STATIONS, CLERICAL OR LAY MISSIONARIES, AND NATIVE CLERGYMEN

SUPPORTED EITHER DIRECTLY BY THE SOCIETY, OR BY NATIVE CHURCH FUNDS SUBSIDIZED OR AIDED BY THE SOCIETY.

JUNE 1, 1888.

* A STATION is the place at which a Clerical or Lay Missionary is stationed, or at which Native Christians are located under Native pastoral superintendence in connexion with the Society. The letter (m) means Married.—Wives of Missionaries, &c., though not named, except when engaged in some specific employment, are always expected by the Society to lay themselves out to do good, in every practicable way, among Native Women; such as cultivating familiar intercourse with them, educating children, and instructing the adult women.

The figures after the Names of the European Labourers show the date of their first connexion with the Society's Missions.

This mark * denotes that the Missionary to whose name it is prefixed is in Local Connexion. It includes Europeans who have joined in the Mission, and Clergymen who were born in the country in which they labour.

The mark ‡ denotes that the Name to which it is prefixed is that of an Agent supported by Native Church Funds aided by the Society. The Native Ministers in New Zealand are supported partly by Subscriptions from Native Christians, and partly from the rents of lands belonging to the Society in the Colony.

The Names of Native Clergymen are printed in italics. The figures after their names show the date of ordination.

All the names under one station or department of work are printed in order of date, without reference to nationality, sex, orders, or other difference, except that in the case of Colleges, &c., the Principal stands first.

At the Annual Meeting of the Church Missionary Society, held at Exeter Hall, London, Tuesday, May 1st, 1888, being its Eighty-ninth Anniversary—

SIR JOHN H. KENNAWAY, Bart., M.P., President, in the Chair,

AFTER READING OF SCRIPTURE AND PRAYER;

The Annual Report was read, followed by the CHAIRMAN'S Address, after which, on a Motion by the LORD BISHOP OF ROCHESTER, V.P., seconded by the VERY REV. DR. BUTLER, V.P., Master of Trinity College, Cambridge, it was Resolved—

(I.) That the Report, of which an abstract has now been read, be adopted, and printed under the direction of the Committee; that the thanks of the Meeting be given to the Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of Exeter for his sermon before the Society last evening, and that it be printed and circulated; that Sir T. Fowell Buxton, Bart., be the Treasurer of the Society; and that the Committee be appointed for the ensuing year, with power to fill up vacancies.

The REV. PREBENDARY BILLING then engaged in prayer, after which, on a Motion by SIR RIVERS THOMPSON, K.C.S.I., V.P., seconded by the REV. ROBERT BRUCE, D.D., Missionary from Persia, it was Resolved—

(II.) That this Meeting heartily endorses the action of the Committee in putting forth a special appeal for picked men to work amongst Mohammedans. The claim on England of the great Indian Empire is paramount; and the success vouchsafed in converts made from amongst the Mohammedans of India in the past may be regarded as the hopeful prospect of a rich harvest to be gathered when the Church at home has awakened to its responsibility and put forth efforts in some degree commensurate with the great opportunity. While the difficulties in the way of missionary work in lands under Mohammedan rule may well appear to the eye of sense most formidable, this Meeting is firmly persuaded that so long as the door of access to individual Mohammedans is open, so long it is the clear and bounden duty of the Church of Christ to make use of its opportunities for delivering the Gospel message to them; in full expectation that the Power of the Holy Spirit will in God's good time have a signal manifestation in the triumph of Christianity in those lands.

On a Motion of the BISHOP OF WAIAPU, V.P., seconded by SIR T. FOWELL BUXTON, V.P., and supported by the REV. HORACE MEYER, M.A., Vicar of Christ Church, Clifton, it was Resolved—

(III.) That this Meeting, while thanking God for His protecting care over the members of the recent Special Winter Mission, and over those other friends who have visited India and Ceylon, or have returned from their visits to other mission fields during the past year, sees, in the many evident tokens of spiritual life amongst the native Christians of the various nationalities visited, to which their friends are able to bear thankful testimony, a bright and blessed prospect of a rapid extension of the Kingdom of Christ through the Evangelistic energies of those Christians amongst their own countrymen; and recognizes the need of increased prayerful effort in behalf of the Lord's work amongst the non-Christian communities of the world under a solemn sense of the responsibility which the success of the past and the boundless opportunity of the present places upon it.

At the Evening Meeting, held at Exeter Hall, on the same Day—

THE RIGHT REV. BISHOP OF SODOR AND MAN, V.P., in the Chair,

Addresses were delivered by the Chairman; the Rt. Rev. Bishop Crowther, V.P.; the Rev. J. Bambridge, Missionary from Sindh; the Rev. Dr. Elliott, M.A., Missionary from Gaza; Mr. J. IV. Annual Subscribers of Five Guineas shall be Governors during the continuance of such Subscription; and Benefactors of Fifty Pounds and upward shall be Governors for Life.

V. Members and Governors of Auxiliaries and of Associations who contribute the above sums shall be considered as Members and Governors of the Parent Society.

VI. The COMMITTEE shall have the power of appointing such persons as have rendered essential services to the Society, either Honorary Members for Life, or Honorary Governors for Life.

OF GENERAL MEETINGS.

VII. An Annual Meeting of the Members of the Society shall be held in London, on the First Tuesday in May; unless that day shall fall on the 7th of May, in which case the Annual Meeting shall be held, for that year, on Tuesday the 30th of April; when the Proceedings of the foregoing year shall be reported, the Accounts presented, and a Treasurer and COMMITTEE chosen.

VIII. The COMMITTEE may summon a Special General Meeting of the Members of the Society [at which not less than Thirty shall constitute a Quorum] at any time, and they shall do so on receipt of a requisition in writing, addressed to the Secretaries, and signed by not less than Fifty Members of the Society, and specifying the object of the Meeting. Ten days' notice shall be given in Three public Newspapers, of any such intended Meeting, and of the purpose for which it is called; which shall be deemed sufficient publicity.

IX. None of the Laws and Regulations of the Society shall be repealed or altered, nor any new ones made, but at the Annual Meeting, or at a Special General Meeting called for that purpose.

X. An Anniversary Sermon shall be preached at some Church in London, by a Clergyman appointed by the COMMITTEE. An Annual Report of the Society shall be printed, for the use of its Members.

OF THE COMMITTEE.

XI. The COMMITTEE shall consist of Twenty-four Lay Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland; and of all Clergymen who are Members of the Society and have been so for not less than one year. Of the Twenty-four Lay Members, Eighteen shall be re-appointed each year from the existing COMMITTEE, and Six shall be elected from the General Body of the Society.

XII. The COMMITTEE shall elect, at their First Meeting in every year, either from among themselves, or from the other Members of the Society (being Members of the Established Church of England or of the Church of Ireland), a Committee of Patronage, a Committee of Funds, a Committee of Correspondence, a Committee of Finance, and a Committee of Estimates, and shall have power to fill up vacancies. Each of the said Committees shall keep Minutes of its Proceedings, and shall report the same for confirmation to the COMMITTEE.

XIII. The office of the Committee of Patronage is, to procure patronage and support to the Society; and to nominate to the COMMITTEE, proper persons as Patrons, President, Vice-Presidents, Honorary Life Governors, Honorary Life Members of the Society, and preachers of the Anniversary Sermons.

XIV. The office of the Committee of Funds is, to circulate information respecting the Society; to adopt means of obtaining Subscriptions, Benefactions, and Collections in Churches, Chapels, and at Meetings; to take a general oversight of the Associations; and to nominate, from time to time, to the COMMITTEE, suitable persons to act as Agents and Representatives of the Society for these objects.

XV. The office of the Committee of Correspondence is, to seek for proper Missionaries, to nominate them to the COMMITTEE, to superintend their instruction, to recommend their location, and to correspond with them when sent out, and generally to direct the foreign work of the Society.

XVI. The office of the Committee of Finance is, generally to superintend the accounts and financial affairs of the Society.

XVII. The office of the Committee of Estimates is, to prepare and submit to the COMMITTEE an Estimate of the probable expenditure of the Society, and from time to time to note and to report to the COMMITTEE how far the expenditure corresponds with the sanctioned Estimate.

XVIII. The Committee of Correspondence shall elect from among themselves, at their first Meeting in every year, a Clerical Sub-Committee, for the examination of Missionary Candidates.

XIX. The COMMITTEE shall receive and deal with the Reports of the other Committees, shall decide upon the countries where Missions shall be carried on, and shall superintend and control the affairs of the Society in general.

XX. The COMMITTEE shall have power to appoint such Officers and Assistants as they shall deem necessary for the well-conducting of the affairs of the Society, subject, in the case of the appointment of Secretaries, to the approbation of the next Annual Meeting. One, at least, of the Secretaries shall be a layman. The COMMITTEE shall also have power to acquire, manage, and dispose of property of every description for the purposes of the Society, and to invest the funds of the Society as they may deem expedient, and to vest all or any portion of the property and funds of the Society in such Trustee or Trustees or corporate body as they may in each case think fit.

XXI. The COMMITTEE shall meet on the Second Monday in every Month, and oftener if needful; but should the second Monday be a Bank Holiday the Meeting shall be held on the day following. The other Committees shall meet as often, and at such places, as shall be by them agreed on. All Committee Meetings shall be opened with reading a Form of Prayer composed for that purpose, or one or more suitable Prayers selected from the Liturgy.

XXII. The Patrons, Vice-Patron, President, Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretaries, shall be considered, ex officio, Members of all Committees. Governors, being Members of the Established Church of England, or of the Church of Ireland, shall be entitled to attend and vote at all Meetings of the COMMITTEE.

XXIII. Five Members shall be necessary to form a Quorum of the COMMITTEE; and Three of each of the Committees provided for in Law XII.; in each case exclusive of the Secretaries. In cases of equality of votes, the Chairman shall be entitled to a second or casting vote.

XXIV. All payments on account of the Society shall be signed by Three Members of the COMMITTEE, in Committee, and the Lay Secretary, or in his absence by one of the other Secretaries.

XXV. The Accounts of the Society shall be audited and reported upon by Public Accountants appointed by the COMMITTEE; and Five Honorary Auditors, members of the Society (of whom not more than two shall be members of the COMMITTEE), shall be appointed annually by the COMMITTEE for the purpose of considering the Reports of the Public Accountants, and of making recommendations thereon, and generally on the Accounts to the COMMITTEE once at least in every year.

OF MISSIONARIES.

XXVI. In the selection of Candidates for the Missionary office the following course shall be pursued. The cases of Candidates who are already in Holy Orders, or who are University Graduates, or whom it is proposed to send out without further training, shall be considered by the Committee of Correspondence, the Candidate having (as a rule) appeared in person before them, and a report having been given, after a personal interview, by one or more members of the Clerical Sub-Committee. If any Member of the Committee of Correspondence shall show reason for requiring further information, the consideration shall be deferred till a subsequent Meeting of that Committee. Other Candidates shall be examined by the Clerical Sub-Committee, which shall report to the Committee of Correspondence.

XXVII. A Candidate nominated by the Committee of Correspondence, and accepted by the COMMITTEE, shall receive instruction in such parts of knowledge, and be prepared in such a manner for his future employment, as the Committee of Correspondence shall judge expedient.

XXVIII. Each Candidate shall consider himself engaged to go to any part of the world, and at any time that the COMMITTEE shall decide, and be subject to such Regulations as may be established by the COMMITTEE for the direction of Missionaries: respect, however, being had to his personal circumstances, or to any previous stipulation made by him with the Society.

XXIX. Each Candidate, when duly prepared and finally approved for Missionary work, shall go out, either ordained or unordained, at the discretion of the COMMITTEE.*

XXX. The Missionaries who go out under the direction of this Society shall be allowed to visit home, permission having been previously obtained from the COMMITTEE: and after having laboured in the cause of the Society, to the satisfaction of the COMMITTEE, at the Stations committed to their care, until age or infirmity prevent further exertion, such provision shall be made to render their remaining days comfortable as in the judgment of the COMMITTEE is suitable. The COMMITTEE shall have the power to assist also, in particular cases, the dependent Relatives of those Missionaries, who, by devoting themselves to the service of the Society, are prevented from contributing to their support. The COMMITTEE shall be further empowered in special cases to make such arrangements with those employed by them as they may think fit.

GENERAL.

XXXI. A friendly intercourse shall be maintained with other Protestant Societies engaged in the same benevolent design of propagating the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

XXXII. All questions relating to matters of Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, respecting which a difference shall arise between a Bishop of the Church of England abroad and the COMMITTEE, shall, in the absence of any tribunal having legal cognizance of the same, be referred to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Provinces of Canterbury and York, whose decision thereupon shall be binding upon the Society and its agents and representatives.

The proposed reference shall be made by the COMMITTEE, through His Grace the Primate, accompanied by such explanations and statements as the COMMITTEE may deem advisable.

XXXIII. The object of the preceding Law being only to provide a mode of settling questions relating to Ecclesiastical Order and Discipline, as to which no provision has yet been made by the Society, it is not to be so construed, as in any other respect to alter the principles and practices of the Society, as they are contained in its Laws and Regulations.

XXXIV. It is recommended to every Member of the Society to pray to Almighty God for a blessing upon its designs; under the full conviction, that, unless He "prevent us, in all our doings, with His most gracious favour, and further us with His continual help," we cannot reasonably hope to meet with persons of a proper spirit and qualifications to be Missionaries, or expect their endeavours to be crowned with success.

* The Bishops of the Church of England, under the authority of the law of the land, ordain and send forth [ecclesiastically speaking] the Society's Missionaries; and in the event of their being appointed by the COMMITTEE to labour at stations within the jurisdiction of a Bishop of the Church of England abroad, it is the practice of the Society to apply to the Bishop for licenses, in which are specified the districts to which the Missionaries have been assigned. This is done on the understanding that licenses will neither be refused, nor when granted be withdrawn from the Missionaries during their connexion with the Society, except for some assigned legal cause.

PRAYER USED AT THE ANNUAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETY AND AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE GENERAL COMMITTEE.

ALMIGHTY and most merciful FATHER, we give Thee humble thanks for the light of Thy Gospel. Make us more grateful for this Thy mercy, and more zealous for the salvation of all mankind.

Visit in mercy the Church of Christ; enrich it more abundantly with the grace of Thy Holy Spirit; and bless its endeavours to make known Thy Truth. Unite, as one man, all who are truly labouring for Thee. Disappoint the designs of Satan. Let all Christian Societies live in harmony and love; give them wisdom in all their plans; perfect Thy strength in their weakness; and direct their labours to Thy glory.

The harvest truly is great, but the Labourers are few! O Thou Lord of the Harvest, send forth labourers into Thy Harvest! Fill with Thy Spirit those whom Thou hast sent forth; and enable them faithfully and boldly to preach, among Jews and Gentiles, the unsearchable riches of Christ. Keep them from the snares of the world, the flesh, and the devil; deliver them from all evil; and make them wise to win souls.

Upon all the Native Converts whom Thou hast gathered to Thyself, through Thy labouring servants throughout the world, pour out Thy Holy Spirit, that, as Thou hast begotten them again unto a lively hope, so they may ever be followers of Thee as dear children. Deliver them from all remaining darkness and ignorance; destroy and abolish in their hearts all that remains of Satan's kingdom; grant that their faith, and hope, and love may grow exceedingly; make them to be ready to every good work, and more especially to exert themselves for the salvation of those around them; that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and fruitfulness, they may glorify Thy name before their countrymen, and bring in unto Thee, from the midst of them, such as shall be saved.

Have compassion, O Most-merciful Father, on all those who have come under instruction, though they be not yet altogether Christians. Convince them effectually, by thy Word and Spirit, of their sinful and miserable state; pour upon them the spirit of grace and supplication, and draw them to Jesus.

Take away blindness from the Jews. Let them receive Thee, O Jesus, as their Messiah, and proclaim Thy saving Name among the Gentiles.

Deliver all Mohammedans from the delusions of the False Prophet! O Thou True Prophet of Thy Church, enlighten them by Thy Holy Spirit, and bow them down at the foot of Thy Cross!

Pity blind Idolaters who are kept in cruel bondage by the god of this world. Turn them from idols, that they may serve the Living and True God.

O Thou Almighty Saviour, who by the right hand of God art exalted, and hast received of the Father the promise of the Holy Ghost, shed forth His light and grace on this dark world!

Cause all Christians, we beseech Thee, to sow bountifully; that they may reap also bountifully. O Thou that lovest a cheerful giver, let all grace abound toward them, that they may minister liberally of their substance to the making known of Thy Name!

With these our humble prayers, we join our praises and thanksgivings for what Thou hast already done in making known Thy salvation; perfect Thy work, O Lord; shortly accomplish the number of Thine elect; and hasten the coming of Thy Kingdom.

Be present with us, O Lord, at this time. Give us all a single eye to Thy glory. May Thy blessing rest upon our meeting; and may all our hearts be this day quickened and encouraged to fresh and persevering efforts in Thy Service.

We ask these mercies for the glory of Thy Name, through the merits and mediation of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ; and would ascribe to Father, Son, and Holy Ghost, Three Persons in One God, everlasting praise. Amen.

OUR Father which art in Heaven: Hallowed be Thy Name. Thy kingdom come. Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation; but deliver us from evil: for Thine is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, for ever and ever. Amen.

PRAYER USED AT THE OPENING OF MEETINGS OF THE COMMITTEE OF CORRESPONDENCE.

ALMIGHTY GOD, our heavenly Father, who hast purchased to Thyself an Universal Church, by the precious blood of Thy dear Son, we give Thee hearty thanks that it hath pleased Thee to call us to the knowledge of Thy grace and faith in Thee, and to appoint our lot in an age and country, where the true light shineth. We bless Thee that Thou hast awakened us in some measure to feel our responsibilities. We praise Thee for what we have seen and heard of the power of Thy Word among the heathen; we adore Thee for Thy many servants who have gone out from amongst us to toil, and suffer, and die in making known Thy salvation; and we thank Thee that Thou dost allow us, unworthy sinners, to unite together in this work of faith and labour of love.

We humbly confess our past lukewarmness in this Thy service, notwithstanding these Thine inestimable benefits and mercies. For our Lord Jesus Christ's sake, forgive us our past negligences, and so endue us with Thy Holy Spirit, that we may more earnestly seek Thy glory in the salvation of souls.

Grant us, we beseech Thee, Thy very present help at these our meetings. We ask, most gracious God and Father, for a constraining sense of the love of the Lord Jesus, and for wisdom to direct us in all our endeavours. Increase upon us the spirit of power and of love and of a sound mind. Give us faith and courage; give us zeal and patience; give us a single eye to Thy glory, and help us to bear and to forbear. The silver and the gold are Thine, O King of kings! Supply us with what is needful for our great work, and make us faithful stewards of Thy bounty, for proclaiming to the Gentiles the unsearchable riches of Christ.

We pray also for all who are united with us in the direction of this sacred cause.

May Thine especial blessing rest upon our Committees, with their Secretaries, throughout the world. Bestow on them the help that we feel so needful for ourselves. Enable them to maintain the unity of the Spirit in the bond of peace, and ever to find favour in the sight of all with whom they may have to do.

Especially we beseech Thee to look, O most merciful Father, upon our Missionary brethren. Draw out our hearts towards them more and more; and while they are bearing the burden abroad, give us grace to help and succour them by our sympathy and prayers at home. Bless every letter written to them from this house, and all our intercourse with them. We pray for them that they may be filled with Thy Spirit. Grant that the same mind may be in them which was also in Christ Jesus. Let them never lose their first love. Raise them above the cares of this world. Help them to deny themselves and to endure all things for the elect's sake. Give them the tongue of the learned. Clothe them with humility. Teach them to follow peace with each other, and with all men. Support them under spiritual distresses, temptations of the adversary, bodily sickness, domestic anxieties, and hope deferred. And so confirm Thy word from their lips by the power of the Holy Ghost, that through them multitudes may be turned from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto Thee, our God.

We commend to Thee the Missionaries' children entrusted to our charge. Bring them all to a true knowledge of, and faith in Thee. Defend them with Thy heavenly grace that they may continue Thine for ever, and daily increase in Thy Holy Spirit more and more, until they come into Thy everlasting kingdom. Give all needed grace to those who have the direction of the Home in the discharge of the arduous work with which Thou hast been pleased to entrust them.

We most heartily thank Thee, O Lord, for those whom Thou hast already sent forth through this Society; and we pray for a yet larger outpouring of a Missionary spirit on our younger Clergy, on the members of our Universities, on those who are elsewhere preparing for this holy work, on the young men of all ranks and orders throughout our land. And herein do we implore Thy special favour on our Islington Institution, that its numbers may be replenished continually; and that none may go forth thence but such as shall be able ministers of the New Testament, full of Faith, and of the Holy Ghost.

We praise Thee, O Thou God of all grace, for the Converts, the Native Catechists, and the Native Clergy, whom Thou hast granted to us in our several Missions. As Thou hast raised the Native Churches thus far, bring them, we pray Thee, to full ripeness and perfectness of age in Christ. Pour out upon them Thy Holy Spirit. Stablish, strengthen, settle them, and so enlarge their liberality, that they may both maintain Thy word among themselves, and may make it known to the regions beyond them, till all the Gentiles hear the glad tidings of Thy love.

And now, O Lord God, be Thou in the midst of us to-day. Give us a constant sense of Thy presence, and may all our undertakings be begun, continued, and ended in Thee, to the honour of Thy great name, for the sake of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ. Amen.

PRAYERS FOR MISSIONS,

SUITABLE TO BE USED AT MISSIONARY MEETINGS AND IN PRIVATE.

I.—From the Book of Common Prayer according to the use of the Church of Ireland.

Almighty God, who by Thy Son Jesus Christ didst give commandment to the apostles that they should go into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature; grant to us whom Thou hast called into Thy Church a ready will to obey Thy Word, and fill us with a hearty desire to make Thy way known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations. Look with compassion upon the heathen that have not known Thee, and on the multitudes that are scattered as sheep having no shepherd. O heavenly Father, Lord of the harvest, have respect, we beseech Thee, to our prayers, and send forth labourers into Thy harvest. Fit and prepare them by Thy grace for the work of the ministry; give them the spirit of power, and of love, and of a sound mind; strengthen them to endure hardness; and grant that Thy Holy Spirit may prosper their work, and that by their life and doctrine they may set forth Thy glory and set forward the salvation of all men; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

II.—For a Blessing on Missionaries and their Labours.

(By Archbishop Sumner.)

O most merciful Saviour and Redeemer, who wouldest not that any should perish, but that all men should be saved and come to the knowledge of the truth, fulfil Thy gracious promise to be present with those who are gone forth in Thy Name to preach the Gospel of Salvation in distant lands. Be with them in all perils by land or by water, in sickness and distress, in weariness and painfulness, in disappointment and persecution. Bless them, we beseech Thee, with Thy continual favour, and send Thy Holy Spirit to guide them into all truth. O Lord, let Thy ministers be clothed with righteousness, and grant that Thy word spoken by their mouths may never be spoken in vain. Endue them with power from on high, and so prosper Thy work in their hands, that the fulness of the Gentiles may be gathered in, and all Israel be saved.

Hear us, O Lord, for Thy mercy's sake, and grant that all who are saved by Thy Name may be one in Thee, and may abound more and more in prayers and in free-will offerings, for the extension of Thy kingdom throughout the world, to Thy honour and glory, who livest and reignest with the Father and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end. Amen.

III.—For Missions, and for Grace to help them.

(By Bishop Christopher Wordsworth.)

O Lord Jesu Christ, Saviour of Mankind, who hast commanded Thy disciples to go into all the world and to preach the Gospel to every creature, and who hast declared that this Gospel of the Kingdom shall first be preached to all nations, and that then the end shall come; we humbly beseech Thee to raise up men full of faith and of the Holy Ghost, and send them forth to do the work of evangelists by spreading abroad the glad tidings of salvation; and so to fill us with Thy love, and to quicken us with Thy grace, that we may labour joyfully with them by prayers and offerings for their work, so that finally at Thy Second Coming to judge the world, we together with them, and with those who have received the Gospel at their hands, may rejoice in Thy presence with exceeding joy, and may praise Thee for evermore, our holy and most merciful Redeemer, our most worthy Judge Eternal, our most mighty Lord and God, to whom, with the Father and the Holy Ghost, be all honour and glory now and for ever. Amen.

IV.

(By Bishop Cotton, of Calcutta.)

O God, who hast made of one blood all nations of men to dwell upon the face of the whole earth, and who didst send Thy blessed Son to preach peace to them that are afar off, and to them that are nigh, grant that all the people of heathen and Mohammedan lands may feel after Thee and find Thee; and hasten, O Lord, the fulfilment of Thy promise, to pour out Thy spirit upon all flesh, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

THE ANNUAL SERMON,

Preached at St. Bride's Church, Fleet Street, on Monday Evening, April 30, 1888,

BY THE

RT. REV. EDWARD HENRY BICKERSTETH, D.D.,
LORD BISHOP OF EXETER.

"THE GLORIOUS GOSPEL [or, as more strictly rendered in the Revised Version, "THE GOSPEL OF THE GLORY,"] OF THE BLESSED GOD, WHICH WAS COMMITTED TO MY TRUST."—1 Tim. i. 11.

"τὸ εὐαγγέλιον τῆς δόξης τοῦ μακαρίου Θεοῦ, ὃ ἐπιστεύθην ἐγώ."

THERE were those in Ephesus who contended that the freedom of the Gospel released them from the obligations of the moral law. St. Paul, who was called to Europe, besought Timothy to abide still in Asia Minor, and convince them that the very design of the Gospel was charity out of a pure heart, and a good conscience and faith unfeigned. So far from the moral law being abolished by the gospel of our salvation, every claim of holiness, on which that law insists, is, the Apostle argues, in truest harmony and accordance with "the Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God, which," in deepest gratitude and reverence he adds, "was committed to my trust."

Three great verities are brought before us in these words. (1) The Blessed God. (2) The Gospel of His glory. (3) The committal of this Gospel to human Stewardship. Oh, that the Holy Spirit may breathe on my heart and yours, while we ponder together truths which so deeply concern our walk with God, and our work for God!

1. And first this remarkable name of the Triune Jehovah, Whose we are and Whom we serve, the Blessed God, demands our thoughtful and prayerful meditation.

The word (μακάριος) rendered "Blessed" does not primarily signify here One who receives praise and blessing, but bears its ordinary meaning of happy, felicitous, blissful. The reception of praise and adoration must, we may humbly conceive, form part of the blessedness of God, and, speaking after the manner of men, may be said to increase that blessedness. But the term in itself simply signifies happy. This appears from its use elsewhere in the New Testament. It occurs fifty times; but here only, and in the 15th verse of the sixth chapter of this epistle, where we read of the Blessed and Only Potentate, is the word used of God. In all the other forty-eight instances it describes the blessed or happy man, as in the nine beatitudes of the Sermon on the Mount, or in the seven beatitudes of the Book of Revelation. This usage suffices to establish its meaning here. The Blessed God signifies God Who enjoys supreme felicity and infinite delight.

Lift up your hearts, my brethren; yes, lift them up unto the Lord! Above the smoke and stir, above the clouds and conflicts, above the sighs and sobbings of this sinful world, God Himself abides in unutterable felicity. He is the supremely Blessed One, as well as the eternal and overflowing well-spring of the blessedness of His servants.

We cannot, indeed, grasp, or even gaze upon this full-orbed glory of the joy of God. It dazzles us. It is the light that no man can approach unto. But we may reverently ponder it fragment by fragment, we may humbly trace a broken reflection of it in ourselves; and then, for we are made in the image and after the likeness of God, we must confess it has the witness in itself; it is self-evidencing; yea, it is a Divine necessity.

For example, one of the most universally admitted axioms is that life is joy. We see this even in plants and animals. The fields rejoice, the forests clap their hands, the valleys stand so thick with corn that they laugh and sing. The fishes of the sea, the birds of the air, the beasts of the earth exult in the gift of life. And when we rise to the intelligent creation, the clinging love of life proves its blessedness. "Dear life" is a household word. Now is it so with us? With God is the fountain of life. He is the living God. He only has an underived immortality, life in Himself from everlasting to everlasting. Is human life joy? What must the very existence of Divine life be in the Triune God? Comprehend we cannot, but confess we must the infinite felicity of the living God.

Again, the possession and exercise of power when used aright is real joy. This is akin to life, but it is not to be confused with it. A man may live, and yet remain for a while in a state of profound and apparently motionless repose. But the exertion of power possessed is the natural function of life; and when power is employed in works of wisdom and of goodness, it is, it must be a gratification to the worker in proportion to the magnitude and excellence of the work. Now God is El-Shaddai, the Almighty God. Is anything too hard for the Lord? He speaks, and it is done: He commands, and it stands fast. And the Divine satisfaction is expressed in the retrospect of the six days' creation. "God saw every thing that He had made, and behold it was very good." The same law of the Creator's delight in His works must obtain throughout that boundless universe which He has called into being, a delight enshrined in the song of the heavenly elders. "Thou hast created all things, and for Thy pleasure they are and were created." What an insight this thought alone gives us into the boundless felicity of the Architect and Builder of all things!

So likewise holiness is joy. Goodness in itself is gladness. In his humble degree man experiences this. The saintly wayfarer finds the paths of wisdom to be pleasantness and peace. For holiness is an inner spiritual harmony, in which all the faculties of the soul find rest and delight. But is it so with man made in the image of God? What must it be in the bosom of Deity? Surely as we kneel with the adoring seraphim and cry, "Holy, Holy, Holy, is the Lord of hosts," a voice within us makes response, He is blessed for evermore.

Then need I say that love is joy? When, after his hard day's work of body or of brain, the father returns to his home, and his wife greets him with her smile, and his little child runs to him and nestles in his arms, and clasps his neck and calls him "Father," and he looks down on that little one and says, "My child," is it not an overflowing recompense for all his toil? Are not all our choicest treasures in love? Of all the gifts for which we thank God, is not this the crown, the power of loving and of being loved? As that profound thinker Tauler said more than 500 years ago, "The measure by which we shall be measured is the faculty of love in the soul, the will of a man, by this shall all his life and works be measured." We ought to love God and man up to the very farthest limit of our finite being. But God is infinite, and God is love. The Father loveth the Son. The Son abides in the Father's love. The Spirit of love searches the depths of God. Nor is this all: God loves the world, His tender mercies are over all His works, and of His Church we read in that fathomless utterance of Zephaniah, "The Lord thy God in the midst of thee is mighty; He will save; He will rejoice over thee with joy; He will rest in His love; He will joy over thee with singing." No words could express more felicity: it is the felicity of the Blessed God.

I might add, there is a joy all its own, if you are one in whom others repose confidence. When in trouble or in prosperity a friend instinctively comes to you saying, "I know I can trust you: your sympathy never fails me," is not this a pure and genuine delight? Ah, brethren, what must it be with God for the whole family in heaven and earth to put their trust under the shadow of His wings and to feel safe under His feathers? It is the prerogative of the Blessed God.

One thing more I would name. There is joy for a good man, who is serving his generation by the will of God, in recalling the past with all its mercies, in grasping the present with all its responsibilities, in anticipating the future with all its hopes, even as a traveller delights in looking round from the ridge he has won on the plains and valleys beneath his feet. Now God is the High and Lofty One Who inhabiteth eternity. He sees the end from the beginning. It is true that evil has now broken loose in His beautiful creation; but He sees the ultimate triumph of good:

> No eye but His might ever bear
> To gaze all down that drear abyss,
> Because none ever saw so clear
> The shore beyond of endless bliss.

If thoughts past utterance filled the Apostle's heart when he exclaimed, "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are His judgments, and His ways past finding out! for of Him and through Him and to Him are all things, to Whom be glory for ever, Amen,"—must not the contemplation of His own universal and everlasting kingdom bring infinite delight and satisfaction to Him, Who is working all things after the counsel of His own will?

These few fragmentary thoughts on the essential joy of life, and power, and goodness, and love, and sympathy, and hope,—thoughts which you will easily multiply and expand and combine, may suffice to assure us that in the perfections of His own nature, God is immeasurably and unutterably blessed. Nor let us deem these thoughts alien from the great object which draws us together to-night. We are in the stress of the great missionary conflict. But the camp of the Israel of God is overshadowed with the pillar of fire and of cloud. The Lord of hosts is with us, and the joy of the Lord is our strength.

2. Let us pass on, then, to meditate for a few minutes on the Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God. The Apostle speaks not only of the Gospel of the Blessed God:—it would have been much, very much, for fallen man, if the Most High, though Himself veiled in impenetrable clouds of darkness, had vouchsafed to reveal, even though the channel of mercy had been unrevealed, that there was forgiveness with Him that He might be feared:—but the Apostle speaks of the Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God. This is more, far more. Glory is the manifestation of excellence. We may take this as a safe key for interpreting the word "glory" in the Scriptures.

So, for example, the tongue is called by the Psalmist, his glory. "Awake up, my glory, awake psaltery and harp. I will sing and give praise with my glory," because the tongue is the organ of the audible manifestation of thought. Thus there is only a partial truth in the far-famed saying, "Speech is silvern, silence is golden: speech is human, silence is Divine." Silence confessedly is sometimes noble, but speech not seldom is nobler still. Silence may edify self; but speech edifies others also. May I venture with devout reverence to adduce the sublimest evidence of this: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God: and the Word was made flesh, and dwelt among us, and we beheld His glory"?

Glory, I repeat, is the manifestation of excellence. Now the felicity of the most High God being, as we have seen, so exceeding great, this excellent joy must needs overflow. We see it in the firmament of His power; the heavens declare the glory of God. We see it in the earth below: the earth is full of the goodness of the Lord. Nor do we marvel that when He created the heavens and the earth, the morning stars sang together and all the sons of God shouted for joy. Brief, indeed, was that cloudless dawn of the history of man. Sin entered into the world, and death by sin. The land was, as the Garden of Eden before them and behind them, a desolate wilderness. And now a thick cloud was drawn between the creature and his grieved and offended Creator. But should darkness conquer light? Should hell baffle heaven? Should the wiles of the devil thwart the designs of God?

Nay, we quietly read over to ourselves, weighing every syllable, for the destiny of the creation is wrapped up in them, the words of the beloved disciple who had drunk the deepest into the spirit of his Master: "For this purpose the Son of God was manifested, that He might destroy the works of the devil." "In this was manifested the love of God toward us, because that God sent His only begotten Son into the world, that we might live through Him. Herein is love, not that we loved God, but that He loved us, and sent His Son to be the propitiation for our sins" (1 John iii. 8 : iv. 9, 10). We only add the words of the Lord Jesus Himself, "I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that He may abide with you for ever" (John xiv. 16). And the Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God is unveiled before us in its large and luminous outlines.

It is the victory of Divine goodness. Here mercy and truth meet together: here righteousness and peace kiss each other. All the resources of a wisdom which is never at fault, all the energies of a power which knows no limit, all the outgoings of a love which the needs of the Universe cannot exhaust, are here manifested and displayed. The Eternal Father willed this Gospel, though it must needs be sealed with the sufferings even unto death of His own and only Son; the Eternal Son by His incarnation, and spotless life, and patient ministry, and atoning sacrifice, and resurrection and ascension and all-prevalent intercession, has fulfilled on earth and is fulfilling in the heavenlies the will of His Father and our Father, His God and ours; the Eternal Spirit is brooding over the hearts of the children of men, as He brooded over the waters at the creation, and is fashioning the bride of Christ for her everlasting communion with her Lord. God in Christ, Who is the effulgence of the Father's glory and the express image of His substance, reconciles the world unto Himself. For it pleased the Father that in Him should all fulness dwell, and having made peace by the blood of His cross through Him, to reconcile all things to Himself. The Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God, of which our text speaks, is the word of reconciliation.

Once grasp the exceeding preciousness and perfectness of this salvation of God, and you will not wonder that St. Paul elsewhere writes, "Though we or an angel from heaven preach any other Gospel unto you than that which we have preached unto you, let him be accursed" (Gal. i. 8). And if any, whatever their claim to learning or authority, would cast doubt on the living oracles of God, or would question the love of the One Father of us all, or by introducing human mediators, whether living or dead, would weave again that veil betwixt us and the alone mediation of our Great High Priest, which was rent from the top to the bottom when Jesus died upon the cross, or would explain away the necessity of the personal regeneration and renewal of the soul by God the Holy Ghost, or would deny the everlasting issues of the final judgment,—may we never give place to them by subjection, no, not for an hour, that the truth of the Gospel may continue with us. We cannot yield a hair's breadth to those who would tamper with these Catholic verities. Nor can we, as Churchmen, whose faith has been nurtured by a reverential use of our Liturgy and fortified by the massive doctrines of our Thirty-nine Articles, cease to affirm that "the three creeds ought thoroughly to be received and believed, for they may be proved by most certain warrants of holy Scripture;" that "Christ has ordained two Sacraments as generally necessary to salvation, Baptism and the Supper of the Lord;" and that "from the Apostles' time there have been these orders of Ministers in Christ's Church, Bishops, Priests, and Deacons." Nor, as the children of the blessed Reformation, can we cease to protest against the corruptions of the Church of Rome, from the thraldom of which God in His infinite mercy delivered our forefathers. These matters of doctrine and of discipline, in our judgment, appertain to the completeness and purity of the Gospel which has been committed to us. And, as trustees, we cannot ourselves alienate any part of it without breach of trust.

This is true. But at the same time let us remember that the Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God is too majestical a thing to be loaded with chains forged on any human anvil. It spurns the littlenesses of partisanship. It refuses to be bound to frame the shibboleths of any one school of thought within the wide limits of our beloved Church:

> For the love of God is broader
> Than the measures of man's mind.

Nay, this Gospel has vivified and is vivifying, has fructified and is fructifying, many other Churches of Christendom beyond our own. It is the gift of God to man. It is heaven-born and free as the air we breathe. Their sin, who would narrow it, is only less than theirs who would deprave it.

But seeing the Gospel is so unspeakably needful for all men in its purity and perfection, are we tempted to say, Would that angels rather than men were its ambassadors! Would that the Apocalyptic vision were literally fulfilled of an angel flying in the midst of heaven who had the everlasting Gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth and to every nation and kindred and tongue and people! (Rev. xiv. 6.) Then no limits of hostile barriers, of caste or clime, of race or language, could exclude the embassy of the King of kings. Then no human jarrings would ever mingle with the heavenly proclamation. Then all men must perforce listen and believe. What other answer can we make to ourselves than that God's thoughts are not our thoughts, nor His ways our ways? How often are we constrained to say with the Psalmist of old, "Thy way is in the sea, and Thy path in the great waters, and Thy footsteps are not known." And this brings us to the third and last great truth affirmed in our text—

3. The committal of this Gospel to human stewardship. The Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God, says St. Paul, was committed to my trust. Nothing moved the Apostle more deeply than this. Whenever he alludes to it, it seems to bring him to the very dust. It is in connection with this he speaks of himself as the least of the Apostles; and a few years later, with deepening humility, as less than the least of all saints; and later still, not long before he finished his course, as the chief of sinners. He was with those to whom he ministered this Gospel in weakness and in fear and in much trembling, —not from fear of man, not from any doubt of the certainty of the message, not from any questioning of the power of God. But the overwhelming thought, "We are ambassadors for Christ, as though God did beseech you by us: we pray you in Christ's stead, be ye reconciled to God," compelled him to ask, Who is sufficient for these things? The priceless treasure was in an earthen vessel; but why? only that the excellency of the power might be of God.

You admit this in the great Apostle of the Gentiles. But you say, he was a chosen vessel unlike every other. You admire, and justly, his manifold education for the work he was called to fulfil. You point to the fact that he was an Hebrew of the Hebrews, and yet a Roman citizen of Tarsus, to the culture of his learning, to the religiousness of his Pharisaic youth, to the fiery zeal of his manhood, and, when it pleased God to reveal His Son in him, to the overmastering love of Christ, which made him count all things but loss for the excellency of the knowledge of Christ Jesus his Lord if only he might finish his course with joy. Then you urge that St. Paul was clothed, like Israel's warriors of old, with the Spirit of the living God. And lastly you remind us that the legions of Rome had prepared a highway for the Gospel into almost every land, and that the weary world was unconsciously craving for that wonderful ambassador of the Cross.

All this is true. But is it too much to say that England, and pre-eminently England's Church, have been trained by God for a like embassy, an embassy of the same promise and of the same hopefulness, in these last days?

How marvellous has been God's education of the Church of our fathers; the early planting of the Gospel among us from apostolic days; then, lessons learned under the iron bondage of Rome, which perhaps nothing else could have so deeply graven on our hearts, hunger for freedom, thirst for light, a craving for the pure word of God; then, after the long winter, the fresh springtide of the Reformation; then, amid sultry calm and wildering storms, the consecration of noble intellectual powers to the defence and furtherance of the Gospel; and then, coming nearer to our own times, the revival of Evangelical life, followed by the renaissance of Church order; and now year by year the closer intermingling of these two great streams of thought, so that Evangelical life has largely indoctrinated the lovers of Church order, and the love of Church order has directed into the best channels the zeal of Evangelical life. We ponder these things and ask ourselves, Has not God, Who trained the Apostle of the Gentiles in the first century, been training the Church of the imperial Anglo-Saxon race for His missionary work among the heathen in these last days? St. Paul was clothed with the Holy Spirit; but the Master's promise holds true now as at the first Pentecost after His resurrection, "I will pray the Father, and He shall give you another Comforter, that He may abide with you for ever." Faith has grasped and is grasping the promise. In St. Paul's days the civilized world had been laid open to the messengers of the Gospel by the victorious armies of Rome. But the empire of England is vaster than that of Augustus. Our mother tongue is known in regions where Latin in the times of the Cæsars was never heard. Our far-reaching Colonial Empire gives us the power of preaching Christ to two hundred and fifty millions of the heathen under the protection of the British flag. And our mercantile ascendancy, which is now so great that more than one-half of the freightage of the whole world is carried in British vessels, gives us access at least, and often far more than bare access, to almost all other lands. Is it, then, presumptuous to say that the Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God has been committed to our trust as a nation? We make no exclusive claim to this lofty privilege. We rejoice in the missionary labours of other Churches and of other lands. Especially we bless God for the Protestant missions of America, that great nation to which we are bound by countless ties of kinship and sympathy. Nor would we forget that the reversion of the missionary inheritance belongs to Israel, when the prayer of the Jewish Psalmist shall be fulfilled: "God be merciful unto us, and bless us, and make His face to shine upon us, that Thy way may be known upon earth, Thy saving health among all nations." But although there were many apostles in the early Church, St. Paul was pre-eminently the Apostle of the Gentiles. Has not his mantle now fallen upon England?

It has been the first and foremost glory of the Gospel Propagation Society that for nearly two hundred years it has sought to make spiritual provision for the emigrant sons and daughters of England, and now is seeking through them to reach the heathen. For these colonists are, we cannot doubt, the ancestors of great and mighty nations yet unborn, and on us at home, speaking after the manner of men, it largely depends what the faith of those nations shall be, and what their influence upon the heathen among whom they dwell. Which of us does not pray, God bless that venerable Society, and its younger sister, the Colonial and Continental Church Society, in their noble work? May the merciful kindness of the Lord be ever more and more towards them; and may they prove the truth of the Lord endureth for ever in the fulfilment of that double benediction which rested on the father of the faithful, "I will bless thee, and thou shalt be a blessing."

But from among and from beyond our Colonial dependencies the cry of heathen and Mohammedan lands, sometimes an inarticulate cry of anguish and unrest, sometimes a cry of distincter entreaty, "Come over and help us," is borne to our ears by every wind that blows. Our beloved Church Missionary Society has heard the cry, and assuredly gathering that the Lord has called us to preach the Gospel unto them, has striven for almost four-score years and ten, as God has opened one door after another, to send forth faithful evangelists and pastors and teachers. The selection of Mission fields in which to labour, in itself a vast responsibility, has been made on no cast-iron system. But this very absence of system, when God has sealed the labours of His servants with success—so like the spread of the Gospel in Apostolic times—is, I think, no uncertain indication that God has led us.

And surely He Who trained St. Paul for his work has trained the labourers of this Society at home and abroad We have St. Paul's wonderful conversion in remembrance; and "spiritual men for spiritual work" has passed into a watchword among us. St. Paul's commission from the lips of Christ Himself, "I send thee unto the Gentiles, to open their eyes and to turn them from darkness to light, and from the power of Satan unto God, that they may receive forgiveness of sins and inheritance among them that are sanctified by faith in Me," is, we humbly believe, our commission from the same Lord. We study with admiration the prayers of St. Paul, so truthful and trustful, so comprehensive and yet so personal, such breathings after God, and such yearnings for the salvation of men; and yet I venture to affirm that those who know the inner working of our Society, as I have known it from having been a listener and learner in its committee-room week after week for so many years, will bear witness with me that it labours on, praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit. In every controversy the question with St. Paul was, "What saith the Scripture?" and the Bible has always been the supreme rule of faith and practice to which we have clung. St. Paul gloried only in the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, and our missionaries have known nothing among men but Jesus Christ and Him crucified. St. Paul was a vigilant pastor, as when at Ephesus for three years he ceased not to warn every one, night and day, with tears; and there are pastorates in our missionary fields, many of them now under Native clergymen, which would vie with the most favoured parishes of England. St. Paul, though free from all men, yet made himself servant unto all that he might gain the more, and a Society which has adapted itself to the haughty Moslem, and the cultured Brahmin, and the simple aborigines of India, and the born-warrior Afghan, and the refined Persian, and the patient Chinese, and the broad-minded peoples of Japan, and the hot-hearted children of Africa, and the generous New Zealanders, and the thoughtful pensive tribes of North-West America, a Society which has done this and won souls for Christ in every field of labour, may take up the Apostle's words and say, "I am made all things to all men, that I might by all means save some." But St. Paul also suffered with Christ here, not only from that thorn in the flesh ever with him a messenger of Satan to buffet him, but also from those hardships and toils and persecutions he endured for Christ's sake and the Gospel's; and I believe that eternity only will reveal all the sanctified endurances of our missionary brothers and sisters in the Lord. And St. Paul at last sealed his testimony with his blood. He counted not his life dear unto him so that he might finish his course with joy: this too has not been wanting: for long years the coast of Africa was known as the white man's grave, but the soldiers of the cross never failed, others pressed forward,

> Each standing where his comrade stood
> The moment that he fell.

When Bishop Hannington was martyred, many at once came forward to volunteer for work in the foreign field. And the martyrdom of the Christian boys in Uganda, tortured, speared, slain with the sword, burnt alive some thirty-two of them on one huge pyre, is worthy to be recorded with the most heroic deeds of primitive Christianity.

In looking back upon our missionary annals for ninety years, we would not claim for our brethren immunity from human weaknesses and failures of faith,—they would always have been the first to repudiate any such claim,—but we can, we must, we do thank God for His grace in them. He has chosen the weak things of the world to confound the mighty, and things which are not to bring to nought things which are. The story of the cross in the lips of His messengers has been the power of God and the wisdom of God to the salvation of countless souls.

The harvest indeed is plenteous, but the labourers are few. "Never since the foundation of Christianity," our Society says to us in appeals both for men and means just issued, "never have there been such boundless fields of labour open to the missionary, or such urgent calls both from the labourers and from non-Christians for men and women to enter on the glorious work of evangelization as now." And then in a few urgent words mention is made of nine missionaries wanted for Eastern Equatorial Africa, and of others for Lagos and Frere Town and the Niger, and of others for Peshawur, Benares, Lucknow, Agra, Calcutta, for the Bheel and Gond Missions, for Mid-China and Japan. Of Japan, my son lately wrote to the Church of England Zenana Society:—

"The standard and character of the Christianity of the future in Japan will largely depend on what it may be possible for foreign missionaries to accomplish in the years that are upon us. Time is an element with which Missions have naturally to reckon, but here for a far different reason to those which hold good in other lands. We are not here to save tribes from being stamped out by the advance of the white men, or anticipate the proselytism of Islam, but we have to guard against the pressing danger that as converts multiply the religion of the future should be, as it were, a thin veneer of Christianity hiding but not redeeming heathen thought and character. The only possible way to avoid this peril is to have an adequate staff of English workers to train the earlier inquirers, catechumens, and converts. We shall then have done our part, and I believe they may be trusted to hand on what they will have learned."

Now the appeal for men proceeds to ask in words which God grant may find an echo in some hearts to-night, "Will not clergymen still young, or in life's prime, respond to the appeal, and leave their parishes and curacies to be occupied by some who cannot themselves go forth? Especially will not some covet the honour of bearing the standard of the Cross into climates, it may be, involving physical danger, but the unhealthiness of which is no bar to the merchant or traveller or Government servant?" Has not the time arrived when the question for honest solution under the guidance of the Holy Spirit is, "What paramount duty ties me to England when the Lord's work among peoples who sit in darkness and the shadow of death calls with trumpet voice for the consecrated labours of men and women who can tell out of hearts welling over with the gratitude of experience, of the joy and peace and power which arise from an abiding union with the risen reigning Redeemer?"

Such is the appeal for missionaries. And the appeal for funds, even with its last corrections, tells us that the ordinary income to the close of our financial year on March 31st last shows a diminution of 12,000*l.* as compared with the previous year. This diminution is due to smaller legacies; and the Special and Extension Funds have received very large gifts. Still we have to face the fact: the income is 12,000*l.* less. The income has fallen off, but thank God the work has not. During the last ten years the number of European labourers has increased from 254 to 330, and of Native clergy from 177 to 255. So that the Committee dare not refuse to accept suitable candidates who offer themselves for the Mission field, even though the resources of the Society are strained to the utmost.

Here is an appeal for reinforcements from the front ranks to us their fellow-soldiers in the army of the living God. What will be our response? Surely the Church of England must give both men and means on a totally different scale to that on which she has yet given for the work of Missions. Is it said we want them both for the ministry of the Gospel within our own borders? Sure I am that the truest way to invigorate and consolidate the Church at home would be for the love of Christ to thrust forth one-tenth of her clergy into the Mission-field, and to constrain us to consecrate, if need be, one-tenth of our resources to their support. There would be no thought of disestablishing and disendowing a Church which was proving herself the foremost evangelist of the world. This would be the surest safeguard against cold rationalism and creeping Romanism at home: only the pure warm Gospel is found to be the power of God and the wisdom of God among the heathen; and the life-blood would circulate. Then the energies of Churchmen would not be taken up with the miserable controversies which still too often engross and enfeeble them. Larger and graver questions would absorb both time and thought. The evangelizing of India, the Christianizing of China and Japan, the planting of the cross in Africa, the recovery of Moslem lands from the False Prophet, would dwarf into their true insignificance those superficial differences (for I speak not of fundamental doctrines), which now too often separate brother from brother. Oh, give us something higher, nobler, more lasting, more worthy the devotion of the heirs of immortality! Is this our cry? God has given us what we ask in the non-Christian myriads of our fellow-subjects, and in the heathen lands beyond them. They are His gift to our country and our Church. We may preach to them the Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God. England is put in trust with the Gospel. Only it is required of stewards that a man be found faithful. It is the very simplicity of our object, the proclamation of the everlasting Gospel, which is our strength and shield:—Our strength, for the word of the Gospel which we preach is God's word, it shall accomplish that which He pleases, and prosper in the thing whereto He sends it; and the work we are doing is God's work, to droop would be cowardice, to despair would be sin:—our shield, we cannot be too zealous for the preaching of the Gospel proclaimed; but let that be secured, the Gospel will be its own defence. We need not turn aside to other controversies, however important in their own place; our controversy is with Heathenism and Islam.

The question is, Will England rise to her lofty call? will she give the men? will she supply the means? Will England give the men? Who is willing this day to consecrate his service to the Lord? Parents, will you give your children, and encourage them to respond to the heart-searching voice, "Whom shall I send, and who will go for Us?" "Here am I: send me!" Brethren, I know what the mingled feelings are, when a beloved son, whom you love even as your own soul, comes to you and says, "Father, I can resist the Missionary call no longer: and if only I have your sanction and blessing, I must go." I know the conflict "so counter and so keen." But thank God I know what it is to answer, "Go, and the Lord be with you." And now the way is open not only for our sons but also for our daughters to dedicate their life to Missionary labours. Godly women have proved themselves the link, so long missing, to bring their sisters, in Eastern lands, to the feet of Jesus.

But the voice may speak to one here and one there in this great congregation to-night, and say, not, will you give your child? but, will you give yourself? Oh, that each one of us may answer with the Psalmist, "I will hearken what the Lord God will say concerning me." May you hearken, my brothers and sisters in Christ; may I hearken; and if He calls us by His Spirit, as He called Samuel of old by name, may we humbly and reverently answer, "Speak, Lord, for Thy servant heareth."

I venture, then, in connection with this thought, to quote a few sentences from a paper which I read at the Carlisle Church Congress in 1884, on the aid to holiness we find in the study of the lives of holy men and women. I confess I quote them with fear and trembling, lest it should seem egotistic—but it is only as we all bring the question of our duty before God in this matter home to ourselves, we shall be thorough and transparent. I said then, "We ask ourselves again and again in utter amaze, Have more than eighteen centuries passed since our Master said, 'Go ye into all the world, and preach the Gospel to every creature!' Why, then, are two-thirds of our world still lying in Heathen or Mohammedan darkness? All other questions, with those who are one in Christ, sink into insignificance before this. This grappled with, most of the others would settle themselves. Our great Missionary Societies are doing a work over which heaven rejoices and at which hell trembles. But their treasures and their forces need to be multiplied ten-fold, and England could do it if only her children would emulate the holy men and women who have gone before us. What would it be if men of wealth like Barnabas gave themselves and their substance to the work? What would it be, if others, who could not go, supported, like Gaius, their brethren who were jeoparding their lives for Jesus' sake? What would it be if some of noble or even royal blood were, like Hilda, to surrender all the glory of an earthly court that they might form brotherhoods and sisterhoods from whence should go forth the evangelists of the Cross? What would it be if some of our bishops, inspired by the example of Patrick, and Columban, and Gallus, and Gregory, and Sturm of Fulda, and the martyred Adalbert, and Nilus, and Otto, and Raimond Lull, were to leave their English palaces for a missionary staff, and draw with them a band of men whose hearts God had touched to preach a purer Gospel with an equal zeal? . . . It is not enough for the prelates and princes of our lands to patronize (cold and miserable word) our great missionary crusade. Patronize indeed a work which angels might envy, and which the Son of God Himself began! Let them lead us. This holy war demands the united labours of all, high and low, rich and poor, learned and unlearned. Let every man do his duty, and the Church of Christ could preach the Gospel to every nation under heaven ere this century closed."

Such were my words at Carlisle. I little thought that within six months I should be taken from the dearly loved work of a pastor to the arduous responsibilities of a bishop. Indeed such a thought had never flashed across my mind. But now I feel that it may be not unreasonably asked of me, when I am urging others to offer themselves, "Why do not you, the preacher, offer yourself to go forth into the Missionary field?" Brethren, I can only say, I desire to be ready to go, if the Master calls. But I do not hide from myself that I am in the same year of life in which my honoured father entered into his Saviour's rest. I am probably too old for such an honour to be conferred upon me. I have probably neither the physical strength nor the mental elasticity for such a work. It is probable that by me in the brief remnant of my days more can be done for the Master at home than abroad. But He knoweth.

Now the same conviction will, it is likely, be arrived at by most of us who are in the evening tide of life. I only ask that we should all, whether young or middle-aged, or old, prayerfully weigh the question before God, and should all be ready and willing, if called by Him, to answer, "Lord, I am Thine: do with me even as Thou wilt." Consider, then, to obey such a call would be a life of the most entire self-sacrifice, not only that sacrifice which every true Christian daily makes to Christ, but all that is involved in the surrender of an English home for Christ's sake. And you and I should make that surrender, if He demanded it. But if He does not ask this at our hands, if He has other work for us to do here, oh, my brothers, and sisters, with what an overwhelming force the appeal comes to us to deny ourselves that we may support those who willingly jeopard their lives unto the death in the high places of the field!

And if England finds the men, will England also find the means? I am persuaded she will. Our countrymen, our fellow-Churchmen, would never suffer the patient sowers and reapers in the great harvest-field to faint for lack of food. We must learn the joy of giving more frequently. I heard a simple story the other day from the pastor of a densely-peopled parish in Westminster which touched my heart. There was an aged widow woman in his parish who often earned only from five to six shillings a week; and when you deduct from this the cost of rent and fuel and clothing, it must have left but a bare sufficiency for food. But God put the love of the Missionary Society into her heart; she resolved that she would give, and give regularly, and last Christmas Eve she brought her missionary box, heavy with farthings, to her pastor. When he asked regarding it, she explained, a loaf of bread costs twopence halfpenny, she always bought half a loaf, and on going with three halfpence in her hand, she received a farthing back. This farthing she always dropped into her missionary box, and now she had brought her gathered store for Christ's sake. Surely the frequent offering was not unobserved by Him Who said, when He saw the poor widow cast her two mites which make a farthing into the treasury, "She hath cast in more than they all."

Cannot we go and do likewise? Cannot we give, and urge others to give, not perhaps more at once, but more frequently? Most subscriptions are annual, and some perhaps have to deny themselves much during the year to give this annual subscription; I speak not of them. But are there not very many whose income is paid them half-yearly or quarterly, or monthly or even weekly, who by frequent and regular free offerings could double, or more than double, their gifts to the great missionary cause? Forgive me for making the suggestion, it was the widow's box of farthings which prompted it, that we should try and give not now only Half as much again, but at least Twice as often as we have most of us hitherto given.

It was in May, 1848, that the first notes were struck of our Society's Jubilee year, upon which we had already entered. Well do I remember that first Jubilee. Forty years have passed since then; they have passed like a dream; and now we have barely ten years before the Society will enter on her centenary. How many of us here to-night will have been gathered to our fathers ere then! But is it too much to ask that we should strive to raise 20,000*l.* more each year than the year before? This would nearly have doubled our income when our next year of Jubilee was come. Does this seem a great sum to hope for? Why, I saw the other day in the papers that 300,000*l.* was guaranteed in Glasgow for the erection of the International Exhibition buildings; I saw that a new ironclad vessel of war was launched and had cost 800,000*l.* We do not grudge the promotion of art or the righteous defence of our shores; but we long that England's Church should rise in her might, that might which God has given her for the proclamation of the everlasting Gospel from pole to pole. What is the sum entrusted to the two great Missionary Societies of our Church? Considerably less than 400,000*l.* a year—a sum doubtless embracing many gifts of real self-sacrifice—but in itself a poor pitiful offering from a Christian nation, where a penny in the income-tax produces a million and half of money, towards that which is the great work left to His Church by the Lord to do, and for the accomplishment of which the Comforter was sent down from heaven and abides with us for ever.

The work is great. The time is short. The Lord is at hand. What our hand finds to do we must do it with our might! Oh, to learn the priceless value of time in things which concern eternity. There is a thrilling incident related by Thucydides in his Peloponnesian war. Mytilene had revolted from Athens: the revolt was quelled, and the city lay at the mercy of the conquerors. After an eager discussion in the Athenian assembly, it was resolved that a signal example of condign punishment must be made, and a decree was passed that all the men should be slain, and the women and children sold into slavery. A ship was dispatched with these fateful and fatal tidings. But thoughts of remorse soon began to work in the hearts of the Athenians, and on the following day another assembly was convened, the judgment was reviewed, and at length reversed. Another vessel was fitted out in all haste. But what if the first vessel should have arrived, and the terrible decree have been executed! The Mytilenean ambassadors implored the sailors and rowers to use their utmost speed. They supplied them with corn and wine, and the seamen wrought and rowed in relays of men night and day, and they arrived in Mytilene just, but only just in time. We can picture the joy of that deliverance from imminent death. We are entrusted with a nobler message of life everlasting.

The Gospel of the glory of the Blessed God is committed to our trust. We are overshadowed with the Shekinah cloud of everlasting joy, the joy of God. We are the heralds of the glad tidings of pardon and peace, of grace and glory. We labour on, but we know that we shall have all eternity wherein to rest. We are following in the footsteps of the Captain of our salvation, for as David Livingstone said, "I am a missionary, heart and soul: God had only one Son, and He was a missionary." We bear His cross, we shall wear His crown, and as we march in His footsteps we sing, "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty. All things come of Thee, and of Thine own have we given Thee; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is Thine, and Thou reignest over all."

I ask you, then, to give to-night, not that which you will not miss, but that which you would give if you were about to drop your offering into the pierced hand of your Saviour and Lord; for He, though rich, was made poor for you, and emptied Himself, and took upon Him the form of a servant, and lived, and laboured, and died, and rose again for you, and ascended to the right hand of the Father, and now pleads on His mediatorial throne for you, and sends forth His Spirit, that you and all who will receive the gospel of His love, may enjoy the everlasting fruition of the glory of the Blessed God.

THE following system for spelling NATIVE NAMES is recommended to the Society's Missionaries generally for adoption in their letters and reports, unless any of them should prefer a still closer approximation to the more elaborate scheme of Professor Lepsius. This system should not be applied, of course, to those well-known places of which the spelling has become so fixed that it would be mere pedantry to disturb it; as, for instance, Travancore (Travankur), and Lucknow (Laknau). Other well-known names, spelt correctly according to this method, are not pronounced accordingly by English residents. For example, the a in Lagos is always pronounced by English residents, when speaking English, as in the word make.

â usually as in 'father' (in North-Indian words as in 'all').
e as in 'pen.'
ê as in 'fête.'
i as in 'thin.'
î as in 'pique.'
o as in 'not,' or as in the French 'bonne.'
ô as in 'note.'
u as in 'full.'
û as in 'truly.'
ai as i in 'thine.'
au or ou or ow as in 'bough.'

It needs only to be noticed further that—

y always sounds as in '*y*ou.'
g „ as in '*g*o.'
j „ as in '*j*oin.'
gn as in 'poi*gn*ant.'
ng as in 'thi*ng*.'
ei as in 'v*ei*n.'

h has always a separate sound, except in ch as in '*ch*urch,' and sh as in she;' th and dh should, therefore, not be used in South Indian names to express the dental t and d.

c whether for k or s, being superfluous, is not used.

Doubled letters should each be pronounced distinctly, as in Italian.

ae represents a sound intermediate between a in 'mat' and e in 'met.'

The above Rules are not adopted in the N.-W. America Mission.

REPORT,

&c., &c.

GENERAL REVIEW OF THE YEAR.

(READ IN EXETER HALL.)

"It behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day; and that repentance and remission of sins should be preached in His Name among all nations, beginning at Jerusalem." (Luke xxiv. 46, 47.)

Three necessary things in the Divine economy of Grace. First, the Atoning Death—"it behoved Christ to suffer." Second, the Resurrection Life—"and to rise from the dead the third day." Third, and linked on to the other two as equally necessary to the accomplishment of God's grand purpose, the preaching of repentance and remission of sins among all nations, in the name of Him who died and rose again. To take a share in this third part of the great work is the high privilege of the Church Missionary Society. It is established to preach remission of sins through the Atoning Death, and repentance through the power of the Resurrection Life, conveyed by the Holy Ghost; yea, rather, to preach Him who is exalted to be a Prince and a Saviour that He may give both to lost sinners.

And then, "beginning at Jerusalem." Whether this be read as meaning the preaching of the Gospel at home, or the preaching of the Gospel to the Jews,—and it may be applied either way—the Church Missionary Society rejoices that both are being cared for. At home and abroad, to Jew and Gentile, the work is one. But this Society's part is the "all nations." May God help it to fulfil its great commission!

Deaths.

During the year, the Risen Lord has taken to Himself many of His servants whose happiness it was to share in the work. Of Vice-Presidents the Society has lost Bishop Rowley Hill, Bishop Ryan, and Sir Robert Montgomery;* of Hon. Life Governors, Canons Garbett and Crosthwaite, the Revs. J. Ibbetson and F. Storr, Mr. T. B. Sheppard,

* Also the deeply-lamented Bishop Parker, the news of whose death arrived a few hours after this Report was read.

and Mr. Huddleston Stokes. Among other respected fellow-workers at home, Mr. Binford Sellwood, a munificent contributor to the funds, and Mrs. Malaher, of the Missionary Leaves Association. Of missionaries on the working staff, Archdeacon Abraham Cowley, of Rupert's Land; John Allcock, of Ceylon; Mrs. Russell, widow of the lamented Bishop; Mrs. Bailey and Mrs. Briggs, of the Punjab; and Mrs. Elliott, of Gaza. Of former missionaries, J. S. S. Robertson, of Bombay; Archdeacon Graf and F. Bültmann, of Sierra Leone; W. B. Chancellor, of the Seychelles; J. C. Mill, of Ceylon; Mrs. Brown, of New Zealand; Mrs. Rhodes, of Sierra Leone; Mrs. Warren, of Japan; and the revered Mrs. Weitbrecht, formerly of Burdwan, and for thirty-five years past unwearied in her home labours. Two Native clergymen have died in India, and four in New Zealand—two of the latter, in the midst of their usefulness, cut off by accidental poisoning. The Society is poorer for losing these friends and fellow-workers, but meanwhile, as the years roll on, the number of the elect is being accomplished and the Kingdom of Christ hastened.

New V.P.'s, &c. The new Bishops of Sodor and Man (Dr. J. W. Bardsley), Shrewsbury (Sir Lovelace Stamer), Lahore (Dr. Matthew), and Bathurst (Dr. Camidge), being members of the Society, have accepted the office of Vice-President; and the Committee have also appointed Sir Rivers Thompson, K.C.S.I., late Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal, and a member of the Society's Corresponding Committee in Calcutta; Sir Charles Edward Bernard, K.C.S.I., Chief Commissioner of Burmah; and the Rev. Canon Christopher, of Oxford.

To fill the vacancies in the list of One Hundred Honorary Governors for Life, the Committee have nominated the following:—the Rev. F. Fitch, Cromer; the Rev. Gilbert Karney, Hampstead; the Rev. Canon Peacocke, Dublin; the Rev. A. Strong, Chippenham; the Rev. Filmer Sulivan, Bayswater; the Rev. Henry Sutton, late Central Secretary; E. W. Bird, Esq., Clifton; and J. A. Strachan, Esq., Surbiton.

New Ladies' List. Hitherto no place has been found on the honorary lists for Christian women, many of whom do noble work for the missionary cause. The Committee have now resolved to use a power given them by Law VI. to create a list of "Honorary Members for Life" (as distinct from "Governors"), and to put on it ladies duly qualified as "having rendered very essential service to the Society." Much difficulty has been experienced in selecting the first names; and the Committee purposely nominate only a very few whose claims will be at once recognized, in order to emphasize the provisional character of this first list, as merely preparatory to a longer one next year. They have also, as a beginning, confined the nomination to ladies whose individual and independent work marks them out for selection. The following eleven names will form the first list:—Dowager Lady Buxton; Miss Dudin Brown; Miss Cahill, Richmond; Mrs. Carpenter, Notting Hill; Miss Edwards, Hardingham; Mrs. Faithfull, Bournmouth; Mrs. George Lea, Birmingham;* Miss Rich, Margate; Mrs. Disney Robinson, Torquay; Mrs. C. G. Round, Colchester; and Mrs. Henry Wright, Hampstead.

Finance.

The Committee now proceed to report on the financial position. Last year they reported the largest Ordinary Income on record, viz., 207,793*l.*, the advance being mainly due, as they fully explained, to an exceptional amount of Legacies. This year the total is only 194,557*l.*, the lowest in the past five years; but this again is due to a falling off of nearly 14,000*l.* in Legacies. The receipts from all sources except Legacies, viz., 173,765*l.*, are actually the highest in the past five years. A small diminution of 1300*l.* in the receipts from Associations is more than covered by Benefactions and Miscellaneous. Most of the great Auxiliaries show a good advance: Ireland in particular, and also Bristol, Devon and Exeter, Cheltenham, Islington, Paddington, Sheffield, &c.; the loss being in the aggregate of smaller Associations, which have suffered much by agricultural depression. The Committee therefore feel constrained to utter a note of heartiest thanksgiving. Moreover, some of the most important gifts of the year do not come under Ordinary Income. The Extension Fund has received 8679*l.*, including a benefaction of 5500*l.*, specially allocated to Japan and the Punjab. More than 4000*l.* has been received for the Nyanza Mission, including one anonymous gift of 2000*l.* The contributions for the Winter Mission to India amounted to 1700*l.*; and 700*l.* has been given towards the proposed Hannington Memorial Church at Frere Town. The Society has, therefore, received abundant evidence that its members and friends are ready to pour their gifts into the Lord's treasury when their hearts are touched. The total receipts from all sources amounted to 221,331*l.*

* Mrs. Lea died two days after this announcement was made; but she was informed of the nomination before her death.

Nevertheless, the facts remain that the deficiency in Legacies has diminished the resources at the Committee's disposal for carrying on the work by over 13,000*l.*; that the expenditure of the year is more by 2333*l.* than that of last year, and though considerably under the estimate, has exceeded the receipts by 12,000*l.*; and that the Contingency Fund, which is always the barometer of the Society's position, receiving the surplus of one year and being charged with the deficit of another, is entirely exhausted, for the first time since it was formed in 1880. Judged, therefore, from a business point of view, the position is a serious one. Yet the Committee dare not send back the candidates for missionary service who are coming forward in increasing numbers, and who are plainly brought by the Lord of the Harvest to be thrust forth into His Harvest. Nor do they believe it is necessary to do so. If only there is faith to roll upon Him the whole burden, and to follow in simple obedience the clear indications of His will, there is no cause for fear. But the Committee are bound to state the case to their friends exactly as it stands. Put in one sentence, it is this: to replace the Contingency Fund, and to cover the estimated expenditure of the current year, will require a sum exceeding the Income of the past year by 37,000*l.*

Missionary Candidates.

The Committee note with much thankfulness the increase of missionary spirit in all classes of Society, leading devoted men and women in unprecedented numbers to respond to the Lord's call to the foreign field; although, owing to the multiplication of Christian enterprises, the Church Missionary Society no longer enjoys a virtual monopoly of Evangelical Church candidates. During the year the Society accepted forty-three applicants. While thankful to have thus to report this unusually large number, and not forgetting that the Church Missionary Society looks to qualifications rather than to numbers, the Committee cannot but feel the utter inadequacy of such a reinforcement in one year to the needs of the mission-field. Sixteen were for training, and twenty-seven already prepared to go out. Of the latter division, seventeen were University men, viz. eight from Cambridge, two from Oxford, two from Dublin, one from Durham, one from the Royal University of Ireland, and three medical men from Edinburgh and Aberdeen. The eight from Cambridge make twenty in two years, a number far exceeding that of any former period. A rich reflex blessing will assuredly descend upon the University of Charles Simeon and Henry Martyn.

Lady Missionaries.

Of the whole forty-three, twelve were ladies. This again is entirely unprecedented. The Committee render unfeigned thanks to God for the self-devotion with which Christian women are now dedicating themselves to the mission-field. The Society owes a deep debt of gratitude to bodies like the Society for Promoting Female Education in the East, the Indian Female Normal School and Instruction Society, and the Church of England Zenana Missionary Society, for the noble work of their lady missionaries in co-operation with this Society, especially in India; but there are stations in Palestine, Ceylon, China, and Japan, and there are the great African fields, not occupied by those Societies; and the Committee thank God that the spontaneous offers of several ladies to the Church Missionary Society itself have enabled them to contemplate the increase of their female staff in those countries. No less than forty-six offers from women (not reckoning many less definite inquiries) have been received in the past year, of which, besides the twelve already accepted, thirteen are still under consideration, and others are believed to be only deferred for a time. It has given the Committee peculiar pleasure to receive the daughter of the first Bishop of Sierra Leone, the daughter of a former West Indian Missionary of the Society, the daughters of well-known clerical friends of the Society at Brighton, Cromer, Durham, and Southsea, the niece of Adelaide Newton, and especially the eldest daughter (and, with her, the second son) of their beloved and ever-lamented friend Henry Wright; while, not reckoned in the above figures, because not on the official roll of missionaries, there are several sisters and some daughters of missionaries who have gone forth to share their labours. It is an additional satisfaction that of the twelve ladies accepted in the year, four go out entirely, and one partially, at their own charges.

The C.M. College.

The Committee desire to thank God for continued tokens of success and blessing in the work of the Church Missionary College; and to commend to the prayers of their friends the Preparatory Institution, lately moved from Reading to Clapham, and its new Tutor, the Rev. F. E. Middleton.

Children's Home.

One of the events of the year has been the opening of the new Children's Home at Limpsfield. It has since October been in full working order, and the Committee look confidently for a marked improvement in the health and vigour of the children through their removal into the country.

Central Secretary.

The general home operations of the Society have suffered a severe loss by the retirement, after eight years' service, of the Central Secretary, the Rev. Henry Sutton, on his appointment to Holy Trinity, Bordesley. His colleagues in Salisbury Square, and the Association Secretaries, were at all times greatly encouraged by his animating presence and co-operation, and the missionary cause owes much to his able and untiring advocacy in all parts of the country.

Developments at Home.

The developments of Home Organization which have marked the last few years continue to inspire the Committee with the hope that a real advance is being made in missionary interest and sympathy, especially in Church Missionary circles. The February Simultaneous Meetings, both in town and country, have proved to have been the starting-point of many fresh local efforts. The new Unions in some of the large cities, for special classes of friends, such as Younger Clergy, Ladies, and Lay Workers, are infusing new life into several of the old Associations. The Gleaners' Union, which has enrolled 11,400 members in a year and ten months, has evoked much prayer, sympathy, and practical work; and the spontaneous formation of numerous local branches is an evidence that clerical friends are finding it a useful method of binding the praying and sympathizing workers for the missionary cause in their parishes together and linking them with headquarters. The first Annual Meeting of this Union at St. James's Hall was but one of several special gatherings which have marked the year. Four public Valedictory Dismissals, all largely attended; the Devotional Gatherings at Exeter Hall on January 11th, called for the purpose of commencing the New Year with united thanksgiving, confession, supplication, and dedication; the immense gathering of C.M.S. workers and friends in St. Paul's Cathedral;—these and other incidents of the year illustrate the increasing personal interest in the Society and its Missions which is so noticeable in London. The Committee also record with much thankfulness the hearty welcome given by the great Provincial Associations in England, and also in Ireland, to the Honorary Clerical Secretary on his return from his journey round the world; and they trust that his stirring appeals for more men and means may meet with a ready and unstinted response.

Mr. Wigram's Tour.

The mention of Mr. Wigram's tour is the natural stepping-stone from the Home to the Foreign work of the Society. The Committee thank God for the successful completion of his journey; and they set a high value upon it, not merely for the interest it has stimulated in missionary circles at home, but still more for its direct influence in the encouragement it everywhere gave to the missionaries visited, and for the comprehensive view of the field and its needs which it has given to himself. The great lesson which it taught him was the utter inadequacy of the missionary force to avail itself of the inviting openings in all directions. "Terribly under-manned" is his account of almost every mission district in Ceylon, India, China, and Japan. Much of the existing work for which the Society has made itself responsible is only half-done,—much of it left entirely undone,—from sheer lack of labourers. If the visible results achieved are in many places small, the wonder rather is that there are any to report. To God be the glory for the souls brought by His grace out of darkness into light! To us, confusion of face, for our failure adequately to use the great opportunities given to us.

Missions to Moslems.

There is one section of the non-Christian population of the world regarding which the Church of Christ is especially called at the present time to humble itself for past neglect and to gird itself for fresh and enlarged effort. Over some of the fairest portions of the Eastern Hemisphere Mohammedanism holds baleful sway. Whatever may possibly be the material and external benefits it can confer upon degraded tribes that are subdued by it—and even these are disputed by many experienced travellers—there can be no doubt that Islam shuts the heart against the Gospel, and must therefore be regarded as one of the most formidable and irreconcilable enemies of the Cross of Christ. The Church Missionary Society has heavier responsibilities in this matter than any other missionary organization. It is face to face with Islam in Sierra Leone, Yoruba, the Niger territories, East Africa, Uganda, Egypt, Palestine, Arabia, Persia, North India, the Punjab and Afghanistan, Western India, South India, and Ceylon. But almost everywhere its best energies have been of necessity thrown into other departments of the work. Yet a long list of conspicuous triumphs of Divine grace in the hearts of Mohammedans in North India and the Punjab should be an encouragement to the people of God to labour and pray for their conversion. And now a distinct challenge has been given to the Church by the late public controversy on the subject. With the results of that discussion, as a discussion, the Committee have no reason to be dissatisfied; but they pray God that it may yet issue in a heartier response to their recent appeal for men and means for the Society's Mohammedan Missions.

But Islam does not stand alone. Brahmanism in India, Buddhism in Ceylon and Japan, Confucianism in China, Paganism of various kinds in Africa, lift up their heads no less vauntingly against Christ, and into the battle with each the Committee desire to send forth many more consecrated soldiers of the Cross. Even with the slender means at their disposal, the missionaries are moving forward. Ku-Cheng in the Fuh-Kien Province, and Kumamoto in Japan, though for some time promising fields of labour, have only in the past year become stations for resident missionaries. Within the Arctic Circle the Tukudh Mission is being pushed down the mighty Yukon River into Alaska. A new outpost has been taken by Dr. Harpur in Southern Arabia. The town of Mombasa (as distinct from Frere Town) is now occupied by a medical missionary; and new stations are being opened in Unyamwezi and Usukuma, though partly to supersede two which have been abandoned. Developments of existing work, especially by the agency of Christian women, are being commenced or planned, in Palestine, Mid-China, Japan, and East Africa (in the last case by means of the fund raised at St. Paul's, Onslow Square, after the "F.S.M."); while in view of the vast field open among the villages of India, the Committee are hoping to try the experiment of sending out lay evangelists on small allowances, picked men, to work under ordained missionaries. All this, however, is but on a small scale when compared with the requirements of the great harvest-field. And, meanwhile, the labourers are completely over-tasked. Visitors to India are astonished at the burdens borne by the devoted brethren there; and in East Africa, for want of competent men to fill the vacant places left by the return home of invalided missionaries, a veteran like Mr. Price, in his sixty-fourth year, goes out again to superintend for a while the work he himself set on foot thirteen years ago. What the labourers themselves think, may be illustrated from a letter received three weeks ago from a lady missionary, ordered home by the doctor to her own intense distress :—

Advances effected and planned.

