn exchanged places, the former moving to Kincolith and the latter to Metlakahtla. The Committee regret much that Mr. Dunn has, on account of Mrs. Dunn's health, been compelled to return to England. The only colleague the Bishop now has at Metlakahtla is Dr. E. A. Praeger, a medical missionary, formerly of the East Africa Mission, who has rejoined the Society, and went out last autumn. The Rev. W. G. Faulconer has come home, and the Rev. A. J. Hall, of Alert Bay, is expected on a visit. On the other hand, the lay agent, Mr. J. B. McCullagh, has been added to the staff.

The outlying stations are now much the most encouraging part of the Society's work on the coast. The Indians at Kincolith, indeed, and other places on the NAAS RIVER, are somewhat disaffected; but the Hydahs of QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S ISLANDS, the finest race on the coast, are firm and faithful; while the Kitiksheans of the interior and the Kwa-gutl of VANCOUVER'S ISLAND, are not so open to adverse influences. The important post of Hazelton, at the Skeena Forks, the centre of the Kitikshean Mission, is vacant owing to the retirement of Mr. Faulconer; but Mrs. Ridley, with self-denying courage, went up and spent last winter there alone. The place is entirely isolated for three or four months in the winter; and she was quite unconscious that her husband had come over to England. Mr. R. E. Woods has established a new station some forty miles off, at Kitwingah. Although at Metlakahtla itself the C.M.S. adherents are a small minority, the Indians under the Society's instruction at the various stations now exceed 2000 in number.

Mrs. Ridley at an isolated outpost.

The Rev. C. Harrison, whose arrival at Massett in QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S ISLANDS was mentioned last year, continues to write very encouraging letters. It is evident that he has gained considerable influence over the Hydahs, and they receive his counsels with marked teachableness, even when he condemns some of the ancient heathen customs which so often last after a people have become nominally Christian. The services and classes held by him and Mrs. Harrison are largely attended, and at Christmas some very happy gatherings took place. Several adults were to be baptized on March 30th, and three candidates were being prepared for confirmation. A leading chief who was baptized by Bishop Ridley two years ago has died. "His loss," Mr. Harrison writes, "is greatly felt, for he was a good and pious man." The Committee regret to hear that Mr. Harrison has been seriously ill through catching a severe cold while travelling.

Progress among the Hydahs.

The Rev. A. J. Hall's letters from Alert Bay, the Kwa-gutl station at the north end of VANCOUVER'S ISLAND, do not report sensible progress. The people are impressionable and fickle, and several young men who seemed very steadfast and hopeful have been drawn back by the enticements of their wives and relations. The work, nevertheless, is not permitted to be without fruit. Two girls have shown plain tokens of a work of grace in their hearts. One of them died during an epidemic of measles and whooping-cough. "She spoke on her death-bed like an adult, and affectionately exhorted her father, uncle, and others to be followers of God." Mr. Hall's translation of St. Matthew's Gospel, printed by the Bible Society, has been received at Alert Bay; and as several of the young people who attend school regularly can now read fairly, the Word of God will have free course, and will assuredly be glorified. St. John's Gospel also has been translated and awaits printing. The Kwa-gutl Mission needs reinforcement, and the Committee hope that when Mr. Hall returns to his post they may be able to send a colleague with him.

Gospels in the Kwa-gutl language.

REPORT OF THE WILLIAM CHARLES JONES INDIA NATIVE CHURCH FUND.

Grants have been made this year to various Indian Native Church Councils as follows:—N.W. Provinces, Rs. 777; the Panjâb, Rs. 500; Madras, Rs. 180; seven Councils of South Tinnevelly, Rs. 3700; two of North Tinnevelly, Rs. 632; two in Travancore, Rs. 400; and three in the Telugu Mission, Rs. 443. The equivalent of this in cash is 556*l.* 0*s.* 9*d.*, nearly the same amount as was granted last year.

NORTH-WEST PROVINCES.

This Council having taken up the outlying villages of Azimgarh as a special field for direct missionary efforts in connection with the fund, a grant was made last year for the first time. In connection with it the Rev. B. Davis, Chairman of the Council, writes:—

We have to thank you for the allowance out of the William Charles Jones Fund for our work at Azimgarh. A catechist has been appointed there on the foundation.

PANJÂB.

The Church Council report of this work:—

During the past year the Amritsar Tehsil has been occupied by our Church Council as a special field for our direct missionary efforts, and our headquarters have been established at Jandiala.

SOUTH TINNEVELLY.

The Right Rev. Bishop Sargent applied for the usual grants for seven of the Councils. The catechists still labour faithfully and with much success. This department of the work was fully reported on last year.

NORTH TINNEVELLY.

The Rev. V. Vedhanayagam, Chairman of the two Councils in North Tinnevelly, furnishes the following statement:—

It is interesting to learn from the reports of the agents that seventy-three souls were led to the flock of Christ last year through the means of the W. C. Jones agents.

One or two Brahmins and some respectable Hindus have purchased New Testaments with a view to search after the truth. Many of them have purchased tracts and read them with pleasure, while others apply for handbills with much eagerness.

I need hardly observe what invaluable help these agents render for the extension of Christ's kingdom in this part of Tinnevelly, and how this extensive field, covering an area of 1400 square miles, is visited and preached to over and over by these and the Church Council agents, and how grateful do we feel to the benefactor for the boon he has thus provided for the promotion of God's Holy Name. Three more catechists are added to the already appointed agents.

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN.

The Rev. K. Koshi, Secretary of the Travancore and Cochin Provincial Council, gives a full and interesting report of the work done by the fund in connection with the Cottayam and Mavelikara District Councils:—

It is an indication of the change that is taking place in the opinion of the heathens in this land respecting Christianity, which has been so long looked upon as a religion to be despised. To touch a Christian book was to the Brahmin a pollution. But such ideas seem to have passed away. The Bible has found its way into the homes of several Numboories (as the highest class of Brahmins are called), and is read by both young and old. Mr. C. K. Pothen, of Cochin, speaks of a Sudra schoolmaster, a Kongini shopkeeper, and a Chogan learned in the Shastras, with two others of the same caste, having received copies of Scripture and other Christian books from him. Mr. P. J. John, the other Cochin reader, says that the seven Hindu masters in the Surkar School at Muttānchery are all in the habit of reading the Bible; that the head master is internally a believer in Christianity, and that he now reads the Pilgrim's Progress. A Kongini Brahmin, whom he often visits, was on one occasion so greatly interested in a religious discussion they had together, that John was detained from 10 a.m. till sunset. This evangelist used to leave handbills in the carriages of the Hindu vakeels (lawyers). He says that the vakeels now stop when they see him approach, and receive with pleasure the tracts or leaflets he puts into their hands.

The high-caste people of Chunganashery still continue favourably inclined to the truth. A Numboory lately bought a Gospel of St. John, a copy of an Exposition of the Book of Proverbs, and another book written especially for Hindus. Tirookudithanum is a village of Chogans. The efforts which the readers had formerly made there, with a view to arouse a spirit of inquiry among those people, had proved ineffectual. But a change for the better seems coming over the place now. Two Chogans were induced last year to purchase a copy, each, of the Gospels. Since then several of the inhabitants appear favourably disposed. They have applied to Mr. O. Mamen for a school, and he has sent them a Christian teacher, who has opened a school, to be supported by the people themselves.

The reports received from the other pastorates testify to the fact that the agents have met with good reception among the heathen.

The Rev. E. V. John speaks of his Jones agent as one possessing an aptitude for preaching to the heathen. At the large annual gathering of the Hindus, held at Ochira, the above agent is reported to have distinguished himself as being more popular and impressive than any of the lay preachers who had assembled there for work during the several days that the festival lasted. Mr. C. M. Itty, the Jones reader of Cottayam, of whom I can speak from personal knowledge, is a person of approved ability, earnest and active in his work.

TELUGU MISSION.

The Rev. H. W. Eales writes as follows (Sept. 11, 1883):—

You will see that I have applied for Rs. 138. This is half the pay of Ellore Joseph, Pendurti Nammazza, and Guzzula Moses. These three men are evangelists, and shall have purely evangelistic work.