A sick missionary's appeal.

If ever I get a chance, I feel I could say strong things to English women. Not one here since August; not one mentioned as ready or likely to come. Like the nobles, the Tekoites, who put not their necks to the work of the Lord,—as if the yoke were heavy, the burden grievous to be borne—as if they could not know how Jesus owes no man anything, but gives royally. He is not a beggar, asking for your heart and life, and leaving you desolate. Oh, I am sorry for them, those who could come out, and won't. They cannot conceive the intense love Christ has, and which He manifests to the women who labour with Him.

Tokens of progress and blessings in the field.

But there is no restraint to the Lord to save by many or by few; and the Committee have to report with deep thankfulness the continuance of God's preserving and guiding hand in the Society's Missions, and the gathering of much fruit to His glory. They would especially notice the continued progress in the Niger Delta; the safe departure of Mr. Mackay from Uganda; the safe entrance into the country, and encouraging reception there, of Mr. Gordon, with the favourable news from him up to November 16th; * the manifest tokens of divine grace in the knowledge and devotion of the Waganda converts, which so struck Mr. Gordon when he found himself amongst them, and which is so touchingly exhibited in the pathetic letter addressed by them to the Society; the beginning, though very small, of practical missionary work by Mr. Fitch in Chagga, after a weary waiting-time of two years and a half; the remarkable movement amongst the low-caste populations in the Punjab villages, which has resulted, notwithstanding necessary caution on the part of the missionaries, in some 300 adults being baptized out of a much larger number of inquirers; the spread of gospel knowledge among the Gonds and Bheels of Central India; the illustration of Indian Christianity afforded by the visit to this country, in connection with the Queen's Jubilee, of a Christian prince and princess, the Kanwar Harnam Singh, and the Kanwarani, of Kapurthala; the interesting baptisms of individual converts at various stations in India and Ceylon, and in the Fuh-Kien province of China; the successful continuance of the Fuh-Kien Christians' Mission to Corea, to which Mr. (now Archdeacon) Wolfe has paid a happy visit; the largely-increased number of conversions in Japan, and the development of the work there in all directions; the restored peace and religious liberty which have prevailed at Metlakahtla since the departure of Mr. Duncan and his Indians beyond the Queen's dominions; the evidence of past blessing on the Rupert's Land Missions, afforded by the interesting Provincial Synod at Winnipeg, when the Society's veteran missionary, Archdeacon Cowley, who went out forty-six years before into a barbarous and heathen wilderness, presided over the Lower House as Prolocutor, only a few days before his lamented death. Lastly, among the many achievements of translational work, the completion of St. Matthew's Gospel for the first time in the language of Uganda and in that of the Ainu Aborigines of Yezo.

As an illustration of the effects of Gospel preaching, both on converts and on inquirers, a striking passage may be quoted from the Rev. R. Clark's last report :—

Sayings of converts and inquirers.

A man said, "I keep on sinning till I am weary : where can I find a Saviour from sin?" When the question was put to another, "Have you found salvation?" the answer was given, "No, but I am crawling after it." A convert from Mohammedanism, after examining very carefully the Life of Mohammed, of which he had before been ignorant, exclaimed, "Alas! O God, that I should have ever thought that this man was a Prophet." Another said, "What a grand religion Mohammedanism is, if you do not examine into it." Another said, "The Mohammedan teachers argue, but there is no comfort in that. Their arguments are not sound; they cannot help the soul." Another, who has lately been baptized, said he could "find no peace for his soul in Mohammedanism." Another convert from Mohammedanism said he had "never found any love anywhere till he came to Christ." Another said that "the great difference between Christ and other so-called Saviours is that the others always say "go," whilst Christ says "come." Another said that "the difference between the Bible and the books of other religions was, that the study of the Bible always made you feel the better for it; other books did not." The remark of another was: "The Gurus tell us that if we keep from sinning we shall be forgiven. The Bible tells us how sinners can be forgiven." Another when once addressed as "good friend," replied, "Don't call me good; God only knows what a poor wretched sinner I am." Another, a Nicodemus of some position, who could only speak on religious subjects in private, asked, "Who is Christ? Tell me who He is? Is He the Son of God!" Another, who had studied many religions, said he had "found out at last that they were all dirty puddles, and that Christ was the only great flowing stream which cleanses from sin, and from which man can drink, and be satisfied." Another man, a Sikh, has pasted St. Matthew's Gospel on the walls all round his room, so that whichever way he turns, he may see some of the words of Christ. Another, a convert, has found out that "if a man once turns to Christ, even the very stones of the street hate him."

Work among Native Christians.

But, as more particularly noticed in the last two Annual Reports, the Society, though ever desirous to press forward into the regions beyond, has heavy responsibilities to God for the children He has given it. The spiritual growth of the Native Christians is one of its most absorbing objects of solicitude. A phrase used by the Committee two years ago has caught the public ear, and has been repeated over and over again by writers and speakers in England and America, namely, that "forty thousand communicants ought to mean forty thousand missionaries to the surrounding heathen;" and the Committee are assured that everything they can do to bring the Native Christian brethren into closer union with Christ and to draw forth their zeal in His service will directly promote the evangelization of the non-Christian community. They rejoice unfeignedly, therefore, in the blessing it has pleased God to give to the Special Winter Mission to India. The clerical and lay brethren who undertook that solemn enterprise, and the ladies who also joined the party, have been abundantly rewarded by seeing true Christian men and women stirred into fresh life and energy, and merely nominal Christians brought to the feet of Jesus. Preaching by interpretation has, by general testimony, proved an unexpected success; and the opinion is spreading that the Mission has inaugurated a new epoch in evangelistic work in India. While warmly thanking both the Missioners and the contributors to the special fund raised to send them out, the Committee would earnestly call attention to the inviting openings their Mission has shown to exist for the zealous labours of Christian visitors to India.

Winter Mission to India.

The Committee also gratefully notice the visit of their colleague, the Rev. W. Allan, to West Africa, not to hold mission services, but to inquire into many important matters affecting the condition and growth of the Native Churches. His valuable report to the Committee will be of the greatest service to them. With Polygamy and Slavery, with the opposing forces of Mohammedanism, and with the selfish greed of European traffickers in liquor to contend against, the Church in West Africa greatly needs the sympathy, support, and unwearied intercessions of the Church at home in the midst of its many advantages.

West African Churches.

Another field where the Native Christians are numerous is New Zealand. The Committee thankfully report the continued faithfulness of the great majority of them, their love for and liberality in supporting the means of grace, and the check given to the ravages of the drink traffic by the spread of the temperance movement among them. Five more Maori clergymen have been ordained, making forty-seven from the beginning. What would Samuel Marsden have thought of such a result of his faith and courage?

in the development of the Native Churches. Eighteen have been added to the roll in the year, an unusual though not an unprecedented number: viz., three in Africa, six in India, one in Ceylon, three in China, and (as above mentioned) five in New Zealand; making 373 in sixty years in connection with this Society.

Native Episcopate.

No second Native Bishop has yet been consecrated. That honour is still held alone by the Society's venerable friend, Samuel Crowther, who is now welcomed once more on his ninth visit to England. The Committee earnestly desire that the time may soon come for the Native Episcopate to be commenced in India. But the circumstances of the Church in that country render every step extremely difficult, and the Society must firmly seek to preserve the liberty of the Native Christian communities connected with it, and their purity of faith and doctrine, from all adverse influences.

Adverse influences in India.

It is impossible to ignore the perils that beset the Church in India, as at home, from the spread of sacerdotalism, which can hardly fail to be an obstacle in the way of cordial co-operation in plans for Church development. The Committee would fail in fidelity to the trust committed to them if they did not do all that lies in their power to protect the Native Christians from influences likely to imperil the simplicity of their faith; and they ask for the prayerful sympathy of their friends in circumstances calling for much grace and wisdom.

Grateful recollection of much valuable co-operation calls for a passing notice of the resignations of the Bishop of Lahore and the Bishop of Travancore and Cochin; both of whom were devoted missionaries of this Society for many years prior to their elevation to the Episcopate. The Committee will welcome the presence in England this summer of several Bishops intimately associated with the Society, including their venerable friend Bishop Sargent and their old fellow-worker, Bishop Stuart of Waiapu, both of them after an absence of fourteen years.

Conclusion.

In conclusion, the Committee would observe that each year brings its own special trials, anxieties, and perplexities. Now it is financial deficiency; now slow progress, or even reverse, in some part of the mission-field; now the infirmities of our poor human nature; now the open opposition of those who love not Christ and His cause; now the secret opposition of those who love not the Society and its principles; now, it must in sorrow be added, the mistrust felt by some real friends,—a mistrust which has been occasioned, as the Committee frankly acknowledge, by not unnatural divergencies of opinion on points of policy, but a mistrust which they affectionately urge is in itself wholly undeserved. There is nothing new in any one of these causes of anxiety. An inquiry into the Society's inner history would show that they have recurred again and again; and the more that history is studied, the more profound will be the wondering thankfulness with which will be traced out the never-failing guidance of the great Master whom the Society desires ever to honour and to serve.

But the Committee care not to dwell further upon causes of disquietude. They heartily thank the sympathizing friends who never fail to encourage them in times of trial, both by words of confidence and by gifts to the Lord's treasury. The attack upon the Society regarding its Mohammedan Missions and its Home Expenditure brought instantly an anonymous benefaction of 1000*l.*, and many special contributions have been received in the past few weeks, some towards the deficiency in the funds, and some in token of unwavering confidence in the faithfulness of the Committee to the Evangelical principles of the Society.

Meanwhile, the Committee call upon their friends to look away from all these difficulties, and to set their eyes upon the wide wastes of Heathendom and the grim fortresses of Mohammedanism. To carry into those wastes the fertilizing waters of life, so that the desert shall rejoice and blossom as the rose, and to lay persistent siege to those dark strongholds, is the task set before the Church of Christ. It is a task in which every one of its members is solemnly bound to join. Some, by girding on their armour and pressing into the front of the fight,—and in that warfare, clergymen, and laymen, and women, can all take their part. Some, by prayer and effort, by sympathy and interest, by influence and self-denial at home—and from this, at least, not one is exempt. Only let one thing be never forgotten. The Church Missionary Society depends not upon vast numbers of supporters, not upon an overflowing treasury, not upon the patronage or commendation of men. It depends, and all its work depends, for all success and blessing, upon the favour of the Lord alone. And so to Him be all the glory! For He uses Gideon's three hundred to vanquish the hosts of Midian. He uses the shepherd's sling and stone to overthrow the Philistine giant. He uses the young lad's five loaves and two fishes to feed the fainting multitude. He chooses the foolish things of the world to confound the wise; the weak things of the world to confound the mighty; and base things of the world, and things which are despised, yea and things which are not, to bring to nought things which are;—that no flesh should glory in His presence. He that glorieth—as the Church Missionary Society does glory, for all the wondrous blessings vouchsafed to it and to its Missions—let him glory in the Lord!

WEST AFRICA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived, 1804.)

Sierra Leone, 1816; Port Lokkoh, 1876.

The name which in the Society's publications continues to designate the work of the Society in Sierra Leone and the adjoining territory is a forcible reminder of "the day of small things," when the western coast-line of the Continent, exceeding 6000 miles in length, was untouched except at this point, by the missionaries of the "Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East."

Centenary of the Colony and Queen's Jubilee.

It is natural, in reviewing the work of the past year, to recall the early and very remarkable history of this settlement, for it was in 1787, a hundred years ago, that Granville Sharp procured Sierra Leone as an asylum for the runaway slaves who had congregated in London after Lord Mansfield's celebrated decision. This Centenary, as well as the Queen's Jubilee, and the anniversary of the Native pastorate, was celebrated in June. Special services were held at all the churches on Sunday, June 19th, Bishop Ingham having issued a form of service containing collects appropriate to the twofold celebration, and a general exchange of pulpits took place. On the following Tuesday the Wilberforce Memorial Hall, upon which almost 5000*l.* have been spent, was opened by the Deputy Governor, and a telegram of congratulation was sent by the meeting there assembled to the Queen.

Death of Revs. J. U. Graf and F. Bültmann.

Two veteran missionaries who laboured together in this Mission, both Germans from the Basle seminary, the Revs. John Ulrich Graf and F. Bültmann, have died during the year. The former went out with Henry Townsend in 1836, and laboured nineteen years at Sierra Leone; the latter went out in 1837, and laboured twenty-two years. Graf was for a short time Archdeacon of Sierra Leone.

First Native Archdeacon.

The present Archdeacon of Sierra Leone, the Rev. James Robbin, pastor of Holy Trinity, Freetown, has been appointed to that office by the Bishop during the past year. The Native Church has willingly undertaken the entire pecuniary burden of his appointment. He is not only the first Native Archdeacon of Sierra Leone, but also the first Native dignitary on the West Coast who is supported by Native contributions. He has so entirely gained the respect of the pastors and lay people that he was singled out by the popular voice for this higher office even before the Bishop's mind was known. He was ordained in 1859, with the Rev. W. Quaker.

Mission of Rev. W. Allan.

Bishop Ingham having earnestly invited the Committee, in view of the many important questions affecting the Native Church in his diocese which have come lately under consideration, to send one of their number to visit Sierra Leone and Lagos, the Rev. W. Allan, Vicar of St. James's, Bermondsey, consented, at a very short notice, to go on this interesting Mission. The Committee took leave of him on December 20th, and on April 18th they thankfully welcomed him upon his return in excellent health, after visiting not only Sierra Leone and Lagos, but also Abeokuta and some of the Delta stations of the Niger. At Sierra Leone Mr. Allan remained three full weeks, and was enabled to inspect all the village pastorate stations in the Colony, and also the Mission-stations at Sherbro and Port Lokkoh. He was also present for three successive evenings at a Conference of the clergy and representative laymen, numbering nearly a hundred, which the Bishop convened to meet him, and to discuss in his presence the various subjects on which the Committee especially desired to know the views of the Native community. Mr. Allan has presented an exceedingly full and reliable report, which will be of the greatest value to the Committee.

Increase of Mohammedans explained.

In the course of the recent newspaper controversies regarding Mohammedanism, it was publicly stated that the Christian Africans at Sierra Leone were becoming Moslems. Upon this subject the Rev. O. Moore writes (and Mr. Allan fully corroborates his statement):—

> The idea that Sierra Leone Christians are turning Mohammedans, or that Islam is gaining ground among us, is a delusion altogether. Nothing of the sort has taken place. Mohammedans increase by accessions of fresh Mohammedans from the interior, and not at all from conversions made in Sierra Leone. It is a great mistake to think otherwise.

The Rev. F. Nevill is the Secretary of the Mission.

SIERRA LEONE.

The Fourah Bay College.

The Fourah Bay College has for its Principal and Vice-Principal the Revs. F. Nevill and Horace McC. E. Price. The latter was obliged, after several attacks of fever, to go to the Canary Islands in November. His restoration when he returned in March was not so complete as to give assurance of lengthened service on the West Coast. In December the B.A. degree was conferred by the Durham University on D. J. Coker and E. T. Cole. Of the students who have entered the College since Mr. Nevill's arrival, these are the first to obtain this distinction. Mr. Nevill himself at the same time received his ad eundem M.A. In referring to the centenary of the colony, Mr. Nevill observes :— Durham Degrees.

When it is remembered that since the establishment of this College more than 200 pupils have received the whole or the greater part of their higher education in it, and that of those 200 many hold the chief positions in the Church educational establishments, in the State, and in the ministry, it will be felt how much the Colony owes to the College for the talent and ability and prosperity which were exhibited with such effect in the religious and civil gatherings at that particular time. Past Students.

We began the year with nineteen students in College, five of whom were schoolmaster students, one preparing for his preliminary examination previous to going to Edinburgh, and the rest going through the ordinary Durham course. The subjects allotted to me for the term were: Greek Testament—the Epistles to the Galatians and Colossians, which I read with the senior men; Old Testament books —Joshua, Judges, and Ruth, with first-year men and schoolmaster students; Virgil, Herodotus, and Thucydides. For the Greek Testament Epistles I used Lightfoot's Commentaries; and at the examination at the close of the term I was much pleased with two of the papers done for me; three of the other men did fairly well, and one, I am sorry to say, failed. Subjects of study.

In connexion with this, my first term, I may also mention that the students gave me a "reception" tea, at which I was presented with a short address of welcome to the College. I trust that the kind feelings then expressed may only be more and more fully realized between us as time goes on. Giving lectures to men does not necessarily mean getting to know them, though it certainly helps towards it. I am, therefore, glad of other opportunities for closer intercourse with our students. Twice a week, at morning prayers, on Mondays and Fridays, short addresses are given by the students in turn. Mr. Nevill and I divide the looking over of these addresses with the men, and each of us also gives an address on alternate Wednesday mornings. I find that talking over their addresses with the men is one of the best opportunities I have for getting to know them, and, if it may be so, to influence them. Two points which I have most frequently to urge upon them, are, that their addresses should be more direct and particular in their practical purpose, and that they should use simpler language.

The Native Principal of the Grammar School, the Rev. Obadiah Moore, reports a slight numerical falling off, owing to the unusually large number who have left the school in con- The Grammar School.

sequence of "hard times" in the settlement. The year closed with seventy-six boarders and ninety-one day pupils. Of those who left during the year, one entered Fourah Bay College, four came to England (one to matriculate at Cambridge), and three found employment in the service of the West Africa Telegraph Company. One boy from Liberia had closed connexion with the school in 1886, but on his return home his father, agreeably surprised at his improved manners and intelligence, immediately sent him back to school for another year. Fifty of the pupils have joined a Bible Union established during the year. On December 2nd, the foundation-stone was laid for an addition to the school-building by Archdeacon Robbin, "in the name of God, and for the amelioration and enlightenment of Africa by the spread of general education and Christian knowledge."

Enlargement of the school.

The Annie Walsh School.

The Annie Walsh School has experienced a somewhat trying year owing to the numerous changes in the staff of European teachers. Miss Bissett left for furlough early in June, and Miss Ansell retired from the Mission in August. The Committee were thankful that Miss Nevill, who has worked continuously at the school through the whole year, was able to take temporary charge from the date of Miss Ansell's departure until the arrival of the new Principal, Miss E. G. Henderson, and Miss Bissett at the end of October. Miss Henderson was formerly Principal of the Alexandra School at Amritsar under the C.E.Z.M.S. There are thirty boarders and thirty-four day scholars in the school. Five of the previous year's pupils have been sent by their friends to England to continue their education, and three others have been married. Much regret was expressed at the departure of Miss Ansell; the teachers and scholars made her a presentation of a silver powder-box, and delivered a written address. A warm interest is taken by the girls in the Missions of the Native Church. Each class has a missionary box, and 6*l.* 7*s.* 5½*d.* was collected in them between January and June, 1887. Miss Henderson is seeking to enlarge this interest by giving information of missionary work in other lands.

Appointment of new Lady Principal.

The Sierra Leone Church.

Of the condition of the Sierra Leone Native Church, so far as regards external observances and general interest in Church matters, Mr. Allan's testimony is remarkable:—

> They flock to church and chapel; there are no unbaptized children of professing Christians; they conduct family worship to a very large extent; [illegible] attend services held as early as 5.30 or 6 a.m.; they attend in large numbers the various weekly class-meetings, held usually at 7 a.m. (I have seen as many as 250 women present when I made my appearance unexpectedly at that hour at Trinity Church, Kissy Road, and nearly as many men at the same hour in the evening); they contribute their weekly payments of 1½*d.* or upwards for Church purposes with what we should regard as remarkable regularity and readiness, though local complaints on this subject are very numerous; the young people as they come forward for confirmation are able to engage in extempore prayer with a freedom that astounds an Englishman, and the proportion of communicants to the congregation, or to the entire population, is startling, if not appalling. At Trinity Church, Kissy Road, for example, they have over 1000 communicant members, while the church itself could not hold more than 800. At Regent the population, I was told, is 700, the number of communicants 300, and over 200 were actually present on the last occasion of its administration previous to my visit. The outward observance of the Lord's day is also a remarkable feature, and puts London, and most country places, lamentably to shame. The road from Fourah Bay to St. George's Cathedral, Freetown, a distance of nearly two miles, is lined every weekday with petty traders doing business in the open air as well as in their little shops, and the thoroughfare itself blocked with hawkers, purchasers, and others bearing burdens on their heads, whereas on Sunday there is not a single shop open, and as I went into town to preach at the Cathedral, I hardly felt comfortable at observing that my own hammock-bearers were the only individuals to be seen bearing a burden on the Sabbath-day.

Attendance at public worship, &c.

Observance of Sabbath.

The Conference to which I have referred also supplied evidence of the almost universal interest taken in Church matters by the members of the Native Church, an interest which would have been almost if not wholly wanting in England. First of all, the Bishop's original idea of a Conference open to all had to be abandoned, because no room could have contained those who would have attended, and it would have been altogether unmanageable; secondly, out of all who were asked to read papers, nearly a dozen in all, scarcely one declined, and of the selected speakers I think none declined; while in the third place, it was quite impossible to find room for all who were anxious to take part by expressing their views on the various subjects, or to confine the discussion within the limits of time proposed. There was one further feature of interest which I ascertained, and which differentiates the African professing Christian from his brother at home, to the advantage of the former, viz. the way in which he holds religious services at his trading establishments up the rivers, where there are no means of grace; sometimes, as at Mokat and Dama, in connexion with the Sherbro Mission, erecting churches, and gathering together regular congregations, which the Native pastor visits from time to time for the purpose of administering the Holy Communion. Moreover, it is no small cause for thankfulness that the Church in Sierra Leone appears to be free from those doctrinal errors by which our Church at home is so greviously corrupted.

Interest in Church matters.

Religious services at trading establishments.

Notwithstanding these things, Mr. Allan's report concerning the moral and spiritual state of the Christians as a body is the reverse of satisfactory, and he has endorsed the opinion which is very generally held in the colony, and sequence of "hard times" in the settlement. The year closed with seventy-six boarders and ninety-one day pupils. Of those who left during the year, one entered Fourah Bay College, four came to England (one to matriculate at Cambridge), and three found employment in the service of the West Africa Telegraph Company. Observance of Sabbath.

The Conference to which I have referred also supplied evidence of the almost universal interest taken in Church matters by the members of the Native Church, an interest which would have been almost if not wholly wanting in England. First of all, the Bishop's original idea of a Conference open to all had to be abandoned, because no room could have contained those who would have attended, and it would have been altogether unmanageable; secondly, out of all who were asked to read papers, nearly a dozen in all, scarcely one declined, and of the selected speakers I think none declined; while in the third place, it was quite impossible to find room for all who were anxious to take part by expressing their views on the various subjects, or to confine the discussion within the limits of time proposed. There was one further feature of interest which I ascertained, and which differentiates the African professing Christian from his brother at home, to the advantage of the former, viz. the way in which he holds religious services at his trading establishments up the rivers, where there are no means of grace; sometimes, as at Mokat and Dama, in connexion with the Sherbro Mission, erecting churches, and gathering together regular congregations, which the Native pastor visits from time to time for the purpose of administering the Holy Communion. Moreover, it is no small cause for thankfulness that the Church in Sierra Leone appears to be free from those doctrinal errors by which our Church at home is so greviously corrupted.

Interest in Church matters.

Religious services at trading establishments.

Notwithstanding these things, Mr. Allan's report concerning the moral and spiritual state of the Christians as a body is the reverse of satisfactory, and he has endorsed the opinion which is very generally held in the colony, and which the Bishop also shares, that European missionaries were withdrawn prematurely from Sierra Leone. The sorrow for sin, which was so generally and apparently sincerely manifested during the Special Mission of 1886, has not been followed by an abiding reformation. Some effects, however, remain. A Scripture Union then formed by Miss Nevill has now 2000 members. At Sherbro, ever since the Mission, efforts have been made on behalf of the neighbouring Mende heathen, not only by the pastor and catechist, but by many of the female members of the congregation, who go out weekly to different villages and conduct services through interpreters. Moreover, a European trader, who was led by what he heard on that occasion from the Rev. J. Johnson to abandon the traffic which he was carrying on with the Natives in intoxicating liquors, told Mr. Allan that he has been prospering better ever since. Upon the finances of the Church, the following fearless statement from the Twenty-Fifth Annual Report of the Sierra Leone Native Pastorate Auxiliary Association, which was presented by the Hon. Secretaries, the Revs. G. J. Macaulay and O. Moore, on June 20th, 1887, deserves to be quoted:—

Effects of special mission of 1886.

Native Church funds.

Over 800*l.* of what was once actually received as part of the Church's annual income have, within the last few years, been withdrawn, i.e. the Government Annual Grant of 500*l.*, and 100*l.* from the C.M.S. for the districts of Pademba Road, Holy Trinity, and Sherbro' respectively, on their admission into the Pastorate. And when the Parent Committee's present Grant-in-Aid of 300*l.* shall have been eliminated by the process of withdrawal of 50*l.* annually, now going on these two years, the embarrassment of the Church will be greater than at present, unless suitable means be found for filling up the gap.

It is a matter of great satisfaction, and one that argues most favourably for the stability and self-sustaining power of our Church organization, that it has been able to stand such a heavy withdrawal of foreign aid with no worse consequence after all. And the confidence exists, and is well-founded, that when all hampering causes and influences in the way of increased and additional income shall have been removed, and some well-devised scheme for additional funds be established, the resources of the Native Church will be found capable of sustaining the loss of even this 300*l.* grant, which has now been already reduced to less than its half.

An opinion is current, even among the upper class of Churchmen, which the Committee feel called upon to repel, as not only utterly erroneous, but mischievous.

Many persons have convinced themselves that, should the Church fail in her resources, and be no longer in a position to support her own ministrations, the Parent Committee would interpose and resume the responsibility and management as formerly; in a word, make Sierra Leone again a Mission-field of theirs. Nothing can be further from the intentions and resolutions of the Parent Committee; nothing can be more opposed to what they conceive to be their holy call and obligation. To do this would be to reverse all they have been doing by way of establishing and encouraging self-support in their numerous Missions, in order to set themselves free to go to the "regions beyond." The Parent Committee would sympathize with us in our difficulties; would gladly offer us the benefit of their enlarged experience and wisdom; would give us, in short, every moral support in their power, grieve over our shortcomings, rejoice in our success; but as a Society, the C.M.S. will not again undertake the burden of our Church work.

Educational work of the Sierra Leone Church.

The Report proceeds to review what is done for the elementary education of the young in the various parishes :—

As matters are, the Church still occupies the first place as the greatest Educational Agency in the Settlement, whether we regard the number and efficiency of its schools, or the standard attained by the masters, or the number of scholars. We are speaking now of day schools. From the Government Inspector's last returns, the Church schools alone are equal in number to all the schools of the other religious bodies in the Settlement put together, and claim as scholars quite a half of the school children in the land. The maintenance of these schools entailed during the year an expenditure of 1324*l.* 17*s.* 6½*d.*, i.e. as much as all the other denominations taken together spent upon their schools. We make this comparison with no invidious purpose, nor in the spirit of self-glorification. All we intend is to encourage desponding Churchmen who may be tempted to lose heart at the Church's pecuniary embarrassment by making them see how much is spent on school-work alone.

The Bishop has appointed the Rev. F. Nevill, Religious Inspector of Schools.

Jubilee sermon.

The preacher of the Annual Sermon at St. George's Cathedral, on June 28th, was the Rev. Moses Pearce, the Native Pastor of Christ Church, Pademba Road, and also Chaplain of the Garrison. His text was St. Matt. xxvi. 8—"To what purpose is this waste?" A few sentences of his appropriate and excellent sermon must be given :—

Were not the strenuous efforts put forth by Wilberforce, Granville Sharp, Clarkson, Buxton, and others, against the flagitious crime, the traffic in man, regarded as a waste? Were not the two years spent by Granville Sharp in the study of law to defend himself in the action brought against him in the matter of Jonathan Armstrong, the Negro slave, the distribution of tracts, both on the injustice of tolerating slavery, and on the slavery and commerce of the human species, the 10,000*l.* at first offered for the immediate abolition by the writer of an anonymous letter to the Privy Council, the 20,000,000*l.* voted by the English Parliament for the abolition of this abominable traffic, regarded as a waste, and did they not provoke the question, Cui bono?

The founders of the Church Missionary Society for Africa and the East, and those of kindred Societies, who have laboured, and are still labouring, for the spiritual emancipation of our race and the regeneration of the Dark Continent, by whom Christianity has been planted here, and who, under God, have made many of us what we are, freed men in Christ Jesus, did not regard their sons and daughters sent here, or the money spent, a waste. On the contrary, they regarded all as bread cast upon the waters, apparently swept down by the stream, but which shall be found after many days.

The existence of the Native Pastorate Institution, whose cause I stand pledged to plead, is an answer to the question in our text; it is the harvest of the seed sown by the early Missionaries, whose bones now rest in our various graveyards; for we must remember how, in the early history of this Mission, faithful and devout men and women who counted not their lives dear unto them, baptized for the dead, were found willing to supply the place of those who had fallen.

PORT LOKKOH.

Port Lokkoh.

This station is situated about sixty miles up the Sierra Leone River, on the caravan route to the interior. It was first occupied in 1840, but only for a short time in consequence of the hostility of the Mohammedan inhabitants. The Society's present occupation dates from 1875. But among the Timnehs, the Natives proper, in whose behalf this effort is maintained, the visible results have not been encouraging. The Rev. J. A. Alley continues in charge, assisted by his Native brother clergyman, the Rev. S. Taylor, B.A.

Visit of Rev. W. Allan.

Mr. Allan visited this station in January, and had an interview with the Mohammedan king, of which he wrote:—

> We have all (6 p.m., Saturday), been to pay a visit to the palace of the Timneh king, a Mohammedan. He happens himself to be away at present, but we were received by the official called the king's father, without whom he cannot act, and also by the king's wives. I was introduced by the Bishop as the Church Missionary Society in a concrete form. The Bishop, through the interpreter, spoke very straight-forwardly, asking for the king's direct encouragement in the work, and received most favourable replies. There was a Mohammedan priest there, in a prominent position, and he professed himself equally friendly, and all alike declared their willingness for the people to become Christians, and undertook to send the children to our Mission-school, although there is a Mohammedan school, kept by this very priest. The king's father promised that they would all attend an open-air service which we said we would hold to-day outside the king's house; and the priest said, as the Christian religion was older than the Mohammedan religion, it was heavier and must prevail; if the Testament contained good things which the Koran did not, they would be glad to know and believe them: they were only stumbling in the dark; the missionary had light, and they wished to benefit by it. All professed to be grateful to Mr. Alley, and promised to help and encourage him. There were as many as forty present, and our interview lasted a long time.

A Moslem's view of the Christian religion.

Open-air service.

The promised open-air service was held on January 29th, at 5 p.m.

> The king's father was in the chair, the Bishop and myself on each side, and the king's brother behind, and an audience of fully 200. There were three sermonettes in Timneh, besides one through an interpreter by the Bishop, and not only was the attention of all unflagging, but the king's father and brother took part by taking up the subject and speaking on it themselves, very much to the point; the latter, for example, backing up what he was saying as to their determination to profit more in future by the missionary's teaching, and to send their children for instruction, by catching up and propelling forward a girl who was near to him (I suppose his own), as an illustration of his meaning. Since then the king's father has been here to call, and to bring the Bishop a fowl and some rice as a present.

Services in English are also held for the Sierra Leone Native traders, and some of them have taken part in efforts to evangelize the Timnehs. Three traders have consented to help at the Timneh services, and to be evangelists to some of the nearest towns and villages around Port Lokkoh.

The receipts from Offertories, Church fees, &c., amounted to 36*l.* 14*s.* 6½*d.*, of which 16*l.* 7*s.* 9¼*d.* was remitted to the C.M.S., and 6*l.* 8*s.* 3*d.* to the Jews' Society.

YORUBA MISSION.

Badagry, 1845; Abeokuta, 1846; Ibadan, 1852; Lagos, 1852; Otta, 1852; Leke, 1875; Ode Ondo, 1876.

THE Committee earnestly desire to send out a clergyman of some ministerial experience to fulfil the duties of the Secretariat of this Mission. Since Archdeacon Hamilton's return the labours of this onerous office have devolved in succession upon the Rev. C. H. V. Gollmer and the Rev. J. B. Wood, but it has been necessary to associate the Rev. J. Vernall with the latter, as it was not thought practicable for him to leave Abeokuta and take up his residence at Lagos. Mr. Wood is about to visit England on furlough.

The Rev. W. Allan's visit.

The visit of the Rev. W. Allan to this Mission has been already alluded to. He arrived at Lagos on February 15th, and spent seventeen days in Lagos and Yoruba, of which six were spent in the journey to and from Abeokuta. The arrangements made, however, by Messrs. Wood and Vernall were so judicious that he had the best possible opportunities both of inspecting the Society's work and of eliciting the opinions of the Native clergy and leading laity. Two of the questions upon which the Committee had requested Mr. Allan to ascertain the prevailing sentiments were polygamy and slavery. On domestic slavery, he observed with regret, that the views of the Yoruba Christians, and especially those in the interior, are not in harmony with the views held by of the Committee. Upon the subject of polygamy, however, he found a much more healthy tone prevailing than in Sierra Leone. He says:— Polygamy.

I am satisfied that the views expressed last April (1887) at the Lagos Conference, and subsequently published by the Bishop, were the real and deliberate convictions of those who uttered them, and I hear that even polygamous heathen congratulated members of the Conference on the line that had been taken against polygamy, declaring it to be a great evil, and stating that they regarded monogamy as the glory of the Christian Church. The Rev. S. Doherty assured me that Church members in Abeokuta not merely profess to object to polygamy, but really do so from their hearts, both as inconsistent with Scripture, and practically objectionable in its results. He reminded me that during the outbreak, and consequent four years' absence of missionary influence, no polygamist was admitted to baptism or to the Lord's Supper.

A quotation must also be made from a valuable report on the Liquor Traffic in West Africa, which Mr. Allan has by request presented to the "United Committee for the Prevention of the Demoralization of Native Races by the Liquor Traffic," on which Committee he represents the Church Missionary Society. Mr. Allan says,— Liquor traffic.

But what I saw on every portion of my journey, when on shore, and more especially when going up into the interior, to Abeokuta, made my heart ache within me. Liquor and bottles met my eyes on all sides, warehouses of prodigious size filled with intoxicating and murderous drinks, canoes heavily laden with demijohns of rum, the green boxes in which the gin is packed here, there, and everywhere, the roads wherever I went, and the bush which borders the road, strewn not only with gin bottles, but with the capacious glass jars enclosed in wicker-work, which are used for rum, and which, if it were not for their infinite multitude, would be really valuable, but which, by reason of their myriads, are treated as worthless. Not only the streets of towns, the main thoroughfares and waterways, like those from Lagos to Abeokuta, but the by-paths leading to distant villages, all testify to the awful, gigantic, and ever-growing proportions of this iniquitous and brutalizing traffic. The very soil of Abeokuta seems to consist of bottles, and in one place which I visited, Afarjupa, even the House of God might be said to reek of liquor, for the C.M.S. Secretary (the Rev. J. B. Wood) on a previous visit, had found the Native Church seated entirely with gin boxes. When I called on the principal War-Chief of Abeokuta, he presented me with a bag of cowries and a demijohn of rum. The Christians at Abeokuta deeply deplore the prevalence of the traffic in intoxicating liquors, and their Native Church Council, on January 10th, 1887, unanimously passed the following resolution:—

"That this Council regards the use of rum and gin as pernicious, and therefore in every way to be discouraged, and the Council feel that it is their bounden duty to express in the clearest and most emphatic manner their most earnest wish that all Christians will abstain from the use of them for themselves, from giving and receiving them at funerals, or in connexion with social visits, and also from paying in whole or in part for work done, with these articles."

Translations. Part of the Old Testament, from Genesis to Ruth, has been revised and forwarded to England, where the Rev. D. Hinderer has undertaken to see it through the press.

LAGOS, AND THE COAST DISTRICT.

Lagos: the staff. The already feeble staff of workers connected with the Society at Lagos was seriously crippled by the severe illness of the Rev. C. H. V. Gollmer, and his consequent return home in July, only seven months after his and Mrs. Gollmer's return to Lagos at the end of 1886. Miss Kendall also was obliged, on account of illness, to go to the Canaries for six months, from June to December.

Mr. Gollmer's departure left the whole burden of the work for several months in the hands of the Revs. J. Vernall and J. W. Dickinson, the former of whom had been only half a year in the Mission, and the latter a year and a half. Happily, the Rev. J. B. Wood was able to make occasional visits to the coast from Abeokuta, and the end of the year brought back the Rev. T. Harding from his short furlough in England. In November, a month before Mr. Harding, the Rev. J. Brayne, an Islington man, reached Lagos.

The Training Institution; Mr. Dickinson took charge of the Training Institution after Mr. Gollmer's departure. Twenty-nine students have been under instruction. Five, having completed their course, have received appointments as schoolmasters, three at Abeokuta, one at Ibadan, and one at Lagos. Of these young men, and of the subjects of instruction, Mr. Dickinson says:—

students, They are all young men of good average ability, true Christians, I believe, and quite ready and eager for the Master's service. I was much encouraged to hear their testimony, and to see them start for their interior work. May God keep them, and bless them, and use them in this Yoruba land!

and subjects of study. The subjects taught are Scripture, Articles, Prayer-book, moral science, political economy, Greek, arithmetic, mensuration, algebra, Euclid, physiology, mechanics, English grammar, history, geography, and music. The recent examination was very satisfactory. I can assure you there has been a decided advance, both in the system of teaching and in the results obtained. Very few of the students gained less than 50 per cent. of the maximum marks. Mr. Wood examined in Christian doctrine, and was satisfied.

No Annual Letter has been received from Miss Krusé, of the Female Institution, nor from the Rev. Isaac Oluwole, the Native Principal of the Grammar School.

Badagry. At BADAGRY, the Rev. D. Coker reports the baptism of six converts from heathenism in January, 1887. There are seventy-three baptized Christians, and thirty-two communicants at this station, and the contributions amounted to over 48*l.*

Civil Service Prayer Union.

Mr. J. A. Payne, Registrar of the Superior Court of Lagos, who is churchwarden of Christ Church, and a member of the Pastorate Committee, after his return from England in 1886, formed an African branch of the Civil Service Prayer Union, of which there are seventy members, all Natives. Many have heard with regret of the death of Mrs. Payne.

The Native Church.

The Twelfth Annual Report of the Lagos Native Pastorate Association for the year ending March 31st, 1887, dwells upon the loss sustained by the Church through the death of Mr. H. Robbin, a Native merchant of Lagos, a member of the Pastorate Committee, and one of the brightest ornaments of the Native Church, and of the most intelligent members of the whole community, who had faithfully served God and his generation for thirty years. The spiritual state of the congregations, notwithstanding many "painful exhibitions of ungodliness in various forms," is pronounced "good on the whole." Comparing the present with ten years ago, "as regards spiritual understanding, deep sense of sin, earnestness for the conversion of others, and zeal for God's cause as visible in many, there is ample cause for the Committee to thank God and take courage." There were forty-three adult and ninety-five infant baptisms during the year, and 1040 communicants. Receipts from all sources amounted to 1327*l.* 3*s.* 3¾*d.* Annual sermons were preached by the Rev. C. H. V. Gollmer at Christ Church, Faji, on June 7th, and by the Rev. J. White at Breadfruit on the following day. Mr. Gollmer, whose text was Ps. xcvi. 9, 10, referred in his introductory remarks to his late father's testimony as to the state in which he found Lagos. He said:—

> Just about forty-three years ago an honoured servant of God, now resting from his labours, but then residing at Sierra Leone, wrote as follows:—
> "This morning (December 17th, 1844) I heard that a slaver, with slaves from the Yoruba country on board, arrived during the night. I went at once on board, and found the Spanish ship Dilligence with 178 souls, 69 men, 44 boys, 31 women, and 34 girls. They were shipped at the horrible place Lagos, and captured by H.M.S. Wasp."
> Lagos in 1844.
> A few months after (August 17th, 1845), the same devoted servant of God, who had proceeded to Badagry, and who was longing to get a footing in Lagos, wrote:—"Lagos is represented as a scene of horror, the whole town is nearly destroyed, and the numerous inhabitants reduced to but a few. Dead bodies are observed in all directions, too many to bury them. Some were thrown into the sea, which the sharks devoured, but many are yet lying about, sufficient to occasion a pestilence."

A wondrous chain of circumstances has brought about the marvellous change now to be seen in this respectable and flourishing town; once only known as one of the darkest places of the earth, full of the habitations of cruelty. Godly men and women have come and gone, and some have laid down their lives in the cause of Christ and for the welfare of this country. Natives of the soil, ministers and laymen, have worked nobly for their country, and there has arisen in our midst more than one Native Church—for we do not in any wise desire to ignore the work of other Churches—there has arisen, I say, a young Native Church, just eleven years old, which we call "The Lagos Native Pastorate"—a young Native Church, which has no cause to be proud; which has no cause to be self-satisfied (when we consider the multitude of heathen and Mohammedans around our very doors yet unevangelized), but a young Native Church which, nevertheless, should thank God, take courage, and go forward.

District visitors.

Mr. Allan observes that there are at Lagos, in connexion with several of the congregations, bodies of missionary district visitors, nearly all females, thirty in connexion with Breadfruit Church, and more than half that number in connexion with one or two others, who regularly visit the heathen and Mohammedans at their own houses, and sometimes preach in the streets.

The Rev. James Johnson returned to Lagos in January, having spent several weeks at Sierra Leone en route.

INTERIOR MISSION: ABEOKUTA AND IBADAN.

Abeokuta.

The year under review has been one of trial and danger to the work at ABEOKUTA. At Igbein, one of the Abeokuta townships, a human sacrifice was offered in April, although some of the authorities expressed themselves as entirely opposed to the deed. Mr. Wood says, "There is the comfort that each repetition of these sacrifices helps in rousing an increasingly strong spirit of opposition to them." In August the chief, Ogundipe, who had been uniformly kind to the Mission, died—a heathen to the last—and apparently by his own hands. The loss of his powerful influence was speedily felt, as some of the other chiefs were by no means friendly to the Christian community. Of the troubles which shortly succeeded Mr. Wood writes:—

Death of a friendly chief,

> We have gratefully to acknowledge God's mercy in interposing in behalf of His people and work in Abeokuta, which, in October last, were placed in some peril. The cause was, briefly, as follows. A number of slaves made their escape from Abeokuta to Lagos. One of the Christians was charged with having taken them down into British territory. The evidence showed clearly that the charge was untrue, but notwithstanding, a powerful party amongst the chiefs professed to believe it was true, and determined that he should be driven from Abeokuta. The Christians, believing that there was sufficient evidence to show that the intention of those acting in this manner against one of their number was to aim a blow at the Christians as a body, decided to stand by him who was being wrongfully dealt with. It soon became known that their opponents had determined that the Christians should be plundered and driven away from the town. On their part, the Christians decided to offer such resistance as they were able to any hostile action by their enemies to carry out their purpose, and not quietly to allow a repetition of the outrage of 1867, more especially as they were encouraged in this course by a powerful party amongst the chiefs, who warned them of the reality of the danger they were in. The report had gone abroad that the Christians were to be plundered, and thousands of men who usually reside in their farms at longer or shorter distances from Abeokuta, returned to the town in the hope of being able to get a share in the plunder. A number of unlooked-for incidents followed one another, leading to the happy result that the would-be evil-doers were unable to carry out their purposes, and the Christians were left in safety and free from molestation.

The Native Church.

Fifty-seven adults were baptized, and the same number of catechumens enrolled in connexion with the several pastorates, under the Revs. W. Moore, D. Williams, and S. Doherty. The contributions to several of the funds were less than in 1886, but this is chiefly due to a depreciation of about one-ninth in the value of cowries. The total income for the year 1887 was 708*l.*, or 148*l.* more than in any previous year, owing to special efforts towards church-building. The Church Council has undertaken to break new ground by commencing work in the township of Kesi, where a church is in course of erection. Mr. Allan mentions in his report a very interesting incident which occurred in connexion with a visit of Mr. Doherty to a town called Iporu :—

I was deeply interested in reading an account by the Rev. S. Doherty of his recent visit to Iporu, accompanied by a catechist named Fletcher. There are as many as twenty-one baptized converts at Iporu, although there has never been any missionary agent resident there, and only one or two flying visits paid to the place by Mr. Fletcher. The work there is the result, through the blessing of God, of the efforts of a Native, named Joseph Oyegusha, since deceased who was converted in the truest sense when on a visit to a relative at Oshielle in Abeokuta, and who then went back to Iporu to preach and teach. Troubles arose, and the Christians were driven out by the kings and chiefs, who have now, however, formally consented to their return, and to the re-establishment of Christian worship among them. Although the king is still a heathen, he is not uninfluenced by what he has picked up respecting Christianity, as the following interesting incident will show. Mr. Fletcher had once, long ago, conversed with the king on the nature of prayer, though without teaching him any in particular, except perhaps the Lord's Prayer, so he now asked the king whether he had forgotten what he had taught him, whereupon the king replied, "Oh, no," and falling upon his knees, and with his eyes toward the ground, he said, "O God, King of kings, who setteth up one, and humbleth another, hear me, and forgive me my sins. I am not wise, give me wisdom, order my footsteps in this world. There are those in the Royal Family who are older, and wiser, and better, but me Thou seest fit to put in the room of our father; leave me not alone to rule this town, do Thou send peace and concord in my days, and lead us all in our councils, stablish Thy holy religion in this town in my days, for Jesus Christ's sake." And then he concluded by repeating the Lord's Prayer and the Apostolic benediction.

Prayer offered by a heathen king.

Ibadan.

The Rev. D. Olubi, of IBADAN, states that the Ilorins and Ibadans are still at war, notwithstanding the efforts of the Lagos Government, from which so much was hoped. High prices, and the increasing poverty of the people, consequent upon the disturbed state of the country, have affected the contributions of the Christians, which were 25*l.* 3*s.* 10¼*d.*, nearly one-fifth less than the previous year. "Amid the dark deeds and prevalent horrors," Mr. Olubi says, "the few Christians among this large population, I am truly happy to say, are shining." At Ogbomoso, Mr. Olubi baptized six adults, and administered the Holy Communion to twelve, in March, last year. One of the converts was a woman who forsook her husband five years ago because he embraced Christianity. After leading a hard life, she resolved to return to her lawful husband, and his kind reception and treatment so touched her heart that she became an earnest seeker after the truth. The Rev. S. Johnson is now residing at Oyo. At Iseyin Mr. Olubi baptized ten adults in April, among whom was a man of about eighty years of age.

ONDO MISSION.

Ode Ondo.

The Rev. C. Phillips has completed ten years of service at ODE ONDO, the capital of the Ondo country. During that time he has baptized eighty adults and thirty-two children at Ode Ondo and the three out-stations; and 82*l.* 4*s.* 11½*d.* has been raised, about half of which has been for church-building and repairs. Once more the Ondo authorities have broken their engagement to the Lagos Government, by offering a human sacrifice to the Oramafe in September last. Mr. Phillips says:—

Human sacrifice.

On the whole, I feel that the Lord is owning and blessing His work in this town, and that our labour has not been in vain. Though I cannot but feel humbled that the success has not been commensurate with the labour and expense, yet I believe that the Ondo Mission has passed its tentative stage, and that we are now on the threshold of greater triumphs for the Redeemer's kingdom.

NIGER MISSION.

Bishop Crowther's visit to England.

THE Committee have had the pleasure of once more welcoming Bishop Crowther to England. Almost an octogenarian in years, he might well have pleaded to be excused so long a journey and visit to a foreign clime, but he has cheerfully consented to represent his vast diocese at the forthcoming Lambeth Conference of Bishops of the Anglican Church. Questions closely affecting the life and progress of Native Churches will be doubtless discussed, e.g. the relation of slave-owners and polygamists to the Christian congregations, on which the respected Bishop of the Niger will speak, even in such an assembly, with peculiar authority.

Ordinations.

The Bishop ordained at Onitsha Mr. S. J. Smart on May 29th, last year, and Mr. Hugh Stowell Macaulay, the Bishop's grandson, late of the Islington College, on December 4th, both to Deacon's Orders. On December 21st, at Brass, he ordained the Rev. S. Peters to Priest's Orders.

Importation of spirituous liquors.

The Committee have observed with satisfaction the efforts made by the Royal Niger Company to discourage the importation of spirituous liquors into the West African ports. Total prohibition is impossible on the Niger, as under the Berlin Treaty the river is free to all trade, but the Company, which possesses very large powers by Charter from the British Government, has determined to impose a tax of fifty per cent. upon all such merchandise landed within its territories. The powers thus conferred impose a heavy responsibility. If exercised wisely and in the fear of God, they may be the means of incalculable good to the unsettled and divided races of the interior as well as to the thriving communities of the Delta; but they may, on the other hand, if used arbitrarily or without due discretion, greatly aggravate existing evils, and precipitate present dangers.

The Henry Venn.

The Henry Venn conveyed Bishop Crowther to Onitsha in May, and subsequently proceeded to Lokoja, taking up Archdeacon Johnson and the Rev. S. J. Smart, the newly ordained Deacon. Owing to the illness of Mr. E. W. Searle, the engineer, the plan of ascending the Kwarra and Binue to locate the agents appointed to the new stations had to be abandoned. Mr. Searle was obliged, to the regret of all, to leave the Mission last July. In September a hazardous journey was successfully made from Brass to Bonny through the intricate creeks of the Delta. The discovery of this route will probably be a memorable event in the history of the Delta stations.

New route from Brass to Bonny.

The Rev. J. A. Robinson is the Secretary of the Mission. Mr. J. Burness returned home on furlough in June last year, and at his own request has been assigned to the East Africa Mission. Mr. G. F. Packer, an architect, sailed on December 31st to succeed to his work on the Niger.

ARCHDEACONRY OF THE LOWER NIGER.

Archdeacon D. C. Crowther paid a visit in June last year to Sierra Leone, for the purpose of engaging suitable Christian agents. On the way thither the steamship Senegal, by which he and Mrs. Crowther sailed, was wrecked on the coast of Liberia, and they only escaped from barbarous ill-treatment by the providential arrival of friendly Kroomen. He returned to the Niger in October, and reached Bonny, his own station, on November 4th. During his absence the Rev. J. Boyle had charge of Bonny. The Rev. S. Peters is located at Tuwon, the port of the Brass territory; the Rev. J. D. Garrick at Nembe; and the Rev. W. E. Carew at Okrika.

Shipwreck of Archdeacon and Mrs. Crowther.

The event of the year at BONNY has been the laying of the foundation of the new church on January 2nd. The contributions of the Christians towards the cost of purchase of an iron structure in England, and transit to the Niger, were referred to in last year's Report. A temporary loss occurred which threatened to delay the realization of the project, but which only served to exhibit the warm interest and liberality of the people. Of the money subscribed for the purpose, 200*l.* was in the charge of the captain of the Senegal when it was wrecked on June 23rd, and was supposed to be lost. We must quote Bishop Crowther's words written from Bonny:—

Bonny.

> The great subjects which occupied the minds of all at Bonny at this time were, the shipwreck of Archdeacon Crowther, wife, and fellow-passengers, though thankful no life was lost; and the loss of the church money in the wreck, and the probable long delay of the purchase of their long-expected new iron church. Meetings had been convened of King George Pepple, chiefs, and converts, to propose renewed efforts for additional contributions to meet the required sum before the church could be ordered out. I greatly admired their zeal, and encouraged their perseverance to carry out this laudable object. Taking advantage of fair weather, I accompanied Prompt effort of the Christians.

Mr. Boyle on visits to chiefs who have promised additional help to carry out this object; among whom was no less than Chief Oko Jumbo, whom we visited at his country seat in the creeks, about two hours' pull from Bonny town. He was glad to see us, and received us very friendly; he seemed to take interest in the proposed new iron church, and said, "It must be built this year." Though he had already contributed four casks of palm oil towards it, he had increased them to six casks, and promised to urge other chiefs to fulfil their promise of additional help. In like manner we were kindly received by the other chiefs and people. The converts were doing their utmost to pay up their shares. Thus we were encouraging them in the midst of great commercial difficulties, great depression of trade in the rivers.

Recovery of the lost money.

If feelings of gratitude were ever perceptible in the countenances of Bonny people in a place where they could not express them out in words, such might be witnessed in the congregation of St. Stephen's on the Sunday when the intelligence reached us of the deep sympathy of Christian friends in England, when they had heard that a sum of money from the Bonny Church Fund was lost in the wreck of the Senegal, and that a subscription was immediately set on foot to help to replace that sum. This was sufficient evidence that Christian friends in England do in reality consider Bonny converts to be of the members of the same body, by sharing with them in their losses as brethren. But the joy and gratitude was enhanced when they were further informed that the lost money has been recovered, and was secure in the hand of the church-purchasing agent at Liverpool; all were thankful. But instead of such welcome tidings relaxing their zeal, they have rather stimulated them to fresh exertions for the carrying out of their Church work as the best thanks which they can give. When the Bonny new church shall have been built, I believe the influence of it will be felt far in the interior, whence people visit Bonny on business, and witness what is going on there.

New church;

Sunday, November 6th, was the last occasion of worshipping in the old church, and it was the Sunday after Archdeacon Crowther's return. A thanksgiving service for his safe deliverance from the perils of the sea was held in the morning, at which 1060 were present. In the afternoon 853 attended a special prayer-meeting, when warm and heart-felt praises were offered for spiritual blessings received in that church. The next morning the work of taking down the building, and preparing for the erection of a new school from the materials, commenced. The new church arrived in 481 heavy packages on December 23rd. The Archdeacon thus describes the ceremony of laying the foundation:—

foundation laid.

January 2nd.—At half-past three o'clock the schoolroom was literally filled with people. The prayer-meeting, led by the Rev. J. Boyle, commenced at four and closed at five. I read a paper reviewing briefly the work of the C.M.S. at Bonny from its establishment in 1865 to the present time, after which we repaired to the site of the new church, the Bishop, ourselves, and some leading church-people occupied the platform, where addresses were delivered; after which Princess Florence laid some articles, dug out of the ground at Bonny, which had been buried, as the custom is, by her great-grandfather, Pslekule, above 100 years ago: these are brass and copper rods, lead bars, long agate beads, and old manillas.

During the Bishop's visit to Bonny last autumn he confirmed seven men and twelve women on August 21st; twenty-one infants were baptized on September 4th; and fifty-six adults, nineteen men and thirty-seven women, were baptized on September 11th. Mr. Boyle gives some interesting particulars:—

Confirmees.

Amongst the confirmed were aged men and women, the histories of whom are very interesting. Two of these old men—fast friends—when baptized before, adopted the names of Joshua and Caleb in addition to their Native names. Years ago Joshua was sent to the "Long Juju" in the interior Ibo country, by whom he was reported to have been eaten up, but in reality was sold into slavery. After being sold and resold, he found his way back to Bonny, and for the past six years has been a regular attendant at church and class. Caleb, during the lifetime of late chief Captain Hart, was a right-hand man of the said chief and a zealous supporter of Juju worship. After the death of the chief he was so severely oppressed by those who had in times past grudged him in the position he was, that he became very sick, and in the sickness was delirious and went into the bush for three days. When found, some of the converts paid him regular visits and endeavoured to show him that the God for whom he cared not was his protector and preserver during those days. He then began coming to church—this was seven years ago—and made such progress that he was accepted as a candidate for baptism some time long past. The earnestness and zeal of these two friends in the service of Christ, and thankfulness for God's various mercies shown to them these many years past, could scarcely be surpassed.

Amongst the women was one of the principal wives of the late chief afore-mentioned, and another much older, wife of the predecessor of the said late chief.

Converts from every "clan."

The last baptism was quite unique, as there were not only representatives from almost every "clan" in Bonny, but also wives, sons, and daughters of chiefs, and also a young chief trained up in our school and taught the art of printing in the office here.

Idols given up.

One of the baptized old women aged about seventy or more, gave up her idols (Orogu and his wife) standing in height about two feet from the ground. These idols, the son of the old woman declared, descended to them as heirlooms from his grandfather, who began worshipping them over fifty years ago, and said that what had been offered in sacrifice to them during those years will be no less than 200 puncheons. These idols I gave to the Bishop.

Printing-press.

The Mission Printing-press, which was removed from Bonny to Brass in 1884, is now again at Bonny, and the Native printer has been busily engaged upon a new and fuller edition of the Ibo Common Prayer, Watts' First Catechism, Hymns, some portions of the Gospels in Ibo, Infidel literature.

&c. The importation of infidel literature, which Archdeacon Crowther has lately detected, enhances the importance of the Mission press.

Chief Jaja.

Chief Jaja, who was expelled from Bonny some years since and has resided at Opobo, where he has claimed the title of "king," and even "emperor," and has imposed arbitrary restrictions on commerce as well as on the preachers of the Gospel, has been removed by the consul's authority to the Gold Coast to be tried on various charges.

No report has been received from the other Delta stations.

ARCHDEACONRY OF THE UPPER NIGER.

Need of labourers.

"The paucity of labourers in this portion of the Mission-field," writes Archdeacon H. Johnson, "is such as to dishearten ourselves, and also to make any thoughtful and reflective heathen or Mohammedan question our sincerity in wishing to bring the tribes over to the adoption of our creed." Between the group of stations of the Ibo district and the Confluence, a distance of about 150 miles, there is only one station recently occupied by a catechist and schoolmaster. In this stretch of country on both sides of the river the population is almost entirely heathen, but is annually decreasing by the sword of the Mohammedans. Mr. Johnson says:—

Mohammedan raids.

It is a well understood thing that an army goes out of Bida every year, the precise destination of which is determined by a previously ascertained knowledge of the places where heathens abound, and where there is the least chance of successful resistance. It is not true, at least not in these parts, that the propagation of the Mohammedan religion is the chief object of these annual raids. They are essentially slave-hunting expeditions. In cases where an expedition returns unsuccessful, not unfrequently many unfortunate persons are seized from among allies and tributaries, and are sold to satisfy the greed of the so-called warriors. The oppression which daily goes on under our very eyes, if detailed in full, would make the hair stand on end and the flesh creep. Our station at Kipo Hill has often afforded shelter to the helpless and defenceless, who, but for an old and experienced agent on the spot, would have fallen victims to the rapacity of the marauders.

There are many of the poor oppressed people who have not hesitated to tell our agents at Kipo Hill that they are convinced that the religion of the Annasaras (Christians) is true; but, according to their own confession, they dare not profess it openly for fear of the masters of the country. At Lokoja it is a common thing to find men assuming the Mohammedan garb merely to escape from persecution and even death, or to avoid a system of heartless and ruinous taxation.

Archdeacon Johnson resides at Lokoja, the Revs.

C. Paul and H. S. Macaulay at Kipo Hill and Asaba respectively, and the Rev. P. J. Williams, for four years resident missionary at Gbebe, has been appointed to the charge of the new station at Ida, and to itinerate in the district between that place and Gbebe. The other stations are in the charge of lay agents. Staff.

At Osamare Mr. D. John, a catechist from Lagos, is stationed, and is assisted by Mr. T. D. Anyabanam, a Native of Onitsha, who was educated at the Lokoja Preparandi Institution. Osamare.

Mr. Allen, a lay teacher from Sierra Leone, resides temporarily at Alenso, until arrangements for his location at Abo can be made. It is hoped that this important station will be opened this year.

Asaba has been reoccupied, after an interval of four years (during which the work was suspended) by Mr. Macaulay, the recently-ordained grandson of the Bishop. The town is very populous, and has an exceptional number of kings "who wade to their dignity through human blood, and at their burial victims are bought and sacrificed." Great scope is presented here for earnest, aggressive, loving efforts. This station is the head-quarters of the Royal Niger Company's Constabulary. Savage customs at Asaba.

The spiritual state of Onitsha shows little sign of improvement. Since 1883-4 there has been a painful declension in zeal. This reflection, however, applies less to the female portion of the congregation. The side of the church which is assigned to them by custom is often full to overflowing. Mr. Johnson says:— Onitsha.

The conduct of the leading ones among the women has afforded us much encouragement. They have fully recognized the gravity of the situation, as regards the spiritual condition of the Church, and they have endeavoured, as well as they could, to remedy the evils by which it is being afflicted. About a dozen or so of the elderly ones meet from time to time in each other's houses, to which they usually invite other female members and heathens, and with them hold prayer-meetings. They invariably mention the special topics for prayer, and in that way they used to bring the wants and woes of the Church prominently before God. On Monday mornings the usual place of meeting is one corner of the church, where they often pour out their hearts in prayer undisturbed. It was by the merest chance that I surprised them in this their usual habit. Once, and once only, I asked and obtained permission of them to attend these gatherings, in order to have the privilege of encouraging them in their excellent practice. Asking them in the communicants' class on one occasion the cause or causes of that lamentable declension which was so plainly observable in the Church, they boldly confessed that the change began when the leading male members adopted the Earnestness of female Christians. Declension and its cause.

heathenish practice of "horn-taking," and when, as a consequence of that, there followed a lustful craving after a life of polygamy—a life so universally regarded as inseparable from the assumption of titular dignity. I was very thankful for that reply, because it confirmed my own opinion and conviction, after having closely observed the state of things. The canker that is now eating out the spiritual heart of the Onitsha Church is polygamy. From small beginnings the evil is spreading with alarming rapidity, and, unless timely arrested, will prove the ultimate ruin of the Church.

Human sacrifice.

The fall of one of the agents, an interpreter, at this station into the sin of polygamy has done much mischief, both among the heathen and the less earnest Christians. Mr. Strong, the catechist in charge, reports that a human sacrifice was offered by the king in August to propitiate the gods, to whose anger is attributed the removal of the Royal Niger Company's depôt from Onitsha to Obotshi.

Obotshi.

Mr. Julius H. Spencer has been stationed at Obotshi, where he is aided by a schoolmaster from the Preparandi Institution. Archdeacon Johnson administered the Holy Communion here for the first time on New Year's Day, when twenty-two communicated.

Ida was occupied in November last by Mr. J. B. Coker and a schoolmaster. Of the latter, Mr. Johnson says:—

Linguistic gifts of an agent at Ida.

He was formerly redeemed from slavery by the agents at Onitsha, where he grew up. He has considerable facilities for acquiring languages. Stolen from his home in one of the towns on the Binue, and taken down the river as a small boy, he soon lost all knowledge of his own language, but readily acquired the Onitsha dialect, which he speaks with considerable fluency. From a Haussa man who resided at the same time with him in the Onitsha Mission compound, he learnt to speak the Haussa, and was for some time an interpreter in that language for those who went out as open-air preachers in the streets of Lokoja. During his residence there and at Kipo Hill he mastered the Nupe, and by intercourse with Igarras while at Onitsha, he acquired the use of that language. So it matters not to what place he is appointed in the Upper Niger Archdeaconry, he is fully qualified by his linguistic talents to commence work immediately. I trust the Lord will give him grace to become very useful in His service!

At Gbebe, where Mr. O. Thomas has laboured with much energy, the congregation, which averages seventy-three at the Sunday morning services, has shown a desire to have a church by each member contributing a share of sun-burnt bricks.

The congregation at Lokoja continues small, but the attendance is more regular than it was. The first six students of the Preparandi Institution, after five years' training, have gone out, five to be employed at the stations below the Confluence, and one to qualify as a printer. There are five new students.

The Rev. C. Paul returned in September from Sierra Leone to his work at Kipo Hill.

An opportunity has not yet been given for occupying Wunsangi and Shonga.

The following Translational work has been done in Nupe: The Book of Genesis, the Acts of the Apostles, and an abridgment of the Old Testament History; in Igbara and Igarra, part of the Pentateuch, by the Rev. P. J. Williams; and in Ibo, a reading-book, and morning and evening prayer and litany. Most of these have been printed in the Mission press. Translations.

Death of Bishop Parker.

"As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten." With these words the Committee would comfort one another, and the missionaries of the Eastern Equatorial Africa Mission, and the bereaved relatives of the late Bishop Parker and the Rev. J. Blackburn. They are assured that they do not err in inferring from the sore chastisements with which the Lord has been pleased to visit this Mission a special measure of Divine favour towards Africa, and the work of its evangelization. And regarding that work, and their part therein, with its short-comings, and especially its omissions, they desire unfeignedly to take to heart the no less loving admonition, "Be zealous therefore, and repent."

On March 14th Bishop Parker wrote relating the death of Mr. Blackburn on the previous Monday (March 12th); on the 20th he wrote again, appealing earnestly for reinforcements; on the 25th (Palm Sunday) he administed the Holy Communion to the little band of three missionaries (Messrs. Ashe, Walker, and Mackay) who were with him at Usambiro; and the following day (Monday, March 26th), at 9.45 p.m., he slept in Jesus. "Just as the first streak of dawn was visible" his remains were laid by the side of Mr. Blackburn's, until the Sun of Righteousness shall fully arise upon Africa with healing in His wings, and the dark continent shall be illuminated, and its sores shall be healed.

His short episcopate

During his brief episcopate of sixteen months Bishop Parker visited every station in his diocese, with the single exception of Uganda. Everywhere his humility of character, his singleness of aim, his spirituality of life, his loving disposition, endeared him to the missionaries, who without exception respected his counsels and submitted gladly to his gentle but judicious authority. The Bishop wrote on November 28th:—

> I have just completed my first year's residence in Africa, and as I look back it seems to have been to me a year of blessing above anything that I have experienced in my life before. I am continually reminded that never before have I had so many of God's people praying for me, and that I have to do with the infinitely loving One, who is wont to do more than is either asked or thought. Oh, how I wish that I had proportionately advanced in personal holiness! for each additional year's experience in the mission-field makes me realize the more that this is the one thing needful, and that a number of workers, and money, and organization, and all else, are so much hay, straw, and stubble without it.

The late Rev. J. Blackburn.

The Rev. J. Blackburn was one of a party of six missionaries who went out to reinforce this Mission in 1882, under the leadership of the Rev. J. Hannington. The following year, when Mr. Hannington was compelled to come home, Mr. Blackburn accompanied him to the coast. He returned to Uyui, and laboured there till 1886, when he visited England to recruit his health. Last year, in April, he went out again. On June 26th he was ordained by Bishop Parker in the newly-dedicated church of St. Paul, at Rabai, and the day after he set out with the Bishop on the long journey, viâ Mamboia and Mpwapwa, to the Victoria Lake. He died exactly a fortnight before the Bishop, who wrote:—

> The circumstances appear to me peculiarly distressing. They had been so recently married, when in noble self-forgetfulness they agreed to being parted for a time that he might respond to the urgent call for help from this Mission-field. The season of separation seemed close upon ended. Mrs. Blackburn was on the point of embarking to join him probably when the telegram will have reached England, telling her that her child is fatherless and she a widow. There are times when the all-sufficiency of God's consolations are put to the test, and His Name is glorified in those that believe. Out here he was the only missionary in Unyamwezi who knew anything to speak of, of the vernacular of this part, so that his removal creates a gap which no one for some time will be competent to fill. Instances of self-sacrifice such as this ought to rouse men in Christian England to come over and help us. But how am I to expect this when the death of Bishop Hannington led to so much talk and so-called "interest," but to scarcely any corresponding action?

Their journey from Rabai to Mamboia.

The first part of the route taken by the Bishop and Mr. Blackburn, that from Rabai to Mamboia, a distance of 400 miles, had not previously been traversed in its entirety by a white man, and was unknown to any of the party. This party consisted of 120 porters, nearly all of them from Kisulutini and Frere Town, whose behaviour was admirable. As the Bishop wrote:—"Having morning and evening prayers, and services on Sunday, makes it like a little church, and helps to make the people in the various villages where we halt understand that ours is not an ordinary caravan for trading purposes or slaves." The journey was, indeed, strictly a "preaching tour." The Bishop had wisely included in the equipage a "sciopticon" and a number of Scripture slides, and at several places en route he exhibited these, and Mr. Blackburn explained the great facts of redemption to the friendly and astonished auditors. No opposition was experienced anywhere from the Natives; the main difficulties, indeed, were rather a consequence of the absence of Natives, considerable districts having been depopulated by famine; the jungle had invaded the sites of former villages and shambas; food was scarce, and paths bad. The party reached Mamboia on August 5th. After a few days spent at this station and at Mpwapwa, the Bishop and Mr. Blackburn went forward. They arrived at Uyui September 16th, and left October 20th for the Lake. On Monday, November 7th, the Bishop reached Usambiro, where he found Mr. Mackay. On the 15th, with Mr. Blackburn, he proceeded to explore the country along the south-east side of Speke Gulf. During their absence the Revs. R. P. Ashe and R. H. Walker, and Mr. D. A. L. Hooper arrived at Usambiro, and in December, after his return thither, the Bishop held a conference with the five missionaries who were there assembled, and they discussed together for an entire fortnight, with the utmost harmony and brotherly love, the plans and possibilities of the Mission.

Arrival at the Lake.

Two eye-witnesses of Bishop Hannington's murder, both members of his party, communicated with Mr. Mackay at the close of 1886. One of them appeared in U-Ganda, and the other wrote to him from the south side of the Lake. The latter, a Frere Town Christian named Christopher Boston, who had himself a marvellous escape from death, subsequently came down to the coast and was examined by Mr. Shaw. Both agree that the late Bishop was speared, and not shot as had been supposed. One related that "the Bishop kneeled down and clasped his hands as if in prayer, and was speared in both sides at once when in that attitude." Thus Bishop Hannington, like Drs. Livingstone and Krapf, died upon his knees.

Eye-witnesses of Bishop Hannington's murder.

One of Bishop Hannington's earliest projects on first reaching his diocese was the erection of a church at Frere Town, and the Committee have cordially approved proposals of Bishop Parker and of the Mombasa Finance Committee that a church shall be built there as a memorial to Bishop Hannington and the Native martyrs of U-Ganda. Towards the special fund which has been opened for this purpose some interesting contributions have been received, including 46*l.* from the Native Christians of Tinnevelly through Bishop Sargent, and 10*l.* from Melanesia through Bishop John Selwyn.

Proposed memorial church at Frere Town.

The Committee heard with much satisfaction of the appointment of Colonel Euan Smith as Consul-General of Zanzibar, in succession to Sir John Kirk. Colonel Smith has already proved himself a friend of Missions in Africa, and also in India. On November 1st he had an interview with the Committee, and assured them of his interest in the Society's work.

I.—MOMBASA MISSION: FRERE TOWN AND RABAI.

Frere Town.

Return of Rev. W. S. Price to the Mission.

New station at Mombasa.

The health of nearly all the European missionaries at Frere Town has suffered more or less severely, especially during the winter months. To the Committee's great regret, the Rev. A. Downes Shaw, the Secretary of the Mission, who had had an attack of dysentery in July, was peremptorily ordered home in November. The Rev. H. K. Binns, who was residing at the newly-opened station at Shimba, in the hope that with the advantage of its more healthful situation he might continue out a few months longer, succeeded to his responsibilities, being assisted in the keeping of accounts, &c., by the Rev. A. G. Smith, the young missionary who went out last year. But in February Mr. Binns was ordered home. Under these circumstances the Committee were especially thankful that the Rev. W. S. Price, their tried and experienced missionary, the founder of Frere Town in 1875, was able and ready at very short notice to buckle on the harness afresh, and, leaving his wife, to go again to the scene of his former labours. He arrived in March.

Mr. T. S. England has continued with fluctuating health at the school work. Miss Harvey has several times been seriously ill, and was sent to Zanzibar in November, but was obliged to come to England in March. Miss Fitch, who reached the Mission in August, has proved an invaluable helper among the children. Dr. Vernon Ardagh arrived in October. He has resided in the old Mission-house in the town of Mombasa, which was given to Dr. Krapf and Mr. Rebmann, forty years ago, by the then Sultan of Zanzibar. This is a distinct extension of the Mission. The inhabitants are Mohammedans. The Rev. W. E. Taylor has returned to the Mombasa Mission, and has been engaged in his former work of translating the Scriptures and other books, and itinerating. For some months he resided at Mombasa with Dr. Ardagh, and subsequently at Rabai. The Rev. W. Roper, on reaching Zanzibar, declared his intention of proceeding to Lake Nyassa, to form an industrial or agricultural settlement, and he accordingly severed his connexion with the Society. Mr. Pratley, a printer by trade, who had just begun his course at Islington, has succeeded Mr. Dodd in the management of the printing-press. Mr. J. Burness, who returned home from the Niger Mission last year, arrived in April with Mrs. Burness. Captain Wilson has returned and resumed command of the Henry Wright, on which Mr. Reid is the engineer. Mr. C. W. Hodder has left the Mission. The Rev. Ishmael Semler is the Native pastor.

More freed slaves.

Mr. Barclay, the Vice-Consul, visited Frere Town in June last year, and the ship which took him thither also conveyed twenty-eight freed slaves to the Mission, only four of whom were children.

The School.

Of the School, Mr. England sends, as usual, an interesting report :—

Boys' familiarity with the Scriptures;

The remark has often been made by those who have occasionally come in to assist us at the Sunday-school, as to the rapidity with which the first class turn up passages of Scripture. If they are asked to tell where such and such a verse is found, it is a very rare thing for some boy not to be able to answer correctly. It is well to encourage them to search the Scriptures, that they may prove what they hear.

This year we have introduced Arabic into the school. It is much spoken in Mombasa, and all along this coast. The pundit comes in to teach three afternoons a week. They are now able to read it, and to write Kiswahili in the Arabic characters.

their industry,

Each boy has to learn to make himself useful. As soon as the morning service is over, a few boys are sent off to the store with baskets, to get the daily allowance of food. On their return it is pounded, and then they set to to grind it. Some boys carry water for cooking, others fetch firewood. Each boy has something to do till eight o'clock. Those who do not attend to the food sweep the compound, and put tidy the dormitory and schools. During the week each class has its turn at cultivation.

Considering the boys come from so many different tribes, it is surprising how well they agree together. A happier set of boys could not be found. They seem to get a great deal of fun out of a few playthings, which are of the poorest kind. They make their own tops and kites. They are very fond of their old Native games, and will only put them aside for football. They are all hearty and strong. Never were the boys in better condition.

Mr. Semler says of the Pastoral Work among the adults:—

Pastoral work.

The grown-up men and women are put to work in the Mission, and after a time they get married to each other, and build their own houses. Some get their living themselves by going on Safaries, and others depend upon the Mission work.

All these people look to the Mission as children do to their parents. These people I teach. When the Rev. A. D. Shaw was here, he took Thursday: he having gone home, I take it. On Monday, James Deimler takes one class of catechumens. On Tuesday, I have a class of catechumens. On Wednesday, I take the same. On Thursday, I take candidates' class for baptism. On Friday, I take the Church members' class. In these classes there are some who seem to feel their soul's salvation when spoken to. I visit them every now and then, and point them the way of Heaven, and some are like babes who want to be fed with milk. I trust that the Lord, in whose sight all hearts are opened, will open the hearts of some of them, as He did open the heart of Lydia, that they may be true sheep of the Lord Jesus.

I visit the hospital and speak to those who are suffering under pain of sickness.

Rabai has been under the pastoral care of the Rev. William H. Jones, Native clergyman. Allusion has already been made to the ordination of the late Rev. J. Blackburn, at Rabai, on June 25th. On the previous day the new church of St. Paul had been formally set apart for divine service. The following description of the church and the ceremonies on that occasion is taken from Mr. Shaw's journal:— Rabai.

June 24th.—A red-letter day in the history of this Mission, because it was the day on which the first real church was given up publicly to the Lord for His service. Opening of St. Paul's church.

The building is 90 by 40 feet, and has an elegant iron roof, which we had out specially from England. The furniture, most of which was given by different friends in England, is all of oak. The stone font occupies a prominent position, being in the centre, between the choir-stalls; it was given by six little English children, and has the appropriate text cut in it, "Ye are all one in Christ Jesus." Below the font, in the body of the church, is the harmonium, which was bought by special subscription raised principally at Croydon. The windows are all Venetian, topped with coloured glass, so that we get light and air, and yet very little sun; the walls are of sufficient height so that there is no unpleasant heat from the iron roof, which is constructed with a louvre for ventilation.

It was a glad moment when we walked in, for there was the completion of a work which had taken up considerably more than two years. The foundations were dug on August 18th, 1885, but we had been working in the quarries for months before that; the actual work of building has taken twenty-two months.

I commenced the services by reading the offertory sentences, as it was considered advisable to let the people unburden themselves of the corn and other produce they had brought. It was a never-to-be-forgotten sight; when the people heard the sentences, they did not wait for the collectors to come to them with the bags—they poured out of the seats, up the aisles, and forced their money on the collectors. The bags and plates were too small to contain all, so the money was poured into the font, which was half filled with coins. The collection amounted to Rs. 565:20. Of this sum, the greater portion had been given by the European missionaries and others at Frere Town. I put the subscription list in the plate; it amounted to Rs. 480. The coin given in church amounted to Rs. 85:20; of Offertory.

this Rs. 65 was in silver, and Rs. 20 in copper—the number of copper coins given was 1200. After the collection Binns gave out the first hymn, "Lord of the worlds above," and how the grand tune of Barwell's did ring through the building, as from sixty choir children and 600 voices the song of praise went up. The iron roof, of course, gives a ring to sound, but the iron bars of the roof crossing and re-crossing the church cut up the echo, so that there is nothing unpleasant in the sound—in fact the church seems acoustically perfect. The sentences, exhortations, absolution, &c., to the Venite followed, then special Psalms, 24th, 84th, 118th, were most appropriate. Verse 8 of Ps. lxxxiv. was pleasingly illustrated, for up among the iron rafters two swallows had built their nest, and one was sitting at the time of the service. The first lesson, 2 Chr. vi., was read by Taylor, and the second, John iv. 1—26, by Blackburn. Then the first half of the service was finished by Binns, who read some prayers specially written for the occasion by the Bishop. Then followed a translation of No. 307 "Church Hymns," "Christ is the foundation of the house we raise," sung to the tune of "Hermes." Some more special prayers, the general thanksgiving, St. Chrysostom's Collect, and the Grace, followed. Then the hymn, "Christ is our Corner-stone," to tune 239 A.M. The Bishop preached from Isaiah lx. 21, 22.