There is one other evangelist working under the Council, and paid for by the Council funds, making four in all. Now two-fifths of the pay of these four men is Rs. 129 : 9 : 6. This is far less than the money raised in 1882 for Church and pastoral and evangelistic work by the Council. Rs. 284 : 3 : 3 is the amount actually contributed by the Native Church.

Raghavapuram.—The first application from this Council for a grant from the fund has been received. The application was for Rs. 120 for 1884, and was granted.

For the balance sheet of this fund, see page (261).

REPORT OF THE WILLIAM CHARLES JONES CHINA AND JAPAN NATIVE CHURCH AND MISSION FUND.

The fund was established in 1882 by the munificence of Mr. W. C. Jones, who, being desirous of developing Native Church organization in China and Japan in connection with the Church Missionary Society, transferred to trustees for the purpose of carrying out the objects of the fund the sum of 72,192*l.* 18*s.* 8*d.* in the new Three per Cents., the yearly interest of which was to be devoted to the objects of the fund. These were (1) the training and preparation of Native pastors, catechists and medical missionaries, male and female; (2) the support of Native agency; (3) the internal development of Native Churches; and (4) the promotion of missionary effort on the part of those Churches.

Such a boon was hailed in the China and Japan Missions as a very providential means of carrying on extended work beyond what the limited grant from the general funds of the Society admitted of, and appeals for extension almost immediately began to come in.

The following is a list of the grants already made for various objects:—

Fuh-Kien.

For training medical missionary students at Hok-Ning (object No. 1), annually, $300.
For a Hospital and Medical Training College at Hok-Ning (object No. 1), $2000.
Towards erection of a church at Sioh-Chio (object No. 3), $150.
For special evangelistic work in the pastorate of Ping-Nang (object No. 4), annually, $50,
For building a chapel at Wong-Chong-Yong (object No. 3), $175.
For the same purpose at V-Yong (object No. 3), $175.
For repairs of the church at Ning-Taik (object No. 3), $250.

Chek-Kiang.

For training medical missionary students at the same place (object No. 1), annually, $200.

Hong-Kong and Quang-Tung.

For salary of a Native medical assistant and rent of houses at Hoihow (object No. 2), annually, $500.

For a Training Class for women in Hong-Kong, for teaching females to read by means of the Romanized-Chinese character (object No. 1), annually, $250.

JAPAN.

For rent, repairs, &c., of the same (object No. 1), annually, $450.

For expenses of each student (object No. 1), annually, $50.

For general expenses of the College (object No. 1), annually, $550.

Other applications have also come in from the Mission, which the Committee have under their consideration.

For the balance sheet of the fund see page (262) at end of the Report.

REPORT OF THE WALTER JONES FUND.

GRANTS have been made by the Committee from this fund during the year to various Missions as follows:—To the Niger Mission, 294*l.* 6*s.* 8*d.*; to Palestine, 128*l.*; to North India, 224*l.* 4*s.* 10*d.*; to Panjâb, 150*l.*; to South India, 225*l.*; and to Mauritius, 96*l.* 13*s.* 9*d.*, amounting in all to 1158*l.* 5*s.* 3*d.* No grant has been made to East Africa, the agents hitherto supported from it now falling for support on another fund. Out of the Palestine grant a small sum is for the salary of the schoolmaster at Acca, but the missionary writes that so important a place needs better support, a regular catechist being needed. In North India, grants are made towards the expenses of catechists at Calcutta, Benares, Gorakpur, Azimput, Fyzabad, and Lucknow. In South India the larger part of the grant is spent on the Telugu Mission. For the balance sheet of this fund see page (261).

REPORT OF THE HENRY VENN NATIVE CHURCH FUND.