Confirmation. June 25th.—Another important day, and I trust one of great blessing to many souls. The Bishop confirmed sixty-three candidates, six of whom came from Frere Town, the rest were Rabai people. The service was at eleven, and was so arranged that all the clergymen (six) took part in it.

Ordination June 26th.—Blackburn was priested to-day. It was a very solemn time for all, and one I trust of special blessing to our dear brother. After the service 103 of us partook of the Holy Communion. In the afternoon a Giriama convert, name Gona, was baptized by Binns. He received the name Johanna. He is a very promising Christian, and one for whom much prayer has been offered up. May our Father make him a bright, shining light in heathen Giriama!

Giriama country. Robert Keating, a Native catechist, has been stationed at Mwaiba. Mr. Shaw and Mr. England, taking with them fourteen of the elder schoolboys, visited this station in August, and Mr. Taylor itinerated in the Giriama country in November.

Shimba. In August Mr. Binns took up his residence at Shimba, and later, twenty-six of the less forward boys were taken thither from Frere Town to form the nucleus of an industrial school.

II.—TAITA AND CHAGGA.

Mr. J. A. Wray has continued at Sagalla, where he was joined in October by the Rev. W. Morris. The Native catechist, Jeremiah, has also been located here. The hopes of early fruit which the warm welcome accorded to Mr. Wray in September, 1886, and the conduct of the people for several months afterwards, engendered, have been painfully disappointed. Of those early days of promise Mr. Wray writes :— "Days of promise" at Sagalla.

When I came from Chagga, I found my people few in number and apparently ready to listen to the teaching of God's Word, so I commenced to hold services at once. I had service every day in the week and twice on Sunday : these were well attended. Our hearts were at one with each other, so we got on well together. I loved and was loved, particularly by the young men, who would do anything for me; they used to call themselves my soldiers. I was, in fact, as good as their chief. Whatever I said was wrong they would never attempt to do. One day I met some old men going to make medicine to put to right (as they call it) the country. I told them that it savoured of Satan : so they all turned back.

The services were held at that time in an old verandah, which was far too small, and Bishop Parker, when he visited Taita in February last year, instructed Mr. Wray to build a church, which, with much perseverance, he succeeded in doing. For the sum of Rs. 170, about 15*l.*, an edifice capable of seating 300 people was put up. "Those were happy days," Mr. Wray writes, "but they did not last long." The people whom the famine had dispersed, kept coming back from the Giriama country. These had not personally experienced the kindness of the Mission to soften their prejudice, and their influence proved decidedly hostile. A church for 15*l.* Return of fugitives.

They found me and my people in a flourishing condition, and instead of casting in their lot with us, they set themselves to destroy our peace, and draw my people away from me. They began to accuse them of forsaking their old customs, and embracing the white man's ideas. They made songs of them and called them fools; they accused them of ruining their country, &c. All this was too much for my people, they thought they could listen to their friends and yet not refuse to listen to me.

Neither was I long in finding out the change. I saw with deep sorrow what was being done. I pleaded with them not to follow their friends, but listen to me ; but it was all in vain. They found that the old paths were much easier than the new ones, and preferred them. They told me plainly that they could never become Christians, as they would have to give up many of their old customs, and that they never could think of doing. They could give up nothing for religion. What their fathers did so did they, and they never meant to be any different. Thus they have gone on from bad to worse. Change for the worse.

The attendance has fallen off since the opening of the new church. Even at the opening of it they took it in the coolest manner possible. According to our idea we should think such a day a great day, and every one would try and be present upon the occasion; but here people do not take things in that light. These people made it a point to be absent on that occasion.

In October an incident led to a very serious exhibition of the hostility and superstitious fears of the people. On three successive days parties of armed Natives surrounded the missionaries and clamorously charged them with having brought the late famine, and with the intention to bring another. Stones and arrows were thrown at them more than once. On each occasion, however, the timely intervention of some friendly Natives averted the peril.

Bura.

Several visits have been made by Mr. Wray to Bura, a more populous part of the Taita district, where it is proposed to build a small rest-house, with a view to making occasional visits of several days' duration. The first two visits were made in the company of Bishop Parker on his way to and from Chagga in February last year, and the Bishop's account of the chief Mbogoli's superstitious apprehensions is sadly characteristic.

Its superstitious chief.

We tried to get an interview with the chief Mbogoli, but for hours he would not come, he was so afraid we should bewitch him! At last Mr. Wray found him sitting alone under a tree, and managed to bring him. After much talk he agreed to give us a piece of land. We gave him a present of some cloth. He and his elders and warriors began to say that it was bewitched!

Two or three weeks afterwards, on my return from Mochi, Mr. Wray met me again in Bura, and we went to Mbogoli's village. He received us in a friendly way, but an hour's talk only brought us to the point that my heart must be tested. So a goat was brought, on whose head he spat, taking an oath that his heart was right towards me. Then I had to spit on the goat's head and assert that my heart was right towards him. The animal was killed, and after Mbogoli and his elders had made a long examination of the liver and entrails, they pronounced themselves satisfied that my heart was all right. Another hour's talk before Mbogoli promised to come down to us at our camp, which was on the land we wanted; and when he came, another hour's talk before all was settled. He gave us the land, and we gave him a present. Then another hour's talk before we could get him to go.

The Bishop "tested."

The third visit last February by Mr. Wray and Mr. Morris, brought the missionaries into another scene of violence.

Translations.

Mr. Wray has translated the Gospels for the Sundays of the year.

Moschi.

At MOSCHI, in the Chagga country, about eighty miles inland from Taita, and 180 from the coast, the Rev. E. A. Fitch has spent another year of waiting for the precious fruits. Since Bishop Parker's short stay in February last year, his loneliness has been broken by several European visitors. Mr. Jackson, one of a party of English hunters, whose headquarters were at Taveta, visited him twice; and in August some members of the German East African Trading Association reached Moschi and commenced building and experimenting on the soil. The chief Mandara has been uniformly friendly, never refusing Mr. Fitch an interview, and paying him several informal visits, when he even restrained his cupidity, "not begging much on his visits." Mr. Fitch is making headway in the language. He finds the Natives good-natured and friendly; they have a great idea of the power and efficacy of European medicines. He says:—

Applicants for medical treatment,

They constantly come here to be cured of various diseases, from a broken leg to a woman's bad temper (if that be a disease; anyhow, Mandara himself was quite certain I had medicine wherewith to cure one of his ladies thus afflicted. I took the opportunity of speaking to him of the need of a new heart, but without impressing him at all). I endeavour to do my best for them and apply simple remedies. One man burnt himself with gunpowder in taking a red-hot iron to bore his horn of powder. He was some time recovering, but is now completely cured. Other cases were wounds from a leopard, from guns and spears; all of which we cured.

But the insensibility of the people to spiritual things continues, and the Committee earnestly echo Mr. Fitch's request for prayer.

but no inquirers after salvation.

In spiritual work nothing seems to be done, and one cannot but feel dispirited when one sees the gross ignorance and superstition of the people, and they seem to wish to keep in their darkness; the very idea of the need of a Saviour is almost unmeaning to them; it may be that I do not place the truths intelligibly before them; but until one really comes amongst the people, it is impossible to realize their indifference. One often hears of heathen lands crying out for missionaries, but all the Wachaga care for is cloth and beads. Let us commend Chaga in the meanwhile to your earnest prayers, and myself that grace may be given me to do something for the Master.

Scholars at last.

A letter written in January gives more encouraging news. Several boys had been sent to him by Mandara to be taught, and were making good progress.

III.—U-SAGARA, U-NYAMWEZI, &c.

The Bishop's plans.

The two most remote of the four stations between Zanzibar and the Lake, viz. Uyui and Msalala, have been temporarily given up. Nevertheless it will be convenient in this Report to observe the old divisions. Bishop Parker was hoping to establish one strong headquarter station for the whole Lake district, near the Lake, on the south side, and to place there the secretary of this part of the Mission, a medical missionary, printing-press, &c.; and to have centres for evangelistic work in Buganda, Kavirondo, and U-nyamwezi, with inexpensive buildings and no supplies not absolutely necessary for the station missionaries. The Bishop's journey towards the Lake, accompanied by the Rev. J. Blackburn, has already been traced. The Ugogo country proved unexpectedly comfortable for travelling,—"a good level path with water most of the way." The Revs. R. P. Ashe and R. H. Walker reached Zanzibar in September, and Usambiro in December. Mr. D. Deekes followed them up country as far as Mtinginya's village, near Uyui, in the company of Mr. Stokes, and later on joined Mr. Hooper at Nasa. Mr. J. S. Watt came home in October. Mr. C. Wise has left the Mission.

U-SAGARA MISSION: MAMBOIA AND MPWAPWA.

Mamboia. The Rev. A. N. Wood's Annual Letter from MAMBOIA was written in July, 1887. He had then completed his first year in Africa, "without fever or any illness whatever," and he gave an encouraging account of his work. The Bishop was much pleased with what he saw when he visited this station in August.

Mpwapwa. At MPWAPWA the Rev. J. C. Price, who returned in August, and Dr. S. T. Pruen have laboured, while the Rev. H. Cole has continued at Kisokwe. Dr. Pruen had an attack of typhoid fever in May last year, and his recovery was very slow. By August, however, he was able to start for the coast, to meet Miss Hutchinson, to whom he was married at Freretown on September 22nd. By the middle of November he had returned with his bride, the seventh lady missionary of the Society to make a home in the interior of Eastern Equatorial Africa.

Dr. Pruen's marriage.

The external conditions of the station have not been favourable. A hostile feeling on the part of the chiefs and people of Mpwapwa towards Kisokwe has led to several disturbances, and the missionaries have not always succeeded in promoting peace. The advent of a party of German traders has introduced another force contributing to unrest, as, failing to conciliate the Natives by a due observance of the usages and courtesies of intercourse between guests and hosts, they excited suspicions which culminated in an open collision at the beginning of the year.

German traders.

For a considerable part of the year Dr. Pruen was alone, and being unacquainted with the language, aggressive missionary work was not possible. He says:—

During the greater part of my stay out here I have either been ill myself or in constant attendance on my sick brethren; and that, together with secretarial work, has occupied most of my time and attention, so that I can hardly call myself, as yet, a missionary in more than desire. Spiritually, it has been a very happy year to me, and the small amount of attention which I have been able to give to the sick Natives has been amply repaid by their care of and attention to me during the many weeks I have lain ill, helpless and alone. I know so little of the language, and, consequently, of the inner desires of the people around me, that I am not competent to express any opinion as to the prospects of work here, or the best methods to be pursued. Gratitude of Natives.

I have now the help of my dear wife, without whom I hardly see how I could work amongst the women. We had a pleasant and uneventful journey up from Zanzibar. From what little I can see of the work here, it seems to me that for a married woman, though there are many discomforts, there are few, if any, physical hardships.

Since his return Mr. Price has been engaged in translating the Psalms, and he has printed the Morning and Evening Services in Kigogo. On reopening the school he found that a few had kept up their reading, and that he could make use of them in teaching the quite ignorant ones. He has lately been much encouraged by a spiritual awakening among the people. In February he wrote:— The school.

You will be glad, and with us thankful to the Lord of the harvest, for what seems to be really an earnest of better things at Mpwapwa. I suppose it is possible to be too hopeful, so that when what we expected does not come, we are disappointed and discouraged; but I cannot help thinking we have (rather, I have) not been expectant enough in the past. We pray, but without acting as though we really expected the answer. But certainly of late I have been encouraged, and rebuked for my "little faith," in seeing the interest the Wagogo appear to be taking in the Gospel. We get larger congregations on Sundays than ever before. What we call our "church," which at one time I almost despaired of ever seeing filled with Wagogo, now gets quite "packed;" and to-day (Saturday) when out visiting the people and inviting them to come to-morrow, they say they are coming in such numbers that it will be "full outside as well as inside." There have not been any more baptisms yet; for I have not put the subject before them very definitely as yet, and you know my objection to being too hasty in administering that holy rite. Church "full outside as well as inside."

No Annual Letter has been received from Mr. Cole at Kisokwe. He has recovered in a great measure from the effects of his dangerous accident in December, 1886, though still unequal, in December last, to much walking.

A well-situated station was selected by Mr. Watt at Kikombo in 1886, where he built a house and a small church. Mr. Cole spent several weeks there last autumn, and Dr. and Mrs. Pruen were residing there in the recent spring.

U-NYAMWEZI MISSION: UYUI.

Mr. Douglas Hooper was alone in Uyui until the Bishop's Uyui:

and Mr. Blackburn's arrival in September last. His life among the people has itself been a seed-sowing. Christ has been manifestly set forth, and it will not prove in vain, the Committee are assured. Uyui, as the headquarters for the various stores to supply the more distant stations, has had at times an accumulation of goods which have strongly excited the greed and rapacity of the chief. He has made from time to time, and more frequently last year, exorbitant and preposterous demands for hongo, and once, in August, even threatened to shoot Mr. Hooper if he did not comply. These demands and threats were repeated upon the Bishop's arrival. Moreover, as might be expected, this chief, often stupid or mad with pombe, not only gave no protection to the Mission, but himself actually robbed it. At length the Bishop determined to move quietly away for a time to the territory of a neighbouring friendly chief, Mtinginya; not a very easy operation, as the following extracts from Bishop Parker's and Mr. Hooper's letters show. On October 17th, 1887, the Bishop wrote:—

Greed of chief.

Resolution to abandon the Mission.

> Difficulty of removing the goods. To get the goods here away to safe places is like saving cargo from a wreck, now that the chief is hostile, or snatching things out of a house that is on fire. When the chief sees we really intend to leave, he can stop our caravans in the forest, or attack the Mission premises, or cause us other trouble. We have been doing our best to arrange matters. Hooper went up to see Mtinginya, and he is ready to receive and take care of such goods as we can deposit there—we hope to send the bulk there.

The Bishop left on October 20th, and Mr. Hooper, again left alone, set vigorously to work in packing up, and sent away a considerable quantity of goods. The chief now became seriously alarmed. His further demands for cloth being refused, and his drunken threats disregarded, on November 2nd he went himself to the Mission. Mr. Hooper wrote on November 8th:—

> I had not seen him since that stormy day when the Bishop was here. Many visitors that day left me little opportunity for quiet, but I just was "seeing to my armour," for I expected a warm time of it, when voices told me of the chief's arrival about 3.30. Yes, there he was, with the Arab's two men, and some half a dozen of his own head-men. The account of the hour and a half's storm is too long a story to give in detail, but it ended up in the chief being really friendly and going away in anything but an angry mood. When alone I said to Saburi, "Ah, Saburi, we have seen the working of God this afternoon," and he replied, "Truly, sir, God is Almighty." I have seen some great workings of the Master, e.g. a great hall full of men bowed down under Moody's preaching, but never did I feel more conscious that all was of the Lord. Here the chief came up to see me, whom all along he has regarded as the originator of his troubles, as I had so often refused his demands. He came up very, very angry, and I did not give in one iota; in fact, at one time during the "words," I delivered him up the keys of all the stores, and volunteered to leave on the following morning without carrying off a thing. The outcome of the words was, he withdrew all he said the day before about shooting any Wangwana; he would send to the "Big Master," begging his "very dear friends" to stay on, and meantime all might go on as heretofore,—only no box was to be carried out of the place; no, not if the Big Master returned or Stokes came.

A few days later, however, on November 15th, Mr. Hooper added a postscript to his letter:—

Removal effected.

To-day he has twice said we can take all the goods out, a thing he has never said before. I hear some of his big men have been on to him tremendously about driving the Mzungu away, and the absurdity of bringing force to bear here. Anyhow, you will agree that things have taken a very happy turn, and although things looked very black, now the prospect is bright and hopeful. Hallelujah! To Him be the glory and praise, for His is the power!

And on the 19th he left Uyui, and joined Messrs. Ashe and Walker at Kwa Mtinginya, and proceeded with them northward. On December 13th Mr. Deekes wrote from Mtinginya's:—"All the Uyui things have arrived here. The chief of Uyui sends a messenger with the goods desiring friendship with the missionary, hoping that he will soon return to him."

Invitation to return.

MSALALA.

Msalala.

The Rev. E. C. Gordon and Mr. C. Wise continued together at Msalala until last August, when Mr. Mackay arrived at the south of the Lake, on August 1st, and Mr. Gordon left by the Eleanor for Buganda on August 10th. The story of events very closely resembles the occurrences at Uyui. The chief, Ngata, is a son of Sundi, a powerful neighbouring chief, who was the leader of the combined attack on Msalala of January, 1886, when Chasama, the former chief, was made prisoner. Since then, Sundi and Ngata have continuously harassed the Mission, refusing to allow men to work for it, and ever wanting more presents.

Relations with chief.

At the end of September, just after the arrival of the ordinary mail, and while Mr. Mackay and Mr. Wise were removing the goods to the house vacated by Mr. Gordon, for greater safety, the climax came. Mr. Mackay wrote to the Bishop on October 4th:—

At length, on Monday (a week ago) the ordinary mail arrived. Then, after within a couple of hours' time, two men came from the chief with an insolent demand, but we did not pay any attention to them. They came in a defiant manner, loading their guns and preparing for charging again. They said that Ngata bade them tell us

"Fight or flee." to distribute arms among our men and make ready to fight, and if we were not prepared to fight we were to leave the country at once: they would give us till the morrow to take all our stuff away; further, that these were Sundi's orders!

On the second day of our packing I was asked to go and see the chief. I had previously asked permission to go and see him, but was refused. Now I asked that he should come to us. At night he sent a message that he was coming. We refused to receive him till next morning. He arrived early, and we received him in a quite friendly way. He pretended to be astonished that we were going, and did not know why. Our men repeated the words of his head-man the previous day. Ngata denied having sent such words, although the Nyanpara who was chiefly insolent on that occasion had the chief's breechloader and belt of cartridges on when he came. After various other pretexts and complaints that we constantly received as visitors neighbouring chiefs who were hostile to him (N.B. Ngata is hostile to all his neighbours), he said that the threatening words were not his, but his father's (Sundi's). This also we knew to be false, but merely replied that we meant to take no side in the Native quarrels, and would ever be friendly with all comers, and if that gave offence we must go elsewhere, as we could not afford to be fined (hongoed) whenever we received a visit. We also could not agree to have Natives prevented constantly from selling us food, or their cloth taken from them whenever they did chance to sell us anything. Ngata tried to explain away such actions, and left. I accompanied him halfway to his village, and later on in the day paid him a visit. On that occasion he told me that there would be no more words, which assurance was worth little, as he had let out to some of our men that he meant to wait until we got a caravan, when he would make a heavy demand for fine cloths, "as we had never given him anything yet." Mr. Wise tells me of bales of cloth which Ngata and Sundi have had from the Mission within the last two years. It therefore seems that the authorities of Msalala are too expensive customers for us to continue to deal with, hence we see nothing for it but to finish our packing and leave quietly.

Expensive customers.

Usambiro. The removal was effected a few days later, and USAMBIRO, a few miles farther north, the chief of which had expressed himself friendly, received the missionaries and their goods, was the scene of the Conference in December, and has now become a fourth point in the circle of the Lake, to receive the precious bodies of men who, having obtained a good report through faith, wait for the promise.

IV.—UGANDA.

"I WILL now turn aside and see this great sight, why the bush is not burned." The Church of God oppressed, afflicted, yet living and growing, was indeed a great sight worth turning aside to see, and when seen presented a great problem worthy of a thoughtful man's reflection. Moses found it involved a great duty, and in God's strength he went from Sinai to fulfil it. The same sight has been presented to the world and the people of God in Uganda, and the Committee have been deeply rejoiced to know that the sight has called forth much sympathy, has excited much prayer, and has provoked many to a more devoted surrender of themselves to the Lord, to serve Him, and to suffer for Him, and to look for His appearing.

Sympathy of Native Christians in Tinnevelly,

The beautiful letter sent to the converts by the Christians of Tinnevelly, accompanied by a gift of 80*l.*, collected at the services on Christmas Day, 1886, was printed in last year's Report (page 158), and touching letters were received from many of the Society's Missions. But, in addition to these, some very interesting communications have been welcomed from other Missions. From China, a small contribution, subscribed by Native Christian boys connected with the English Presbyterian Mission at Swatow, has been received. From Madagascar a missionary of the London Missionary Society wrote that the account of the Uganda massacres had been published as a tract, of which 8000 copies had been distributed all over Imerima, and made the subject of united prayer by the congregations. From Melanesia, Mrs. Selwyn wrote to a lady missionary of the Universities' Mission:—"Our hearts were much stirred by the wonderful martyrdoms in Uganda, for which truly we can only thank God and marvel at the power of His grace. Our boys talk of the Uganda boys by their Christian names, and they are household words amongst us, so real was it to us."

Mr. Mackay.

Mr. A. M. Mackay continued at Rubaga alone after the Rev. R. P. Ashe's departure in August, 1886, until his own departure on July 21st, last year. He was one of the party, consisting of seven, who left England to commence this Mission in 1876, of whom only three survive, and one only, himself, in this Mission. His sojourn in Uganda of eight years and eight months, from November 6th, 1878, has been only twice interrupted, from April to November in 1880, and when he crossed the lake to put the Eleanor together in 1883.

He has been not only an eye-witness of the growth and suffering of the little band of believers in these eventful years, but has borne the care of them with gentle solicitude as a nurse cherisheth her children, grieving for their griefs, burning for their offences. In one of the rare allusions to himself, the following words, written in March last year, show how the earnest and continuous intercessions for him were answered:—

Upheld by prayer.

Since receiving the mail—some six months' letters all at once—I have had the consciousness strongly forced upon me that our very existence here is mightily due to the prayers of you and all children of God in Europe.

What sadness and melancholy comes over me at times, and I find myself shedding tears like a child! Then those wonderfully consoling psalms of David and Asaph, which send a thrill of joy into my whole being. This all-but-omnipotent reign of evil weighs one down, and then the exultant hope of its eternal destruction, and the ultimate triumph of good, cheers me up to more endurance and perseverance to the end.

In January, 1887, Mr. Mackay was occupied in erecting a flagstaff for the king. His able apology for this branch of missionary work deserves to be quoted at length, but space only for a few sentences can be spared.

I do not grudge the pains, as, by God's blessing, it will help to show all and sundry that we have no desire to see any other flag here than Mwanga's, and something "big" always tells with ignorant people (at home and abroad). Even were it not so, mechanical work is probably as legitimate an aid to Missions as medical.

Physics as a missionary agency.

Perhaps you have noticed that, of the sixty or more miracles recorded in the Old Testament, by far the greater number are more closely connected with physics than with physic. Nor do I see why the one should not be as helpful to Mission work as the other, except for the difficulty of getting out of the rut our ideas run in. I believe too that the present facilities for prosecuting Mission work at the ends of the earth are more due to the advance the century has made in mechanics than in medicine.

On February 22nd the king's palace was burnt to the ground at mid-day, the flagstaff also being burnt to ashes. On the following day Mr. Mackay called to pay his respects at court, and one of the controversies which Mwanga, like his late father, so much enjoys, took place between him and the Arabs:—

Who are Mwanga's best subjects?

Then a tedious palaver with the Arabs, the king questioning them as to who could read best. I interposed that seeing we were all Baganda here, and not subjects of either Zanzibar or Muscat, it were best that we should read Luganda instead of Arabic. "I read Luganda," I said, "because it is the language of the king, and here I am his subject; while if I were in Muscat I would learn to speak and read Arabic." Ali bin Sultan asked if he was not one of Mwanga's people; I replied that when he got all his ivory he would be out of Buganda as soon as he could. This caused some merriment; but the Arab would not be outdone. "I am more a Muganda than you," said he; "my wives are all Baganda." "But you do not teach them to read Arabic," I replied; "women in your eyes have no souls, and are only chattels, while we teach women as well as men."

On April 26th a letter, written by the Consul-General at Zanzibar the previous September, and conveyed by Suliman, an Arab trader, reached Uganda. It was written in Arabic, but Mr. Mackay received an English translation. This letter was suppressed by Suliman until May 6th, and then it was so mistranslated as to appear to ask Mwanga to drive the Europeans from his court. On May 8th Mr. Mackay, in anticipation of having to leave, arranged to send 150 loads of iron and other things to Msalala; but at the same time he determined to hold on if he could possibly do so. The first news of Stanley's expedition reached Uganda June 26th. On that day a letter of Acting-Consul Holmwood, addressed to Mr. Mackay in English and Arabic, came to Suliman's hands, who, in order to learn the contents, did not hesitate to break the Consular seals and tear the envelope. The open letter was handed to Mr. Mackay, who found the torn envelope and broken seals, after Suliman's departure, by the chair on which he had sat. Suliman's impression after reading the letter with his assistant's help, was that "Muzungu was coming to Uganda with 1000 guns." It was providential that he did not go at once to the court with this tale, as, had he done so, Mr. Mackay says, "there is every probability that a panic would have been the result." Mr. Mackay was able to convince him that Stanley's route was viâ the Congo, and not Ugogo, as he had supposed.

News of Stanley's expedition reaches Uganda.

June 27th proved an eventful day indeed. The following are extracts from Mr. Mackay's journal:—

June 27th.—Hosts of medical cases and other requirements of our people somewhat delayed me in getting to court, so that when I arrived I found the burzah had been some time sitting. All the Arabs were there, and Suliman had apparently already had his say. I was scarcely seated before the king asked me where Stanley was. I replied by producing from my pocket the Consul's letter, and read that "Suliman bin Zeher had received orders from Seyed Burgash to inform King Mwanga that Stanley was going with a caravan of supplies to Emin Pasha, and that he was not passing this way, but round by the West Coast, up the Congo River to the other side of Manyuema, thence to Wadelai, viâ the other side of the Mutanzige; his expedition was not a fighting army, but a peaceful caravan of supplies."

The king asked me if Stanley would come here? "Don't know; if you send and invite him he may." "Will Kabarega allow him to pass?" asked Mwanga. I replied that I could not say anything as to what Kabarega might or might not do. I further added that Stanley was not going alone, but had with him an Arab—Mahomed bin Mahomed (Tipu Tib). Suliman was then called forward, and asked who this Arab—Tipu Tib—was. He replied that he was a great land-eater. "How does he eat the land?" asked the king. Suliman replied that his method was as if he came here and fired guns and shot the people, and thus by degrees took the whole country.

King asked how many guns Stanley had. Suliman replied 1000, and some other Arabs said 2000. I said that I knew only that Stanley had engaged 600 porters at Zanzibar, and in every caravan the porters had guns.

The king then changed the topic, and asked me if I was ready to go to the coast with Suliman? I replied that I was ready to go, but not with Suliman; only I did not know why I should go at all, as the king had not told me to go; nor had I come to ask permission either; nor was Suliman sent to take me away against my will. Suliman thereon got up in a fury and charged me with slandering him every day, inasmuch as I had said that he had bribed Masudi to falsify the letters from the coast. He would not stand my lying accusations any longer, let me be sent away at once. I replied that I interfered in no way with Suliman, nor with any of the Arabs, but Suliman acted falsely towards me—witness these broken seals and tattered envelope. Suliman's first plea was "accident;" his second, "he had stolen nothing of the contents;" his third, that "he could not read Kizungu" (= white man's language, supposed everywhere to be all one). And when I reminded him that his Mwalimu was boasting in my house recently that he knew English well, Suliman demanded, insultingly, "Who was I that he should not open my letters, and who was the Consul that he should not break his seals? Were the seals the Queen's?" I answered that the Consul was her Majesty's agent, and his seal was therefore the Queen's. The Mwalimu, too, solemnly avowed, on being asked by the court, that he did not know a word of English [N.B. He has a fair smattering of it], while Suliman swore by Allah that the next letters he got for me he would tear entirely to pieces and throw them into the Lake! It was not at all for the sake of Suliman that I referred to this matter in court, but the opportunity was good to give the king to understand that seals were sacred things, and might not be recklessly broken.

An Arab exposed.

Again, however, the king said that I must go with the Arab. Again I said I would go to-morrow if he liked, but not with the Arab, nor was he authorized to take me. [N.B. To have gone with Suliman would, more than likely, mean to be murdered on the Lake. Even Suliman's great friend—Ali bin Sultan—has more than once given out that he was wanting a chance "to give me a bullet;" that, too, for no reason except pure malice, as I have always received him hospitably every time he came to visit, and have frequently visited him in a friendly way.]

I then returned to my seat. More talk followed, when the king turning to me said, in a half-jocular way, "You want to have us plundered." This remark created laughter, half from fear of the reality, and half from their belief that no power in the world could touch them; like the debauched Roman, "Ridet et moritur." But I was worried to exhaustion, and felt that only more trouble would follow if I did not yield. I therefore left my seat again, and going over to where the Katikiro was sitting, said, "The question is not who reported this or that, but does the king want me to go or stay? If he wants me to leave, I shall go at once, even with this Arab; but the Arab will not likely be ready for a year to come." I continued that I would leave my house and goods in charge of servants, and taking only my bedding, &c., go at once and have the matter settled and come back again. This was agreed to, the king asking me to leave my fundi, carpenter and tools, &c.

Mwanga's fears.

The whole matter is so mixed up with their fear of consequences on account of the murder of the Bishop, which Mwanga persists in stoutly denying, that no understanding with him will ever be possible until he acknowledges that crime, and expresses regret for it. Nor dare I charge him with murdering the Bishop and his men, nor say that I and others did report the fact of the murder. This is uppermost in his thoughts, and because not alluded to by the Consul, leaves King Mwanga a loophole whereby to charge me of accusing him of making me a prisoner.

Permission given to Mr. Mackay to leave,

I have gained, however, one important point, viz., permission to leave the station in our own possession, and not abandon it entirely, as the Arabs were determined should be done. It now remains for me to try to secure permission to send on either Gordon or Hooper to maintain the existing relations at least, until such time as the way may be opened for more men to come and resume the work under more favourable auspices; or, if matters do not mend, I may be able to come back myself.

A fortnight later this permission was obtained:—

and for Mr. Gordon to go in to Uganda.

July 13th.—Went to burzah. King asks, "You still here?" I said that I had come to bid adieu, and to ask for a Mubaka. "Suliman is your Mubaka," said the king. Fortunately, Suliman was not present, so the way was clear; I humbly begged him to give me a Mubaka of his own. He seemed inclined to go back to the former points of dispute, but the Katikiro replied, "We will give you a Mubaka." To this the king agreed, and Koluji suggested Nantinda, and that was also agreed to by Mwanga. I then asked if he wished the Mubaka to return alone, or to bring another white man to stay with him until I return. Mwanga seemed doubtful as to this, but after private consultation with the Katikiro and Koluji (Pokino was absent) he consented, and asked who I would send. I suggested Mr. Gordon, who was at Msalala, but said it might be necessary to delay until Mr. Hooper could come from Uyuwi. But Gordon was the nearest, and the name took his fancy as being familiar since the days of Gordon Pasha, so I was authorized to "send on Mr. Gordon by return of boat Eleanor."

On July 21st Mr. Mackay left the capital, the king having sent him copper and brass spears and shield, and brass ornaments for the neck, with a message that if he went only to Msalala he must return in three months' time, while if he went to the coast he must return very soon. He locked up the premises, leaving four Wangwana in charge, and gave the keys to Mons. Lourdel. On August 1st he reached Ukumbi, and the day following, to his great joy, met Mr. Gordon at the Creek. The latter returned with the Eleanor on August 10th.

It need scarcely be observed that Mwanga's heart was no more than previously disposed to relent towards his Christian subjects. No real amnesty or pardon was granted, but early in the year a delusive and treacherous offer of pardon was made, to which an adherent of the Roman Catholic Mission fell a victim. On March 6th, Mr. Mackay wrote:—

Christians in hiding.

We have had a period of respite, but once more the enemy seems to be let loose, and trouble is more than in the air. Less than a month ago, we had another scare, on a Sunday morning, and I had to dismiss our little congregation suddenly. The king had given out that he intended making another onslaught on the Christians, but happily he has been hitherto prevented from his bloodthirsty design. One or two of those in hiding had ventured to come to light, and nothing was done to them. Then another one or two prisoners for the faith were liberated, and intimation was made that all others in hiding might return. One ventured. He had been a page, and was at once sent by the king to the Katikiro, but has no more been seen. There is, in fact, sufficient evidence that he was secretly murdered in that official's enclosures. Then his Majesty took a turn to reading the Koran, and gave out that he would kill every one who refused to read it. Alarm seized all our young people, more especially as the Arabs had instructed their royal pupil that by slaying sacrifices he could bewitch those who disobeyed him. One and another of the pages were ordered to read Arabic, and the head of the pages (successor of Mukasa Balikudembe, who, you will remember, lost his life for venturing to interpose on behalf of Bishop Hannington) was sent for to his country seat that he might be forced to learn the Koran.

A victim to the king's treachery.

Palace on fire.

The Arabs were all present with the king, and their book, when suddenly fire broke out in the women's quarters. The wind was blowing fresh from the south, as it generally does at mid-day. The flames spread, and almost all the king's huge houses were reduced to ashes. He fled to the Katikiro's, but the sparks followed in the air, and that chief's houses and property were also quickly consumed. The king's property was saved, however, although several storehouses were burnt.

Threat to kill the Christians

The head page arrived since, and was ordered to read the Koran, but refused! This occasioned more wrath, but nothing has been done to the lad as yet, except continued sacrifice of animals to bewitch such as he. Would that nothing more were ever done! But who can tell? Again his Majesty gave out that he meant to kill the Christians. Strange interposition! His mother, a heathen, sent to the Katikiro and Kibare, asking them to advise the king not to hold another massacre, as those young fellows were his only strength, and at present he was not popular among his chiefs. They advised him accordingly. So far, execution was stayed; but, unfortunately, a few days ago, one of our Church Council, Mika (Limatimba), a sub-chief and officer in the bodyguard, who was spared in the last massacre, was going to the forest to cut canes for rebuilding the king's fences. On the way he was met by some of the royal ladies, who always travel with several executioners. These beat all and sundry to drive them off the road, and rob wayfarers. Mika's boy had a bundle on his head, containing the New Testament in Kiswahili, Prayer-book, and other books. The bundle was seized, and Mika fled. Next day the books were taken before the king, who sent them to the Katikiro, with a complaint that those pardoned were reading as before. Executioners were sent to find Mika, who has fled west, and others of our people with him. Some Christian lads who guard the king's house have been driven to more distant quarters, on the charge that they are bewitching him. This silly charge is always resorted to in Africa when a pretext is wanted to murder.

It is just a year since the royal premises were formerly burnt to the ground, and similar threats and charges of witchcraft were made about that time against the Christians as now. No wonder that our people are all uneasy and alarmed. But we are upheld by your prayers, and protected by an Arm infinitely mightier than Mwanga's.

Yet with all this rage a sense of impotence seems to have been mixed. "Possibly," Mr. Mackay suggested, "they feel themselves unable to exterminate the faith, yet would gladly do so." The king gave expression to this feeling later on, in June, when he was discussing with the Arabs Mr. Mackay's impending departure. He said, "I will not have his teaching in my country while I live. After I am dead the people may learn to read." More or less connived at by the authorities, reading and learning were clandestinely continued. In a letter to Mr. Ashe, March 8th, Mr. Mackay wrote:— Reading continued.

On Sundays I generally have a houseful; in fact, far more than I think safe or prudent meantime. But we must risk something. If Nero could let the manifestation of Christ, the Lord Jesus would also let the lawlessness of Nero. Let us, therefore, not be troubled or too anxious. We may soon see the kingdom of God coming here with power, although not with sudden observation.

Progress was quietly made with translations, and previous work was revised; the Christians' knowledge of, and love for God's Word increased, and learners soon became teachers, so that "beginners were numerous" in March, and the demand for printed books increased. Mr. Mackay was able to write in the last quoted letter that with the help of Duta, Bartolomayo, Luka, Andrea, and others, the whole of St. Matthew's Gospel had been rewritten to the end. He added:— Translations.

At present we are going through St. Luke, for the—I cannot-say-how-many—th time. We had a good stock of that Gospel, while the idiom of it has ever been almost unintelligible to most. Hence few ever took to it, the rage being on St. Matthew. But necessity compelled me to take up St. Luke, and now they seem all keen for it. I have read also several Epistles this last month with the more advanced ones. The Apocalypse, too, is always a favourite, as also the Acts. When, oh when, can they have more than the veriest fraction of the Word in their own tongue—I mean in real idiomatic intelligible language?

Books and papers continue to be purchased. I printed 200 Ngates since you left, and every one has been bought. Litany is entirely run out some time ago, and of the Mateka I have only two or three left. Even hymns continue to be bought. Of the Njatula I find still some 300 on hand, so that about 700 of these are in circulation. Gordon kindly sent me a parcel of Kiswahili books last month, and there is always more or less a demand for these. The little admiral Eager purchasers of publications.

still adheres to the faith, and comes occasionally. Edward has got promotion, being now Mutesa, one of the biggest Kitongolos in the country. Zakariya is still in hiding, and has, from sheer necessity, taken to the hoe. Samuel is likewise invisible, but communicates with me. Henry Wright spent a week or two here, but is now gone. One or two chiefs are learning secretly—Mwemba and Kajongolo.

Letter of Native Christians to the Committee

The following remarkable letter was received by the Committee in November; it had been translated and forwarded by the Rev. R. P. Ashe :—

Buganda Mission, May 13th, 1887.

Beloved of authority in the Church of Jesus Christ, our English fathers, and all Christians who love us; our brethren. We, your Buganda brethren, write to you to thank you for the letter which you sent us. We rejoice much to hear news which came from where you are to cheer our hearts through our Lord Jesus Christ.

We thank God that you have heard of our being persecuted. Thank God who brought our brother, where you are, whom we love, Mr. Ashe, and made you understand the evil which has befallen us Christians in Buganda, your children whom you have begotten in the Gospel.

Mr. Ashe has told you how we are hunted, and burned in the fire, and beheaded, and called sorcerers, for the name of Jesus our Lord. And do you thank God who has granted to us to suffer here at this time for the Gospel of Christ.

We hope indeed for this thing which you hoped for us in your letter, namely, that in a short time other teachers will come to teach. And you who have authority continue earnestly to beseech Almighty God, who turned the Emperor of Rome to become a Christian, who formerly persecuted the name of Jesus as to-day this our king in Buganda persecutes us. And do you our fathers hope that we may not in the least degree give up the Word of Christ Jesus. We are willing, indeed, to die for the Word of Jesus ; but do you pray for us that the Lord may help us. Finally, our friends, let your ears and eyes and hearts be open to this place where we are at Buganda. Now we are in tribulation at being left alone. Mr. Mackay, the Arabs have driven away out of Buganda. O friends, pity us in our calamity. We, your brethren, who are in Buganda, send you greetings. May God Almighty give you His blessing! May He preserve you in Europe. We remain, your children who love you,

Baptisms by Mr. Gordon.

On Sunday, November 13th, Mr. Gordon baptized two adults and four children. One of them, who took the name of Mattiya, was blind, but had learned twelve chapters of St. Matthew's Gospel, in Luganda, by heart. The other was a slave. Mr. Gordon wrote on November 14th to Mr. Mackay :—

The Baganda have won my heart, but I do not delight in going to court: if it were not the proper thing I would never go at all. The change is so great, the people so different from the Wanyamwezi;

but these, too, will delight to hear the news we bring them, when the Lord opens their hearts.

Dr. Emin Bey;

Occasional opportunities of communicating with Dr. Emin Bey have occurred and been used. At the end of February, Mr. Mackay was able to send him word of Stanley's proposed expedition, "also the Times with the article anent him and our Mission." Later, in acknowledging two copies of the Revised Version of the Bible, he says, "I shall send one of them to Emin. I mean to send him also Drummond's Natural Law. It may help, by God's blessing, to open his eyes. As Emin is a biologist, possibly he will readily agree in the main argument." On the other hand, Emin Pasha has fully appreciated Mr. Mackay's services. In January the latter received from him two tusks of ivory, value 55*l*., as a gift to the Church Missionary Society, in acknowledgment of these services; and in a letter dated August 16th, 1887, which appeared in the Times of April 10th, Emin Bey wrote:— his gratitude to Mr. Mackay.

I cannot speak too highly of the untiring exertions and valuable assistance afforded me by Mr. Mackay, the Church Missionary Society's missionary in Uganda. At great personal inconvenience he has not only provided for the despatch of our posts from and to Zanzibar, and has done his utmost to facilitate our transactions in Uganda, but he has actually deprived himself of many valuable things to assist myself and give me comfort.

On March 27th Mr. Ashe wrote from Usambiro that Mr. Walker would "start for Buganda in a day or two."

EGYPT MISSION.

Cairo, 1882.

THE Rev. F. A. Klein, in contemplating his work at Cairo, finds comfort and encouragement in the words of our Lord, "The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three measures of meal, till the whole was leavened." He remarks that the "dough of Islam into which the leaven of Christianity has to be introduced, is an immensely large lump, in comparison with the small bit of leaven (considering the agency and means hitherto used) which is to effect the mighty change of leavening it." In Cairo alone are upwards of 300,000 Mohammedans, some of them among the most learned, most orthodox, and most fanatical of all the disciples of the false prophet. Mr. Klein adds:—

Students of the Koran.

At the "Azhar University" there are said to be at present about 8000 students, who exclusively devote themselves to the study of the Koran jurisprudence, and other branches having exclusive reference to Islam. Nightly "zikrs," recitations of the Koran, processions and festivals in honour of the numerous Moslem saints, follow each other in rapid succession, in glorification of the "Prophet" and Islam, and constantly supply new food for Moslem pride, arrogance, and contempt and hatred of every non-Moslem element. Only lately some holy relics of the "Prophet"—a bit of his shirt, a stick, a comb, and some hairs of his beard—were carried in procession from the Khedive's Palace to the Hasanein Mosque. Upwards of 30,000 persons (Native papers say 50,000) from all ranks and corporations of the Moslem population of Cairo formed the procession. All orders of dervishes, the merchants, the tradesmen, the learned professors, pashas, and ministers of the various administrations were represented. The Khedive had with his own hands delivered the "holy relics" to Seyyid Bekri, Ghazi Muchtar Pasha, the Turkish Commissioner, and some other high functionaries, who carried them with banners flying, and to the wild sounds of drums and music, to the shrine which had been prepared for their reception. All these things are meant, and no doubt have the effect to keep up and increase Moslem zeal, orthodoxy, and exclusiveness, and to glorify Islam, not only as a religious, but also as a national element.

An easy religion.

The Moslem, as long he remains a Moslem, if but outwardly and by profession, has the consciousness that he belongs to the honoured and privileged class; his religion is, as the Koran plainly tells him, an "easy" religion, consisting, as it does, chiefly in the observation of outward rites, and the performing of some works of charity. It allows him to follow his sensual propensities, puts no stop to his revengeful feelings, allows him to swear and to lie, when he thereby considers he can save himself from harm, or render a service to others—in short, it is a most "easy" religion, and a most accommodating one—satisfied, if nothing more is obtainable, with the smallest degree of submission to its commands—even with the mere outward confession of "There is no God but God, and Mohammed is His prophet!"

How difficult to introduce the leaven of Christianity into meal of such quality!

Circulation of Scriptures

The spread of the Scriptures, a good number of copies in Arabic and Turkish having been sold to Mohammedans during the year, is a good sign. Copies of the Mizan-ul-Haqq, the Kindi, and the Burhan-ul-Jelil, and books comparing Islam with Christianity, have been widely circulated. Two inquirers, a Negro and an Egyptian, are under instruction, who seem to be sincere. There are now two boys' and two girls' schools, one of each in Cairo, and the other two in Old Cairo, in which 120 boys and 63 girls are under instruction. The boys' school in Cairo has 60 boys, all Moslems. A "college" opened in opposition to this by a famous and learned sheikh, under distinguished patronage, collapsed within a year for want of funds. The Old Cairo schools are held in a little palace formerly inhabited by a military pasha, and are greatly valued by both Moslems and Copts.

ARABIA MISSION.

Death of the Hon. I. K. Falconer.

The death of the Hon. Ion Keith Falconer from fever at Aden at an early age, and almost at the very commencement of a missionary career of great promise, was a cause of much regret to the Committee. The fact that he started his Mission (which was adopted at his request by the Free Church of Scotland) at Sheik Othman, about ten miles from Aden, simultaneously with the commencement of the Society's labours in Arabia, led the Committee to regard it with special interest, and to hope that the two Missions, almost side by side in this new and interesting field, would be a mutual help to each other.

But not only has one Mission lost its founder and chief human hope, but the Committee had already been led to contemplate removing their own missionary from Aden, as intimated in last year's Report. Accordingly, upon Dr. F. J. Harpur's return to the Mission last December, his instructions were to endeavour to establish a Medical Mission at Lhala, which is three days' journey from Aden, at the northern limit of the area protected by the British Government, and was strongly recommended by General Haig. In January, Dr. Harpur, accompanied by Mr.

Brunton, the Aden Depositary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, and Ibrahim, a colporteur of the same Society, paid a visit of six days to Dhala. A month later, having been joined by Mrs. Harpur and their infant child, and again accompanied by Ibrahim, kindly lent by the Bible Society, he reached Dhala once more, hoping, if the will of the Lord were so, to take up his residence there.

The following extracts from Dr. Harpur's journal during his visit in January afford a glimpse of some aspects of life in Dhala:—

Dhala children.

January 17th.—Got a house. Ibrahim had been making friends with the children, and, when we wanted to leave the Ameer's house, divided our baggage between them; we had quite a gathering of bright-faced little ones when we reached the house. As things were not quite ready for us we sat down on a rock outside, and the children gathered round us, among them a good many Jews. Some of the little Jewesses were pretty little things. The rooms we have got are—ground-floor for cooking-room; first floor divan, 20 feet long, 8½ feet wide, 7 feet high. A smaller room, about 8 feet square, was afterwards used for seeing patients in. Windows, small holes one foot square. Went out about five to see the place; children followed us and caught hold of our hands, and we had to take them along with us. Went to the wells; coming back Ibrahim drilled the youngsters, made them walk two and two, then drew them up in line and looked at their hands to see if they were clean. The first two or three were taken by surprise, but the others began to spit on their hands and rub them on their "clothes."

An unappreciated English custom.

Heard Ibrahim explaining to the Ameer's brother that it was the custom of the English to wash every morning, and it would be more convenient for us to hire a house for ourselves, as there might be difficulties about this in his house.

Wednesday, 18th.—Early in the morning the Ameer's elder brother came to ask me to go and see a sick; his lower limbs were paralyzed. Coming home, brought to see a woman with consumption. More patients at our house. The Ameer's brother (youngest, but the acting Ameer) came and sat with us for three hours; had much conversation. Ibrahim read the first of St. Luke to him and others present. A case came for judgment. Each party took out his dagger and handed it to the Ameer while they told their case. He gave his decision, and returned the daggers. The Ameer got each of us to write something in English and in Arabic, and he also wrote in Arabic. Our dinner was ready, and we invited the Ameer to stay. He did so. After drinking some tea, he asked us to give him some to bring home; I promised to bring him a pound from Aden. We talked about my return here, and he himself asked me if I would like to stay here.

Dhala Arabic is different from Aden Arabic, but a short time in Dhala would get over that.

Had seen eighteen cases on the road to Dhala; saw in all fifty cases on journey, as none were seen on return journey, on account of our not stopping long anywhere. Saw thirty-two cases in Dhala; of these about one-half were from the villages round, some from Turkish territory.

Thursday, 19*th*.—Market day. At ten o'clock could see lines of donkeys, &c., coming from the different villages. At eleven the whole place was crowded. Saw for sale vegetables, coffee, sugar, corn of different kinds, donkeys, cattle, camels, &c., &c. All the men carried spears or matchlocks. We went with Ibrahim everywhere. He asked the prices of all he saw—30 reals for a good donkey, 10 reals for a cow and calf, 15 reals for a camel. Brunton bought a complete suit of Arab clothes of Dhala fashion. Saw several patients from the surrounding villages. Market day.

Notes.—Patient No. 34, Seif, a robber; saw on his matchlock, which he brought with him, four niches, to show he had killed four men. Sallam afterwards told us that he knew this man had murdered four men. Asked him what his business was; he could not give an answer. Advised him to give up robbery, and he said he would for ten days! A patient promises to give up robbery for ten days.

Saturday, 21*st*.—Ibrahim has been reading downstairs to ten Jews about Daniel. They all listened, and their faces told how proud they were of the answer of the three youths to King Nebuchadnezzar. Before they left he spoke of Christ, and quoted "The sceptre shall not depart," &c. After dinner more Jews came, and we had our room full, between thirty and forty at a time, and some Jewish women outside the door, listening to Ibrahim reading about Esther and Mordecai; afterwards he read Isaiah ix. 6, 7. Jews at Dhala.

The Jews at Dhala are the most interesting set; they do all the weaving, and most of the work of all kinds is done by them. May there not be opportunities, especially on Saturdays, for work among them? Who will pray for them?

At the request of the British Resident at Aden, who was apprehensive of danger to Dr. Harpur, the latter was preparing to return with his family to Aden when he wrote last on May 8th. Return to Aden.

PALESTINE MISSION.

Jerusalem, 1851; Nazareth, 1852; Salt, 1873; Nablûs, 1876; Jaffa, 1876; Gaza, 1878; Hauran, 1883.

After his consecration last year, on March 25th, Bishop Blyth made a preliminary tour through parts of his diocese, in the course of which he visited all the stations of the Society's Palestine and Egypt Missions with the exception of Gaza and the Hauran schools. In August, at a meeting of the Committee he gave an interesting account of his first impressions of the work, in which he dwelt especially on the pleasure he had derived from his visits to the Society's schools. The Bishop was back again in Jerusalem in December, and the Rev. J. R. L. Hall, the Secretary of the Mission, has written in grateful terms of his sympathy and interest in the work.

Government opposition.

The opposition of the agents of the Turkish Government during the past year has been more persistent and more pronounced than ever before. The Pasha of Jerusalem has been specially conspicuous in instigating and directing these hostile efforts. By him the order, alluded to in last year's Report, requiring all school teachers to hold certificates from the local "Board of Education," was issued at the beginning of the year. On its being pointed out that no such "Board" existed in Jerusalem, the Pasha said that the teachers must obtain their certificates after examination by the "Board" in Constantinople! This impracticable requirement has not, however, been pressed. A few months later the same Pasha issued an order that no doctor would be allowed to practise, and no dispenser would be permitted to make up prescriptions, until after a visit of six months to Constantinople and a series of examinations should have been passed in that city; thus interposing a vexatious and expensive interruption and delay to the Society's medical missionary work. Somewhat later an order was issued from Constantinople forbidding the attendance of Moslem children in Mission schools, and one father was thrown into prison for sending his child to a C.M.S. school. The following is a translation of the order:—

[Translation.]

To the Moslem Muchtars and Members of the Local Council of the village of N.N., under the Lywa of Jerusalem.

Moslem children forbidden to attend Mission-schools.

An order has been received from the Sublime Home Ministry dated February 14th, 1302, No. 167, to the effect that his Majesty the Sultan forbids the entry of Moslem children to any foreign school in the Ottoman dominions, and that any person not being strictly careful about this order will certainly have to bear the consequences. It has also been decided in the medjlis of the Lywa that if any Moslem child be sent to any of the schools above mentioned, his father, guardian, or the person who sent him there, will be liable to the punishment prescribed by the law. Should the Muchtars fail to inform the local government, they will expose themselves to the severest punishment. Consequently it is your duty, Muchtars, to give the necessary information and notice to all the inhabitants of your village, and to be continually very watchful to prevent any person from daring to do any such act contrary to the will of his Majesty the Sultan. For this reason we are sending you this order.

MOHAMMED RAOUF,
Governor of the Lywa of Jerusalem.

In August the Jaffa colporteur was arrested for selling Scriptures, and conveyed as a prisoner to Damascus. Upon the demand, however, of Mr. Consul Dickson, for whose prompt intervention the Committee are very grateful, he was at once released. A few weeks later the colporteur evangelist of the Jerusalem district was seized by order of the Pasha, in direct breach of the Capitulations and Turkish law, and consigned to the "Blood Prison," for selling Scriptures. Notwithstanding, however, these worrying tactics of the adversaries, the Lord's work has advanced. Mr. Hall concludes a review of the above and other similar annoyances with these words:— Imprisonment of agents.

Thus it will be seen that our Palestine Mission has passed through severe trial and much anxiety during the past year, and yet, I believe, it has been a year of larger blessing and more true prosperity than any previous one. There has been a deepening of spiritual life in all our principal congregations and in many of our smaller ones also. Everywhere there have been increased numbers at our schools and services, and there has been a much greater spirit of inquiry amongst the Moslems. We may say indeed that in proportion as the Government has been against us, so has the Moslem population opened up to us. Progress of the work.

In response to an appeal for ladies to go to Palestine at their own charges as missionaries of the Church Missionary Society, which was addressed by Mr. Hall to the President of the Keswick Convention, the Committee had the pleasure of accepting the offers of Miss Edith E. Newton, sister of Miss Gertrude Newton of the Mildmay Medical Mission at Jaffa; Miss Eliza Armstrong, daughter of the late Rev. J. Armstrong, who was a missionary of the Society in British Guiana from 1827 to 1836; and Miss Annie S. H. Vidal, daughter of the late Bishop Vidal, first Bishop of Sierra Leone. Miss Newton and Miss Armstrong have been assigned to Jaffa. Miss Vidal will not go out until the autumn. Lady missionaries.

JAFFA.

The Rev. J. R. Longley Hall sends an encouraging report of the work at Jaffa. He has been much cheered by Miss E. E. Newton's and Miss E. Armstrong's arrival, the former in November, the latter in March. The Rev. H. Sykes now resides at Jaffa. Of the Sunday-school, services, work amongst women, and work at the out-stations, Mr. Hall says:— Jaffa.

The Sunday-school is fairly well attended. We have held a service twice a week in the Bible-depôt, in the heart of the town, for the last two or three months. The attendance at first was very large, but Service since the visit of the police and the Governor of Jaffa, mentioned in the first part of my letter, the attendance has not been so large. Nevertheless we always have a number in the room, and many Moslems stand round the door listening, but afraid to come in. The attendance at the Sunday services shows a decided increase. The singing and the responses are very hearty, and there are nearly forty communicants. Moreover, we believe that we can see very definite progress and growth in spiritual life on the part of several.

Work among women.

The work amongst the women—the mothers' meetings, women's Bible-classes, &c., &c.—has been carried on as usual by Mrs. Hall and the Bible-woman, and we earnestly trust that there has been large blessing. The women are, on the whole, even more ready than before to receive the Bible-woman in their own houses, and to listen whilst she reads, speaks, and prays with them. One great source of rejoicing in this part of the work is that such a large number of Moslem women are got at. The Bible-woman is specially charged to visit Moslems almost exclusively, and nearly all the women who come to the meetings and classes are Moslems.

In the out-stations—Ramleh, Lydd, and Abûd—the work is being vigorously pushed, and we are not without signs that God's presence is with us, and that His favour is resting upon us.

The Society has taken over from Mrs. Hay the Mary Baldwin Memorial School, which has been a useful agency in Jaffa for over fifteen years.

In May, 1887, eight adults were confirmed at Lydd, which was the first time the rite was celebrated by a Bishop of the Church of England in that ancient city.

JERUSALEM.

The return of the Rev. C. T. Wilson last October brought timely help to the Rev. J. Zeller, who, relieved of the general superintendence of the Society's work at Jerusalem and the out-stations, has been able to devote himself to the Preparandi Institution, in which he is assisted by the Rev. Ibrahim Baz, the Bishop Gobat Boarding-school, and the printing-press. The Rev. Nasir Odeh is the Native pastor of the congregation. Mr. G. Nyland, who resides at Ramallah, labours in the villages and out-stations.

Mr. Odeh sends further news of the poor girl on whose behalf he asked for prayer in his last year's letter. He says:—

Persecution of a convert from Mohammedanism.

Maria, whom I mentioned in my last Annual Letter, and who was baptized by Mr. Wilson in 1886, was followed by her relatives and threatened to be killed, and when she saw that they were planning to seize her in the street and give her up to the Government, she asked the protection of the Mission; but when she heard of our inability to protect her, she finally took refuge with the Latins, rather than go back to the Moslems, and the former sent her away at once to one of their many Sisterhoods in another town in the country.

Mr. Wilson says there is "an immense field for work among the women of Jerusalem," and he looks forward hopefully to the arrival of Miss Vidal. He believes that a lady acquainted with French and clever at fancy needle-work would, with tact and sympathy, get an entrance into the houses of Moslem women of the better class, for whom at present nothing is done. Mrs. Wilson holds a meeting once a week, which is attended by forty or fifty women more or less regularly. A Bible-woman also works among them. Mr. Wilson says:— Field for work among Moslem women at Jerusalem.

> The almost unanimous testimony of workers out here is, that never were the Moslems of Palestine so willing to listen to the Gospel as now, and it is therefore our duty to avail ourselves of every opening for telling them God's message of love in Christ.

Mr. Odeh, who visits the congregations at the Out-stations from time to time, mentions the improved attendance at the services. He says:—

> At Bethlehem the small room is sometimes more than crowded and the worshippers earnest and attentive. Once at Jiffna the Greek priest stayed through the whole Sunday morning service, and expressed himself pleased with its simplicity. Another time, at Tayibeh, about forty persons attended our Sunday evening service, and it was gratifying to see Latins, Greeks, and Protestants join in the pure worship of God. Many of the Greeks on that occasion asked to be allowed to see our way of celebrating the Holy Communion, as they had not seen it before, and I was very glad to hear how much they approved of our administration; in fact, they pronounced it to be better than that of the Latins. I feel sure the more the Greeks know of our pure but simple mode of worship, the more they will be inclined to attend it and benefit by the Word preached. Admiration for simple services.

GAZA.

The Rev. J. Huber's hands have been strengthened by the arrival of Mrs. and Miss Huber, who had remained at Nazareth, his former station, until November last. His fellow-labourer, the Rev. R. Elliott, on the other hand, has been called to resign his wife, who died suddenly at Jerusalem on October 1st. Dr. Elliott came to England in November to make arrangements for his motherless children. The services and various weekday classes have been quietly and unostentatiously conducted; the schools are well attended, in spite of opposition from Greeks and Turks, and houses are visited as opportunities offer. There are thirty Native baptized Christians, of whom twenty are communicants, connected with the congregation. Seventy boys and seventy-five girls are taught in the schools. Gaza. Death of Mrs. Elliott.

NABLOUS.

Nablous. The Rev. C. Fallscheer continues to labour with devotion and self-denial at Nablous. His views and hopes concerning his work he thus expounds:—

> My opinion is to go on to preach the Gospel amongst the Christians, but not to neglect to do so amongst the Mohammedans. "This ought we to do, and not to leave the other undone;" not to forget that the good seed is not only the Word of God, but the children of the kingdom are also the good seed. We have to get out from the Native Christians, children of God, that they be a good seed for the Mohammedans, and I am sure that the time of a revival will soon come amongst the Christians, as most of them have the Bible and knowledge of it.

He mentions the death of one of his congregation, who had formerly belonged to the Greek Church, and whose relatives sought to disturb his faith at the last:—

> Abu Michael belonged formerly to the Greek Church, and was for a time a hearer of the Native Baptist Missionary Youhanna el Karreh, but he did not find rest for his soul. Then he came to us, and his heart was opened to the influence of the Holy Spirit, and he received the Gospel with pleasure, even under many trials, as his father and mother-in-law, and his brother and sister-in-law, and his wife, were desperately obstinate, and proud beyond all measure of their orthodoxy, while his life bore witness that Christ was formed in him. He was always preaching the Gospel in his shop to the people, although he could not read, but had a very good memory. In the beginning of the year he fell sick, and after two months he died. He was a preacher to every one who came to visit him. His family and these visitors attempted always to persuade him to return to the Greek Church, as the Protestants do not believe in transubstantiation in the Eucharist, nor in the intercession of saints and auricular confession, nor in the power of the priests to absolve sins; and they said especially to him, "When you are not buried in the Greek burial-ground you shall go to hell, as the Protestant burial-ground is not consecrated by a Greek bishop,"—and with other foolish sayings tried to persuade him to return. He answered always, "I do not know anything of what you say; I know only Jesus; I do not know Œcumenical Councils, nor patriarchs, nor bishops, nor priests for to be saved, only Jesus Christ, who is 'the Way, the Truth, and the Life;' nobody comes to the Father only by Him."

"Only Jesus."

Secessions. At Nablous two members of the congregation seceded to the Latins, bribed, as were also many members of the Greek Church, by the Latin priest, who paid for them the exorbitant military tax, on the condition that they "turned Latins."

There are eighty-three children in the schools at Nablous, and seventy-nine in those of the out-stations, viz. Rafidieh, Nisf el Jebil, Burka, and Zebabdeh. In the Nablous schools are four boys and fourteen girls belonging to the family of a great Ansarieh sheikh from the country to the north of Lebanon, who is in prison at Acca on account of alleged insurrection against the Government. The female members of his family, with the children, are banished to Nablous, where they live in great poverty. Mr. Fallscheer says:—"These fourteen Ansarieh girls give us great joy. They are obedient, diligent in learning to read, to write, to learn Scripture texts by heart, arithmetic, singing, &c., and needlework."

NAZARETH.

Nazareth.

The Rev. T. F. Wolters directs the work at Nazareth. He is assisted by the Rev. S. Boutaji, and by Mrs. and Miss Low, honorary missionaries who reside at Haifa. The schools in this district, of which there are eight, with 380 boys, have escaped interference from the Government, but the Greek and Greek Catholic priests have earnestly, but in the main unsuccessfully, tried to withdraw the children of their respective communities. The state of the congregations presents "a chequered aspect;" but Mr. Wolters writes cheerfully regarding Nazareth. There is marked improvement in the attendance at the Sunday services, and in the reverent attention to the truth preached. This was specially marked during the week of prayer in January, and during the services of Passion Week and Easter. One case which encouraged him, Mr. Wolters relates:—

Attendance at services.

> Among outsiders one case may be mentioned. It is that of a man known to me for years as an infidel and a scoffer. Of late he occupied the post of first teacher in the Greek Bishop's school. This man has, according to his own confession, been healed of his infidelity, and now seeks to build what once he destroyed. At first a casual visitor in our church, with no higher motive than curiosity, he by degrees became a regular worshipper. Awakened, in a measure, to the consciousness that there is more in Christianity than he had dreamt of, and to a sense of inward need which his infidelity could not satisfy, he sought rest from his doubts and found it, intellectually, at least, in books on Christian Evidences which were lent to him. The result, so far, calls for deepest gratitude. "You cannot tell," he said the other day, "how sweet the peace is which comes to a man when he has found the truth after years of doubt and unrest and misery." It may be added, that on arriving at this stage he gave up his post as teacher under the Patriarch: his conscience would not allow him to remain in a church which darkens the light of truth by its many superstitions. It remains now to be seen how far the Gospel has laid hold of his heart. May God in mercy complete the work so graciously begun!

Peace after doubt.

The colporteur evangelist, Bitrus Ghawi, has found many opportunities of preaching Christ. During ten months of the year he visited 136 villages, and was generally well received, both by Mohammedans and Christians. The following incidents illustrate his work :—

A Moslem youth who had on a former occasion bought a copy of the Bible, was asked whether he read it. His father, who was present, replied, "Since he has got hold of this book he has quite given up reading the Koran." This was said without any manifestation of vexation. On another occasion the colporteur reproved a Moslem youth for cursing and swearing. One of the bystanders said, "When the books which you circulate shall have increased in our land, then there will be a general reformation and progress in all that is good." Confessions by Mohammedans that they are ignorant of the truth and of how to serve God, are not infrequent.

Haifa. Mrs. Low sends an interesting report of work among the women of Haifa. The visits of the Bible-woman are increasingly valued. Giving medicine and directing to simple remedies has opened the door of many Moslem houses. She says :—

The Bible in Mohammedan homes. In house after house in the Mohammedan quarters, the Bible is read, and very often the women particularly request to be read to about the Lord Jesus. In only two instances during this year have Moslems shut the door. One was where a little girl used to sing the hymns she had learnt at the school; and the other was the case of some women, who were very much interested in the reading; but the eldest brother of the family happened to come in, and went and told his father. The father entered presently, and politely requested the Bible-woman to desist, saying that women were foolish, and might easily give up the religion of their ancestors, if they gave heed to what was new. Still, with these two exceptions, there is a remarkable readiness among the Moslems to listen. And it may be called entirely untilled ground. For, strange to say, the nuns do not think it right to bring Christianity before them, considering it would be contrary to the precept not to cast pearls before swine. Even the Greek Catholics have the same idea to some extent, and when the Scriptures are being read, a woman will put her finger on her lips at the entrance of Moslems.

Untilled ground.

SALT, AND THE HAURAN.

Services at Salt. The Rev. W. F. Connor has charge of the work on the east of the Jordan. The Rev. Chalil Jamal, the Native Pastor at SALT, reports a good attendance at the Sunday morning services, "the chapel often overflowing," and at the Bible and prayer-meetings. No Moslem boy has been allowed to attend the school. The number of communicants is sixty-two.

Call from the land of Moab. In February Mr. Connor, in company with Mr. Sykes, paid an important and interesting visit, at the instance of the Palestine Finance Committee, to Madeba and Kerak, the ancient Kir Moab. An earnest request had been received from a number of Latin and Greek Christians at Madeba to be permitted to join the Church of England, and that an agent of the Society should be stationed among them. The district, which extends seventy or eighty miles southward from the River Arnon, and eastward from the Dead Sea to the Desert, is under Sheikh Mohammed Majelli, who is independent of the Turkish Government. He gave a written promise of protection and assistance, in case the Committee should comply with the wishes of himself and many of his subjects. The valuable reports separately presented by Messrs. Connor and Sykes, agree in representing the post as one of great importance, with a view to work among the Moslem population, who preponderate. Inasmuch, however, as a Wesleyan gentleman, Mr. Letheby, is engaged in Christian work at Kerak, and hopes to be joined by other labourers, the Committee have not thought it wise at present to open a station in this district.

PERSIA MISSION.

THE Revs. Dr. E. F. Hoernle and G. R. Ekins continued labouring together at JULFA, the former as Acting Secretary of the Mission, until January, when Mr. Ekins came to England.

"Fagged, yet persevering," Dr. Hoernle says, expresses his feelings in reviewing the incidents and work of the year; but through all the Lord's presence has been realized. There has been a larger attendance of Persians at the Sunday morning service (which is in Persian); and Dr. Hoernle thinks he has observed "a better spirit of devotion, a more hearty joining in the prayers, a growing attention to sermons." The week of prayer at the beginning of the year was well kept, fully two-thirds of the Sunday congregation being present every day.

Julfa congregation,

The members of the Y.M.C.A. continue active in good works. They made themselves responsible for conducting the usual Thursday evening service, each one taking his turn. They have also held occasional social meetings, with a view to reaching and influencing outsiders; and they were hoping to start a parochial magazine. Another class, making nine, has been added to the School. "Our object," Dr. Hoernle says, "is not to make clever but truly good boys, who have the fear of God and the love of Christ in their hearts; so that our school be known, not so much by the high standard of its teaching—though this must be aimed at too—but by the high and pure tone of conduct." Dr. Hoernle's Medical Work has very much increased among all classes. Especially have the Prince's officials, the Mullahs, and the merchants of Julfa, resorted to the Mission for treatment in larger numbers than ever before. The recovery from a serious illness of an influential official, a governor of several districts and private secretary to the Prince, who had placed himself under Dr. Hoernle's treatment, proved providentially of great service to the Protestant Church, as his authority arrested lawless efforts to wrest from them some property which they had purchased.

Dr. Hoernle's medical work.

Mr. Ekins spent last August itinerating. The following extracts from his interesting journal show how the work of Bible translation and colportage have prepared the way for a missionary's visits:—

At 7 a.m. on the morning of the 5th of August we started for Sereck. When about two miles distant we met our host, an

Armenian gentleman named Mehrab; he had ridden out to meet us. I had scarcely time to change my riding things when a visitor was announced. He was a Persian khan, son of the late Elkhane. Two days before he was summoned to his uncle, the present Elkhane, but hearing that I was coming, he had postponed his departure in order to call upon me. He was the most intelligent Persian gentleman I had met since my arrival in Persia. He had a great admiration for Dr. Bruce, and constantly spoke of the friendship existing between them. The conversation soon turned upon Christianity. I must say his knowledge of the Bible was wonderful. He had read it through, he told me, five times; he was also familiar with the contents of the Mizan-ul-Haqq, and in fact with all the arguments that are used in the Mohammedan controversy. After a long discussion, principally on Deut. xviii. 15, he said "that for a long time he had been a 'seeker after truth,' and the only fountain he found able to quench his thirst was the Holy Scriptures and the teaching of the Christian faith." He declared "Mohammedanism to be false," and "the religion of Christ to be the only one that could meet the requirements of the soul." He thanked us warmly for our conversation, and hoped we would soon meet again. He is one of those men who might be classed under "the almost persuaded," and I would earnestly ask for the prayers of the Church at home for this young man, that he may soon be led to see more clearly the "truth as it is in Jesus."

A Persian Khan who had read the Bible through five times.

In looking back over the past month I cannot help praising God for "the great and wondrous door" opened up for the Gospel in Persia.

A great and wondrous door for the Gospel in Persia.

BAGHDAD.

This historic city is in the Turkish Empire, but as the best base that could be found for work in South-Western Persia, and as thousands of Persian Shiah pilgrims resort to it, Baghdad has been treated as a station of the Persia Mission. Both the Persian and Arabic languages are spoken. The Rev. T. R. Hodgson and Dr. H. M. Sutton have laboured on, not, however, without some measure of interference from the Turkish authorities. The little school which met in the missionaries' house has been closed at the instance of some evil-disposed professing Christians, former members of the congregation. Both Mr. Hodgson and Dr. Sutton speak of the attitude of the Moslems as encouraging. The former says:—

School closed by Government.

While we have difficulties to contend with arising from the jealousies and intrigues of some who bear (and dishonour) the Christian name, there is, on the other hand, encouragement in the fact that many amongst the Muslims of Baghdad have manifested a sympathy and interest in our efforts for their good which bears a promise of hope for the future. I mentioned just now that the local Council of Education decided in favour of allowing us to establish a school. This was entirely owing to the outspoken advocacy of one or two among the members, who said that as Christians we had a right to teach our religion, and who, like Gamaliel, boldly declared that they refused to fight against God. These, and others with them, are men who I know have studied the Bible, and with whom it has often been my pleasure and privilege to converse on the things pertaining to the Kingdom of God, both in their own houses and my own, and in places of public resort. I well remember the whole of one long Sabbath-day spent at a country-house some sixty miles from Baghdad. The deep reverence for the person and work of our blessed Lord evidently felt by a little company of educated Muslims, and carefully guarded even in the heat of discussion, was, to me, if not a revelation, at least an emphatic testimony to the power of His own Word, which I know had wrought it.

Dr. Sutton has found great difficulty in so limiting his Medical Work as to obtain the time necessary for the study of Arabic. He has contrived to make some progress notwithstanding, and, during Mr. Hodgson's absence at Bushire, was able to read prayers in that language; his preaching was, of course, through an interpreter. He speaks with thankfulness of the readiness of his patients to listen to the reading and exposition of the Scriptures. He says :—

In the houses of the poor Mohammedans, I have been brought into contact more with the women than the men, the latter being usually away at work. In one such house I have frequently read the Scripture to a group of women, and have found them very willing listeners, in spite of the fact that, as is usual amongst the poor, the Arabic of the Bible (or of any book) is unintelligible to them until it is translated for them into colloquial Arabic.

Willing listeners.

Amongst the women in the house mentioned above there is one who can read, a very rare event amongst the poor; so I left a Testament with them, and they frequently gather round her while she reads to them and translates into their own colloquial. The men are not so ignorant as the women, and some of them can understand tolerably well when the Bible is read, even though they cannot read it themselves. Amongst the poor I have not met with any such thing as bigotry, nor with any refusal to listen to the reading of the New Testament and the words of Christ.

Friendliness of people at Bushire.

At Bushire, Mr. Hodgson says, the work seems to be gaining ground in spite of opposition. An order arrived from Teheran to close the school, but, at the request of the people of Bushire themselves, was rescinded before it had been enforced. There were twenty boys in the school, twelve of them Mohammedans, in January. Bishop French has visited both Bushire and Baghdad this last spring. Mr. Hodgson has come home on furlough, having only had four months in England since he first went out to India in 1875.

INDIA.

The Special Winter Mission.

THE Special Mission to India and Ceylon, which the Committee decided so long since as April 12th, 1886, to promote, was successfully conducted during the late winter months. At a solemn meeting at Sion College, on October 13th, the Committee took leave of the following gentlemen, who sailed a few days later:—The Rev. F. Sulivan and Mr. E. Clifford, for North India; the Rev. H. E. Fox and Mr. Swann-Hurrell, for the Telugu Mission and Madras; the Revs. G. Karney and B. Baring-Gould, for Tinnevelly and Travancore; and the Rev. G. C. Grubb and Colonel Oldham, for Bombay and Ceylon.* The Committee desire to express their deep thankfulness to Almighty God that He disposed them to undertake this effort; that He provided the necessary funds; that He raised up the right men; that His arms of love encompassed His servants, protecting them from dangers and from serious illness; that His grace assisted them, so that preaching by interpretation was scarcely found to be a hindrance, and their unfamiliarity with the people was no bar to their influence; and lastly and chiefly, that the power of the Holy Ghost evidently accompanied the Word in every place. And the Committee would very earnestly invite all the members of the Society to unite with them in fervent and unwearying supplication: for the beloved missionary brethren and sisters who, in Boarding-schools and High Schools, in Training Institutions and Theological Colleges, by bazaar and itinerant preaching, among Hindus and Mussulmans, Brahmins and out-castes, educated babus and primitive hill-tribes, are labouring for their Lord, that they may all be strong in faith, consistent in life, sound in doctrine, consecrated in service, holding forth the Word of life and reflecting the Lord of life and love; and for the Native clergy, teachers, and evangelists distributed in each province among the 250,000,000 of the people, speaking the languages, understanding the minds, and observing the national customs of their heathen neighbours, that they may inculcate a high standard of personal holiness, and the duty of the converts both to maintain God's Word among themselves and to make it known to the regions beyond them, that so, by their zeal and faithful testimony, by their holiness and fidelity, they may glorify God's name among their countrymen, and bring in unto Him from the midst of them such as shall be saved.

* Unofficially, and at their own charges, the following ladies accompanied the party for work among the women: viz. Miss A. G. MacInnes, of Hampstead; Miss A. L. Bromley, formerly head of the Mildmay Mission, Bethnal Green; Miss K. Beynon, daughter of General Beynon; and Miss Clymer, Secretary of the C.E.Z.M.S. at Birmingham.

Efforts in behalf of Mohammedans in India.

The Committee have continually deplored the comparative neglect of the Mohammedans by the Christian Church, and the numerical feebleness of their own Missions to the followers of Islam. India presents especially favourable opportunities for access to the forty millions of this creed who are found there, most of them in the North and North-West. An appeal has been put forth for offers of service, and the Committee still cherish the hope that men of well-trained and cultured minds and strong faith will be led to respond.

Public witnesses to the good and successful efforts of missionary work in India are ever multiplying, but apathetic Christians are, notwithstanding, so easily misled by ignorant or perverse representations of residents and travellers, that the Committee are glad to draw attention from time to time to the testimony of men who, from their high position have had special opportunities, and from their high character are specially trustworthy, to bear witness to the facts.

Testimony of Sir Charles Aitchison

The following letter was written in January, 1887, by Sir Charles U. Aitchison, the late Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, in reply to an article asserting that Indian Government officials could no longer uphold Mission enterprise:—

Lahore, January 25th, 1887.

I have not seen the article referred to; but I, for my part, should say that any one who writes that Indian officials, as a class, have no faith in the work of missionaries as a civilizing and Christianizing agency in India, must either be totally ignorant of facts or under the influence of very blinding prejudice. Statistics of conversion are no proper or adequate test of missionary work. Still, judged even by on the direct, that standard, it cannot be said that an agency which, within little more than fifty years, has built up a Native Church numbering, roughly, two-thirds of a million, is resultless. But, besides that, missionary teaching and Christian literature are leavening Native opinion, especially among the Hindus, in a way and to an extent and indirect results of missionary operations;

quite startling to those who take a little personal trouble to investigate the facts. Out of many examples I could give, take one. I know of one of the ruling Princes of India, who probably never saw or spoke to a Christian missionary in his life. After a long talk with me on religious matters, he told me himself that he reads the Sanskrit translation of our Bible and prays to Jesus Christ every day for the pardon of his sins. It is not too much to say that the whole Brahmo movement, which takes the lead in all social and moral reforms in India, and which, although decidedly unchristian, pays to Christianity the sincere flattery of imitation, is the direct product of missionary teaching.