GRANTS from this Fund have been made during the past year to Native Churches and Native Missionary Societies as

I.—Under the head of Grants to Native Churches it should be stated that the Sierra Leone Native Church is making satisfactory progress towards self-support, and it is hoped ere long it may cease to need a grant from this fund. In making its grant for this year, the Committee of the fund asked the Sierra Leone Native Church Committee to be prepared to explain their special need, if they desire further assistance. The grant from the General Fund of the Society will also be diminished by 50*l.* annually, the Church thus gradually undertaking the task of complete self-support and management. It may not be out of place to quote Bishop Ingham's words on this subject, written on the receipt of the Committee's resolution:—

> I will not fail to press the need of fresh energy and zeal in the churches. It will be a mistake to suppose that there is very much wealth here; the people who have money are very few, and they are called "rich" because "living" with them is cheap and their wants are few. Those who feel the necessity of looking to the future are giving something over and above their usual subscription annually.

The Rev. D. G. Williams writes that the Church has "cheerfully undertaken" their responsibility.

An interesting statement from Bishop Speechly was made to the Committee on the way in which the Henry Venn grant of last year was applied for developing pastoral work among the slave population of Travancore.

II.—The words Native Missionary C.M.S. Association are perhaps not well understood in England, where the words "missionary association" are used in a different sense. Here it is a combined association of friends to raise money for missionary objects in heathen lands; there it is rather a small Missionary Society itself, raising funds indeed, but spending them again on the spot on Native catechists and Missionaries working among the heathen around, under the control of its own Local Committee. To several of these Native associations the Henry Venn Fund contributes its aid, but has no share in directing how that aid is to be expended. In North India the grant is paid to the Native Church Council to aid its work at Gorakpur, Mirat, Agra, Allahabad, Lucknow, and Jabalpur.

For the balance sheet of this fund see page (261).

REPORT OF THE FRANCES RIDLEY HAVERGAL MEMORIAL FUND.

THE objects of this Fund are twofold: (1) the translation and publication of selected works of Frances Ridley Havergal into some of the Indian languages, and (2) the training and employment of Bible-women. During the year the Committee have made grants amounting in all to 89*l.* 12*s.*

Good work has been done during the past year in connection with translations. The Rev. G. B. Durrant writes that the "Royal Commandments" in Urdu, translated by a competent Native Christian, Solomon Nehal Singh, is now ready to send to the printer. "My King," in the same language, has been also translated and printed (independently of the Fund) in the columns of a Native periodical. In March last the Madras Corresponding Committee applied for a grant for translating "Royal Bounty" into Tamil, which is now in progress. "My King," in Malayalim, the language of Travancore, has been printed, and is now in circulation. The Rev. J. Cain, of Dummagudem, writes that the delay in publishing the "Morning Star" in Telugu has been accidental, but that it would be ready in July. "Morning Bells," in the same language, has been translated, and it is hoped will be put into the printer's hands forthwith.

The Committee in January last called the attention of those concerned in the matter to the desirableness of greater speed in the production of translated works. In reply to this, it has been stated that it has been thought best to do the work well once for all, and though there has been apparent delay in some instances, no time has really been lost.

Under the second division the Committee in March last directed that an additional Bible-woman should be placed on the Fund in connection with the Panjâb Village Mission.

The general work at Jandiala, in the Panjâb, is carried on earnestly, and the Native pastor, the Rev. Mian Sadiq, writes very hopefully.

A few remarks may be added as to the work of the Bible-woman at Jabalpur. Mr. Ellwood writes thus:—

> The Frances Ridley Havergal Fund Bible-woman is still carrying on her work satisfactorily. In every case Mrs. Ellwood found the people visited most ready to listen, and in some cases eager to learn. Jane is a woman of experience, and quite a mother in Israel.

For the balance sheet of the fund see page (260).

THE following system for spelling NATIVE NAMES is recommended to the Society's Missionaries generally for adoption in their letters and reports, unless any of them should prefer a still closer approximation to the more elaborate scheme of Professor Lepsius. This system should not be applied, of course, to those well-known places of which the spelling has become so fixed that it would be mere pedantry to disturb it; as, for instance, Travancore (Travankur), and Lucknow (Laknau). Other well-known names, spelt correctly according to this method, are not pronounced accordingly by English residents. For example, the a in Lagos is always pronounced by English residents, when speaking English, as in the word make.

The powers of the vowels are as follows:—

â usually as in '*f*ather' (in North-Indian words as in '*a*ll').
e as in '*p*en.'
ê as in '*f*ête.'
i as in '*th*in.'
î as in '*p*ique.'
o as in '*n*ot,' or as in the French '*b*onne.'
ô as in '*n*ote.'
u as in '*f*ull.'
û as in '*tr*uly.'
ai as i in '*th*ine.'
au or ou or ow as in '*b*ough.'

It needs only to be noticed further that—

y always sounds as in '*y*ou.'		gn as in 'poi*gn*ant.'
g	„ as in '*g*o.'	ng as in 'thi*ng*.'
j	„ as in '*j*oin.'	ei as in '*v*ein.'

h has always a separate sound, except in ch as in '*ch*urch,' and sh as in *sh*e;' th and dh should, therefore, not be used in South Indian names to express the dental t and d.

c whether for k or s, being superfluous, is not used.

Doubled letters should each be pronounced distinctly, as in Italian.

ae represents a sound intermediate between a in '*m*at' and e in '*m*et.'

The above Rules are not adopted in the N.W. America Mission.

Suggested Order of Proceedings at a Meeting Preparatory to the Formation of an Association in Aid of the Church Missionary Society.

1.—Mr. will move, and Mr. will second, a Resolution, "That be requested to take the Chair."

2.—The Chairman will briefly state the object for which the Meeting is assembled, and then call on the Rev. to offer up the usual Prayer to Almighty God, for a blessing on the proceedings of the day.

3.—After Prayer, the Chairman will make such further observations as he may deem necessary, and then call on Mr. to move the first Resolution.

FIRST RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That this Meeting fully recognises the duty incumbent on Christians to employ all suitable means for the propagation of the Gospel throughout the world; and hails, with thankfulness to the Great Head of the Church, the labours of the CHURCH MISSIONARY SOCIETY in its various Stations in Heathen Lands, and among decayed Christian Churches.

SECOND RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That an Association be now formed, and entitled, "The Church Missionary Association;" and that the following be its Officers and Rules:—

PRESIDENT. VICE-PRESIDENTS.

COMMITTEE:
with power to add to their number.

RULES.

I. Annual Members of this Association shall be all persons subscribing annually One Guinea or upward: or if Clergymen, Half a Guinea; and also such persons as shall collect in its behalf One Shilling or upward per week.

II. Life Members shall be Benefactors of Ten Guineas or upward; or if Clergymen, such as shall contribute Congregational Collections to the amount of Twenty Guineas.

III. Annual Governors shall be Subscribers of Five Guineas per annum.

IV. Life Governors shall be Benefactors of Fifty Pounds.

V. Members will be entitled to receive the Annual Reports of the Parent Society, and to vote at its General Meetings. Subscribers of Ten Shillings per annum will receive a copy of the Annual Sermon and Abstract of Report. Collectors of Sixpence and upward per week will receive a copy of each Monthly Number of the "Church Missionary Record;" and Collectors of Two Shillings and upward per week will receive a copy of the Annual Report in addition to the "Record." Governors will be entitled to receive the Reports; and, if Members of the Established Church, to vote at Committee and General Meetings of both the Association and the Parent Society—Clergymen will have the same privilege as Governors. Contributors of 1*d.* a-week and upward will be entitled to receive the Parent Society's "Quarterly Paper."

VI. The objects of this Association shall be, to call forth the zeal of well-disposed persons, and particularly those of the Established Church, in support of the Church Missionary Society—to recommend proper persons who may offer themselves as Missionaries to the Parent Society—to disperse as widely as possible Missionary information—to promote the formation of Branch Associations—and to procure Collections and other Contributions.

VII. The whole of the funds so obtained, after deducting incidental expenses only, shall be remitted to the Church Missionary Society, in aid of its designs.

VIII. A General Meeting shall be held annually, on such day as shall be fixed by the Committee; when a Report of the Proceedings of the Association shall be read, and an account of its receipts and disbursements presented, duly audited.

THIRD RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That the success which, under the Divine Blessing, has attended the Church Missionary Society in its efforts to make known the Gospel of Christ among the Heathen, is a loud and providential call for increased exertions, for devout thanksgiving to Almighty God, and for continual prayer for a more abundant out-pouring of the Holy Spirit to render the means employed successful.