Any one who wishes to appreciate what Missions have done for India cannot do better than read the recent biography of Carey, by Dr. George Smith (John Murray, 1885), particularly the three chapters: "What Carey did for Literature and for Humanity," "What Carey did for Science," and "Carey as an Educator." The same work the missionaries are doing still. They have been the pioneers of education, both vernacular and English, and they are still the only body who maintain schools for the low castes and the poor. To them we owe even the reduction of several of the vernacular languages (in this part of India, for example, Sindhi and Pashtu) to written character. The only translation opening up to us the sacred books of the Sikhs we owe to a missionary. To the missionaries, and the missionaries alone, we owe the movement in favour of female education; and the remarks in the last Education Report for the Punjab, and the review thereof, show how efficient are the Mission female schools, and how highly the labours of the missionaries are appreciated by Government. It was at the suggestion of the missionaries that I have this year framed and introduced a system of Government grants in aid of hospitals and dispensaries. It is to the example set by missionary ladies, during the last eight or ten years, in Mission hospitals and in house-to-house visitation, that the present wide-spreading demand for medical aid and medical training to the women of India is mainly due. Apart altogether from the strictly Christian aspect of the question, which is of itself so full of bright hopes that no Christian man who reflects on what has already been achieved can fail to thank God and take great courage, I should, from a purely administrative point of view, deplore the drying-up of Christian liberality to Missions in this country as a most lamentable check to social and moral progress, and a grievous injury to the best interests of the people. (Signed) C. U. Aitchison.

NORTH INDIA MISSION.

(European Missionaries first arrived, 1816.)

The Society's work in Bengal, the North-West Provinces, and the Central Provinces is all included in the North India Mission, as being under the administration of the Calcutta Corresponding Committee. The area included in these Provinces is not less than 400,000 square miles, and the population is about one hundred and twenty-five millions, viz. an average of over three hundred to the square mile. There are, of course, enormous tracts of this area which are quite untouched by the Society's efforts; nevertheless, a study of the map will show how widely extended are the points of Gospel-light which it has been privileged to kindle, and how important the vantage-ground which its stations, most of them established more than fifty years ago, supply for spreading the truth as it is in Jesus throughout this district. The Rev. Philip Ireland Jones has, with much ability and discretion, discharged the duties of Secretary to the Corresponding Committee. He has now been relieved by the return of the Rev. Alfred Clifford.

LOWER BENGAL.

Calcutta, 1816; Burdwan, 1817; Krishnagar, 1831; Bhagulpur, 1850.

District Church Councils of Calcutta,

THE two District Church Councils which have been formed by dividing the Bengal Native Church Council, have each of them held two meetings. The Calcutta District Church Council met on January 13th and on May 26th, 1887. The Rev. F. E. Wigram was present at the former of these meetings, and encouraged the Native agents to foster by labour and prayer a higher standard of spiritual life among the congregations, and also a spirit of zeal and self-denial to support the ordinances of religion, reminding them that the subsidies they receive from the Society are largely contributed by the very poor, whose liberality springs from a realization of the peace of the Gospel, and a desire to extend it to others.

and Krishnagar.

The Krishnagar District Church Council met on November 3rd, 1886, and again on May 5th, 1887. On the latter occasion the Rev. P. M. Rudra presided, having been appointed to succeed the Rev. H. Williams in that office, and as the superintending missionary of the district. In preparation for the then approaching Mission it was agreed (1) that a special prayer be composed, to be used publicly by congregations on Sundays, with reference to the same; (2) that meetings for prayer be held in villages, and that preparations be made by means of exhortation and instruction, and raising expectation for a blessing on the Mission; (3) that special hymns be prepared for the occasion. The reports of the various pastorates connected with the Council made frequent reference to depredations of the Roman Catholics on the flocks, and the demoralizing influence of their money on weak and ignorant Christians.

Central Church Council.

On August 11th, last year, the first meeting of the Central Council of the Society's Native congregations in Bengal was held, under the presidency of the Bishop of Calcutta. The members of this Council are for the most part the same as those of the two District Councils, but they are not charged with the administration of funds. Their duties are to deliberate generally on matters affecting the welfare of the Native Christian community, to consider questions referred to them by the District Councils and by the Parent Committee, and to arrange for the transfer of Native pastors under certain circumstances, subject to the sanction of the Bishop. The matters discussed at this first meeting were the following:—(1) A draft scheme for a Provident Fund for Native agents, drawn up by Stephen Jacob, Esq., at the instance of the Rev. G. H. Parsons. (2) The Winter Mission. (3) The Society's new Rules for the Councils. (4) Church Discipline. (5) Church Patronage. (6) Nominations for Orders. In commending the Mission, the Bishop said, "The welcome we give must be hearty in the true sense of the word. No arches, no bombs, none of these things do we want now, but wide-open hearts, prepared for the Holy Spirit's power. Let there be constant prayer; self-examination about sin; asking ourselves why we are not daily bringing glory to God in our lives; let there be preparation in every heart, lest, as the wind passes over and stirs the trees and they become once more rigid as before, so it should be in our towns and hamlets, a brief, passing stir, and then the old lifelessness and disregard of God and duty."

The Revs. E. T. Butler and H. Brown, both Islington men, joined this Mission last autumn, and were temporarily located by the Corresponding Committee at Krishnagar and Chupra respectively.

CALCUTTA.

The Rev. J. W. Hall has superintended the Society's evangelistic work in, and in the neighbourhood of, Calcutta, and has also been in charge of Trinity Church and Christ Church. The Rev. Jani Alli, M.A., is the missionary to the Mohammedans. The Rev. W. H. Ball has been the acting principal of the Divinity School; and the Rev. C. H. Bradburn has conducted the Boys' Boarding School. Miss H. J. Neele, assisted by Miss A. Sampson, has had charge of the Girls' Boarding School, and of the Agarpara Orphanage. The Rev. C. S. Harington is minister of the "Old Church." Miss Hall works among the women.

Enumerating the hindrances to the progress of Christianity in this city of 800,000 souls, Mr. Hall, the writer of the report of the "Calcutta Church Missionary Association," mentions Canon Taylor's defence of Islam. "Mohammedans," he says, "have not been slow in availing themselves of his testimony to the efficacy of Islam in transforming nations and individuals, where Christianity has failed."

Native lay preachers.

The Native lay preachers, some of them advanced in years, continue to render important service in public preaching, visiting the upper classes, and by writing tracts, &c. Pundit Mohan Lall Vidyabagish, paralyzed, as mentioned in last year's Report, yet exercises a powerful influence. One whom he has brought to Christ is now a student in the Divinity School. Mr. Hall says :—

Influence exercised by a paralyzed Christian.

The little room in our Christian compound, where Pundit Mohan Lall Vidyabagish dwells, is filled from day to day with inquirers. There is a strange power of attraction about that couch on which he lies. His bright, happy face (a face never clouded, although suffering is no stranger to him), his telling words, chain men to his side, and those who are induced to visit him once come again, and again, and again. Whatever may be the case with other Christians, all at least confess this, that his faith in Christ brings deep abiding peace and influences his life. Conviction is contagious, and not a few own to the truth of his words, yet fear to rank themselves once and for ever upon the side of Christ.

A deep heart-work is going on, Mr. Hall believes, in high circles of society. The publication of a special hymn-book for use during the Mission, a few copies of which fell into the hands of some educated Hindus, led to a friendship between him and two wealthy gentlemen, one of whom invited Mr. Hall and his sister to a sumptuous repast. He says :—

Gospel preached in the house of a wealthy Babu.

Lingering in the halls and corridors of the spacious house stood a number of Babus, each politely bowing as we passed; and I hoped inwardly that an opportunity of addressing them might be afforded before our departure. It came in a way least expected.

"Will you come below and pray?" said our host, when the mea was well-nigh ended. Ay, that I would, and I thanked God for the request. Descending the stairs and passing through numerous rooms, small and large, we entered the reception hall, in which stood a large table and a number of empty chairs.

One by one members and friends of the household crept in and took their seats; and there, for an hour, I preached Christ to them. From the earliest prophecy, right through the ages, I tried to trace in the history of the Jews the purposes of God: His justice, His infinite love, His holiness and truth. Then in Christ's birth and life and works and words; in His death and passion, His glorious resurrection and ascension, I showed how His purposes on behalf of poor ruined man were fulfilled. Then while I knelt and prayed aloud, they bowed their heads in adoration, and worshipped.

A Christian at heart.

Since that day he has visited me several times a week, and I am convinced that in heart he is a Christian. He says that if he were not head of his father's house he would be baptized. But the thought of 200 members being scattered like sheep without a shepherd, suggests too dire a calamity to face, and so he shrinks from baptism.

The Kôls, &c., in Calcutta.

Among the Kôls and Santals of Calcutta the Gospel is daily preached, and three baptisms have occurred during the year from among the former. Among the Chamars also, 40,000 of whom are found in the city, systematic work has been done since 1880. There are six boys' schools and four girls' schools for them, two of the latter being managed by ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S.

Leper Asylum

The Leper Asylum has been visited regularly by Mr. Hall and Miss Sampson, also by a Native catechist and Bible-woman. One poor woman, "whose testimony was unmistakable," died just before the time fixed for her baptism. Morning and evening services are held daily in the chapel, and the Holy Communion is regularly administered. During the Mission Mr. Edward Clifford exhibited his lantern, and gave a solemn Gospel address to the inmates. "Crouching down in all available corners the poor sufferers watched and listened in breathless attention." There are several Europeans in the Asylum.

At Trinity Church a new chancel was dedicated last August. There is a branch of the Y.M.C.A. connected with the congregation which has over thirty members, who raise regular subscriptions for the relief of needy widows, visit the sick, preach the Gospel, and sell portions of God's Word. Over 200 portions of Scripture were sold by them in a very short time. Mr. E. Clifford conducted the Special Mission services at this church, and at Christ Church. Mr. Hall wrote:—

Mission services at Trinity Church,

From the first Trinity Church was well filled, but as days went by and interest deepened, the numbers increased, until at last it was no easy matter to provide all with seats.

Many faces were seen whose visits to the church had been few and far between. Long before the service began the church was fairly well filled, and usually some gospel song was sung until the hour of service arrived. The first text chosen by Mr. Clifford was appropriate: "The people were in expectation, and all men mused in their hearts—One mightier than I cometh. He shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost and with fire."

The services began with a hymn, then a few brief prayers, after which a sacred solo was usually sung immediately before the address. Last of all an earnest, pointed prayer was offered by Mr. Clifford, which was repeated sentence by sentence in low murmurs by the congregation. After the fourth day at Trinity Church those who desired to consecrate themselves to Christ were asked to raise their hands, and not a few dared in the face of well-known neighbours to make the venture, and thereby court the ridicule of unconverted men and women.

I am convinced that God's Holy Spirit has worked and is working in many hearts. Testimony has come to me from all quarters, of blessing and light and peace through faith in, and consecration to, the blessed Master. Night after night Zenana teachers from Barrackpore came in at their own expense, and night after night, man, and woman, and child seemed loth to depart.

The Old Church, built by Kiernander in 1771, has attached to it an extensive district, equal to fully one-quarter of the whole of Calcutta. To this district, with the assistance of a Scripture-reader, an Urdu reader, a Bible-woman, and a band of district visitors, Mr. Harrington endeavours to minister in the bonds of the Gospel, while he also tries to "keep touch" with the many Europeans belonging to the congregation who live in other parts of the city and in the suburbs. The Mission was held in this church from November 26th to December 4th. The attendance increased daily, especially at the evening services, beyond all anticipations; and at the after-meetings the response of the raised hand while all were kneeling, and which signified a desire for special prayer, was frequent each evening. At the request of many the services were continued throughout a second week after the Mission preachers had left. Mr. Harington says :—

and at the Old Church.

> One marked feature was the attendance of members of all denominations, many of whom have testified that their hearts were pardoned and their energies renewed. One young (Methodist Episcopal) missionary said to me last week: "I was often at your church, and whenever I heard Mr. Sulivan I felt as if I could pull off my coat, and go to work again with a will.

Divinity School.

Mr. Ball has had under training in the Divinity School nine students, seven of whom are now in their fourth year of training, and two are in their first year, and are still probationers. In February last he received six new men. Mr. Ball has also been engaged in preparing A Companion to the Bible, for the use of Native pastors and students, for the Tract Society; and he is an active member of the Bible Society's Translation Committee, as well as secretary of the Calcutta Auxiliary of the same Society.

Anglo-Vernacular School.

The Garden Reach Anglo-Vernacular School, doubtless owing in some measure to the success of all the three candidates sent up by Mr. Jani Alli to the Calcutta University Entrance Examination, has almost recovered the number of pupils which it had in May, 1886. In January last there were 206 on the rolls, viz. 4 Christians, 65 Mohammedans, and 137 Hindus. The compensation question has been settled by compromise, and a new building will now be commenced.

Matyaburj School.

The Matyaburj School has succeeded beyond Mr. Alli's best hopes. Of its 87 boys, 74 are Mohammedans, 11 Hindus, and 2 Christians. On November 12th the first prize-giving took place. Several Mohammedan princes and nobles were present, including the late king's son and nephew, and the ex-prime minister. The chair was taken by Colonel Prideaux, who, as Government agent, is arranging the affairs of the late king of Oudh. The boys recited in Persian, Arabic, Hindustani, and English. In a congratulatory speech the ex-prime minister expressed his surprise at all he saw, and thanked Mr. Alli. The latter says:—

"A real wonder."

To think that in sixteen months seventy-four Mussulman boys, belonging to one of the worst courts in India, would daily receive Scripture instruction, is a real wonder. "It is the Lord's doing;" and that in spite of the strongest opposition.

I am deeply thankful to say that at Matyaburj almost every house is open to me; I am welcomed as a friend, and sent for by the sick and dying; those in trouble and difficulty come to my house for advice and help, from the princes downwards.

At the commencement of last year Miss Neele resided at Agurpara, and Miss Parsons was kindly allowed by the C.E.Z.M.S. to assist Miss Sampson at the Girls' Boarding School. All the elder girls of the school belong to a Y.W.C.A. About twenty are members of the Gleaners' Union, and Miss Sampson says that the Cycle of Prayer is very diligently used among them. She asked several of them after the vacation whether there had been gleaning at all during the holidays. One said, "I have been talking to the little ones about Jesus." Another said, "I have been telling of Jesus to the Hindu women who came to bathe, and giving tracts to those who could read." The school staff were encouraged by the success of a pupil who went in for the University Entrance last year; she was the first pupil of the school who had been prepared for this examination, and she passed in the second class. It is requisite to know English very thoroughly, besides Algebra and four books of Euclid, and either Sanskrit or Bengali as a second language; "a good deal of work," as Miss Sampson says, "for a Bengali girl." During the Mission a visit was paid to the Agurpara Orphanage by Miss McInnes and Miss Clymer, and meetings were held for the teachers, the servants, the elder girls, the middle girls, and the little girls.

Success at the Calcutta University

At Thakurpukur a remarkable scene occurred during the Mission. A former Native agent of the Society, who became a pervert to Islam a few years ago, publicly recanted in the church. Much blessing rested upon the work among the women, which Mr. Hall attributes, under God, to the preparatory work done by Miss Good of the C.E.Z.M.S., and to the faithful words of Miss Bromley, who spent two days at this place.

A pervert publicly recants.

At Krishtopur, Mr. Hall says, "A deep wave of blessing seemed to pass over the Christian population." He adds:—

Mission-services at Krish-topur,

I have never seen the church so thronged, every available nook was occupied; while outside, in the porch, and all around the building a crowd of Hindus and Mussulmans stood intently listening to song and word. Short pointed prayers followed in quick succession, and my heart was gladdened when some familiar tongue, unused to prayer, cried to God for mercy.

After evening service Mr. Clifford exhibited his lantern in the open-air to a large crowd of Christians, Hindus, and Mussulmans.

and Bonhugli.

At Bonhugli the interest was still more general. There the little Christian community shines for Christ amidst surrounding heathenism.

BURDWAN.

The Rev. Raj Kristo Bose has been in charge of this station since March last year. He has had much sickness in his family, and his son has died during the year. He mentions the baptism of a young man who was suffering from a painful disease, and who subsequently died in the hospital. Eight adult Bowries also were baptized in the out-stations of Assensole, Ranigunge, and Sarakdihi. Mr. Sulivan, accompanied by the Rev. P. M. Rudra, spent three days—January 4th to 6th—at Burdwan, when some from the above-mentioned out-stations, upwards of sixty miles distant from the city, were present. Mr. Rudra writes—"The Mission was very short, but it was very profitable, and I believe that many were blessed."

KRISHNAGAR DISTRICT.

In this district of 3421 square miles there is a population exceeding two millions, nearly 600 to the square mile; and the Rev. G. H. Parsons has been the only European missionary engaged in itinerating among them. The Committee have, however, appointed the Rev. C. Hope Gill to occupy the new station at Shikarpur, as soon as suitable buildings are erected, with a view to itinerating in that part of the district, and they hope to be able to send out in the autumn two lay evangelists to co-operate with him. The Rev. A. J. Santer conducts the Training Institution at the town of Krishnagar, where he also takes English services on Sundays. The general charge of the Native pastorates, schools, &c., has been under the Rev. Piari Mohun Rudra, who is chairman of the Krishnagar District Church Council. The Rev. Koilash Chunder Biswas, Mohan Biswas, Sartok Biswas, Daniel Biswas, and Gopal Biswas are the pastors at Bollobhpur, Solo, Kapasdanga, Rottonpur, and Joginda respectively. The two last-named are deacons.

Training School.

In the Training School Mr. Santer has been justified in the adoption of the Government standard, as mentioned last year, by the success of three of his boys in the first examination. He writes with deep thankfulness of the spiritual progress of some of the students. He can rejoice in them as thoroughly converted, and trusts they will be a power for good when they leave his care. He wrote after the Special Mission :—

> How can I praise our loving Lord enough for the mercy shed forth upon my boys! How many of them are rejoicing now in the new life! Several of them said at the testimony meeting—We have often heard these things before from our Principal and masters, but never let them enter the heart till now. Others said, we heard that a Mission was coming, but did not understand what it meant; now we see what wonderful things God has wrought!

Visits to educated Natives.

Mr. Santer has started a Middle Vernacular School at Krishnagar, under his own supervision, from which to draft youths for training in the Normal School. As one of the Municipal Commissioners, Mr. Santer comes in contact with many educated Babus, and thus has opportunities of speaking for Christ. He alludes with pain to the lives of these "civilized gentlemen." He has also visited once or twice the Raja of Krishnagar, who is "a very orthodox Hindu," and Mrs. Santer has been permitted to visit the Ranee, and to instruct her in various things. With the aid of Peep of Day, or Dayspring, as it is in Bengali, some elementary Christian knowledge has been imparted.

Native congregations of Krishnagar.

Mr. Rudra gives a forcible description of the state of the Congregations. The Lord's Day is generally well observed, and the services are fairly attended; a great many of the people have a knowledge of Christ. There is, however, a less pleasing side of the picture, and one which is a call for constant prayer. He says :—

> As yet the standard of morality is comparatively low and the spirit of devotion and heart-service are rarely met: hence the desertions to the Romish Church, and the unwillingness to help in supporting their religious establishments.

Mr. Rudra welcomed very heartily the proposal to have a Special Mission, feeling that it was precisely the effort which the state of these congregations called for. At a meeting of the Executive of Committee of the District

Preparations for Special Mission.

Church Council, held at Bollobhpur, the arrangements were fully discussed, and, by way of anticipating the coming blessing, it was resolved to hold a special open-air evangelistic service on Sunday evenings for those who did not go to church. Later, on September 1st and 2nd, Mr. Rudra invited all the pastoral agents to Chupra, to "come apart" for two whole days "to consider their own lives and work, and the high vocation to which they have been called, in the light of God's Word, and to obtain strength and love by communion with the Master." One most encouraging feature of this Conference was the short addresses given by the pastors themselves about their work, its failure and difficulties, and their desire for better things. The Mission preachers arrived in the district on December 14th, and remained until January 5th. Ratnapore, Solo, Chupra, Kapasdanga, Krishnagar, and Bollobhpur were the places chosen as convenient centres for the district, and Mr. Sulivan and Mr. Clifford, assisted by Miss Dawe and Miss Collisson, of the C.E.Z.M.S., took either of them three of these places, remaining several days at each. The attendance at all the services—and there were three or four each day—seems to have been very encouraging. "The church was quite crowded;" "the church was filled to overflowing," are expressions which occur again and again in Mr. Rudra's letters. On Christmas Day, at Krishnagar, he writes: "The church was quite filled, almost every one in the parish being present." And there was abundant evidence of the Holy Spirit's presence, —convicting, comforting, enlightening, and inspiring with joy and praise. Of the services at Solo, for example, on December 21st, Mr. Rudra writes:—

Crowded churches.

> There were four services conducted by Mr. Sulivan this day, being the closing day of the Mission at this parish of Solo. He spoke very earnestly at all the meetings. In the evening we had a crowded meeting at Solo, where people from the neighbouring Christian villages had gathered to hear Mr. Sulivan. He preached a most impressive sermon on the word "Come," with which the Mission at this place began, and exhorted all present—sinners, weary, and heavy-laden—to receive salvation, peace, and rest and joy from Christ. At the conclusion of the sermon many evinced their faith in Christ as the hope of their salvation, for which God's name was praised. There were also many seekers after Christ, who requested the prayers of the congregation on their behalf. We are having blessed times. God is working in our midst with the missioners, and the services have done great good in stirring people to consider their ways, and seek for their God. Indeed, there has been a rich feast of spiritual truths enjoyed by us here.

"Blessed times."

And in like manner Mr. Santer writes of the work at Krishnagar :—

On Sunday we had Holy Communion, and a great many stayed. The people evidently soon began to thaw, and on Monday the searching of hearts went on. It was glorious to see men, whom we had cause to fear were formerly cold and lifeless, remain behind after service, and boldly yet humbly confess their needs. The tone of sincerity among these was so refreshing! There was no attempt at self-justification. Sinners confessed themselves to be such without reserve, and were eagerly ready to follow on to find peace. Then, in subsequent services, how delightful it was to see those who before were troubled with the sense of sin, look up with bright and joyful faces, which at once told the story of peace found in Jesus.

With reluctance the Committee have been obliged to transfer the Rev. F. T. Cole temporarily to the Gond Mission. He left in February last. In other respects the European staff remains as reported last year. The four Native pastors are the Revs. Bhim Hansda, William Sido, Sham Besra, and Ram Charan. The last-named was admitted to priest's orders by the Bishop of Calcutta in April last year.

Special Mission.

The Special Mission began in this district at Bahawa on January 12th, and concluded at Taljhari on February 6th. At Chuchi Mr. Sulivan held a "testimony meeting" on the last evening of the Mission, which was on Sunday, January 22nd. Mr. Brown says:—

A "testimony meeting."

Mr. Sulivan asked all who had received good during the Mission to hold up their hands. Many did so, and then one after another told in few simple words how they had been blessed with spiritual blessings. Some compared their state to that of the dry and parched ground refreshed with showers of rain. One testified to his soul being like dying rice, revivified by rain. One old man said he had come with a load of sorrow, but was now full of joy. An elderly woman spoke of the comfort she had received. Another woman spoke of her trials through husband and son, but had found strength to bear them. After all had borne their testimony, the pastor told us that the address on "God's thoughts" (Jer. xxix. 11) had brought a flood of light and comfort to his mind; he said, "I am content now to be where God places me, to do whatever He bids me, and to bear patiently whatever He lays upon me; I feel that, however unworthy I may be, yet I am His." After each testimony Mr. Sulivan prayed for each one who had spoken, suitably to his or her case. This we felt to be a most happy and blessed time. We felt that Jesus was indeed in our midst, and by His spirit working in our hearts.

At the same place, one man, having told his family what Mr. Sulivan had said at a meeting of men, they begged to be allowed also to hear, and Miss Bromley went to them. She found five princesses present, "gorgeous in apparel and jewels," who listened with great eagerness. At Hiranpur nearly all stood up at the closing service, to testify to the blessing received. One woman had said, "I am determined to find Christ at this Mission if I can," and she found Him, or, rather, was found of Him. Mr. Sulivan, in a private letter, wrote: "You feel here as if you could preach till you dropped; it is really good news to them, and you love to tell it out." In another letter he gave an account of one Sabbath's work at Taljhari:—

"Determined to find Christ."

A Sabbath day's work.

Service at 8.30 a.m., and again at 11, with Holy Communion. The church was more full than ever—a grand sight, and one indeed for which to thank God. With what pains and prayers have they thus been gathered out and brought in. I spoke on "the brazen serpent," and there was the greatest attention. Then on our knees we sang "Even me;" and I addressed the communicants; about 130 remained. At 3.30 I took another meeting in the schoolroom to the Hindus. At 4.30 I went to the adjoining village, gathered the people together, and spoke to them in the open-air on "rest;" then went up to the church and spoke to the boys on the "winning side." Only in this dry, warm air could I have done such a day's work. To me it makes all the difference, and then to such listening people, so eager to hear and learn. It draws you on and draws you out very gladly, to spend and be spent.

Santali New Testament.

By the publication during the year of the Epistles and the Revelation, the Santali New Testament has been made complete.

Of TALJHARI Mr. Cole sends, as usual, an interesting report. There are 1038 baptized Christians, and 307 communicants, and 13 adults have been baptized at Taljhari and out-stations during the year. The love of strong drink, a national infirmity of the Santalis, has kept back the headman of an out-station from confessing Christ, and has ensnared another to a temporary disavowal of his Saviour. The latter, however, was restored in answer to prayer. Mr. Cole says:—

Snare of strong drink.

Answer to prayer.

At our quarterly meeting of the Church Committee for the whole district each of the members agreed to pray for the conversion of a special member of their district. At the next meeting, to our great surprise, the headman spoken of above came of his own accord and confessed his sins. He made a public confession before the congregation, and was received into Communion again. One of the Church Committee said that he and his wife had made this man's case a special object of prayer, and said that he felt sure this was a direct answer to prayer.

At Poraspani and Telo, two centres for evangelistic work, at which Native evangelists have laboured for the past four years, the first fruits have been yielded. The catechist at the former is supported by the Church Committee.

Collecting subscriptions.

We have a monthly Mission Sunday, and the elected representatives of the villages go round to every house with a basket to collect rice and money; this is brought into the church, and the proceeds of it, with the help of the monthly subscriptions of the agents, provide the salary.

"A ton of rice" at harvest festival.

At the harvest festival 2260 pounds of rice, just over one ton, was given, the largest amount ever contributed in the district, and this notwithstanding a poor harvest.

The large Boys' Boarding School at Taljhari is under the Rev. J. Blaich, from whom no Annual Letter has been received.

At BAHAWA the number of baptized Christians is 912, of whom 347 are communicants. The Rev. J. Brown reports twenty-one adult baptisms during the year. The Union for Daily Prayer for the Holy Spirit has been helpful in keeping prominent in the minds of the converts the secret of real life. One object is to pray for particular individuals, and one who seemed a most hardened backslider who had thus been pleaded for, and doubtless pleaded with, has returned to attendance at church, while others show an inclination to do the same. There are sixty-four boarders in the Girls' Boarding School. A recent pupil is the daughter of heathen parents. After visiting her married brother, who is a Christian, and whose wife was a former pupil at the school, she said, "I too will go and learn, and will become a Christian. I am quite determined not to marry a heathen, for I see that the Christians treat their wives much better than the heathen do." In twelve village schools there are 257 boys on the rolls. A former pupil of one of these schools was baptized during the year, and now teaches the Bible in his own village, where all except himself are heathen, and in the same school where he began his alphabet seven years ago. The Revs. Ram Charan and Bhim Hansda are in charge of Chuchi and Lakhipur; but the former has suffered from a chronic complaint which has in a great degree incapacitated him for the active work required by his sub-district of some seventy square miles.

Prayer for individuals.

Christians' treatment of their wives.

The 250 Christians and inquirers, for the oversight of which the Rev. J. Tunbridge, of HIRANPUR, is responsible, reside in twenty-nine different villages, some twenty to thirty miles apart. Twenty-five adults have been added by baptism to the Church, three of whom were at Hiranpur. At Jhenagaria there is a little band of nine converts from Mohammedanism for whom Sunday services have been established. Talpahari has yielded three adult converts. At Askandha also three adults have been gathered in. One man here who had been a backslider has for some time past regularly attended the services, "even swimming a river some days to do so." An evangelist on private funds has been stationed at Kharpat, a new outpost eight miles from Askandha. Raghunathpur is another new out-station, where a good school has been opened and a hard-working evangelist is located. At Chatra, opened last year, the reader is a remarkable man. He was formerly a conjuror and medicine-man, but since he became convinced of the truth by the Holy Spirit no man of his tribe has been more instrumental in bringing souls to Christ. Mr. Tunbridge says of this Pahari neighbourhood :—

A former conjuror now a Christian reader.

> A stronghold of evil. It is a stronghold of all evil—a very Satan's seat; robbery, murder, wild beasts and wilder men abound on every hand. The Christians have removed their houses to a spot away from the evil influences of their heathen neighbours, and though opposed to it at the time, I now feel they did right.

Nevertheless, eight more candidates are under instruction for baptism. Khamidoni is a second centre of Pahari work now occupied in this district. A family of three adults and four children have come out, and at Jirli, two miles further off, seven more adults and three children have come under instruction. Mr. and Mrs. Tunbridge spent the cold season, from November 20th till the beginning of March, in camp, sleeping at home only two nights during that time. His magic-lantern exhibitions, four evenings a week, were attended by thousands, and Mrs. Tunbridge was daily besieged by the heathen women, and found plenty of work for the Master in answering their eager questions.

Bhagaya and Godda are on the western side of the Rajmahal Hills. At the former the Rev. A. Stark has under his care 312 baptized Christians and 97 communicants. The Bishop of Calcutta visited Bhagaya in April and confirmed 51 candidates. The Boys' Boarding School, which was removed to this station from Bhagalpur in August, 1886, has 183 scholars. All the Santal stations look for their supply of Pahari masters and preachers from this school.

At Godda, the Rev. A. J. Shields has added three Pahari evangelists to his staff through the liberal aid of friends in Australia. The statistical tables are compiled up to September 30th, at which date the adult baptisms of the year were nineteen; and "many others," Mr. Shields says, were baptized in the two following months. The year was an unusually favourable one for itinerating, as the fierce hot winds of March and April were comparatively mild, and Mr. Shields was accordingly able to camp and travel about the district the whole year, except during the heaviest part of the rains. The Rev. W. Sido, with a strong party, was also itinerating nearly the whole year in the district of Hendwai among a dense Santal population about twenty-five miles south of Godda. There have been two adult baptisms at Mohunpur, a new out-station provided for by Australian funds, and Mr. Shields found thirty-three worshippers at a service in November last.

BHAGALPUR.

The Rev. G. H. Weber has been alone since May last year, as Mrs. Weber had to bring their children to England after serious illness. There are fifty-two boys, among whom are some "bright little fellows," in the Boys' Orphanage, twenty-five boys having been brought hither from Benares, where the Orphanage has been closed. In the Girls' Orphanage are thirty-three inmates, from one and a half years upwards. During Mrs. Weber's absence Mrs. Connor has supervised the girls, who cook all the food and make all the clothes for both orphanages. These girls, as well as the daughters of the Native Christians, are taught in the Christian Girls' School. There is also an Infant School with twenty-eight children.

An English settlement.

Jamalpur, though in the plains, is really a charming English settlement. Mr. Weber believes there are 700 Europeans residing there, employés of the East Indian Railway Company. The 100 Native Christians, who earn their bread as clerks or workmen or domestic servants, have not earned for themselves a good name. The measure of Sunday work which railway employ involves forms a ready excuse for the neglect of the means of grace; and the numerous country spirit-shops are a fatal source of temptation to men earning comparatively good wages, and who are not strengthened with might by the Spirit in the inner man.

NORTH-WEST PROVINCES.

Agra, commenced 1813; Mirát, 1815; Benares, 1817; Gorakpur, 1823; Azimgarh and Jaunpur, 1831; Lucknow, 1858; Allahabad, 1859; Faizabad, 1862; Aligarh, 1863.

THE Rev. R. J. Bell has come to England on sick leave, and the Rev. H. D. Williamson on furlough; the Revs. B. Davis and H. M. M. Hackett have returned to India, the former to resume his work at Benares, which Mr. Bell took up during Mr. Davis's furlough, and the latter as Acting Principal of the Divinity School at Allahabad. The Rev. A. I. Birkett, B.A., of Trinity College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, lately Curate of Christ Church, Derby, has joined the Mission. The Bishop of Calcutta admitted Mr. P. M. Zenker, who has zealously laboured as a lay missionary of the Society in this Mission for nearly twenty years, to deacon's orders on June 5th; and the Revs. T. Carmichael, A. E. Bowlby, and E. P. Herbert to priest's orders on December 18th. The Rev. F. Abel, Native pastor of Fyzabad, after twenty-one years of ministerial labour, died of cholera in July; and in the previous February Babu Timothy Luther, head-master of Jay Narain's School at Benares, was also called to his rest. He was one of Dr. Duff's pupils, and had served the Church Missionary Society forty-four years.

Eleventh anniversary of Native Church Council.

The Eleventh Annual Meeting of the N.-W. Provinces Native Church Council was held at Allahabad on September 27th and 28th, the Rev. J. P. Ellwood, Chairman, presiding. The Bishop of Calcutta was present part of the time, and spoke on several subjects. A paper on the Hindustani Prayer-Book was read by the Rev. Aman Masih Levi. An increase in the Native Church funds was reported by the Treasurer, the Hon. G. E. Knox, C.S.; the subscriptions for the year amounted to Rs. 2984, and the offertories to Rs. 1624. In three years the money raised has nearly doubled.

BENARES.

Upon the Rev. R. J. Bell's being ordered home in September, the Calcutta Corresponding Committee requested the Rev. A. E. Bowlby to remove thither for two months until the Rev. J. J. Johnson could return from an itinerating tour. The Rev. A. H. Wright conducts the Female Normal School and Girls' Orphanage, and has also superintended the work at the out-stations. The Rev. Aman Masih Levi is pastor of the Native congregation.

There are 102 pupils in the Normal School. Two girls went up for the Matriculation of the Calcutta University, one of whom passed in the second division. Sir T. Fowell Buxton was present at the prize distribution. The fact that he had presided a short while before at the distribution of prizes at the Limpsfield Children's Home, where Mr. and Mrs. Wright have three children, made the parents especially glad to have him at their prize-day in India. Miss Kimmins, a lady missionary of the I.F.N.S., gives valuable help on the teaching staff.

Sir T. Fowell Buxton at the Normal School.

The Committee are grateful to the Berlin Society for sending out Miss Goetze to assist in the Girls' Orphanage, in which there are forty-three children. Specimens of needlework by the girls have been sent to the "Glasgow Women's Industrial Exhibition" at the request of some ladies in that town who had seen samples of the work done at the orphanage.

Exhibits from the Girls' Orphanage at Glasgow

At Jaunpur, once the capital of a mighty kingdom, the Rev. Nathaniel Rahim Bahksh is the Native pastor. There is a high school at Azimgarh, conducted by Mr. G. C. Bose. An old Mohammedan woman of private means was baptized here last year by Mr. Johnson.

GORAKHPUR.

This city is the capital of a district of the same name reaching from the northern limits of the Azimgarh district to the southern frontier of Nepaul. The Society's veteran missionary, the Rev. Henry Stern, continues in charge. The Rev. T. Carmichael resides at Basharatpur, "Town of Joy," of which the Rev. Benjamin Tobit is the Native pastor. Basharatpur is a prosperous Christian village, built on land allotted to the Mission by Lord W. Bentinck, before the Mutiny.

The number of baptized Christians in this Mission is 847, less than reported last year by nearly thirty, owing to several families having left in search of employment. Six adults were baptized. There are 1564 pupils in eighteen schools. In the Girls' Orphanage at Gorakhpur, one of the girls, fourteen years of age, was accidentally burnt to such an extent that, after several days of much suffering, she died. Mr. Stern says of her:—

Death of an orphan girl by burning.

> She was a truly good and pious girl, and in her suffering she would often sing the hymns she had learnt and repeat the verses of Scripture she had been taught, longing for the presence of Jesus, whom she loved, and to whom she committed her soul—falling asleep in His arms.

Itinerating.

The Rev. T. Carmichael has spent most of the year itinerating, accompanied by Mrs. Carmichael. In January and February they took two journeys north-west and westward to Basti. In March they went south-east. During the hot and rainy seasons, when it was impossible to live in tents, they got permission to use bungalows out in the district belonging to officials and private owners for an occasional period of preaching. The plan adopted in the earlier journeys was to travel about ten miles, and then stay for a couple of days preaching in the surrounding villages. In one village a banian (small shopkeeper) invited them to his house, where he had collected between thirty and forty friends to hear the Word of God.

Pleasing incidents.

At another stopping-place on the way to Basti, the village-people would scarcely let them go, "clinging to them and beseeching them to come and repeat the hymns and stories of Divine love." A banian's wife almost overwhelmed them with her gratitude when Mr. and Mrs. Carmichael went to her house and sang, and taught her people of the Saviour. At other places presents of sugar-cane and balls of coarse sugar were pressed upon them. A gosein, or "holy" man, after an hour's conversation, brought them a quantity of fruit, and followed them the same night to their camp, two miles off, to listen for another hour and a half to the Gospel story. To twenty-five Native gentlemen, who listened in deep silence, Mr. Carmichael told the story of his own conversion.

"Attacking Hinduism on both sides."

Mrs. Carmichael's work among the women was an unspeakable help. "It is like attacking Hinduism on both sides." The women gathered round her in some places with great delight, and, though usually very ignorant, some very interesting cases were met with.

ALLAHABAD.

The Rev. H. M. M. Hackett was heartily welcomed on his return by both Europeans and Native Christians. He was just in time to take part in the deliberations of the Annual Conference of missionaries (of which he is the Secretary), which was held this year at Allahabad, on November 2nd to 4th. The Rev. A. E. Bowlby removed from Lucknow to Allahabad in December, 1886, in view of Mr. Hooper's impending departure. In February and March, accompanied by a catechist, he made a tour, penetrating, he says, to parts never before visited by any missionary. The magic-lantern was found helpful in attracting the people, their fears operating strongly to keep them away.

At Muirabad the Rev. David Mohun is Native pastor.

LUCKNOW AND FAIZABAD.

The Rev. H. Lewis assumed the charge of Lucknow at the beginning of last year, and was joined at its close by the Rev. A. I. Birkett. The Rev. Dâvi Solomon is the honoured and aged pastor of the Native congregation.

The fourth city in India.

Mr. Lewis makes reflections, which are by no means uncalled for, on the exceeding weakness of the Society's European staff in this city of over 260,000 souls (the fourth in India), two-fifths of whom are Mohammedans. There are 277 baptized Christians and ninety-six communicants, who enjoy the proud position, Mr. Lewis says, of being first in their willingness to contribute of all the Society's North India congregations. There are three Boys' Schools, in which are 468 pupils, less than one-tenth of whom are Christians; and five Sunday-schools, three of them for Hindu and Mohammedan youths, and one for English-speaking boys and girls. All the Sunday-school teachers are voluntary. The superintendent of the one last enumerated is a Mr. De Cruz, "who for fifteen years has never failed to appear at his Sunday post, with the exception of five occasions of bereavement or illness." Mr. Lewis quotes a remarkable testimony to the value of Mission schools, which was borne at a large and important Mohammedan Congress held in Lucknow last December. The Pioneer of December 30th, 1887, reports as follows:—

Liberality of congregation.

An exemplary Sunday-school superintendent.

Mohammedan estimation of the value of Mission schools.

> A discussion then occurred as to whether Government or missionary schools were best fitted for Mohammedan students; some speakers holding that in the latter the religion of Islam was held up to contempt; while on the other side it was said that boys were at least taught the Bible, which was better than nothing."

Mr. Lewis adds: "We may well feel thankful for what is probably an unprecedented act of recognition on the part of our Moslem friends, that there is something good in the Christians' Bible after all." Members of the "Arya Somaj" sect, which has for its object the restoration of primitive Vedic religion, have been very active and troublesome in their opposition to the City Preaching. Three catechists go out twice daily to gain a hearing, but they are frequently dogged by preaching bands of these zealous champions of Hindu orthodoxy. They make full use of the press:—

> In imitation of a well-known Christian polemic, Ram Tested, they have published and circulated far and wide a book called Christ Tested, in which the most untruthful and disgraceful things are said of our blessed Lord. Another book, the idea of which they have again copied from our own literature, is The Self-contradictions of the Bible. A third book of the same kind has just been printed in Allahabad. This is far the most scurrilous of all. Mr. Baring tried, I believe, to induce Government to suppress it, but was not successful. Twenty thousand copies of this book were struck off for gratuitous distribution; and as only the students and ex-students of our Government and Mission schools for the most part can read, it is evident where the mischief is to be looked for.

They also publish numerous newspapers.

There have been six adult baptisms. One of them is a young Mohammedan student, who had been an inquirer for three years. Two others are an old blind man and his wife.

Blind Bartimai.

The blind man has been named "Bartimai," as, like his namesake, he too is a beggar, and has been allowed for many years to take "chunzi," a kind of tax consisting of handfuls of the produce brought twice a week to the bazaar. Three catechists are employed in the three out-stations, viz. Mhow, Goshainganj, and Fatehganj, which are about twelve miles apart. Mr. Lewis says a most interesting and promising work is going on in some hundred villages.

AGRA, MATTRA, AND ALIGARH.

The Revs. G. E. A. Pargiter and T. F. Robathan are the Principal and Vice-Principal of St. John's College; the Rev. J. Erhardt has charge of Secundra; the Rev. P. M. Zenker labours on at Mattra; and the Rev. J. W. Stuart superintends the work at Aligarh. The Revs. W. Seetal and N. Solomon are the pastors of the Native congregations at Agra and Aligarh respectively.

At AGRA Mr. Pargiter has thankfully welcomed Mr. Robathan as Vice-Principal of St. John's College, after a vacancy of two years in the office. In the College Department, which educates up to the F.A. Standard, there have been sixteen students, of whom six were Christians, nine Hindus, and one Mohammedan. The two candidates of the year who were presented for examination passed successfully, and proceeded to the Agra College to read for their B.A., visiting Mr. Pargiter regularly for Scripture instruction, although Hindus. Mr. Pargiter one day asked one of them what difference he found between a Mission and a non-Mission school. His reply deserves to be recorded:—

Difference between a Mission and Government school.

Every difference, sir. At St. John's College we never talked about nasty subjects as they do at the Agra College, nor did we consider lying and other vices of no consequence. I find, sir, that I must either make no friends among the students, and keep to the principles you taught me; or else leave those principles and be friends with them. Unless I read my Bible every day, and come now and then to see you, sir, I feel inclined to do as they do, but hitherto I have kept to myself.

In the School Department the number was the same as last year, about 380, most of them in the middle classes. Some of these lads do extremely well in the Scripture examinations, the average in this respect being "good." There are also 120 boys in three Branch Schools of the lower primary grade.

Urdu lectures.

Three lectures in Urdu were kindly delivered by Dr. Scott, of the American Episcopalian Methodist Mission, an accomplished Urdu scholar, to large and appreciative audiences. The subjects were:—(1) "The true spirit of Truth-seeking." (2) "The signs of the Truth." (3) "Divine Incarnation."

Pastoral and evangelistic work by the Native Church.

The Rev. W. Seetal says that "the blessing of God has rested on all the efforts put forth for the welfare of the Agra Hindustani Church." The congregation has increased from 390 to 540 souls, due mainly to the seeking out of semi-Christian families who had been lost to the Church and to all Christian influence for years. The communicants on the rolls have increased from 120 to 176; the inquirers from 30 to 100; the Sunday-scholars from 50 to 61. The only unsatisfactory feature in the statistics is the contributions, which have slightly fallen off, from Rs. 885 to Rs. 865, owing, Mr. Seetal says, partly to the diversion of donations to charitable objects outside the congregation, and partly to the withdrawal of contributions by some who have been censured or subjected to discipline. Mr. Seetal also gives a very interesting account of evangelistic work:—

Mohammedan opponents

Very good work has been done in bazaar-preaching this year, both in the city and in the fairs and melas. The Mohammedans of the city called down moulvies from Delhi and other places and opposed the Christian preachers for full four months, holding discussions both morning and evening with the C.M.S. catechists, the congregation preachers, and the Council evangelists. The Christian preachers were daily insulted in the bazaars of Agra. But all this determined and organized opposition brought large crowds of listeners. The Scriptures were appealed to on every occasion, information about the truths of the Bible was extended, the brethren were stirred up to earnest prayer and voluntary preaching, the preachers roused to public refutation of the malicious falsehoods of the moulvies, and the mass of the people to inquiry into the true teaching and tendency of the opposing systems of faith. Rev. Raheem Bakhsh did great service in refuting the Mohammedan moulvies, and Pundit Nawall Chand in refuting the Arya-Samaj opponents in all the public discussions that were forced upon the Christians preachers in the crowded preaching-places of Agra. The Spirit of God did indeed strive with the wilful blindness and hardness of men's hearts, through all their blasphemy against Christ and the Christians. God grant that the Word of life sown amidst many tears and prayers and much patience and affliction may bring fruit to eternal life in the hearts of those who heard it! Good work was also done in the fairs and melas at Bindraban in March, and at Bateshwar in November, to which the pastor went, accompanied by musicians, some Christian faqeers, the preachers supported by the congregation and the Council, and some brethren who acted as voluntary workers. The party worked with the C.M.S. catechists and with the Christian preachers of other denominations also; and all felt the happier and stronger for this harmonious blending of Christian workers. The novel sight of Christian converts in Hindu faqeers' coloured garb, singing bhajjans, and playing on the Native musical instruments, drew crowds of attentive listeners. Great enthusiasm prevailed all the time that the preaching-band kept up their work or walked through the streets to the preaching-places. And so heartily and cheerfully was the preaching and singing continued (sometimes for five hours at a time) in the mornings and afternoons, that the temple priests and the bigoted moulvies often exclaimed as they passed by, "These cursed unclean Christians will soon ruin our religion." But the common people heard us gladly, in spite of the dancing boys and girls which some of the Mohammedans now and then brought into the crowd to distract attention, to interrupt preaching, and to prejudice Christian singing. May all this labour in the Lord be very fruitful to the saving of many souls.

"Ruining our religion."

Jubilee of Secundra.

Mr. Erhardt reminds the Committee that the year under review was the Jubilee year of SECUNDRA. In 1837-8 a terrible famine threw a large number of orphans upon the Society, for whose accommodation the Government gave to the Society the tomb of Miriam Zamani (the traditional Christian wife of Akbar, the founder of Agra), just opposite Akbar's own grand mausoleum at Secundra. Mr. Erhardt refers to the work of the station under the following general heads:—Boys' Orphanage, Day-school, Press, and Industry; Girls' Orphanage, School, and Industry; Bazaar, Zenana Mission School, Mission-work at Secundra and out-stations, Itineration, Village Zenana Mission, Visitation and Preaching, Colportage. At Runkutta, where a catechist is stationed, there is a hopeful inquirer, a Thakur (caste next to the Brahmin) of well-to-do family, and about twenty-eight years of age. Mr. Erhardt says:—

A high-caste inquirer.

Some eight years ago he was struck with the idea that he ought to inquire more into religion. He visited all the most famous shrines in Hindustan, and on his return determined to lead a religious life; and without the knowledge of his family, he settled at our out-station as a faqir. The Thakurs of the place willingly supplied him with food and clothing. Our catechist made friends with him, taught him to read and write, and brought the Gospel near to him. He has been reading the Scriptures and all the controversial books bearing on Hinduism, and at last he decided to become a Christian, and is preparing for baptism. May the Lord make him a chosen vessel!

The Village Zenana Mission, under Miss Reimpell, assisted by four young Native women, continues a very interesting work, especially in the neighbourhood of Runkutta.

Women preachers.

The congregations vary, sometimes only women, sometimes half men, half women, sometimes even more men than women. They vary also in numbers from ten to 1000. In the villages near to Secundra, congregations are smaller; in this district they are very large. The press is sometimes so great that the preachers have to take refuge on a high spot or even on the roof of a mud house for being seen and heard. Preaching men are known everywhere, but women is a new thing, and people want to hear what they have to say about Christ. They are also more free with our women in asking questions; and curious questions do come out. A groom, after having listened some time to a Bible-woman, asked, "When I eat what Christians eat, shall I become a Christian?" She replied, "If you give your horse's food to an ox, will he become a horse?" The application was very nice, though I have no room for it. This work is most encouraging.

What constitutes a Christian?

At MATTRA Mr. Zenker and his sister, assisted by eight male and six female agents, have continued their labours. He relates, with grateful surprise, that, in fanatical and bigoted Mattra, a number of the leading residents requested the Government to allow him to be elected a member of the Board of Municipal Commissioners. The permission was given, and his election followed, which will give him, he believes, opportunities undreamt-of formerly of witnessing for Christ before many who are quite inaccessible to the bazaar preacher.

Missionary elected a Municipal Commissioner.

Mr. Stuart reports thirty-one Native communicants at ALIGARH, and three adult baptisms during the year. In the schools are 102 boys and 15 girls. He describes the method he has adopted of imparting instruction in the Sunday-school.

A Sunday school lesson.

Before us on a mat sit twenty children, more or less. A simple prayer of one minute is offered up. Then follows one verse of a hymn. The music draws scores and scores of all ages, for teachers and scholars both "sing" (?). After this solitary verse of a hymn I repeat John iii. 16 in a loud voice, the children, sentence by sentence, repeating it after me. Then a boy whom I beckon to comes out and stands before the class, and goes through the verse as I had done, all the others repeating it loudly after him; and then another boy, and another, and another, and so on, all down the class. Then comes another verse of the hymn, then another text by one of my helpers; the boys in turn standing before the class repeat it as before, all the rest following. Thus we go through our stock of selected texts, and also the commandments, here and there remarking upon them, and now and then asking a question, the answer to which the texts themselves are intended to supply. In this way all the adults, as well as children, are taught. The parents and friends are immensely interested at the novel spectacle of seeing and hearing their children act as teachers, and so mothers come and bring their spinning with them, and stay throughout. Thus, although we have got as scholars but twenty perhaps, yet as many as 100 sometimes are sitting listening to what is going on.

MIRAT.

At this, one of the oldest C.M.S. stations in India, having been occupied by a catechist so early as 1816, the Rev. I. T. H. Hoernle continues to labour. His father, the late Rev. C. T. Hoernle, reorganized the Mission after the Mutiny, and he succeeded to his father's work in 1874. The work of the past year has been one of quiet labour and daily seed-sowing. Preaching in towns and villages, and at the Nauchumli and Gurmuktesur melas, has been regularly continued. The High School is exercising, Mr. Hoernle is assured, a great deal of indirect and quiet influence. When cholera was in the town, and the Government High School had to be closed on account of the personal fears of the Hindu head-master, Mr. Hoernle, the teachers, and boys thought it better to go on as usual with their daily duties than sit idle and become a prey to their fears. When an application was made in 1886 for an increase in the municipal grant, it was unanimously supported by the Native members of the municipality, who said that it was "a very good school." A cheering proof of indirect fruit of former years' work in the school reached Mr. Hoernle unexpectedly. He read in the Punjab Mission News the following notice :—

'A very good school."

> "A minister of the Kirk of Scotland Mission, the first Brahmin baptized in the bigoted Hindu State of Chamba, told us only the other day that he was led to God by a Testament given him by a post-office baboo, 'an ex-student of the Mission school at Meerutt.'"

Indirect fruit of Mission school.

The 342 baptized Christians of this station are very much scattered, which makes the work of the Rev. David Jeremy, the Native Pastor, much more onerous, yet the number of communicants at the greater festivals, Christmas and Easter, is often over 100. There have been again, as last year, four adult baptisms; three of these, two men and the wife of one of them, were Mohammedans. One of them was a teacher in a Government village school, and the other is an agriculturalist. Mr. Hoernle believes that careful returns from the Indian Missions would show that the number of Mohammedan converts has been scarcely less than the number of converts from respectable classes of the Hindus.

CENTRAL PROVINCES AND RAJPUTANA.

Jabalpur, 1854; Mandla (Gônd Mission), 1879; Kherwara (Bheel Mission), 1880.

JABALPUR.

THIS important town is almost exactly in the centre of India, and has a population of 56,000. The Rev. J. P. Ellwood is in charge, and is assisted by the Rev. W. Latham. The Native congregation is shepherded by the Rev. Mádho Rám, a convert of Mr. Shackell. The centre of India.

The Schools, of which there are thirteen, a high school, middle school, and eleven elementary, constitute an important branch of the work in the city. Mr. Latham is responsible for their superintendence, and he writes :—

> The Bible is systematically taught in the schools, and a good deal of Gospel truth must indeed be diffused by their means, but I have not had the happiness so far to see any one of the elder boys' hearts so touched as to make him willing to forsake all and follow Jesus, yet I have observed among them a desire to live godly lives—also conviction of sin, and a real appreciation of the atonement made on Calvary's Cross. Some of the Mohammedan boys especially seem to know and love the Gospel, and it may be in after-years, when they hold independent positions, they will confess the name which they already honour. The boys who passed the entrance in the beginning of the year received English Bibles on their leaving the school to seek employment, or to prosecute their studies further in Government colleges. I feel sure that the name of Jesus is almost as familiar to the people and children of Jubbulpore as it is to the people and children of many a European town. The name of Jesus familiar.

Mr. Ellwood reports five adult baptisms. One was a young Mohammedan of respectable family, who was first influenced by the Rev. Nehemiah Goreh, of Poona, and by him sent to Jabalpur, to be instructed and baptized away from his friends. He is now studying at Allahabad. A Bengalee family, brought to Christ by the Zenana Mission, and a Brahmin woman, were among those baptized. Itinerating work is carried on under very different conditions in the Central Provinces than in the North-West. Here the population is comparatively sparse, and large tracts of land are still a perfect jungle. Many of the villages are very small and far apart, and are inhabited by aboriginal or low-caste tribes, who are outside the pale of Hindu society. Mr. Ellwood says :—

Hinduizing influences among the aboriginal tribes.

There is no organized attempt to incorporate them, and no general desire on the part of the tribes to be incorporated, but, by a slow process, these tribes are gradually being brought under the influence of the Hindu money-lenders, and their villages, one by one, are falling into their hands, who never fail to bring in their train the symbols of Hinduism, and thus enslave to a greater degree the poor inhabitants of the jungle.

There is a marked difference in the reception we received in Hindu and Mohammedan villages to that afforded us in a village, for instance, inhabited by Gonds or Coles. There is every sign amongst the aboriginal tribes to insure success, and patient and prayerful work only will enable us to influence them permanently.

These aboriginal tribes, Mr. Ellwood says, while their intellectual and moral status is very low, are yet always ready to hear the Gospel and to acknowledge its truth. Proofs continually occur that the word spoken is frequently long remembered. In the Gond villages, beyond the Narbada, where Mr. Champion's first efforts in behalf of these people were made, before his labours were directed to Mandla, Mr. Ellwood has been lately itinerating, and he found in many places that the name of Jesus Christ was remembered from Mr. Champion's faithful preaching. In a remote place a solitary hut of a Gond family is met with, and the husband is summoned from the field :—

The truth remembered and acknowledged.

He seems beyond the reach of the Gospel—his intellectual and moral horizon is so small that we almost turn away in despair. We, however, sit down on the ground, and have a talk with him. By-and-by he says : "It is all true, I have heard this before, and now I hear it again—I am more and more convinced it is true; all our idolatry is useless, I know; but what is a poor Gond to do? I will come and see you in Jubbulpore some day."

The visit was afterwards made. Again :—

As we start on in the evening to proceed to another village we meet a whole family of devotees, father, mother, and son, wending their way to Benares, in the hope of obtaining a greater fund of merit. Strange to say, they are familiar with the Gospel story, and tell me they intend to pay the Sanskrit Padri Sahib (Mr. Johnson) a visit when in Benares; nay, more, the son tells us, in his highly figurative language, that "every hair of his body belongs to Jesus Christ."

At the out-station, Murwara, willing congregations listen to the catechists, and the Bible-woman is welcomed to many houses. A young girl, sister of a convert who was baptized last year, has been baptized, and another brother has been sent to Lucknow to be there received into Christ's flock. This out-station is fifty-five miles north of Jabalpur, and no missionary is stationed between it and Allahabad. There is an area of over 2000 square miles in this direction, Mr. Ellwood says, without a missionary or a catechist.

Two thousand square miles without a missionary

MANDLA (GOND MISSION).

The Rev. H. D. Williamson continued, until April last, when his health obliged him to come home, his much-blessed labours at this station, situated in the very heart of the Gond country. His fellow-labourers, the Rev. E. P. Herbert and Dr. W. P. Johnson, have removed to Patpara, which is about six miles distant. Writing in December, and referring to the bright prospects of former years, Mr. Williamson said, "1887 is closing with still brighter hopes, and increased causes for thankfulness." There were fifteen adult baptisms during the year, four of them being women. Mr. Williamson's account of these is deeply interesting, and, long as it is, the Committee are reluctant to condense it. He says:—

"Still brighter hopes."

The first to be baptized was a Gond from Basadongri, Jhagru by name, the man who held back last year when Mithu was baptized. He travelled all the way from his village to Mandla, a distance of quite a hundred miles, and his baptism took place on May 15th. He is quite a man of education among Gonds, as at one time he did surveying work under Government, and he can read and write with the greatest ease. We are making use of his capabilities by appointing him teacher of our school at Marpha, and though he is so timid and quiet, as hardly to be able to keep the boys together, yet with the pundit's help in this respect he will, I think, prove very useful.

Travelling a hundred miles to be baptized.

In my hot-weather visit to Marpha I had the joy of admitting five more catechumens in one day into Christ's visible Church, four at the morning service and one at the evening, on Whit-Sunday.

The next occasion for rejoicing in this respect was not till last month (November), when a young man, Dasrat by name, a Pankha, was baptized in the Mandla church. He is the first convert from the northern part of the district, his knowledge of the truth having commenced when a pupil in the little village school of Samnapur under Phailbus, one of my present catechists.

First convert from northern part of district.

Amongst other catechumens awaiting baptism, was the wife of Saunu of Dauridadar, and I had intended to baptize her this month, but God willed it otherwise. She had been ailing in health for some time, and when the pundit reached her village last month on his way to Marpha, he found her so ill that he felt baptism should be no longer delayed, and therefore baptized her himself at once, and in the presence of her husband and most of the villagers. The same evening the Lord called her to Himself, permitting her to testify by her joy and peace to the fearless assurance which He gives His people, and the next day the pundit buried her with Christian rites in the presence of the whole village. She has been the first of our Gond baptized Christians to enter into the presence of their Lord.

of this month at Marpha; the two little ones belonging to Prabhu Das and Bhondu, and the adults being Bhondu's wife, Prabhu Das' son, and a Baiga named Nandu. The last-named is the first Baiga hitherto baptized, I believe, in the Central Provinces; a man of much intelligence, first influenced, like some of the others, by a dream. He has joined the school as a pupil, though himself the father of five children, and it was most amusing to see his gleeful face as he went triumphantly through his letters. His clothing was most wonderfully gorgeous, so different to one's usual experience of Baigas, who are regular wild men of the woods, and who go about with a minimum of clothing, and often confess that they only wash once a year. It turned out afterwards that his grand costume had been sewn for him by Damri.

Gorgeous baptismal costume.

These Baigas are quite a distinct race from the Gonds, living (when allowed to do so by Government) in villages right away at the top of the hills in densest jungle, and preferring any way of gaining a livelihood to that of becoming steady cultivators, as Government wishes. Although much below the Gonds in civilization, they are employed by the latter as their priests, and called in to protect them from tigers, cobras, evil spirits, and pestilences of all kinds. Curiously enough, they possess no language of their own, nor can I discover any trace of one: they will not deign to speak Gondi, even when living with Gonds, but use Hindi universally. We always visit their villages and preach to them, but this Nandu is the first who has hitherto professed Christianity.

Numerous inquirers.

Forgive me if I have dilated too much upon the baptisms of our various new converts, but it is hard to forbear doing so in the joy and thankfulness of my heart, as I see how mightily the Word of God grows and prevails, and how the fields in which we have so long sown are now glorifying His blessed power in their fruitfulness. Inquirers and secret adherents abound, and many are asking for baptism. The Bhoi Baba's wife is ready, but she wished to wait until my wife could come with me to Marpha and stand by her side, and the other Christians' wives will join their husbands in confessing Christ when they have received further teaching. We do earnestly desire your prayers for both those who are holding back, and those who, though in Christ, are indeed very babes in the knowledge of Him and of His will.

Weekly offertories are established in Mandla and the outstations, and the people give willingly. Nearly all the adult Christians at Mandla attend the Bible-class which Mr. Williamson holds during the non-camping season; and Mrs. Williamson has a school for the Christian children.

Rest-house for Gonds.

The Native Christians are very proud of the Rest-house for Gonds visiting Mandla, as it was built mainly at their expense. A brightly-coloured flag hangs over it, and its existence and object are becoming widely known. Mr. Williamson, as usual, itinerated throughout the cold and hot season. He says:—

Many incidents occurred in my various tours to cheer me. Great anxiety is shown by the Hindus of low caste, scattered about in the district, to obtain books, and in cases where they cannot read, to learn to do so. I generally dispose of all the Gospel portions and tracts that I take with me, recipients often coming from great distances to obtain them. One young Rajput landowner, in whose village I had preached in the morning, rode over to my tent in the evening with all his following, and took away all the tracts I could give him; he seemed most grateful for the Gospel message, and told me that his father (since deceased) had heard the truth from a missionary in some other district, and had in his old age given up all idolatry, teaching him also enough to influence him most strongly in favour of Christianity. In one place the people told me, with great joy, that "all the gods had gone since they had begun to worship Christ;" though I must not forget to mention that in another village the Hindus declared that they had left off His worship because it had brought many evils upon them! Their ignorance and partial apprehension of the truth often leads them into strange ways of worship; some seem to think repeating our Lord's name is all that is necessary. In the majority of villages, only once or twice visited, His worship is carried on together with that of their own deities, and in many cases I have found them offering Him cocoa-nuts, and so forth. A spiritual worship seems of course so very strange to them.

A Rajput landowner directed to Christ by his father.

All the gods gone since Christ was worshipped.

Strange ways of worship.

In March last year Mr. Herbert accompanied Mr. Williamson on a tour without tents:—

We had many amusing experiences in the different villages in which we put up; in some of the huts we had to exercise all our ingenuity in order to arrange our two beds, two chairs, and the table, so that there should be room left for us to get in and out, and yet the table at which we had our meals was only two feet square.

Narrow quarters.

At PATPARA Mr. Herbert dwells upon some of the difficulties he has experienced in starting a new station in the jungle. The extreme timidity of the people was one of these difficulties, which he has slowly overcome by kindness. There is a congregation of twenty-one souls, consisting of three Christian families. There are three village schools. The parents' indifference led to the closing of one at Patpara; and their impatience for results may easily lead to the same effect in the villages, as the two following instances show:—

The head-man of the nearest village, whose son had learnt to read a little before, and used to attend most regularly, now sends the boy to the jungle with the buffaloes because he could not read a letter which came for his father. Another boy was beaten by his father because he could not read a book after a few lessons on the alphabet.

Exaggerated expectations.

Mr. Herbert has also commenced a little Sunday-school. He says:—

They are almost all very small children, Gonds, Hindus, and Christians, and I have found it difficult to keep their attention and teach them anything. My first lesson was on the wild flowers, as teaching God's love and goodness. Each child had to gather and bring a bunch of flowers from the jungle, and I have kept up the custom with advantage. I took such subjects as "God's gifts of love: flowers, birds, children," "The children of the Bible," "Moses," "Samuel," "David," "Jacob's ladder," "Joseph's dream," "The brazen serpent," "The birth of Jesus;" and I taught them hymns and bhajans, such as "Yesu nám, Yesu nám," and translations of "There's a land that is fairer than day," "Here we suffer," "Take the name of Jesus with you," &c. Some of the Gond children used to come stark-naked; I have endeavoured to civilize them, but they do not see the use of clothes in the hot weather. Their parents and passers-by sometimes come in and sit down. It is rather a wild and irregular little class, but I love it, and hope the good seed will be scattered by these little children more broadly than by me.

A wild little class

Dr. Johnson has found the people very grateful for his medical help. Seven of the principal Native clerks in Government employ at Patpára, Mr. Herbert says, who were educated in Mission schools, all repudiate the idolatry and gross errors of Mohammedanism, and are always ready to talk about Christianity.

KHERWARA (BHEEL MISSION).

The Rev. C. S. Thompson, though far from strong, has continued to itinerate among the Bheels in this district, which is in Rajputana; and the Rev. G. Litchfield has laboured at Kherwara. Mr. Thompson makes grateful mention of generous help rendered by Europeans and Native friends, from whom he has received Rs. 4429 during the year. Among those whom he mentions are H.H. the Maharana of Udaipur, G.C.S.I., who contributed Rs. 1000 to the Mission; H.H. the Maharajah of Idar, K.C.S.I.; Colonel and Mrs. Scott; Colonel and Mrs. Euan-Smith. By means of this assistance he has been enabled to open two new out-stations, and four village schools. Lusaria, one of these out-stations, opened in May, 1886, is a Bheel village, thirty miles to the south-west of Kherwara. At the examination of the school last November, by the Deputy-Inspector of Government, there were sixty boys present, thirty-seven of them being Bheels. Their attendance is a striking proof of confidence. In the same neighbourhood H.H. the Maharajah of Idar has thirteen schools, but the educational agents have not been able to persuade a single Bheel scholar to attend. Mr. Thompson writes of his scholars:—

Bheel scholars.

Some of them showed remarkable quickness and intelligence. About a dozen scholars come from long distances. They go to their homes once a fortnight to fetch provisions for themselves. There are two big men among the little children toiling on day after day at their lessons. The daily average attendance is fifty. The unique feature about this Bheel school is that not a single man or boy is paid to come.

Lusaria is the centre of Bheel Bhagatism, a popular religious deception, which Mr. Thompson thinks is likely to spread widely, and to occupy an important place in the future history of the people. It is an imitation of Brahminism, and originated as follows:—

A Bheel devotee, the founder of Bhagatism, a successful impostor.

A few hundred yards from our Lusaria station there lies an old Bheel devotee, named Shurmal Das. Seventeen years ago he was in great trouble—a son, a daughter, and one hundred head of cattle died. In order to propitiate the angry spirits, he went to a local deity and vowed to make an offering of Rs. 5 within six months if the curse was removed. At the end of the half-year, disease and death were still at his home. He then determined to do severe penance to appease, if possible, the gods. For thirteen years he, it is said, never once stood upright. In the hot season, he sat surrounded by fires. In the cold weather and rains his only clothing was a piece of rag about his loins. During his term of penance he twice rolled over stones, and fields, and hills, to a village two miles off, and once to a Hindu shrine three miles away. His disciples believe him to be superhuman, and to have direct communication with heaven. Shurmal Das treats the sick. His one medicine, a specific for every disease and sickness, if taken in strong faith, is a grain of parched Indian corn, thickly coated with the ashes of his wood-fire. Until recently, I looked upon him as an ordinary reformer, but by living near him for nearly a year I have come to the conclusion that he is a successful impostor. He told me himself that he had swallowed the molten lead. He owes his present position and influence to a long, steady, and growing system of deception and lies.

The temptation to become Bhagats is very great. As soon as a Bheel puts on the "mala" (a string of wooden beads worn round the neck), he is addressed by his fellow-disciples as Maharaja, or great king. The women and children treat him with profound respect—kneeling lowly at his feet when they meet him. He is raised in the social scale, and promised immunity from loss and hurt in this life, and a birth into a higher caste in the next, with rich temporal blessings.

"A fellow-labourer."

The second new out-station is in Bilaria, another Bheel pâl, about eighteen miles due west of Kherwara. The friendship and support of the ex-Dewan of Idar, Mr. Nathabhai Dajibhai, who calls himself, as he is, "a fellow-labourer," have mainly effected this new opening. A school has been started.

Mr. Thompson describes a barbarous practice, which yearly takes place at Samlaji, a village about three miles from Lusaria, where there is a pool which is reputed to exorcise evil spirits. Scores of hysterical women, and epileptics of both sexes, are brought to it to have the demons cast out of them:—

Last year I watched the whole of the distressing performance.

A barbarous practice.

The wretched victims are supposed to be sorcerers and witches who cook and eat the livers and blood of human beings. I will try to describe a typical case. A weak woman is taken very early in the morning into the pool of icy-cold water and made to sit down. From three to six or eight men and women surround her, and begin to dash the cold water into her worn face. The poor creature immediately begins to shiver, and the men to shout, "Bol! bol! bol!" ("Speak! speak! speak!") The meaning of which is, "Name the person who has bewitched you." If the woman does not name any one, she is cruelly seized by the hair of the head, beaten with sticks and fists, and scourged with thick ropes; the men all the while are rending the air with the cry, "Bol! bol! bol!" If the sufferer names anybody, she is unmercifully dragged through the water and mud, and over the rough stones to the rocks in the side of the hill in which the presiding deities are supposed to dwell. There the men cut off some of the hair of her head and vow to make an offering to Samlaji, god of the shrine, if the possessed one be made whole. On the other hand, if the distracted women remains silent, her tormentors, after nearly beating the life out of her, and with looks of supreme contempt and bitter disappointment, leave her to come out of the pool, to arrange her soaking-wet clothing, and dishevelled hair. Whilst I stood by the men did not torture their victims so severely, but as soon as I moved away they acted like agents from hell.

Mr. Litchfield says that the attendance at the Sunday services is larger, and the interest manifested increases. Mrs. Litchfield has fifteen girls in her Boarding-house, whose progress, notwithstanding that at first they were wilder even and more ragged than the boys, has proved that they are not deficient in mental power. The Training Institution for Bheel young men is "filled to overflowing, nearly fifty young men being under daily instruction." Three of these returned to their own pâls early in the year to take charge of the small village schools referred to already. Mr. Litchfield says:—

Training of Bheel young men.

> Every trained Bheel sent out can read fluently in the Word of God and can repeat and teach hymns, and a number of verses from the Irish Church Mission series of texts; and they come in each Saturday for further Bible instruction, and to have any difficulties explained which they may have met with during the week. In this way a wide area of country is being directly influenced and prepared for further teaching by the missionaries themselves, when our staff is large enough to allow us to get about more among them.

A daily prayer-meeting is held at the Mission-house, at which there are rarely less than six present, sometimes as many as sixteen or eighteen. "The central thought in the petitions offered is always the same—that the presence and power of the Holy Spirit may be felt among us," Mr. Litchfield writes; and the fact that some of them are thus panting after God may well be put in juxtaposition with

Mr. Thompson's increasing sense of the difficulties of the work. He says:—

"A tremendous task."

Each succeeding year makes me realize more and more what a tremendous task you have set me, namely, of so living and preaching the Gospel of our blessed Lord as to win the Bheels to Him. The end is sure.

Bishop French's resignation.

AFTER ten years of unwearied labours in his see Bishop French resigned the Bishopric of Lahore on December 21st, the date of his consecration in 1878. The Committee feel deeply how much the cause of Missions, and especially the Missions of the C.M.S., owe, under God, to his consecrated life, his exalted missionary spirit, and his scholarly ability and learning. They remember with affection and thankfulness his great labours as a missionary of the Society in Agra, where, in 1850, he founded and was first Principal of St. John's College; his public controversies with Mohammedan Maulvies; his commencing the Derajat Mission in 1862, and the Lahore Divinity School in 1870. Bishop French has the joy of leaving the Punjab a very different country from what it was when he first went to it.

Bishop Matthew.

The new Bishop, the Right Rev. Henry James Matthew, D.D., was Archdeacon of Lahore, and an active member of the Society's Corresponding Committee. The number of Bishop Matthew's clergy in the Punjab and Sindh is 91: viz. 29 Government chaplains; 3 chaplains of the Assistant Curates' Society; 6 missionaries of the S.P.G.; 6 missionaries of the Cambridge Delhi Mission, 2 of whom are Natives; 42 missionaries of the C.M.S., of whom 14 are Natives; and 5 other clergy. Besides the clergy, there are 8 lay missionaries of the C.M.S., 5 of whom are medical; 37 lady missionaries of the C.E.Z.M.S., of whom 13 are honorary; 2 other ladies of the C.M.S.; 19 ladies of the S.P.G. and Cambridge Mission at Delhi; and 3 sisters of the St. Denys' School at Murree.

The late Sir R. Montgomery.

By the death of Sir Robert Montgomery, another of the Christian soldiers and statesmen to whose encouragement and support the successful inception of this Mission was so largely due, has been removed. In 1852 the Board of Administration, to which the Government of the Punjab was entrusted, consisted of Henry and John Lawrence, and Robert Montgomery (all having, strangely enough, started life in the same city in the North of Ireland, Londonderry); and at the meeting held in February of that year for the purpose of inaugurating a Church Missionary Association for the Punjab, Mr. Montgomery moved the first resolution. Subsequently, when Chief Commissioner of Oudh, he urged the Society to take up work at Lucknow; and still later, as Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab, after the Mutiny, he vindicated publicly the claims of the Native Christians to the confidence of the authorities, and promoted the removal of the disabilities to which they were subjected.

Death of Mrs. Briggs and Mrs. Bailey.

Two workers, both ladies, have been removed by death during the past year: Mrs. Briggs, wife of the Society's retired missionary, Mr. William Briggs, of Kangra; and Mrs. Bailey, wife of the Rev. A. W. Bailey, of Kotghur. Mrs. Briggs was a Native lady who was led to Christ from Mohammedanism, was baptized in 1861, and was married the same year to Mr. Briggs. She has been a true missionary, having laboured earnestly to make Christ known to her country-men and country-women wherever her husband has been located. At Multan she commenced the Zenana Mission of the F.E.S.

The Rev. H. U. Weitbrecht, Ph.D., returned to the Mission, and the Revs. H. G. Grey, M.A., W. E. Davies, and F. Papprill (the last two from Islington) joined the Mission in the autumn. Miss L. Ellwanger rejoined it a few months later. The Rev. W. Jukes has come home on furlough.

Ordinations.

Bishop French ordained at Lahore Cathedral, on November 1st, the Rev. T. E. Coverdale to Priest's Orders, and Babu Brij Lall Datt and Maulvie Qasim Khan to Deacon's Orders. The last-named was a lay agent of the Society, but is now engaged at Sukkur, supported by private funds.

On December 21st, the day on which he formally resigned the Bishopric of Lahore, Bishop French at Sukkur admitted the Rev. R. Heaton to Priest's Orders, and Pandit Kharak Singh to Deacon's Orders. The latter is an old man, though still vigorous, and able, Mr. Clark says, to walk forty miles a day, and sleep under a tree afterwards. His remarkable history was published in the Intelligencer of last April (page 259).

Native Church Council.

The eleventh meeting of the Punjab Native Church Council was held at Amritsar on April 10th to 12th last year. The following papers were read:—(a) The necessity of a more minute and detailed study of the Word of God in the Christian Church, through the help of commentaries; by Dr. Imad-ud-din. (b) Special ways of meeting the new teaching prevalent amongst Hindus and Mohammedans in North India at the present time; by Mr. Abdullah Athim and Pandit Kharak Singh. (c) What should be the attitude of the Christian Church in connexion with the great changes, both political and religious, which are taking place around us? by Babu Rallia Ram and Lala Chandu Lal. (d) What kind of discipline is desirable in the Christian Church in India, especially in connexion with those persons who comply in any way with the idolatrous customs of their relations and friends? by the Rev. Dina Nath.

Native Christian Evangelistic Association.

An interesting meeting of about forty leading Native Christians, among whom were eight clergy representing four different denominations, and two graduates of Cambridge, took place at Amritsar on June 24th to inaugurate a Native Christian Evangelistic Association for the Punjab. The movement originated with the Native Christians themselves.

Officers of Church Army.

Three officers of the Church Army have been welcomed with a view to their working in the villages under the Rev. R. Bateman, and Mr. H. E. Perkins.

Punjab Mission News.

A Mission newspaper, called the Punjab Mission News, edited by Dr. H. Martyn Clark, has been very successfully begun.

The Rev. Robert Clark is Secretary of the Corresponding Committee, and he has again sent home a full and valuable review of the Mission for the year. 561 baptisms are reported during 1887, of whom 282 were adults. This is considerably more than in any previous year. The great increase has been in the villages round Amritsar. On the other hand, the past year has also been remarkable for instances of agents who have apostatized from the faith of Christ. One of these was the head Persian master in the Christian Batala Boarding-school, who was a convert from Mohammedanism of some twelve years' standing. He became a Mohammedan in June. He had been refused a higher salary. Another was a catechist in the Batala district, who also became a Mohammedan, though previons to his baptism he had been a Hindu. Church discipline had been exercised in the case of his son, who had been guilty of immorality, and he took the side of his son, and left Christianity apparently from spite. A third, who had been dismissed from his post as catechist at Tarn Taran because of suspected drunkenness and immorality, became a Mohammedan at Amritsar last summer. Mr. Clark says of these bitter disappointments:—

Apostasies.

Trials such as these have sorely tested the faith of many. They lead us, with tears of shame and humiliation and sorrow, to confess our utter weakness and sinfulness before the mercy-seat in heaven. Living and labouring in a heathen land, where the depths of Satan are, amongst people in whose hearts he is enthroned, in a world of which he says that the authority and the glory of it have been delivered to him (St. Luke iv. 6), we see him going about as a roaring lion, to devour those who enter into temptation and do not watch and pray. The Good Shepherd alone can protect His people, and save them from their sins, and from the subtle malice of the great deceiver of the world. We notice that almost every one of these cases occurred in the absence of the missionary. Fortem diabolum facit non illius potentia sed nostra negligentia.

AMRITSAR.

The general charge of the congregational and evangelistic work in this city, the most populous of the Punjab proper, and the commercial capital of the province, has devolved upon Mr. H. E. Perkins, C.S., who has also rendered very valuable service by setting in order the deeds and titles of almost all the house and land property of the Society in the Punjab and Sindh. Mr. Perkins has, moreover, been actively engaged in direct missionary work, in preaching and lecturing, in itinerating, and in editing the vernacular publications of the Punjab Bible and Religious Book Society. "He has brought a power into our midst—a power for good," Mr. Clark says. The educational work is under the Rev. A. G. Norman; the Revs. R. Bateman and E. Guildford conduct the Itinerant Mission; and Dr. Henry Martyn Clark carries on the Medical Mission. Mrs. Grime superintends the Girls' Orphanage. Mr. H. F. Beutel superintends Clarkabad, and the Boys' Orphanage there. The Rev. Imad-ud-din continues his literary and other work, the Rev. Diwan Sahib Dial is the assistant pastor of the Amritsar congregation, the Rev. Dina Nath has had temporary charge of a Training Home at Ajnala (vide infra), and the Revs. Mian Sadiq and Kharak Singh labour as evangelistic missionaries under the Native Church Council. Miss Cooper, assisted by other ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S., conducts the Alexandra Christian Girls' Boarding-school, and the Lady Lawrence Girls' Schools are also worked by ladies of that Society.

Native congregation.

The work connected with the Christian congregation in Amritsar, the church services, Bible-classes for men and women, missionary meetings, daily preaching in the bazaars, has been zealously carried on.

Boys' Schools.

The Boys' Schools at Amritsar, Narowal, and Majitha, with their branches, under Mr. Norman, have steadily increased in numbers, notwithstanding the doubling of the fees, competition from other schools, and the well-known aim of the Mission schools to bring boys to believe in Christ. An unusually good report was given by the Government Inspector. The municipality of the city gave the school a grant of Rs. 50 a month, to be called the "Jubilee grant." The inquirers at the Majitha school still hold back. Mr. Norman says:—

"What can we boys do?"

Many know the truth, but have not yet faith enough to confess it and be baptized. In the hot weather one day I was walking with some boys of an upper class. They said, in answer to a question, "Sir, we do believe that Christianity is true, but what can we boys do, dependent upon our parents?"

In February I was preaching in the streets, and was rather nonplussed by a Mohammedan. To my delight one of my school pupils who had followed me took up the cudgels and so well replied that the people tauntingly said that he was a Christian. "No," said he, "I am not a Christian, but I am the sahib's pupil, and answer as I have been taught." An old pupil from the Amritsar school was baptized with his family at Jubbulpore in the month of April. He dates from before my time, but is an instance of the kind of fruit to be looked for, especially from Mission schools. From the Normal school, an old pupil of the time of Mr. Bateman, and some time employed as a master, has at last been baptized, and is engaged at the Batala school.

Old pupils baptized.

No report has been received of the Medical Mission, but a letter written by Dr. Clark in June last year shows that considerable fruit has been vouchsafed:—

At Narowal the lambardar who was to be baptized failed us. The other candidates were duly baptized. Alla Duta (the Khoja) was at once set on by his people, but in a very mild way. Next day, however, his wife left his baby of nine months at his feet, and told him to look after it himself. He at once told the police, who considered it a case of child desertion imperilling the life of the infant, and having summoned the woman, gave it to her, and took sureties for the good treatment of the child, so that this little plot failed. The enemy was so discouraged that he vacated the field, and Alla Duta had peace.

A convert mourned as dead.

Khaleel Shah, the shawl merchant, is to-day in the throes of persecution. His house is filled with women, weeping for him as for one dead, and there is a yelling mob around him, howling as only Cashmiris can. He insisted on going home, and he insisted on being left alone. I mean to remove him this evening, willy-nilly.

Another lambardar, a Sikh, in the Amritsar district, Budda Singh by name, has come forward for baptism. He has avowed himself a Christian, and has undergone much persecution. He came to Narowal, and spent the whole day with me. About a hundred mehtars in his village are ready for baptism. He gave his own house for a teacher to stay and instruct them. This brought a regular storm on his head, but he quietly said, "What is the good of making such a row, if the matter is of God? leave alone a house, I will give myself," or words to that effect.

It is most remarkable; a half-hearted section of our Native brethren say, "By teaching mehtars you will repel high-class people;" but wherever we go on doing our duty, we see the very opposite—the blessing.

Baptisms and inquirers among upper classes.

Just look at the result of the work as regards the Medical Mission alone. In two months God has blessed us as follows:—Eighteen low-caste people baptized; one Mohammedan qazi; one Sikh priest—who leaves all; one Mohammedan mullah; one Mohammedan shopkeeper; one shawl merchant; a Sikh zemindar applies for baptism; a Mohammedan lambardar applies for baptism; a Sikh lambardar does the same; a Mohammedan seal engraver has done the same (lives in Amritsar, and is a man of property); a Sikh priest is almost ready.

Success of pupils of Alexandra School.

The Alexandra Girls' School maintains its high reputation. One pupil during the past year passed the Calcutta University Entrance Examination, two others the Middle School Examination, and a fourth gained the second Lake Memorial Prize of Rs. 40, open for competition to all the Christian and heathen boys and girls in the Punjab, for Scripture knowledge.

Former pupils.

Three former pupils, two of whom have passed the Calcutta University Entrance Examination, are now teachers in the school, one of them being honorary. Another former pupil is now the Lady Principal of the Lahore Government Girls' School, and in sole charge of 400 girls; and her assistant is another old pupil. Yet another old scholar, who has since studied at Dr. Griffith's medical school in London, is now a lady medical missionary at Tarn Taran, in connexion with St. Catharine's Hospital. A pamphlet written by her on the subject of Lady Dufferin's Fund has been printed by Lady Dufferin, and is now in circulation.

The children at the Girls' Orphanage, of whom there are fifty, the youngest two years old, "are catching rapidly the spirit of their superintendent, and are progressing favourably in every way," Mr. Clark writes. Mrs. Grime writes:—

Singing in the Girls' Orphanage.

It is great joy to see many of our children trying to follow their Master, though it may be in much weakness and making many false steps, yet it is with a willing heart. The little ones can never have enough of their Bible lesson, they delight in learning the old, old story. They have committed many hymns to memory, and their little voices sound very sweet when they sing, while the older girls prepare their lessons. Especially during Advent, all the children delighted in singing Christmas hymns whenever they could find time.

The Lady Lawrence Memorial Girls' Schools are eight in number, namely, a normal class, with its attendant training school, and six small schools scattered here and there over the city.

Of the work in the Amritsar District interesting accounts have been received during the year, and published in the C.M. Intelligencer. At Jandiala, which is ten miles to the east of Amritsar, there is an outpost of the Medical Mission, and an itinerating catechist resides there, who acts as a lay pastor to the small congregation. An old faqir here "has received the faith as a little child," and it is hoped that his wife and family will follow his example. The Rev. Kharak Singh resides at Uddoke, in this tehsil. He says :—

Itinerations and lectures by a Native evangelist.

I have proclaimed the Gospel this year to very many thousands of people in 342 villages, and in six districts, viz., Amritsar, Gurdaspore, Kangra, Hoshyarpore, Sakkar, and Shikapore, also in various large cities. Six of my pupils in the faith have been baptized by others; there are sixteen inquirers of the Khatri, Brahmin, Sadhu, and other classes, and I think they are of humble heart, and likely to turn out well. I have also written and delivered nine lectures, the first on Genesis was delivered in Prayagpur, the second was on the plan of salvation as exhibited in the Nyaya Shastr, the third on the same as shown in the Bisheshak Shastr, the fourth on the same as shown in the Sankh Shastr, the fifth on the same as shown in the Patanjal Shratr, the sixth on the same as shown in the Vedanti Philosophy, the seventh on the same as shown in the new ditto, the eighth on the same according to the Dyanandi Arya plan, the ninth on the same as held by Brahmos and Christians.

Ajnala, fifteen miles to the north, is primarily a Female Village Mission, where two ladies of the C.E.Z.M.S., with a staff of catechists and Bible-women, labour. Here the Rev. Mian Sadiq resides in the centre of his itinerating work. It has been the scene of a work of God's grace during the year, resulting in the baptism of 314 persons, more than half of whom are adults, nearly all out of the lower strata of society. Mr. Perkins wrote to Mr. Clark in June :—

Awakening among the Churahs of Ajnala.

The work opening out amongst the Churahs is astonishingly before us. Twelve more (eight of them adults) were baptized at Ajnala on Sunday. Dina Nath preached there in the morning, and Rullia Ram in the evening. Dina Nath says there is no doubt of the working of the Holy Spirit amongst them. Several more came for baptism, but were kept back. Dina Nath will spend the vacation there, forming and teaching a class of elementary students. Nothing like the vigour and growth now going on has ever been seen here before. I thank the Lord, who has given my wife and me strength to hold on till now, and as my work in the Divinity College closes to-morrow, I shall have more time for the people, who throng round, as Pope says, "demanding life, contending for the skies." We need to be quite brimful of Christ ourselves, so as to bubble up with the water of life for others. We have a perfect nursery, a crêche of babes in Christ here.

A crêche of babes in Christ.

Miss Grimwood, of the C.E.Z.M.S., wrote about the same time, giving some graphic particulars :—

Our little church at Ajnala was crammed, as is usual now, and some of the baptisms were most interesting—one, a faqir, who seems most truly endued with the Spirit of God. He is thoroughly taught in the Sikh faith, and has read their books and taught them; but he says there is no mukti (salvation) there. It is lovely to see him over the Gospels from morning to night. We have engaged him to go about the villages, with one or two others of the brightest Christians teaching. When good Padre Dina Nath comes, they, with some others, will form a class for him to train. We are also to start a boys' reading-class for simple village schools, and see how it works. We have the room, and we have two masters ready. The spirit and tone of the converts is really higher and brighter and truer than I expected. It is really sweet to see their simple joy in salvation. Each fresh batch seems brighter than the last. It is making a mark all over the tahsil, we think, amongst all classes. I am particularly struck with the Sikhs just now. There is a decided stretching forward among them for salvation. Our preaching is getting daily more deliciously simple, less argumentative; just salvation is here with Jesus, and they cannot find that among their books. This is the spot they are all looking towards now. . . . I could tell you much more of some of our dear people, but time and strength do not permit. Our compound resounds from morning to night with voices repeating to each other the Lord's Prayer, Ten Commandments, and Creed, with bhajans and bits of the Gospel. One dear blind man, with such a beaming face, has been going about, led by a little boy, to all the villages, telling the people about Jesus, and teaching them the Lord's Prayer, which Moti Lal had taught him. He was baptized side by side with the Sikh faqir, both kneeling with clasped hands to receive the rite. We almost saw the light come to their faces.

A training-class formed.

Preaching "deliciously simple."

A zealous blind convert.

In November and December Mr. Perkins itinerated in this district, and the following sentences are culled from an interesting report of the tour, which he wrote for the Punjab Mission News:—

At our next place, Nangli, one of the villagers astonished me with the news that he had been to Liverpool and London, in order to procure the restoration of a decision of my own in his favour nine years ago, which decision had been reversed on appeal by the other courts in this country. He had spent Rs. 1300 and some years in the vain attempt to gain his rights, and was disappointed when I told him that God had mercifully now set me free from such worldly concerns for His own direct service, and I could help him no more. This man's brother and friend came one day for a long talk about religion, and in the same village, after our street-preaching, three men followed us to the tents for Gospels, though we could not induce them to pay even two pice each for them. The colporteur has not succeeded in selling any Scripture portions save Proverbs. There are men who salve their consciences with reading this portion of the Bible, I believe because they think it teaches nothing of Christ.

Altered relations.

The Book of Proverbs read as a salve to the conscience.

On our next march, to Jodha Nagr, Miss Pengelley picked up an old man whom nineteeen years ago I had fined Rs. 1000 and got dismissed from the service for bribery. However, he bore me no ill-will, and came the next day seven miles to see me. He has lost his wife and three sons since I knew him, and is quite desolate and broken-hearted, a Bible student, and miserable in his own religion.

When I asked in whose name he prayed, he said it was still Guru Nanak's. He, too, may, by God's grace, prove that at eventide it may be light.

The Rev. Dina Nath has commenced a class at Ajnala for training village agents, and Dr. Weitbrecht was greatly pleased with the thoroughness of the work.

Mr. Bateman reports twenty adult baptisms in the Narowal District, of whom one is a Hindu, two are Sikhs, five Mohammedans, and twelve Chuhras. There were fifty-eight catechumens when he wrote. The year has been one of manifold encouragements; increased opportunities, more helpers, and fewer hindrances. The opening and closing words of his report must be given :—

Manifold encouragements at Narowal.

"Have you had a good time, sir?" was the first question put to me last night when I returned to Narowal to take our one weekday service in church, and to hold an evangelistic meeting in the Mission hospital. "Yes, thank God, I have," said I; and at once began to take off my boots preparatory to entering on particulars of half a week's work in the villages. Before the second boot-lace had yielded to my efforts a young Mohammedan was at my feet, not to assist in the unlacing, but to hear the Word of God. I read with him how "every mouth is stopped," and all the world becomes "guilty before God," and on and on—my long-suffering Christian factotum bringing me from time to time unfavourable thermometrical reports of the dinner which he had served. Saying to myself that he had heard as much as he could remember, I dismissed the inquirer, and sat down to dine, but conscience soon reminded me of Him who "had not leisure so much as to eat," and so it was appetizing to note that the inquirer had not accepted his dismissal, but was sitting in a corner till we could set to work again, and have another talk and some prayer together about that righteousness which is "unto all and upon all them that believe." So it came about that the particulars of the "good time" were not divulged to my friend, and I mention the incident merely to illustrate the greater difficulty of producing a report of a twelvemonths' work in reply to friends in Europe and India, who ask "Have you had a good time this year?" "Yes, again I reply, thank God, we have had a good time," and I will tell you something about it, though I have to shut out all comers all the morning to do so.

Changed attitude of the people.

It has been good in opportunities for work. There is a steady increase in the number of those who anxiously and respectfully inquire into the meaning of the Word of God. The apparent reasons of this are mainly—(1) that Christianity is put more in evidence year by year, not only by its preachers and its literature, but by the presence of an increasing and corporate Church; (2) that education has shattered and dispelled many religious beliefs tenable only by the ignorant; (3) that the grievous perversion of justice arising from general perjury and bribery among the people, which renders futile the acknowledged good intentions of the British Government, is being traced to its true source, instead of being attributed, as heretofore, to the badness either of English rule or of the age (Kal Yug) in which we live. These are some apparent reasons, but they would account for little were it not that the gracious influence of God's Spirit is abroad. They might account, indeed, for the changed attitude of the people towards ourselves; they would not lead anybody to take up his cross and follow Christ.

Oh, you who long for the regeneration of India, give much of your interest and your prayers to the village populations. Apart from the numerical argument (and it is a very strong one) urging missionary agencies to work among the villages, there is a consideration which I would suggest, namely, that inasmuch as the towns flourish by means of, and in proportion to, the well-being of the country, it behoves those who want to starve or to feed a city to devote their attention to the villages round it. We hear of costly missions established, and we see them maintained at centres of religious knowledge or activity, such as Kangra, Amritsar, Muttra, Benares, in the belief that by capturing such centres for Christ we shall capture the citadels of false systems, and turn the guns against His foes. I believe we should be very little further forward if we were to win the best half-dozen Granthis at Amritsar, or the six least abominable Bhojkis at Kangra. As long as the country people crowd in blind superstition into the temples of either place, there will be priests ready to receive their offerings, and to send them home again with words of peace when there is no peace. But once check the stream of pilgrims at its fountain head, once teach the country people that the God who made them, and has preserved them in their village homes, may be sought and found there too, and you begin to starve out the lazy priests, and to set the more active ones a-thinking. The holy places of India are mainly, if not merely, shops or shows, kept open for the benefit of the incumbents or proprietors by the efforts of the faqirs who are fed there, and at the expense of the village populations. It is a sorry plan to institute comparisons, but with some knowledge of the various openings for mission work in the Punjab, I cannot close without expressing my conviction that work among villagers is the most likely to be fruitful of directly blessed results, and is more sure to tell upon the cities than are the more usual methods of labour among the crowded populations in the cities themselves.

Wisdom of evangelizing the villages.

A much brighter and more hopeful report than the previous one comes from Mr. Beutel of Clarkabad. "The last year has been full of blessings," he writes, "and the settlement is more and more assuming the aspect of a model village." This is corroborated by the Rev. H. Stern, founder of the Christian village called after himself in the North-West Provinces, who visited Clarkabad in May, 1887, and wrote in the Record Book of the Mission :—

Clarkabad.

"Model village."

I visited Clarkabad for the first time and was delighted with what I saw here. Having had some experience in settling Native Christians, I can understand how much labour and anxiety and care it must have cost to bring this settlement to such a high state of efficiency. There is every prospect under the present able management to make this settlement a centre of usefulness for Native Christians.

Twenty-eight candidates were confirmed in November by Bishop French.

BATALA.

The Rev. H. U. Weitbrecht, Ph.D., received a hearty welcome on his return to Batala in November. The Rev. E. Corfield has charge of the Christian Boys' Boarding School. This school was established in 1878 by the Rev. F. Baring, and was endowed by him with 350*l.* a year when he handed it over to the Society in 1883. The building is an old palace of Maharajah Shere Singh, which he built at great cost, but in which he only slept one night. Three boys have passed the Calcutta Entrance Examination during the past year; and three of the four, viz., the first, third, and fourth "Lake Memorial Prizes" for Scripture knowledge, have been won by Batala boys, the second, as already mentioned, having been obtained by a girl of the Alexandra Girls' School. Several old boys have lately gained honourable positions in Government and other services. Dr. D. N. P. Datta, M.B., Edinburgh University, is now Civil Surgeon of Karnal; Mr. Isa Charan, M.A., Punjab University, is an Extra Assistant-Commissioner, also at Karnal; Dr. C. Martin, Lahore University (who was brought from Abyssinia by an officer in Lord Napier's army), is now Assistant-Surgeon at Leiah; one is in the Forest Department; and Mr. Ihsan Ullah, late Headmaster of the Society's School at Bannu, is now a Christian evangelist and personal assistant to Mr. Bateman. Dr. Weitbrecht remarks upon the improvement he observes in the tone, order, and discipline of the school. Even the sad apostasy of Maulvi Qudrallu'llah, the former Persian teacher, does not appear to have had a permanent evil effect, though he is now in the city, trying to oppose the work.

Old boys in Government service.

The work in the Batala district was under Mr. Bateman's superintendence during Dr. Weitbrecht's absence. The latter, on resuming charge, reports thirty-nine adult baptisms during the year. There are congregations in three new places, making eight centres in all, including Batala, and there are signs of inquiry and desire for instruction in at least as many more. At Talwandi Tapala the converts have set apart a house for a school, which has been commenced. At Fathgurh a school building of sun-dried bricks has been erected, except the timber-work which Miss Hoernle paid for, by the people themselves. The apostasy of the catechist, Narayan Prashud, with his family, in this place, has not led away any of those whom he instructed. He himself declares that he is still a Christian in heart, but he shows no sense of his great sin. The teacher appointed to instruct inquirers at Ogriwal is paid partly by the Batala Y.M.C.A. The work at Shampura was begun by a boy who was baptized some two years since at Fathgurh. When he returned to his native village he was so zealous in teaching what he had acquired that an application for instruction was addressed to Mr. Bateman, followed by the reception of three families. Of Batala, Mr. Weitbrecht writes:—

A boy evangelist

At Batala itself I had the happiness, soon after my arrival, of admitting into the flock of Christ two persons, one a faqir, Bhilu Shah by name, an old acquaintance of our friend Banda Shah at Chhalowal; and the other a labourer from a neighbouring village. Bhilu Shah had travelled in many places, but found no rest till he came to Christ, whom his former teacher had commended to him. He has been on tour with me since, and as he is very zealous, I have now sent him to get further instruction under Mr. Dina Nath at Ajnala. Another man, too (a Mohammedan schoolmaster), was just on the point of receiving baptism, but he, poor fellow, was got hold of by his relations and sent off to Quetta, and we have heard no definite news of him since.

A faqir restless till he found Christ.

LAHORE.

The Rev. T. E. Coverdale has had charge of the Hostel, with thirteen inmates, and has worked among the educated Native young men, for whom an evangelistic service is held at the rooms of the Y.M.C.A. The Rev. Yakub Ali is pastor of the Native congregation. The Divinity School was temporarily closed when Mr. Shirreff left. By the Committee's instructions Dr. Weitbrecht is making arrangements for its being reopened in October.

KANGRA, KOTGUR, SIMLA.

The Rev. T. Holden has been transferred to KANGRA from Multan on account of Mrs. Holden's health. There is a boys' school with 103 names on the roll, and one of the boys stood first in the whole district in the total number of marks obtained in the Middle School examination. There is also a girls' school. Mr. Holden has specially aimed at reaching the villagers, and the numerous melas held at Kangra give excellent opportunities for doing so. He mentions the baptism of a young Mohammedan:—

An earnest Mohammedan convert.

We have not been left wholly without encouragement since coming here. On September 7th I had the unspeakable joy of admitting into the visible Church a young Mohammedan, a native of Oonah, in the Hoshiyarpur district. He came to us one morning in the middle of the rains, thoroughly drenched, having walked the whole distance without resting. In order to test his sincerity he was kept on probation over six weeks. In the meantime I insisted upon his informing all his relatives of the step he was about to take. No opposition or menace on their part was the result of following my advice. Since his baptism he has joined the police, and now holds an officer's appointment. He is reading hard for the assistant-inspectorship examination, which I have not the slightest doubt he will pass.

The Kangra district is one of the most populous in the Punjab, containing 730,000 inhabitants, of whom 637,635 are Hindus. Here is indeed a vast field for missionary effort. At KOTGUR the Rev. A. W. Bailey has laboured with a short interruption after Mrs. Bailey's death, when he assisted Mr. Bateman in his district work. The Rev. T. Edwards is pastor of the congregation at SIMLA.

PIND DADAN KHAN.

The Rev. H. Rountree has much felt the isolation of this station, 150 miles from the nearest brother missionary. "Around us," he says, "are nothing but dead souls, and the chilling effect is felt only too keenly." He and his Native helper, the Rev. T. Howell, have preached in the bazaars of Shahpur and Pind Dadan Khan, and in the larger cities and villages situated on the main roads. He thinks that generally a more thoughtful spirit is manifested, and a greater willingness to hear and discuss in a friendly way. There are twenty-one baptized Christians and eleven communicants in the district.

MULTAN.

This city of sixty-eight thousand people has again only one missionary, the Rev. T. Bomford. His Native assistant, however, Babu Brij Lall Datt, has been admitted to deacon's orders. Multan continues as barren spiritually as it is physically, but at Muzufferghar, an out-station, much interest is manifested. Mr. Bomford was greatly encouraged during a tour in this district early last year, which closed with the baptism of a young Mohammedan (aged thirty), who has since borne good testimony to his new belief. The catechist there finds it almost unnecessary to go to the bazaars, as the people go to him daily in such numbers that he has had several benches made for their accommodation. The Rev. T. Holden, who laboured at Multan until April of last year, refers to the diminished prejudice and ill-will of the Moslem population in the district generally, and the Rev. Brij Lall Datt writes, "The Hindus, who are not very many, especially in the country, are very indifferent, but the Moslems are very attentive to religious matters, and are very fond of discussion." He gives the following illustrations of the popular feeling :—

Interest at Muzufferghar.

Sher Shah is a Mohammedan shrine about eight miles from Multan.

Thousands of pilgrims, both Hindu and Mussulman, come to visit it, and make large offerings in coin and kind. I, too, visited it this year. The shopkeepers and other tradesmen who had gone from Multan in hope of making large profits looked very sad, as they did not sell to their expectations. They said, when I interrogated them as to their sadness, "Babu Sahib, the shrine is rapidly losing its attraction, and with it, pilgrims." In order to know the reality of these things I called on the master of the shrine, who confirmed the words of the shopkeepers, and said, "Sorry to say the number of pilgrims is lessening every year, and with it our income. Now the pilgrims come for rioting rather than for homage to the saint, spend much more money on plays than otherwise. Our income last year was one-fourth what it was in 1870;" giving the following reasons for the above:—"The British Government is very kind and neutral, even kinder than the late Sikh Government. But the Mission school and the Christian preachers, and lots of religious books given gratis to the people, have been undermining other religions, so much so that the educated classes are making up new sects of their own."

Diminishing popularity of a Mohammedan shrine accounted for.

On this occasion the Word of Life, I believe, reached to the ears of several thousands, as there were two European missionaries, the Revs. T. Bomford and T. Holden, and several Christians from our school department and Muzuffergarh.

Suraj-kund is a Hindu tank about four miles from here. Hindus go there bathing, Mohammedans for rioting. When I went there this year I found that some of the educated people, especially the Aryans, not only opposed our work, but also tried to prevent Hindus bathing, which shows that the absurdity of such customs as above, &c., is quite open to them. They are disgusted with their own religion. On this occasion I believe the blessed Gospel was preached to more than a thousand.

Aryans opposing Hinduism.

DERA GHAZI KHAN.

The Rev. A. Lewis was alone from March, when Dr. and Mrs. Jukes left the Mission, to December, when the Rev. W. E. Davies arrived at Dera Ghazi Khan. A Library and Reading-room and a Female Dispensary have been opened during the year; and a step towards Church organization has been taken by the appointment of a Church Committee. There are nineteen baptized Christians and ten communicants. There have been two adult baptisms. One, a Hindu contractor, was a pupil nine years ago in Mr. Forman's school at Lahore, and it was apparently solely in consequence of what he then learned that he became an inquirer last year. But, as Mr. Lewis says, "the success of missionary work can be very imperfectly gauged by the number of baptisms." He remarks that a change is most surely taking place in the people's attitude towards the Gospel.

Mr. Lewis relates a very interesting circumstance in the spiritual history of the Mohammedan convert baptized by Mr. Bomford while itinerating in the Muzufferghar disrict:—

In the latter portion of February, I had some letters of the deepest interest from the Rev. T. Bomford, of Multan. He had been out for a prolonged cold-weather tour in the district next to this, that of Muzuffergarh. When visiting one town he met a young Mohammedan Hakim, or doctor. In the course of a few days this man was so pressing for baptism, that Mr. Bomford made an exception to his general rule and admitted him thus quickly to the Church of Christ.

A descendant of Ghazi Khan baptized.

It turned out that M. A. K., as his name is, was a native of Dera Ghazi Khan, and not only so, but a direct lineal descendant of Ghazi Khan, from whom this city is named. When the news spread here, there was a good deal of excitement amongst the Mohammedans, who declared that when M. A. K. became a Christian their nose was cut off. I heard one interesting fact about him. There is a friend of mine here, S. K., nominally a Mohammedan, but generally regarded as an atheist. I met him one morning soon after the above occurrence. He accosted me with the question—"Is this news true about M. A. K.?" "Yes," I said," "he has become a Christian." "That is something to be thankful for" (Shukr ki bát), he exclaimed. Then he went on, "Do you remember you used to give me books, and I used to buy them at your book-shop in the bazaar? Well, after reading some of them I passed them on to M. A. K., and it was through me that he first heard about the Christian religion." "Well," I said, laughing, "you ought to be ashamed of yourself to allow your pupil to be before you. You had better follow his example at once."

This friend of mine, with whom the latter conversation took place, has since that time confessed to me his belief in Christ, and declares that he will soon make an open profession.

DERA ISMAIL KHAN, BANNU, TANK.

These frontier stations in the Derajat were occupied at the invitation of General Reynell Taylor, Sir Robert Montgomery, and Sir Herbert Edwardes in 1861. The Rev W. Thwaites was at DERA ISMAIL KHAN until the end of the year, when he removed to Peshawar. The Rev. F. Papprill arrived to find himself almost immediately without a colleague, an early sufferer from the inconveniences and disadvantages which arise from the paucity of labourers. The new railway through the Sind-Sagar Doab passes Bhakkar, on the opposite side of the Indus, and the first visitors to the Mission who used this easy means of travelling were the Revs. F. E. Wigram and R. Clark, at the beginning of 1887. There are forty baptized Christians here and thirteen communicants. Mr. Thwaites believes there has been real progress in spirituality, more sympathy one with another, and more willingness to render help one to another. One who lapsed to Mohammedanism has been restored, and two adults have been baptized. Mr. Thwaites says:—

A Christian servant in a European household here some years ago threw up his place, and then, not being able to find another, fell into the hands of Mohammedans, who promised to feed him if he would repeat the Kalima. He did so; but he did not prosper, and after a time returned to his former master, and said he had done wickedly and foolishly. He had never given up his Bible, and wished to return to the Christian fold. He was sent over to me, and I put him under probation. For nearly two years he has behaved well, and last Sunday, after a public confession before the congregation, he was re-admitted to the Christian Church. On New Year's Day there were four baptisms—Ruth, wife of the above, whom he had married while a Mohammedan after his lapse, and their two children. The fourth was that of a boy in the school, called Khan Mohammed, and whose Christian name is Khan Masih.

The character of some of the people with whom the missionaries have to deal is shown by the following occurrence related in the Punjab Mission News:—

An Afghan "gentleman."

An Afghan gentleman, who was notorious through the whole country-side for his thieving capabilities, having come down from the Waziri Hills, thought he would pay his friend Mr. Thwaites a visit. After the usual compliments and tender inquiries after each other's health and happiness, he took up the blankets on the bed and said, "What beautiful blankets!" "Yes," promptly replied Mr. Thwaites, "don't you steal them." Whereupon the following conversation ensued:—"You needn't be afraid, Sahib; I have pledged my honour to the Deputy Commissioner not to steal any more in the Dera District." "Good for Dera, but how about Bannu?" "Ah, so much the worse for Bannu," unconcernedly replied the chieftain. "My dear fellow, why don't you give up this sort of thing, and work?" "Work! I work!" gasped the astonished Afghan. "Look at that," said he, as he extended a hand as small and soft as a lady's towards Mr. Thwaites—"A hand like that plough or sow—Tauba!" (i.e. repent of the enormity of such an idea). In the course of further conversation he mentioned incidentally that he was going back in a few days to reap his harvest. On being asked what this might be, he smiled significantly, and merely said: "The Povindahs" (i.e. traders from Afghanistan) "are now returning home from India."

At BANNU, the Rev. T. J. L. Mayer labours on with many discouragements. An opposition school in the city has made it very difficult to keep up the number of pupils at the Mission school, as in the former a free education is given. Notwithstanding, the numbers have slightly risen during the past year, and are just over a hundred. From want of funds, the preaching-room in the city, which included a book-shop, has been given up. Mr. Mayer's comments on the sequel are matter for grave reflection. He says:—

Now, where once stood the board, "Depôt of the British and Foreign Bible Society," in Urdu, Pashtu, and Punjabi, there is a cloth-merchant's shop; where formerly texts from the Word of Life adorned the walls, there are now heathen pictures of all the Hindu gods, and others of a worse kind, printed, alas! in Manchester and Glasgow, and sent out with cotton and other goods to captivate the heathen mind. Is it come to this, that the devil must have the upper hand in England's commerce? Are there no Manchester or Glasgow men who will stand up for the Lord of Hosts; and if there must be a picture, let it be of some event in the lives of holy men, with a text of God's most blessed seed underneath it in Hindi or Pashtu. David and Goliath, Elijah and the ravens, surely were better far than these!

On the other hand—and the fact makes the closing of the book-shop the more disappointing—Mr. Mayer says that the Pilgrim's Progress is really working its way to the Afghans' heart. Many mullahs are reading it.

PESHAWAR.

The return home of the Rev. W. Jukes, on account of Mrs. Jukes' state of health, has rendered necessary, however inexpedient, the transference temporarily of the Rev. W. Thwaites from Dera Ismail Khan to this important station. The Rev. A. E. Day, who went out in 1885, is the only other missionary in Peshawar, where after the Mutiny, in 1857, there were five.

KASHMIR.

Three missionaries have resided at Srinagar during the past year, viz. the Rev. J. H. Knowles, Dr. A. Neve, and his brother, Dr. E. F. Neve. Dr. Arthur Neve has reported fully on the medical, evangelistic, and the pastoral work.

This year, for the first time, a complete circuit of the valley has been made.

The expansion of work last year, although for nine months of the year I was single-handed at the hospital, and for six months Mr. Knowles was acting as chaplain to the Resident, has nearly or more than doubled our last year's medical statistics; but it goes without saying that each year one's proficiency in the language increases, and one is better able to do evangelistic work.

The Native Church.—As my clerical colleague is not writing, it is well that I should mention that the small body of Christians are, on the whole, satisfactory. One had to be expelled for immoral conduct. There have been no additions to the Church so far, but one lad, who has proved his fortitude under considerable trials, will probably be baptized on Christmas Day. There have been no other inquirers of a reliable character. The barrier to real inquiry seems to be threefold. (a) No sense of deep sin, or longing after righteousness. (b) The prevailing idea that the creed of Mohammed is the same as ours, but inclusive of all the prophets, and not only of Christ. (c) Among the enlightened: love of the world and fear of persecution.

Barriers to real inquiry.

We now have one or two good Native agents, and it is especially by the preaching by these (more than by us Europeans) of righteousness and the only Saviour that we expect to see inquiry aroused.

It is a terrible reflection that the Gospel has this year been preached to certainly 20,000 people, and that scarcely a dozen openly objected to the preaching, and yet but very few have ever shown any desire to hear more on the subject. However, we must leave all this in the hands of God, thanking Him for the grand opportunity given us of doing good and preaching the Gospel. A terrible reflection.

QUETTA.

Dr. S. W. Sutton has welcomed, with much thankfulness, the arrival of the Rev. H. G. Grey. The mission-house is completed, and its structural arrangements, with small rooms, for the sake of warmth in the winter, and with thick walls and high roof, so as to be cool in the summer, have made it very comfortable. Dr. Sutton says of the Christians at Quetta:—

The Native Christian Church here is a small one, but it is a source of much satisfaction, and its condition is a cause for thankfulness. The members show a very nice brotherly spirit towards one another. They "dwell together in unity," and it certainly is "a joyful and pleasant thing" to see. There are three of them whom I am able to ask sometimes to give the address at our Sunday services, and their addresses all show signs of thoughtful preparation, and of a good knowledge of Scripture. The services are always held in the mission-house, as we have no other place where we can meet, and have always been conducted in Urdu. Up to the present, although I have been able to read the service in Urdu, I have not been able to preach in that language, as I have been studying Persian for evangelistic work. Now, however, I have just written my first Hindustani sermon, which I am to preach on the 1st of January, at our morning service. Small, but united congregation.

Acting upon the suggestion of one of themselves that, as we had no regular offertory, the members of our congregation should try to give monthly donations towards the building of the Mission hospital, I provided a book in which to keep a record of such contributions. Some have found themselves unable to give every month, but all seem to have really made an effort which I acknowledge with gratitude; and the result is a sum of Rs. 43 collected in six months.

I had a Bible-reading for the Native Christians on Wednesday evenings during the summer, and up to the time of my going to Amritsar for the Conference early in November. This was well attended, and we hope to revive it immediately; but it is very difficult to get people together in Quetta during the winter.

Yakoob, of whom I spoke at some length in my last letter, notwithstanding the fact that Canon Isaac Taylor has singled him out for a special coat of mud, is the great mainstay of this Mission. He is a sort of multum in parvo. As munshi he is now devoting several hours a day to teaching Mr. Grey Persian. He is the only man I have to take charge of the dispensary, and to help me in my work there by dispensing my prescriptions. And he does a very useful work in inviting people to sit with him and read the Scriptures or the Quran, both of which he is intimately acquainted with. A multum in parvo.

I have had several "inquirers" during the year, and have watched them as carefully as I could to try and discover their motives. One of them I believe to have been quite sincere. He was a Sindhi, Mohun Das by name, and had previously received a little instruction from Mr. Shirt in Hydrabad. In spite of the active opposition of Hindu friends, he came regularly for instruction, and voluntarily broke off all connexion with his caste by eating and drinking with Yakoob. But his work necessitated his leaving Quetta, and I have heard no more of him. He took with him a copy of the four Gospels in Sindhi.

SINDH.

Third anniversary of Native Church Council.

THE third annual meeting of the Sindh Native Church Council was held at Karachi in September. In the absence of the Rev. J. J. Bambridge, the Rev. A. E. Ball presided, and preached his first sermon in Hindustani on the occasion. The following papers were read:—"Intercessory prayer," by Rev. B. N. Ghose; "What manner of persons ought we to be?" by Mr. P. McMahon, of Sukkur; "How to encourage thrift and keep out of debt," by Munshi Amir-ud-din, catechist at Hyderabad; "Bible Study," by Mr. R. Samuel, of Karachi.

KARACHI.

The Rev. A. E. Ball has had charge of the work at Karachi, and the Rev. R. Heaton was transferred thither from Hyderabad upon the Rev. J. J. Bambridge leaving for furlough in April. Mr. Heaton, having passed the first language examination in October, and received Priest's Orders in December, has now taken full charge of the Mission High School. He was married in January last to Miss Bloomer, a missionary of the C.E.Z.M.S. at Hyderabad. The Rev. B. N. Ghose is the pastor of the Native congregation, which numbers seventy-five members, forty of whom are communicants. Bishop French visited Karachi in December and confirmed six candidates, four men and two women. He also gave a lecture to a large audience of Native gentlemen in the Max Denso Hall, of which the subject was "The Moral and Religious Lessons to be gathered from the life of Alfred the Great." Seven adults were baptized during the year, four men and three women, all converts from Hinduism. The four men were former pupils of the Mission-school. There were numerous inquirers, one of whom learnt the "Sermon on the Mount" by heart. Nine meetings of the Karachi Church Missionary Union were held during 1887. The Rev. F. E. Wigram addressed one of them in the Frere Hall in March. On St. Andrew's Day there was a special service and administration of the Holy Communion. The Union consists of English residents, and the special object is to further the work of the Mission by personal service. Mr. Ball says that the chaplains display very much interest in the Mission, and are ever ready to help it to the best of their power. At the Mission High School the average attendance has been 112. The year closed with 147 on the rolls, of whom 100 are Hindus, twenty-three Brahmins, twenty Mohammedans, three Jews, and one is a Christian. The Bombay University has awarded the Sir Rao Pragmalji Scholarship of Rs. 15 a month for three years to one of the two students from the High School who passed the entrance examination in 1886. There was an average daily attendance of 356 at the Boys' Vernacular School, including the branch school in the Ranchore Lines. 14,073 books and tracts have been sold.

As an indication of the mental attitude of many educated Hindus towards Christianity, Mr. Ball sends the following quotation from a lecture delivered by a Hindu gentleman in the Max Denso Hall, and the remarks made by the editor of a local paper, himself a member of the Brahmo Somaj Society. The Hindu lecturer said:—

Attitude of educated Hindus.

"There should be no mistake about our attitude toward Christianity. If we have not embraced the Church Christ, it is certainly not because we cannot realize His greatness. How can we be blind to the greatness, the unrivalled splendour, of Jesus Christ? Behind the British Empire, from which the sun never turns away his face, behind all the mighty powers of Europe, behind modern enlightenment, behind America, behind science and all its triumphs, behind new continents, behind the gigantic dominions of Russia—lies the single great personality—the greatest of all known to us—of Jesus Christ. There is no sublimer figure in history than Christ on the Cross, with that last look of infinite pity and infinite love; and that last prayer of forgiveness for those who knew not what they did. His resurrection is surely no fable. He lives in Europe and America, and Asia and Africa, as a King and Guide and Teacher. He lives in our midst. He seeks to revivify religion in all its ancient earnestness. We owe everything, even this deep yearning towards our ancient Hinduism, to Christianity."

Christ admired.

Debt to Christianity acknowledged.

And the editorial comment was as follows:—

"Is this Hindu singular in entertaining such profound reverence for Jesus Christ? Such utterance will be echoed by many more. We draw the attention of Christian missionaries to this. Let there be no misunderstanding between the educated Hindus and the messengers of Christ in this country. Christ is respected, honoured, and loved in this land. Much misunderstanding may be removed, and the work of the evangelists rendered smooth, if they were to bear this fact in mind."

HYDRABAD.

"We still mourn over a barren field," is the Rev. J. Redman's touching refrain. But he can add, "there are signs that the leaven is working." The Native Christians, who number thirty, have given much cause for thankfulness. Two examples are given:—

An isolated Christian household

Two young men of our congregation are much isolated from Christian companionship, being each sixty miles distant from us in different directions; both, I am thankful to say, living consistent lives, and shining as lights in the midst of the surrounding darkness. I have been able to visit both when on preaching-tours during the past year. One is in charge of a Government hospital, and has been mentioned with approbation in the Surgeon-General's report as having done good work. His mother, young brother, and niece live with him. I was much pleased, when visiting them, with the evident love of good things manifest amongst them—the regular Bible-reading, family prayers, and hymn-singing, so heartily enjoyed. I had the privilege of ministering the Holy Communion to this little Church in the wilderness. The other young man referred to is an overseer of postal runners, away to the east of Hydrabad. A Goanese Christian in charge of some workshops situated near his line has shown him much kindness, and Premdas has been able to return it by imparting spiritual blessings. This man told me that it was only since Premdas's coming that he had learnt to know "the love of Jesus." His nephew also has been brought to know the Saviour through the same influence, and this nephew, happening to be in Hydrabad during the Bishop's recent visit, was confirmed by him. Thus the light is being passed on. The thought in my mind when visiting them two months ago was, "I will be to them as a little sanctuary in the countries where they shall come" (Ezek. xi. 16).

"Light passed on."

An Anglo-Vernacular branch of the Girls' School has been commenced, in which a dozen girls, who have all passed the fourth standard vernacular, are learning English. Miss Bloomer's help in this school is much missed. The High School has given one boy to the Church, but not to the Church Militant:—

A dying boy's confession.

We have in the past year met with one case of encouragement from school work. A boy was taken away on account of the influence the Scripture-teaching was gaining over him. He continued at home to read the Gospel, in spite of the opposition of his relatives. A blow given in enmity brought on an illness from which he never recovered; he was ill for two years. A teacher in the girls' school used to go to read to the women in his home, and he most eagerly looked for the visit. He used to listen most attentively to the reading, and to ask many questions about it. When the end was drawing near, a relative brought him a picture of a Hindu deity on which to fix his thoughts. He cast it from him, exclaiming, "Of what use is that? Only the Lord can save me. I trust in Him;" and with these words on his lips he passed away.

Several itinerations of from one to three weeks' duration have been undertaken, and all the principal towns in the Hydrabad district visited. 9388 books and tracts have been sold.

SUKKUR.

The Rev. A. W. Cotton has charge of this station, which is close to the great railway-bridge over the Indus, and near the junction of the Sibi Railway which runs to the frontier of Beluchistan. Bishop French's last ordination was held here in December, and he confirmed five members of the Native Christian congregation. Mr. Cotton says:—

"Chastened" progress.

The past year has been one of quiet work and steady progress, chastened by discouragement and disappointment, and clouded with difficulties that sometimes almost tempted us to despair. We can only speak of eight baptisms (seven adults) during 1887; yet we can testify that there has been greater opposition and less indifference, greater acquaintance with the doctrines as well as the difficulties of Christianity, and less bigotry. The more frequent requests for Christian teachers, Christian schools, and Christian books are some of the signs of steady progress. This bright light of progress, however, has shone upon us through clouds. We ourselves have been tempted, troubled, tried. Two members of the Christian congregation have brought shame and reproach on our Saviour's holy name. One inquirer has almost come to the font to receive baptism, and still he has not yet confessed the faith of Christ crucified. This experience of joy and sorrow strangely blended is illustrated by the fact that in a recent week's preaching we have been sprinkled with rose-leaves and onion-stalks, and saluted with hearty salams, small pieces of wood, lumps of mud, &c. We may truly say, however, that we have had more sunshine than cloud.

The Native congregation at Sukkur numbers forty, and their contributions for religious purposes during the year amounted to Rs. 226 = 22*l*. The Book Shop gives excellent opportunities for earnest quiet talks, and 7540 books were sold during 1887. Weekly lectures for English-speaking Sindhi gentlemen excite a steadily increasing interest. Their success is largely due to the singing of Christian hymns by a band of European friends. Rohri has been visited regularly, and a faqir has become an inquirer. At Khanpur the people said, "It is good news you bring. Come again soon and tell us more about your Saviour." And at a later visit, a young Mohammedan said, "Your Jesus is a wonderful Saviour, but I cannot yet see how He could lay down His life for the sin of the whole world." Another Mohammedan, at Shikurpur, who received his education at a Mission school, was deeply aroused at a bazaar preaching, and has expressed his readiness to be baptized, though the step may probably involve the loss of his wife and only little son, to whom he is greatly attached. At the same place a Mohammedan wished to present Mr. Cotton with some alms in gratitude for his message of salvation.

WESTERN INDIA MISSION.

The Special Winter Mission.

The Rev. G. C. Grubb and Colonel Oldham reached Bombay on November 14th, and the special services, prayer-meetings, and Bible-readings, which had been arranged with much thought and prayer by the Rev. H. C. Squires, the Secretary of the Corresponding Committee, were at once commenced. After a fortnight in the Presidency town, the Mission preachers went to Poona on December 2nd, where they remained till the 13th. The next three days were spent at Bombay, and meetings were held for Native Christians only. From the 16th to the 23rd they were at Nasik; from the 24th to the 29th Mr. Grubb and Mr. Squires were at Aurungabad; Colonel Oldham spending this time at Akola with the American missionaries, holding daily meetings, and being greatly encouraged, especially by the deep interest shown by educated Natives. On January 6th, Colonel Oldham rejoined Mr. Grubb, and they went together to Ahmednagar. Returning to Bombay on the 14th, they delivered parting addresses to overflowing congregations, and sailed on the 20th for Colombo.

Services in Bombay Cathedral.

In every place the Word of the Lord was confirmed by signs following of repentance and holy joy. In Bombay, by the Bishop's cordial invitation, services were held in the cathedral every night for a week. Of these services the Bombay Guardian, an undenominational religious paper, said: "The cathedral has been filled night after night; we would estimate the audience at 800. They who attended had the privilege of hearing the Gospel preached with extraordinary simplicity, plainness, and earnestness, and we have reason to believe that the Word has been, in many instances, the power of God unto salvation." Services were also held daily in the Girgaum Church, and in Framjee Cowasjee Hall, which were attended by many Parsees, Mohammedans, and Hindus, as well as Native Christians. Numerous letters with requests for thanksgiving were received at the Thanksgiving Service which closed the Mission in the city. At Poona, the two chaplains, the Revs. A. G. Carse and G. Gothard, offered their churches for services on the two Sundays, and for early service at 7.30 each morning. Afternoon meetings for educated Natives were held in the town hall, and evening meetings in a large central bungalow in camp. The head master of the Poona Native Institution, an independent Native school, invited the preachers to address its 800 students. Thirty-seven meetings were held in the nine days, of which seventeen were for Europeans and Natives, seven for Native Christians only, eight for non-Christian Natives, one for soldiers, and one for children. Again a large number of requests for thanksgiving were received from Native Christians connected with various Missions, and several from officers and soldiers. One was signed by the pastor and elders of the Free Church of Scotland Native Congregation. At Nasik about sixteen meetings were held, and the addresses, interpreted by the Rev. Appaji Bapuji, were listened to with rapt attention. Large audiences of the official and non-official educated Natives of the city assembled in the bungalow of Raja Bahadur, occupied by the I.F.N.S. and I. Society. The Bombay Diocesan Record wrote of these Nasik meetings: "There is no doubt that the twofold aim of the Mission, viz. 'the bringing to the Lord such as know Him not, and the building up in the faith such as are already His,' has been accomplished. Also a general desire, not only to read but search the Scriptures more thoroughly has been evoked. At the close of the meetings many of the Christians stood up and acknowledged how much they were benefited by the addresses." Of the work at Aurungabad Mr. Grubb wrote: "The Lord was indeed with us, and compressed the blessing into the four days. Many were moved to tears, and Mr. Ruttonji himself, who interpreted, broke down with emotion in nearly every address."

Thirty-seven meetings in nine days at Poona.

Desire to search the Scriptures

Many moved to tears at Aurungabad.

Death of Rev. J. S. S. Robertson.

The Rev. J. S. S. Robertson, who laboured in this Mission, with a few interruptions enforced by ill-health, from 1838 to 1877, died in May last year, full of days, and full of honour. His successive spheres of labour were first in connexion with the Robert Money School at Bombay, then at Nasik, training Native students in theology, and lastly, as Secretary to the Corresponding Committee. He also rendered important help in revising the Marathi version of the Scriptures.

The Revs. F. G. Macartney and H. A. Bren returned to the Mission last autumn, and at the same time the Rev. W. C. Whiteside, an Islington man, who, after gaining, together with four other men from the same college, a place in the first class at the "Oxford and Cambridge Preliminary Theological Examination," was first of all the candidates in the Bishop of London's Examination, and read the Gospel at the Trinity Ordination last year, joined the Mission.

BOMBAY.

The Rev. H. C. Squires, in addition to the Secretaryship of the Mission, has charge of the Girgaum Church, in which he is assisted, as well as in pastoral work among Europeans and children, by the Rev. J. M. Macdonald; the Rev. H. A. Bren (since his return) and Mr. Jackson are the Principal and Vice-Principal of the Robert Money School; and the Rev. W. T. St. Clair Tisdall is missionary to the Mohammedans.

In connexion with the Girgaum Church there is a Sunday-school, with 119 children, many of whom are members of a Scripture Union for Children and Young People. The Girls' School at Girgaum comprises three distinct branches—a boarding-school for Native Christian girls, with twenty-one boarders; a vernacular day-school, with 126 scholars, twenty-seven of whom, however, are boys; and an Anglo-Vernacular day-school with fourteen girls. Mr. Squires, in his report, in gratefully acknowledging the help sent from home, says that "every part of Great Britain—England, Ireland, and Scotland—supplies some kind hands and warm hearts which are contributing towards the advancement of even one such simple, unassuming missionary agency as that of our school."

The numbers at the Robert Money School have still further increased, being now 278. Ninety of these are Brahmins, and of other Hindus there are 144. Mr. Jackson has had the religious teaching of the two upper classes, which number eighty-one boys, in his own hands, and he says they have been "most attentive to their Scripture lessons;" the written examinations also showed that they retained and thought over what they had heard in class. These pupils come from homes in all parts of the Konkan (the lowland strip between the Western Ghâts and the sea), and that they carry with them at least a kindly and pleasing memory of their school teaching is shown by the following extract from Mr. Jackson's letter:—

Increase of students in Robert Money School.

I was very much pleased to hear some little time since from Mr. Ruttonjee, our missionary at Aurungabad, of two old Money School students with whom he came in contact while itinerating. With smiles upon their faces they made themselves known to him, and told him that they had already a knowledge of Christianity, which they had received in the Money School. Mr. Ruttonjee had a long conversation with them, and found that they had not only a good knowledge of Christianity, but that the leaven of truth was working in their minds. Doubtless this case is only a type of many such instances which are constantly coming to the notice of itinerating missionaries.

Mr. Tisdall has sent a full and very interesting report of his first year's work in connexion with the Mohammedan Mission. He has the assistance of two catechists, one Persian, the other Hindustani. Preaching, when the weather allows, is done every morning in the city; and although most determined efforts have frequently been made to interrupt and stop the speakers, such attempts have never once succeeded, and, as a result, an interest has been excited, and some have sought private interviews. Mr. Tisdall says :—

A Persian Sayyid reading the Bible for fifteen years.

Inquirers in their conversation sometimes supply us with arguments against Mohammedanism by mentioning those which have occurred to themselves. For example, a Persian Sayyid (descendant of Mohammed), a learned man who has travelled much and is a great preacher, told me that he had for fifteen years been reading the Bible, and during the last ten years had ceased to believe in Mohammed. He said that, in arguing with his friends, he used to ask them, "Where is Mohammed now?" When they said, "He is dead," he would inquire, "Where then is Hazrat Isa (Jesus)?" Mohammedans can give only one answer to this question—"He is alive and in heaven." "Well, then," was the inquiry of the Sayyid, "which of the two can best help you—Mohammed, who is dead, or Christ, who is living and in heaven?" To this he said he never got an answer, except the word Kafir (infidel), which Mohammedans too often use as their last and final argument when involved in difficulties. This man, though professing to believe in the deity of Christ, and desiring baptism, required me to promise him a recognized position as a Christian preacher and a fixed salary afterwards. This, of course, I could not do, and he has now become an avowed enemy of Christianity. Another man, a native of Bangalore and a man of very limited education, who did not impress me with any belief in his sincerity as an inquirer, yet showed a certain amount of cleverness in his conduct. He heard us preaching, and got a little tract from us, which he read, although his pious friends urged him to tear it up unread. In it he learnt about our Lord's claims, and of His crucifixion. The Mohammedans told him that (1) Christ never claimed to be the Son of God, and (2) that the Jews did not crucify Him. He decided to investigate the matter for himself, and so he went to the Jews and asked them, "Did you crucify Hazrat Isa?" They said, "Yes." He asked, "Why?" The reply was, "Because He called Himself the Son of God." This satisfied the inquirer that Christians were right on both points, and Mohammedans wrong. A third man, whom I am now daily teaching and hope to baptize shortly (D.V.), came all the way from Karnul, near Madras, to seek for instruction and baptism. He had received an Urdu New Testament, which led him to wish for teaching, and feared his relatives would not let him receive it if he remained with them. In reading St. Matthew's Gospel with him, explaining it verse by verse, when we read of Christ's call to Simon and Andrew, "Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men"

"Which can best help—Mohammed or Christ?"

Mohammedan statements respecting Christ confuted by Jews.

(iv. 19), before I could say anything in explanation, he said, with a very happy look, "A thought has just struck me. Christ has called me to follow Him also. When I know more about the Gospel, why should not I too go to my relatives and tell them about Christ?" That is just the spirit one so much rejoices to see. God grant that he may be kept to his first love for his risen Lord! A young Sikh from Lucknow, who came for instruction after hearing us preaching in the street one day, having read the Bible for a time in private, told me that he fully believed in Christ. He had to leave Bombay soon after, but took his Bible with him, and I hope he will make good use of it. A Mohammedan native of Bombay, a man in humble circumstances, was so struck by hearing the preaching of the Gospel by us in the bazaars that he came to my house and asked for a Bible. The catechist had given him a single Gospel, which he had read eagerly, but he had returned to tell us that he felt he must inquire further into Christianity, and therefore begged us to give him the whole Bible. I gave him a New Testament, but hesitated to give him the whole book because of the expense. He then said that, although very poor, he would pay for the Old Testament, so he paid down Rs. 2:6 out of the Rs. 3 which the whole Urdu Bible costs here, I contributing the rest. It was a very good sign indeed to find such a man willing to spend what to him was a considerable sum, merely in order to test the matter for himself. He has since come to the catechist for the explanation of difficult passages, and is steadily going through the whole Bible in this way. God grant that he may find in it Him who is the Way, the Truth, and the Life!

"Why should I not go and tell my relatives about Christ?"

A poor Mohammedan buying the whole Bible, and reading it through.

Mr. Tisdall has baptized three converts from Mohammedanism, one a mason belonging to Bombay, one a weaver from Ellichpur, and the third a son of an Afghan merchant.

English lectures to educated Natives have been undertaken at Mr. Tisdall's suggestion by missionaries of various denominations and others.

NASIK.

The Rev. W. A. Roberts superintends the Mission in the sacred city of Nasik and the Christian village of Sharanpur, and the Rev. Lucas Maloba, the Native pastor here for the past twelve years, has now been transferred to Aurungabad.

There are 354 baptized Christians, of whom 160 are communicants in this district, and 406 pupils are under instruction in the schools.

At Nasik there are two vernacular schools. Open-air preaching has been vigorously prosecuted, and Mr. Roberts has sought to influence the educated Natives by sending suitable tracts and small books to them through the post. The senior catechist, Mr. Krishnaji Dharmaji, after forty years of zealous service in preaching the Gospel far and near, died here in the beginning of 1887. Mr. Roberts says, "He loved his Bible, and Jesus Christ was all in all to him."

Efforts to reach educated Natives at Nasik.

Sharanpur has supplied from its Normal Class three teachers for schools at Malegam and Buldana, and eight youths were in the class at the commencement of this year. At the last examination the girls' school connected with the orphanage well maintained its position as one of the best in the district. In addition to their school duties, the girls are engaged in grinding, cooking, drawing and carrying water, farm-work, and washing their own and the boys' clothes. Mr. Roberts says, "if they do not turn out good useful housewives in the future it ought not to be put down to their training." A poor asylum, with sixteen inmates, is supported by local subscriptions. Deolali has two vernacular schools, for boys and girls, in the same building; but, by help of funds from the Dublin Auxiliary of the F.E.S., a new girls' school is being erected. At Igatpuri also there are two schools. An assistant catechist is stationed here who has the care of a congregation of about fifty souls. There is a small school at Wadale. The catechist at Yeola, an earnest and persevering man, has been encouraged. For some time he and the other agents were the subjects of petty persecution on the part of some members of the Arya Somaj and the Mohammedans, and once during the year he was assaulted while preaching in the street. But he has held his ground, and the spirit of violence has now given place to a spirit of inquiry.

Future housewives.

POONA AND JUNIR.

The Rev. Sorabji Kharsedji has had the pleasure not only of welcoming the safe return of Mrs. Sorabji from a lengthened tour in Great Britain, but also of witnessing the success of his daughter, who has taken an exceptionally good degree at the Bombay University. Upon both events the Committee warmly congratulate him. He continues to reside at POONA, where he labours as an honorary missionary. Formerly the capital of the Marathi Empire, and now sharing with Bombay the honour of being one of the seats of Government, this city of 100,000 souls undoubtedly claims a larger measure of attention than it has received. By the withdrawal in October of the only missionary of the S.P.G., and the acceptance by the Committee of the charge of its two congregations, one Marathi and one Tamil, the responsibilities of the Society to "strengthen its stakes" at Poona have been increased. In January last the Rev. J. A. Harriss, B.A., who joined the Mission in 1886, accompanied by the Rev. W. C. Whiteside, took up his abode at

S.P.G. congregations at Poona transferred to C.M.S.

JUNIR. He found the Christian Church to consist of four adults and five children, viz., one assistant catechist, his wife and family, and an old and very infirm leather-worker and his wife, depending on Mission funds for support. Poor and ignorant, however, as they are, and by no means commending the Gospel by their general appearance, yet this aged pair showed that they esteemed Christ as more precious than worldly gain, for when tempted by a Mussulman offering them a better home if they would leave the Mission, the old man answered very simply and bravely that "although it was true he was very poor and had a small house, yet he would rather go to the jungle and live there without a home at all, than become a Mussulman." Mr. Harriss is much impressed by the willingness of the people, and more especially in the villages, to listen to the Gospel. Even the Brahmans are not unfriendly. Some of them have urged a request for a school in Junir, and one holding a high government appointment, visits Mr. Harriss regularly, and is reading the Gospel with him in English.

"Rather be homeless than become a Mohammodan."

MALEGAM.

The Rev. E. J. Jones was stationed at Malegam throughout last year, but he has been relieved by the Rev. F. G. Macartney, who is now in charge. The Rev. Appaji Bapuji assisted Mr. Jones, and shared his responsibilities.

AURUNGABAD.

Under the Rev. Ruttonji Nowroji there are 1180 baptized Christians in this district. Twenty-three adults were received into the visible Church during the year. There are 10 schools, and 186 scholars, of whom 123 are children of Christian parents.

One of the newly baptized is both deaf and dumb, but his declaration of faith was very intelligible notwithstanding. Mr. Nowroji says:—

Declaration of faith by a deaf and dumb man.

I had felt no slight hesitation to receive such an one into the Christian Church, for I did not know how to prepare him for the solemn rite. At first I declined to adminster it, but never shall I forget the downcast look of disappointment on his face. He seemed to realize my difficulty occasioned by his impediment. But in the meantime a happy thought struck me. I asked him by signs why he desired baptism. Comprehending my meaning, he pointed to a neighbouring Hindu temple close at hand, evincing his abhorrence of idol-worship, and with lifted eyes he looked up to heaven as if to signify that the Great Being who inhabiteth eternity was the only One whom he would love and worship. Thus satisfied with his earnestness, I baptized him, and I am sure it would have gladdened any heart to have witnessed the great joy and happiness he manifested.

He adds:—

The street and bazaar preaching, as well as village preaching, has been regularly and earnestly carried on. On the whole we are listened to with greater attention than before. Those who had once shown hostility are now friendly. We have a small hired house in the bazaar where we preach daily in the evenings.

On weekly market-days we take our seat under a tree by the road-side. Our hearers are from all classes, Hindus and Mohammedans, learned and unlearned. The great truths of the Bible, the sinfulness and helplessness of man, and the marvellous love of God in providing guilty man with a Divine Saviour, are invariably introduced in all our addresses. It is the old story, but the beauty of the old story is that it never becomes old, and never loses its power and vitality. Often are we asked why we are so much in earnest in our efforts to convince them of the truth, and what advantage would we derive by making them Christians? The secret that it is the constraining love of God through Christ which enables us to seek their salvation is hid from them; and I fear they cannot appreciate it until they realize it for themselves.

The old story which is always new.

In times past our preaching was confined to the lower orders of the people, but now the higher classes are also accessible, and are being influenced by the power of the truth. I am thankful to be able to report that large numbers of Mohammedans hear us without much cavilling and contention. They receive our books, and read them with pleasure. Some of them come to the mission-house for religious discussion and conversation. This may not be considered sufficiently encouraging in the eyes of those who judge of the Mission-work by tangible results; but it is my honest conviction that the Spirit of God is striving in their bigoted hearts, which must eventually yield to the beautifying power of Christ's religion.

SOUTH INDIA MISSION.

MADRAS, commenced, 1814; TINNEVELLY, 1820; TELUGU MISSION, 1841.

THE Diocese of Madras, which is co-extensive with the Madras Presidency, comprises an area of 140,430 square miles (about the size of Norway), and a population of 31,170,631. Of these, two-fifths speak Tamil, and two-fifths Telugu; the remaining fifth speaking Malayálam, Canarese, Hindustani, Uriya, and various hill dialects. The protected states, of which Travancore is the largest, are not included in these figures. The Society's South India Mission embraces (1) Madras; (2) the Telugu country, which stretches from Madras northwards for 500 miles; and (3) Tinnevelly, at the extreme south-eastern point of the peninsula. In the first and third the common language is Tamil, in the second it is, of course, Telugu.

I. MADRAS.

Madras, 1814; Ootacamund, 1870.

THE Rev. E. Sell, B.D., came home on furlough in March, in time to minister to his dear wife during her last weeks of suffering. The Committee deeply sympathize with him in the loss he has experienced by her death. The Rev. W. G. Peel has succeeded temporarily to his duties as Secretary of the Madras Corresponding Committee. The Rev. H. D. Goldsmith has the Divinity School, and also renders assistance to his brother, the Rev. M. G. Goldsmith, who conducts the Harris School and Mohammedan Mission. Mrs. Vickers carries on Zenana work in Black Town. The Rev. W. T. Satthianádhan is Chairman of the Madras Native Church Council, and also Pastor of the Southern Pastorate; the Rev. S. Paul had charge of the Northern Pastorate until November last, when he was transferred to North Tinnevelly; the Rev. T. Ephraim is at Pulicat; the Rev. D. A. Peter at Punamalli; and the Rev. M. Nallatambi is pastor of Ootacamund.

The Winter Mission at Madras.

The Winter Mission in Madras was conducted by the Rev. H. E. Fox and Mr. Swann Hurrell. A meeting of Native Church workers was held on Wednesday, November 23rd; and the following day, by the kind invitation of Bishop Gell, the members of the Madras Missionary Conference, a body including missionaries of all denominations, assembled at the Bishop's house to meet the Mission preachers. The Revs. G. Karney and B. Baring-Gould were also present at these preliminary meetings. The Mission services commenced on Advent Sunday, November 27th, and continued until Wednesday, December 18th, between which dates, besides addresses to schools, Bible-classes, students, and private social gatherings, sixty-three services and meetings were held. For the first ten days the services were conducted, with a few exceptions, in Zion Church and in the Mission Chapel, Black Town. The Rev. W. T. Satthianádhan wrote of the former:—

Two miles through pouring rain to attend the services.

Notwithstanding the very wet weather, the attendance was remarkably good. The church, which could hold between 350 and 400, was nearly full, and the evening service more so than the morning. There was a sprinkling of European and other Christians at every service, but the bulk of the congregation were members of Zion Church itself. The evening on which the last service of praise was held was thoroughly wet. It was pouring in such torrents for three or four hours, without intermission, that all the streets were completely flooded. It was naturally feared that the attendance would be very poor, but, to our great surprise, it was nearly as large as usual. A good number came from a distance of two miles, and in some cases quite drenched, but the interest created was so deep and real that they braved the weather in order to enjoy the benefit of the last service of praise in their own church.

The attention of the people was equally marked. Every word uttered by the preacher seemed to be drunk in. There was not a careless or indifferent listener. Even those who were in Government service, and who were obliged to be very punctual in attending their offices, were most regular in attending every service. Both young and old, high and low, rich and poor, appeared to enjoy the spiritual banquet spread out before them for so many days.

A Native clergyman's opinion of the preaching.

The Gospel of the Grace of God has been preached in its fulness, sweetness, and power. The three R's of the Gospel plan of salvation, viz. the Ruin, Redemption, and Regeneration, have been set forth with a vividness and force which could not fail to arouse the sinner and charm the believer. Now the sinner was led to Sinai to behold the terrors of God's broken Law; and now to Calvary to see the amazing sight of the Lamb of God bearing the burden of sin and perfecting His redemptive work; and now to behold the work of the Holy Spirit applying the blood of the everlasting covenant to the heart of the believer and sealing him to the day of redemption. And all this in simple but powerful language, interspersed with apt illustrations and interesting anecdotes. A good deal was lost in the interpretation, which at best must be imperfect. And yet the earnestness and unction with which the appeals were directed to the hearts and consciences of the hearers were such that every one present could not but feel that the message was sent direct from Heaven itself.

No excitement.

On the results of the Mission it is impossible to speak at present. The "Day" alone will fully declare it. There was no excitement or outward manifestation of feeling or sentiment. It was something deeper than all this. It was like lifting the whole congregation into a higher plane or atmosphere.

Theological Class.

There are six students in the Theological Class, under the Rev. H. D. Goldsmith. Two left the class last year, one to be travelling inspecting schoolmaster and evangelist at Palamcottah, the other to join the Tinnevelly Itinerancy, under the Rev. T. Walker. On the other hand, there were three new students. Of these, one is the eldest son of the Rev. W. T. Satthianádhan; another is a Telugu student from Ellore; and the third is J. S. Peter, B.A., son of the Rev. P. Peter, of the Tamil Cooly Mission in Ceylon. Three students were presented as candidates at the Oxford and Cambridge Preliminary Examination last Easter.

A student obtains the first Greek Testament prize in the Presidency.

G. H. Asirvathan, the student who obtained the Bishop's second prize for Greek Testament last year, has this year succeeded in carrying off the first prize in the Presidency. Hebrew has been added to the subjects of study.

The two branches of the Mohammedan Mission, educational and evangelistic, have been zealously worked by the Rev. M. G. Goldsmith. The Harris School has now 188 boys. Mr. Goldsmith says:—

> We have had much the same unruly elements as usual to deal with. Boys show their faithfulness to Islam from time to time, by ill-treating their Bibles! We have had threats of another Fatva (or decree) against us, but all has passed on fairly smoothly. The occasion for this threat of a "Fatva" was the circulation of an excellent Tamil (not Hindustani) tract for Mohammedans, which is a translation from a Bengali tract on the Fatiha or First Chapter of the Quran. I have done what I could to put this tract into the hands of Tamil-speaking Mohammedans, and it is a hopeful sign of its power that they resent it in the way they do.

Fears excited by a tract.

Mohammedan opposition.

This vigilance of the Moslems, and disposition to hinder, has been still more marked against the Hindustani evangelistic work. Indeed, not only at the Triplicane rice-shop, where the preaching is addressed to them directly, but in every part of the city, wherever Christian preaching has been carried on, the Moslems have engaged men to drive listeners away and to revile the Gospel. A complaint to the police by Mr. Goldsmith led them to arrange that each party should have the preaching-place three days of the week. The Hindus have scarcely at all availed themselves of the privilege, and the Gospel has since been proclaimed with little interruption.

Mr. Goldsmith again last year improved the school holidays by visiting other Missions. In May and June he went to Shimoga, in the Mysore Province, by the invitation of a Wesleyan missionary. A little later he visited the "Faith Mission" at Panruti, under the charge of Miss Reade. And in September he went to Secunderabad and Hydrabad. In each of these districts a considerable Mohammedan population is found, for whom scarcely anything is being attempted. In the city of Hydrabad, of the 400,000 inhabitants, 180,000 are Moslems, and Mr. Goldsmith presents an argument, the unexpressed conclusion of which is unmistakable, but the fulfilment of which is far more difficult than its application. He says:—

Moslems in Hydrabad.

The C.M.S. has its Mission at Aurangabad on the west, and is doing something on the south-east, but between these lie wide and unoccupied parts, even after allowing for the towns occupied by the Wesleyan and Baptist Missions. The Nizam's Government seems to offer no hindrance, but rather encouragement, at any rate for all efforts for the Hindu population, and a Mission for the Mohammedans might expect great success. Hydrabad Mohammedans are far less fettered by custom and prejudice than our Madras people. They are admirers of European progress, make it their ambition to learn English, and send their sons, when possible, to European schools, or even to England. One nobleman, by whose side I sat at luncheon in the Nizam's Palace, had one son at Oxford, and another in London, preparing for Cambridge. On the other hand, in Madras, the leading Mohammedan teachers are still bitterly opposed to the study of English at all, and a maulavi recently tore up the English books which a young relative of his was reading, who was a student in a Mission school. Here, therefore, our Mohammedan boys read English under difficulties, and with little sympathy from any but their parents, who mostly have come to see that an English education is the necessary process before Government employment. In Hydrabad the greater part of the higher education will, probably, be always in the hands of its enlightened Government; but village schools and, above all, evangelistic work, ought to be taken up by the Christian Church. I should add that the S.P.G has a small and strictly Tamil Mission in Secunderabad, with no intention of reaching the Mohammedans: nor has the sister society (S.P.G.) anywhere in South India, so far as I know, undertaken Hindustani. The C.M.S. is supposed, by the other societies, to take most interest in the lost sheep of the house of Ishmael.

The C.M.S. and the lost sheep of the house of Ishmael Former converts.

Mr. Goldsmith gives some account of former converts. Abdul Qadir Masihi (see Annual Report for 1884-5, page 142), is employed in the Government press, and has married the daughter of a Wesleyan Tamil catechist. He has given anxiety by his carelessness and improvidence. Abdur Ruhman Masihi has obtained a good place as evangelist under the Wesleyan missionary at Shimoga, and is giving satisfaction. Abdul Haqq has a bazaar shop. Though frequently assailed by Mohammedans, he has stood firm. (For both these see Annual Report for 1886-7, page 149.)

In her Zenana Work Mrs. Vickers has the assistance of two Bible-women. There are nine Zenana pupils under instruction in the north of Black Town, six in the central part, and six in the south, all of whom are regularly visited several times in the week. Mrs. Vickers says :— Work among women.

I have families from seven different castes—Brahmin, Chetty, Kavari, Muthaliar, Naido, shepherd, and, lowest of all, the toddy-seller caste, who, they tell me, are Shanars. It is rather a new thing for the lower divisions of Sudras to care about the girls learning anything after they leave school; they are mostly poor, and in the southern part of Black Town have hardly been visited at all hitherto.

There certainly seems less opposition to Christianity than there used to be, and I hope it is getting to be less considered as the religion of the Europeans only. The greatest opposition seems to come from the men educated in the Government schools, with whom it seems considered to be "the thing" to revile it.

I lend books to the English-speaking youths whom I meet, and they are nearly always read. I sell some of A. L. O. E.'s tales in Tamil; also Mrs. Satthianadhan's Good Mother, and Mr. Paul's handbills and small books, which are much appreciated.

The Rev. S. John's work among the Educated Hindus has met with considerable opposition. The "Preaching Hall," opened in the midst of the Hindu population of Black Town, has excited their alarm. After vainly trying to persuade the owner to deprive Mr. John of its use and to let it to them at a higher rent, the opponents have attended the meetings to dispute, and finally have resorted to abuse and molestation in the streets, even pelting Mr. John and his fellow-labourers with sand and stones. Mr. John draws the following inferences :—

From the above, it is clearly manifest that the patient, unwearied as well as hazardous, labours of Christian evangelists and preachers in this city of Madras in particular, have at least driven Hindus from their wonted slumber and lethargy to a sense of their danger. They seem to feel now, more than ever, that the citadel of their long-venerated religion is assailed on all sides, and that they should do all that they can to prevent the enemy from entering in, or, in other words, Christianity from gaining ground. Decidedly, "there is a shaking among the dry bones," and may God, whose power is omnipotent, and whose wisdom is infinite, so overrule this shaking among the dry bones, that it may become subservient to the rapid spread of Christianity by the conversion of many valuable souls in this great idolatrous city! Active hostility of Hindus.

There is not the slightest doubt that many are not only silently assenting to, but also hold in reverence, the wholesome truths of Christianity. Notwithstanding, objections are raised often against the cardinal doctrines of Christianity, such as the doctrine of the Trinity, the divinity of our Lord, the efficacy of the Atonement, &c., yet the great fact that Christianity neither tolerates nor even connives at anything sinful, is becoming more and more understood, both by the educated and uneducated Hindus of this city.

The pastorates.

Though referred to last in this Report, the work of the several pastorates of the Native Church Council is by no means regarded by the Committee as of secondary importance. The last report which the Committee have received is the one for 1886. There were then 1748 baptized Christians and 864 communicants connected with the four pastorates; 61 adults were baptized during the year, and Rs. 2315 contributed to the Council funds. There was an average daily attendance of 1312 children in 28 schools, for whom Rs. 2476 was paid in school fees, and Rs. 1796 was received from Government as result grants. In addition to the four ordained pastors, 95 lay agents were connected with the Council.

Influential Native congregations.

The Southern Pastorate comprises two important congregations, which worship in Zion Church, Chintadrepettah, and John Pereira's church. Socially and intellectually several members occupy high positions. Ten are graduates and upwards of thirty are undergraduates of the Madras University. One is a health officer of the Madras Municipality, and others are engaged in medical and other professions, and in mercantile pursuits. In the twenty years since this pastorate was formed in 1867 the number of adherents has increased from 232 to 599, and the number of communicants from 116 to 295, while the contributions have increased from Rs. 468 to Rs. 1610. One hundred and eight accessions from heathenism have occurred during this period. A middle school, which was started by private enterprise fifteen years since in Chintadrepettah, has been accepted by the Pastorate, and has almost doubled its pupils, while it is nearly self-supporting.

Bidding farewell to a pastor

The pastor of the Northern Pastorate, the Rev. S. Paul, has been transferred to the North Tinnevelly Itinerancy. A very interesting meeting, at which the Archdeacon of Madras presided, was held on October 31st to bid them farewell. Addresses and appropriate gifts were presented by the congregation, the church choir, and the mission agents. In their address the congregation gratefully recognized their pastor's godly example, the ability of his pulpit ministrations, the value of his literary labours, and the zeal and sympathy of his personal intercourse. And they added,—

"You have done your best to make us love the noble Church to which we have the honour to belong and understand its principles, and to prevent us from being tossed about by every wind of doctrine."

It is now six years since the Palaveram District was placed under the Council, and during that time the amount of contributions has more than quadrupled.

Mr. Satthianádhan, in his interesting Annual Letter to the Committee, refers to a revival of Hinduism which is manifesting itself in the restoration of temples at an immense cost, in ceremonies and festivals in connexion with long-deserted shrines, and in aggressive efforts. Of the last he says :—

A Hindu Tract Society.

In Madras, an association has been formed called The "Hindu Tract Society," which, in imitation of the Religious Book and Tract Society, print and circulate far and wide at a trifling cost, pamphlets, tracts, and leaflets, but all teeming with virulent attacks against Christianity. With a view of demolishing it, the following suggestions are given in a Tamil leaflet entitled "Unity among the Hindus."

Hindu proposals with a view to arresting spread of Christianity.

"To prevent our children from attending Mission schools let us start schools of our own, and along with other subjects teach them our own religion through our own teachers; let us print small tracts in different languages, and circulate them gratis through the length and breadth of India; let us open workshops as in England, and provide work for the poor, and thus prevent them from becoming Christians through sheer poverty; let us avoid internal dissensions and present a united front against Christianity. Let us by physical exercise become strong and brave like our forefathers; let us curtail expenses connected with our temples and family festivities for the purpose of spreading our religion. In some villages the temples have been closed from the fact of the people having as a body become Christians, how meritorious would it be then if we expend all our money and prevent people from becoming Christians!"

Papers containing such statements are disseminated far and wide, and read with great avidity; and in addition to this, efforts are made to propagate Hinduism. A band of preachers is often met with in bazaars and thoroughfares, not simply to commend their own religion, but to ridicule Christianity before large and sympathetic audiences. Some of these so-called preachers belong to Chintadrepetta, and one man especially, who is eminent neither for learning nor wealth, takes a very active part in the movement, and collects money from Native officials and others for this purpose. These Hindu preachers often obstruct Christian preachers and sometimes treat them with violence.