FOURTH RESOLUTION.—Moved by
Seconded by

That the new and enlarged openings for Missionary exertion, in different quarters, demand our best energies to make known the blessed Gospel of Christ to Heathen and Mohammedan Nations.

PROPER FORM OF A BENEFACTION TO THE SOCIETY BY WILL.

No. I.—Form of a Bequest of a Common Legacy.

I give and bequeath to the Treasurer for the time being of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East the sum of Pounds *free of Legacy duty for the general purposes of the said Society to be paid within calendar months next after my death, exclusively out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may be bequeathed for charitable purposes and in priority to all other payments thereout but to be subject to abate proportionably with other Legacies in case my general Personal Estate shall be insufficient for payment of them all in full. And I declare that the receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society [or each of the said Societies] shall be an effectual discharge for the said Legacy [or Legacies respectively].

No. II.—Form of Bequest of the Residue, or a Share of the Residue.

And in order to give full effect to the bequest hereinafter contained for charitable purposes I direct that my Debts, the expenses of my funeral and of the probate and execution of this my Will and the Legacies bequeathed by this my Will or any Codicil thereto† shall be paid out of such part of my Personal Estate as by the Laws in force at my death may not be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the primary Fund‡ and in case only of the same being insufficient for payment thereof then out of such part of my Personal Estate as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes as the ultimate Fund: and subject as aforesaid, I give and bequeath unto the Treasurer for the time being of The Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, for the general purposes of the said Society, such part of my Residuary Personal Estate as by the Laws in force may be bequeathed for charitable purposes [or if a share only of the Residue be intended to be given, then, instead of the words in Italics, say, "such sum of money as shall be equal to one fourth or one half (according to the intention) of my whole Residuary Personal Estate to be paid exclusively out of such part thereof as may be bequeathed for charitable purposes or such less sum as the said last mentioned part of my Personal Estate will extend to pay"]. And I declare that the Receipt of the Treasurer for the time being of the said Society shall be an effectual discharge for the said residue [or sum of money, as the case may be]. And as to the remainder if any of my general Residuary Personal Estate I bequeath the same, &c.§

* If so intended.

‡ If it be intended also to charge the Debts and Legacies on Real Estate, then add, "and in the next place out of my Freehold and Copyhold Estates."

§ The latter Clause to be filled up according to the Testator's wishes, but it must not be for any charitable purpose.

 The first Sixteen Sermons were preached at St. Ann's, Blackfriars; the Twenty-third at Christ Church, Newgate Street the Thirty-first at St. Sepulchre's; the Thirty-second at St. Clement Danes; the Thirty-third at St. Andrew's, Holborn; and the remainder at St. Bride's, Fleet Street.

The Collections at the Sixteenth and subsequent Anniversaries include the sums contributed at the Annual Meetings.

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE COMMITTEE of the Church Missionary Society beg to remind the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations that the Society's financial year ends on the 31st of March.

All Moneys belonging to the year must be received at the Society's House by that date, in order to ensure their being included in the accounts for the year then closing.

As the practice of admitting accounts into the Report on which some portion of the money remained unpaid on 31st March is now discontinued, it will be necessary to their insertion that the amount of each Account be fully paid to the Society by that date. Where this is not the case, the Account will of necessity be returned to have the unpaid portion eliminated from it.

Much labour and expense is saved to the Society by sending in the Lists and Accounts as soon after the money as possible. If not so sent the lists are liable to be excluded from the Report. The date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, and the names of the Local Officers should be specified. Should no names be given it will be assumed that they remain the same as in the previous Report, and the List will be so printed. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. A Form of Account may be had on application at the Society's House.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of that Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

Branch Associations should in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society. If sent direct, the Association or District with which such Branch is connected should be specified.

The Committee would also strongly urge for universal adoption, the practice of making early remittances after the 1st April on account of the year's receipts in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This course would tend to equalize in a greater degree the Income and Expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial year, and save the Society a considerable yearly sum. They are glad to observe that the suggestion has been partially carried out during the present year, but they are desirous of seeing it more generally adopted.