Religious activity of Native Christians

On the other hand, there is no lack of religious activity among the Native Christians. Mr. Satthianádhan proceeds :—

Messenger of Truth.

An Anglo-Vernacular paper has recently been started, called the Messenger of Truth, through which an effort is made by Christian preachers, European and Native, to counteract the influence of the publications of the Hindu Tract Society. This monthly paper, priced at one pie, is circulated very extensively, both among Christians and non-Christians.

Tamil Christian Congress.

As the result of a proposal from the Madras Missionary Conference, a Tamil Christian Congress, representing almost all the missionary societies labouring in Madras, was held in the Memorial Hall in January last. It lasted a week, and all the meetings, both morning and evening, were largely attended, and addresses were given by several missionaries and pastors in Madras and in the Mofussil, all of which were calculated to produce a lasting impression on the minds of the people. Open-air evangelistic services were also carried on in different parts of Madras by a large band of preachers, many of whom were volunteers. It appeared as though we were going to storm the enemy's fort and carry it by force. As the result of this Congress, a monthly prayer-meeting has been regularly held in the Memorial Hall for the benefit of the Tamil Christians. A similar Congress will be held about the end of this month. The organized opposition on the part of the heathen referred to above is, in some measure, due to the great demonstration made by the Tamil Christians during the last Congress.

Mr. Satthianádhan also refers to a meeting of the "Indian National Congress," which was held in Madras last December. The gathering was a political one, promoted with the object of securing for Indians a larger share in the legislation and administration of India. But Mr. Satthianádhan was especially struck by the fact that of the 700 delegates from different parts of the Empire, 40 were Protestant Christians and Christian ministers who had been deputed mainly by non-Christians to represent them at the Congress. The Madras Native Churches took advantage of the presence of so many Christians from a distance to deliberate on the formation of an "Indian Christian Conference." Mr. Satthianádhan presided at two of the meetings.

Success of Christian candidates at Madras University

The growing intelligence of the Native Christian community was attested, as mentioned in an issue of the Madras Mail, by the fact that while the percentage of Brahmin candidates who passed at a recent examination of the Madras University was thirty-six, thirty-seven per cent. of the Christian candidates were successful. The same paper makes another interesting statement, viz. that of Hindus the proportion of criminals to the population of South India is 1 in 447 ; of Mohammedans it is 1 in 728 ; of Christians it is 1 in 2500.

OOTACAMUND.

The Committee have again to express regret that no Annual Letter has been received from the Rev. M. Nallathambi, the Native pastor of Ootacamund. At the close of 1886 there were 451 Native Christians connected with the congregation, and 13 adults had been baptized during the year. Mr. Nallathambi has a Bible-class attended by twenty boys, a weekly prayer-meeting is held in the Hobart School, open-air preaching is regularly conducted, and temperance meetings are held from time to time. One of the catechists visits servants in European households. At Coonoor a catechist ministers to about 110 Christians, and two adults were baptized during 1886. Services are held on alternate Sundays at Devallah and Gudalore, on the Wy-naad plateau, by a catechist. At the latter place the erection of a church was completed in 1886, and Bishop Gell confirmed ten Native Christians.

The Revs. G. Karney and B. Baring-Gould visited this station on their way from Madras to Travancore, and Advent Sunday was spent here. Mr. Karney wrote :—

First experience of preaching by interpretation.

We are now quite in a cold climate, 7150 feet above sea-level. Yesterday, Advent Sunday, was an eventful day. I had my first experience of interpretation on a large scale. I preached at the Tamil church in the morning, the pastor interpreting. I shall never forget it. God helped me. All my fears were gone, the interpretation rather helped than hindered my words. The effect was very solemn. In the afternoon I addressed all the workers, also by interpretation. In the evening I preached at the English church.

II.—TELUGU MISSION.

Masulipatam, 1841; Ellore, 1854; Bêzwâda, 1858; Koi Mission (Dummagûdem), 1860; Râghavapuram, 1872; Kummamett, 1888.

The Rev. W. G. Peel has been transferred temporarily to Madras during Mr. Sell's furlough. The Rev. and Mrs. H. W. Eales, and Mrs. Stone, returned to the Mission last autumn; and the Revs. L. W. Jackson, B.A., of Durham University, late Curate of St. Paul's, Maidstone, and H. J. Tanner, B.A., of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, late Curate of St. James's, Hereford, joined the Mission, the former for work among the Kois, and the latter to be the Rugby Fox Master of the Noble School, Masulipatam. Mr. Tanner is the younger son of the Rev. Charles Tanner, of Gosport, who was for nearly twenty years a valued missionary of the Society in the Telugu Mission.

MASULIPATAM.

The Rev. C. W. A. Clarke and H. J. Tanner are the Principal and Rugby Fox Master respectively of the Noble

High School; the Rev. E. T. Pegg conducts the Training Institution, and the Rev. J. Stone has temporary charge of the work in the Masulipatam district. The Committee have not received reports of the past year's work from any of these brethren.

The Poole Memorial Hall, which has been built in memory of the late Bishop Poole, was opened on November 23rd. It provides a Book Depôt, Reading-room, and Library, with the special object of putting wholesome English literature within reach of the educated Natives. It has been entirely built by voluntary donations.

Too few Rugbeians have as yet followed the example of Henry Fox in giving themselves to the foreign mission-field, but the Committee observe with thankfulness that the interest taken in the Noble High School by Rugby boys, both old and present, shows no signs of abatement.

The Rugby Fox Memorial Fund.

The Rugby Fox Memorial Fund, of which the Rev. J. Sharp, Secretary of the Bible Society, is the Secretary, since its commencement has raised a sum amounting to 9205*l.* 17*s.*; and the receipts for last year were the largest recorded since the special figures of the first year.

From Sunday, January 29th, to Sunday, February 14th, the Rev. H. E. Fox and Mr. Swann Hurrell held a succession of services and meetings in St. Mary's Church, the Noble College, and the Sharkey Memorial School. To Mr. Fox, returning to the place of his birth, and to the scene of his honoured father's labours, it was a visit of peculiar interest and solemnity.

The Rev. H. E. Fox at Masulipatam.

He wrote:—

> It is not easy to describe the feeling with which I write this name [Masulipatam] at the head of my journal. To come back after so many years to one's birthplace, to be sitting in the very house where my father lived, to be working, however unworthily, in the scene of his labours, to be shown the house where Noble died, to see the honoured graves of himself and others who laboured with him; all this is an experience not to be expressed in words. I am greatly humbled as I reflect on the mercy and honour which God has shown in bringing me hither.
> We began our work by a united prayer-meeting in the schoolroom near the church. The attendance was good, but scarcely one-third of those present understood English. The address was therefore interpreted, and I gave subjects for prayer, after which some prayers were offered in English and Telugu, and we had a hymn in each language. Next day a united Communion service was held in the church. The language used was Telugu, but almost all the Europeans present could follow it sufficiently, and very pleasant it was to see Christians meeting together and kneeling at the table of the Lord without the least distinction of race, language, or caste; English and Indian,

Brahmin and Pariah. It was a very visible witness of the true communion of saints.

BEZWADA AND ELLORE.

These districts are under the charge of the Rev. F. W. N. Alexander; Mr. M. Browne, assisted by the Rev. G. Krishnayya, has charge of the Ellore High School; the Rev. S. Vores superintends the work in the Polsanapilli district; and the Rev. K. Peter has the Peddapada pastorate under the Native Church Council, residing at Nayadugudem, eight miles from Ellore, where the most important congregation is. Mr. Alexander's family removed last year from Bezwada to their old house in Ellore, whereby a good accession of lady workers was gained to the latter city. A Boarding-school is conducted by Mrs. Alexander and one of her daughters, and a Caste Girls' School by another daughter. Miss Digby, a lady from Australia, sent out by the Rev. H. B. Macartney, of Melbourne, carries on Zenana work with Mrs. Chapman of the C.E.Z.M.S., and Mrs. Brown attends to the education of Mohammedan girls.

Numerous inquirers in Ellore district.

In the ELLORE district 206 persons were baptized last year, of whom ninety-seven were adults. The number of adherents is now 2296. There has been a large addition to the number of inquirers, especially in and around Ellore. Over 300 have been enrolled in four Mala villages, and other villages are only waiting for teachers. There is also great encouragement in the more distant itinerancies. The difficulty is to supply the needed teachers and evangelists. There has been shown a diminution of prejudice on the part of the caste people, who have sent their children to the Mission schools under Mala teachers.

The Special Mission commenced at Ellore on January 12th, Mr. Fox taking the work among the Native agents, the congregation, and the schools for the higher class of Hindus, and Mr. Hurrell working mainly among the educated non-Christian Natives, comprising Government officials, professional men, &c., and in the Mohammedan and High Schools. After five days spent in Ellore, three out-stations were visited by Mr. Fox. At one of these—Peddapada—the Church Council had decided to remove their teacher, in order to send him to a new post, where more inquirers are coming in, and Mr. Fox wrote:—

Villagers pleading for a teacher.

It was painful to hear the pleading of these poor villagers for another teacher, who cannot as yet be spared them. It is the old story—work crippled for want of funds. It was in vain that I urged them to try and do something for themselves. "You must not always be children," I said. "You would not like to carry your own little ones always in your arms; they are growing older and stronger every day, so must you as Christians." "Alas," they replied, "but we are lame, and cannot walk alone!" I fear it is in some measure true. None among them can read; and though they have a nice little prayer-house, which they keep very clean and tidy, there will be no one to take the Sunday duty, or service, or to teach them. It is a sad case, but, I fear, a common one. Fresh openings are coming so fast that the ground behind is weakened in trying to take them up. Yet it is very hard, any way, to refuse. When will English Christians give as they ought? I wish our people could have heard these poor villagers to-day! They followed us for a mile or two on our way home, and the whole burden of their talk was, "Send us another teacher."

When will English Christians give as they ought?

Polsanapilli was another of these village centres, and Mr. Fox's words must again be quoted:—

Walking twenty-four miles to the Mission services.

We had a service for the agents first, and then one later for the whole body of Christians. Some of them had walked ten or twelve miles, and one party had come twenty-four on foot, in order to be present. There were about a hundred, very attentive and well behaved, all poor people, some extremely so, and their skinny limbs and sharp ribs seemed to prove their poverty. Several heathen boys came to this service, behaving perfectly. I was especially interested in one of them, a nice-looking Brahmin of twelve, who has passed the highest standard in the village school, and was very anxious to continue his education; but his father is dead, his mother has nothing, and they both live on charity. I was so pleased with him that I asked if he would go to the Ellore High School if his fees were paid. He seemed glad to accept the offer; and as he had no better way of thanking me, said, "Good morning!" half a dozen times over, in addition to his salaam. I pray God he may find the Saviour.

Mr. Alexander translated for Mr. Fox, and Mr. Krishnayya for Mr. Hurrell. Mr. Alexander wrote:—

Language difficulty not felt.

I do not think the language difficulty was at all felt. The English speaker, by giving short sentences, allowed the interpreter easily to follow very rapidly, and the people showed by their attention how much they were interested.

A bazaar preaching conducted by Mr. Hurrell.

At Bezwada Mr. Hurrell gave the agents a lecture on open-air preaching, and followed it by conducting a bazaar-meeting which Mr. Alexander describes as "a great success."

He marshalled a band of preachers, about twenty in number, and marched into the bazaar. He and I walked in front, and the remainder walked by threes, singing lyrics. Very soon we gathered a notable crowd. It was perfectly quiet and respectful, not one cry was raised, and when the procession wheeled into a semicircle, one preacher after another was heard with marked attention. Several marches forward were made, and wherever we went the same look of astonishment was on every face. I look upon the demonstration as being a marked success, and I will not fail to carry it out on other occasions, as opportunity offers.

RAGHAVAPURAM.

The charge of this extensive district, with its eighty-two villages, containing Christians or inquirers, has rested upon the Rev. J. B. Panes. He justly remarks upon the undermanned state of the district, especially since the death of the Native pastor in January last year. Mr. Panes has now been transferred to Kummamett, a new station in the Nizam's territory, about forty-eight miles from Raghavapuram, and twenty from the English frontier. It is one of the main centres through which the Nizam's state railway, now being constructed between Hyderabad and Bezwada, passes. Mr. Panes will superintend from this station a contiguous portion of the Raghavapuram district, and thus, while breaking up fresh ground, will also lighten the labours of his successor at the latter station, the Rev. H. W. Eales. The past year has been one of great encouragement at Raghavapuram. 125 adults have been added to the Visible Church; and there has been a marked advance in the spirit of self-help on the part of the Christians, their contributions having increased from Rs. 817 to Rs. 1105. Mr. Panes says of this and of the missionary zeal of some :—.

A new station in the Nizam's territory.

Accessions at Raghavapuram.

> Each centre has contributed its share, but the increase in the Raghavapuram pastorate has been most marked. There is a growing desire to help in the matter of building prayer-houses, and providing church furniture. In one congregation the people have subscribed Rs. 45 towards improving their prayer-house, which is a good sum, when we remember that they are all either day-labourers or weavers. Another element which tended to make the increase during the last year was the liberal thank-offerings given by the people as a thanksgiving for deliverance from the cattle plague, by which, through the providence of God, though it raged very fiercely all around, they suffered but little. In connexion with self-help, we may also mention the fact that not only as regards giving money, but also in direct evangelistic work, we have received no small help from private Christians. The increase in the number of catechumens is, I know in many instances, due to private effort. Two men I know, in particular, who have spent a great part of their time in preaching to their fellow-men all over the country, and that without any pecuniary help from the Mission.

Spirit of self-help.

Mr. Swann Hurrell spent twenty days, from December 21st to January 10th, in this district. The first six days he was at Raghavapuram, and held three services daily, upwards of 300 being present at each service. The next five days he spent at Jaggipett. Thence he went to Gopavaram, where is the largest congregation in the Nizam's territory. There most encouraging meetings were held for three days. The last three days, at Raghavapuram, were especially for the agents, and proved very refreshing and helpful.

DUMMAGUDEM.

Helpers from Australia.

The Rev. J. Cain has been much cheered by an increase to the staff of European labourers. First, two from Australia, Mr. Tabor Davies, M.A., Mrs. Cain's brother, and Mrs. B. Dowling, an honorary missionary; and a little later, the Rev. L. W. Jackson from England. Mrs. Dowling is a very old friend of Mrs. Cain. Mr. Cain says of her :—

> Mrs. Dowling's daughter long wished to join my wife in her work in Ellore, 1875—80, but a severe illness hindered it, and this year a return of her complaint carried her off. Her mother then felt that she could not do better than devote the rest of her life, if possible, to work for the Lord in India, and the help of kind friends made the way very clear, and so she is now in our midst.

Another fact, interesting in itself, and also showing that the interest taken in Australia in the Society's Missions is not confined to Victoria and New South Wales, where it has been most cultivated, is given by Mr. Cain :—

Kanaka boys in Queensland supporting a scholar at Dummagudem.

> A kind friend in Queensland who labours hard among the Kanaka boys on their plantation, and has been blessed by seeing some of them turn to the Lord, suggested to these Christian converts that they should help us in India, and so they have guaranteed to support a lad in our boarding-school, a fresh instance of how the love of Christ unites together in love races far removed from one another.

Quiet growth has characterized the work around Dummagudem; growth in grace, as well as numerical increase. In March last year a young Sudra and his wife were baptized. He had formerly been a pupil in the High School at Ellore. Mr. Cain says of him :—

A Sudra convert.

> While at school he carefully studied the Scriptures, but was always greatly troubled with doubts, so much so that after I had talked with him at different times, 1883-5, I feared that these were only excuses to justify his non-reception of the Gospel. At the beginning of 1886, a Brahman convert and Mala convert came here on a visit from the Lower District, and before long had several conversations with the young man, and at last God drove home some words spoken by the Christian of lower origin, and the young man saw it to be his clear duty to confess Christ before men. As we were just leaving for our cold-season tour I postponed his baptism until our return, and this gave the Rev. I. V. Razu Garu opportunity to instruct him still further and to test his earnestness. He was sorely tried by his father-in-law and many respectable people in Dummagu-dem, who did their best to hinder him enlisting in Christ's army; but all in vain, and soon after our return early in March, he and his wife boldly confessed Christ in the presence of a large congregation. His wife is indeed a true helpmeet to him, the grace of God is very evident in her life, and we can thankfully say that they are both fellow-heirs in the household of God. This event created quite a stir in Dummagudem, and was thus another call to those who have not accepted Christ, and the call is still being repeated, as the young man is a most zealous evangelist and highly respected by all.

A Christian forest guard.

Some of the Koi Christians are giving much encouragement. One, a young man who has been appointed a forest guard, and has therefore to travel through a number of villages, uses every opportunity to preach the Gospel to his fellow-tribesmen, and reports that they hear him with joy. Another is a teacher at Nallapalli, and has the largest attendance of Koi children, Mr. Cain says, "of any school ever in existence." These children are all regular attendants at church, and Mr. Fox was much struck with the way they all repeated the Apostles' Creed and listened to his sermon.

It is probable that Mr. Jackson will in due time take up his abode at Mokpál, from which the Tinnevelly catechist who succeeded the experienced Suviséshamuttu has been obliged to retire.

Special Mission.

Mr. Cain sent an interesting report of the special services held by the Rev. H. E. Fox Much prayer had been offered up in the public services and the homes of the Christians, and a pamphlet containing many questions for self-examination and texts calling to repentance had been widely circulated. Mr. Cain wrote:—

"Piercing words."

During his stay here Mr. Fox delivered thirteen addresses in Dummagudem, two in Nallapalli, and three in Injeram on his way down the river. The morning addresses were chiefly to the agents, and the evening ones more general, but the attendances at all were remarkably good. The addresses were admirably suited to the people, both in form and matter, and the earnest way in which all, old and young, gave heed to the things spoken, cheered our hearts and solemnly impressed us. All could not help but feel that "the Lord is in this place." It was easy (the Lord made it easy) to render into simple Telugu the preacher's short, crisp sentences, with their pointed appeals and most apt illustrations; and the faces of the hearers showed that the words went home. The touching prayers which followed gathered up the main points of each address, and the tender pleading showed that the various teachers had grasped the truths set forth, and on one occasion the hearts of all were stirred deeply when the young man who was offering prayer almost broke down in his confession of sin. Men who have been Christians for years, and those who have only lately come into the fold, exclaimed, "His words pierce us. He speaks as if he knows the secrets of our hearts." Children who had been at the Nallapalli services were heard telling their less-favoured friends the anecdotes they had heard, and leading Christian teachers declared, "We have learned things we never knew before on points we have often preached on." Two illiterate Koi Christians, who were at work in our compound, voluntarily worked during the greater part of their dinner-hour, that they might attend the afternoon addresses, and N. Lingayya from Bejjikavada was in tears when the services came to a close, and he re-echoed the wish that there were to be thirty addresses instead of thirteen. On the Sunday, at Nallapalli, people came in from Jumelagudem, Limekiln, and Kantepalli; so there were not less than 160 present, all of whom were most attentive.

Working during dinner-hour in order to attend the services.

The last service in Dummagudem was a very solemn one, and after the address we gathered around the Table of our Lord, and felt Him to be very present indeed, and could not help but look forward to the time when we shall gather around our Lord's Feast above. After the service the Native Christians presented Mr. Fox with a brief letter of thanks, pointing out how the addresses had been most suitable to them, and praising the Lord for putting it into the hearts of Christian friends at home to plan and send forth the Mission.

III. TINNEVELLY.

The Mission is divided into ten districts, each with a Church Council, viz. 1, Palamcotta; 2, Dohnavúr; 3, Suviséshapuram; 4, Mengnánapuram; 5, Paneivilei; 6, Pannikulam; 7, Nallúr; 8, Surandei; 9, Vageikulam; 10, Strivilliputtur; the last two being in North Tinnevelly.

Bishop Sargent.

The Committee have had the pleasure and privilege of cordially welcoming Bishop Sargent to England once more. He had planned a tour to China and Japan, his health requiring a change of climate, but, the Committee having sent him a cordial invitation to come to England, he resolved to seek the needed rest at home, if after fifty-two years of missionary service the land of his birth can claim in any sense that title.

The staff of European missionaries has been reinforced by the return of the Rev. T. Kember, who has resumed his former charge of the Training Institution and Theological Class at Palamcottah, and by the accession of two new labourers, the Rev. Edmund S. Carr, B.A., of Trinity College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, and Mr. R. F. Ardell, a schoolmaster from Belfast. The last-named has been sent out to assist in the Tinnevelly College. The Rev. V. W. Harcourt continues in charge of the Sarah Tucker Institution; the Rev. H. J. Schaffter is Principal of the Tinnevelly College; the Rev. T. Walker conducts the South Tamil Itinerancy; Mr. E. Keyworth has charge of the Palamcottah High School; and the Rev. A. K. Finnimore is Itinerating Missionary in North Tinnevelly, and Chairman of the Native Church Council for that district.

The Rev. S. Satthianádhan, Native pastor of Nallur, died in September last.

Mr. Keyworth writes gratefully of the hearty co-operation of teachers and students with himself in the Training Institution during his temporary charge of it. There were thirty-five students under training. The Training Institution.

Mr. Harcourt has the onerous burden not only of carrying on the Sarah Tucker Institution with 180 girls, three boarding-schools with eighty-five girls, and forty-two Hindu caste branch schools with 1069 girls, but also of collecting about 2500*l.* annually, the amount necessary for carrying on these extensive establishments. The strain, severe before, has been intensified by the sudden and heavy diminution of the Government grants. The importance and value of the work every year's report fully proves. Mr. Harcourt writes:— Sarah Tucker Institution.

As for the work, I am thankful to say it has been blessed of God. The Sarah Tucker Institution girls pray by themselves, and I do believe the schoolmasters and mistresses, many of them, work as unto the Lord; no scandals all the year, no sickness, no quarrels; but to Him be all the praise!

Of the secular part, the Government Inspectress concluded her last report with these encouraging words (para. 17):—"This Institution seems to me to be in an extremely flourishing condition, and to be more fully efficient every year." "More efficient every year."

The Governor of Madras visited us a few weeks ago, and we "garlanded" and "addressed" him, and he spoke kindly to us and the girls. They, the latter, looked so pretty and intelligent, because they are not the least afraid. They are so natural, as a lady said who visited the Institution from England. And the Metropolitan has also just paid us a visit, and at the same time Bishop Caldwell was staying with us, and with Bishop Sargent, who gave us a very fitting Tamil address. We were quite grand: three Bishops all at once! Visited by three Bishops.

We told Bishop Johnson all about our troubles for funds, and he said he thought it was a good sign. It showed expansion and progress. But as I tell the parents of our girls when they plead hard for a reduction of fees (we now charge two rupees per month for each girl), what with reduction on one side and their complaints on the other, my hair is turning grey with care.

No report of the High School, Tinnevelly Town, has been received, but Mr. Schaffter wrote an interesting letter in January, in which he said:—

We are having much encouragement in our work here. A young Brahmin, who was noted in my Matriculation class last year as a bitter opponent, and was always stirring up opposition and controversy, both in the Scripture-hour and in street-preaching, was bap- A young Brahmin convert.

tized yesterday, and fills our hearts with thankfulness for the grace that has been given him. But what we rejoice over even more than his baptism is the influence that he has exerted over other heathen in the town. He has led several to Christ; one is a rich Vellala in the town, studying in the highest class of the Hindu College, and the knowledge, faith, and love he shows fills us with joy. He will shortly be baptized, and there is a band of quite a dozen who are trembling on the brink, who have wished these two god-speed, and say, "We come too, if you stand fast in the faith." Mr. Ardell's coming is a great blessing, especially at this time.

"Trembling on the brink."

Mr. Walker argues, with incontrovertible force, that at the very least there ought to be two missionaries always actively engaged in the Tamil Itinerancy. "Speaking for myself," he says, "I have to record the countless mercies of another year. Physical health and strength, happiness and contentment in my new environment, Christian fellowship and communion, these, and many other 'good and perfect gifts,' have been vouchsafed to me." In spite of the magnitude of the Tinnevelly Native Church, he is impressed with the sad conviction that the "bulk of the population is heathen still, in the most awful meaning of the words." He, with three Native catechists associated with him, has engaged zealously in street-preaching, making large use of musical accompaniments, of lamp-light preachings, and indoor services for the higher castes. The Native clergy have cordially co-operated, accompanying him on preaching tours, and responding to suggestions to hold evangelistic services themselves.

North Tinnevelly District.

Mr. Finnimore reminds the Committee that the North Tinnevelly District includes an area of 1600 square miles, and adherents are found in 235 villages. There are six pastors, but one, the Rev. S. David, being a medical man, his dispensary duties detain him constantly in the town of Siwagasi, where he has a church and schools, and 10,000 heathen to preach to. The other five have therefore a territory of 320 square miles each to work over, and an average of forty-seven villages each, where they have to administer the sacraments. The population of this district is 500,000, among whom the Christians number 5270. Mr. Finnimore has very deeply felt the responsibility of his charge towards these widely scattered congregations, so inadequately shepherded, few able to read, and, in consequence, very ignorant of the saving doctrines and sustaining promises of God's Word. He says:—

Is it to be wondered at if they go astray, stumble, and fall? I am sure there are some who, though they are sinning continually, yet have undoubtedly experienced that change of heart which makes men tractable and teachable. I verily believe that dense ignorance, and not an evil will, is the cause of many of their errors.

Mr. Finnimore's letter was written in November, before the Special Mission, for which he was eagerly looking forward. The Committee are sure that many will read with sympathetic interest his account of the methods he was led to adopt, and that his earnest appeal for prayer will not be neglected.

When Archdeacon Caley left, and I found myself alone, face to face with such work, such a heavy sense of my responsibility came over me that it almost bore me down, and I felt constrained to give myself for some time entirely to prayer. My very inexperience, however, proved to be a source of strength, for, knowing that I had no wisdom of my own, I was not tempted to lean on my own understanding, but cast entirely on Jehovah that which He had given me to bear. I soon recognized the fact that the renewal of the Church's love and faith by the outpouring of the Holy Spirit could alone remedy these evils, and that prayer was the most powerful weapon to wield against them. I am accordingly directing my energies chiefly to one object, namely, the deepening of my own spiritual life and of that of the pastors and other agents. With this view I have preached in the district, and with this view I gather the eight agents resident here at Sacheapuram daily into my study for intercessory prayer, mentioning one pastorate specially each day. I have exhorted each pastor to hold similar meetings in his station, and all the agents in the villages have been asked to do so as frequently as possible. I rejoice to find that in many, if not all places, such meetings are now being held.

Inexperience a source of strength.

I took the opportunity of all the agents gathering here for the Quarterly Church Council in October to hold a series of nine devotional meetings. I trust some good was done; at least, the effect was to give a quieter and more spiritual tone to the proceedings of the Council. I purpose, God willing, always to make this quarterly gathering a time of stirring ourselves up to more love and zeal by meetings for mutual exhortation and prayer. Much of my time is, of course, occupied with the more secular duties of my office, but I make an invariable rule of plain dealing with the soul of each person who comes to me for a business interview.

I will only add an earnest request that all friends of North Tinnevelly will remember us and our needs, and pray that God would pour out His grace upon us, and so shed abroad His love in the hearts of all Christians here that they may be a power in this region of heathenism and darkness, still the abode of 500,000 idolaters.

TRAVANCORE AND COCHIN MISSION.

Allepie, 1816; Cottayam, 1817; Cochin, 1817; Mavelikára, 1839; Trichur, 1842; Pallam, 1845; Tiruwella, 1849; Kunnankulam, 1854; Arrian Mission, 1855; Alwaye Itinerancy, 1881.

THE kingdom of Travancore extends from Cape Comorin northward about 170 miles, and comprises an area of 6730 square miles, with a population of 2,401,158. The smaller kingdom of Cochin, immediately to the north, has an area of 1361 square miles, and a population of 601,114. In these two semi-independent protected states, the Native Christians are more than one-fifth of the entire population, namely about 600,000. A little more than one-tenth of these are Protestants; 40,000 being adherents of the London Missionary Society, which labours among the Tamil-speaking inhabitants of South Travancore, and about 20,000 are connected with the Church Missionary Society, which, with the exception of the C.E.Z.M.S. at Trichur, is the only Protestant Society undertaking work in North Travancore and Cochin.

The Society's Missionaries in this interesting field are, Archdeacon John Caley, who has temporary charge of the Cambridge Nicholson Institution, and also superintends the Alwaye Itinerancy; the Rev. C. A. Neve, Principal of the Cottayam College; the Rev. W. J. Richards, in charge of Allepie and Tiruwella; and the Rev. A. F. Painter, missionary to the Arrians. The Rev. F. Bower has returned to the Mission. The Rev. Cuthbert E. R. Romilly, M.A., of Trinity College, Cambridge, late Curate of St. James' Church, Bermondsey, joined the Mission last autumn, and the Committee have accepted the offer of Mr. Jacob Thompson, of Corpus Christi College, Cambridge, for the Cambridge Nicholson Institution. He will go out, God willing, next autumn. Miss Baker has come to England on furlough; and Mr. Richards has also come home to bring Mrs. Richards, he himself hoping to return in a few months. The Committee have had the privilege of welcoming Bishop Speechly in England.

Death of Mrs. Baker.

By the death of Mrs. Baker, senior, in April last, at the ripe age of eighty-six, an honoured and beloved name has been removed from the list of the Society's workers in this Mission. She was a daughter of the Rev. J. C. Kohlhoff, a Danish missionary, who laboured at Tanjore at the close of the last and beginning of the present century, and was married to the Rev. H. Baker, senior, in 1818. She arrived with her husband at Cottayam in 1819, and the following year commenced the Girls' School, which she conducted to within a week of her death, having instructed in the fear of God several generations of Christian girls. Archdeacon Caley wrote a few days after her death :—

"A beautiful finish to a life-work."

On Monday week she sent her girls away for the last time. It was their usual holiday, and only three days before her death. She was very ill, but she sat up in bed and had them to sing. She tried to start the hymn herself; but the last song on earth had been sung —the harp was about to be tuned for nobler strains. After the hymn she prayed with them and dismissed them. Her work was done. It was a beautiful finish to a noble life-work.

Very early on the following morning crowds of Natives were gathered to see the form they had learned to revere. An old man on entering the room made a salaam to that form as if she were there still. But she was not. She was "absent from the body . . . present with the Lord." During the whole day the people continued to come and go. At 4.30 p.m. a vast number was assembled, amongst whom were all the leading Government officials. Not only did they go to the house, but also to the college chapel and to the grave. The presence of those Hindu gentlemen showed how much Mrs. Baker was respected, and that her appellation, "Walia Madamā" ("Great Madame") was not an empty title. No, she was really and truly the "Walia Madamā," and acknowledged to be such by all. Thousands and tens of thousands have heard from her lips the story of the cross, and many will one day call her blessed.

Ordinations.

On Trinity Sunday, June 5th, Mr. A. Oomen Matthai, a son of the Rev. Oomen Mâmen, the venerable pastor of Mavelikara, was ordained deacon at Pallam ; and on Sunday, Sept. 25th, Bishop Speechly ordained four Native clergymen at Mavelikara, viz. the Rev. T. K. Joseph to Priest's Orders, and Messrs. M. C. Thoma, A. E. David, and M. C. Chakko to Deacon's Orders. On the three previous days all the pastors of the Southern District Church Council, the four candidates, and two lay agents, assembled with the Bishop and Archdeacon Koshi for devotional meetings. Addresses were given by the Bishop, the Archdeacon, and the Revs. E. V. John and O. Mamen, on "the Study of the Word of God," "Sermon Preparation," "the Pastor and his Spiritual Work," and "Self-denial." All the four candidates were matriculates of the Madras University, and three of them have obtained the Bishop Gell's Greek Testament prize in different years.

The Cottayam College.

Cottayam is the Society's principal station in this Mission. Mr. Neve mentions that two of the candidates admitted to Deacon's Orders in September had been pupils under him in the College. There are 330 boys now under his care, and he realizes the blessedness and responsibility of his peculiar opportunities. He was much pleased, in the autumn, by a spontaneous act of the boys. A violent thunderstorm occurred during divine service on a Sunday, and the lightning struck a large banyan-tree only fifty yards from the little chapel, killing a cow and calf. A few days afterwards one of the boys handed Rs. $2\frac{1}{4}$, which he said was a "thanksgiving" raised by the boys in gratitude for their late preservation from danger. During the holidays Mr. Neve took tours with his magic-lantern.

Cambridge Nicholson Institution.

There were seventeen students in the Cambridge Nicholson Institution at the end of last year. Owing to Archdeacon Caley's absence during the greater part of the year, there was no divinity class, but one was about to be formed in January.

Miss Baker reports upon the Girls' Schools, which comprise a boarding-school at Cottayam, and five branch schools. There are 77 boarders and 163 day scholars. Miss Baker says:—

Good results of the Girls' Schools.

I have now been carrying on this educational work for over twenty years, having joined the Society in January, 1866, and during that time I have taught several hundreds of children, and I can see the advantages they have gained from these schools have been very great. I have now several of the daughters of those I first taught. They are much more amenable to orders, being altogether more intelligent, and learn faster, than those whose parents have not had the same training. The home-life, too, is more satisfactory. They are cleaner in person and houses, and happier, for when their house-work is finished they sit down to needlework, and by the sale of the jackets they make, contribute a little to the family expenses. As far as we can judge of their conduct, I trust many of them are true Christians, and are walking in the narrow way to their heavenly home.

The Alwaye Itinerancy is hard ground. The only congregation connected with the Society is at Katampallel, and many of its ninety-one members have had to endure much persecution. But the opposition of the Roman Catholics and Syrians is the most painful feature of the work. Archdeacon Caley says:—

"The part of Elymas."

They play the part of Elymas with an energy worthy of a better cause. As sure as ever a Hindu is known to be about to become a Christian, he is visited, and urged with all possible earnestness not to have anything to do with us.

Mission services.

Mr. Karney held Mission Services at Cottayam from December 10th to 15th, when they were continued by Mr. Baring-Gould. Mr. Karney wrote just before leaving Cotatyam:—

Never before has a Mission been held here, and the interest excited has been great. Some of the Arrians have come thirty miles to be present. The interest has grown at each service. Yesterday we had sixty inquirers, and about half as many the day before. At first there was much curiosity and few Bibles. Now we have many Bibles, and curiosity has given way to deepening interest. I am wonderfully well, though I work hard all day—always the three long and several short addresses. The Syrians are coming to the services. Ten priests were present yesterday. To-day Mr. Baring-Gould comes to finish the work here, which lasts till Sunday evening. Deepening interest.

Of the closing services Mr. Neve said :—

The closing services were solemn times. Many stayed to the "after-meetings," but there was no speaking to individuals. As a rule, services were held every day—in the church twice, and generally another smaller meeting for agents or other special class of persons (e.g. children, Hindus). At the Sunday morning service the large church was crowded (a rare sight); perhaps 1500 were present, and of these 330 partook of the Holy Communion.

The work in and around ALLEPIE is under Mr. Richards. There were fifteen adult baptisms last year. A remarkable instance of fruit of past labours appearing after many years was brought to Mr. Richard's knowledge by a letter from a clergyman in Natal, enclosing another from a Native of India, working under his superintendence among the Indian coolies there, who had lived in Allepie some thirty years since. The Rev. L. P. Booth, who forwarded his letter, said, "He is a much-respected and hard-working catechist. He wishes to send greeting to his old friends, and I wish to join in that greeting, and hope they are as good soldiers of Christ as Joshua is." Except one, all the friends mentioned in the letter are dead. Mr. Richards also met an African sailor from Lagos, a Baptist, and a total abstainer, who knew Bishop Crowther and his son Archdeacon Crowther. "Found after many days."

From December 11th to 14th Mr. Baring-Gould conducted three special services daily at Allepie. Mr. Richards wrote :—

Mr. Baring-Gould was very earnest and affectionate in his preaching: and the interpreter was so successful, in my opinion, that it was as if the missioner had acquired Malayalam. There was a warmth and fulness and mellowness in the interpretation that entranced the Malayalam hearers. My attention did not once flag in the eight Mission addresses which I heard. We had the Communion and sixty-six Malayalam partakers on the 18th, after Mr. Baring-Gould left. I preached from "Bochim" (Judges ii.), and urged the people, many of whom had been "weepers," to become sacrificers to Jehovah, for a messenger and prophet of God had been among them. Successful interpretation of mission sermons.

Fruit there may be to speak of in a few months. The people are certainly stirred and to God be the glory!

There were only four adult baptisms in the TIRUWELLA DISTRICT last year. Mr. Karney was four days at Tiruwella, from December 16th to 19th inclusive, and he said that he "never enjoyed preaching more than here." He wrote :—

Hitherto our work, or rather my work, had been in the towns—large centres, like Trichur and Cottayam. Now at Tiruwella we were quite amongst the rural population—such an interesting set of people.

Large numbers walked twenty to thirty miles to attend the services, many released slaves, who came with their village catechist, and camped out in the open or passed the nights in the verandahs of schools, &c. Sunday, the 18th, was a day never to be forgotten. Although there were no fixed seats in the church, and the people squatting on the ground, could be packed as close as sardines, there was not room for the people. Fifteen hundred people crowded in at each of the two services, and in the morning (do not tell it in Hampstead) I preached for an hour and a half, and then they complained it was too short! I have excellent interpreters, and so far from it being any hindrance that I speak in a strange tongue, it is, in fact, a help as it is managed here.

"Not room for the people."

Sermon "too short."

In the afternoon, after the second service, we walked eleven miles to accept an urgent invitation to preach in the Syrian church. Here the crowd was so great that we had to adjourn to the churchyard, where I preached to a remarkable congregation on the Parable of the Ten Virgins.

Service in a Syrian church.

Monday, the 19th, was a very interesting day. Our after-meetings were very solemn, and many were pricked to the heart. One poor fellow I found at two o'clock in the morning (2 a.m.), weeping for his sins. This was our last day here.

Travancore Pastorates.

The Committee have not received the full reports of the TRAVANCORE PASTORATES this year, which have been kindly forwarded by the Bishop the two years last past. The Cottayam Council has six pastorates, under five Native pastors. The Mavelikara Council has eight pastorates, under seven pastors. The Rev. Oomen Mamen, pastor of Mavelikara, being invited by a Syrian priest to preach in his church on the Syrian Good Friday, he took the opportunity to urge two young men to start a Sunday-school in the parish, which was done. He observes that the Sunday-school movement is now spreading among the Syrians. Mr. Mamen is allowed to visit the English school for the princes and relations of the Royal Family, and to give occasional addresses and leave tracts. He adds :—

Sunday-school movement speading.

His Highness Raja Varma, the uncle of her Highness the Rani of Travancore, is very kind, and has welcomed me often. On two occasions H.H. held long religious conversations with me, and on the occasion of his Highness's departure to the east coast I met him at the church gate and presented him with a Bible, in which I marked the 121st Psalm, which his Highness read with evident interest, and remarked, "This is very touching. I will keep this Bible as a benediction from the venerable pastor of this church." Her Highness the junior Rani of Travancore, his Highness's consort, and his Highness the second prince, came to reside at Mavelikara for a month, during which time Mr. Sattiadasan, catechist, and myself visited several members of the royal family.

The Bible presented by a native clergyman to a member of the Royal Family.

Her Highness having written to me to present the aforesaid catechist, who is a converted Brahmin, and his wife to her Highness the Ranee, I introduced them to her Highness, who kindly asked them to sing a few lyrics, and heard his preaching on Jesus Christ, which being over, her Highness presented them some money as a token of royal favour. I availed myself of this opportunity to present to her Highness a few Malayalam religious books. We next visited his Highness's consort and the second prince, and presented them with some books, which were accepted with thanks.

Death of the leader of the "Six Years' Party."

Kannit is the pastorate of the Rev. Oomen Matthai, ordained last year. It is also the headquarters of the "Six Years' Party," as it was the abode of their leader, the Rev. Justus Joseph, who died in December last. Archdeacou Caley gives a very touching but very sad account of his last days. Mr. Matthai visited him frequently, and prayed for him at his earnest request, but he resisted the suggestion that he needed to repent. The Archdeacon writes:—

He requested Mr. Matthai to pray that his spirit might be strengthened, and that his body might be strong enough to bear the strengthening of his spirit. As he could not kneel himself, he made his second son Manuel to kneel for him and near him during the prayer. At the close of the prayer he uttered a loud Amen. On leaving he requested Mr. Matthai to pray for him constantly, which he promised to do. In the afternoon of the same day Mr. Matthai visited him again, when Mr. Joseph asked him to convince him who Jesus Christ is, as he would convince a heathen. Then pointing with his finger, he said, "So point out Christ to me." Mr. Matthai then quoted some passages of Scripture to him, and Mr. Joseph himself quoted the second part of Galatians iii. 1. When Mr. Matthai asked him why he had asked him thus to point out Christ, he said it was for his consolation.

Believing that his end was fast approaching, Mr. Matthai asked him if he had any cause of sorrow, to which he replied that he had. He then closed his hand, and while in the act of opening it he blew upon it, and said, "So has the English Church been blown away by the Holy Ghost." On the following day he nominated his brother Jacob Kulti as his successor, and said that he had poured his spirit upon him, and given him authority to perform all such rites as he himself had performed. In the afternoon Mr. Matthai found him weeping like a child, but the more his people came about him the more he was confirmed in his belief. On another occasion he asked Mr. Matthai to permit him to give expression to some errors:—(1) That God entered into Melchizedek and came to Abraham; (2) that God entered into Esau and wrestled with Jacob all night, for Jacob said, "I have seen thy face as though I had seen the face of God." Then he asked an old man who stood near if what he had mentioned were not errors. On being told they were, he agreed, and said, "You call this madness, and so it is. You all know of my madness, particularly as one of my sides is paralyzed and my head not quite sane."

Several days before his death Mr. Matthai wrote:—

I am thankful to say that four somewhat well-to-do families, and who were staunch adherents of the Six Years' Party, have joined us since I came. I may add that in some cases the return of these erring brethren to the Church is as difficult, if not more so, than conversion from heathenism.

The Rev. E. V. John, of Putupalli, mentions the coming out of heathenism of three Chogan families, including some seventeen souls. At Krishnapuram, an out-station where an earnest catechist is at work, the people showed an unusual interest in the Lent Services, for which a member of the congregation presented two lamps, and another supplied oil for the forty days of Lent. A good bell has also been given.

Lent Services.

At Mallapalli, the Rev. P. M. Curien reports decided progress. Eighteen adults were baptized last year, making 1662 baptized Christians. The Bishop confirmed 107 candidates, and at the same time laid the foundation of a new church on the opposite side of the river. There are 549 communicants in the pastorate. Finding his people growing careless in the observance of the latter half of the Lord's day, after the example of the Syrian Christians, Mr. Curien arranged to have Bible-readings in different houses on Sunday afternoons, and the attendance at evening service greatly improved thereafter. A prayer-meeting is held on Sunday mornings at 7 a.m. There is a Young Men's Association, with twenty members, in the pastorate.

Steps taken to improve Sabbath observance.

ARRIAN MISSION.

The Rev. W. Kuruwella is in charge of the MELKAVU district, which is worked in connexion with the Southern Church Council. There are 1108 baptized Christians and 200 unbaptized adherents in the district. The communicants number 392, and there were twenty-two adults baptized during the year. Teachers are located at seven out-stations. One of them, Ellampuram, commenced last year, Mr. Kuruwella says:—

Intercession and aggression.

In November, 1886, during the week appointed for intercessory prayer for heathen, I went there with some of the agents and young men, and visited the non-Christians in their houses, and spoke to them the glad tidings of the Gospel. Through God's blessing seventeen persons consented to become Christians, and the very next day they came to me at Melkavu, and joined with us in prayer. Afterwards, twenty-seven persons more came forward. Then we erected a school there, and appointed a teacher for them, who is paid from this Mission pastorate, according to the order of the Bishop. Some of the remaining Hindus read the Gospel with interest.

Mr. Painter divides his extensive district into three groups of stations. The first centres round MUNDAKAYAM, where a strong stone church, capable of holding 400 people, is nearly completed. The conduct of the people at this place, in attendance at the services and prayer-meetings, and in subscriptions towards the maintenance of their spiritual privileges, has improved. At Kootakel, an old out-station, "nearly all the surrounding heathen have now been gathered in, and many of the converts show by their lives that they have not merely nominally joined us." The second group centres round HANAM, which, with Kangra and Koolatoor, was opened about twenty years ago by the Rev. H. Baker. The work here is almost entirely among Pulayas. At Kangra some of the young men presented to the Bishop for confirmation "showed a really remarkable knowledge," Mr. Painter says. Out-stations have been recently commenced at Pampady, Kortella, Wagoor, and Ettamanur. Mr. Painter expresses his thankfulness for the great kindness of the present Dewan towards the poor outcast Pulayas. He says :—

The Pulayas have a friend in office.

He personally interfered to procure their admission into the great Changanasherry market, so that they might buy and sell as others. Nine men who beat some of our Christians on their way to the church there were fined Rs. 25 each. He is arranging to increase grants for their education from Rs. 500 to Rs. 2000 a year. In humanity he is far in advance of most of the officials, and his orders are frequently disregarded; but I thankfully record that there is a wonderful improvement in the way in which these poor people are treated to what there was four or five years ago. In many cases they have been admitted inside the court buildings themselves.

The third group is round MANKOMPU. Both the teacher and his wife have suffered from fever in their abode on the hills, but they work on steadily, she teaching the females of the congregation. 116 candidates were presented here for confirmation in October, and the Bishop expressed his pleasure at the hearty, earnest, and intelligent way in which they answered his questions. The number of baptized Christians in the whole district is 1139, and there are 477 communicants.

COCHIN: TRICHUR AND KUNNANKULAM.

The Rev. P. P. Joseph is the pastor at TRICHUR, where, Archdeacon Caley says, things are being carried on as nearly as possible as when Mr. Bishop left. The Mission services held here by Mr. Karney from November 30th to December 7th were greatly blessed. The Revs. P. Wirghese and P. P. Joseph, the pastors of Kunnankulam and Trichur, had addressed an earnest pastoral letter to their flocks, which concluded with these solemn words :—

A pastoral letter by Native clergymen before the Mission.

Remember there is a time coming in which you will call on the Lord, who now calls you. Then, however much you call and dash your head and cry, it will be of no avail. Before that time overtakes you, brother, make haste, make great haste to give your ear to the Lord of your life. See yourself; weep under conviction of sin. To-day your tears are of value. Therefore hasten to prepare for these divine services. Invite others. Expect a blessing. Remember the promises of Jesus. Pray especially for yourself, your family, the Church, the heathen, and the coming preachers. Then you will surely receive Divine power, will shine and sparkle, and become an excellent witness to the glory of the Lord. May God bless you in all things!—YOUR BELOVED MINISTERS.

After the Mission, Mr. Joseph wrote to Mr. Bishop :—

"Church crowded to excess."

The church was crowded to excess for each service, 700, 800, 900, and once 1000 being present. Many Roman Catholics and some Hindus also were present. Some Roman Catholics shed tears; some of them have decided to join us, and are doing so. Yes, I fully believe that these blessings will be durable and fruitful. Dear sir, pray and praise for these blessings. Most of the English congregation also were present for most of the services. Many cold hearts were also made warm. Many gave their hearts to God and decided for Christ. We had three days' thanksgiving services also after the Mission services. On the eve of Mr. Karney's departure the people were moved, and gave him a good farewell address. We accompanied him to the landing-place with music, &c.

242 communicants.

On Tuesday evening a large number expressed themselves desirous of coming to Christ. We had their names carefully taken and distributed among the Christians in the congregation, each of whom (if fit) is entrusted with a certain number to help on. At the farewell administration of the Lord's Supper there were 242 communicants, and much rejoicing in the Lord. Then came the farewell.

Mr. Baring-Gould conducted the services at KUNNANKULAM, where, Mr. Joseph says, "Many souls were led to Jesus, and others received fresh vigour to live for Christ."

Death of the Revs. J. Allcock,

THE Singhalese of this island lost a devoted friend by the death of the Rev. J. Allcock in March last. For fourteen years, from 1869 till his second furlough in 1883, Mr. Allcock was in charge of the Baddegama district, and his name will long be a household word among the people there. His last three years, since his return in 1885, were spent, as were his first three after learning the language, from 1866 to 1869, in the work of the Kandian Itinerancy. Indeed, he may be said to have died in this work, as he was taken ill while conducting the service in Gampola Church on Sunday, February 26th, and, after lingering a week, he "fell asleep" the following Sunday at Kandy, at the house of the Rev. J. D. Thomas. Mr. Allcock possessed, together with sound health and vigour of body, strong faith and great zeal in his Master's work; and he had acquired a complete mastery of the colloquial Singhalese. His death is a serious loss to the Mission, and is deeply mourned by all the brethren. The Committee earnestly commend his widow and six children to the prayers of the Lord's people.

and J. C. Mill.

In February, another who laboured in this Mission for three years, from 1866 to 1869, the Rev. Giulio Cesare Mola (or Julius Cæsar Mill, as his name appears in the Society's roll), was called to his rest. He was a native of Italy, and went to Ceylon as an ordained missionary of the Church of Rome. There he was converted to the simplicity of the Gospel, and became a clergyman of the Church of England. In 1869 he was transferred to the Tinnevelly Mission. He withdrew from his connexion with the Society in 1872, with the intention of labouring among his own countrymen, as he did until his death. He married a sister of the Revs. W. P. and H. J. Schaffter.

The Winter Mission.

The Rev. G. C. Grubb and Colonel Oldham arrived in Ceylon on January 23rd, and continued two months in the island, holding services and meetings at all the chief stations and out-stations of the Mission. The Rev. S. Coles accompanied them as interpreter to most of the Singhalese centres, and he has sent a brief review of their labours. He says that no disadvantage was felt from the necessity of speaking by interpretation, except when, occasionally, the English character of the anecdotes or illustrations presented a difficulty to the Natives' appreciation of their force. Mr. Coles says that it was among the English and Eurasians that the most speedy results of the Mission were manifest:—

Some effects of the Mission among European residents.

Very many English-speaking men and women were constrained to make a full surrender of themselves to Christ, and those who previously had believed in Him had their faith strengthened, love deepened, and joy in the Lord increased. Many of them have since proved that the effect produced was not transient on account of temporary excitement or from the sympathy of numbers, but that the power of the Lord was present and healed them, and it has been their pleasure ever since to testify of Him, and seek to bring others to know Him in like manner. About three weeks ago some tea-planters agreed to meet together for two days to pray that they might be filled with the Holy Ghost, and thus be enabled to become more like Christ, so that His light shining from them might exercise a beneficial revivifying influence on all around. I was unable to be there, but have heard from those who were present, that it was a season of great refreshment, and that they did obtain that which they sought.

A "Christian Union for Ceylon."

A number of Christian laymen have agreed to meet in Colombo on the 14th of this month, for the purpose of establishing a Christian Union for Ceylon, the members of which shall agree to render all possible assistance to one another by mutual encouragement to follow on to know the Lord; that they shall read the same portions of Scripture daily; that they shall have two great meetings yearly; and that in country districts where there are no churches the members resident there shall meet each Lord's day in one of their bungalows, and shall spend the time in devotion and study of God's Word. It is also proposed that steps shall be taken to induce Christian ladies and gentlemen, immediately after their arrival to reside in Ceylon, to join this Union: Each member will also undertake to persuade his neighbours and acquaintances to decide for Christ, and become a member of this association.

Ordinations.

The Bishop of Colombo admitted the Rev. J. P. Kalpagê to Priest's Orders, on June 11th, and Mr. G. S. Amarasekara to Deacon's Orders on December 18th.

I. WESTERN AND SOUTHERN PROVINCES.

COLOMBO.

The staff of European workers at Colombo continued as reported last year until October, the Rev. E. T. Higgens ministering to the English congregation and superintending the Singhalese evangelistic and educational work in the town; the Revs. D. Wood and J. I. Pickford conducting the Mission to the Tamils; and Miss Eva Young superintending the Girls' Boarding School. In October, however, Mr. Pickford was ordered home, and his work was added to Mr. Wood's; but the latter was also obliged to return to England in February on account of Mrs. Wood's health, and the Rev. J. Ilsley was invited to take charge of the districts.

The English Congregation, though diminished in number, has considerably increased the amount contributed towards the Society's work, viz. about Rs. 3500. There are now four Singhalese day-schools, three of them for girls, with 230 children on the lists, which are entirely supported by local funds.

In connexion with the Tamil Native Church Council there are 813 baptized members, and 219 are communicants. Sixteen adults were baptized during the year. One of these converts, being asked why in his private prayers he was in the habit of praying in an audible voice, replied, "When I pray in silence my thoughts wander and my prayers are confused, and so it is my custom to pray aloud." Of the Native Christians generally Mr. Wood says:—

A convert's reason for praying aloud.

> As a body the members of our congregations continue to manifest warm interest in the affairs of their Church, and some of the more intelligent are active in promoting its welfare, both spiritual and temporal. A few are engaged voluntarily in definite Christian work, such as preaching in the streets of Slave Island on Sunday evenings, and teaching in Sunday-schools. There is, I think, a growing desire for a revival of God's work among us.

COTTA.

The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin superintends the general work of this station, which includes a district of about 250 square miles in extent, over which the schools and congregations are scattered; the Rev. S. Coles carries on the Theological Class; and the Rev. H. de Silva is pastor of Talangama and Welikada.

At the end of last year there were seven students in the Theological Class, five in their third year, one in his second, and one in his first. Mr. Coles says of these students and their work:—

Theological students

> These young men are very diligent students; and now that we have made some headway in Scriptural subjects, and have got an insight into some of the great mysteries of Redemption, wonders of divine love, illimitable developments of Christian sanctity and powers of the world, to come as revealed in the Pauline Epistles,—their enjoyment of their studies is intense, and they sometimes exclaim, "How great was our ignorance of these things before, and how intensely ignorant we are still! We have need always to be diligent readers of God's book, so that, by the Holy Spirit's aid, we may learn and become more like Jesus."

There have been two examinations during the year—one by the missionaries in the month of June, and the other by the Bishop of Colombo last month. In both, the students gave satisfaction and obtained favourable reports. The Bishop was much pleased, and said the amount of their knowledge was very encouraging. His examination was viva voce, as well as written, and he gave them some valuable advice about their studies and conduct.

On Saturdays and Sundays these young men go out to preach to the heathen and Christians; and although amongst the former some opposition is met with, yet on the whole they are well received, and in some places they are heartily welcomed, and are working their way with evident tokens of success.

Last September we relinquished our studies for a fortnight, and went on a preaching-tour through many villages. From the experience we had gained in the previous year we were enabled to enlarge considerably our sphere of operations, and to afford to each one more opportunities of preaching the Gospel. We selected five different centres, at each of which one or more students were located, where they gathered the people and preached to them, and whence they proceeded to the villages and hamlets around to talk with the people and persuade them to become Christians. Mr. Dowbiggin and some of his agents assisted at three of those centres, and I went to two of the most distant ones, and spent a week at each. Every day we had one or more opportunities of addressing congregations who had been brought together to hear the Word of God, and much time was spent in talking with inquirers and others about their souls. During that fortnight we preached to over 7000 people, distributed 2300 tracts, sold seventy copies of the Gospels, and had forty-six inquirers, who gave us their names, saying they wished to become Christians.

their proposal to carry the Gospel to Upper Burmah.

Some of the students have a strong desire to go and preach the Gospel in Upper Burmah, recently annexed by England, where the people are Buddhists; and the Central Council of Pastors and Delegates from the various Native Church Councils has appointed committees at various stations to stir up a missionary spirit, in the hope of raising the funds necessary for the maintenance of such a Mission. The Committee heard with much joy and thankfulness of this desire, and pray that the Lord may make the Singhalese Native Christians to increase and abound in love both one toward another and toward all men.

Mission Schools.

The Mission Schools in the Cotta district are fifty in number, of which one is an English-teaching school, three are Anglo-vernacular, and forty-six are ordinary vernacular village schools. Twenty-six of these schools are for girls, with 1085 pupils, and twenty-four for boys, with 1501 scholars. This is an increase of 186 since last year. Mr. Dowbiggin mentions a singular instance of influence indirectly exercised by the Mission schools:—

The Lord's Prayer taught in a Buddhist school.

I may mention a singular instance of the teaching of Buddhist boys, in a school under the management of a Buddhist priest, the existence of a Creator and the Lord's Prayer. The teacher is nominally a Buddhist, but had been educated in a Mission school. Passing by the school, I saw some decorations, and was politely asked to go inside. I went and inquired if the priest were expected, but was told that the ornamentation was all in my honour, and they were very glad to see me. I sat down, and proceeded to ask some general questions in arithmetic and geography from the thirty or forty boys present, and then turned to the question of the existence of a Creator, ignored by Buddhism. To my great astonishment I found them acquainted with the ordinary proofs for the existence of a Creator, and they answered my questions with great intelligence. After this, the master said the boys knew the Lord's Prayer, but I did not ask them to repeat it, and suggested that he should teach them the Ten Commandments, which he promised to do. What could have led the teacher to do this, or what it may lead to, I have not the remotest idea; but it was a novel experience in my missionary career.

The Girls' Boarding-school, under Mrs. Dowbiggin, continues to bear good fruit. Mrs. Dowbiggin says:—

Instances of piety.

The number during the last year has been rather less in the girls' boarding-school, but still it is blessed of God, and there are constant signs that the Holy Spirit has worked and is working in the hearts of the children. Five girls have lately been confirmed, and another is a candidate for baptism. When the day's work is over, and the children may do as they like, it is pleasant to go into the school and see, here an elder girl teaching two or three younger ones the fourteenth chapter of St. John, there another little group listening to some simple, helpful story told on Sunday to the senior class, and in a quiet room seven or eight are gathered together for prayer, and for the same purpose some continue to rise at 5 a.m. every morning, half an hour before they are obliged to do so. For the last few months gladly has our senior girl given up the greater part of every evening to teach two Singhalese women (our ayahs), the Bible lesson she gives them being the longest by far, and the interested faces of the listeners are worth seeing.

Ninety-six per cent. of passes were obtained at the Government examination, and three girls out of four who went for the teachers' examination gained certificates.

The seven students at the Training Institution have made good progress in their course of preparation for the work of teaching in the schools.

Mr. Dowbiggin also reports upon the work in the Native Pastorates, which are connected with the Cotta Native Church Council, of which he is the chairman. Of these there are five, viz. (1) Cotta, (2) Talangama and Welikada, (3) Mirihâne and Nugegoda, (4) Mâmpe, (5) Colombo. There have been twenty-three adults baptized, of whom Mr. Dowbiggin says, "It is not only because of the numbers I am glad, but of the quality also; the work of the Spirit was manifest in their hearts, and it gave me real pleasure to admit them into the Church of Christ by baptism." Of the late pastor of Cotta, the Rev. D. Jayasinha, who died in January last year, Mr. Dowbiggin says:—

Buddhist testimony to character of a deceased Native clergyman

He was not a strong man, but he laboured most diligently, and strove earnestly to bring men to the knowledge of the truth. He was a good man, and full of faith and patience. All who knew him bore testimony to his unwearied efforts for the good of both the young and old of his pastorate. Buddhist testimony to him was, "He did not work for pay. He was not paid according to the work he did. He was a good man."

The Rev. G. S. Amarasekera, who has succeeded to his work, and on whom, Mr. Dowbiggin says, the mantle of his predecessor rests, wrote shortly before his ordination in December last:—

Power of the "Old, old story."

I have been here only nine months, and therefore I have not much to write. I am just a beginner, and have a great deal to learn. I realized the power of the "Old, old story" in one of my interviews with an old man. He was very old and sickly, and confined to his bed. He bore a good character, and was simple and harmless; but, alas! he was, as many others are, content with his own righteousness, and quite happy with the profession of Christianity. I visited him for about five months without any apparent success, for he would never admit that he was a sinner. I tried to show him the terrors of the Law, but all in vain, and I was almost in despair, when I remembered that I had not related to him the "Old, old story." I then told him of Jesus and His love. This touched him, and he began to see his sinfulness. The grace that worked in him made him look to Jesus, and a few weeks afterwards he died a peaceful death.

To another old member of the congregation whom he visited, a child and grandchild of Christians, the reading of Miss Nugent's Bible-reading on "Peace" in the C.M. Gleaner, brought conviction of sin. In the Mampe pastorate, among the candidates for baptism was a young woman of seventeen who had been educated in one of the Society's schools. She had a short while before her baptism been a candidate at a Government examination for schoolmistresses, and the Buddhist competitors expressed beforehand the expectation that if any of them passed it would be the Christian girl, for, they said, "she is always praying to God to help her." And their prediction was verified, as she was the only one who passed, though in mental power and attainments she was by no means distinguished. There is a flourishing Temperance Society in this pastorate.

"Always praying to God to help her."

BADDEGAMA.

The Rev. J. W. Balding has continued, with an enforced interruption of a few weeks in the autumn, when he and Mrs. Balding went to Australia to re-establish their health, to superintend the work in this extensive district. He says of his fifty fellow-labourers, that they have "endeavoured for the most part to scatter faithfully the good seed." The Schools are twenty-eight in number, and 1286 children are taught in them. All the teachers possess Government certificates, and a grant of Rs. 2919 was earned last year, the largest amount ever obtained in the district. Mr. Balding gives two instances of conversion of former pupils :—

Conversion of former pupils of Mission schools.

A young man of twenty, who had attended one of our schools for ten years, and had habitually rejected Jesus, told me that nearly every day during that period, whenever the name of the Saviour was mentioned in class, he had been accustomed to spit on the floor as a sign of contempt. A few months after leaving school he embraced Christianity, and now adorns his profession.

Sometimes the fruit of school work is not found till after many days. A man of nearly sixty years of age came to me, who, when a boy, had attended a Mission school. He had never since attended a Christian service, but had been engaged in the temples copying Buddhist writings. The good seed, however, had taken some root, and he was able to repeat the Lord's Prayer and several texts which he had learnt in childhood. "There was no Saviour in Buddhism," he said, "and he needed one." He is now under instruction.

"No Saviour in Buddhism."

The Native Pastorates are five in number, viz. (1) Baddegama, (2) Balapitiya, (3) Dodanduwa, (4) Kitulampitiya, (5) Elpitiya. The first two have ordained Native pastors, both of whom have been now received into the Presbyterate, the Rev. Bastian Perera on St. Thomas's Day, 1886, and the Rev. J. Kalpagê on St. Barnabas' Day last year. The Buddhists have shown more hostility of late, which Mr. Balding thinks is a "healthy sign." Colonel Olcott, and after him two itinerating Buddhist laymen, have visited the district, and directed their efforts mainly against the Mission. But one of the greatest hindrances, Mr. Balding says, is "the coquetting with Buddhism which has become fashionable among many Europeans. Buddha's birthday is now a Government holiday in this island of Queen Victoria." It is not surprising to find the ignorant crowds readily crediting a Buddhist priest, who told them on Jubilee day that the Queen had become a Buddhist, and had taken the sacred vows. Enemies of the truth have also been active in circulating infidel literature. Mr. Balding says :—

Buddha's birthday a Government holiday.

Infidel literature.

One of our promising young men was led away by this trash, and writes to me, "Unless you can prove to me satisfactorily why God allowed evil to enter into the world, I shall renounce Christianity, and shall hold you responsible if I am lost on the judgment-day." We have received a liberal supply of books and tracts from the Church of England Book Society this year, for which we are thankful.

Mr. Kalpagê, of Baddegama, reports an average attendance at church of forty-seven adults and seventy-one children. There are eight Sunday-school teachers. On Wednesdays there are services in church morning and evening, and on each other day except Saturday public prayer-meetings are held in the houses of Christians, when the usual attendance is between twenty and twenty-five. Mr. Kalpagê's pastoral visits are made between 6.30 and 7 a.m. He also visits a neighbouring sugar estate once a month, and preaches to attentive audiences of sixty or seventy Singhalese labourers.

Pastoral visits at 6.30 a.m.

KANDY.

Trinity College continues under the able superintendence of the Rev. E. Noel Hodges, assisted by the Rev. J. Ilsley. The latter, as already mentioned, removed to Colombo in February. Of the 200 boys of the upper classes who are under education in this institution, three-fourths are by profession Christians. The teaching staff is wholly and, the Principal believes, "genuinely Christian." The primary object of the school, viz. "to preach the living Word of God to the young, to bring them thereby to accept Christ as their Saviour, and to train them up in the good and right way," is perseveringly and prayerfully followed, "not merely as a perfunctory duty during the hour appointed for Scripture on the time-table, but, as far as may be, in all we do," writes Mr. Hodges. The results of the University Examinations of 1886, which were not published till last year, were very satisfactory. Three out of four candidates passed the Calcutta Entrance Examination, one in the first class, while seven out of nine passed the Cambridge Junior Local. The inspector's report of the Lower School last year was not altogether favourable, but it contained one paragraph which was very gratifying. The inspector wrote:—

Trinity College, Kandy.

> On one very important matter I have, however, to congratulate the manager, and that is on the entire absence of any attempts made to copy or to take unfair advantage of the examiner. If an addition to the grant were to be made to a school in which the inspector could report that there had been no attempts made to copy or otherwise act dishonestly, Trinity College would be one of the few schools I have examined that would participate in such a grant.

Honesty of pupils in examinations attested by Government Inspector.

But the success which has been most coveted has not been denied. Three of the boarders asked for baptism in July. Two were in consequence removed by their parents, and the third was baptized in the presence of his schoolfellows on August 10th. The one who was baptized in September, 1886, together with five others of the elder boys, has been confirmed, and all have become communicants. Mr. Ilsley refers to the efforts on behalf of the Buddhist youths, and the difficulties which are met with :—

The Sunday morning class for the elder Buddhist boys has gone on as usual. St. Matthew's Gospel has furnished us with topics for our lessons, and in addition to other passages of Scripture the boys have learnt by heart nearly the whole of St. John's First Epistle.

But there are difficulties in schools which perhaps are not met with in itinerating work. First, there is the fact that most of the boys, the elder boys especially, have had a Scriptural training for years. They have become accustomed to the doctrines, and grown familiar with the truths of the Bible, and I am afraid that, where the heart has not been won by its teaching, the feelings are being crystallized, the heart estranged and hardened. I have before my mind a case in point, where a boy, a Buddhist, knows his Bible far, far better than many of our elder Christians. I do not think I am at all exaggerating in saying that this boy could quote from memory texts to prove any of the great doctrines of our Christian faith. But side by side with this, there is an utter absence of any approach to spiritual life. Cold, indifferent, careless, he is, to all appearance, the farthest from Christ of all the boys I have had to do with. This is one difficulty. Then there is the home influence. Alas! alas! There is much reason to fear that many hopes have been blighted, and young hearts made sad, by the opposition of relatives and friends.

Familiarity with Scripture.

The Rev. H. Gunasêkara is chairman of the Kandy Native Church Council, and pastor of the several Singhalese congregations, viz. at Kandy, Katukele, Gaetaembe, Kaduganâwa, Gampola, and Nâwalapitiya. The total number of baptized Christians is 416, of whom 161 are communicants.

KANDYAN ITINERANCY.

Since 1853 Kandy has been the headquarters for an itinerating Mission to the Singhalese. The Rev. J. Allcock, whose death, last March, has been already referred to, and the Rev. L. G. P. Liesching, assisted by forty Native catechists and readers, have endeavoured to evangelize a region of several hundreds of square miles, through which 1030 Singhalese baptized Christians are scattered, and 303 communicants, while 1788 children are taught in thirty-seven schools. Kandy is the centre from which Mr. Allcock travelled north and south and east. He was privileged to baptize 100, sixty of whom were adults, in the last year of his ministry on earth. Both he and Mr. Liesching, whose work is to the north-west of Kandy, and his home at Kaegalle, refer to the opposition of Buddhists, who have not only sent rival preachers to oppose and blaspheme, but also issued tracts got up in imitation of those circulated by the missionaries, and purporting to be published by the "Buddhist Tract Society." Mr. Allcock's last words in his last Annual Letter were, "Buddhists are in a state of desperate weariness, and must be so when far from God. May we, who know the Lord, rest more and more in Him, always abounding in the work of the Lord."

TAMIL COOLY MISSION.

Kandy is also the centre of a widely-extended work among the Tamil-speaking coolies who are brought over from South India to labour on the coffee and other estates of the Kandyan districts of the island. The Revs. J. D. Simmons and J. D. Thomas have divided the labour of superintending the thirty-five Native agents and visiting the numerous plantations, on which there are 1721 baptized Christians and 512 communicants. Twenty-nine adults have been baptized, and Mr. Simmons records fifty-nine as confirmed in his districts during the year. The return of the Rev. H. Horsley restores again, after an interval of nearly four years, its complement of three European labourers to this Mission. He will reside at Haputale, Mr. Thomas being at Kandy, and Mr. Simmons at Nuwara Eliya. The Rev. A. Gnânamuttu is Native pastor at Kandy, and the Rev. P. Peter is Native missionary at Palmadulla. The latter pays monthly visits to Rackwâne and Ratnapûra, sixteen and twelve miles respectively distant from Palmadulla, spending from twelve to fifteen days on the journeys, "holding services, visiting Christians, preaching to heathen coolies, and preparing candidates for baptism, confirmation, and the Lord's Supper." He presented fourteen candidates for confirmation.

III.—NORTHERN PROVINCE.

JAFFNA.

JAFFNA was visited in August last by his Excellency the Governor of Ceylon (Sir Arthur Gordon), who was accompanied by several members of his staff and by the Government Agent of the Northern Province (W. C. Twynam, Visit of governor of Ceylon to Jaffna.

Esq.). In replying to the address of welcome which was read to him by the Rev. G. Champion, the Governor said that he rejoiced to observe the progress and satisfactory condition of the Society's Mission in the province. He and his suite were conducted over the Nellore Girls' Boarding School, and the church.

The same missionaries and Native clergy continue to labour among the Tamils of the Jaffna Peninsula. The Rev. E. M. Griffith has superintended the general evangelistic and educational work, and as chairman of the Native Church Council has guided and counselled the three Native pastors; the Rev. G. T. Fleming is principal of the Chundicully High School; and the Revs. G. Champion, J. Niles, and J. Backus are the Native pastors of Chundicully, Pallam, and Kopay respectively.

Kopay Training Institution.

Of the Kopay Training Institution, Mr. Griffith says:—

The percentage of passes in the Government examination in the practising school was ninety; while in the training school all those who went in passed without exception. As to their moral and spiritual training, the first hour of the day is devoted to Scripture, with Evidences, Church History, Prayer-book or Articles for the higher classes (the pastor and resident catechist assist in this); whilst in the daily morning and evening prayers, with exposition, the daily repeating of a Scripture text, the attendances at the services on Sunday, the writing of sketches of sermons, the prayer-meetings carried on in the Institution itself, the students have every opportunity of having their spiritual life stirred up. They are taught also to be active Christians. Missionary addresses are given on Sunday afternoon, the results of which are seen in a full missionary-box every half-year, devoted to the funds of the Native Missionary Association.

Nellore Girls' Boarding School.

The Nellore Girls' Boarding School had fifty-three pupils during the year, of whom thirty-six were Christians. Of the seventeen heathen girls, seven were inquirers. Mr. Griffith says that "the Christian influence in the school is such, that of those who enter as heathen, seldom one leaves without desiring to become, or actually becoming, a Christian." Baptism is never allowed, however, without the parents' consent. An excellent report was obtained of the Government Inspector, who was so pleased with the quickness with which the girls did their work, especially in arithmetic, that he presented five prizes to the cleverest girls in that subject.

Baptisms at the Schools.

There are fifty-nine Schools at this station, with 3244 scholars. Five boys have been baptized from these schools during the year. In one of them, in the village of Urumperay, altogether twelve girls have become converts, seven of whom are now married.

Chundicully Seminary.

The past year was not a satisfactory one for the Chundicully Seminary, so far as success at examinations was concerned, owing in great measure to a weak staff of teachers, no head-master having been found to succeed Mr. Evarts. Nevertheless, the three boys presented for the Cambridge Junior Local all passed. The branch school at Kopay obtained a high percentage in the Government examination. Mr. Fleming mentions the baptism of a boy who had been an inquirer for several years. He had long been a diligent reader of the Bible in private. The Y.M.C.A. have not abated in their missionary zeal. Mr. Fleming says:—

The Y.M.C.A.

In my last Annual Letter I mentioned that some of our Y.M.C.A. members spent a day during the Michaelmas vacation in evangelization work in the island of Mandativu. This year we extended our operations, spending three days in the district of Pallai. Meetings for the coolies were held on three cocoa-nut estates. The different Mission schools were visited, and the children addressed. A large meeting was held at a village near Uduturai, at which eighty-three adult heathen were present. In five villages the houses were visited and the people spoken to, and tracts were distributed. The work was entirely voluntary; the sister association at Pallai generously undertook the duties of host, and the greatest enthusiasm prevailed throughout.

There are four pastorates in connexion with the Jaffna Native Church Council, viz. Nellore, Chundicully, Kopay, and Kockoville. These Pastorates contain 895 baptized Christians, and 418 communicants, and fifteen adults were baptized during the year. The Pallai Pastorate is not connected with the Council, but it is hoped it soon will be. It has 135 members, sixty-two of whom are communicants, and seven adults were baptized.

Mr. Champion gives an encouraging report of the Chundicully Pastorate:—

"Will He not at least give her rice-water?"

Spiritual growth among them is, I am glad to observe, on the increase, and family worship and reading of God's Word more regular and wide-spread. On sick-beds and death-beds the Word of Life helped and consoled our Christians without measure. The words of an uneducated aged woman on her death-bed were, "I like to hear the Word of God read. Nothing is so sweet like that." When asked whether she was afraid to die, she replied, "Why should I fear when Christ is with me?" When asked whether she expected to go to heaven, she said, "Though I may not be deserving of rice, will He not at least give me rice-water?".

The Prayer-week was observed as usual. These prayer-meetings were continued till the end of February, until we were able to hold meetings in the house of each Christian family. I was greatly assisted in these meetings by our Christian young men, who sang lyrics and addressed the people.

In the Wanni district, on the mainland of Ceylon, Mr Champion makes periodical journeys, and has baptized three at Wilankulam and sixteen at Mullaitiru. All these were continuing firm and true when Mr. Champion wrote, notwithstanding severe trial from heathen relatives.

The area of the Pallai Pastorate is about twenty miles long and seven broad, malarious, and sparsely populated. There are eight schools. A catechist, two readers, a colporteur and Bible-woman co-operate with Mr. Backus in making the Gospel known to the heathen in the villages and on the estates, and there were seven converts during the year —four from villages, two from estates, and one from a vernacular school.

MAURITIUS MISSION.

(Commenced 1856.)

Division of the Mission: 1. Tamil-speaking Coolies (Madras Branch), 1857; 2. Bengali and Hindi-speaking Coolies (Calcutta Branch), 1857; 3. The Seychelles Islands, 1875.

BISHOP ROYSTON has returned to Mauritius, but the Committee regretfully apprehend his health is far from being restored. He sailed in February, and went first to the Seychelles.

Death of Bishop Ryan,

The first Bishop of Mauritius, Dr. Vincent W. Ryan, has been summoned to his heavenly rest during the past year. It was in 1854, the year of his appointment to the see, that the late Rev. David Fenn visited the Mauritius from India for the restoration of his health, and, observing how readily the immigrants from India listened to the Gospel, urged the commencement of an effort in Mauritius similar to one which was just then being initiated for the Tamil coolies on the Kandian estates of Ceylon. To Bishop Ryan's cordial and energetic encouragement in its earliest years the Mission was greatly indebted.

and of the Rev. W. B. Chancellor

Another whose name will also be remembered as a founder in connexion with this Mission was removed in September last, after a long and painful illness. The Rev. W. B. Chancellor was transferred from the East Africa Mission to the Seychelles Islands in 1875, where he founded the Society's Industrial Home for rescued African slave children.

The Rev. H. D. Buswell, the Secretary of the Mission, resides at Curepipe, where on Sundays he conducts two English services, one French, and one Tamil, besides a service for convalescents at the Military Hospital. He sends a general report of the five pastorates connected with the Native Church Council. The number of adherents is 2211, of whom 461 are communicants, and seventy-eight are unbaptized. There have been 117 adult baptisms in the past year. He writes very thankfully of the harmony and spiritual tone which characterize the meetings of the Church Council:—

The Native Church Council:

> The Native Church Council and the District Committees are certainly manifesting a good deal of intelligent interest in their duties. Knowing, as I do, the Indian character and the difficulties which the diversities of race and language threatened to import into their deliberations, I am specially thankful to Almighty God for the harmony which has thus far marked all their proceedings, a harmony which has been maintained notwithstanding that differences of opinion have been freely ventilated. I asked Archdeacon Mathews to join us at our last half-yearly meeting, held a fortnight ago, and he was good enough to express his surprise at the business-like way the Council entered upon its work. I am even more thankful for the high tone that prevailed. The members seemed to realize that they were put in trust with things relating to the Kingdom of God. May God grant that a spirit of love and of a sound mind may be continued to the Council in increasing measure! Let us give God the praise, for I have often felt the necessity for the wise caution given by Mr. Wigram in his sermon before the Provincial Synod of Rupert's Land. "Depend upon it, when once we begin to boast of a missionary or a Mission, God's blight has fallen on the work."

and spiritual tone of the meetings.

The same four Native ordained pastors as reported last year preside over four of the five pastorates. The Northern Pastorate is under a layman, Mr. C. Young. The division of the Central into North and South Central Pastorates was mentioned last year. Mr. Buswell remarks that there are now 200 more Christians in the North Central Pastorate than there were in the whole Central District when the Native Church Council began its work. One half of the total number of baptisms occurred in this district.

Baptism of a Native of the Deccan.

One of them was a remarkable case. The candidate was a Native of the Deccan, where he was educated in a Mission school. His brothers hold offices in the court of a Native prince, and the fear of their cruel displeasure, had he carried out his desire of professing faith in Christ in his own country, led him to emigrate to Mauritius, where, to prevent pursuit, he changed his name. Mr. Buswell examined him, and found him well instructed in Christian truth.

The Rev. C. A. Blackburn made seventy journeys during the year to preach the Gospel to the North India coolies, who are found in every part of the island; and he has met with a kind reception as a rule. He mentions many encouraging instances:—

Work among the North India coolies.

Once, visiting the camps of a sugar estate in Upper Moka, I began talking to those present, when some Calcutta men asked me to come under their roof, and tell them more plainly about Christ. The agent and I were most thankful to accept the invitation. The room was soon crowded; and there I sat for two hours, telling them of the love of Christ. They listened all the while with the greatest attention, interrupting me only now and then to ask a question, or to approve of what was said. Some time afterwards I had the pleasure to baptize four of them: the others walked all the way down to our church to attend the service on that occasion. We saw them now and then, and gave them further instruction; later on four others asked to join our Church.

Once, at Vacoas, a priest recently come from India made us sit down in his own house, where a large number soon gathered. Both the priest and the people conversed with us freely for about one hour, and asked us to come again.

I have generally had large audiences, both in the camps and about the shops and markets and the police courts; where sometimes we meet with people who have seldom or never heard the Gospel before. I was preaching one day near the police court at Moka. There was a great number of Indians from all parts of the districts. A man sitting in a group stood up and said, "Such good words we never heard before. How happy we would be to have some one to teach us these things!" Another one inquired very earnestly about the way of salvation. He was told how Christ gave His life to save sinners. Tears came into his eyes, and he asked: "How then must I serve the True God?" We explained it to him, and he went away rejoicing. In one of the camps we visted one day, we met with a considerable number of Indians, but as soon as we began to speak to them, a man said he did not want to hear anything about Christianity. We tried in vain to persuade him that we had nothing to say that would offend him in any way. He went away angrily. We were afraid all those present would do the same; but, with the exception of a few, the others paid attention for a long time to what we were saying. On turning round I was surprised to see the man who had gone away in a fury, sitting on a stone at a short distance from us, and listening quietly to all we said. When we had done speaking a man said: "Henceforth I shall give up worshipping idols, and shall serve the true Saviour alone." We thus scatter the seeds of the Word of God by handfuls, and hope the Lord will make them grow in His own good time.

Sometimes when their religious systems are compared with Christianity, the controversy becomes serious and hot; especially when Brahmins or priests are present. But we always manage to part on good terms, and so have the opportunity of coming again. I find such visits very profitable, and I am happy to state that some of their results have been so good that we are encouraged to go on. An educated Indian of great influence among the Hindus, after holding these friendly discussions with us, in his house, for more than a year, gradually became dissatisfied with his form of religion, and athirst for something better, and has finally been thankful to accept Christ as the true Saviour who alone can take away the sin of the world.

Baptisms.

Mr. Blackburn regularly visits the hospitals and other public institutions, often with ample reward. Twelve Calcutta men and two women were baptized at Barkly Asylum during the year. A Mussulman, after resisting the truth for two years, desiring deliverance from his sins and peace with God, resolved at length "to place his soul in the hand of Jesus," and the angry frowns of other Mussulmans do not interrupt his happiness.

SEYCHELLES.

Mr. E. Luckock labours on in the happy consciousness that though "in a little corner of the vineyard," he is not lost to the sympathy and prayers of friends. In addition to the superintendence of the "African Institution," Mr. Luckock visits periodically the outlying villages, where he instructs and appeals to the African population who, Mr. Buswell says, are "practically heathen, and stand as much in need of missionary effort as those who live in the heart of Africa." There are fifty-six scholars in the Institution and nineteen in two small branch schools. Mr. Luckock says:—

> The work has gone on steadily on the same plan as last year; a large number of the elder scholars left at Christmas, so that it has been beginning over again to a large extent, but there has been the satisfaction of knowing that nearly all those who have left understood, and could explain, the way of salvation. All those we have had this year can also do so, except the very youngest, and even these can sing with some understanding, as well as with their voice, "Jesus loves me." Some of the elder scholars have given most encouraging answers during Scripture lessons, proving that they understand the necessity of a change of heart before they can be true Christians. A great change has come over one of the elder girls, we hope it is the Spirit beginning the good work in her soul.
> The Church Catechism has been well learnt, and good progress has been made in a little catechism sent by the Church of England Book Society, in which the chief errors of Romanism are pointed out, Scripture proofs being given. This has created considerable interest, and will help, I trust, in preventing our children from being blindly led to join the Church of Rome, as so many of the poor ignorant people here are led or frightened into doing.

During the Christmas holidays Mr. Luckock took a journey round the island, exhibiting his magic-lantern to appreciative audiences. He has started a Scripture Union for young people, which many have joined.

The Bishop's visit.

Mr. Luckock has sent an interesting account of the Bishop's visit in March last. Thirty old scholars responded to an invitation to meet the Bishop and Mr. Buswell.

CHINA.

THE Committee observe with much thankfulness the increasing interest which is every year being evinced in China as a mission-field. They see it in the large proportion of the candidates offering to the Church Missionary Society who express a preference for work among the millions of this vast empire. And they rejoice to see it also in the multiplication of agents and agencies of other societies and other churches. The January number of the Chinese Recorder stated that 1040 missionaries (i.e. missionaries and their wives and unmarried ladies) are engaged in China, representing thirty-seven different societies, and that there was an increase of 121 missionaries in 1887 over the preceding year, and of thirty-five ordained Natives.

The share of the Church of England in the efforts put forth, while not inconsiderable, is yet far from being commensurate, the Committee venture to believe, with her relative wealth, not of material resources only, but of numbers also, and of spiritual devotion. Of the three divisions of the whole country, which were arranged in 1880 as defining the area for diocesan purposes of the three English episcopates, two are worked almost exclusively (not quite, as there are two or three clergymen working in connexion with the China Inland Mission), so far as ordained clergymen of the Church of England are concerned, by agents of the Society, and the Bishops of these two dioceses were, and rejoice to consider themselves still, among its missionaries.

SOUTH CHINA MISSION.

FUH-KIEN PROVINCE: Fuh-Chow, 1850; Fuh-Ning, 1882; Ku-Cheng, 1887.

THE Society's stations over which the Bishop of Victoria exercises supervision are found along the coast, from Pakhoi, in the south-western corner of Kwan-Tung, to Fuh-Ning, in the north of Fuh-Kien, a distance of over 1000 miles stretching between the extreme points. Bishop Burdon resides at Victoria, in the island of Hong-Kong, which is nearly midway between the vast limits of his diocese.

The Rev. F. E. Wigram and his son paid an interesting visit to this Mission in April. At Hong-Kong the Bishop and Mrs. Burdon gave them a cordial welcome. On Good Friday morning Mr. Wigram preached to the Mission congregation at St. Stephen's Church, and Mr. E. Wigram accompanied the Rev. J. B. Ost to a service at the Great Victoria gaol, where he addressed about 200 Chinese prisoners.

Fuh-Chow,

In Fuh-Chow city they attended the Chinese service on April 17th, and partook of the Holy Communion with 166 Chinese Christians, many of them agents from the district stations.

and in the Fuh-Kien Province.

Mr. Wolfe and Mr. Martin conducted them on a tour of 180 miles in the Fuh-Kien Province, Ning Taik and Ku-Cheng being the farthest points reached. They were much impressed on this tour by the constant evidence they met with of the spread of Christianity, marked by the fact that the Christians always use the salutation "Penang," or "Peace."

The Rev. J. R. Wolfe has been appointed Archdeacon of Fuh-Chow by the Bishop.

The Rev. and Mrs. Ll. Lloyd sailed in November to return to Fuh-Chow, and were accompanied by the Rev. J. S. Collins, B.A., of Trinity College, Dublin, late Curate of Parsonstown. Mr. Collins is a son of the Rev. W. H. Collins, who was a missionary of the Society at Shanghai and Pekin from 1857 to 1880, and whose temporary dispensary, opened while on a visit to Fuh-Chow in 1860, was the instrumentality which was blessed to the calling out of the first three converts in that city.

Trinity College Fund.

Mr. Collins has returned to the land of his birth to represent in a peculiar sense his own University, as he is supported by a special fund subscribed by members of Trinity College. A few days before he sailed a valedictory meeting was held in the College to send him forth with prayer. The Committee have also had the pleasure of sending to this Mission Miss Emma Goldie, sister of Mrs. Martin, of Fuh-Ning.

Ordinations.

On November 27th, at Fuh-Chow, Bishop Burdon admitted to Deacon's Orders Messrs. Ting, of Lieng-Kong; Lau, of Hok-Chiang; and Ling, of Ku-Cheng.

HONG-KONG.

The missionary in charge of the Society's work in Hong-Kong, the Rev. J. B. Ost, is also Secretary of the South China Mission. The Rev. Fong Yat Sau is the Native pastor of St. Stephen's. There are 179 Native baptized Christians, and 14 unbaptized adherents at Hong-Kong and out-stations; 91 are communicants. Among the inquirers is one who heard the Gospel in America, and upon returning to China found his way to St. Stephen's Church, joined the inquirers' class, and has since entered the Training Institution at his own charges. Another inquirer, who speaks English fairly well, is partner in a silk-shop.

Sickness at Victoria

Victoria was visited last year by epidemics of fever and small pox, the death-rate from the latter cause being as high at one time as ninety per thousand of the population. Mr. and Mrs. Ost and their daughters all suffered from fever, and for some months Mr. Ost had quite a hospital on the Mission premises for the students, Bible-women, and others, living in the compound.

In October Mr. Fong paid a visit to the Tsang-Shing District, where the Native Church Missionary Association, assisted by a grant from the W. C. Jones Fund, supports a catechist and schoolmaster. He was much pleased with the progress since his former visit a few months before. He arranged to travel by night, and stay during the day with different Christian friends. At one place, Tung On, he found an inquirer who gave him a hearty welcome. Mr. Ost says of this man :—

"This is God's temple."

Meeting in a Confucian lecture-hall.

He has had but few opportunities of learning of our faith, only now and again, on his rare visits to Canton or Hong Kong, and the equally rare visits to Tung On paid by passing evangelists. He gave Fong a hearty welcome, and seemed eager to make the most of the opportunity. Internally, to a casual observer, the house was not different to those occupied by his heathen neighbours, but on closer observation it could be seen that on the strips of scarlet paper about the doors were Christian inscriptions, instead of his heathen invocations, and over the door was a placard with the characters which, interpreted, mean—"This is God's temple;" then, on entering the house, the absence of ancestral tablets and incense-bowls at once proclaimed whom the owner served. These helps to idolatry were stowed away on the loft, as the old ingrained reverence has not yet been sufficiently overcome to allow of their destruction. The man's wife sympathized with him in his change of belief, and eagerly drinks in all he is able to teach her; but his old mother is a sore trial to them both in her opposition. After a good talk with them, Fong suggested that the neighbours should be invited—those who had so long been opposing him—to come and hear the Gospel, and then, for the sake of more space, they adjourned to a large room not far off, which was generally used for a very different sort of preaching, i.e. the expounding of the writings of Confucius. Here seats were arranged, and cups of their usual beverage—plain, weak tea—poured out, and many came crowding in to listen. All were well behaved and quiet, except three who came in and began beating gongs. They were, however, soon impressed with the manner of the stranger and his style of address, and were soon enrolled among the listeners. All seemed much interested, hearing and asking questions; and when the meeting broke up, begged Fong to come again soon. Before leaving he had some good talks with the old mother, as well as with the man and his wife, and we earnestly pray that ere long we shall have the joy of admitting the three into the visible Church of Christ by baptism. One thing that struck the people was the fact that the evangelistic effort is largely due to the generosity of their fellow-countrymen.

On this visit Mr. Fong baptized two, a farm-labourer, and the wife of a Christian who had bitterly opposed her husband, because he worshipped the true God and his Son Jesus Christ. The story of this latter, and of her husband also, are interesting:—

A Native Christian's steadfastness and resignation.

Her husband several years ago went to Australia, when he came under the influence of Christians and gave himself to Christ. Not long since he returned with a small fortune to settle in his native village. Troubles, however, beset him at once, his efforts at farming failed, and he lost much of his money; then a business in which he sunk the remainder failed. and he was left utterly destitute. Then to add to his troubles his child fell sick and died, and his wife became very ill. He seemed overwhelmed with troubles, but still his faith did not falter; his friends came about him, urging him to forsake his God, and attributing all his trials to the displeasure of the idols: they brought him incense-sticks, urging him to burn a few of them, but still he was firm, replying to all in the words of Job, "The Lord gave and the Lord hath taken away." He struggled on like this for some time, his wife only growing worse, then he and Mok, our catechist, agreed to meet together every day to pray for her, and ere long she began slowly to mend. Still times went very hardly with them, and in order to procure food enough the man (Un Tung) journeyed to Canton to try his fortune there, working as a coolie. He was not long there, however, for Mok, feeling how hard it was for the sick wife to be left alone, called him home and asked him to become his cook. Here he gets perhaps five or six shillings a month and his rice, but he is thankful even for this, and his other great mercy. His wife gradually recovered, and more than this, to the great joy of her husband, his earnest words and the words of Mok reached her heart, and by the power of the Holy Ghost she has become a true believer. Since believing she has been as active for Christ as she was previously in the service of the gods of the country, and has been paying visits to all the villages around, telling the women what God has done for her.

In the previous February Mr. Fong went to assist the Rev. W. Light in establishing the work at Pakhoi. After spending three months evangelizing in that and the surrounding villages, he returned to Hong-Kong, not by steamer, the usual route, but, making a detour into the Kwang-Si province, by way of the West River and Canton. Mr. Ost says of this tour:—

Itineration in Kwang-Si Province.

I had long wished to either go myself or send a substitute to this province, and I was devoutly thankful to be able to carry my wish into effect. Before starting several persons tried to dissuade him from the tour, telling him of the persecution and ill-treatment he was sure to receive. To all he merely replied, "All this is in my Father's hands, and I leave it there. I only desire to find out the best route for my journey, and in which part I am likely to be able to preach and sell most Scriptures." The party (Mr. McCloy, Mr. Reinhardt, and two Native colporteurs) did not start without some misgivings, for it was only recently that Mr. Fulton, of the American Presbyterian Mission, and his family, were forced to flee from Kwong-Sai, and had their house and hospital burnt over their heads. During the journey they experienced most opposition in the larger cities, where there were a greater number of gentry and scholars, but in the small market towns and villages they were generally kindly received, although their success, as far as books were concerned, varied greatly. In many places they were received with suspicion. Once violence was offered them. Mr. McCloy was beaten, and had his umbrella taken from him. They were five weeks itinerating and selling Gospel portions, during which time they sold 5000 Gospels and other portions, and returned sooner than intended, because their supply of books failed. Such broadcast sowing of the seed of the eternal Word of God over this vast tract, almost, if not altogether, previously untrodden by a Protestant evangelist, must in some way bring forth much fruit to God's honour and glory. Mr. Fong had many deeply interesting conversations with individuals, and was much cheered by the results of their work.

CANTON DISTRICT.

The Rev. J. Grundy says that "progress stands out unmistakably" in reviewing the year's work in his wide district. There have been thirteen adult baptisms during the year, and six children, making a total of 121 baptized Christians. The preaching-hall at Kong-Moon, fitted up by the literati to resemble the mission-chapel, and used for the preaching of the moral maxims of the "Sacred Edict," has given birth to many others in this part of Kuan-Tung. Indeed, Mr. Grundy says, almost every large town that a Missionary has visited has now one or more of them. There have been five adult baptisms at Kong-Moon, three of them Natives of an island on the West River delta, about twelve miles from Kong-Moon. At Hok-Shan there is a congregation of thirty members, sixteen being communicants. Some of these have to walk ten miles to be present at the Sunday services, but they do attend. At Tung-On, a schoolmaster has been baptized, the first-fruits of the place. At a market-town fifteen miles from Tung-On lives an old man named Poon, who has been a believer four years. He has two wives, the second married thirty-five years since, and Mr. Grundy on this account has hitherto, with some misgivings, deferred his baptism. He has been an opium-smoker for the last forty years, Mr. Grundy says, "but he is hale and hearty, with a kind face and a clear mind."

WESTERN KWAN-TUNG.

Hospital patients from 300 villages.

The Rev. W. Light and Dr. E. G. Horder have resided at PAKHOI. The Hospital was opened in August, and by the end of the year 3639 out-patients were treated, besides 312 surgical operations performed. The patients treated represented 300 villages and towns, some travelling even a thousand li (330 miles) for treatment. Services were held daily, morning and evening, by the catechist. Dr. Horder says of this catechist, whose name is Ho :—

> I am most thankful for such a willing, good-hearted and whole-hearted worker; never a murmur or a grumble, but works on the whole day most cheerfully. He is one of the men I trained in Hong-Kong, being formerly in the college under Mr. Ost. He accompanied me here two years ago.

PROVINCE OF FUH-KIEN.

THE educational work of this province has been under the Revs. R. W. Stewart and C. Shaw. To the Committee's great regret, Mr. Stewart has been obliged, on account of his health, to come home, and his place at the College has been taken by the Rev. L. Lloyd. Archdeacon Wolfe, and the Revs. W. Banister and J. Martin, superintend the districts, eleven in number. Dr. B. Van Someren Taylor has come to England on furlough.

Theological College.

During the latter half of last year Mr. Stewart was compelled, through illness, to give up teaching in the Theological College. His place was taken by the Native assistant, Mr. Chio, a man of great intelligence and a Chinese scholar, who has been associated with the College for eight years, first as a student, and afterwards as chief instructor in Chinese literature. The senior student has been appointed catechist in Lo-Nguong, his native district. Mr. Stewart says of him :—

A student's knowledge of the Scriptures

> His knowledge of the Scriptures was quite remarkable: he could find in a moment, generally at once giving chapter and verse, almost any passage in the New and the greater part of the Old Testaments; nor was it needful to give him the exact words of the verse to be found, the general meaning of it was sufficient.

And Mr. Shaw says, "I loved him as a brother. I seldom met with any one who had a better knowledge of the text of his Bible." A gathering of old pupils was held during the assembly of the Native Provincial Council, when seventy sat down to a feast, grace being said by the first of their members who had been ordained. Mr. Stewart says :— Gathering of old pupils.

There were several absentees from illness, and others have passed away to a higher work during these ten years; but all reckoned would give the respectable average of eight per annum who have stood the test of the College course, and been deemed spiritually and intellectually worthy of employment.

The students, of whom there were seven at the close of the year, go out preaching three times weekly, usually going two and two. A preaching-chapel has been rented for this purpose at Siong-Fo, about one mile from the College, and at this place Mr. Shaw met with a sad, but too real, illustration of Native Roman Catholicism.

One day while I was speaking I observed two men who seemed to pay more attention than the others. When I had finished speaking I entered into conversation with them. I asked them if they knew anything about the "doctrine." They said they were Roman Catholics, and that their ancestors for three generations back had believed this doctrine, and had worshipped the one true God. I then asked them if they kept Sunday. They said, "No." I further asked them if they prayed. They said when they had time they repeated prayers, using the expression for prayer that is used by the Buddhist priests, but that some days when very busy they did not pray, and then they made up for it the next day when they had leisure. They asked me if our Christ and theirs were the same, and seemed to know a great deal more about the Virgin Mary and St. Peter than they did about Jesus. Poor people, one cannot help but feel sorry for them: they get very little instruction, and are very little better, if any, than the heathen. One cannot help but feel indignant with their so-called spiritual guides; and yet it is fashionable now with many to speak in most glowing terms of the work done by the Roman Catholic Mission, and to speak disparagingly of Protestant Missions. I need hardly say that people who do so are strangers to the knowledge of God's love in Christ Jesus themselves. Truly, "the natural man understands not the things of the Spirit, for they are spiritually discerned." A Native Roman Catholic.

The Boys' Boarding School has kept up in numbers, and Mr. Shaw says :— Boys' Boarding School.

I am sure there is no more interesting work any man could have to do than to teach these dear boys. Five of them are just verging on manhood; they are fine fellows, both intellectually, physically, and, I trust, spiritually too. I have no doubt that with God's blessing they will be very useful to our Fuh-Kien Church. The boys have been reading some of the Epistles and Gospels, part of the Old Testament, Scripture History, writing, and their own classics. For the greater part of the year the work has been divided between the three Native masters and myself. The progress of the boys has been good. At their examination a few weeks ago they all did very creditably, and the examiners all expressed themselves as well pleased with the attainments of the boys. During the year we have had a few cases of serious illness in the school; but, thank God, no deaths; and one could not but be thankful to see how very patiently and lovingly some of the boys always helped to wait on the sick ones. We have had upwards of thirty boys in the school (this includes a few day-school boys).

In the Bible Women's Training School twenty-one women have been under training, and six have returned to their own districts.

Girls' Boarding School.

The Girls' Boarding School, under the management of Miss Bushell, of the Female Education Society, is mainly supported by subscriptions from the foreign community. The highest number of girls in the school during the year was fifty-six, nearly all children of Christians in the Fuh-Kien Province. Their ages are from ten to nineteen, and they are taught to read the Bible in their own dialect, to write the Native character, also arithmetic and geography, and to do household work.

Country schools.

The number of the Country Schools has again been increased. In 1885 there were 24 with 280 scholars, in 1886 there were 74, with 132 scholars; last year there were 87 schools, and 1176 scholars. Of those examined by Mr. Shaw in the Lieng-Kong, Lo-Nguong, and Hok-Chiang districts, about one-fourth passed. Mr. Stewart says:—

A schoolgirl leading her parents to Christ.

Nor must we wait till these children have grown up to expect a blessing, most certainly not; God can and does save the souls of children in China, as He does of their brothers and sisters in England. At one school that I recently visited, an interesting young girl among the pupils, who had come in as a heathen to learn to read, was there led to decide for Christ, and has now not only joined the visible Church herself, but has brought her father and mother with her, and the whole family have been baptized. How much good this girl may do in the future no one can say, for she has recently been betrothed to one of our most trusted young Native helpers, himself a pupil from our Fuh-Chow Boys' Boarding-school, and as his wife she will have a wide sphere of usefulness.

Of the work in the Districts under the several Native Church Councils, Archdeacon Wolfe reports of Fuh-Chow, Lieng-Kong, Lo-Nguong, and Hok-Chiang; Mr. Stewart and Mr. Shaw report of Hing-Hwa; Mr. Banister, of Ku-Cheng, Kiong-Ning, Iong-Ping, and Ping-Nang. Mr Martin's report of Fuh-Ning and Ning-Taik has not been received.

The work in the FUH-CHOW district, including the two towns of Au-Kwang and Ming-Kaing, Mr. Wolfe says, has been most discouraging, four of the stations having been without catechist for the greater part of the year, and the best and ablest of all the catechists, Wong Si Tong, having died in October. He would have been presented for ordination in November had his life been spared. Night preaching was begun at the close of 1886 in the city churches. They were filled every night, chiefly by the shopkeepers and others of the immediate neighbourhood, who could not attend in the day-time. The Archdeacon begs the earnest prayers of the Society for the great city of Fuh-Chow.

Prayer asked for Fuh-Chow City.

The LIENG-KONG district is one of the largest and most important in the entire prefecture, but it has not received a proportionate measure of attention. In some of its most populous parts the voice of the Christian missionary has never yet been heard. Mr. Wolfe says, "In the city of Lieng-Kong, a church, school, and parsonage have been recently built by means of help from the W. C. Jones Fund, and the congregation is growing in zeal and increasing in numbers." Here, too, night preaching has been carried on with marked success, as the people seem to prefer attending in the night. In the Ma-pe pastorate about forty men and women have been recently baptized. At Tau-ka, the church, which holds 100, is too small. At Pwo-Kau, a large village in the Lieng-Kong pastorate, there is now a congregation of seventy, where three years ago there was not a single Christian. A-Kiong has been reoccupied (it was occupied for one year fifteen years ago), and there are nearly forty attendants at the church.

Night preaching.

There has been a considerable improvement in the LO-NGUONG district; the work has been without striking incidents, but quiet and good. "The Church Council Meetings have been well attended and deeply encouraging," Mr. Wolfe writes. The Rev. Sia Seu-Ong has been transferred to Ku-Cheng, and a catechist, Ho Seu-Hok, has taken his place. In the A-Chia pastorate over twenty have been baptized. New churches have been built at Wong-Pwong and at Kang-Keng.

The largest number of Christians and inquirers are in the HOK-CHIANG district, and the Archdeacon sees, in spite of much ignorance, much cause for thankfulness and gratitude to God. There has been a considerable increase in the number of catechumens, and stations hitherto barren have suddenly sprung into importance. The Honga pastorate, e.g., has had to be divided into two on this account. Mr. Wolfe concludes his review with words of hope and an appeal for prayer:—

There is truly a great work going on in this important but devil-bound country, and in the midst of murder, oppression, and superstition and wickedness of all sorts, the Healer has been going through the country, and the Balm of Gilead has been applied to many sin-sick souls. Weary and heavy-laden men and women have heard the voice of Jesus, and that voice has given them life from the dead. It is a gradual growth, this extension of Christianity in the midst of so much that is antagonistic to its divine and heavenly nature, but it is working here like the leaven, and though we shall not live to see it, we are as sure as that God has said it that it will transform this whole mass into its own likeness and nature. What we want now, I again and again repeat it, is a strong and well-trained band of Native teachers filled with the Holy Ghost, then indeed we might expect to see thousands upon thousands flocking to Christ, and idolatry and all its attendant evils and abominations disappearing from off the face of this falsely-styled "Celestial Land." "Rome was not built in a day," and we must have patience in the building up of a greater kingdom than Rome, viz. the Kingdom of Heaven, which is like a grain of mustard seed which a man took and sowed in his field, and like the leaven which the woman took and hid in three measures of meal till the whole was leavened. The expansive and the transforming power of Christianity are present here, but their development is gradual and progressive. We shall see it after many days. Blessed is he that shall not make haste. The promise is sure, and the faith that grasps it is the faith that conquers. "Cast down, but not in despair," was the experience of the greatest, the most successful missionary that ever lived for Christ. It is truly the experience of every true-hearted missionary still. Pray for us, that the Word of the Lord may have free course soon, and that it may be glorified here in Fukien, as it is in happy, happy England.

The HING-HWA district is to the south of Fuh-Chow, and being in the neighbourhood of a strong American Mission, the Committee did not see their way to station a European missionary there, preferring to strengthen the Society's forces towards the north and west. The local Missionary Conference were therefore disposed to withdraw the Chinese agents also. A few converts in the neighbouring district of 'Ing-Cheng were handed over to the American brethren, their dialect being entirely different from that spoken either in Fuh-Chow or Hing-Hwa. Mr. Stewart relates the sequel :—

Converts at Hing-Hwa undertake support of catechists.

We had some intention of dealing in like manner with the nearer district of Hing Hua; and with tears in our eyes, for we felt somewhat like shepherds deserting their sheep, we made known to the converts our determination, and even went so far as to make preparations for the removal of our catechists; but the converts followed the men, brought back their luggage, and compelled them to return with them, promising themselves to provide their entire salaries if we only would allow the men to remain. This we have agreed to do for the present, trusting we shall have the Society's sanction for it; and I feel sure your hearts will be filled with gratitude, as ours are, that there is so much vital Christianity in that densely populated district. When men agree to support their own catechists from their own pockets, especially when those men are Chinamen, one may be pretty sure there is something real in their profession. If the converts are able to carry out their engagements, the only expense of working the district that will fall on the Society will be the salary of the head-catechist, Mr. Ting, and if this district be coupled to the Hok Chiang district, from which it is distant but one day's journey, the missionary in charge of the one can very well look after the other.

In travelling through Hing Hua I came upon many encouraging signs. In more than one place good houses have been given to us rent-free for chapels, and the station which was foremost in persuading the catechists to remain, and undertaking to provide the necessary funds, has a history that interested me much.

For years there had been but little encouragement there; however, a few attended the services, more or less regularly, and among them was one whose eyesight began to fail him from some disease in the eyes. The catechist advised him to go to Dr. Grant's hospital, in connexion with the Amoy Mission. However, his heathen mother and friends would not hear of it; "Those foreign doctors," said they, "will do all kinds of dreadful things to you, and will perhaps take out your eyes altogether." However, the disease increased till the man was all but blind; but by that time he had gained sufficient confidence in the catechist that he yielded at length, acted on his advice, and visited the hospital. There the good doctor and his assistants, while curing his eyes, spoke words that went to the man's heart; he returned to his native place, and since then has worked bravely and faithfully among his neighbours and friends, telling them everywhere he goes of the great Saviour he has found; and on my passing through there was an attentive congregation of about forty fine-looking men. The poor fellow's great sorrow was that his mother would have nothing to do with the new doctrine. I visited his home when there, but she seemed quite determined. However, a little while ago news reached me that she had yielded to her good son's persuasions.

A Medical Mission convert.

Of the FUH-NING and NING-TAIK districts no account has been rendered. A few extracts from a letter of Dr. B. Van S. Taylor, describing a tour which he took northward from Fuh-Ning to a fishing village of Sang-Soa, "breaking up new ground," as he said, may be quoted:—

I stayed the first night at Chang Ngwa, a village about nine miles from here, situated on the sea-coast, with about 200 souls. I was glad I did so, for I found the people very polite, not merely willing to listen, but to buy books, i.e. gospels and tracts. A few also came for medicines.

And here I came across a man, which shows us that, though we may not see much fruit from our labours, yet that the truth is sinking into men's hearts. He was the apprentice of an old patient of the hospital. This old patient was a friend of one of our Christians who had been brought in by the medical work. At the Christian's house he had come across a Bible, and had evidently read Genesis, for two remarks that he made showed us that he not merely had read it, but remembered it. Turning to the catechist, he asked, "What was the name of that man who built that boat when all the world was destroyed by water?" and a little after, "How was it men in those days lived so many years?" These, of course, were only questions, but from them we were able to speak of Christ and eternal life.

The hien, or county, of KU-CHENG, is one of the largest in the Fuh-Chow prefecture, and is likely, on account of its mineral wealth, to become important in the near future. The neighbourhood is mountainous, and the people, while intelligent, are rugged like their mountain homes. More Mission labourers, Mr. Banister says, have been supplied by this district than by any of the other ten. In the early months of last year a house was built for Mr. Banister on a hill close to the city of Ku-Cheng. The ostensible owner of the site had to look up the deeds, and the first was found to go back to the Ming dynasty, 200 or 300 years ago. The investigation, however, brought the fact to light that the father of the occupier had sold the land, and that the actual owners were the trustees of an idol hwoi. These gentlemen, literary men though they were, were willing to sell the idol property to the Christian Church, and accordingly "the name of the idol hwoi and the Christian hwoi appear side by side in the deed." According to Chinese custom, the completion of the building had to be celebrated by a feast, and on Mr. Banister's birthday, May 31st, 120 guests were entertained. He says:—

The title-deeds of the Mission property.

A house-warming at Ku-Cheng.

We began by singing, "All people that on earth do dwell," with little tune, it is true, and amidst the deafening noise of fire-crackers. Leng Mi then read the 103rd Psalm, which I felt was very appropriate to our little gathering; then followed a most earnest prayer from Mr. Chiong, or, as Bishop Moule would say, "Mr. Chapter," and afterwards a speech from myself, followed by Mr. Chiong and Lieng Leng Mi. We then sang "He leadeth me," for I truly felt that it was by God's leading that we were there that day. There was much exultation in the two speeches by the Natives, Mr. Chiong comparing the condition of Ku-Cheng twenty years ago with the present, and drawing a very encouraging picture.

The day concluded with a lantern exhibition, which gave immense satisfaction.

One result of being thus recognized as an inhabitant of Ku-Cheng has been the reception of many visitors. During the festival of the "Dragon Boats" in June, the house was besieged for several days by a restless crowd, all anxious to see the foreigners and their house.

"Christian tea."

All the visitors were supplied with tea; but some of the women declined to drink the "Christian tea," although they had come through the hot summer sun, and arrived panting and thirsty from their walk up the hill. It is a common superstition that if they drink "Christian tea," they must become Christians themselves.

The year has been remarkable for the number of graduates in this district who have been inquirers after the truth :—

Graduate inquirers.

At Wong Pah, in the Ping Nang district, a graduate of the second degree, Kü Ing, has been an inquirer for some months, and was anxious to be baptized, but was hindered by the fact that he had heard that his name had been given out at Fuh-Chow for appointment as a literary examiner near Amoy, when he would, like Naaman the Syrian, have to bow down in the name of his master, the Emperor of China, before the idol shrine, and this would be inconsistent with his profession as a Christian. At the city church there have been three graduates, inquirers, all opium-smokers; we were very hopeful concerning two of them, who seemed to be really in earnest; two military graduates of the same surname, Ling, whose fathers were ringleaders when the Ku-Cheng church was destroyed in our departed brother Mahood's time. One of them has, I am sorry to say, fallen back, but the other remains steadfast, and will be baptized, we trust, after a little longer probation. The third, a literary graduate, made brave efforts to break away from the opium, but after suffering much, he yielded in the struggle, and became again a victim to this terrible vice. There is another graduate candidate for baptism at Nga Yong, a town about six miles away. I spent last Sunday there, and was much pleased with this young man. He has studied his Bible, and gave very intelligent answers to questions I put to the little congregation assembled for Sunday worship.

MID-CHINA MISSION.

KIANG-SU PROVINCE: Shanghai, 1845.
CHEH-KIANG PROVINCE: Ningpo, 1848; Hang-chow, 1861; Shaou-hing, 1870.

Mr. Wigram's visit.

THE Honorary Secretary and Mr. Edmund Wigram spent twenty busy days, from May 7th to 27th, visiting the several stations of this Mission and the San Po plain, accompanied by Archdeacon Moule. They were deeply encouraged and interested, especially by what they saw of the work of the Ningpo Native pastors, with their large areas of supervision, the College under the Rev. J. C. Hoare, and Dr. Duncan Main's Hospital at Hang-Chow.

Bishop Moule's return.

Bishop Moule reached Shanghai at the end of May, just in time to see Mr. Wigram and his son before they sailed for Japan. The Bishop has written an Annual Letter to the Committee, as usual, in which he says:—

Our voyage, from April 7th to May 21st, was the most comfortable we have ever made, though saddened for us by the parting with six of our seven children, a larger proportion than we have ever before had to "forsake" for Christ. Very grateful we shall be for prayer on their behalf, that we may receive them all "a hundredfold now in this present time" by conversion and dedication to the Lord. One of the six is on her way to join us as a volunteer missionary to women and girls. I trust the Lord has accepted her (and so given her to us a hundredfold more precious). One is in Oregon, one a merchant sailor, and three are at school at Canterbury; of whom two sincerely wish to be missionaries to China in due time—Orate ergo pro illis, Amici.

At Shanghai we found my dear brother, the Archdeacon, full of work, with his dear wife, and with many encouraging tokens round them, particularly in the hearty sympathy and friendship of Mr. and Mrs. Hodges at the Deanery.

My dear brother and sister, with their large party of children—six round the table every day—excited my envy a little. We little thought that in a few weeks the subtraction of the youngest—sweet, bright little Robbie—would darken all their cheer. But so it was.

During our ten days with them we had the great satisfaction of seeing Mr. Wigram and his son, who came from Ningpo a day or two after our arrival, and were able to stay a couple of days more with us.

The blessing conferred by our Lord on the wide mission-field by giving Mr. Wigram and his good son the will and power to make their tour of the globe cannot possibly, I think, be exaggerated. How often, during my thirty years, have I longed for such a visit! I thank God I did not wholly miss it, and that it was paid by a man of sympathy so deep and large as our beloved Honorary Secretary. Yes, the C.M.S., or Hing Chiao Hwey of the Church of England, is a much more real thing for our Native brethren than it was, or could be before, for the presence among them, though but for a day, of those two kind and true representatives.

Death of Mrs. Russell.

This Mission has been called upon to surrender a dearly loved and conspicuous, though unobtrusive, worker, by the death of Mrs. Russell. She was taken to Ningpo at the age of fourteen by her adoptive mother, Miss Aldersey, and was married to the Rev. W. A. Russell (afterwards Bishop) in 1852. After her husband's death, in 1879, she continued at her work among the Native women of Ningpo, until she passed to her heavenly rest on August 25th last. Archdeacon Moule writes :—

> Oh, how we shall miss her! A link with the long gone past; a loving sympathizer with the newest recruit; loving and sympathizing with the Chinese; one who, without Chinese dress or food or house, was, I believe, nearer to the Chinese heart than almost any one in China; a perfect speaker of the colloquial, and with a minute knowledge of the customs of the people; possessing, above all, an all-conquering desire to make the beloved name of her Saviour known and loved. When shall we look on her like again? When will our bereaved Ningpo Mission cease to feel the long pain of such a loss?

Reinforcements.

Two whose names were mentioned in last year's Report as likely to go out in the then ensuing autumn, viz. the Rev. C. J. F. S. Symons, B.A., of St. John's College, Cambridge, and Miss Vaughan, daughter of the Rev. James Vaughan, joined the Mission in December. The Committee have since had the pleasure of sending out the Rev. W. S. Moule, B.A., of Corpus Christi College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, son of Archdeacon A. E. Moule, and nephew of Bishop Moule; and Miss Agnes L. Wright, daughter of the Society's beloved and lamented Honorary Secretary, the late Rev. Henry Wright.

SHANGHAI.

The year has been one of exceptional mortality at Shanghai; no less than eight of the little company of baptized believers, six of them adults and communicants, connected with the Society having died during last year's hot season. The Committee heard with deep sympathy that to the sorrow of parting from their spiritual children was added to Archdeacon and Mrs. A. E. Moule the deep trial of losing for a while their own little one, the youngest of their family.

But the year has also been one of outward peace and of exceptional prosperity, as compared with previous years, in the number of baptisms. The Archdeacon says :—

Celebration of the Queen's Jubilee at Shanghai.

> There have been no hostile demonstrations on the part of the Chinese, rather the reverse; and hundreds of thousands of them flocked together to witness the celebration of the Jubilee of England's great queen, if with no feelings of loyalty and devotion such as English hearts experienced, certainly with much friendly interest. It afforded a strong testimony to the law-abiding character of the people, that not a single police case came forward for investigation on the morning following the illuminations and Jubilee processions and no serious accident occurred to mar the scenes.

One of the Chinese magistrates of the Native city, as well as all the foreign ministers and consuls, attended the great Thanksgiving Service in the Cathedral on June 21st, to show their respect and regard for England and her Empress-Queen.

Baptisms.

There were eleven adult baptisms. One of these converts, a small master tailor, not only kept Sunday himself, but paid the wages of his apprentices on Sunday, that they also might observe it. A military graduate, who seemed to be an humble-minded and earnest man, was among the inquirers in December last. Mrs. Moule has five classes in the Native city and in the settlements, in which she instructs Christian women and inquirers. She has been much cheered by several women applying for baptism, among them one, very intelligent and well-to-do, who was a pupil in the Presbyterian Mission-school twenty years ago.

Increased interest of European residents.

Mr. Moule's efforts to excite a deeper interest in missionary work in the European residents at Shanghai have not been ineffectual. He says:—

Several of the leading gentlemen in the banks and chief houses of business, and one legal gentleman also, joined me last spring in tours of inspection and discovery, and they were much interested in observing the very numerous agencies employed by the different Missions at work here.

One of these gentlemen was so much surprised at the number and importance of the varied operations he witnessed that he requested the Archdeacon to prepare a list of them, which he forwarded for publication in the North China Daily News. The list contained thirty-eight agencies connected with five English and six American societies.

Anglo-Chinese School.

Mr. George Lanning reports a successful year at the Anglo-Chinese School. The average attendance has been higher, and the income of the school has not only sufficed to pay all expenses, but left a substantial balance to its credit. The Rev. H. C. Hodges, the chaplain at the cathedral, as well as Archdeacon Moule, assist in the Bible teaching, which is given daily.

PROVINCE OF CHEH-KIANG.

NINGPO.

WITHIN the past two months the staff at Ningpo has been seriously reduced. The Rev. J. Bates, who superintended the evangelistic agencies, and presided over the Native Church Council, has come home, with Mrs. Bates, on furlough; and the Rev. J. H. Morgan, who assisted the Rev. J. C. Hoare in the College, and was hoping upon the arrival of the Rev. W. S. Moule to engage in evangelistic work, has been compelled by failure of health to come to England. Mrs. Russell's death in August has already been referred to.

Mr. Bates, in reporting on the Pastoral Work connected with the two small remote congregations referred to last year, mentions again the Christian Mô-Ts-Sing. Upon his refusing to assist in an idolatrous festival the head-men of his village threatened to pull his house down. He obtained, however, from Ningpo an official copy of a proclamation in favour of Christians, which, posted outside his door, had the effect of restraining his persecutors from open violence. At Loh-kô-bu the congregation has been reduced by death and other causes to one baptized Christian, and a small family of three who are inquirers.

Violence restrained by an official proclamation.

The catechists have pursued their Itinerations among the towns and villages of this populous district. But while some encouragements have been experienced, the reaping time has not yet arrived :—

> The same places are visited over and over again, the same truths are spoken, the same reception is met with, and that is about all we have to tell. It seems oftentimes as if little or no impression were made, and as if the obstacles in the people's prejudices, in their ancient customs, in their inveterate superstitions, were almost impossible to be overcome.

"It seems impossible."

The Theological Class has sent forth three of its four students of 1886; one to Hang-Chow, one to Shanghai, and one to Tai-Chow in the itinerating band. The fourth remains as assistant in the College; and three new students have joined the class. Mr. Hoare says of the new comers :—

Theological Class.

> It was strange at the commencement of the year to notice the difference in the men: nice, good fellows as they are, the lack of fire and zeal in the new men was at first very noticeable. But I believe that God in His infinite mercy is blessing this class also, and that two of them at least are already aflame with the desire to preach the Word which they have received.

The plan of combining evangelistic work with study has been steadily adhered to, and on the various tours Mrs. Hoare has found in the Native Christian women, where there were any, willing companions in visiting their heathen neighbours. At a great idol festival in Ningpo in December, held in honour of the restoration of the city temple, many thousands heard the Word proclaimed.

The College.

The College has twenty-six students. Two have been received from Shaou-hing and one from Chu-ki, which Mr. Hoare mentions as a feature of encouragement, inasmuch as the College, while sending out trained men to the various stations, has received very little of the "raw material" in return. Mr. Hoare also draws attention to a fact of great importance, which proves the increasing regard of the Native Christians for education very conclusively. He says:—

> Ten years ago the boys were fed and clothed entirely at the Society's expense, one boy's attendance was actually paid for; now each boy is required to pay $6 a year, and to find his own clothes. Thus an additional burden of some $10 per boy has been imposed upon the Natives, whilst the Society has been relieved to the same extent. This means an advance of some $200 per annum ($400 on a division) in the expenditure towards self-support on the part of the Native Church.

Day Schools;

Mr. Hoare attaches great importance to the Day Schools. From the registers of the past seven years, during which the schools have varied in number from eight to ten, he has ascertained that 439 boys have received an education in them. Of these ninety-eight were baptized before entering, and fifty-two were baptized either during or after their school course. But the value of the schools as a means of strengthening the Native Church is perhaps even greater than their importance as an evangelistic agency. Mr. Hoare says:—

their value as an evangelistic agency, and as strengthening the Native Church.

> In the Ningpo district there are not now half a dozen Christian boys of suitable age who do not come to our schools. Without it the boys would practically grow up as heathen, and we have one terribly sad instance of a village where Christianity has died out; the untaught sons of the late Christians having grown up as heathen. With it they in most cases maintain their ground, and prove active zealous members of the Church. But I feel that we have not yet seen more than a fraction of the results of the schools. Already we have had the sons of heathen coming back after some years to ask for baptism, and I believe that we shall see many more. "Our boys," I have known it said by heathen parents, "are quite different now that they attend your school; they will not join in the idol-worship, but they are certainly better behaved than they were." And we should not be surprised that this is the case. We ought to look for fruit now and in the future. Not a boy leaves the schools without a knowledge (in most cases a very good knowledge) of the Gospel story, and the story of the Cross has the same power here that it has had everywhere to draw men to Christ.

These marked results are traced by Mr. Hoare to three causes, and he must be allowed to describe them in his own terse and convincing way :—

1. The use of the Roman character in all the schools. Every boy is made to learn it; the result is that every boy can read his New Testament, with a fair quantity of other Christian books. Without the use of the Roman character it is very seldom that a boy of twelve or thirteen, the age at which the boys usually leave school, can really profitably use his Chinese Testament. 2. The method of Scripture teaching. From the first all little catechisms and aids to Scripture have been excluded from the schools, for there is a great tendency amongst the Chinese simply to commit such books to memory without considering the meaning. The Scripture teaching has been direct from Scripture itself, given catechetically, and the Scripture which the boys learn by heart they are always made to explain. The result has been that the knowledge of the boys has often amazed me. Each year they are all examined vivâ voce in one Gospel at least, and I never hesitate to ask questions as to the detailed explanation of parables, or the spiritual bearing of what they have learned. Very seldom does it happen that my questions remain unanswered. 3. The fidelity of the masters. Honour to whom honour is due. The masters are not perfect men, but they do, I believe, honestly try to lead the boys to the Saviour, and the result is that there is not a school which has not borne fruit. Glory be to Him who has given the increase! I know that to the minds of some modern missionary theorists such a system of schools is a mistake. It may be a mistake, but if so, let us win the souls of the boys by our foolishness, rather than neglect them for the sake of a theory. I was much struck by a remark of Mr. Valentine's with regard to these schools, which was printed in the last Report: "It may be God's way of saving this people."

"Every boy can read his New Testament."

Scripture-teaching direct from the Bible.

Fidelity of the masters.

"It may be God's way of saving this people."

Mr. Hoare and Mr. Bates have been engaged with a missionary of another Society in the preparation of a version of the New Testament in the Roman character, and more than half of it has been printed. Mr. Hoare has also completed and published (a work of several years) Trench on the Parables, in the Ningpo colloquial. This last has been printed by the College press; and other works are in progress, e.g. "Dwight on Theology," and "Todhunter's Algebra." Some of the boys have been set to print during their leisure hours by way of learning a trade.

Translations.

When Mr. Hoare and Mr. Morgan have been at Ningpo together, they have arranged work so that each should spend half of each week in the College and the other half in itineration. Mr. Morgan's journal of some of these Itinerations is very interesting. In one place he and his companion took their stand by a shrine "delightfully out of repair," and found their text inscribed for them in beautifully-gilded characters above the shrine, "Prayer here will certainly be answered." In a large village, standing upon a bank, they preached to over a hundred attentive listeners, and a funeral procession which was passing stopped to listen, "the hired mourners and other women in their white garments" helping to intensify their sense of the spiritual needs of the people. A few extracts must be given:—

"Prayer here will certainly be answered."

I am now in an upper room of a Chinese house in the village street. The "other side of the way" is about two yards distant. Small boys are shouting just below my window, "Red-bristled foreign devil, come out," &c., &c.; but they are only small boys, while several of the neighbours are with me, and we are arranging for some meetings to be held in the room below during the time I am here, so as to rouse this place, if God wills. . . .

"Only small boys."

Crowded meetings.

The plan was carried out, and during the following fortnight we had the room crammed. The neighbours (all heathen) lent us lanterns, and so the place looked slightly attractive. Here for two or three hours every night we preached to a crowded mass of men, while, as I afterwards discovered, several women crowded into the little kitchen at the side, and sat in the dark to listen to the Gospel. After the preaching I asked any who felt that what they had heard was true to stay behind for prayer. For the first night or two only two or three dared to stay, but before the end of the week we had the joy of kneeling with a dozen of these poor men in prayer to our blessed Lord. I mention this place particularly, as it seems to show, in a small degree may be, but in some degree, the whitening of the harvest so long looked and prayed for by the veterans of this Mission.

May 14th.—"In the early morning we walked to Yiao-kô-p'u, which is about five li distant from our anchorage at Yuing-long-k'yi. As we approached the village some women hurried out, all smiles, saying, 'Oh, red-haired teacher, come in and tell us about Jesus!' We accordingly followed them into the courtyard of their houses, and spent a long time preaching and teaching, and answering questions. Many of them remembered something of a prayer they had heard the year before, and several said they had been praying to Jesus, both men and women. One old lady in particular arrested my attention; she had got into a quiet corner, and, with her hands clasped on her lap, was swaying her body backwards and forwards, repeating the prayer as far as she knew it. We at last had to leave, and, walking round the house to get to the street, were met by this old lady, who had come through a back door, having forgotten part of the prayer, and so we had to spend a few minutes in hearing her repeat it."

"Come in and tell us about Jesus."

May 27th.—"In the morning we went to Yiao-kô-p'u, where we found the people not so disposed to listen as at our last visit. . . . The people seemed to have been incited against foreigners. . . . Several took S— aside, and asked him, 'Now, do tell us what he (meaning myself) does with people's livers and eyes after he has taken them out?' He expostulated with them against this stupid rumour, and told them plainly that it was the recent visit of a party of monks which explained their coldness towards the truth. 'I,' said he, 'would rather go to heaven with a foreigner than to hell with a monk; but I want to go to heaven with you my fellow-countrymen.' . . ." "I want to go to heaven with you."

The pathos of Mr. Morgan's conclusion is heightened by the fact that he himself has most unwillingly been obliged to come home. He says:—

There is much to sadden one, to give one a heartache and a headache too, as one moves among these villages. The ignorance, the filth, the sin and wretchedness are appalling. People at home little know what a "land of darkness" means when they apply the phrase to China. It is not the darkness pregnant with thunder and terrible deeds, as in Africa, or the sway of a subtle philosophy, as in some parts of India, which one comes in contact with among these poor people; but a still, heavy cloud of gloomy blackness, which seems sometimes immovable and eternally fixed, fraught with every noisome form of sin. But the Lord our God is working, and ours is the privilege of holding forth the word of life and light amid all this death and darkness. Looking back upon the itineration as a whole, however, there is much to cheer and fill one with hope. The readiness with which the people listen, and the ease with which one can go among them, seem to speak and rebuke one's little faith. The fields are ripening, prejudice is breaking down, and the superiority of Christianity is acknowledged by many who yet cling to their old superstitions. When one thinks of the millions of China, and of the readiness of so many of them to be taught, or to send their children to Christian schools, and then of the few missionaries sent by the Church to this land, and the very few schools yet in existence, it does seem as though the Word had gone forth, "The field is ripe, enter and reap," and the answer goes up, "There are no reapers, except for one little corner of the field."

The darkness of China unlike that of Africa and India.

SHAOU-HING.

The Rev. J. D. Valentine presented two candidates, a young man and a young woman, to Bishop Moule for confirmation on Advent Sunday. They belonged to two families of Christians of the third generation, and each has a brother in the Ningpo College. Mr. Valentine had baptized the grandmother of the one, and the grandfather of the other, and within the past two years he has buried them both. He says, "Thus, in these two young people and their relatives we see some of the fruit of our somewhat unfruitful ministry in this place." A Church Committee was formed, and a Communicants' Prayer Meeting started during last year, so that the stakes are being strengthened, and ere long, the Committee continue to hope, the cords will be lengthened, and Mr. Valentine will no longer cry, as he does, "Lord, how long?"

"Lord, how long?"

Bishop Moule has again taken up his residence in Hang-

Chow, but the Committee regret to learn that for fully six weeks during the first four months after his return in June he suffered from illness. The Rev. A. Elwin has the charge of Chu-ki; the Rev. G. W. Coultas undertakes the evangelization work along the main river, with the charge of Pondhead and Fu-yang on its banks; and the Rev. J. H. Horsburgh, anticipating a change of location, has applied himself to the study of the language, taking part in services and classes and itinerating as opportunities occurred. Dr. Duncan Main, assisted by Dr. H. Hickin, conducts the Hospital work.

Defections at Hang-Chow.

"The year has been one of much discouragement," the Bishop writes. Fifteen communicants have been lost in Hang-Chow and out-stations through defection and (in two cases) gross immorality. The senior catechist, alas! was one of the deserters. He has written to the Bishop, acknowledging his fault, and requesting prayer, that "he might not finally lose the crown of righteousness." Several of the others showed signs of repentance when the Bishop wrote in December. No lack of zeal is shown by the two Native agents Nyi and John Tai. Of the former, Mr. Horsburgh writes:—

Outline of sermon by a Native catechist.

Nyi continues to be such a true helper. Everything he does he does with so much heart, and his sermons are always good, and, what is more, interesting. Here is an outline of one:—"Text: 'Jesus went into the borders of Tyre and Sidon' (St. Mark vii. 24).

"First,—History of Tyre and Sidon, with appropriate allusions to Ham; Worship of Moloch, Solomon's wives, Jezebel; the Day of Judgment. Two or three times the cities were invaded, and afterwards burnt.

"Secondly,—Jesus' visit to Tyre and Sidon. The only time He went into a foreign country (excepting to Egypt as a child). What exceptional grace to Tyre and Sidon; He went for the sake of one, and that one a woman. He did not despise women. And he had in view the salvation of souls. For cf. Acts xxi. 3—6. We find there were earnest Christians at Tyre, men, women, and children. How were they converted? Some one must have gone there to preach, and at the name of Jesus the people would say, 'Jesus! oh yes, we know Him. He came here once, and healed a poor child who was terribly afflicted. We should like to hear more of Him.' And so many believed.

"Thirdly: Application,—Jesus has come to China. The Buddhists have come to darken, the merchants to obtain our riches, the opium to destroy,—but Jesus has come to heal, to save, to bless. He would have come just for you, my brother, a poor illiterate man may be; or for you, my sister, even though you are a woman. Do you, my friends, forget about others for the moment, and say, 'I am the woman of Canaan, I am the poor child; Jesus has come to China to heal me, to save me.' Only, if you have the woman of Canaan's blessing, you must have her humility, her faith."

The Hospital is, the Bishop says, "the bright spot of the Mid-China Mission." But no Annual Letter has been received from either Dr. Main or Dr. Hickin. "The bright spot of the Mission."

At Chu-ki, the two worst cases of defection occurred. But Mr. Elwin says there are twelve applicants for baptism in the district, which he visited several times during the year.

JAPAN MISSION.

Kiu-shiu, 1869; Osaka, 1874; Tokio, 1874; Hakodate, 1874.

THE promise of early and abundant fruit which Japan gave to the pioneer Protestant missionaries who took first advantage of its half-opened ports is being realized. Last year over 4300 new converts, most of them adults, were baptized in connexion with the different Missions, being an addition of about one-third to the total number of baptized Protestant adults in the country. The share which the C.M.S. has taken in this work has been but a very humble one, but the Committee are thankful to observe that the same large measure of blessing which has been awarded to the work as a whole has been graciously vouchsafed also to the part which is administered by them. At Rapid spread of the Gospel.

the various stations and out-stations of the Society's Mission 229 adults were baptized during last year, which is slightly over one-third the number of baptized Christians, viz. 665, connected with the Society at the close of 1886. The number at the end of 1887 was 923, besides whom there were 175 catechumens. The communicants have increased from 336 to 492. Progress has been experienced at each of the four main centres of the Society's operations, viz. at Nagasaki, Osaka, Tokio, and Hakodate; but it has been most marked in the southern island of Kiu-shiu, where, in some districts, large numbers have intelligently, and, so far as can be judged, with true purpose of heart, sought admission into the fold of Christ.

The Hon. Secretary's visit.

The Rev. F. E. Wigram's visit to the islands of Japan was one of very special interest to himself. He and his son landed at Nagasaki on May 29th, at Osaka on June 8th, at Yokohama for Tokio on June 21st, at Hakodate on June 26th, and on July 13th they sailed from Yokohama for Victoria. Not only were all the principal stations and their varied agencies carefully, though rapidly, inspected, but several of the more important out-stations were also visited. By steamboat, "jinricksha," and "basha" (a kind of wagonette), Kumamoto and Saga in the southern island, Fukuyama and Fuchiu, outposts from Osaka, and Horobetsu, Mr. Batchelor's station among the Ainus, were all reached, and the general conclusion arrived at was expressed in one of Mr. E. Wigram's letters:—"The harvest has never been so great, and the labourers are still so few, so that it is still indeed, 'Pray ye, therefore.'"

Additions to the staff.

The Revs. P. K. Fyson and W. Andrews have come home on furlough. On the other hand, the Committee have sent out two additions to the staff, viz. the Rev. Walter Weston, M.A., of Clare College and Ridley Hall, Cambridge, late Curate of St. John's, Reading; and the Rev. W. P. Buncombe, B.A., Cambridge (unattached), late Curate of St. Paul's, Bristol. And the Committee hope further to send out this year the Rev. C. F. Warren, to his former post of Secretary of the Mission, Mrs. Warren's death after a long illness having opened the way for his return; also Miss Katharine Tristram, Mathematical Lecturer at Westfield College, Hampstead, daughter of Canon Tristram, to take advantage of the openings for educational missionary work among the ladies of Japan.

Ordination.

Bishop Bickersteth admitted Mr. J. Batchelor to deacon's orders at Tokio on December 18th.

The Bishop has come to England for the Lambeth Conference.

The Rev. H. Evington is Acting-Secretary of the Mission.

NAGASAKI AND KUMAMOTO.

Archdeacon Maundrell and the Revs. A. B. Hutchinson and J. B. Brandram have divided the island of Kiu-shiu, for evangelistic purposes, amongst them. The Archdeacon has charge of the work at Nagasaki and at the important town of Kagoshima, the capital of the province of Satsuma, at the south-west of the island; Mr. Hutchinson, also residing at Nagasaki, superintends the rapidly developing work at Saga and Chikuzen, to the north-west of the island; and Mr. Brandram seeks to make Christ known in the central province of Higo, and the south-eastern one of Huiga, from Kumamoto as a centre, where, with Miss Brandram, his sister, he has taken up his abode. The death of Miss Harrison, missionary of the C.E.Z.M.S., after less than a year's residence at Nagasaki, was a great disappointment to the brethren. Division of work.

In October the first meeting of the Kiu-shiu Local Council of the "Nippon Sei-Ko-Kai" ("Japan Church") was held at Kumamoto, under the Bishop's presidency. The business of the day was heartily entered into by the Native delegates.

At NAGASAKI a new book-shop has been opened in connexion with the British and Foreign Bible Society, under Mr. Hutchinson's supervision, which will be an additional centre for evangelistic work. It is in the heart of the Native town, Deshima is to the south, and the Shiu-Daiku Machi preaching-place is to the north, so that three well-situated vantage-points for affecting the whole city are now available. New book-shop.

The baptisms have not been numerous, but two or three who left the Mission in previous years have returned. One of those baptized was Kondo San, Mr. Hutchinson's teacher, the fourth teacher who has become a Christian while helping him to learn the language. Mr. Hutchinson says of him :—

> He has resided in France (speaks French) and visited England. With the outward aspect of Romanism he is familiar, and it only seemed to him another form of Buddhism, for which he has great contempt. Even Evangelical Christianity was to him but a new philosophy, until the enmity aroused amongst the residents by my plain speaking from the pulpit last Christmas twelvemonths awoke him to the fact that Christianity means a new life, at enmity with the world, the flesh, and the devil; and so by degrees the truth and Christianity means a new life.

light of Christ dawned upon him. His baptism enhanced the joy of our Christmas festival.

This city has hitherto been the least responsive of the towns of Japan to the message of salvation, which has been addressed to it for a longer time than to any other place by the Society's missionaries. But Archdeacon Maundrell thinks "there is now unmistakable evidence that even Nagasaki is beginning to move, and is about to partake in the onward movement of the rest of the Empire towards Christianity." The official classes are manifesting less indifference to the claims of the Gospel on themselves, and to the social and spiritual advantages it offers to their country. He adds:—

"Even Nagasaki beginning to move."

> One of my present Nagasaki catechumens is a young Government official who was introduced to my notice through the Governor of Nagasaki, as one who was wishing to become a Christian. Another encouraging sign is the way I have been repeatedly visited this year by Buddhist priests. They come sometimes singly, sometimes in twos, sometimes in groups. A few minutes ago seven came, and greatly enjoyed studying minutely Doré's picture of Christ leaving the Prætorium, which is hung up in my sitting room, and some other pictures of the Crucifixion and Ascension of our Lord. And they listened most devoutly to what I said to them of the essential truths of the Gospel which these pictures represent; and I could not help thanking God from my heart, as I stood among them, for their conduct on this occasion, as contrasted with what it used to be a few years ago.

Visits of Buddhist priests.

Sailors' Temperance Institute.

The charge of the Sailors' Temperance Institute devolves upon Mr. Hutchinson. He has put it under the care of one of the Native communicants and his wife, who have carried it on in a way which meets with much praise from those for whom it is intended.

Girls' Boarding School.

There are ten boarders in Mrs. Goodall's Girls' Boarding School. Her eldest boarder, a Satsuma girl, was, early last year, married to a catechist of the S.P.G. at Kobe.

"A hard place."

Kagoshima, although the capital of a province whose people have ruled Japan for centuries, and are still uppermost in its Government, is unoccupied by any foreign missionary. "It is a hard place," Mr. Maundrell says, but the people, i.e. the few Christians and many of the non-Christians also, say they would welcome an English missionary. The place is just putting forth new efforts commercially, after the long paralysis that ensued on the Satsuma rebellion, so that it is just the time, Mr. Maundrell urges, to comply with their desire.

Baptism in Chikuzen.

CHIKUZEN is the north-western province of Kiu-shiu. Mr. Hutchinson baptized the first convert, Tanaka San, in August, 1884. Last October Bishop Bickersteth visited the scattered congregations with Mr. Hutchinson, and confirmed twenty-nine candidates. There are 86 adherents (68 baptized) in the district, of whom 36 are communicants.

Fukuoka, formerly the capital of this province, is a sea-port, two days' journey (about seventy miles) from Nagasaki. Eight were confirmed here in October. Mr. Hutchinson made another visit in December, and wrote:—

Earnest inquirers.

At Fukuoka I was much cheered by finding some eight youths, of ages varying from eighteen to twenty-three, who, with the sanction of their parents, are under instruction as catechumens. They have rented a small house close to our preaching-place, in which to live and study the Scriptures under the guidance of the catechist. They have a set of rules and a time-table to work by. The first rule runs thus—"Every one coming here promises to make the religion of Jesus Christ his chief study, and to live obeying the commands of the Lord;" and the second is, "That each one will do all he can to influence his friends to become Christians."

Half the converts live at Midzuki, some seven or eight miles off, near the famous shrine of Dazaifu, where resides Inouye San, a jinricksha-drawer, who was led to Christ by a picture of the Saviour and the woman of Samaria drawn on a fusuma or sliding door. His family are all baptized, and a neighbour also owes his conversion to his loving testimony. Kotake and Kushinohara, thirty miles from Fukuoka, on opposite banks of a river, presented eleven candidates for confirmation. Onodani is picturesquely situated on the hills, fifteen miles from the last named places, and ten adults, varying in age from thirty-four to sixty-eight years, were confirmed. An ex-Shinto priest and his family have been baptized here, and on the Bishop's visit he presented a table he had specially constructed for use at the services, also two chairs, the first seen in Onodani. In November the Christians were visited by a Native agent of Rome:—

An ex-Shinto priest and his family baptized.

He told them he had heard that there were Christians in Onodani, and had come to inquire if they were descendants of the old Christians, three hundred years ago. Yasuyemon, the delegate to the Kumamoto Council, as spokesman, told him—No: they had been Buddhists, but by God's grace were now Christians. He asked who taught and baptized them, and the reply was that Mr. Maundrell and myself had visited Chikuzen, that our catechist diligently came and taught them, and that I had baptized them. "Ah!" was the reply, "their Church is nearly the same as ours; it is well you are baptized, but if you want to be quite safe you must join ours, which is the only true Church." Yasuyemon answered that, believing the assurances of Christ and His Apostles in the New Testament, they felt quite satisfied as to their salvation. "Ah!" was the rejoinder, "but your religion is the invention of a pestilent heretic named Luther: you are in serious error." "Well," replied our convert, "I have heard his name, but I know very little about him. I never heard that he wrote the New Testament. We hold to that—we read it daily—we believe it—and we don't want anything better than God's Word." Whereupon the troublesome visitor left them.

"We don't want anything better than God's Word."

The province of CHIKUGO is immediately south of Chikuzen. Nakamura San, a newly-appointed catechist, is stationed at Saga, where six candidates were confirmed in October. At Oshima, thirty miles from Saga and thirty from Kumamoto, eight were confirmed. At Oyamada Mr. Hutchinson baptized seventy adults in February last, thirty-nine men and thirty-one women. The story of their being drawn to Christ is a truly remarkable one. It appears that many of the people there were disposed to join in the movement towards Christianity of 1883, but were dissuaded by Buddhists. The abuse and denunciations of the latter against Christianity aroused their curiosity, and the good conduct of a body of Romish converts in a village a few miles away served to disabuse their minds of prejudice. A delegate, Anami San, was sent to Nagasaki, and there he asked to be guided to a missionary. The sign-board of the new book-shop in the centre of the city led him to Mr. Hutchinson, to whom the following written invitation was presented:—

Remarkable movement at Oyamada.

"A request to enter the doctrine.—The people of Oyamada village, in the Chikugo province, 272 in number, send as delegate Arami Morehei, to make a humble request of great England's national Church. They wish respectfully to enter the good doctrine of the perfect, flawless, holy Lord, the Heavenly Father. Please in your heart grant a hearing to this prayer. If you are pleased to listen send at once to this village, and we will henceforth remain your disciples. Nevertheless, the people of this village, being but poor, feel that they are in an easy way making a troublesome request; but, by the grace of the Heavenly Father, please care for us. If so, the people of this place will be made happy by the goodness of the Heavenly Father; therefore we humbly present this request. December 31st, 1887."

"A request to England's Church."

Mr. Hutchinson visited Oyamada in February. He says:—

The village is situated at the foot of a range of steep mountains facing the north, and just then covered with snow. Most of the inhabitants had come out to welcome us, and all the way up the hill it was a succession of introductions. We were most hospitably entertained in the house of the headman (sodai) Anami Morihei San, who had made, at some expense, alterations and additions to his house specially for the comfort of the foreigner, and in view of a series of visits, not only on my part, but ultimately, it is hoped, of the Bishop. This looked like earnestness.

Hospitable reception.

A New Testament had been given to Anami San by Mr. Hutchinson in Nagasaki, and Nakamura San had spent most of the interval amongst them, unfolding its meaning. Accordingly, Mr. Hutchinson, having satisfied himself that they were not actuated by ulterior motives, proceeded to examine them one by one, with the result, as stated above, that seventy adults were accepted for baptism. Mr. Hutchinson must be quoted once more:—

Catechumens.

I cannot attempt to give you full details of so many cases, but one or two answers I must mention that struck me:—"Baptism requires repentance and faith. What evidence have you to offer of repentance?" "Why, I used to worship idols very earnestly, and now I've thrown them all away, and will only worship the true God, Jesus Christ." "What advantage do you hope for in receiving baptism?" "The forgiveness of my sins." "Will the water of baptism wash them away?" "No, my sins are in my heart, that is a sign of their being washed away." "What, then, will wash them away?" "The blood of Jesus Christ shed on the cross." "And who applies that to your heart—can I?" "No, not man; only the Holy Spirit of God."

Two aged men, nearly seventy, unable to read, were very disappointed on the first day that I put them back, notwithstanding their earnestness, for defective knowledge of the Creed, Lord's Prayer, and Ten Commandments. On Saturday afternoon they came again, and told me they had been studying diligently with Yezonye San, meanwhile would I once more examine them? I did so, and very closely, varying my method so as to find out whether they understood what they were about, and to my surprise and gratification they quite satisfied me. They did look happy.

New church at Kumamoto.

Mr. and Miss Brandram are now residing at KUMAMOTO in a Japanese hired house. In August a church was opened to accommodate 150. It had been built from plans by the Native Christians and under their direction. Mr. Brandram says:—

They have subscribed one hundred and fifty dollars; the remainder has been given by kind friends.

A paper recording the date of building, &c., was placed in the roof, in place, I suppose, of our laying the foundation-stone.

Baptisms.

The day before the church opening, I baptized eight adults and three children. Of these, one was my teacher; he has been with me for more than three years. For a long while he was very much opposed to Christianity. He is an able man, and I trust he will be used of God to bring the truth home to many of his countrymen.

The others were a bootmaker, his wife, and two children; the son of the happy old woman I told you of last year, whose happiness, I think, must have reached its height that day; the wife and a pupil of one of our first Christians here; an elderly widow, and my teacher's little daughter. I might mention that I baptized the two elder daughters in the autumn at Nagasaki: they are in Mrs. Goodall's school.

Eighteen were again baptized in October, fifteen men and three women, of whom Mr. Brandram says:—

Soldier converts.

Many of the men are young, and promise to be workers in time to come. They are most of them the sons of tolerably well-to-do people. The father of one was until his death, quite recently, at the head of the leading bank in the city. The two young men who came to me last year with their New Testaments were of the number. One was reached, humanly speaking, through the school for English, of which I hope to speak presently; three were soldiers. I am especially interested in these soldiers, they are all very earnest. They belong to the military hospital. One of them, a private, had, through drink, been continually in disgrace. He was in prison for over a year. His changed life has been the means of blessing to the other two. His time of service has expired, and he has gone back to his native village: the last report of him is that he has hired a temple, and is preaching to the villagers!

The day after their baptism the Bishop confirmed thirty candidates.

The school referred to by Mr. Brandram is one for boys and girls which has been commenced by a committee of the Native Christians, who have engaged a former pupil of Mrs. Goodall as English teacher. Mr. Brandram says of this, and of his work for the officers of the garrison:—

A school established by Native Christians.

Class for officers of the garrison.

The school-hours are from half-past eight to twelve, and from two to half-past five; the last half-hour being always devoted to a Bible-lesson. My sister teaches the girls for an hour, and gives the Bible-lesson, and I do the same for the boys. There are about twenty girls; some of them the children of people of influence. Two judges, two army doctors, and a major, send their children. There are between forty and fifty boys, though really many of them are, properly speaking, young men. There are four Government school teachers amongst them. We shall get at the villages through the influence of these boys. The children's fees pay house-rent, and all current expenses. The management is entirely in the hands of the committee; though our advice is always asked for. I think it may be a great means of strengthening the work. I have also, four times a week, a class for officers of the garrison. Eighteen officers attend—sixteen doctors and two captains. Each time I speak for ten minutes or so on religion. We are going through St. Matthew's Gospel. They have all bought New Testaments, and bring them, and follow the lesson. Both at the schools and at this class the Bible-lessons are given in Japanese.

There are Christians at Yamaga, at Oshima, at a village forty miles east of Kumamoto among the mountains of Huiga (where eight have been baptized led to Christ by a schoolmaster named Koga), and at Nobeoka eighty miles from Kumamoto, where seven young men have been baptized.

OSAKA.

The staff of labourers in Osaka is the same as reported last year.

The Rev. H. Evington, in his capacity as Secretary of the Mission, and in fulfilment of his charge over the out-stations, has spent nearly five months of the year away from Osaka. He reports ninety-one adult baptisms during the year. There are 226 communicants.

Trinity Church, which was formerly in the Foreign Concession, has been removed to the city, and enlarged.

Theological College.

The Theological College, under the Rev. G. H. Pole, has nineteen students; and there are fifty-one boys in the Boys' School, of whom fifteen are boarders. The Rev. G. Chapman gives assistance in the Theological College, and the Rev. T. Dunn, and the Misses Dunn, his daughters, have taken the English classes in the school.

At Fuchiu, Mr. Evington says, "the Christians are all workers, growing in energy and zeal as well as in numbers." At Tokushima the wife of the chief officer of the Inland Revenue department has received baptism. She had first heard the Gospel at Kumamoto from Mr. Brandram, and through her influence the Gospel is being brought to the notice of the wives of officials and other ladies of the upper classes.

TOKIO.

Baptisms at Tokio.

The Rev. J. Williams has been the only missionary of the Society at the capital of Japan, since the Rev. P. K. Fyson's return home. The number of baptized Christians is ninety-four, and forty-one adults were baptized last year, so that the increase has been remarkable. These ninety-four members, moreover, "most of them very poor," as Mr. Williams remarks, have raised a sum of 70*l.* without any foreign help. They show much missionary zeal, accompanying Mr. Williams to the preaching-stations in the city, where they "joyfully and often powerfully testify for Christ." Surely Mr. Williams discloses the secret of this success when he adds:—

Liberality.

Spirit of prayer.

> I am glad to say that the members manifest an intensely prayerful spirit. It is no unusual thing for them to have a week of prayer-meetings, when they feel the need of being stirred up, and this is followed, naturally, by fresh aggressive efforts on the great mass of those who are still "without hope, and without God in the world."

Work has been opened during the year at two centres outside the Treaty limits. At Bo-Shu, fifty miles down the coast, the meetings are held in farm-houses, gladly lent by the owners. There have been several baptisms. At Ko-Nodai, ten miles from Tokio, a number of the Tokio congregation went to reside, and a meeting was begun.

HAKODATE.

The Rev. J. Batchelor has resided at Hakodate since August, when the Rev. W. Andrews left for England. He reports eleven baptisms of Japanese, and he says, "The prospects of the future are more bright and cheerful than I have ever known them to be."

The Rev. Terata, the Native pastor of Hakodate, shortly after his ordination in February last year, visited Kushiro, a new out-station on the coast, 200 miles to the east of Hakodate. Of this expedition he writes:—

New out-station.

> There are two or three families of Christians living in or near Kushiro. They are in connexion with the Episcopal Church in Hakodate, and have only lately come to Kushiro. Only once before has there been a Christian preacher here, and that was last year, and to hear him preach 200 people assembled. During the first week I stayed, every night I held Scripture classes for the benefit of some who were wishing to be baptized before my departure. They had been taught more or less by the other Christians, and I found them eager listeners. About thirteen or fourteen assembled every night. On the Sunday I baptized two men with their wives and one single man, and arranged that there should be service in one of the Christians' houses every Sunday.

Mr. Batchelor has started a good school for the Ainus at Horobetsu, and Kanari Taro, the first Ainu Christian, has been appointed schoolmaster. He has thirteen pupils. Two more Ainus were baptized during last year.

NEW ZEALAND MISSION.

European Missionaries first arrived in New South Wales, 1811; proceeded to New Zealand, 1814; Mission confined to the Northern Island.

DIVISION OF THE MISSION.

I. Diocese of Auckland. II. Diocese of Waiapu. III. Diocese of Wellington.

The Mission Board, which has the charge of the Society's work in the Northern Island of New Zealand, consists of the Bishops of the three dioceses, Auckland, Waiapu, and Wellington; three missionaries of the Society, viz. Archdeacons Clarke and S. Williams and the Rev. R. Burrows; and three laymen. Archdeacon Leonard Williams is the Secretary of the Board. Within the past few months the Committee have had the pleasure of welcoming and conferring with two of the three Episcopal members of the Board, viz. the Bishop of Auckland, and the Bishop of Waiapu, and one of the three lay members, Mr. Frederick Larkins.

Both Bishop Cowie and Bishop Stuart referred, in the observations with which they favoured the Committee, to the increased number of Maori clergymen in their respective dioceses, and also to the liberal contributions of the Maori congregations. In his speech at the Society's Anniversary at Exeter Hall, on May 1st, the Bishop of Waiapu enlarged somewhat on these subjects. He said:—

Voluntary lay readers.

I have in my hand a list containing the names of some fifteen Englishmen who are doing good work, I do not mean in the mission-field, but in reading and in conducting services among their own countrymen, Following their names, there are those of no fewer than 119 Maori lay readers. I am glad to say, especially in view of the serious deficit we are hearing of to-day, that not one of these Maori lay readers has ever drawn a penny of missionary money. There is this distinguishing excellence, I think I may say, of Maori Christianity, that, from the very first, we have never had paid readers or paid catechists in Maoriland; the work they have done is a work they have been glad to do gratuitously. Of course those lay readers are not, except in special and rare instances, evangelists outside their own villages; but they maintain the worship of God, according to the forms of the Church of England, throughout their scattered hamlets. As showing the vitality of the Native Church in New Zealand, I may say that in my diocese there are at present thirty-five churches built by the Maories—I mean, not with their own hands, but with their own money. They generally now-a-days get a plan from an English architect, and employ English labour very often. Of these thirty-five churches, twenty-two have been built within the ten years I have been in the diocese, erected at an

Maori clergy; how supported.

Altogether there have been forty-seven ordained in New Zealand among the Maori race, and at the present time there are nearly thirty of them at work. In my own diocese we have thirteen. There had been several deaths among the Native clergy, which had reduced the number to ten; but just before I left—a week before Christmas—at Waiapu itself I had the joy of ordaining three worthy men. They had been trained in a college belonging to the Church Missionary Society, and conducted by one of our senior missionaries. In the same college some twelve students are being prepared for the ministry. What I want you specially to note is that these worthy clergymen are paid quite independently of the funds of the Church Missionary Society. We have made a rule in the diocese of Waiapu, for instance, that before any Native pastor is placed in charge of a district, that district must have shown its desire for a pastor by contributing at least 400*l.*, which forms the nucleus of an endowment for the pastor's salary, which is supplemented in various ways by the people themselves. That is a gratifying circumstance.

I.—DIOCESE OF AUCKLAND.

THE Society's European staff in the Diocese has not changed since the last Report. Archdeacon E. B. Clarke has the general superintendence of the work among the Maories. At Kaitaia, the Rev. J. Matthews continues to labour on after fifty-seven years of service; the Rev. F. T. Baker is stationed at Waitara; and the Rev. B. Burrows is Secretary of the Land Board, which manages all the properties of the Society in the island.

Death of three Native clergymen

The staff of Native clergy, on the contrary, experienced last year both diminution and increase. As mentioned in the last Annual Report, two died suddenly in April; and on September 10th a third, the Rev. Hare Peka Taua, was taken to his rest. He had been trained by Mr. Matthews, of Kaitaia, and was pastor of the Waimate congregation. Happily, Bishop Cowie was able, before leaving for England, partly to repair these breaches. On St. Stephen's day, December 26th, he received to Deacon's Orders Messrs. Hare Rewiti Hukatere, and Herewini Nopera Paerata. They have been educated under Mr. Matthews and Mr. Burrows, and the latter also at the Theological College at Gisborne. Mr. Burrows says of the former:—

Ordinations.

From 1849 to 1853 he and three other Maori youths were under regular instruction by me, with a view to their being ultimately employed as teachers among their own people. Hare, however, afterwards was engaged by the Government, and became one of their assessors in the Native Land Court. As a youth he was very persevering in his studies, and showed great aptness for learning. After the death of the two men named above, he offered his services to supply the place of one of them, was accepted, and has now returned in Deacon's Orders to occupy the district formerly worked by the late Rev. R. Tangata.

The Native clergy presented an address to the Bishop before his departure from Auckland, in which the following sentences occur, as translated by Archdeacon Clarke:— Farewell address to Bishop Cowie.

A farewell from us, the Maori clergy of the Diocese of Auckland, to the Bishop.—Go, father, in peace; wade through the sea of Kiwa which lies before you, the billowy way of Tawhaki. We feel bound to say loving words to you on your leaving for the land of your fathers—the land from whence came the Gospel to this island—there to take breath, this being the eighteenth year of your labour in the Maori Church. We greatly appreciate the efforts you have made to visit us, for there is no kainga of importance which you have not reached. When you came to this country there were only five Maori clergy in the diocese. You have ordained fifteen more. Of the whole twenty clergy, five have gone to their rest, and two to other dioceses. There is one sad thing which your heart and our hearts mourn over—the loss of those three during this year: and so we stand before you "a little flock" this day. When you first came there were but few churches; but now the district from the Thames to the North Cape is covered with good churches. These are signs by which we know that the Maori Church has made progress during those eighteen years. Although there are some districts in the diocese the people of which have not yet returned to the faith, we think that the time is near when the people of some of the places in Waikato will come back. Now, sire, we were troubled when we heard that you were going to England, there to remain; but we have heard your word to the Synod that you intend to return, and that comforts our hearts. We were troubled because (1) we love you; we feared (2) lest "another king should arise who knows not Joseph." "Signs of progress."

II.—DIOCESE OF WAIAPU.

Most of the Society's work in this diocese lies within the Archdeaconry of Waiapu, and is under the superintendence of Archdeacon W. L. Williams; the stations outside this boundary are: Opotiki, where the Rev. G. Maunsell labours; Maketu and Tauranga, farther west along the coast, the spheres respectively of the Rev. W. Goodyear and Mr. J. W. Duffus, a lay evangelist; and Te Aute, at the extreme south af the diocese, where the Rev. S. Williams resides. Archdeacon Williams and the Rev. E. Jennings conduct the Theological Class at Gisborne.

In March last year Bishop Stuart admitted to the presby- Ordinations.

terato the Revs. E. Jennings and Rutena Te Aihu; and on December 18th, to the diaconate, Messrs. Eruera Kawhia, Mutenga Waaka, and Hone Waitoa. The last named is a son of the first Maori clergyman ordained by Bishop Selwyn in 1853. The Rev. Areka Whareumu has been transferred from Whangarei, in the Auckland diocese, to Te Haro, in this diocese near the East Cape. On the other hand, the Rev. M. Pahewa is for the time being in a great measure laid aside from ministerial usefulness by a cataract.

Efforts of Mormon missionaries.

The Mormonites continue their active but happily almost entirely unavailing efforts to draw the people away. Archdeacon Williams says:—

> Of the Mormon missionaries and their doings we have heard but little of late. They cannot be making much progress, for a number of those whom they had induced to join them have abandoned them again; and of their two schools which I mentioned last year, one was given up in March, and the other is not likely to hold its ground much longer against a large Government school which has been established close to it, in a position which is very central to all their homesteads.

Temperance movement

The temperance movement still makes considerable progress. At Opotiki, Mr. Maunsell says upwards of 400 have given in their names as abstainers. And at Huria, a settlement in Mr. Duffus' district, the two head chiefs "have induced all their young people and most of the elder ones to become teetotalers." He adds:—

Fine of five shillings for breaking the pledge.

> I noticed only a few days ago in one of our Tauranga newspapers a notice of a horse-race put in by Te Mete, the chief of Peterehama, and one of the conditions was that no spirits, or beer, or tipsy person, would be allowed on the grounds. They have now quite given up having drink at their funerals or meetings. This is, I believe, to be attributed a good deal to the temperance movement, started here some five years ago by the Bishop of Waiapu; but the same sort of thing is, I understand, becoming pretty general all over the country.

Theological Class.

Fourteen students have been under instruction in the Theological Class during the year, of whom one left on account of his wife's illness, and four were admitted to deacon's orders in the Auckland and Waiapu dioceses.

III.—DIOCESE OF WELLINGTON.

The Rev. A. O. Williams, at Wanganui, and the Rev. J. McWilliam, at Otaki, are the two missionaries of the Society in Bishop Hadfield's diocese.

Mr. Williams says of his district that "much greater interest has been taken in all branches of the work." Two of the Native clergy who received Priest's Orders in 1886 are stationed in independent charges within a short distance of Putiki, where Mr. Williams resides, and he says they have worked most satisfactorily. One of them, the Rev. Arona Te Haua, at Parewanui, has collected a large and attentive congregation, with over thirty communicants, in the Manuwatu district, which had been neglected for many years, and where the Natives professed to be Hauhaus. Two new churches have been built and opened; one at Matatera, and one at Putiki. Mr. Williams says:—

Spirit of church building.

A spirit of church building seems to have taken possession of the Maoris all through the district. Three have already been opened since I was sent over here, and the timber has been purchased for one at Karatia, on the Whanganui River, while two others are being collected for, one at Atene, and one at Rouana, and yet another is talked of at Pipiriki, all on the Whanganui River. The Maoris are also cutting timber themselves for one at Murimota, and funds are being collected for rebuilding the church at Turakina.

Riding twenty-five miles to partake of the Holy Communion.

There are 1400 baptized Native Christians, and 250 communicants in the district; of the latter he says that "they will often ride as much as twenty-five miles in order to partake of the Holy Communion, and when up the Whanganui River they have travelled three days in order to be present."

Mr. McWilliam says of the work at Otaki:—

Practical interest in Church work.

The Natives of Oroua Bridge, where the services are usually held, are most hospitable, not to me only, but to all the Natives up and down the line, from Foxton on the one side to Fielding on the other, who choose to attend the services there. The large meeting-house is always specially prepared, and covered with clean mats; bedding is provided for those who do not bring their own with them, and food is cooked in abundance for all. All this entails considerable labour and expense, and manifests a real practical interest in Church work, and speaks more, to my mind, of the reality of their Christianity than a great deal of mere profession, unaccompanied by any acts of self-denial or sacrifice. But their sincerity is not evinced solely by even these practical proofs, for they have always a number of questions on Scripture interpretation to put to me and discuss, or they have the objections of Roman Catholics, Mormons, or their own so-called prophets to consult with me about, and prepare answers for. In this way our discussions often occupy the greater part of Saturday and Sunday nights, as well as the leisure time during the day. My visits here are always most interesting to me, and never felt to be altogether in vain.

The temperance question has also been well discussed at each of these meetings, and the effect throughout the whole district has been most gratifying and encouraging; in fact, drinking as a habit may be said to have ceased. To give an instance, at the death of Puke Le Ao, M.H.R., at Otaki, towards the end of last year, there were over 1000 Natives assembled for nearly a fortnight at the "tangi" and funeral, yet there was not a single case of drunkenness or disorder of any sort. This fact, to any one knowing anything of Maori habits a few years ago, will speak volumes.

Provincial Synod.

The Synod of the Province of Rupert's Land which met in August last year, was an event of the deepest interest in the history of the extensive territories which are the field of the Society's North-West America Mission. The diocese of Rupert's Land was established in 1849; being endowed by the liberality of a chief factor of the Hudson's Bay Company. The first Bishop, Dr. Anderson, had a wild waste for the sphere of his labours, with little wandering bands of Indians scattered over it. Its area comprised the whole of the north-west territories beyond the limits of Canada proper, and stretched from Labrador to the Rocky Mountains, and from the United States frontier to the Polar Sea. To this same tremendous charge Bishop Machray succeeded in 1865. The Synod of last August was therefore in the twenty-second year of his episcopate, and he had the joy of welcoming at Winnipeg five suffragan bishops; a sixth, Bishop Bompas, was unable to be present on account of the distance of his diocese, Mackenzie River, from Winnipeg.

The Rev. F. E. Wigram, the Society's Hon. Secretary, in arranging the plan of his tour, had specially aimed at being present at this important assembly. By God's good Hand upon him, having visited successively Ceylon, India, China, and Japan, he accomplished the Pacific voyage and the railway journey across the Dominion, and arrived at Winnipeg on August 6th, in good time to take part in the proceedings and deliberations of the many friends and fellow-labourers who there met together.

Consecration of Bishop Pinkham.

On Sunday, August 7th, Archdeacon Pinkham was consecrated to the vacant bishopric of Saskatchewan. On the following day there was a Conference of the Society's missionaries from the several dioceses, and the same evening a public missionary meeting was held, at which the Metropolitan, the Bishops of Rochester (who was spending his holiday in America), Minnesota (of the American Protestant Episcopal Church), and Moosonee, and Mr. Wigram, gave addresses, and a collection was made for the C.M.S. The 9th was a "quiet day" for the clergy. On Wednesday, the 10th, the Synod was opened with a sermon by Mr.

Wigram, who took for his text, Acts xxi. 17—20. The deliberations of the Synod lasted three days, and were exceedingly interesting and practical.

I.—DIOCESE OF RUPERT'S LAND.

Death of Archdeacon Cowley.

THE death of Archdeacon Abraham Cowley, on September 11th, exactly a month after the Meeting of the Provincial Synod of the Lower House, of which he was Prolocutor, is a loss not only to the Society's work in the diocese of which he was an honoured and revered Minister of the Word, but to the whole North-West America Mission, throughout which he was looked up to as a father by the missionaries, nearly all of whom had associations with him as Secretary of the Mission in the Metropolitan diocese. During his forty-six years of missionary service he only twice visited England. He might well speak with joy and holy exultation, at the closing meeting of the Synod, because of what he had been privileged to see of the Lord's doings in Rupert's Land. When, in 1841, he sailed from England to relieve the Rev. W. Cockran at Red River, he essayed in vain to make the journey viâ Lake Superior and the almost untrodden forests beyond. He was obliged to return to England, and take the annual summer ship to Hudson's Bay, and proceed 800 miles by canoe from York Factory to what is now the city of Winnipeg. The route that was then impracticable is now traversed in two or three days; the death of that very missionary is known in England the day after it takes place; and on the spot where three missionaries then laboured in solitude, the Synod of an Ecclesiastical Provice, comprising six dioceses, meets, and eight bishops join in the consecration of a ninth!

Ordination.

Mr. W. Owen was ordained Deacon at Winnipeg, by the Bishop of Rupert's Land, on Sunday, July 31st.

The Rev. A. E. Cowley, son of the late Archdeacon Cowley, is now the Secretary of the Mission; the Rev. B. MacKenzie is in charge at St. Peter's Indian Settlement; the Rev. J. Settee is at Jack Head, on Lake Winnipeg; the Revs. R. Phair and W. Owen are located at Lansdowne; the Rev. J. Irvine is at Lac Seul; the Rev. B. Spence is in charge of Long Sault, in the Rainy Lake district; and the Rev. G. Cook itinerates in the neighbourhood of Touchwood Hills.

Mr. Phair and Mr. Owen reached LANSDOWNE in January, 1887. The former spent the next three months, until the end of April, when travelling becomes unsafe owing to the breaking of the ice, in visiting the encampments of Indians. Six weeks were first spent in seeing the Indians along the side of Lake Winnipeg. At Black River he found about sixty Indians without a teacher, who "meet by themselves on the Sabbath for prayer," and he administered the Lord's Supper to twelve. At Loon Straits the little body of Christian Indians, he says, "is thoroughly devoted to religion; it is seldom one of them is ever absent from service." They are more industrious than most Indians, and their houses more neatly furnished. Nearly all partook of the Lord's Supper, and Mr. Phair says :—

Indians without a teacher observing the Sabbath.

> Far away among these regions of ice a little band of truly Christian men and women met together in the most solemn manner to wait and pray and sing, and then kneel down to receive the bread and wine with such reverence. As I stood before them I could not help contrasting their circumstances, their isolated position, their utter lack of nearly all the things possessed by their more favoured brethren in the great cities from which I had just come, and yet the implicit faith, the implicit confidence in the Master's presence so evidently pictured on every face, made one feel there must be something unspeakably great about a religion that can make these dark men feel and act as they do to-day.

Reverence of Native Christians at Loon Straits.

After a few days' rest, Mr. Phair went to the Rainy River district, his former location, where he visited thirteen reserves of Indians, at most of which a schoolmaster is in charge. This journey involved an absence of two months; but hearing on his return to Lansdowne that a Roman Catholic Priest had gone among the people he had just recently visited along the Lake, he immediately set out once more. He says :—

> In a few hours my dog-train was on the road, an Indian leading the way, and for the next six weeks every Indian, French and English, along the North shore of the lake was visited. We had a very grand time, much trouble, many difficulties in storms, bad roads, or rather no roads at all, falling through the ice, &c., &c.; but they were all made up for many times by the hearty reception Roman Catholics and Indians gave us. They told us they had never been so frequently visited any winter before. "Nothing stood between us and our work," they said.

The next few months were occupied in superintending the building of a new church at Lansdowne, the old one being both insecure and inadequate in capacity. This was ready for use in August, and a service was held in it when Mr. Wigram visited the station the week after the Synod. Of this service, and Mr. Wigram's visit, Mr. Phair writes:—

Service was opened with a beautiful hymn, in which the majority, if not all, joined; then began the impressive sentences, followed by our beautiful service, all in Indian; after which we were treated to an excellent practical sermon by Mr. Wigram. The chief thanked Mr. Wigram over and over again for the good words he and his people had heard. He added, "We have often heard of the great praying-men, and have received much from them, but to have lived to see and hear a real one, as I do with my eyes to-day, is more than I ever expected."

"Often heard of the great praying-men."

Mr. Owen was left very much alone, applying himself to the language during Mr. Phair's missionary tours. But he found the solitude no hindrance to spiritual growth. On the contrary, he says:—

"All alone, but never lonely."

I never had, I believe, sweeter communion with God than I have had here. I never opened my Bible with such expectation, and never heard the Master's voice so distinct in His Word before. I was all alone at the station the greater part of last winter, Mr. Phair being away visiting the Indians around Lake Winnipeg and along the Rainy River; yet I never felt lonely, but realized much of God's special presence and the comforts of His love.

At Lac Seul, Mr. Irvine is left comparatively alone from November to April, the Indians going on their hunting excursions, often several hundred miles away. In June he had an interesting adult baptism, that of a young man, the nephew of the most bigoted of the heathen Indians in the station. The old man said of his nephew, "I cannot understand him; he has a book, and he is always reading and singing, and since he got that book he has been different from what he used to be." The services last summer were unusually well attended, many of the heathens being among the regular attendants. The Indian drum, he says, has almost ceased to beat, the yearly feast is discontinued, and gambling is very little indulged in.

"Since he got that book he has been different."

Mr. Bruce's health has become somewhat impaired, but he writes cheerfully of his work at Fairford:—

"Walk ten to fifteen miles every Sabbath, no matter how cold or stormy."

I am thankful to report that, as regards the attendance on the means of grace, my poor people's regularity is very encouraging; a walk of ten to fifteen miles every Sabbath, and no matter how cold or stormy the day may be, their seats in church are seldom vacant; also the interest taken in the services of the day is very gratifying; and the intelligent manner they worship, as well in singing and responding, cheers me much in my forest solitude.

The Rev. A. Cook, B.A., a student from St. John's College, Winnipeg, who was ordained last May, has been placed at Fairford to assist Mr. Bruce. There are 1000 baptized Christians and 150 communicants in this district.

TOUCHWOOD HILLS is in the diocese of Qu'Appelle. Mr. Cook says he travels, on an average, over one thousand miles monthly in his missionary work, and that, notwithstanding the bad state of the roads and the severity of the weather, he was not once prevented during the year, by sickness or accident, from carrying out his appointments.

II.—DIOCESE OF MOOSONEE.

Moose Factory, 1851; York, 1854; Albany, 1855; Matawakumma, 1876; Little Whale River, 1877; Churchill, 1886.

THE second charge of Bishop Horden was delivered at Moose Factory on February 6th, 1887. During the interval of eight years since his primary charge was delivered in 1879, Bishop Horden has visited England, and has travelled over almost the whole of his vast diocese. The population consists of 6800, who speak five languages, Cree, Ojibbeway, Chipewyan, Eskimo, and English. Almost the whole cost of the spiritual ministrations to both the Christians—who number five-sixths of the whole population—and heathens, is borne by the Church Missionary Society. The six Mission districts into which the diocese is divided comprise twenty-eight stations and out-stations. In his Annual Letter to the Committee the Bishop is able to say that he believes not a single tribe has been left unvisited during the past year. He writes in terms of love and admiration of his missionary clergy, both European and Native:—

> Each has his own peculiar trials, and some of them are heavy to bear; but there is no flinching, not a word indicating the most remote desire to give up his work; and the harder it is, and the more dreary its surroundings, the more firmly the labourer clings to it, constrained by the love of Christ. It is comparatively easy work being a Bishop, when one has such men under him as are to be found among the clergy of Moosonee.

An "easy" Bishopric.

The Bishop ordained Mr. E. Richards, one of the students of the Divinity Class at Moose, to deacon's orders on May 29th.

The Rev. H. Nevitt came to England in September last.

The district of ALBANY, under Archdeacon Vincent, is about 700 miles long and from 100 to 200 broad, with a population of about 1300, thinly scattered over the whole area, who make a very precarious living by hunting and fishing. Mr. Vincent has superintended the Mission at Albany twenty-seven years, and he has been privileged to see a great change. At Albany itself, he says, there is family prayer and the reading of God's Word in almost every family. English River is 210 miles, Martens Falls 300, Osnaburgh 550, and Cat Lake 700 miles from Albany. Very few remain unbaptized at these places. Mr. Vincent says:—

Effects of the Gospel at Albany.

Many are to be seen who were avowed enemies, and only awaited a favourable opportunity to murder each other, now kneeling side by side in prayer. The tribes between whom deadly feuds existed for many generations now tell each other of the "Prince of peace." The Crane tribe, the most notorious, has, with God's blessing, become the most earnest in His service. The conjuror has put away his idols and his medicines; the measured beat of his drum has almost ceased for ever, and now you will hear his voice raised in a song of praise and prayer.

Anxieties at York Factory.

The Rev. G. S. Winter, at YORK FACTORY, was rendered anxious by the tardy arrival of the annual ship, which was detained forty days in the ice. He was anticipating, with grave apprehension for his wife and children, the necessity of a six weeks' journey in a small boat to Winnipeg, when he and the whole community were filled with thanksgiving by its arrival at the beginning of September. Sixteen Christian Indians give voluntary assistance in the Sunday-school at York.

At Severn the work is mainly conducted by an Indian, of whom Mr. Winter says:—

"Intense zeal."

He is the father of the settlement and all belonging to it, both spiritually and—for want of a better word, I suppose I must say—politically. His zeal—true zeal—for God's house is intense. I have mentioned on a previous occasion how regularly he invites all to "come and worship," morning and evening, ringing the bell himself. He raises the tunes, reads the prayers and lessons, and preaches the sermon. Sometimes he is very weak, by reason of his age, but the "love of Christ constraineth" him to work for his Master and the good of others. I saw the same old man, and he told me how much he enjoyed working for Jesus; and wished he knew more of "the Book," so as to be able to teach his fellow-Indians "right." A fine, stalwart Indian came from that post to tell me that he and all his family and friends were waiting for me to baptize them. I baptized him during his sojourn here.

The Mission-house at CHURCHILL is still unfinished, but the Rev. J. Lofthouse writes in a cheerful and thankful spirit. He held services, and also two Bible-classes and Sunday-school, in his house during the winter of 1886-7 for the fort people, by whom they were very regularly attended. Bands of Indians and Eskimos have visited the station for very short periods, to whom he has declared God's love in Christ; and his hopes regarding these slender opportunities were encouraged by discovering that an Eskimo, whom he had met on his first visit to Churchill in February, 1884, still remembered, in May last year, much of what he had then heard. This man has greatly assisted Mr. Lofthouse in the language, and was a candidate for baptism. Mr. Lofthouse regularly visited a band of about sixty Eskimos who were staying last summer about five miles from Churchill, always being heartily welcomed to their tents. The following extracts from his letter will serve to show the nature of the work :—

Obliged to eat fur.

In April another small band of Chipewyans came in. They had been in a state of starvation all winter, having been obliged to eat the fur they caught. One woman was very sick; she lingered on until June, and then passed away. I constantly visited her, and she appeared greatly to enjoy the reading of the Word and prayer. Her knowledge of the truth was small, but I trust sufficient for her to rest upon Jesus for salvation.

Last week (July, 1887) a large band of nearly seventy Chipewyans came in; they left again yesterday for their winter hunting-grounds. During their stay we had daily service and day-school, spending most of the day teaching. Most of the men can read, and also a few of the women and younger members. Yesterday I baptized sixteen infants. There were several adults wishing for baptism; but being unable to examine them closely, I thought it better to let them wait another year. When they are away they generally choose one of their number as minister, and have regular service; some have evening prayers in their tents. I should have gone off with them to stay until November, but so many things want doing at the house before the winter sets in, and all has to be done by my own hands. I hope, however, to be able to go in November, and stay until April.

The Rev. J. Peck spent three months, in the spring of last year, at Little Whale River. The journey from FORT GEORGE, where he resides, occupied nine days, and the mode of travelling, with sledge and dogs, was by no means comfortable. He says :—

Sledge travelling.

The journey, to say the least, was trying. The bitter cold and bad state of ice made riding almost out of the question, and many times I have felt utterly worn out, tugging at the sledge and tramping through the deep snow. Any one who imagines travelling with sledge and dogs an agreeable task, has only to spend a few days on the road, and his views will, I am sure, undergo a radical change. Eskimo dogs seem very seldom inclined to go the right way, and being of a most pugnacious nature, they often stop and engage in a regular pitched battle: add to this the fact of their traces and harness often getting entangled in the rough ice, and you will have some little conception of what this mode of travelling means.

A disease among their dogs prevented the Eskimos from going to the Little Whale River, but Mr. Peck sought many of them out, scattered as they were over a frozen coast some hundreds of miles in extent, and was cheered by finding among them a real desire for instruction. At Fort George, Mrs. Peck, even while anxiously nursing her child through an illness, far removed from a possibility of medical help, was able to hold school for the Indian children twice a week. Four, and sometimes five, services are held here by Mr. Peck on Sundays for Indians, Eskimos, and the English-speaking people connected with the fort.

III.—DIOCESE OF SASKATCHEWAN AND CALGARY.

Cumberland and Devon, 1840; Stanley, 1850; Sandy Lake (Asisipi), 1875; Battleford, 1876; Prince Albert, 1879; Fort McLeod, 1880; Grand Rapids, 1881; Blackfoot Crossing, 1883.

THE Provincial Synod of last August sanctioned the constitution of a new diocese, to be called the Diocese of Calgary, as soon as an endowment for the same can be raised. In the meantime Dr. Pinkham's title is "Bishop of Saskatchewan and Calgary."

The Bishop has visited during the past year most of the Society's stations in his diocese, and the Committee have been thankful to learn that he not only cordially approves the aim of the Society to lay upon the Native congregations the responsibility for the support of their churches and ministry, but he also is able to recommend immediate steps towards that end.

Archdeacon J. A. Mackay, upon whom St. John's College, Winnipeg, has conferred the degree of D.D., has been appointed Secretary of the Finance Committee; he has also been nominated Warden and Divinity Professor of Emmanuel College, at Prince Albert, where he resides. The Rev. J. Hines has been transferred to Devon, whence he will also superintend Cumberland and Stanley. The Rev. R. McLennan has been placed at Stanley; the Rev. J. Sinclair, at Grand Rapids; the Rev. J. Badger, at Cumberland; and the Rev. J. Settee, at Asisippi, to be now called Sandy Lake, as there is a post office with the former name in Manitoba.

Mr. Hines' Annual Letter was written from his old station, Asisippi, now called SANDY LAKE. Fifty-five were confirmed by the Bishop here in October, and sixty-one met at the Lord's table. Stony Lake, an out-station, was visited by severe sickness at the beginning of last year, and twelve of the inhabitants died within a fortnight. Mr. Hines gives a touching account of a visit he paid to one of these:—

When I entered the little house where the thirteen sick were lying, without food, and only one blanket for three people (and the man I refer to had no shirt to his back), I asked myself this question, What words can I find to say to these poor people suitable to their case, words which will give them comfort and hope? "The old, old story" suggested itself to me, and I began to tell them about Jesus; how He left His Father's home in glory, and came to dwell on this earth, and subjected Himself to the lowest state of poverty that human beings can be subjected to, being born in a stable, and when grown up had no place to lay His head. At this point the old man with much effort sat up, clothed only in Nature's garment, and said, "What you are saying is true; I have read it in the great Book; I believe it all; it is wonderful." I then said the reason why God saw fit to allow His Son to be subjected to such a state of poverty was that such poor people as he might have hope and comfort, because Jesus having suffered the same, could sympathize with them in their sufferings. I then spoke of Christ's death, and resurrection, by which He opened the gates of heaven to all believers; that after His resurrection He ascended again to His Father, where He intercedes for all who love Him, and is preparing places for those who follow Him here in this life; that there will be no sickness there, no poverty, and no more parting, but we shall be for ever happy with the Lord. The old man, who had been listening attentively whilst I spoke, now said, "It is enough; my heart is full of joy. What you have said is all true; I know it is. I rejoice much. I feel happy." After prayers I parted with them. Next morning he died.

"Joyful in tribulation."

A school-house has been erected at Stony Lake, and the people regularly attend the services. There are 200 baptized Christians, and seventy-five Communicants in this district.

In the BATTLEFORD district Archdeacon Mackay baptized thirteen adult Indians last year. The Romanists here are active and influential. Two of the seven Reserves in the district are in their exclusive occupation, and they have some adherents on most of the other five; that is, as the Archdeacon explains, Indians whom they have baptized, and whom they claim as converts, but who are practically heathen.

The Rev. S. Trivett asks for prayer for FORT MCLEOD, and for himself. His labours have not yet been owned by open conversions, but he observes a large attendance, and closer attention at the services; the attitude of some of the chiefs also gives encouragement. The increasing scarcity of fuel, however, is scattering the Indians more widely year by year, and placing the missionary at an increasing disadvantage. He has ninety-two boys, and seventy girls in the Mission-school.

At BLACKFOOT CROSSING the Rev. J. W. Tims has the companionship and help of Mr. Stanley Stocken, who was for a short time at the Islington College, and has gone out at his own charges. The two schools are under his superintendence. The mercenary character of the Blackfeet, their suspicion of the missionary's aims, and their jealousy one of another, are obstacles which Mr. Tims specially mentions; but there have been some encouraging indications that the Word has not been preached in vain. Mr. Wigram and his son called at this station in August, en route for Winnipeg; and on that occasion Crowfoot, the chief of the tribe, travelled twenty miles to be present, and addressed his people, urging them to listen to what the missionary said and to send their children to school.

IV.—DIOCESE OF ATHABASCA.

Journeyings of Bishop Young.

BISHOP YOUNG'S Annual Letter is a record of journeyings, not free from perils. In January, 1887, he made a five days' trip to visit some Crees suffering from measles. In February he travelled ten days on snow-shoes in search of a fishery. In May he made a dangerous journey of 315 miles by canoe to Dunvegan, whence, by canoe and on pack-horses, he went to Slave Lake, 155 miles, and proceeded to the Winnipeg Synod. He had returned with Mrs. Young and two children to Slave Lake by October. The journey thence to the Forks had to be made in a waggon drawn by oxen, having no springs, and without shelter from the wet and snowy weather. Vermilion was reached on October 17th, and "a very comfortable winter" was anticipated in the new house, "twenty-eight by forty feet, built of slabbed pine logs, caulked with moss, and mudded inside and out."

Anticipated comfort.

Ordinations.

The Rev. M. Scott was ordained Priest by the Bishop at Vermilion, on April 17th, and Mr. G. Holmes was ordained Deacon at Dunvegan on June 5th.

The Rev. A. C. Garrioch has been transferred to Dunvegan from Vermilion, and the Rev. M. Scott has succeeded him at the latter station. The Rev. A. G. Brick is now in England.

Archdeacon Reeve attended the Provincial Synod in August, and sent forward Mrs. Reeve and their infant child to England for the benefit of Mrs. Reeve's health. He mentions that the old woman at FORT CHIPEWYAN, whose baptism was related in last year's Report, has relapsed to Romanism. Her half-breed French-speaking relatives persuaded her, when she was ill and thought herself dying, to send for the priests, who rebaptized her, and administered the viaticum and extreme unction. Remedies prescribed by the Archdeacon were mainly instrumental in preserving her life.

V.—DIOCESE OF MACKENZIE RIVER.

Fort Simpson, 1858; Fort McPherson and Rampart House (Tukudh Mission), 1874; Fort Norman, 1871; Forts Resolution and Rae, 1875; Fort Liard, 1887.

BISHOP BOMPAS says, "Our work is a constant struggle with Popery;" but he says it in no despondent spirit. Having with difficulty prevailed on Mrs. Bompas to return to Canada, feeling it to be not right to keep her longer subject to the severe privations and long periods of desertion which the Bishop's life involves, he has planned extensive journeys of visitation, one of which, to the Tukudh Mission, will occupy a considerable part of the present year. "Struggle with Popery."

The Rev. W. J. Garton has succeeded the Rev. W. Spendlove at Fort Simpson. The latter came to England for a few months last year, and upon his return has probably been stationed at Fort Rae. Fort Resolution and Liard River are without evangelistic agents, but Mr. J. Hawksley, the young carpenter who went out last year, is engaged in building at the latter place. Fort McPherson, on the Peel River, is occupied by Archdeacon McDonald. The Rev. T. H. Canham was hoping in the spring of this year to open a station on the Lower Youcon; and the Rev. J. W. Ellington has been assigned by the Bishop to labour on the Upper Youcon.

Mr. Garton gives some painful details of the effects of a severe winter in the neighbourhood of Fort Rae:—

shifts were made to preserve life; they were obliged to eat some of the parchment of the fur which they caught; and even old leather dresses which had been worn by the Indian women were eaten up. The children fared very badly, not being able to eat the leather. Of course, there were the usual miseries accompanying such a state of things; such as men falling down from exhaustion, stealing what little they could from each other, &c.; but happily no crimes were committed, as far as I know: only two Indians died from starvation. Things would not have been so bad had there been rabbits and partridges, but unhappily these also were wanting.

The. Rev. J. W. Ellington's Annual Letter was written on June 21st, 1887, at St. Michael's, Alaska, on the Pacific coast, whither he had gone to obtain the year's provisions before proceeding to the Upper Youcon.

At RAMPART HOUSE the Rev. C. G. Wallis had a warm welcome from the Indians when he arrived at the end of October, 1886. He mentions two men whom he believes to have sought and obtained the pardon of their sins and a new heart:—

Converts at Rampart House.

One of the two was led by God's Holy Spirit to think about his soul more than six months ago. His past life had been a very bad one; he had been guilty of thieving, adultery, and in fact almost everything that was bad. He was looked upon by all as a black sheep. But he was not too great a sinner for Jesus to save; and now for more than six months he has been rejoicing in the knowledge of sins forgiven. His words to me, only a week or two ago, were these:—"I know God to be my Father now: Jesus my Saviour. I know that God helps me to overcome sin, and He fills my heart with love to Him." His life now is a proof of the work of grace going on in his heart, he is constantly speaking to others of what Jesus has done for him. Many times, when going among the camps, I hear him speaking to a company of earnest listeners.

The other man is my interpreter; he understands and speaks English well, and I can assure you my heart rejoiced when one day he came to me anxious about his soul. He said, "Since last winter my heart has been troubled, and I long to find rest in Jesus. I know that I am a sinner, and when I think of my past life it makes me weep bitterly, and I have a horror of sin now." I then pointed him to Jesus, the Lamb of God who died to take away his sin; told him again of that fountain opened for sin and uncleanness; and opening God's Word, I read to him the blessed promise of Jesus:—"He that believeth on Me shall not perish, but have everlasting life." "Come unto Me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." I saw him again a day or two afterwards, and he told me that now he could say:—"Jesus is my Saviour; Jesus has died for me." I cannot help noticing the earnest way in which he interprets for me now. He told me that every day, before coming to prayers, he asks God to help him to interpret what I say in the right way. God has seen fit to try him; his wife has given him much trouble of late, but God has given him grace to deal with her in a kind, gentle manner, and now she seems sorry for her sin.

NORTH PACIFIC MISSION.

PEACE and religious liberty have, in God's good providence, been at last restored to Metlakahtla; but at a heavy cost. Mr. Duncan removed last summer, with some hundreds of the Indians, to a place seventy miles distant, within the Territory of Alaska, renouncing allegiance to the Queen, and coming under the protection of the United States. This move was effected with the aid of money which Mr. Duncan had succeeded in collecting at New York, Washington, &c., where many erroneous statements regarding the Metlakahtla difficulties have been current. Bishop Ridley wrote in December last:—

It is natural to lift up our heads at the close of our seven years of persecution, when we taste at last the sweetness of civil and religious liberty.

The final raid made by Mr. Duncan's Indians was destructive. The Mission saw-mill is a ruin, so that it is difficult to know how to repair the fine church, which is almost ruined. The magistrate was able to raise a force to prevent the utter destruction of the settlement, but the destroyers were too swift afoot to be arrested.

We have now to try to forget our past miseries, and to lose no time in restoring what is necessary for the advancement of Christ's cause. We stand in sore need of help. Those who have extended to us their sympathy will, I hope, make some sacrifices on our behalf.

Bishop Ridley and a small party of his co-workers in this Mission met the Rev. F. E. Wigram and his son at Victoria on their landing there from Japan on July 29th.

The Rev. W. Collison came to England in May, and returned in April last. He will take charge of METLAKAHTLA during the absence of the Bishop. The latter has come to England, and the Committee will have opportunities of conference with him upon the state and needs of this much-tried Mission.

Of the effects of the recent troubles on the Indians remaining at Metlakahtla the Bishop gives an interesting and hopeful account:—

Fruit after pruning.

God has been using His pruning-knife, and consequently the plant of His own planting has borne precious fruit. Our Christians have attained greater ripeness of character; their knowledge of the Scriptures has increased. This has placed sin more distinctly before them as transgression against God's law. Instead of mere shame at being found out, there is now the sorrow of true repentance. Since I first administered the Holy Communion I have not had to exclude any one. They have excluded themselves whenever there has been a quarrel. Conscience has been awakened. Conduct has been so excellent, compared with that of other Indians, that the Government Commissioners sent last November to report on the condition of these disturbed districts state that our Church Indians are in happy contrast with all others, and are a credit to their instructors.

Testimony of Government Commissioners as to conduct of Church Indians.

Quite recently, some hundreds of converts in communion with another denomination have revived one of the worst of heathen customs, so that there is a dread among their teachers that they will relapse into heathenism. I am thankful that our Christians, as soon as they heard of it, held a council on the subject, and drew up a most kind letter of remonstrance and sent it to their backsliding fellow-Christians.

The Bishop also, in a private letter to Canon Gibbon dated January 3rd, mentions some unexpected visitors:—

Strangers in distress succoured by Indians

All sorts and conditions of men drift toward me. A few days ago I sent out some of the lads to bring in pine and other branches to decorate the church and house. Instead of bringing the evergreens, they came back with an American, a Norwegian, and their Chinese servant, whom they found in distress on an island, having been wrecked. The Chinaman has remained here; the others were helped on their way.

A wealthy English sportsman dropped in one day. He had come here to add some specimens of bighorns to his trophies, and succeeded. Before going south to get buffalo, he imprudently sallied forth after prayer on Sunday to shoot. A heavy sea got up and swamped his canoe. He lost his firearms, and but for help would have lost his life: he was taken out of the water unconscious. The Indians thought God had taught him it was wrong to break the Sabbath when he had plenty to eat.

The Rev. C. B. Nash removed to KINCOLITH upon Mr. Collison's leaving for England last year. He mentions in his Annual Letter a visit paid to the station in October by Ex-Lieutenant-Governor Cornwall and Mr. J. P. Planta, as Government Commissioners, to inquire into certain grievances respecting the land. He says:—

Government Commissioners at Kincolith.

They expressed themselves very much surprised to see such a fine body of men, women, and children—such a well-ordered village, and so many tokens of prosperity. The Commissioners attended a service in church, being conducted from the beach by the chiefs and village brass band. The village was very prettily decorated with flags, and the cannon was fired many times in honour of her Majesty's representatives.

There are 1240 baptized Christians and forty-six communicants at Kincolith.

A month of special services at Aiyansh.

Mr. J. B. McCullagh continues his translational, medical, and evangelistic work at AIYANSH. A month of special services closed the old and began the new year. The programme issued by the Evangelical Alliance was used during the first week of the year, when meetings from 5.30 to 8.30 were held each evening, the last half-hour being devoted to mutual edification, each person, if so disposed, addressing the meeting for a few minutes. A few expressions used in these speeches Mr. McCullagh wrote down, and they deserve to be recorded:—

A——. "I remember a sermon of Shimoigiat's, in which he condemned us, saying he had tried to lift us up, but we would not be lifted up. That expression made my heart sick (vexed him), and I said, 'Shimoigiat has no heart (understanding), he is talking at random; what does he want of us? are we not right up?' Thus I said. I know now what he meant; I know now that instead of being up we were down, very far down indeed; and I know now what the lifting up means."

S——. (From a prayer) "O God, I am like a miserable dog before Thee."

Sht—— W—— (an unbaptized and hitherto unsatisfactory adherent). "Have I been a man among you, or a wild beast all these years? Nay, what wild beast can you find to equal me? Have I not gambled myself naked? what have I not done against the Word of God? have I not made fun of it among the heathen? When in church I have always been asleep, hunting and trapping in my heart. But now my heart is broken open I don't know who I am; perhaps I am not Shagaitkshiwan." "Heart broken open."

N—— (just joined the Mission with his family). "You know if a nail is not thoroughly driven home in a piece of timber, if the head protrudes just a little, it is very easy to draw it out again with the claw of a hammer; but if it be firmly driven home who will draw it out? Thus, by the help of the good Spirit, shall I seek to be in the kingdom of God, that the claw of evil may not be able to draw me out." "The claw of evil."

A practical effect of much interest has also resulted from the services:—

A very good custom has arisen out of these revival services, viz. having the village bell rung every morning, that all the people may be as one family before the throne of grace before they breakfast. There was a very interesting little debate as to whether it should be before or after breakfast. The general opinion was in favour of the former, pronouncing the flesh "proud and unwilling" after a dish of smoked salmon. We shall not smile at this resolution, but, rather, humbly thank Almighty God for the growth in grace, and the desire for unclouded communion with Him, which it betokens in these rude and untutored men. Simultaneous family prayers.

The Rev. J. Field, at HAZELTON, has free access to the people. He has baptized three adults. An epidemic of measles broke out soon after Christmas, and proved extremely fatal, owing to the ignorance and infatuated imprudence of the people. Mr. Field writes:—

Grown-up people of this and other villages rose from their sick beds and walked to Kishparoks, seven miles above Hazelton—through an atmosphere varying in temperature from zero to 30° below. And for what? To attend a potlatch. Fathers and mothers carried their children on their backs, with the rash still upon them, to the same place and for the same purpose. There, we were told, the sick were left uncared for, ranged along the sides of the houses, which are very cold in winter, while their friends danced and feasted round the fire. It seems incredible. But it is true. The consequence is that at the present time the disease is raging all along the river. Fatal epidemic of measles.

Many have died. Many more, I fear, will die. In this village alone there have been already about 100 cases and deaths, out of a population of between 300 and 400. It is the first time measles have appeared here, and few, I am afraid, will escape. We are doing our best to lighten the affliction, and are kept very busy, dispensing medicines, visiting the sick, and ministering to their wants as far as we are able. In almost every house the scene that meets the eye on entering is most wretched. The atmosphere is cold, smoky, and unsweet. The inmates who are not ill are sitting on the ashes in the middle of the house, hugging a few smouldering logs. The floor is strewed with firewood, bundles of dirty rags, dried salmon, fish grease, preserved provision cans, pots, pans, broken crockery, dogs, doctors, sick men, sick women, sick children, and other treasures too Visits to the sick.

numerous to mention. Through these the sick visitor has to find his way unaided, and tread cautiously, lest, mistaking a patient for a bundle of dirty blankets, he should kill instead of cure.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S ISLANDS: HYDAH MISSION.

Dedication of church at Massett.

A new church at Massett, for which the people contributed so liberally, as mentioned in the Rev. C. Harrison's letter published in the last Annual Report, was dedicated by Bishop Ridley on May 7th. Mr. Harrison says:—

When the Bishop came to Massett there were only fifty persons in the village. I sent one canoe south and another north to call the Indians to Massett to be present at the opening of the new church. Some of the Indians were sixty miles from home, hunting and fishing. As soon as they heard the news they left their fish and skins behind and hurried home. From the east and the west, from the north and the south, the Hydahs came, until they numbered 330 at the day of dedication, when almost all were present. Tired and stiff, weary and worn, they arrived, canoe after canoe full of Indian men, women and children, in order to witness the setting apart of their church to the services of the Almighty God. Some Indians had walked a distance of thirty miles, weary and footsore, in order to be present to receive baptism and confirmation. Some only got back to Massett in time for the afternoon service, and all with one heart glorified God, the Giver of all good things, for His bountiful gift of St. John the Evangelist's Church.

At 10.30 a.m. the choir came and stationed themselves in the garden-front of our house. The churchwardens also were present. Twenty chiefs at this time were present in a cottage about 200 yards from our house. The church is situated half-way between the two houses. When the Bishop was ready, the choir, numbering thirty-two, marched two by two slowly down towards the church, singing "Onward, Christian Soldiers," &c. After the choir came the two churchwardens, carrying their golden wands of office, followed by myself and the Bishop. During this time the twenty chiefs marched up from the cottage two and two, and the two processions met at the church door. Two of the most prominent chiefs handed the donation paper to the Bishop, asking him to dedicate the church and to set it aside for the services of God for ever. The Bishop having replied in the affirmative, the chiefs proceeded to their seats in the church, followed by the choir, who went to their places in the chancel. The Bishop and I then went to our chairs, and the Dedication Service was read, and the church was then set apart to the service of God according to the rites and ceremonies of the Church of England.

After the dedication prayers were read, we sung hymn No. 133 in the Hymnal Companion. We then made the collection, and the Indians, though poor, gave tangible evidence of their sincerity by augmenting the offertory to the sum of $150.

Baptisms, confirmations, and marriages.

On the same day the Bishop baptized eighty-two persons, confirmed sixty-three men and women, and married eighteen couples. There are eighty-six communicants at Massett.

VANCOUVER ISLAND: KWA-GUTL MISSION.

The Rev. A. J. Hall, at ALERT BAY, reports an improved attendance at the services, and increasing confidence. All the young men attend church once on Sunday; but the women continue indifferent, which is a serious hindrance to the work. Mr. Hall says:—

Indifference of the women at Alert Bay.

There is no doubt that the old people are determined that the young women and girls shall neither attend school nor the means of grace; and thus it follows that our young men who have been baptized must remain unmarried, or live with the heathen and conform to their customs. It is usual for the husband to give the parents of his wife blankets, and the parent can, and does frequently, take his daughter away for most trivial offences, and restore her again if more blankets are given. Too often she is given to another husband. The scarcity of women is a great hindrance to our work.

Mr. Hall also quotes from the Report of the Indian Educational Department for 1887 an extract which refers to the Indians of this Mission:—

"The morals of these people are so depraved, that in the opinion of the undersigned the only course to pursue, if their children are to be rescued from the path of infamy on which their wretched parents set them as soon as they arrive at years of maturity, will be to establish central boarding-schools, and to endeavour to induce the parents to allow their children, as soon as they are of an age to attend school, to be lodged thereat, clothed, and fed."

A new saw-mill has been erected on the Mission premises.

REPORT OF THE WILLIAM CHARLES JONES INDIA NATIVE CHURCH FUND.

As the title of this Fund implies, the intention of its founder was that it should be used solely for India, the yearly interest on the capital being available for assisting Native Church Councils with means to evangelize heathen districts by employing more labourers. A leading feature stipulated by Mr. Jones was, that at least two-fifths of the cost of maintaining religious worship and pastoral work in the district must be raised by the Native Christians themselves. Without this being done, the Committee are not able to entertain any applications for aid. The grants for the past year amounted to Rs. 7349 : 13 : 9, or 514*l.* 10*s.* 3*d.*

SOUTH INDIA.

The Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan, in forwarding his application for a renewal of the annual grant, requests that an additional sum may be granted to him for the employment of another evangelist at Valarpuram or Pulicat. The following are extracts from his report:—

Mr. A. Nallatambi, one of the oldest C.M.S. agents in Madras who was for many years in charge of the Royapuram congregation, has been labouring for the past several years as Jones Fund Evangelist in the city and suburbs of Madras. Sometimes he visits the hospitals and speaks to the patients. Sometimes he goes to places where people congregate in large numbers, such as the People's Park, the Central Railway Station, the High Court House, &c. Sometimes he assists me in open-air evangelistic services, and sometimes he carries on house-to-house visitation. Old age is beginning to creep on him, but, as far as his health and strength permit, he is zealous in spreading the Gospel and distributing tracts and handbills among his heathen countrymen. As he is not acquainted with English, he is, of course, unable to converse with highly-educated men; but with men of moderate or vernacular education he is well fitted to converse on the subject of religion, and even to convince them of the folly of heathenism and the truth of Christianity. Being an author and a poet on a small scale, he is always ready to quote his own and other poems in refutation of idolatry and commendation of Christianity. He has been the means of winning some souls to Christ from among the poorer classes.

I have already asked for an additional grant for the employment of another evangelist at Valarpuram or Pulicat. As the former village is now connected with the Poonamallee pastorate, under the Rev. D. A. Peter, the evangelist, if appointed, will work under the direct superintendence of Mr. Peter. I trust the Committee will take this into their kind consideration; meanwhile, I beg to express my earnest hope that the Committee will be pleased to sanction their usual annual grant of Rs. 390.

TINNEVELLY.

Bishop Sargent, who is Chairman of all the Native Church Councils in South Tinnevelly, has sent full statistics and reports of the agents in connexion with seven of the Councils.

The Rev. J. John speaks thus of Palamcotta:—

With devout thanks to the Heavenly Father, we are again privileged to report the labours of the nine Jones Fund catechists. Their work among the heathen and Mohammedans has been uninterruptedly carried on in various villages and hamlets. Vast indeed is the work before us. Wherever we look we behold huge masses of people in these parts sunk in idolatry and ignorance, and to these individually we have to make known the truth, "line upon line, and precept upon precept." We find, from the reports of these agents, that the high-caste Brahmins and Vellalers, who naturally have been the great opponents to Christianity, are now, generally speaking, I think more or less apparently disposed towards Christianity. As I have myself witnessed the efforts of some of the preachers, and have carefully examined their reports, I can affirm my belief to be that they do their work systematically and, I trust, prayerfully.

Villages visited, 378; hearers, 58,021; new-comers, 51.

Mr. Devasagayam writes:—"My station is at Malakulam. Through God's mercy, eleven souls at Areikulam and two from Urpandiankulam put themselves under Christian instruction. They seem faithful to their profession. I find Hindus are more favourably disposed towards Christianity than they were formerly. I always set before them the advantages of embracing it from true religious motives. Many others say that they cannot embrace the Gospel, however true it may be, owing to persecutions and family ties based upon caste. Generally speaking, the heathen are not unwilling to converse on topics of religion."

P. Gabriel states:—"My work of preaching to the heathen, I am thankful to say, is vigorously carried on. More than ten thousand heathens have heard the sound of the Gospel in my circle of villages. Although I cannot say that many have become converts, yet a very large number frequently come and listen with care and attention."

In Mengnanapuram fourteen agents are employed.

Manuel, catechist of Arumuganery, employs music and singing to attract the audience. He preaches to the multitudes of the heathen that yearly resort to Trichendur, taking his stand on the road-side. Many people buy tracts and portions of the Scripture, and read them eagerly.

Masillamany, catechist of Manelvelei, speaks very hopefully of some of his Brahmin hearers. They ask expressly for the "Parable of the Prodigal Son" and other tracts, and read them eagerly. One young man told the catechist that he was deterred from making an open profession of Christianity from fear of his relatives, but he was regularly reading the Bible, and getting others also to read it. He purchased, through the catechist, a Bible for one of his friends, and he assists the catechist whenever he happens to go there for preaching. The parable of the seed growing secretly is as true now as ever.

In Suviseshapuram six agents are employed.

The evangelists do not go forth in their own might, but, relying on God's promise to be with them, they go to high and low, and proclaim the good tidings of the Gospel. They unanimously report that the majority of their hearers do not raise fierce objections, as in former days, but confess that Christianity is the only true religion that can give true happiness. They buy books and read them, but do not like to go to Christ, as Satan has bound them with the pleasures of this world. Several, being rich and having influence over others as landlords, do not like to lose their greatness. Caste is another chief hindrance to the Gospel being received; but, notwithstanding these obstacles, generally they listen to the evangelists.

In Nannikulam fourteen souls have become Christians, of whom six persons have withstood all the troubles and difficulties caused by their heathen relatives. Three have been baptized, and three are ready to be baptized. They have quite given up their fellowship with the heathen, and are regular at divine services and prayer-meetings, and gladly subscribe to the Native Church Fund. Another young man has bought a Bible and a portion of the prophecies, and a copy of the "Pilgrim's Progress," and these he reads very carefully.

At Dohnavur are six agents. One of them writes :—

During the year I have preached the Gospel in 260 villages to 6042 persons, and sold 395 tracts, excluding the handbills, which are distributed gratis. I am glad to say that the rich and respectable people, both men and women, listen to the Word of God with much attention.

In Tinnevelly, though the Gospel is preached to all people without distinction of rank, those who have hitherto embraced Christianity are in general of the humbler classes. Now I am glad to say that in our days the rich, the learned, and the civilized natives have begun to read our books and search the truths of our holy religion. Many of them know that Christianity is the only true religion and useful to mankind, and that the rites and ceremonies of the Hindu religion, as well as its gods, are merely the inventions of their ignorant forefathers.

By the grace of God, during the year about twenty people have become Christians in my circle.

At Nallur are seven agents.

At Panneivilei are four agents. One of them thus writes :—

I have this year spoken to 7046 individuals living in and near my circle, distributed handbills, and sold tracts. I have showed to them that all men are sinners, that man by himself is quite helpless, and unable to attain to the favour of God,—that a Mediator is, therefore, necessary, and Jesus is this one Mediator. He effected the work of redemption, and we have no salvation without Him. In some places people mock and scorn. Some are quite indifferent; but, I am glad to add, there are some who lend an attentive ear, and are in earnest about the salvation of their souls. These, again, are not forward to profess. The ties of caste and relationship stand as a barrier between them and the Saviour.

I have to state with pleasure that during this year a large number of people bought tracts and Bible portions with a desire to read them, and those that have received our books in previous years like to talk over the subjects contained in them, and get us to explain the same to them. And when I have explained they seem satisfied with the truth of Christianity. The uneducated hear the preaching with apparent delight, but excuse themselves on the ground that they are unable to walk according to the precepts of Christianity, and if they fail in this, they must incur God's displeasure. Some say that if they come over to Christianity singly they are liable to be rejected by their caste people, and to be persecuted by their heathen masters. Several times I have had the opportunity of preaching to large concourses of people gathered at Hindu festivals, where the people, besides listening to the preaching, buy many of our religious tracts.

There is no space for further extracts from these reports, all of which are interesting. It will be seen that there are some signs of movement among the upper classes. Much tract distribution takes place ; many of the people, having been taught in Mission Schools, are able to read, and to them the missionary's message is not quite a new thing. The Word of God is everywhere like seed sown. Some receive it on good ground, though in many cases it is seed sown by the wayside, or in thorny places, or among stones. Yet the promise is, "Cast thy bread upon the waters ; for thou shalt find it after many days."

TELUGU MISSION.

The Rev. J. B. Panes writes :—

Up to the present we have only had one agent on the Jones Fund who has been transferred to the general Evangelists' Fund, but his successor has been doing good work as an evangelist in Kummamett and the surrounding villages. He and W. John Silas Garu, who is our Brahmin evangelist for the upper classes, are the only agents we have at work in this important centre. While the latter has with much success devoted his time more especially to the work in Kummamett itself, making periodical visits to all our Christian congregations in the Nizam's dominions, the Jones Fund agent has been constantly visiting the surrounding villages, preaching to all classes, and instructing a few inquirers living near at hand in a village called Vandanam; the results being more new catechumens in two other villages, an increasing spirit of inquiry all around, and many tokens of a large ingathering at no distant date. The fact that the new railway has now reached Kummamett makes it most imperative for us to enlarge and strengthen our work in every particular while we have the opportunity. This and the rapidly growing needs of the whole district has led me to ask for a grant for help to place a second agent on the Fund, a request which I earnestly trust will be acceded to by the Committee of that fund.

CHINA.

The following extracts are taken from the report of Dr. B. Van

Someren Taylor, who is the medical missionary in charge of the Fuh Ning Medical Mission :—

In addition to the afternoon class taken by the students, to which I referred in my last report, I have started a morning class, at which a little catechism used in our schools is taught.

During the past year this class has been in charge of the bookman, but during the year on which we are entering this work will be shared by the students.

I began this year with five students, I end it with three. Two have left. One because he had been with me over five years, the other I regret to say I had to dismiss, for his conduct was not above suspicion. I consider that it is only those who I have reason to believe are true Christians that should be supported by you.

Dr. E. G. Horder, who is in charge of the medical work at Pakhoi, which is supported by a grant from the Fund, writes as follows :—

The work was commenced in August, opening the hospital every day. Services were held morning and evening with the patients by my catechist, my only helper. The following table will show you the progress of the work :—

JAPAN.

The Rev. G. H. Pole, Principal of the Osaka Divinity School, has sent an interesting report of the work in that Institution, from which our space will only allow us to cull the following extracts :—

Students.—The number of students who have received training in the Institution during these months is sixteen, four of whom have belonged to the American Episcopal Mission, and paid fees to the amount of Yen 31·49. Of the remaining twelve, two were second-year students, three were first-year students, six were Preparandi students, the twelfth being Mr. Nakamshi, who was ordained deacon in February, but has regularly attended the Divinity lectures since. Mr. Terasawa has attended somewhat irregularly, so I have not included him among the number.

It is a curious coincidence that the result of the conference examination conducted by three independent examiners, who were in no way connected with the Institution, should have shown an average number of marks attained by each student, differing by one only from my own examination reported in my report of December last year. The highest number of marks attained was seventy-six per cent. all round, and the lowest (exclusive of Takeichi, who was not classed) forty-six per cent., giving an average of sixty-three per cent. for each of the eleven students examined. At my Christmas examination last year the average, with the same men, was sixty-four per cent.

Spiritual Work.—The students have, as usual, engaged under Mr. Evington's supervision in evangelistic work during the vacations, with, I believe, marked signs of the Lord's favour and blessing. During term time also they have assisted in the preaching at our city church and preaching place. The daily prayer-meeting and weekly devotional meeting, and of course the daily prayers, have been continued without intermission during the two terms. With one or two exceptions I have reason to believe that the students are actuated by the highest and truest motives, and really anxious to devote themselves, souls and bodies, to the extension of the Lord's kingdom and glory in this land. The test of time alone can satisfy me regarding the exceptions I allude to.

REPORT OF THE WALTER JONES FUND.

THE fund is devoted to the support of additional Native agents, both clergymen and laymen, in the Society's Missions in Africa, Palestine, India, and Mauritius. During the past year the sum of 885*l.* has been appropriated as follows :—

Niger	175
Palestine	160
North India	170
Punjab	100
South India	160
Travancore	70
Mauritius	50
	£885

NORTH INDIA.

One of the agents labours in Calcutta under the superintendence of the Rev. Jani Alli, who briefly reports as follows :—

The Walter Jones agent under me, last year, taught the lower classes in the Motyaburj Musalman School, Barth's Bible Stories in Urdu for two hours a day; and regularly every day visited their parents and friends, and the people generally at Motyaburj, and since public preaching was commenced, has taken part in it.

In Faizabad four agents are working in connexion with the fund. The Rev. A. W. Baumann reports :—

Joseph Chatturi helps me here at Faizabad in preaching on the bazaar. He is a quiet, steady worker, and I am satisfied with his conduct and character.

James Jackson, an old and trustworthy catechist, has to fight the battles of the Lord in that godless and idolatrous place of Ajudhya, which is a tremendous stronghold of Hinduism. His good manners and conciliatory ways have enabled him to find his way into some of the temples and monasteries, and not only to converse with the guru or pandit of that place, but he has encouraged some of them to read and study the New Testament for themselves. Since October I have associated with him a young probationer (paid from local funds), who promises to become an earnest bazaar-preacher. He knows a little English, and thus can supply the deficiency of Brother Jackson if necessity should arise for it. In visiting Ajudhya once a week, and spending several hours there in preaching and visiting some of the pandits in their houses, I see more and more what a trying place it is to work in. Much grace and patience are required to persevere in sowing the good seed on ground which seems as hard as flint. However, a few inquirers bid fairly to reward the labours of these men, and it is to be hoped they will have the moral courage to take baptism, and not be brow-beaten by the host of heathen teachers and scoffers in the place.

Both the wives of these two agents are employed by the Zenana ladies of the I.F.N.S. in Zenana teaching.

Abdul Haqq, a Mohammedan moulwi, who was baptized some years ago in Calcutta, does very good work, I think, by visiting the Mohammedans, and breaking down the barriers of selfish pride and stubbornness. He was working for the greater part of last year here at Faizabad, but has, this year, been transferred to Sultanpur, to strengthen the hands of the reader who has been standing isolated at that Mission. Much of the old Ishmael will have yet to be subdued in Abdul Haqq's heart, and replaced by the grace of Christ in order to make him a bright and shining light.

In the cold season the above catechists had to go out by twos into the villages, and reported what they had tried to do in the villages they went to.

Of baptisms I cannot write yet, but there are several persons who have promised to become Christians. Wherever they may enter Christ's fold, it is a comfort to know that we have been used by the Lord to stir up these souls, and to persuade them to follow Christ; whatever denomination they may join, if they only put on the Lord Jesus Christ, and become true and sincere Christians—if only Christ see the travail of His soul, and be satisfied.

The Rev. H. Lewis thus reports of the work at Lucknow:—

The agent supported in the Lucknow Church Mission from the Walter Jones Fund is Pandit Prablin Dás—a converted Brahman. He and his wife occupy Mhow—one of the three out-stations connected with our Mission. I have just returned from a visit of inspection to Mhow, and I am thankful to be able to report that Pandit Prablin Dás is a faithful and diligent sower of the Gospel seed in some thirty villages, in one of which he himself formerly lived as a heathen, until the good seed was sown in his heart by a former preacher of ours.

Everywhere in the vicinity of Mhow I was cheered by evident tokens of Prablin Dás' teaching. And the only wonder is that the good honest work of God's servant should be cheated by Satan of the fruit it seems fully prepared to bear.

There are two agents at Gorakpur, of whom the Rev. H. Stern thus writes:—

Pundit Vidya Pat, reader, first grade, is stationed at Basti, where he is engaged in evangelistic work, preaching in the bazaar and the surrounding villages with much acceptance to the people. He also visits the larger melas at Ajudhya, near Faizabad. He is held in much respect by the people, who all speak well of him, and with whom he has much influence. He has had several inquirers. Being well acquainted with the Hindu Shastras, he is an able preacher, and exercises his office with much tact.

Ezekiel Levi, reader, second grade, was stationed at Gorakpur, and was chiefly engaged in teaching the Gospel in three bazaar schools here, and also in bazaar-preaching. Having, I am sorry to say, committed himself in acts of drinking, it was deemed necessary by the Sub-Committee for readers and catechists to remove him from the list of C.M.S. agents, and his place has been filled up temporarily by a new convert, Moulwi Abdul Gafúr.

SOUTH INDIA.

Numerous reports have come respecting the work of the Walter Jones agents in this Mission. We have only space for some salient extracts. The Rev. J. Stone, of Masulipatam, writes:—

As regards the present work of the two agents belonging to this fund, Padapalli Daniel is doing an excellent work as sub-catechist of the Vennanapudi Circle, in the Gudivada Sub-district. He has under him 481 baptized Christians and 557 catechumens. As far as I have had opportunities of judging of his work during the three months I have been here, he seems to be working earnestly and well. In addition to this pastoral work, as far as time permits, he preaches the Gospel to the heathen in the many villages under him. Pallikonda John Francis lives at Parikigudem, in the Prathipadu Circle. He has an assistant schoolmaster under him, and with his help he carries on the school in Parikigudem. To this school children come from villages near. In all these villages there are Christians, and in one or two inquirers. In Parikigudem there are about forty Christians. P. J. Francis also visits these Christians, assists the catechist in taking the Sunday services, &c., in these villages, and in the instruction of the catechumens. In fact, were this agent not there these people would have no more instruction than the catechist could give in a visit once or twice a month.

The Rev. F. W. N. Alexander reports of Ellore:—

No. 1, Zechariah, is an old and experienced agent, having successfully organized a Christian congregation in Mupparra, a village near Ellore. He was appointed to begin evangelistic work east of Ellore, in a direction that is as yet entirely unevangelized. His headquarters are at a village where we have one family of inquirers and a small school, so that in his home he will do good while preaching regularly to the heathen around. Already his efforts have been successful, and some inquirers have come forward in a village not far from his home, and I have no doubt that a commencement has been made of what will prove in the future a very extensive Christian work.

No. 2, Mar. Gnananandam, has not been so long at work as Zechariah, but he has proved himself to be a good agent. In his first situation he gained the goodwill of Malas and Chucklers, and was blessed to some of the latter by bringing them into the ark of Christ's Church. This marked him out as a suitable person to begin work in his present post about a year ago. It is quite a new field. There are no Christians anywhere near; he teaches a small school of Mala and Chuckler boys, and has a class of catechumens whom he is preparing for baptism. It is like a light shining in a dark place, and I have no doubt that soon other villages will join themselves to the Lord.

No. 3, Pasala Subbayya, has succeeded to the congregation begun by the above-mentioned teacher. Not long since it was our advanced post, though it now forms part of a regular circle. It stands some distance from other congregations, and is practically quite a new work. In it there is a feature new to these parts, of having converts from the Mala and Madigi or Chuckler castes. I cannot say they amalgamate so much as to eat and drink together, but still it was interesting to see the headman of the Mala converts stand witness when his Chuckler brethren were baptized.

The last two agents are working in the circle formerly supported entirely from the Walter Jones Fund. A few years ago there was no sign of life to be seen, now there are 107 Christians and inquirers, and fifty children are under instruction. We have laid the foundation of the Christian Church, and it must grow and increase in these parts.

The Rev. J. B. Panes states there are four agents employed :—

(a) Kalingi Benjamin has been working in Prodduturu as an evangelist for the last two years. He has been teaching inquirers here, and preaching in all the neighbouring villages, visiting from time to time ten different villages, all within seven miles of his home, while some who were inquirers at first are not continuing to be taught through various causes. Many new ones have placed themselves under instruction, so that with some already baptized, there are now sixty-five persons being instructed by him in the great truths of the Christian faith. I arrived here yesterday, and after a careful examination found six adults ready for baptism, and since they had been well tried during the last two years, and they have been now received into Christ's visible Church this morning, along with several children. This is the firstfruits of the work in this neighbourhood—the rain-drops which, we pray, may be followed by the showers by-and-by. Komattagudem, to which I am going this evening, is under this evangelist, and contains about thirty Christians and inquirers. This work is so scattered that it will be necessary to put a second evangelist in one of the villages, as soon as I can find a suitable person.

(b) Pâkulapate Stephen is our evangelist in Srivursapuram. This is a new village in the Singagivi Taluk, taken up also about two years ago. There are about twenty-eight inquirers under instruction, of whom I cannot say much, as I have not seen them for some months, but they ought to be nearly ready for baptism. He also has the charge of Christians in Singagivi and Amaravaram, and visits six other small villages in the neighbourhood. In one of the latter, there are ten inquirers. This village will, I hope, become the centre of new work for another evangelist at no distant date.

(c) Pâkulapate Andrew has worked well as an evangelist, first at Gopavaram, where the work has grown so much that it is now made the headquarters of a catechist, and he is now stationed in Singraipalem, where he has charge of a Christian congregation, and makes evangelistic tours to all the villages around. Being only lately transferred there, he has not been able to make much progress, but the good success which he obtained in Gopavaram, promises well for the future. With God's blessing there is much work before him in the neighbourhood of his station.

(d) Arpula Gnanandam is stationed in Singalapett, where Christians who had relapsed have come back, and a goodly number of new inquirers have come forward in that and surrounding villages. Mr. Stone, seeing him to be an earnest, active Christian man, wisely gave him work, and though he is not a man of education, results show him to be a very useful and successful agent. I trust that, while in the work, he may pass the full evangelist's test, and thus become still more useful.

In Takkelapadu, one of the villages which he visits, there are fifteen persons whom I hear are ready for baptism. Thus the work is continually spreading. The more I see of it in the above-named villages, and in the whole district, the more I feel how much we need more able, spiritual, and educated agents, who shall establish and increase what has already been done, and I become true messengers of the glad tidings of great joy, to the multitudes still living in heathen darkness and sin in the regions beyond.

From Madras Mr. Satthianadhan writes :—

I beg to send you a brief account of the work of the two evangelists on the Walter Jones Fund who are labouring at St. Thomas's Mount in connexion with the Madras Native Church Council. Mr. Moses, who was formerly a schoolmaster of the C.M.S., has been working as an evangelist for the past several years. He travels about a good deal. Having divided the large district into several centres, he spends about a week in each and visits all the villages around. One half of the month he is touring in the district, preaching the Gospel everywhere; the other half he spends at headquarters. But St. Thomas's Mount being a large centre, he goes out every day, visits the towns and villages around, and endeavours to place the truths of religion before the mind of his numerous audiences. There have been no cases of actual conversion in connexion with his work, but he is sowing the seed broadcast, and we may hope that in due time it will spring up and bear fruit.

MAURITIUS.

The Rev. A. Blackburn reports of the agent on the fund working among the Chinese on this island :—

This little Chinese branch of our Mission, begun only a few years ago, has been struggling amid various difficulties. It is progressing, though slowly. We have now a few Chinese Christians in several parts of the island.

The catechist, Jules Assah, has been regularly visiting the shopkeepers at Rose Hill and in the adjacent villages. Once a month he goes round to the converts living at Curepipe, Vacoas, Phœnix, Moka, and Port Louis to read and explain the Scriptures to them. They all possess copies of the Bible, and read them regularly; but it is so difficult to make them understand the true meaning of the Word of God. However, I am thankful to say that some of them begin to acquire a clearer knowledge of the way of life than before. Our service at Rose Hill is poorly attended, Sunday being the busiest day in Mauritius for shopkeepers. The catechist has just begun a service in St. Paul's Church, Port Louis, and it promises to give satisfaction in due time, as the number of converts is increasing.

There have been eight adult baptisms this year.

Jules Assah goes from shop to shop preaching the Gospel and distributing tracts or portions of Scripture. He has now become pretty well known to the Chinese, both in the villages and town, and generally meets with a kind reception.

Lately a Chinaman, baptized some years ago at New York, and who came to Mauritius some time past, heard of our Sunday meeting at St. Paul's Church, and made his way thither. He had not attended any place of worship since he left the land of his second birth, and was very glad to find a few of his countrymen assembled for divine service, of which he is now a regular attendant. I believe there is a good work to be done among the Chinese of Mauritius, and pray the Lord will bless our efforts to accomplish it sooner or later.

The Rev. N. Honiss thus speaks of the Tamil branch of the work :—

Catechist Charles Young is on the Walter Jones Fund. He is an Eurasian from Madras. In India his influence among the upper classes would be small, on account of caste prejudices; but in Mauritius, where caste is comparatively of little count, he can preach and teach with general acceptance. Ever since his arrival he has been working in the northern part of the island, and has been proposed as a candidate for Holy Orders. There being no Native pastor in the north, Mr. Young has to perform most of the pastoral duties, and act as chairman of the Native Church Committee. He speaks Tamil, English, and Telugu fluently, and knows enough of Hindi to converse and read the Church Service in that language.

Mr. Joshua Ephraim is also on the Walter Jones Fund. Joshua was for about two years in the Plaisance Orphanage, and afterwards became a schoolmaster. While thus engaged he undertook spiritual work as a volunteer. Last year he was taken on as a catechist.

In addition to the above, the Committee have made grants to the N.-W. Provinces and Telugu Missions which were not drawn within the period named.

WEST AFRICA.

The grant to Sierra Leone is made in part to the Freetown Native Church Missionary Association, which is applied towards maintenance of agents at Rogbenkeh and Rogbanny, both on the Bullom shore, and in itinerating; and in part to the General Fund of the Native Church itself, the grant being devoted last year to aid in forming a new pastorate at St. John's, Brookfields, the only parish in the colony of Sierra Leone where the Kroomen from lower down the coast come to settle.

In Lagos the grant is made to the Native Church Missionary Association. There is a cry for resident teachers in many places around Lagos.

Of such places is Iworo, a town near Badagry, whose people had been before indifferent to the message of salvation, but now the authorities and people have themselves applied for a resident agent, and to show their earnestness, have prepared a house for the agent that may be sent, and a place to meet for worship, and also six children with whom to commence schooling. The Church Committee are sending them an agent.

The chief of another town, Iba, is preparing a school-chapel, and wants a teacher. The Committee believe that if Ado, about five or six miles from Badagry, the stronghold of superstition and idolatry, was occupied, many large towns which continually send to consult the god Oduduwa, worshipped in that town, would soon see the vanity of their worship and change that for the worship of the true God of heaven.

Iganmu and Ishaga-tedo, on the mainland, the two principal stations of the Association, are giving every possible encouragement, and their surroundings have not been overlooked for the agents in these places do intinerating work also; the firstfruits of the Church at Ishaga-tedo will be gathered in.

Two agents are employed chiefly for itineration, and much earnestness is manifested in the work, so that clusters of towns, villages, and hamlets bordering on the sea-coast, and places around Badagry and the River Yewa, have had the privilege of hearing the word of life as often as the itinerant missionaries visit them.

As regards the work at Abeokuta, the Rev. J. B. Wood reports that the Association is thankful for the aid afforded. Mr. Wood writes:—

For some years previous to the end of 1884, our Abeokuta Church had a Missionary Association, which had for its object to send teachers to farm villages, at greater or shorter distances from the town, which were not otherwise provided for. The sums received by the Association were not sufficient to meet the expenses which it had undertaken to be responsible for. For several years the deficiency was made up from the Native Pastorate Fund, which was, as regards its object, as might be supposed, in a considerable degree different from the Mission Fund. With the commencement of 1885 the Abeokuta Church began to work under a Church Council, aided by a grant from the C.M.S.

The Abeokuta Church has been meeting the expenses of four Mission stations, named Ofada, Afojupa, Asheshe, and Agbawou, at each of which places it has an agent.

With regard to the Niger, the report says:—

Hitherto the grant has been in the hands of the Bishop of the Niger, and has been used by him in connexion with the Native Bishopric Fund for the opening of fresh stations for missionary operations, for the training of Native young men, and in assisting Native efforts to erect church and school buildings.

It is proposed now, that, in view of a continuation of the grant of 60*l*., this sum should be specially devoted towards the payment of the salary of the resident tutor at the Preparandi Institution at Lokoja. This Institution has, as its object, to train Natives of the River Niger to labour among their fellow-countrymen as school-masters, catechists, and eventually, we trust, as ordained ministers. The Rev. S. Smart is at present the tutor in the Institution.

INDIA.

In Tinnevelly the grant has been apportioned to the several Native Church Councils, including North Tinnevelly, in proportion to the number of Christians connected with each Council, and has been carried to the account of the Council Funds "to aid in developing the work amongst the Native Christians," chiefly in building of churches and prayer-houses.

The amount of grant for the current year has been distributed as follows:—

North Tinnevelly	55	5	4
	533	5	4

CEYLON.

The Rev. R. T. Dowbiggin reports as follows respecting the appropriation of the grant for Cotta:—

In helping to pay the salary of a catechist, who lives at Nambapana, from which centre he works in portions of the Rayigam and Kuruwite Korales, a district which has not been evangelized hitherto. Nambapana is a large village, through which thousands of pilgrims pass on their way to Adam's Peak.

Without this grant the work at present done must be left undone, for I have no other fund from which to meet the cost of it. I look upon the work as most important. The first baptisms, too, have given us courage to pursue the work, and I earnestly beg the Committee to continue their grant, which is much needed.

The Rev. J. D. Simmons writes of the grant made towards the Tamil Cooly Mission:—

The catechist visits every estate, and preaches at the early morning muster. He also holds prayer-meetings whenever he can get a few Christians together. In this district there are a considerable number of Christians, and it is pleasing to notice that many of them hold positions of trust and responsibility, and where they can, exert a beneficial influence on the heathen. The planters, too, as a rule, are glad to help forward the work.

MAURITIUS.

With regard to Mauritius, the Rev. H. D. Buswell writes:—

The amount received was placed to the credit of the Native Church Council. The funds at the disposal of the Council comprise, in addition to the above, a grant from the C.M.S., local contributions from the Native Church and from Europeans, and a share of a grant from Government. They are employed in the payment of the pastors and catechists of five pastorates.

For Statement of this Fund, see pp. (270), (271).

REPORT OF THE FRANCES RIDLEY HAVERGAL MEMORIAL FUND.

THE interest of this fund, which has now been available for eight years having been founded in 1879, is divided into two objects, (1) the translation and publication of Miss Havergal's works in Indian tongues; (2) the employment of female evangelists in India.

Under the first heading there are a few translations this year to report, viz., Little Pillows, in Tamil, by the Rev. S. Paul; and Royal Invitation, by the Rev. W. T. Satthianadhan; both for use in Madras and Tinnevelly. Royal Invitation in Malayalam has also been produced; and the Rev. S. Coles, of Cotta, Ceylon, has issued a Singhalese translation of My King.

Under the second head, Mrs. Ellwood sends a report of Jane, a female evangelist employed at Jabalpur.

In South India Rs. 500 was sanctioned at the close of last year to provide for work of Bible-women at Kummamett and Jaggiapett. This is entirely new, but no report has yet been received.

The grant for the fund during the year has been 51*l.* 11*s.* 1*d.* towards the support of the Bible-women.

For statement of this Fund, see pp. (270), (271).

NOTICE TO TREASURERS AND SECRETARIES OF ASSOCIATIONS.

THE COMMITTEE of the Church Missionary Society beg to remind the Treasurers or Secretaries of Associations that the Society's financial year ends on the 31st of March.

All Moneys belonging to the year should be received at the Society's House by that date, in order to ensure their being included in the accounts for the year then closing.

The Committee would also strongly urge for universal adoption, the practice of making early remittances after the 1st April on account of the year's receipts in the hands of the Local Treasurer. This course would tend to equalize in a greater degree the Income and Expenditure in the earlier months of the Society's Financial year, and save the Society a considerable yearly sum. They are glad to observe that the suggestion has been partially carried out during the present year, but they are desirous of seeing it more generally adopted.

Sums remaining unpaid on the 31st March are no longer shown in the Accounts as Balances. The Contribution Lists should therefore agree in total with the amounts actually paid to the Parent Society to that date.

Much labour and expense is saved to the Society by sending in the Lists and Accounts as soon after the money as possible. If not so sent the lists are liable to be excluded from the Report. The date at which the Accounts of the Association are closed, and the names of the Local Officers should be specified. Should no names be given it will be assumed that they remain the same as in the previous Report, and the List will be so printed. Where the Account or the List is a printed one, two copies should be forwarded.

The Lists and Accounts should be written legibly to avoid mistakes in printing, and made up in the manner in which the same are printed in the Parent Society's Report. A Form of Account may be had on application at the Society's House.

Where an Association has Branches connected with it, the Accounts of the Branches must be forwarded to the Secretary of the Association some time before the period for forwarding the Accounts of that Association to London. When this is not done within a reasonable time, such Branches should be considered as self-excluded, and the Accounts forwarded without them.

Branch Associations should in every case, where practicable, forward their Money and Lists through the Association with which they are connected, and not direct to the Parent Society. If sent direct, the Association or District with which such Branch is connected should be specified.

Contributions to Special Funds are, where possible, taken out of the lists and transferred to the funds to which they respectively belong. In cases where the lists are received too late for this purpose, the transfers will be made in, and the amounts deducted from the contributions of, the succeeding year.

II.—ENGLISH ASSOCIATIONS.

NOTE.—All Contributions from Associations are for year ending Dec. 31st, 1887, except where otherwise stated.
